Deputy Minister of Agriculture Has a New Idea to Improve Earth's Yield—Value of Electrical Energy.

C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Ontario, is a firm believer in the great possibilities to be accomplished by electricity in connection with farming, and consequently is much interested in the reported successful experiments proving that electricity exercises a fertilizing power in the earth.

Among the most recent along this line are those conducted by a Mr. Fuchs on the island of Elba, in which the electric current is said to have proved a decidedly helpful factor in the growing of grapes. Mr. Fuchs, some years ago, planted four fields with native vines in a district which was devastated with phylloxera, and treated two of them with electricity. The experiments immediately made the difference in the development of the grapes in these fields very apparent. Those treated with electricity yielded a much better crop in quantity and quality alike, and phylloxera was exterminated; while, in the other two fields, not so treated, it continued its ravages. His modus operandi is as follows:

On a field of about two and a half acres, five masts are erected, the tops of which are supplied with an arrangement for accumulating atmospheric electricity. These accumulators are connected with each other by wires. Wires are laid in the soil about one and a half feet deep, forming an evenly distributed metallic net. Every accumulator is connected with this metallic net by a wire running along the mast. Short wires connect with the plants, the free ends being stuck into the stem or into the main root thereof.

Mr. James is rather inclined to the belief that the currents thus passed through the earth improve the growth of nature's products—not that it would stimulate the products themselves, but that it might cause the formation of nitrate compound below the surface, drawn in some way, as it were, from the nitrogen which exists in such large proportions in the atmosphere. If we ever succeeded in discovering nature's secret in the formation of this compound, then the difficult question of fertilization would be solved and a great change effected in the pursuit of agriculture.

Mr. James thinks that the day is not far distant when farmers will operate their farms largely by power accumulated by the windmill and storage battery. In fact, he thinks much of the light labor could be done in this way, and most of the heavier labor done likewise, when the storage battery was in a more complete form.

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

GILBERT PARKER AT HOME.

His Study in His London Home Is of Rare Delight.

It is on the fourth floor of his beautiful house that I find Mr. Parker in his study. It seems to be the remotest apartment, but the first room on the ground level is fitted up as a library, and is a chamber of rare delight, so that the social life of No. 20 is sandwiched between books. How does this reposeful study compare, I wonder, with the room of the associate editor of the Sydney Morning Herald? Was it shirt sleeves and a plain deal desk in those far off days? That is the memory of most hard working editors I have known; but I cannot conceive of Mr. Parker in such condition. He carries an air of dainty notepaper and silver cased blotting pads about him. I cannot imagine him scribbling on ordinary printer's copy paper with a blunt pencil, and an inky imp waiting for the sheets. Yet his talk of old days is richly reminiscent of traditional journalism, and I suppose these strange things must have happened. I should think the word "sumptuous" is the proper word to apply to the furnishing of this sanctum. It is a word for which Mr. Parker has a peculiar fondness; he has written even of a "sumptuous star." All the appointments are the most choice of their kind; the handsome book shelves, the generous writing table, with its massive inkstand, artistic paperweights, quaint paper knife, and that silver cased blotter. The walls contain many beautiful and interesting pictures, and over a corner cabinet a bust of Napoleon looks down with lowering brow, a reminder that the man at the desk has been one of the most sympathetic students of "The Little Corporal."

A word as to the man himself. Gilbert Parker is a very attractive type of man. Of average height, and well built, he does not seem to belong particularly to any profession. Literary men are seldom so well groomed, lawyers have an affection for the shaven face, whereas Mr. Parker wears a short, neatly trimmed beard, black, like the hair of his head, and so imparting a swarthy look to his face, which otherwise would strike one as the healthy complexion of a man who had spent much of his life in the open. In conversation he has a charming manner, and when speaking in public I have remarked the same easy confident flow of language which characterizes his table talk. He ought to become one of the most acceptable speakers in the House of Commons. —Black and White.

She Wanted to Know.

A little girl sat upon the floor deeply engrossed with the latest acquisition to her nursery—a rubber doll fitted with a whistle in its back. She was delighted with the wails it produced when she squeezed it between her chubby hands. Suddenly, as if struck with a new idea, she scrambled to her feet and backing up to her mother said excitedly: "Now find de hole in my back, muzzer." "But, baby, there is no hole in your back," she was assured. "Den where does my cry tum fum?" she demanded, turning incredulous eyes upon her mother.

It's So Easy

To take cold. It's so common to neglect the cold. That is one reason why there are so many people with "deep-seated," stubborn coughs, and so many more with "lung trouble."

The short, quick way to cure a cough is to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The quicker this remedy is used the quicker the cure. But even when neglect has let disease fasten on the lungs, "Golden Medical Discovery" may be relied on to cure in ninety-eight cases out of every hundred.

The only motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little extra profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains. You lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

"I am feeling quite well," writes Miss Dorcas A. Lewis, of No. 1149 4th St., Washington, D. C. "My cough is very much better, and I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I cannot say too much in praise of the medicine. I had been quite a sufferer for a long time, and after reading Doctor Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser thought I would try his Golden Medical Discovery.' I commenced taking it in May, 1899. Had not been sleeping well for a long time. Took one teaspoonful of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and slept nearly all night without coughing, so I continued taking it. I am in great sympathy with everybody who suffers with a cough. I had been a sufferer for more than ten years. I tried lots of different medicines and different doctors, but did not feel much better. I coughed until I commenced spitting blood, but now I feel much stronger and am entirely well. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best medicine I have ever taken. My home is in Williamsburg, Virginia."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a ladies' laxative. No other medicine equals them for gentleness and thoroughness.

A WEAK HEART.

Hill Climbing or Stair Mounting Will Strengthen the Organ.

It is not many years ago that the belief prevailed that a sufferer from heart disease was in constant peril whenever he moved and that the nearer he approached absolute rest the better it was for his heart. This is still true in respect to certain forms of heart disease—those due to actual disease or degeneration of the heart muscles—but when the disease is in the valves, as it is in the majority of cases, the modern teaching is that properly regulated exercise is beneficial. This is founded upon the common sense view that the heart is like other muscles in that it can be strengthened by exercise to meet increased calls upon it.

When the valves of a pump get out of order, it requires greater force to move a given quantity of water. If this force can be applied, it will make up for the defect in the valves. The same principle holds good in the case of the diseased heart; the valvular defect must be made good—"compensation" is the medical term for this process—by increased strength in the heart muscle.

The heart must be able not only to meet the ordinary, everyday extra strain—this it does automatically, as it were, by the unaided efforts of nature—but it must be stronger than necessary, just as it is in health, to meet some extra strain caused by illness, a sudden nervous shock or some absolutely necessary exertion. It is evident, therefore, that a diseased heart must to assure the safety of the patient be strengthened beyond the requirements of a quiet life.

This is accomplished in various ways, but none is better for the purpose than hill climbing or stair climbing, the former for pleasant days, the latter for bad weather. The exercise should, of course, be taken under the direction of a physician, for it can easily be overdone, in which case one of the bad conditions against which it is the object of the exercise to provide will be artificially produced and the heart will be overtaxed before it is strong enough to withstand the extra strain.

NATURAL HISTORY.

All animals ruminate which have horns and cloven feet.

The offspring of two rabbits might in ten years number 70,000,000.

The puffin is the most punctual of birds in the matter of its annual migration.

The moose deer has the largest horns of any animal. They often weigh from fifty to sixty pounds.

The boa and python have the largest number of ribs of any animals, the number being 320 pairs.

The reindeer can endure more than any other draft animal except the camel. A reindeer has been known to pull 200 pounds at ten miles an hour for twelve hours.

FASHION NOTES.

Evening Garnitures—Elaborate Effects the Keynote.

There is a dearth of novelties in evening attire, but the soft textures still prevail, and there is a rage for spotted or speckled net. The slips or foundations worn with net chiffon and transparent skirts are still gored and edged with fussy frills, but the top is cut and fitted in sheath fashion. Slips with separate flounces of the godet order are only worn with heavier or nontransparent materials, as the line of heading is too obtrusive.

The floral garnitures are exceedingly lovely this winter and gain much in effect from a judicious mixture of ribbon. What, for instance, can be lovelier for a net gown than a cluster of salmon pink chrysanthemums resting on a few loops of flame colored satin ribbon and then wandering off into a slender trail of stems from which descend smaller buds and knots of ribbon? Exquisite garnitures of violets are made up with narrow pale blue ribbon.

The elaborate nightgown here shown might also be used for a negligee and will be found especially useful for a convalescent. It is made of nainsook, banded with lace insertion. Some of these form a pointed effect on the yoke. The rest outlines the bolero of all over lace.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Hearts That are Diseased.

will never be cured by the false, unnatural stimulation of liquor. First increase your vitality, build up the system, strengthen and purify the blood,— then the heart will respond and grow strong.

Ferrozone is precisely what to take. It gives you an appetite and a digestion that will look after everything that is eaten. Ferrozone improves nutrition, makes rich vitalising blood, and is positively the most powerful restorative and strengthener known to medical science; it improves the nerve tone, regulates the heart's action, makes the feeble strong and the sick well. Ferrozone will do you untold good, and costs only 50c., at Ormond & Walsh's.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills stimulate the Liver.

A Centenarian Dead.

Albert Williams, the hoary-headed negro, who has long been a familiar figure in Toronto, and who was reputed to be a centenarian, is dead. Williams used to be full of stories of his experiences while in slavery, telling of having been sold from plantation to plantation. But his chief delight was to speak of his great age, and to any who doubted his contention he would produce a card which he always carried. The card bore this information: "The full-blooded negro, Albert Williams, was born on my plantation in March, 1802." It was signed "Jefferson Wheeler, Montgomery, Alabama." He had lived in Canada for the last 46 years, most of that time in Hamilton. His daughter, Sally, died last March, and he had no other relatives.

Messrs. Haight & Freese have received the following:—

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

New York, Feb. 2 — The security market fails to reveal any marked uneasiness on the part of investors. If there is very little buying of securities for the account, there is very little evidence of selling. Speculatively the public is unusually cautious. This element for some reason or other cannot be induced as yet to become a factor in the market. Possibly it believes that prices are too high; possibly it is disturbed by the political position and the difficulty of obtaining absolute information concerning the Venezuela situation. The American market in London was narrow; and prices showed some tendency to sag. Foreign houses had very trifling orders for the opening and expected to trade very lightly during the day.

NEWS.

The railways were in good requisition. Announcement that S.P. has reached a settlement with its firemen.

It can be stated on authority that no immediate stock issue is contemplated by the Penn. directors. None will be made in any event before April 1

JOSEPH

Messrs. E. M. Poussett & Co. have New York, Feb. 2nd, 9.45 a. m. — Privilege to retire Penna. 3½-3 per cent. convertibles, between March 16 and April 4th, makes bonds worth 105 and stock at 152.

Expected E. W. Winter will be elected president of B.R.T. to-day.

Nineteen roads 3rd week in Jan., gross increase 7.16 per cent.; 42 roads for Dec. show net increase 12.6 per cent. Some demand for Penna. in loan crowd.

Foreign demand for first-class American bonds good. Duluth South Shore net increase for Dec. 4.63.

DOW, JONES & CO.

There appears to be little in market to-day from that outlined in our letter Saturday. U. P. labour trouble is very much minimized by officials of company here and at Omeha, and they say no likelihood strike spreading to any extent. The Venezuela matter is in a deadlock. Late Washington advices say outlook is more favourable for an agreement among allies. Until this matter is eliminated we do not expect to see much change in market from that which obtained last week. We rather look for quiet and professional markets.

New York, Feb. 2nd.—Interest dived. disbursements to-day estimated $5,000,000 against $3,000,000 Feb. 1st. last year, and $7,000,000 two years ago. Penna. Railroad announced Saturday a decision to permit holders of convertible bonds to convert them into stocks at rate of $70 bond for each $50 of stock, between March 15th and April 4th, with stock at 152 this would make bonds worth 108. The conversion entirely optional with holders of bonds. There is outstanding now approximately $204,000,000 of stocks. Last year company authorized the issuance of about $90,000,000 3 1-2 per cent. convertible bonds and there are about $40,000,000 of these bonds outstanding. The issue was authorized for betterments and to take over some connecting lines. It presumed this action was taken to make a better market.

NEW LICENSE LAW.

England's New One Makes Publicans Liable for Entertaining Drunkards—Ethical Education of Publicans.

While the educationists believe that their bill is the one question of the day, British publicans are quite oblivious to it, for they are absorbed in mastering the terms of an act which has, however, one thing in common with the Education Bill. The one looks to the religious instruction of the child, the other contains many commandments intended to secure the publican's ethical education!

The publican is being assisted in his studies by his trade protection society, which has sent out a circular explaining and elucidating the act in the best clerical style.

The Legislature in the new act has dealt with the subject of drunkenness in a double-barrelled way. It has put additional penalties upon drunkards and those who aid them, and it has likewise imposed increased responsibilities upon publicans. In the former class there are sections whereby a person found drunk and apparently incapable of taking care of himself or found drunk in charge of a young child may be apprehended. An habitual drunkard may be ordered to enter into a recognizance for good behavior, and he may be made liable to a penalty for obtaining or attempting to obtain intoxicating liquor at licensed premises or a club within three years after the date of conviction. Any person procuring intoxicating liquor for a drunken person on licensed premises will also be liable to a penalty.

Upon a summons for permitting drunkenness the burden of proof is changed, and the mere fact of the presence of a drunken person upon licensed premises will be prima facie evidence of permitting drunkenness. It will lie on the licensed person to prove that he and the persons employed by him took all reasonable steps for preventing drunkenness on the premises. In order to avoid any complications in this respect publicans are advised by their protection society to constantly scrutinize every person in the bar and in every corner and compartment of the bar, and to remove all impediments to a clear view from behind the counter over every part of the bar. By the new act the mere presence of a drunken person on the premises is of itself evidence of an offence.

The system of endorsing a conviction upon the license is abolished, and there is substituted for it a complete register of all offences committed by a licensed person as such. This register will be before the justices upon every occasion of transfer or renewal, and the justices are to have regard to the entries in it relating either to the person by whom or to the premises in respect of which the license is to be held.

The circular on the bill sets forth how important it is for the licensed person to keep the register as free as possible from convictions, and to remember that the presence of a large number of entries upon the register may cause convictions of a trivial character to assume almost as much importance as those which have always been regarded as convictions of a serious character, such as permitting betting, drunkenness, etc. Therefore, after every conviction the defendant should consider the subject of an appeal, and, if he be advised that there is a fair chance of successfully appealing, he should certainly avail himself of the right which the law affords him.

By this act the consent of the magistrates is requisite if any proposed alteration involves either of the following matters: First, gives increased facilities for drinking: second, conceals from observation any part of the premises used for drinking; third, affects the communication between the part of the premises where liquor is sold and any part of the premises or any street or other public way.

The inference would appear to be that, except in the cases above mentioned, alterations may be made without regard to the justices; but in any case in which it might be proposed to proceed without their consent great discrimination would have to be exercised, as the penalty for a breach of the section is a very serious one. It is enacted that if any such alteration—that is to say, any alteration of the character named in the section—is made save under the order of some lawful authority (e.g., sanitary authority), without such consent as aforesaid, a court of summary jurisdiction on complaint may by order declare the license to be forfeited, or direct that within a time fixed by the order the premises shall be restored to their original condition.

A director of the great firm of Bass & Co., speaking the other day on the subject, said he thought the act was capable of being well administered without injustice to the trade, and to the advantage of the public, but that everything depended on the spirit in which the law was administered, and he looked with some trepidation upon the case of the owners of licenses under the jurisdiction of certain benches in this country, where it was notorious that many of the magistrates who sat upon licensing questions and gave their decisions upon them were violently prejudiced and pledged up to the hilt in hostility to the trade.—London Daily Mail.

Our 20th Year

This is Our New Year's Day—Our Business New Year.

The Golden Lion enters on its 20th Anniversary. When a policy succeeds, its authors are usually pleased. This is our state of mind to-day.

Gratitude to our friends and patrons, who have helped us to accomplish what we have, is uppermost in our minds. We appreciate the patronage of our friends, and take pleasure in saying so.

A store, like a strong character, attains success by doing well whatever it undertakes—never countenancing a policy that will in any way create distrust; never allowing misrepresentations to creep into its advertisements nor behind its counters.

THE STORY AND THE STORE ALWAYS CORRESPOND HERE.

It is through strict adherence to this straightforward policy, as well as to the high character of our merchandise, that we attribute the continual increase in the Golden Lion's business.

We are preparing for a busy New Year. A little more steam will be turned on. There is room for improvement. The store system that was perfect last year needs examining regularly as an engineer examines mechanism. As eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, so it is the price of success in retailing. All our energies during 1903 will be devoted to improving the store system in every direction that experience has shown possible.

Our Winter Goods are now down to a pretty small compass, but we will continue to crowd them down still lower. Then for Spring.

TERRIBLE DISASTER

Eleven Lives Lost in a British Columbia Fire.

SEVEN OTHERS WILL DIE.

Several Others Injured—The Victims of Relentless Fate Are Members of the Finnish Colony at Malcolm Island —Worst of a Long Series of Calamities Occurred to Them Thursday.

Vancouver, Feb. 3.—Relentless fate seemed to pursue the Finnish colony of political refugees that is trying to establish a foothold in British Columbia, on Malcolm Island, under the guidance of Matti Kurrika, formerly publisher of the Finnish newspaper Aika at Nanaimo. On Thursday last the worst in a long series of calamities befel them. While a meeting of the men of the colony was in progress in the Assembly Hall fire broke out in the big three-story building, in the two lower floors of which were twenty-four living apartments. Nothing could check the flames, and in them eleven perished, seven were fatally injured and ten others painfully burned or injured by jumping from upper story windows to escape the flames. The majority of the children and many of the women are left with nothing but their night garments, and many of the men have lost all but their working clothes. They have also lost all their household effects—beds, bedding, furniture, etc. The survivors are now facing the inclement winter weather bereft of proper clothing, and their injured are without medicines or professional attendance, awaiting relief which is being sent by special steamer from Vancouver to-night.

List of the Dead.

The dead are:—Mrs. H. Hermanson and four children, Mrs. Lofbacka and two children, Mr. Sortell, and two daughters of August Orberg.

The fatally injured are Mr. and Mrs. Orberg, Mrs. Meva, Austin McKela, Secretary of the colony; Mr. M. Nygren, Mrs. Hiltunen, Mr. Ekman and M. Heinouen. There are others badly burned or injured, but they will probably recover.

It was Mr. Kurrika, President of the colony, who detected the odor of smoke while the meeting was in progress. He adjourned the meeting without alarming those attending, and thus averting a panic. The fire had gained such head way that little could be done toward aiding the sleeping occupants to escape.

Mrs. Orberg was sleeping in the room next the fire, which presumably originated from a wooden hot air shaft. She was awakened by what seemed to her a voice saying, "Awake, eternity is at hand!" She ran out in affright, and, though badly burned, her life was saved, but her two little daughters, five and six years old, were burned to death. Her husband was also badly burned in trying to fight his way in to save his family.

Mrs. Lofbacka, a widow, got her two children into the hallway, but all were overcome and perished within a few feet of the door that led to open air and life.

Mrs. H. Hermanson and four children perished in their room. Mr. Hermanson had remained in Vancouver to look after the office while Mr. Kurrika was at the island. Mrs. Hermanson got out unhurt, but heroically returned for her children and perished with them.

Store Blown Up.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 3.—A despatch from Fort Frances says the Hudson Bay Co.'s store at that point was wrecked by an explosion yesterday afternoon, and the building burned. A. H. Gibbie and J. M. Baker of H. B. Co., and Arthur Dinnie and C. F. Sims, who were in the store, sustained injuries, but will recover.

Six Children Hurt in a Panic.

Fatal Collision in a Fog.

Williamsport, Pa., Feb. 3. — In a wreck on the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad on St. Mary's Hill yesterday fireman Elliott Walker of Renou was killed and Engineer James Colings was fatally scalded. The wreck was caused by a "pusher" engine colliding with the Erie express in a fog.

Gruesome Find in Ashpan.

Midland, Feb. 3.—The fireman of a light engine, running from Lindsay to Midland, while cleaning the engine here, discovered in the ashpan the leg of a man and other pieces of flesh, and a searching party found the body of a man named Hodden near Fesserton. The man was not seen on the track, and how the accident occurred Driver, Peacock is unable to explain.

THE ALASKAN BOUNDARY.

$100,000 Appropriated by United States to Mark It.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The sundry appropriation bill reported to the House yesterday carries an aggregate appropriation of $78,007,029, which is $17,855,870 more than the current appropriation.

The excess of the proposed appropriation over the current year is explained by the committee report to be due to the increase of $14,464,393 for river and harbor work, and the $3,000,000 allowed for the relief of the distress in the Philippines. An increase of $300,000 is made in the item for the enforcement of the Chinese Exclusion Act and the sum of $100,000 is appropriated for the demarcation of the United States and Canada boundary line.

Preserve Alaska Fur Seals.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The House yesterday passed about 40 bills under suspension of the rules. The most important of them was a bill to authorize a resumption of the negotiations with Great Britain for the preservation of the Alaska fur seals, and to give the Secretary of the Treasury authority, if a modus vivendi is not concluded prior to the opening of the pelagic sealing season this year, to exterminate the seal herd on the Pribloff Islands, except 10,000 females and 1,000 males.

MRS. TASCHEREAU DEAD.

Either through her own family, or through that of her husband, she was connected with all the leading families of French Canada.

Three Months For Bigamy.

Kingston, Feb. 3.—Mrs. D. Hannah has been sent to jail for three months for bigamy at Deseronto. She married a man named Trew while leaving a husband living in Peterboro. She said she could not live with him, as he was Assyrian. The court held there were mitigating circumstances.

How to Get Rich.

Take a quantity of silica costing one-fourth the price of oil; mix it with oil, and sell the compound to the public at the price of pure oil; offer "prizes" with the compound to make it sell. It is such a compound the public get when they buy common soaps. In Sunlight Soap—Octagon Bar—the public buy a pure and well-made soap. Sunlight Soap reduces expense by prolonging the life of the articles washed with it, which is much more profitable to the public, than common soaps with "prizes." 204

Miss Rose Peterson, Secretary Parkdale Tennis Club, Chicago, from experience advises all young girls who have pains and sickness peculiar to their sex, to rely on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many beautiful young girls develop into worn, listless and hopeless women, simply because sufficient attention has not been paid to their physical development. No woman is exempt from physical weakness and periodic pain, and young girls just budding into womanhood should be carefully guided physically as well as morally.

If you know of any young lady who is sick, and needs motherly advice, ask her to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., who will give her advice free, from a source of knowledge which is unequaled in the country. Do not hesitate about stating details which one may not like to talk about, and which are essential for a full understanding of the case.

Miss Hannah E. Mershon, Collingswood, N. J., says:

"I thought I would write and tell you that, by following your kind advice, I feel like a new person. I was always thin and delicate, and so weak that I could hardly do anything. Menstruation was irregular.

"I tried a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and began to feel better right away. I continued its use, and am now well and strong, and menstruate regularly. I cannot say enough for what your medicine did for me."

How Mrs. Pinkham Helped Fannie Kumpe.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it is my duty to write and tell you of the benefit I have derived from your advice and the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The pains in my back and womb have all left me, and my menstrual trouble is corrected. I am very thankful for the good advice you gave me, and I shall recommend your medicine to all who suffer from female weakness."—MISS FANNIE KUMPE, 1922 Chester St., Little Rock, Ark. BEST WANTS COMMISSIONER FOR STREETS.

this action be confirmed and the request of the Joint Committee be granted and that the Treasurer be authorized to pay the Town's share of any such expense on the certificate of the Chairman of this Committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

M. A. MORRISON,
Chairman.

Peterborough, Feb. 2, '03.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

through its chairman, Ald. Morrison, reported as follows:

Your Special Committee on Street Lighting and Franchises beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

1. That the Council petition the Ontario Legislature and the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, to amend Chapter 71 of 62 Victoria so as remove the restrictions limiting the town to south of Nassau for power, and to municipal lighting only.

2. That this committee be given authority to procure expert and other assistance to assist in reaching a conclusion on the question of electric light and Franchises, and that the Treasurer be authorized to pay for such assistance upon the certificate of the chairman of the committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

M. A. MORRISON,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

Ald. Morrison, after reading the report, said that at the meeting of the Special Committee, they had discussed the matter of union with Ashburnham, but not knowing whether or not they were supposed to look into the matter they made no mention of it in their report.

Ald. Shortly thought that the Special Committee had power to deal with and report on the matter.

The report of the committee was then adopted.

LEGAL COMMITTEE.

Ald. McWilliams drew the attention of the council to the matter of a claim that Mr. Hopkins alleges he has against the corporation. Ald. McWilliams wanted to know as to what power the committee were supposed to have in regard to this particular case.

The matter was left in the hands of the Legal Committee to effect a settlement, if desirable.

BOARD OF WORKS.

was presented through its chairman, Alderman Best, as follows:—

To the Council of the Town of Peterborough.

Your Board of Works beg leave to report and recommend as follows:—

1. That the request of the Peterborough Light and Power Company for permission to place a pole on Water street be granted subject to the approval and under the supervision of the Town Engineer.

2. That the request of the Bell Telephone Co. for permission to open the street to place a pole at the corner of Homewood Avenue and Walton street be granted subject to the approval and under the supervision of the Town Engineer.

3. That with a view of doing the work asked for in the petition of E. E. Lord and others as soon as practicable the Town Engineer be instructed to report upon it, and that the request of the same petitioners for all electric light be granted and that the Peterborough Light and Power Co. be instructed to place the light at a point located by the Town Engineer to best meet the wishes of the petitioners.

4. That the Town Engineer be instructed to have the provisions of the contracts regarding the removal of slush from the streets carried out or report to this Board why it has not been done.

5. That the Chairman of this Board be authorized to advertise for applications for the position of street Commissioner.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. BEST,
Chairman.

Peterborough, Feb. 2, '03.

SOME DISCUSSION.

The report of the Board of Works aroused considerable discussion. Clause five was what furnished food for speech.

Ald. Clinkscale led off by moving in amendment to the report that this clause be referred back to the committee. He thought that there was too much money being spent in salaries—more in fact than on the actual work itself.

Ald. Best, chairman of the Board of Works, said that he desired to see a change in the management of the expenditure of money on our streets. At the present time he thought that we did not get 60 per cent. value on the money expended on street work. Mr. Hay had really failed as a street inspector. What we wanted now was a good practical man to superintend the work. Continuing, Ald. Best said, "You will have to appoint another man as street inspector, or I will resign at once as chairman of the Board of Works. The interests of the citizens at large should not be sacrificed through the incompetency of one man. I do not say that Mr. Hay is not an excellent engineer, but he is not an excellent street inspector. I want some one else. I say so on my feet, or I will resign."

Ald. McWilliams thought that the passing of the clause committed the council to some definite action. He wanted to have more information on matter. Did he understand Mr. Best to state that they must have both an engineer and a street commissioner? If such were the case they would be paying too much money. It may be quite true that Mr. Hay is not a good commissioner. Ald. Best was quite right in resigning if he had not a man under him whom he believed to be competent, but he did not see how the town could afford to pay $2000 for the overseeing of our streets. Ald. McWilliams thought that there was disatisfaction regarding the manner in which our streets were looked after, but he did not see how we could pay a street Commissioner $800 and an Engineer $1,200.

Speaking again on the subject Ald. Best said that his idea was to obtain the services of a good practical man to look after the condition of the streets and to superintend the work. We will be putting down permanent street beds shortly and there is not a man in town who is capable of superintending the work. The present difficulty commenced in the year 1897 when we asked for an engineer who would also act as street Commissioner. We can't get a man who will do both.

Ald. O'Connell — Who performs those services now?

Ald. Best—We are not really having them performed at all. Mr. Hay is supposed to.

Ald. Morrison, spoke next on the matter expressing the opinion that Engineer Hay had not time to attend to the work on the streets. He was of the opinion also that part of the Engineer's salary should be charged to permanent improvement account. He thought that it was necessary to have two officials and he therefore supported the resolution of Ald. Best.

Mayor Roger said that the Committee had carefully discussed the matter, and he thought that Ald. Best had somewhat misrepresented the Committee. It was not intended that any reflection should be passed on the Engineer.

Ald. Best—I take back nothing I have said. I take the position that the Engineer has totally failed as a Street Commissioner.

Ald. McWilliams again asked if it was the intention to keep two officials instead of one as at present.

Ald. O'Connell was also after more light on the subject. He was anxious to know as to what duties the two officials would perform; who was performing the duties now that the proposed Commissioner would perform. If the present Engineer cannot perform all these duties, perhaps because there is too much work for one man, he would like to know.

The Mayor said that the duties of the Engineer had greatly increased since Mr. Hay was appointed, and we could easily save the salary of a competent Road Commissioner.

Ald. McWilliams—You say that both offices are necessary?

Mayor Roger—I do.

Ald. Rush—I would suggest that Ald. O'Connell and Ald. McWilliams step into Mr. Hay's office and see the work he has to do.

Ald. O'Connell protested that he was not disputing that point at all.

The report was finally passed without amendment.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Ald. Rush moved that orders be drawn on the Treasurer for the payment of $25 on account of interest to Nicholls Estate Trustees, and $100, the amount required to be paid to the clerk of the Legislative Assembly for legislation being asked for.

Ald. Morrison moved that the matter of the petition from municipalities to the Lieut. Governor, re Niagara power, be left with the Electric Light and Franchise Committee with power to act.—This was carried.

Ald. Rush introduced a number of petitions that the town will present to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, asking for special legislation. One of these asks for the removal of the restrictions preventing the town from going into municipal lighting; another asking for the removal of the restriction prohibiting the council from taking power from any point on the river they may wish to; also for power to issue debentures to cover the $7,000 shortage on the sale of the Water Works debentures. Another petition asks for provision to be made to create a reserve fund for the Water Works Department.

All these petitions passed the council.

MR. ALEX. REID.

Upon motion Mr. Alex Reid was permitted to address the council. Mr. Reid did so at some length, claiming that he had received anything but courteous treatment from F. C. Stewart a few nights ago when he drew his attention to a wire that was down at the corner of Brock and George streets. Mr. Reid held that Stewart was a public servant, and when his attention was called to the condition of the wire he should have gone and attended to it, instead of telling Mr. Reid to go on and mind his own business, or he would make him. Continuing, Mr. Reid said, "I have you all here now, and I lay the matter before you; I have reason to expect civility at least at this man's hands. It's the dirt a man has to swallow that I object to."

Mayor Roger thanked Mr. Reid for having drawn the attention of the council to the matter, and assured him that it would be fully looked into.

ANNEXATION.

Ald. McWilliams then introduced the matter of union with Ashburnham. It was a matter of much importance he said, and there had been a great deal of discussion of late in regard annexation. From the expressed opinion of the representatives of the people on both sides of the river it was quite evident that there is a desire that the two municipalities should be united. For his part he felt that it is a matter that is bound to come and there was no use in delaying it any further. The longer it is left off, of course, the harder it will be to come to terms. He contended that the union would give Peterborough more weight throughout the Dominion and it would be classed as a city instead of amongst towns of 5,000 inhabitants. Capitalists coming to Canada look over the standing of cities as given by the Dominion Government returns, but Peterborough, on account of being classed as a town, does not figure as prominently as it should. Mr. McWilliams after dwelling further on the advantages to be derived from union, moved that a committee should be named by the Mayor to meet representatives of the village in order that negotiations might be opened with a view of consumating the union of the two municipalities.

Ald. Morrison, as Chairman of the Special Committee, said that he was not sure whether his Committee was supposed to take up the matter or not.

Ald. O'Connell moved in amendment to Ald. McWilliams' resolution, that the Special Committee be authorized to report on the matter.

Ald. Best moved in amendment to the amendment that the whole council be a committee to confer with the Ashburnham Council regarding the proposed union.

Ald. Best's motion carried, after which council adjourned.

I Will Cure You of

Rheumatism

Else No Money is Wanted.

Any honest person who suffers from Rheumatism is welcome to this offer.

I am a specialist in Rheumatism and have treated more cases than any other physician, I think. For sixteen years I made 2,000 experiments with different drugs, testing all known remedies while searching the world for something better. Nine years ago I found a costly chemical in Germany which, with my previous discoveries, gives me a certain cure.

I don't mean that it can turn bony joints into flesh again; but it can cure the disease at any stage, completely and forever,. I have done it fully 100,000 times.

I know this so well that I will furnish my remedy on trial. Simply write me a postal for my book on Rheumatism, and I will mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure. Take it for a month at my risk. If it succeeds the cost is only $5.50. If it fails I will pay the druggist myself—and your mere word shall decide it.

I mean that exactly. If you say the results are not what I claim, I don't expect a penny from you.

I have no samples. Any mere sample that can affect chronic Rheumatism, must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs, and it is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. It has cured the oldest cases that I ever met And in all my experience —in all my 2,000 tests— I never found another remedy that would cure one chronic case in ten.

Write me, and I will send you the order. Try my remedy for a month, as it can't harm you anyway. If it fails, it is free.

Address, Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

REFERENDUM RETURNS.

Majority 96,207—Favorable Vote 33.4 of Total Names.

Toronto, Feb. 3.—The liquor act is not brought into force by the vote of December 4th last. Yesterday the official statement of the returns was made by the Clerk of the Legislature. This shows, also, that the votes in favor of the act were teasingly near the 200,000 mark, being but 251 votes short, thereby doubtless disappointing many who had made wagers. The figures show that 199,749 votes were cast in favor of the act and 103,542 against, giving a majority in favor of 96,207. The number of names on the voters' list was 596,934, which therefore shows that the votes favorable were 33.4 per cent. of the total on the list.

THEORIES ABOUT CATARRH.

Peculiar Ideas Regarding a Common Disease.

Mark Twain's cure for a cold in the head, was simple, but he claims very effective in his own case; his plan was to eat nothing for twenty-four hours, or presumably until the trouble had disappeared.

Although not able to speak from personal experience as to the effectiveness of this treatment, it certainly has the merit of extreme economy, but it occurs to us that the application of it to a case of nasal catarrh might be attended with difficulties.

Catarrh, as everyone knows, is a chronic cold in the head, and Mr. Twain's treatment, if it should become a fad, would make of us a nation of fasters, an army emulating the example of the immortal Tanner, who achieved world wide fame by fasting forty days.

Catarrh is certainly becoming a national disease, and there is little doubt but that errors in diet, particularly over eating, is a very common cause.

Most people, however, are more interested in the cure of the trouble than in the trouble, and modern medical science has produced more effective and less heroic remedies than Mr. Twain's.

Hydrastin is a new remedy, very effective in some forms of Catarrh. Red Gum is another, which on account of its antiseptic properties, is very valuable, while many severe cases of Chronic Catarrh have been entirely cured by the sanguinaria or Extract of Blood Root alone.

Within a year an enterprising chemist has combined all of these remedies in tablet form, palatable and convenient, and the superiority of this tablet over other catarrh remedies is aso apparent that all druggists now carry them in stock to supply the popular demand.

They are called Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and it is doubtful if any medicine has achieved a national popularity in so short a time as this.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are used by thousands of travelling men, because they can be carried in the pocket, and used at any time and in any quantity, being free from Cocaine, opiate or any poisonous drugs.

They clear the head and throat from the disgusting secretions of catarrh, very often in a few hours time.

For nasal Catarrh they are far superior to any wash, lotion or ointment, the use of which is often as inconvenient and annoying as the disease itself.

For coughs, colds, bronchial catarrh and catarrh of the stomach, these tablets give immediate relief and a permanent cure, where lotions, inhalers and douches make no impression whatever.

This preparation is a boon to catarrh sufferers, and any druggist will tell you that Stuart's Catrh Tablets is a remedy that has come to stay.

THE RAILWAYS AND LABOR.

New Provisions For the Settlement of Disputes—Board of Special Arbitrators to Be Appointed in Each Case—Minister of Labor to Make Inquiry Upon Invitation of Either Party.

Bracebridge, Feb. 3.—The first meeting of Mr. George D. Grant's campaign for North Ontario was held in the Town Hall here last evening and was in every way a brilliant success. Sir William Mulock, Postmaster-General, delivered a practical and eloquent address. Mr. Grant spoke in a straightfoward way that created a most favorable impression, and Mayor Shire supported Mr. Grant's candidature in a cordial and convincing manner. The attendance was large, notwithstanding the exceedingly unpleasant weather, and the audience was more than friendly to Mr. Grant. A campaign in North Ontario is too extensive an operation to be judged in advance. It has various climates and conditions of roads, and is such a masterpiece of gerrymander that what applies to one part of it may be entirely inapplicable to another part a hundred miles away. In Bracebridge there are signs of activity in both political camps. The Liberals are working, but have not yet been able to secure a committee room, so great is the demand for houses and stores in the town. Mr. Foster has had Mr. Robert Birmingham in the town for the past three or four days, and he has opened a committee room in the vacant Hornerite Hall, on the windows of which there are the words, "Holiness Movement Mission." An organization meeting was held in it on Saturday night, but the chimney took fire and the fire brigade was called out to quench it.

RAILWAYS AND LABOR.

Draft of Sir William Mulock's New Bill to Arbitrate Disputes Between These Interests.

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—Local labor unions have received draft copies of the amended bill for the settlement of railway labor disputes, which is to take the place of the measure introduced at the last session of Parliament by Sir William Mulock. The old bill provided for the compulsory arbitration of railway disputes and made violations of the act punishable by severe penalties. After consultations between the Minister of Labor and representatives of the railway employes, the provisions for compulsory arbitration and penalties have been dropped.

The main provision of the bill as recast sets forth that where a difference exists between any railway employers and railway employes, and by reason of failure to readjust such difference a railway lockout or strike has been or is likely to be caused, or the regular and safe transportation of mails, passengers or freight, has been or may be interrupted, the Minister of Labor may, either on the application of any party to the difference or on the application of any municipal corporation directly affected, cause inquiry to be made into the same. For this purpose a board of arbitrators is to be established by the Minister, to be composed of three persons, of whom the parties to the dispute are to name one each. The third is to be named by the other two arbitrators or by the parties to the difference, and, failing a choice by them, the Minister is to make a selection.

For the purpose of such inquiry the board is to have the power of summoning witnesses and requiring them to give evidence on oath, and calling for the production of such documents and things as are deemed requisite to a full investigation. After making full and careful inquiry into the facts and circumstances of any dispute the board will make a written report thereon to the Minister, and such report will embody the board's findings and recommendations. The report will be published in The Labor Gazette without delay, and in the annual report of the department.

Each arbitrator will be paid his actual traveling expenses, and excluding the chairman, in addition $10 for each day that he shall attend a meeting of the board or be traveling to and from his home. The chairman will be paid such remuneration as the Governor-in-Council deems reasonable. Witnesses summoned by the board are to be entitled to free transportation.

It will be seen that in place of a permanent board of arbitration in the Dominion or in each of the provinces a special board is to be constituted to investigate each dispute as it may arise. The purpose of the bill is to enable both parties to a difference and the public as well to ascertain the facts and arrive at a reasonable basis of settlement. It is expected that public opinion will have an important influence in bringing about a settlement.

COLD SEIZES HIS MAJESTY.

London, Feb. 3.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra were to have gone on a visit to the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire at Chatsworth yesterday afternoon, but their departure was postponed at the last minute for the reason that the King was suffering from a feverish cold. His Majesty was planting trees, at noon, some distance from Windsor Castle, and appeared then to be in excellent health and spirits.

Shortly after the King's return to the castle a telegram was sent to the Duke of Devonshire, saying that His Majesty had a cold, and that Sir Francis Laking, the King's physician, considered it unsafe for him to travel. The royal train has been ordered to be in readiness to-day, in the hope that His Majesty will be able to carry out his intention of visiting the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire.

Brotherhood to Be Ignored.

Winnipeg, Feb. 3. — It has developed that one of the conditions in connection with the recent settlement of the Canadian Northern strike of the machinists and other employes, is that the Order of United Brotherhood of Railway Employes is to be hereafter totally ignored. All the different branches returning to work have signed an agreement with the company that they will not become members of the Order of United Brotherhood of Railway Employes, now, or hereafter, and many of them have resigned from their membership.

A DREAM OF EMPIRE.

Samoni Rallying Cry May Yet Inflame North Central Africa and Cause Another Campaign in Soudan.

London, Feb. 3.—From the constant reports coming in from Egypt, it seems certain that England will have a brisk campaign in putting down the uprising of the fanatical tribes of the Eastern Sahara, which are now advancing toward the Nile.

The tribes are those of the order of Sidi Mohammed Senussi. It is uncertain whether the fanatics will first strike the French or the British. The movement is toward the Nile at Khartoum. It began last year under the Sheikh Senussi, son of the dead founder of the sect. His death last August gave it a check, but the advance has recommenced under his successor.

The rallying cry of the Senussi brotherhood is the founding of a great Moslem empire in North Central Africa, and they have gathered to their banners hordes of fanatics and all the broken remnants of the defeated Khalifa and the Sultan Rabah. The main body is reported to be at Joffa, which is 400 miles west of Khartoum and 700 from the Mediterranean. The force has obtained rifles through Tripoli, and has fifteen cannon.

Owing to the chances of danger arising, the garrison of Khartoum has been strengthened, and more black battalions are to go down to show the tribesmen that the power of the Khedive is still full and in arms. The Sirdar, Sir R. Wingate, is now in Khartoum.

WAS IT SAFE?

A Correspondent Writes re Contagion —An Incident.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Last Sunday afternoon three well known ladies went to one of the homes, infected with the most virulent form of scarlet fever. They did not go inside, but while standing on the porch one of the inmates of the house came and shook hands with each of the three, and they were at church in the evening.

Was there any danger of contagion by this contact?

Could the germs of disease have been transferred to glove or muff?

No doubt the motive was praiseworthy, but was the act a safe one?

If it was, you may throw this in the waste basket, if it was dangerous, please call attention once more to the folly of taking chances with deadly diseases.

Peterborough, Feb. 2nd.

It is difficult to say definitely whether or not the act of the inmate in saluting the visitors as stated was dangerous. It would depend upon whether he or she was personally affected by the disease, or in direct contact with an affected inmate. Physicians assert that the most contagious period of scarlet fever is in the stage of convalescence, the desquamatory or peeling stage. In any event the intercourse mentioned was most imprudent and attended with possibly great risk. There was no apparent necessity for the call mentioned, only a neighbourly impulse which might be attended with serious consequences—more serious than a call of necessity to render needed help, for in the latter case the exposure to infection would be known and doubtless provided against; whereas there was in the above case, no fear, while there was a possibility of infection, and the attendance at church involved the risk of widespread infection. It would be well to sacrifice the pleasure of discharging social obligations, whose exercise is attended with the most remotely possible danger of spreading an infection with possible consequence of the most deplorable character.—Ed. Examiner.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION

The Result of the Pain and Irritation From Hemorrhoids.

Nervous Prostration is often the result of neglecting a case of hemorrhoids or piles; the pain and irritation attendant upon this disagreeable trouble inconveniences and annoys one, but it is possible to go to business and to do the ordinary day's work, so the trouble is neglected until the nerves become exhausted and the patient is a victim of nervous prostration.

Hemorrhoids cause a sensation of heat, tension and itching in a region where is located the most sensitive nerves of the human system and the continued irritation will eventually cause a collapse of the nerves. This would easily have been avoided if the patient had carefully treated the case of piles from their first appearance. No other trouble can be so quickly overcome if treated in an early stage; and even if the case is an old one, there is a remedy which will get with remarkable results if faithfully applied.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is in suppository form and can be conveniently applied to the afflicted parts, the soothing oils and medication reaching and healing the enlarged hemorrhoidal veins of the rectum and acting at once upon the inflamed tissues.

Every sufferer from this trouble should send at once to the Pyramid Drug Company., Marshall, Mich., for their book on Piles or Hemorrhoids, which will be sent free. The Pyramid Pile Cure is so well known and the hundreds cured by it have so advertised it that the little book is merely sent to give each patient a clearer view of his or her particular case and the proper treatment for it.

ST. PAUL'S MISSION CHURCH.

Entertainment Last Night, a Great Success.

THE ENCOURAGING SPEECHES.

Music and an Abundant Amount of Refreshments, Enjoyed by a Large Audience.

A very pleasant evening was spent at St. Paul's New Mission Church last night by a large audience who were thoroughly delighted with the excellence of the programme and refreshments. The Rev. Dr. Torrance, D. D., pastor of St. Paul's church, was in the chair. There were several ministers present many of whom were not Presbyterians; several ministers regretted being unable to be present owing to previous engagements. Dr. Torrance opened the proceedings by a short speech in which he said that he was very pleased to be the pastor of the church which had built such a mission in the south end of the town. He was also pleased to see the very large audience and hoped that it would continue to be as large in the future career of the new mission.

A male quartette consisting of Messrs. McKeown, Mein, Dawson and Wildgust, sang "The Sweet Sabbath Eve," which was most approvingly received by the audience.

Rev. W. J. Jolliffee next spoke and congratulated St. Paul's congregation upon having built such a useful mission. He hoped the good work would continue to be a main keynote of the mission, so that the good be not evil spoken of. There were lots of people—good people, who are too melancholey, and take religion too narrowly. He (Mr. Jolliffe) believed in liberality — liberality in thought and spirit and he thought that that was the true way to look at religion.

Miss Best then sang a song, which was heartily encored, and the second one was none the less heartily received.

Rev. J. Bastow said that the congregation of St. Paul's was too large and he hoped that a large percentage of those who had hitherto sat with folded arms and done next to nothing, would now come and take a prominent part in the new mission church. One thing he was pleased to see was the abundance of windows in the mission. The windows let in God's light, and he was sure that God's presence would also be amidst the congregations of the future. Mr. Bastow went on to say that the main thing we came for to-night was to express hearty thanks to the congregation of St. Paul's for building this new mission church. If the one aim of the whole congregation was to make known God's truth, he was sure that the new mission would ultimately succeed.

Mr. James Dawson next sang "Sleep in the Deep" with great success, throwing his whole heart into the song, and was enthusiastically encored by the audience.

Rev. J. H. Hanna, B. A., heartily endorsed all that had been previously said about the excellence of the building. The churches in the south end, he said, were insufficient, and he welcomed the new mission church with open arms and as brethren. Mr. Hannah then gave a few words of advice. He told the audience to be steadfast towards God's word. He believed that we all ought to respect the conscientious efforts of others. A third word of advice was to read the Holy Bible, and then draw your own conclusions as to whether you wish to be Church of England, Baptist, Presbyterian or anything else—not only is it necessary to concern ourselves about our souls but also about the further continuance of the work of the Lord God. Rev. Mr. Hanna then concluded by wishing the best of success to the new mission.

Rev. J. P. Wilson next spoke, and said that he was glad to see the large attendance, and congratulated St. Paul's on the very commodious mission house St. Paul's had built, which was just what was wanted. A good sermon was often spoilt by the church; in some churches no one could either hear, see or breathe, but these were not defects of the new mission church. St. Paul's had given liberally to Foreign Missions, but he was glad to see that she in her enthusiasm had not forgotten to build and set up a new mission in Peterborough. He (Mr. Wilson) was glad to know that the new mission was not only a Sunday school, but was also a regular church, where regular services would be held every Sunday.

Rev. Geo. Yule of Springville, wished to congratulate every one concerned on the grand building they had erected. We have only one life, said the speaker, which at any moment may end, and we ought to make the most of it by living a good earnest life, and in leading onward Christ's banner.

The audience then partook of an abundant supply of refreshments, after which the pleasant evening broke up.

A WEDDING.

The wedding of Miss Lucy Curtin, daughter of Mrs. W. Curtin, Aylmer street, and Mr. Michael A. McGrath, was solemnized yesterday morning in St. Peter's Cathedral. The bridesmaid was Miss Rose Milloy, and the groom was supported by Mr. Wm. Curtin. The newly united couple will leave for their new home in Jeanette, Pa., to-day.

A GENERAL MEETING

Of the Board of Trade to Take Place on Thursday Next.

There will be a general meeting of the Board of Trade in the Council Chamber on Thursday, Feb. 5th, at 8 o'clock. The Trent Valley Canal, Beet Sugar industries and other business will be discussed, and in view of its importance a large number of the members are requested to be present. Invitations to that effect have been sent out to the members of the Board by the Secretary, Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine.

A COMING MILLIONAIRE.

A Lad's Evil Enterprise in Gaining Wealth.

One amusing incident, worth while recording, in connection with the entertainment in St. Paul's mission church, South Ward, last night, was furnished by a boy who stood at the door with a hat in his hand, and asked for a silver collection. Three young men were unlucky enough to drop their loose change into the awaiting hat, whereupon the boy, hat and money disappeared, leaving the disgusted fellows to pay again at another door.

MEDICAL REPORT

Adopted At Ashburnham Board of Health Meeting Last Night.

Last night there was a meeting of the Ashburnham Board of Health. No less than 29 deaths were reported by the Health Officer exclusive of the hospital reports. During the year a chemical concoction, advertised as a fertilizer, had been regarded by the Health authorities as a source of nuisance in the village, it had, however, been disposed of without any real harm being done. The medical report was received and adopted, after which the Board adjourned.

CURLING IN THE FAR WEST.

Dr. Beauchamp Boucher Having Great Luck

At the Bonspiel of the Kootenay Curling Association—His Record.

Dr. R. B. Boucher, of Phoenix, B.C., son of Dr. R. P. Boucher, is one of the most enthusiastic curlers in Western Canada. He figured very prominently at the fifth annual bonspiel of the Kootney Curling Association which was quite recently held at Rossland. Speaking of the Phoenix rink the Rossland Miner says:—

"The Phoenix rink, under the leadership of R. B. Boucher, has proved the surprise of the week. The club has only fourteen members, but every member seems to be a curler in the true sense of the word. Boucher has shown himself as one of the shrewdest and ablest curlers that has appeared in Rossland for a long time. Every member of the Phoenix rink played well. The rink will carry back with them as the result of their superb playing during the bonspiel here the Oliver cup, which they won by a hair's breadth from Hall of Sandon, and the New York Life Grand Challenge Cup. In the New York Life event, Grigor of Rossland was beaten by Dr. Carruthers of Revelstoke, Boucher defeating Tamblyn of Nelson in a close match in the same event. In the finals, Boucher's rink played magnificently together and defeated Dr. Carruthers by a long score of 12 to 5.

"The Sandon and Revelstoke rinks also had a string of ill-luck. Hall of Sandon had the misfortune of being pitted against Boucher of Phoenix in the Oliver Cup event in the finals. His rink gave the Phoenix man probably the hardest game of the bonspiel, but he lost by one lone score. The game was an even one until the very last. The last shot, with the score standing 8 to 6, came near tying. The final score was 8 to 7 in favour of Boucher. Hall, by coming in second, took the second prize for the Sandons.

"Dr. Carruthers and H. A. Brown of Revelstoke, and the players of their respective rinks, have played some great games during the bonspiel. It is unfortunate that the Revelstoke club failed to win any of the numerous events. In the Tuckett District trophy, part of which was played yesterday, Revelstoke, under the able skipping of H. A. Brown, beat the Sandon rink, under Cavanaugh by a score of 12 to 10, but were beaten in the semi-finals by the Rossland rink by a score of 15 to 5. Dr. Carruthers' rink, like Hall of Sandon, also had the misfortune to be pitted against Boucher of Phoenix in the finals in the New York Life Challenge Cup and went down to defeat by 12 to 5. The ice was poor all the afternoon, and this probably was the cause of the indifferent showing made by the Revelstoke men in this event."

Rear-end Collision Near Lindsay Yesterday.

(Lindsay Post.)

About 7.30 o'clock this morning a double-header train in charge of Conductor Fred Shaw, with Engineers Smith and Yarnold at the throttles, was coming into Lindsay from Belleville, pulling about twenty-five empty box cars. At a point about a quarter of a mile east of the iron bridge, on a stiff down grade, the train separated, with the result that the rear end crashed into the front end, causing considerable damage. The cars came together with such force that two of them stood up on their ends and then fell over the embankment on the east side of the river, a distance of fifteen feet. Besides these, six or seven other cars were damaged more or less.

No injury was done to the track, consequently the regular train, No. 24, from Port Hope, came in on time. The auxiliary train and crew were called into service to remove the damaged cars. Fortunately the brakesmen did not happen to be near when the cars came together, and no person was hurt.

A double-header train pulling about twenty loaded cars, in charge of Engineers Haines and Meyers, started for Belleville Saturday afternoon. Just as they got to a point one mile east of Roaboro the side rod of engine No. 80 broke, smashing the cab badly and doing other damage. Another engine was sent from the shops here to replace the one disabled, and the train continued its journey after a delay of two hours. The damaged engine is beyond repairing at the local shops, so it will be sent to Stratford.

Handsome Coats Are Made of Greenland Seal.

Some odd new skins have appeared on the fur market. Greenland seal is the latest, and it is remarkably pretty. Cream of tone and spotted of surface, it somehow suggests the leopard's skin, yet lacks its harshness when supplied with a collar of skunk or black fox, for it really makes most smart little jackets.

A recent costume was composed of a skirt of mastic cloth and a blouse of surah silk of the same tones. The latter was trimmed with elaborate decorations of Chinese embroidery, having tassels of many colors pendent from straps on the shoulder. A Greenland seal coat lined with mastic satin and a marquis hat of bright colored velvet, the brim upturned, completed the costume, which also had the muff matching the seal coat. This was made is the latest style, large in size, trimmed with bands of skunk on either side.

A pretty three-quarter length evening coat is here shown. It is made of white cloth, with the revers and cuffs strapped in a darker material.

A GRINDING KIDNEY PAIN

Prostrated Mrs. Readon, Simcoe, Ont., so That she was Unable to Attend Her Work.

A Bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets Completely Cured Her.

In the town of Simcoe, Ont., there are many people who have a good word to say on behalf of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets—a remedy which has done wonders curing backache and serious kidney, bladder and urinary troubles.

Mrs. Jonnie Readon, who lives on Agricultural street of that town, writes as follows:

"For more than six months my back has bothered me a great deal. I have had to get some one to do my work at times (ironing and washing.) The pain was of the grinding variety. I laid it to overstrain and the kidneys. Pain in the side was also very bad. I got a bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets from J. Austin & Co's drug store, and I am very much pleased with them. I do my own work now, and can scrub if necessary without trouble. The pain is a thing of the past. I found the Tablets gentle in action and am pleased to recommend them."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are chocolate coated and easy to take. Price 50c. a bottle, or 3 for $1.25, at all druggists, or by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont. 6

WILD ANIMAL FIGHTS.

In the pitched battles which sometimes take place between the great carnivora and the largest and most powerful of the ox tribe the forces of animal courage, desperation and bodily strength must be exhibited on a scale never elsewhere seen, says a writer in Leslie's Weekly. Such combats do occur, but have seldom been witnessed and still less frequently described. Two or three lions sometimes combine in such an attack, but from the marks seen on buffalo it is probable that sometimes there is a single combat, for it can hardly be supposed that the buffalo could escape from more than one lion.

The number of foot pounds of energy put into such a struggle must be something extraordinary. The efforts of a lion, which can strike a man's arm from the shoulder and leave it hanging by a strip of skin or which can carry a cow over a high stockade, endeavoring unsuccessfully in close grips to drag down or disable a buffalo bull, must be on a gigantic scale, and the strength which can shake him off and, it is believed, occasionally crush the lion afterward must be even more amazing. A buffalo bull has been credited with engaging three lions in mortal combat and making a good fight before he was disabled by one of the lions hamstringing him by biting his legs from behind.

TOXIN AND ANTITOXIN.

What These Two Terms In Medicine Mean Made Clear.

Pasteur, the great French savant, founder of the sciences of bacteriology and preventive medicine, proved in the first place that the epidemic diseases are due to minute living organisms, plants and animals and that for each definite disease there is a specific micro organism. This was the great fundamental fact. Later it became evident that these microscopic parasites cause disease by certain chemical poisons which they produce, called toxins. In many cases the micro organism, if grown in culture tubes outside the body, will produce the same toxins. After being separated from the living germs which produced them these substances will produce all the symptoms of the disease when injected into an animal body. The body at the beginning of an attack of fever is not, however, passive. Its cells react against the poisons introduced and a struggle ensues, the end of which is life or death, the fighting being purposeful and definite. The body cells secrete a specific chemical body which has the power of neutralising or rendering harmless the particular toxin introduced. This antidote to the poisonous toxin we call the antitoxin. When a man recovers from an attack of smallpox, it is because his antitoxins have proved too strong for the toxins of the disease, and his after immunity, it seems probable, is due to the persistence within his body of the antitoxins once produced.—C. E. A. Winslow in Atlantic.

Hannibal's Downfall.

The fate of Hannibal turned upon the result of a promenade. It was after he had crossed the Alps and entered Italy, with winter quarters established at Capua. His residence was one of the best houses in the city, and while walking in the garden he heard a female voice singing not far away. Struck by the tones of the voice, he issued an order that the singer should be brought before him. He was so greatly impressed by her charms that he at once attached her to his household, disposing of the husband by beheading him. Retribution followed closely upon the cowardly perpetration of the outrage. The balance of the winter was devoted to pleasure, discipline and drills were practically abandoned, and with the advent of spring the Carthaginian army was so demoralised by the dissipation of the city that its prestige was lost, and with it came the downfall of Hannibal.

The Affections of the Arab.

An Arab—meaning a tent dweller, for in an equine sense the town dweller is no Arab—loves first and above all his horse. Next he loves his firearm; next to his gun he loves his oldest son. Last comes his wife or one of his wives. Daughters don't even count; I mean the Arab scarcely takes the trouble to count them unless in so far as they can minister to his comfort, dietetic or otherwise. Until some neighbor comes along and proposes to marry—in other words, to make a still worse slave of one of them—she is only a chattel, a soulless thing. And yet she is said to be a pretty, amiable, helpful being—said to be, for no one by any hap ever chances to cast his eyes on one worth seeing. This disregard for women, be it said to their honor, does not always apply to the Bedouins of the Syrian and Arabian deserts.

An Artful Scheme.

A newly elected official would sometimes return home late at night after his wife had retired, and when she asked him what time it was would answer, "About 12" or "A little after midnight."

On one occasion instead of making the inquiry she said:

"Alfred, I wish you would stop that clock. I cannot sleep for its noise."

All unsuspicious, he stopped the pendulum. In the morning while dressing his wife inquired artlessly:

"Oh, by the way, what time did you get home?"

"About midnight," replied the official.

"Alfred, look at that clock!"

Be Ready.

Productiveness of the Sea.

SHATTERED DIGNITY.

An Exit From Church That Had a Flavor of Comic Opera.

The crude humor that makes the small boy want to throw a stone at a silk hat on a man bristling with dignity is not to be disposed of as a mere ill conceived prank of youth. There is deep in most people a spring of unsubduable humor that leaps gleefully when conscious dignity gets a fair tumble. That is why, for all the solemnity of the pince, the soberest charity and the best bred propriety in the world could not prevent a titter at a little farce that happened once in a church in Brooklyn.

A gentleman and his wife, who were offended at something the preacher said, gravely rose and stalked toward the door, with their heads held high in assertive disdain. The wife followed the husband.

Unfortunately when they were half way down the aisle the husband dropped his glove and stooped to pick it up. Fate, the humorist, determined that the wife should keep her head so high that she did not see her husband stoop. She went sailing on and doubled over him in riotous confusion.

The congregation held its breath and kept its composure. The two recovered themselves and went on. Hoping to escape quickly, they turned to what looked like a side door. The husband pulled it open with an impressive swing. Before he could close it out tumbled the window pole, a long duster and a stepladder. The congregation could hold its mirth no longer, and man and wife fled to the real exit in undignified haste amid a general and pervasive snicker.

Making It Clear.

Religious examination papers are an ancient and unfailing source of joy. The latest one to be put in evidence comes from an English church training college. Candidates for admission are required to give in writing some account of the religious instruction they have received, and a recent answer to the first two formal questions ran as follows:

Question: What instruction have you had in religious knowledge?

Answer: None.

Question: By whom was it given?

Answer: By the vicar.

The thing might have been expressed more logically, but not much more clearly.

A Guest's Met.

Greville does not tell the following story in his famous "Memoirs," but it is a fitting return for his own rather malicious wit: On one occasion, when Lord Alvanley was his guest, the dining room had been newly and showily furnished, whereas the dinner was but a very meager one. While many of the guests were complimenting their host on his taste and magnificence Lord Alvanley interrupted them with, "For my part, I should prefer more carving and less gilding."

Eczema and Itching Skin

Defied Many Expensive Remedies but Were Thoroughly Cured by

Dr. Chase's Ointment

It is a mistake to judge Dr. Chase's Ointment by the results obtained from the use of ordinary salves and ointments. It is not to be compared with any preparation on the market to-day.

Some of these remedies give temporary relief but they do not strike deep enough to eradicate disease. You need not be alarmed if Dr. Chase's Ointment causes a little irritation at first; this is necessary in order to root out the disease. When the cure is brought about the skin will be left smooth and clear, without scar and blemish.

Mr. Hiram Frey, Norwood, Ont., states: "I was troubled for ten years with eczema on one leg. The itching was terrible, and when scratched the blood would come. Fortunately I heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and its persistent use has completely cured me. There is now no trace of the disease left.

"My little girl, two years old, has also been cured of Eczema by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Her face was a mass of sores and we hand to bandage her hands to keep her from scratching it. To-day her face is clear of even the scars which the ugly sores made, and she is thoroughly cured. I am glad of an opportunity to let people know what a blessing Dr. Chase's Ointment has proved itself to us."

Miss Levina Diotte, Clarence Creek, Ont., writes: "I suffered with eczema for over a year and a half and tried all the remedies I could hear of, some of them costing considerable money, and not doing me any good. I was enduring great torture when I read an advertisement of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and resolved to give it a trial.

"I began using Dr. Chase's Ointment, and it has completely cured me. Though I do not need it any more I keep a box in the house in case of emergency. I hope that people who suffer as I did may read this testimonial and for this reason you have my permission to publish it. It is only just that such a good remedy for eczema and itching skin should be made known to those who suffer."

did a resourceful thing when he e stage manager of the produc- which his daughter played the He was able in that manner to se his duties as a father under ll powerful title of stage man- It was believed by the company love affair was at the bottom of it; but, strangely enough, there were no details. It was known that his daughter, a beautiful girl, had fallen in love with a stage door adorer a year before. Fearful lest in his capacity as a mere father he would be unable to prevent a clandestine courtship and even marriage, he traveled with her. Nobody apparently except Miss Hamilton knew who the man was. Buscoe knew his name by reason of many intercepted notes, but had been unable to arrange a personal interview. He lived at Marie's hotel, accompanied her to the theater and never allowed her to be entertained unless he was a member of the party. If there was any truth in the story, Marie behaved remarkably well for an actress who possessed youth and temperament.

At any rate her wounded heart, if she had one, never bled in public. Hampton, her leading man, had a wife and was one of Buscoe's few intimate friends. He was a mechanical actor, with a deep, resonant voice, and invariably got good notices, although he would have been as willing to play the last act of "Camille" in a crimson set in summer stock as he would to have it in white.

Buscoe called a rehearsal before he essayed to play the part, but he wouldn't hold the manuscript while he ran over the scenes, and the result was that in the second act climax he went to pieces. He stood center with his arms outstretched to receive Marie, with his month wide open.

"I beg your pardon," came from the wings, "but your line there, Mr. Buscoe, is, 'If I should say goodby, little girl.'"

It was Jennings, the new property man, picked up at Kansas City three weeks before, when he didn't know a prop from a bunch light. He was a Buscoe protege at $16 a week when the union scale was $25. But even at that he didn't look like a property man. But he had come around with a desire to do anything in the company except to play a part, and he knew the play, he said, backward. Buscoe was looking for people who didn't care what their salaries were, and after Jennings had told him that "the compensation was of no consequence so long as he could live upon it" Buscoe had him on the salary list.

He was delightfully green, but at the end of three weeks he was a gem. Then he began to show signs of becoming a jewel.

"The doorkeeper," he said one day to Buscoe, "is refusing bouquets for Miss Hamilton. Now, why couldn't he pick out the roses and allow me to use them instead of the prop bouquet in the second act?"

To which the resourceful Buscoe replied: "Course. Use orchids if you want to. Only rip the cards off. I don't want any notes from anybody in the front of the house getting in here to my daughter."

After that Miss Hamilton frequently had real roses instead of rubber ones, and real roses were an improvement, especially since the business required Miss Hamilton to sniff them lovingly several times.

But the further utility of Jennings hadn't occurred to Buscoe until the interruption at the Crystal Falls rehearsal.

"See here, Jennings," said Buscoe suddenly. "Did you ever act?"

"N-o-o-o," said Jennings slowly; "I never did."

"Do you know the part?" resourceful Buscoe asked quickly.

"Yes," said Jennings positively; "I think I do. I've heard it every night for a month."

"Marie," he said, "this is Mr. Jennings. We are in Crystal Falls. Try a scene with him. Maybe he'll do to go on tonight."

She smiled as she took his hand. "I am very glad," she said, "that papa has introduced you." Turning to Buscoe, she added, still smiling: "He does look the part, doesn't he? Let's try it."

Well, one trial convinced Buscoe that he was safe—for Crystal Falls. There was only one thing badly wrong with the new man. "You must remember," Buscoe told him, "that the twenty-five cent seats have a right to hear just as well as the front rows. When you make stage love, make it loud." And after that Jennings reached them easily.

That night he had three curtain calls for his first good scene at the end of the first act, something that had never happened to Hampton. Buscoe disliked to admit that he was astonished. He had watched the scene carefully, prepared to use the promptbook, but the manner in which Jennings humored the scene was marvelous. "He couldn't have done better," thought Buscoe, "if he meant every word he spoke."

He was in the act of congratulating himself once more upon his extreme foresight when a boy carrying a box of flowers walked hurriedly through the stage door and almost into his arms.

"Who ordered these things?" roared Buscoe.

If Buscoe was anything at all, he was resourceful. Dragging the boy to the side entrance, he pointed at Jennings. "Is that the man?" he asked him.

"That's him," said the boy. "I seen him do it."

"Send them back," said Buscoe.

He could hardly wait to ring down to pounce upon the new property man.

"A boy came in here, Mr. Jennings," he said, "with a box of roses. You know the rules. I sent them back."

"Haven't I the right," asked Jennings very calmly, "to send flowers to myself if I wish?"

Buscoe was speechless. "Of course you have," he began, "but"—

"And I have also the right, I believe," interrupted Jennings, "to send flowers to my wife. When you assumed to carefully guard your daughter from the man you knew she loved, a year ago, you made her promise not to marry him until you were sure enough of him to introduce him to her yourself. You thought you'd never do that, but you did introduce him this afternoon. She married him at 5 o'clock. She had no flowers at her wedding, so I thought it would be nice for her to have them tonight instead. I am very sorry you sent them back."

"Your name is Clark," asked Buscoe—"Robert Clark?"

"I had a right to a stage name, didn't I?" asked Jennings.

"And you are"—

"Your son-in-law, my friend."

"Well," said Buscoe, always resourceful, "I never saw a man play the lover any better. You'll stay until the end of the season, won't you?"

Sideache, Backache, Headache,

And many other aches to which women are peculiarly subject are generally the result of a diseased condition of the womanly organism. When this diseased condition is cured, sideache, backache, headache, etc., are cured also.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. When these diseases are cured the aches they cause are also cured.

"I will drop you a few lines to-day to let you know that I am feeling well now," writes Miss Annie Stephens, of Belleville, Wood Co., West Va. "I feel like a new woman. I took several bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I have no headache now, no backache, and no pain in my side any more. No bearing-down pain any more. I think that there is no medicine like Dr. Pierce's medicine. I thank you very much for what you have done for me—your medicine has done me much good."

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book containing 1008 pages, is given away. Send 31 one-cent stamps for expense of customs and mailing only, for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SAXON RACE SOLE RULERS.

Then the Jews Will Return to Palestine—Dr. Wild's Latest Prophecies.

The sermon preached on the first Sunday night of 1903 by Rev. Dr. Wild in Bethel Congregational Church, Toronto, on the "Stone Kingdom" was of the prophetic class. He described the image said by Daniel to represent five kingdoms which were to be the leading powers. The powers represented were: Russia, by the head of gold; Persia, by the breast of silver, Greece, by the waist and thighs. Spain and France were the feet of iron and stone, and a small stone which was loosened from the side of the mountain was Great Britain, or Israel. Britain, said Dr. Wild, is to pound this image until she has defeated every power represented. She has started at the feet, as shown by the many wars she has waged against France and Spain. In these she was always successful. This small stone, which is to grow larger and larger as she fights, has now become the greatest power on earth, ruling over 500,000,000 people and one-third of the surface of the inhabited globe.

The coming of Christ pertained to the destiny of Great Britain. This cannot happen now, as some Advent lecturers proclaimed. Palestine must first be handed over to the Jews before Christ could come back to earth. He maintained through the ten-lost-tribe theory that the Saxon race must fight the Eastern powers and be sole ruler of the earth. Then the Jews would return to their own country.

The time is drawing near, Dr. Wild said, for the Jews are now preparing for their return. There are some twelve or fourteen Jews in the British Parliament, while prior to 1834 they were not allowed to hold seats. They had been expelled from Great Britain three times.

In closing, Dr. Wild described Britain as destined to free the human race from their bonds. She was the only power who now or ever patrolled the sea to save the colored race from being taken into slavery.

Stevenson's Tolerance.

Among the many memories of Robert Louis Stevenson which have been called forth by Mr. Balfour's biography, is a personal reminiscence by a South Sea trader, who knew Stevenson in San Francisco and Honolulu. In an interview he speaks not as a literary man, but as an old friend, and in his recollection the author appears as a man among men, active, curious for material for his art, and courageous. He says:

Stevenson was as simple as a lad and wholly fearless. One afternoon we were strolling by a saloon in San Francisco much frequented by men-o'-war's men. Just as we got by the place a plate-glass window dropped in pieces on the pavement. The saloon was filled with a fighting crowd of men on shore liberty after a three years' cruise.

It occurred to me that the greatest possible distance away from the place would be best for us. I plucked at Stevenson's arm, and told him as much. But he would not have it.

"The knives will be out presently," said I. "We'd better get away."

"No, no," he replied, shaking himself loose from my somewhat nervous grasp. "This is something I've been waiting for a long time to see," and he walked right up to the door.

The bluejackets were rolling round the sawdust-covered floor, and the air was filled with bottles, mugs and chairs. Stevenson leaned against the door-jamb watching it all as if it had been an exhibition of pet cats.

Soon the sailors scrambled to their feet, and a truce was established. Stevenson waited for peace, then he came away with me.

"Those," he said, nodding his head in the direction of the saloon, "are lovable fellows, even though they are militant."

Messrs. Haight & Freese have received the following:—

New York, Feb. 3.—We would advise holding on to long stock in Penna at present prices.

Private message from San Francisco correspondent says Southern Pacific has adjusted its wages with firemen and has no grievances committee, adjustments to meet from any source. Strike talk is really more smoke than fire and officials assure us there will be no strike of any kind. People's Gas declared regular quarterly dividend, 1 1-2 p.c. payable Feb. 25th, books close Feb. 16th, open Feb. 26th.

Liverpool, close, wheat, 1-8 higher, corn, 1-8 lower than Saturday.

Outside trade in wheat very light, pit crowd principal sellers, market nervous and easy.

There has been pretty fair realizing on this advance especially in Erie, R. D. G., St. Paul, and U. P. But offerings have been well taken and buying in central list consi'e'd good deal better than selling. Sentiment bullish and with any encouragement such as news of final disposition of Venezuelan matter speculation would broaden and general market would develop strength and advance There is a rumor afloat that King Edward has been taken sudddnly ill, cables simply announce tha the has a cold and a little fever and it looks like influenza. Paris exchange on London 25 F. 14 C. off about 1-2 C. Money 3 1-2.

New York, Feb. 2.—General tone of the market firm although dull outside of trading in Penna stock and the bonds. Activity in these securities seems to be entirely the result of an effort to scalp out a profit. Over a million dollars of bonds have been traded in thus far and about 30,000 shares stock. There is fairly good buying in U. P., Erie, Copper and D. H., rest of the market quiet and featureless except for the general strength. Houseman bought D. H. and M. M. bought Frisco.

M. & M.

I believe Erie and Rgs the best purchases on list.

J. G. MARSHALL.

There has been some selling of Sugar this morning by traders on shutting down of all sugar companies refineries in this city and vicinity except the Arbuckle plant. This is said to be partly due to large supplies and partly to clean and repair machinery and as a consequence they say there is not much in selling the stock on this.

M. & M.

New York, Jan. 31.—The weeks wind up with another intensely dull day but the impression prevails that the present apathy of the market is near an end, next week should witness a gradual revival of speculation and increased interest. Technically, the speculative situation remains bullish and holders of long stock need have no fear regarding future developments. There has been a fair demand from strong interests for the better class of securities all this week, undoubtedly in preparation for the revival for the better which is surely coming. It may require a little patience but that's one of the necessary virtues of a successful operator. Bank statement showed an increase in reserve of 1 1-2 millions and a loan expansion of 14 millions, being offset by deposits of over 18 1-2 millions.

After the publication of the statement prices eased off somewhat, but in no case were they more than fractional.

Chicago—Market was quiet to-day, prices keeping within a narrow range, around 77 cents for May wheat. Corn holds well around 45.9

ENGINEER MAKES HIS REPORT

Of the Work Done During the Year.

STREET AND SEWER WORK.

At last night's meeting of the Peterborough Town Council, Town Engineer Hay submitted his annual report, which was as follows:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit my fourth Annual Report as follows:—

The appropriation for Streets and Bridges for the year 1902 was $8,200.

Removal of Snow and Ice.

Owing to the frequent and heavy snow falls during the month of Jan., Feb. and March 1902, the cost of removal of snow opening of water courses and cutting of ice in creek, was heavy, this was also partly due to increased amounts paid snow plough contractors and increased wages. Total cost, $879.03.

Street Cleaning.

All streets within central district were cleaned once during the season and George, Water, Simcoe and Hunter in the business section were cleaned twice, material therefrom was deposited along the river front on George street at Town's End, on end of Simcoe street and in the Ravine on Water street at Edinburgh street.

In April a new street scraper was purchased from the Good Roads Machinery Co. was put into and found to work satisfactorily. The total cost of street cleaning including purchase of machines was $630.14.

General Repairs to Streets.

The following streets were graded water tabled and rolled.

Reid street, Brock to Murray street.
Kirk street, Rubidge to Reid street.
Elm street, Park street to foot of hill.
Cedar street, Park to Cambridge street
Crescent street, Lock to Haggart street.
Donegal street, Hunter to Brock street
Chambers street, Hunter to Brock street.
George street, Dublin to Smith street.
Sherbrooke street, Aylmer to Creek.

On the following streets depressions were levelled up with broken stone and rolled.

Water street, Simcoe to Brock street.
George street, Charlotte to Brock street.
Charlotte street, George to Aylmer street.
Simcoe street, George street to creek.
Hunter street, Water street to Otonabee Bridge.

Park street, Sherbrooke to King street
Water street, Antrim to ravine.
Aylmer street, McDonnel to London.
Sherbrooke street, Rubidge to Park street.

Crescent street, Lock to Haggart street.
Rubidge street, London to Edinburgh street.
Edinburgh street, George to Division street.
London street, Stewart to Reid street
Barnado Avenue, George street to Chemong railway.
Smith street, Benson to Aylmer street.

George street, McDonnel to Doubhn street.
Smith street, George to Water street.
Water street, Smith to Auburn Dam.

The gravel was laid from 4 to 8 inches deep and from 8 to 10 feet wide, delivered by contract at 40 cents per cubic yard.

In connection with general repairs to streets, all culverts, crossings, street and lane intersections were repaired or rebuilt where necessary, the weeds and grass alongside of streets were cut from time to time during the season.

Frequent disturbance of street surface for sewer connections, water and gas services, etc., entailed extra expense. In many instances these disturbances occurred immediately after the streets had been rolled, leaving unsightly mounds. This might be avoided to some extent if all sewer connections were laid to street line while the sewer is under construction.

Total cost of general repairs to streets was as follows.

Labour and teams	$1,385 77
Gravel	303 02
Broken stone	31 58
Repairs to tools and plant	56 58
Repairs and rebuilding culverts	216 89
Steam roller, repairs, fuel and supplies	50 75
Repairs to crossings and sidewalks	65 00
Cutting weeds	72 96
	$2,232 44

Road Making.

The following streets after being cleaned of mud were picked, graded and laid with broken stone and rolled.

Aylmer street — Brock to Perry, 4,590 feet; broken stone, 1,530 cubic yards, $1,891.09; labour, fuel, culverts, crossings, etc., $715.83; total cost, $2,606.97, which is 58 cents per lineal foot of road.

Perry street.—Aylmer to George, 880 feet; broken stone, 337 cubic yards, $490.70; labour, fuel, culverts crossings, etc., $105.46; total cost, $596.16 which is 69 cents per lineal foot of road.

Hunter street.—Water to Aylmer 1,020 feet; broken stone, 417 cubic yards $515.42; labour, fuel, etc., $140.88; total cost, $655.30; which is 65 cents per lineal foot of road.

Total cost of road making, $3,861.93.

On Aylmer and Perry streets the stone was laid 16 feet wide in general and full width at street intersections.

On Hunter street it was laid full width of street for whole length. The stone was laid from 4 to 6 inches deep generally.

The balance of the report will be published to-morrow.

Fenelon Plays the Culls This Evening.

BELLEVILLE BEAT PORT HOPE

London People Want Harry Poole Pardoned—Curling Notes of Interest.

HOCKEY.

TO-NIGHT'S GAME.

The double-header this evening should be well attended. The Fenelon Falls team are champions of the Trent Valley League, and have won the Stratton Cup for the past two years. They look like winners again this year, and the "Culls" will have their work cut out for them this evening. The league match will be preceded by an exhibition game between T.A.S. and the Peterborough Juniors. Mr. Jas. T. McCabe will referee both matches. The puck will be faced at 7.15 o'clock. The puck for the "Culls'" match will be faced at 8.30 o'clock.

The team for this evening's game with Fenelon Falls will be as follows: Comstock, McPherson, (Bank of Montreal,) A. W. McPherson, Thornton, Watson, Ferguson, and Robertson.

BELLEVILLE WON.

Belleville, Feb. 2. — In no hockey match ever played here was so much interest shown as that between the Port Hope team and the local men to-night, for it was possible that the championship of the district might depend on it. Belleville and Port Hope had both beaten the Peterboroughs, last year's champions, on their own ice and at home, but as Belleville had defeated Port Hope at home, and as the Peterboroughs presented a stronger team at home against Belleville than that which was beaten by Port Hope, the local men were strong favourites. The Port Hopes arrived at noon, accompanied by some 250 of their supporters, and some hundreds more arrived at six p.m., prepared to root for their team. The Belleville people gathered in force and the rink was crowed with an enthusiastic audience. The weather being mild, the ice was very heavy, and fine play was scarce. The game was one of the roughest ever seen here, and both sides were about equally to blame. Belleville scored the first and only goal made in the first half, after 15 minutes' play. They scored another two minutes after the face-off in the second half. Port Hope, playing desperately, got their only goal a few minutes later, and two minutes after Belleville scored their third. After some more very rough work, the home men scored again and time was called a few minutes afterwards. The crowd wildly cheered the champions of the district at the close. The referee had a great deal of work to do, but did it impartially. The teams and the scores were as follows:

Referee, E. H. Telfer, Collingwood; goal umpires, Jos. Hanley, Belleville, and J. R. Brown, Port Hope; timekeepers, Geo. Adams, Belleville, and W. J. Costello, Port Hope.

A RECEPTION.

The Ladies of St. Peter's T.A.S. are deserving of much praise for the interest they are displaying in their hockey team. The reception which they purpose tendering their hockey team on Wednesday night in the T.A.S. rooms on George street, promises to be as unique as it will be interesting. The ladies will superintend everything and this alone is sufficient guarantee of its success.

IMPERIALS COMING.

The people of Peterborough will have the opportunity of witnessing the first bank hockey match ever played in town on Saturday night next, when the Ontario Bank seven will play the Imperial Bank team of Toronto. The Imperials are members of the Toronto Senior Bank League. The game will commence at 8.30 o'clock sharp. The Peterborough team will be chosen from the following: Roy Armstrong, Harold Armstrong, A. A. Hollingshead, C. Blomfield, Sawers, Ferguson, Dumble, McFarlane and Trew, and it is quite true that the boys expect to win.

LINDSAY'S RINK.

The Lindsay Post says: — A large number of our citizens were at the station this morning to see Mr. Flavelle and his Winnipeg rink off for the West, where they will take part in the Winnipeg Bonspiel. Messrs. Flavelle, McIntosh, Little and McSweyn were kept busy for a time shaking hands with their numerous friends. As the train pulled out a hearty cheer was given, and the air was thick with waving brooms for a few minutes.

Miss Jessie Whitelaw, of Cobourg, and Miss Paton, of Lindsay, are in town, visiting with Mrs. P. Glover, Ashburnham.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

Last night Marks Bros. presented the play "The Two Orphans." It is a very emotional play and was well put on. Special mention might be given to Miss May A. Bell-Marks, as Louise, the blind orphan; she did full justice to her character. Mr. J. C. Connolly also took his part well. Mr. Milliard gave some clever work on the bicycle between acts. "Hulda, the Mountain Queen," is to be presented to-night.

Despaired of Being Cured.

Mrs. W. E. Jeffries, 44 Hicks avenue, Kingston, Ont., says: "I suffered agony with itching piles. In fact I don't believe that any person who has not had piles can realize what I endured. The first application of Dr. Chase's Ointment brought me relief, and it has since entirely cured me. I hope that this testimonial will be the means of bringing comfort to other sufferers by making known the great power of this ointment."

Our 20th Year

This is Our New Year's Day—Our Business New Year.

The Golden Lion enters on its 20th Anniversary. When a policy succeeds, its authors are usually pleased. This is our state of mind to-day.

Gratitude to our friends and patrons, who have helped us to accomplish what we have, is uppermost in our minds. We appreciate the patronage of our friends, and take pleasure in saying so.

A store, like a strong character, attains success by doing well whatever it undertakes—never countenancing a policy that will in any way create distrust; never allowing misrepresentations to creep into its advertisements nor behind its counters.

THE STORY AND THE STORE ALWAYS CORRESPOND HERE.

It is through strict adherence to this straightforward policy, as well as to the high character of our merchandise, that we attribute the continual increase in the Golden Lion's business.

We are preparing for a busy New Year. A little more steam will be turned on. There is room for improvement. The store system that was perfect last year needs examining regularly as an engineer examines mechanism. An eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, so it is the price of success in retailing. All our energies during 1903 will be devoted to improving the store system in every direction that experience has shown possible.

Our Winter Goods are now down to a pretty small compass, but we will continue to crowd them down still lower. Then for Spring.

NEW NEWS SERVICE.

Canadian Papers to Be Supplied With European Events.

Montreal, Que. Feb. 4.—An international News Agency, with headquarters in Brussels, sending British and Continental news to Canada, that has not been especially prepared for American readers, will be one of the enterprises of the year. This will, no doubt be good news for all the newspaper proprietors in the Dominion, who have, for years, had to contend against the Americanization of a great deal of the news coming to this country from British and Continental centres.

Some time ago Mr. Neils Gron, a Dane, took up this matter of an international news agency, and he has now reached a stage where he is able to announce that the first batch of news from the new bureau will be sent out from the Belgium capital the night of Dec. 31, 1903.

The capital of the new venture is £1,000,000, the Dominion of Canada becoming responsible for £40,000, or $200,000 Canadian money.

Mr. Gron has visited the newspaper centres of Canada, and has received especial encouragement in Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa. In fact, it is understood that the amount allotted to Canada has been largely underwritten.

TO STOP REBATES.

Bill Passed U.S. Senate For Regulating Transportation.

Washington, Feb. 4.—The Senate yesterday passed, without objection or discussion, the Elkins bill, to further regulate railroad transportation. Briefly, the bill imposes a fine not exceeding $20,000 for the giving of rebates on published freight rates, by a railroad, and the receiving of a rebate by any person, firm or corporation, is also subject to the same fine The Interstate Commerce Commission is authorized to bring proceedings in United States District Courts to inquire into alleged infractions of the provisions of the law, and to prosecute the cases there. The attendance of the witnesses and the production of books and papers relating to such transactions are also provided for.

U.S. Government Gave That to Owners of Animals Slaughtered.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Dr. D. E. Salmon, Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, who has returned here from Boston, where he superintended the fight against the foot and mouth disease, said yesterday that about 8,000 animals have been slaughtered in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Vermont and New Hampshire, and that the indemnity the Government has paid the owners aggregates over $100,000.

THE BYE-ELECTIONS.

Toronto, Feb. 4.—It is probable that the writs for the North York and Centre Bruce bye-elections will be issued in a few days, or as soon as the Judges' reports in connection with the disposal of the cases have been received. While no date has actually been fixed, it would not be surprising if polling day will be during the last week in February, perhaps on Thursday, the 26th.

Splendid Victory Won by Venezuelan Government Forces.

GEN. DUCHARME HAD 900 MEN

What the Allies Want—Their Attitude in Regard to Their Venezuelan Claims Explained—Want Exclusive Treatment Though Not Preference From Castro's Government—Blockade to Continue Yet.

Caracas, Feb. 4.—The Government troops, under Gen. Alcantara, a graduate from West Point, have defeated a force of rebels numbering 900, under the revolutionary general, Ducharme, on the Camatague River (about 50 miles south of Caracas). The rebels were routed, their ammunition and 250 prisoners being captured. On the receipt of the news of the victory, prices on the stock exchange here jumped four points.

Explanation From the Allies.

London, Feb. 4.—Reuter's Telegram Company says it is officially informed that the attitude of the allies regarding the so-called priority claims against Venezuela has been misinterpreted, thus increasing complications. It is explained that the allies do not insist on the precedence of their claims over others, but insist that they shall be regarded as separate, to be dealt with direct between themselves and Venezuela. Until a specific arrangement is made for the satisfaction of their claims, they are determined to continue the blockade.

London, Feb. 4.—The illness of another Minister was announced yesterday morning, thus adding to the already unheard of demoralized condition of the Cabinet. The Earl of Selborne, first lord of the admiralty, is sick with acute rheumatism, and has cancelled all engagements.

Premier Balfour and Lord Lansdowne, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, are still ill, while Secretary for War Brodrick is abroad.

London, Feb. 4.—The first Cabinet meeting since the prorogation of Parliament has been summoned for Feb. 5. Other meetings have been arranged for Feb. 7 and for next week. The principal business discussed will be the arrangement of the Legislative program for the forthcoming session, commencing Feb. 17.

THE KING HAS GRIPPE.

Progress Toward Recovery Considered Quite Satisfactory.

London, Feb. 4.—King Edward who is suffering from a mild attack of influenza, passed a good night, and is making favorable progress towards recovery. His Majesty's proposed visit to the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire at Chatsworth has been indefinitely postponed, however.

Sir Dighton Probyn, King Edward's equerry, officially notified the Mayor of Windsor at 11 o'clock yesterday morning that His Majesty was progressing satisfactorily.

Sir Francis Laking, the King's physician, confirmed the statement that the King had a slight attack of influenza. He said His Majesty's progress was quite satisfactory.

Late last night Baron Knollys informed inquirers at Windsor Castle that the King's progress was quite satisfactory.

YOUNG MEN'S GUILD.

The Young Men's Guild of St. Andrew's church, held their regular monthly meeting last night in St. Andrew's church, Mr. W. Campbell, the president, in the chair.

After all the business had been discussed and transacted Rev. J. G. Potter read a delightfully paper on the "Industrial Invasion of Canada." The paper was a very clever one, full of thought and wisdom. After the paper had been read the members amused themselves discussing or debating the different points.

There was a very large attendance, which it is hoped will continue to remain as large at the other meetings each month. After a very pleasant evening the Guild broke up.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

Last night Marks Bros. presented the beautiful play entitled "Hulda, the Mountain Queen." It was well put on, and met with an enthusiastic reception by a large audience. Full of comedy, brisk and stirring, it kept the audience in an uproar continually. Miss Marks as "Hulda" rendered her part well, also Mr. J. C. Connolly in the role of "George Traynor" was well received. The specialties were of the best. Mr. Will Milliard as "Hermann Sweitzer" gave some fine trick riding on his bicycle, which was received with great applause. Mr. Frank Gregory, with his hoops, delighted the audience with some clever work. Marks Bros. will present "Under Two Flags" to-night. Marks Bros. appear to be more popular than ever and are always sure of big houses in Peterborough.

Mr. R. H. Bradburn has been unable to procure a date for the appearance here of the Boston Ladies' Symphony Orchestra.

ABOUT THE MARCONI SYSTEM

Interesting Item in Insurance and Financial Chronicle.

The Invention Appears so Marvellous as to Approach Super-Human.

To those who have not given some attention to the study of one or more of the imponderable agents (for instance, sound, light, heat or electricity) Mr. Marconi's invention of wireless telegraphy appears so marvellous as to approach in character the the supernatural, or the incredible. Yet a few moments' consideration will convince any intelligent man that he has been familiar from infancy with phenomena far more mysterious, therefore more wonderful, therefore more incredible, than those forces which Mr. Marconi has disciplined and harnessed for the service of mankind. To the average man, Mr. Marconi's splendid invention or discovery (it partakes of the nature of both) seems the climax of scientific wizardry. To those who have given any attention to the natural phenomena above referred to, it will appear that he has but introduced us to the threshold of an area of scientific discovery more wonderful than the world has seen.

What does Mr. Marconi claim to have invented? An apparatus by the use of which, upon depressing a key upon this side of the Atlantic a certain appreciable effect is produced upon another apparatus on the ocean without any wire or other artificial connection between the two. Is that unthinkable? All the years of our lives we have been enjoying the light and heat of the sun which has been transmitted from a varying distance, averaging 95,000,000 miles, without the use of a wire. For countless ages the light has been travelling towards our planet at the rate of 186,000 miles per second. We are so familiar with the phenomenon that we see nothing in it to wonder at. There was a time, not many years ago, when the corpuscular theory of light prevailed among scientific men; probably it still prevails among non-scientific men. Light was supposed to be a material substance fired out of the sun, like shot out of a gun. Fancy these atomic bullets travelling 95,000,000 miles at 186,000 miles per second, then going through window glass without breaking it or impinging on the human eye without hurting it!

So to-day the popular impression about wireless telegraphy is that Mr. Marconi hurls something across the Atlantic, as a golf ball or a canon ball is driven, and there seems to be scepticism about his being able to hit the target every time. Most people to-day, we imagine, regard electricity as a material substance; being greatly encouraged in this view by the unfortunate nomenclature of electric science. We speak of "the electric fluid," and "the current of electricity." What wonder if the average man thinks of electricity as some mysterious kind of matter which travels at the rate of 200,000 miles per second through a solid copper wire, like water travels (more slowly) through a lead pipe.

As a preliminary to obtaining the faintest idea of the nature of wireless telegraphy we must entirely discard the material theory of electricity, just as to intelligently appreciate the phenomenon of light, we must get rid of the corpuscular theory. There are many interesting and instructive analogies in the phenomena of sound, light and electricity. The vibratory or undulatory theory of light now generally accepted supposes the existence of a substance pervading the whole universe—the ether. The phenomenon we call light is essentially an undulation, a vibration, or wave motion of the ether. In other words, it is not matter, but a condition of matter. So with sound, which is a wave motion of the air. In like manner electricity may safely be regarded not as a material substance in itself, but as a condition of matter. What is the nature of the matter affected we do not presume to say; it may be indentical with the inter-planetary ether.

EFFECTS OF REVIVALS.

(Kingston Whig.)

The question of revivals comes up for consideration. Are they of special or marked advantage? Are men man and women "converted" by hundreds in the space of a month? It is doubtful. Conversion is not a sudden process. The life of the individual is not altered or amended in a moment. The mind may be quickly affected. There may come, like a flash of light, the conviction that determines the future course of the person. But the departure from one condition of things to another, from what is known to be wrong to what is conceived to be right, is gradually accomplished. Time and circumstance test the quality of the change, and they sometimes demonstrate that it was very superficial. Yet the resorts of the church to stimulate the people religiously are fruitful of much good. The methods of reaching the results vary. They may partake of revivals or missions. The object aimed at is the toning up of the moral system, and clergymen and laymen seem to feel the need of this. Thus the special services which are now proceeding in this city, and affecting four congregations, have an inspiring effect. There will no doubt be a manifestation of religious fervour, and of those virtues that are the usual outcome of a zealous and devoted life.

CONSOLIDATIONS.

(Exchange.)

The doctrine that in business success there are three necessary elements, ability labour and capital, is doubtless correct. Without ability the capital will soon be dissipated. Without labour it is impotent. The coal strike is an illustration of this. The operators had abundance of capital. But without the men they could do nothing and thus the entire country is suffering from lack of the necessary fuel. For if labour is unfairly treated it will strike. If ability is not recognized it will go elsewhere. And if capital does not get its fair share of the profits it will be withdrawn. Thus a combination of the three is imperative if success is to be achieved; for the public will not long permit their welfare to be put in peril by the selfish organization of one class or element in business against another.

Yet consolidations have not always done harm. If they have raised prices in some instances they have also raised, established and maintained standards for weight and quality of goods and in many cases have furnished the trade with a better article for the money paid than most of the individual manufacturers gave in the old days. The reason for this is not hard to find. The pecuniary benefits which formerly accrued to the individual manufacturer from giving short count, short weights and low grade goods, would not now accrue to the man in active management. The large corporation or consolidation deals with the trade as a whole on a more equitable basis than the individual manufacturer did prior to the consolidation, and there is less money made by consolidations to-day by taking advantage of the buyer's ignorance than before. Of course this is not the case with every consolidation. But, taking the general average into consideration, the combined firms have not put prices up on their customers and they have the advantage of quoting the one price to all buyers purchasing under like conditions and in like quantities. Of course goods are not sold at the one figure to every buyer. Conditions must be considered which means the credit of the purchaser and the quantity of goods bought (for quantity determines the cost of production;) and the merchant who buys the quantity which enables the manufacturer to reduce the cost is the one to whom part of that saving belongs. But on the whole the consolidations have dealt very fairly with the public. There have been exceptions—notably the Standard Oil Company and the Coal Association—but these only prove the rule. On the whole prices have not been advanced by the consolidations and in many cases they are lower than when the market was supplied by individual manufacturers.

ARMSTRONG VERSUS DUFF.

Friendly Controversary on Good Roads for Otonabee.

Mr. Armstrong's Reply to Mr. Duff—A Matter of Important Local Interest.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — It is with pleasure I reply to the second article written to the Review, by a Ratepayer, concerning Otonabee highways, for the reason that he now allows himself to be known, and as Mr. Duff is a warm personal friend of myself, a successful grain and general merchant at Indian River, and a very estimable gentleman, who can have no personal interest in the matter, only what he believes to be his duty as a public spirited citizen.

Again, Mr. Duff and myself agree on several points, viz.,

1. "That the Norwood road has the heaviest traffic of any road in the township."

2. "That the proposed road would give us a short cut to Peterborough."

Now, Mr. Duff, that statement was not made in my former letter, but it is true, and I am glad you mentioned it.

3. "It is a 'pet' scheme of Mr. Armstrong's."

Exactly, and so is it a pet scheme, and has been for a great number of years with a very large number of our most intelligent ratepayers, so I am in good company.

4. "He states that it will be a 'fancy' road."

I am very much pleased that Mr. Duff gives it this name, because it fits exactly. In discussing this road I have often considered what name we should give it, but now Mr. Duff has settled that question, so after it is built it shall be known as the Fancy Road.

5. If Mr. Duff's statements are correct about Cardwell's hill, and I presume they are, everybody will agree with him that it was a very foolish thing to spend about four hundred dollars to make a worse road than they had before. It simply goes to uphold my contention that it is an unwise thing to attempt to put a road over a hill, if a level road can be found around it.

Then in a number of points we do not agree, but I will only discuss one of them—his catalogue of roads that have more traffic than the Fancy Road will have.

Mr. Duff started out to give the public information about the roads of Otonabee, but has ended up by giving opinions which are not even his own, because a man of his intelligence ought to be able to give better opinions. I challenged Mr. Duff, or anybody else, to name six miles of road anywhere in Otonabee that would be anywhere as near as great a benefit to one-half as many ratepayers of Otonabee, and at the same time would be used by one-tenth as many ratepayers of the county, from outside the township, as six miles of stone road from the Locks bridge to the sixth line, would be.

There are three ways of proving this matter:

1. Place a man on each road for a week and count the rigs as they pass.

2. Take the assessment rolls and find out what ratepayers are within easiest reach of each road.

3. Take the number of 100-acre lots within reach of each leading road mentioned.

I am agreeable to judge by any method, but the latter method is the fairest because the land is, and must continue to be the basis of production, which creates traffic.

Otonabee has in round numbers six hundred and forty 100-acre lots

We will take the roads in the order in which Mr. Duff mentioned them:—

Keene Road past Mr. Mathers and up the 11th line to Mr. Brunham's place, where it joins the Fancy Road, has 185 lots tributary to it with not a single county ratepayer using it. By the Cold Springs Road, I presume he means the road leading to Wallace's Point Bridge. This road, counting all the broken land along the river has but 95 lots to draw from, and not a single county ratepayer, besides those two roads are good roads, and to improve them could not be as great a benefit as the building of the Fancy Road would be.

The road past Indian River station is not six miles long, as a leading road, but only two miles, and besides in recent years it has had a great deal of money spent on it.

The road over Hanlon's hill, which is the present Norwood road, has a possible 284 lots tributary to it, but as a matter of fact, a number of people do not use it because of its hills, but seek other roads into Peterborough.

When the Fancy Road is built, the Hanlon Road can only have a possible 60 lots to draw from.

Now, for the Fancy Road. The new part would be the nearest, the easiest and best road to Peterborough for the people of 253 lots. This is what Mr. Duff terms a "few neighbours." Quite a few, is it not? While from Wood's cheese factory to where the Keene Road joins it, 62 lots more would be benefitted, and then the Keene road would add its traffic from 185 lots, making a grand total of 500 lots, the owners of which could use this road every time they went to Peterborough. Add to this the very large traffic that is now taking place from Asphodel, and further east, hauling oats to the Cereal Company, and you can easily see what an immense traffic the Fancy Road would have, and that not one of the roads mentioned has nearly half the township traffic, to say nothing of the way it would benefit the east of the county.

Croup and Bronchitis

Are usually diseases of childhood and are the dread of every mother's heart. Towards night the hoarseness comes and the hollow, croupy chest cough gives warning of troubles that are

SUDDEN AND DREADFULLY FATAL

In results and can only be cured by prompt and thorough treatment.

MRS. ILER SAVED HER BOY'S LIFE

When baby awakens at night with the dry, harsh, croupy cough it strikes terror to mother's heart, for she knows that unless she can bring relief to the child suffocation may soon end all suffering. In most cases there is no time to send for the doctor or even to go for medicine, and hence the wisdom of keeping at hand a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, mother's favorite remedy for croup, bronchitis, whooping cough and all forms of throat and lung troubles.

BABY ILER

While bronchitis may not be so sudden and fatal in results as croup it tends to become chronic and appear again and again until the bronchial tubes and lungs become diseased and invite consumption or pneumonia.

MRS. EUGENE ILER, King St., Truro, N.S., states:—"From an infant one of my children was troubled with bronchitis, and the least cold would aggravate the trouble. We could not get anything to help him and were often greatly alarmed. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine as a treatment for bronchitis we used it, and are glad to state that it effected a complete cure. If any of the children take a cold or cough I give this medicine, and have never known it to fail to bring relief.

"I was troubled a great deal from sick headaches caused by indigestion, and was cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I have great faith in Dr. Chase's Remedies and can recommend them to others."

Mr. Wm. McGee, 49 Wright Ave., Toronto, states:—"There is no remedy in my opinion that can act more promptly than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It cured my son of croup, absolutely, in one night. We gave him a dose when he was black in the face with choking. It gave him instant relief. During the night he took several doses and in the morning woke up bright, perfectly well, and cheerful. I must say it is a wonderful medicine."

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine

Is not a mere cough mixture but a thorough and far-reaching treatment which allays inflammation of the respiratory organs, aids expectoration, loosens the cough and absolutely cures colds and similar ailments. On account of its enormous sale Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine

A NORTH YORK RALLY

Stalwart Liberals Renominated Hon. E. J. Davis.

A NEWMARKET GATHERING.

Premier Ross Reviews the Conference at Ottawa Which Asked For Increased Subsidies From the Dominion—The Niagara Power Question — No Government Plant—Mr. Davis' Capital Speech.

Newmarket, Feb. 4.—A magnificent gathering of North York Liberals yesterday unanimously renominated for the coming bye-election the Hon. E. J. Davis, the riding's representative in the Legislature for the past fifteen years. The celebration was jointly a nominating convention and mass meeting, and was but another of those enthusiastic, inspiring assemblies of Liberals which North York can rally on occasion in honor of popular candidates and popular leaders. The town hall was jammed with people, hundreds crowding into the aisles and filling the stairways to the street, and many being turned away.

Besides Mr. Davis, who accepted the nomination in a capital speech, there were addresses by Premier Ross and Sir William Mulock. The Premier, who was in fine fighting vein, made some excellent general hits, and then proceeded to discuss in particular two topics of recent interest. He reviewed the conference at Ottawa respecting Provincial subsidies, and showed how Ontario could advantageously spend what she would be entitled to on the basis of her population. He also referred at some length to the Niagara Power question. He stated that it would be impossible for the Government to establish a plant at the Province's expense, to distribute power to more than a small area, and even then at prices which would increase with every additional mile of transmission. In view of this, Mr. Ross said he saw no objection to Toronto generating and distributing power for its own use, provided the assent of the ratepayers was obtained, but he objected to the terms of Mr. Crawford's bill of last session, as it gave Toronto a monopoly and the sole power to fix the price for other municipalities as well.

Sir William Mulock, who arrived from Bracebridge shortly before 4.30 and was scarcely in the hall before his coat was off, delivered a short fighting speech, urging the Liberals to active work.

THAT OLD PAIN AGAIN.

Gnawing Piercing Pains That Almost Make You Scream.

It is your old enemy, rheumatism, come again with the winter to torture you. These pains, remember, are caused by bad blood, you may ease them by rubbing with liniments and outward lotions, but cannot get rid of them in that way. Rheumatism is caused by bad blood and the only certain way to drive it out of the system, is to enrich your blood by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. There is no case of rheumatism Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will not cure if given a fair trial. By making new rich, red blood and strengthening the nerves they strike at the very root of such diseases as rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago. We give one case out of thousands to prove the truth of this statement. Mr. A. G. Lacombe, Sorel, Que., says:—"For five years I was a victim to the tortures of rheumatism. At times the pains in my knees, shoulders and hips were almost past endurance. Often I could not dress myself without assistance. I tried many remedies but I never got more than temporary relief until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I used altogether eight boxes, and since taking them I have not had a twinge of the trouble, and I feel better in every way than I did for years before. I would strongly advise every rheumatic sufferer to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial." Remember that only the genuine pills will cure—imitations can't cure, therefore see that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" is found on the wrapper around every box. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent post paid at 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

In a German periodical a teacher named Boer reports that he has found fully one-half of the boys in the schools examined by him addicted to habitual smoking, none of them being over thirteen years old.

AT OSGOODE HALL.

Court of Appeal Will Have to Decide the Legality of Christian Science—Roy Lewis' Death.

Toronto, Feb. 4.—At Osgoode Hall yesterday James Henry Lewis appealed against his conviction on a charge of manslaughter arising out of the death of his child, Roy Lewis, in August, 1901, who was given Christian Science treatment for his ailment in the place of medical attendance. The indictment charged that Lewis had unlawfully and without lawful excuse neglected to provide his child with "necessaries," which he was legally bound to do by virtue of a provision in the Criminal Code. At the trial Chief Justice Falconbridge reserved three questions for the opinion of the Court of Appeal, after having decided that medicines came under the head of "necessaries." These questions are:

1. Was there sufficient evidence to warrant the conviction?
2. Was the direction to the jury that the word necessaries as used in the Criminal Code included medicine and medical treatment correct; and
3. Was the direction that the evidence as to Christian Science cures had no bearing on the case except as showing good faith in the prisoner, a proper direction?

The questions will be considered.

EACH GOT ONE YEAR.

Sentence Passed Upon St. Thomas Personators—Investigation at Pembroke.

St. Thomas, Feb. 4.—Judge Bell of Chatham yesterday pronounced sentence in the three cases of personation, and ballot stuffing committed here on Dec. 4th, in the referendum campaign.

Robt. Foster, for impersonation, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment in jail, without hard labor, and a fine of $400.

None of the men are in the city.

Six Months at Pembroke.

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—The investigation into the alleged personation in behalf of the liquor interests at the referendum on the Liquor Act, December 4th, was commenced yesterday afternoon before Judge Deacon, of Pembroke. As far as can be learned two charges have been laid, one of which is against a veterinary surgeon, who pleads that he thought he had a vote in every ward in which he owned property.

O. Lefebvre, Nelson street, was convicted and sentenced to six months in jail and fined $100. J. B. Hollingsworth, veterinary surgeon, pleaded guilty to voting twice on his own name. The judge reserved sentance until a decision is handed out by the High Court on a similar case in Western Ontario.

When Philadelphia Led.

At the beginning of the nineteenth century there were sixteen cities in the country which had a population of more than 4,000. Philadelphia was first in the list, with 69,000, with New York a close second, while Baltimore had taken third place from Boston by 26,000 to 25,000.

William Redmond, M.P., Mr. Reddy, M.P., and John Roche, M.P., Have Already Been Liberated—Crimes' Act Proclamations in Thirteen Districts Revoked—A Lively Interview With Mr. Redmond.

Dublin, Feb. 4.—The Official Gazette announced yesterday that the proclamation issued last year, placing 13 districts in Ireland under the Crimes Act, and maintaining summary jurisdiction by the magistrates, is revoked.

The relaxation of the Crimes Act in Ireland still leaves sections of the act in force, providing for the employment of special juries and a change of venue, whilst in Sligo, Tipperary and Clare Counties no relaxation has been made, and the magistrates will still have the power of summary jurisdiction.

The Government has ordered the release of Nationalist Member of Parliament Reddy from Tullamore jail. Mr. Reddy's sentence under the Crimes Act would not expire until next March.

William Redmond, M. P., who was sentenced last year to six months' imprisonment because he refused to give bail in $1,000 for his future good behavior as the result of an alleged incendiary speech at Wexford, and who was arrested at Kingstown and taken to Kilmainham jail, Nov. 4, was released yesterday morning, although he had only served half his term.

In an interview, Redmond said: "I do not know why I am released, but I certainly do not thank the Government, who have kept me in jail for three months for really nothing."

Mr. Redmond added that he stood by every word of the speech, for making which he was imprisoned, and said there will be no peace in Ireland until Dublin Castle shall have been cleared out from top to bottom.

Later in the day the Irish member, John Roche, was liberated from Galway jail. Mr. Roche was sentenced September 30 to six months' imprisonment with hard labor under the Crimes Act for inciting boycott of land owners.

SHE WAS PICKING COAL.

Little Daughter of Mrs. Lucy Smith, Brantford, Killed on G.T.R.

Brantford, Feb. 4.—At 1.30 yesterday afternoon the ten-year-old daughter of Mrs. Lucy Smith of 166 George street was run over and killed by a freight car at the Grand Trunk station. She was engaged in picking up coal from the track, and attempted to run under a car which was standing on the track. At the same moment, however, an engine shunted the car, and the unfortunate girl was knocked down and run over, the wheels passing over her, completely crushing her head. An inquest will be held to-day.

RULERS OF THE WORLD.

Meat Eating Nations are the Leaders in Every Branch of Human Achievements.

The ruling nations of the world are meat eaters, and history records that they always have been.

Vegetarians and food cranks may explain this in any way they please, but the facts remain that the Americans, English, French, Russians and Germans, are meat eating nations, and they are also the most energetic and most progressive.

The principal food of the heroic Boer soldier known as Biltong, is a sort of dried beef, affording a great deal of nourishment in a highly concentrated form.

The weak races of people are the rice eating Chinese, Hindoos and Siamese, regarded since the dawn of history as non-productive, superstitious, and inferior physically and mentally to the meat eating nations who dominate them.

The structure of the teeth plainly indicate that human beings should subsist upon a variety of food, meats, fruits and grains, and it is unhygienic to confine one's diet to any one of those classes to the exclusion of another.

Meat is the most concentrated and most easily digested of foods, but our manner of living is often so unnatural that the digestive organs refuse to properly digest, meat, eggs and similar nutritious and wholesome food, but it is not because such food is unwholesome, but the real reason that the stomach lacks from disease or weakness some necessary digestive element; hence arising indigestion, and later on chronic dyspepsia.

Nervous people should eat plenty of meat; convalescents should make meat the principal food; hard working people have to do so, and brain workers and office men not so much meat, but at least once a day, and to insure its perfect digestion one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets should be taken after each meal, because they supply the peptones, diastase and fruit acids, lacking in every case of stomach trouble.

Nervous dyspepsia, catarrh of the stomach, gas and acidity are only different names for indigestion, the failure to digest wholesome food, and the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cures them all because by affording perfect digestion the stomach has a chance to rest and recover its natural tone and vigour.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the real, household medicine; it is as safe and pleasant for the stomach ache of the baby as it is for the imperfect digestion of its grand sire.

They are not a cathartic but a digestive, and no pill habit can ever follow their use; the only habit that Stuart's Tablets induce is the habit of good digestion and consequently good health.

"Do you mean to say that you actually sell Winter Overcoats and Suits just now at less than the manufacturers' regular price?"

Certainly we do. Why? Because it pays better than to carry them over to next winter.

This is the time of the year when we take account of stock on hand and clear shelves and counters of surplus goods. We never remember a time when you could get such good value for your money—never!

"Less than cost?"—yes, a good deal less than cost, in some cases. We could easily quote a long list to show you that a dollar spent at Gough's will do the duty of two or more on ordinary occasions.

Luxuries of the Barber Shop.

Mr. Chas. LeGros has returned from a nine days' successful trip through the principal cities of Ontario and Quebec booking orders for his wholesale cigar business. While in Montreal he saw the compressed air barbers' spraying aparatus in use in the Windsor, and other large first-class barber shops of the city. Right in line with his usual enterprise, Mr. LeGros decided to be "in the band waggon," and has already installed this latest luxury in his tony tonsorial parlours on George street. The compressed air is used for spraying the perfumes, bay rum, witchhazel; drying the face, after shaving; drying the hair after a shampoo; blowing away the loose hair after a cut. It gives the most exquisite finishing touches, and is highly appreciated by the customer. It's a trade winner.

SUCCESSFUL CAREER.

Mr. Shortly's Business in a Grand Condition. After a Work of 30 Years.

The every-day passer-by must have noticed the fine display of new spring goods, and the number of incandescent lights, which show up to advantage the stock in the store window of Mr. S. Shortly, George street.

The store has just been transformed in appearance by the painter and decorator, but in appearance only, for the class of goods stocked by Mr. Shortly has always been of the best, and could not be transformed for the better.

Mr. Shortly is a native of Montreal, and came to Peterborough thirty-three years ago, and engaged as an apprentice in harness making, and its attendant industries. Shortly afterwards he engaged in business for himself, and it was not long before his profits went up and his expenses kept down. By persevering in his trade Mr. Shortly at length established an excellent business house, which is invariably the reward of those who continually "stick" to the same trade.

Peterborough has a great future before her, as Mr. Shortly saw after only a short time in the town, and as she has not nearly reached her zenith as yet, many business men, who persevere as did Mr. Shortly, will share with Peterborough her continued prosperity.

THE "CULLS" DEFEATED BY FENELON.

Great Game in Brock Street Rink Last Night.

JUNIOR GAME INTERESTING

The Youngsters Managed to Tie Trinity College School—Lots of Fun for all.

There were big doings at the Brock street rink last night, and the people who attended the double header certainly got their money's worth. A double header was a novel feature in hockey circles in Peterborough, but even this fact did not prove a sufficient drawing card for a large attendance. The first game was between T.C.S. of Port Hope and the Peterborough juniors. The game commenced at 7.15 o'clock sharp, with Secretary-Treasurer-Cover Point McPherson turning the crank. The game became somewhat exciting in the second half, and wound up by a tie, each side having scored 5 goals. This was great satisfaction for the juniors and for the townspeople in general. It was acually the nearest a Peterborough team, barring the T. V. H. L. T.A.C. team, came to winning a match this winter. For their heroic efforts to save the one time exaulted position the Peterborough Club held in the hockey world, from complete destruction, the boys were taken up to their dressing room, sponged, rubbed and groomed and given fruit and other delicacies, consistent with the diet prescribed for them during their period of training. The juniors were then given cushioned seats in the gallery and chaperoned by Ed. Dillon were permitted to watch their big brothers carry, or rather attempt to carry the Peterborough colours to victory.

THE SECOND GAME.

But it was the second match which aroused all the interest. The "Culls" of Peterborough were to do one better than the juniors. They were to capture the scalps of the Fenelon Falls aggregation, and Secretary-Treasurer McPherson intends issuing a statement to-morrow explaining how it was——not done. The "Culls" fought hard. They had untold energy, and untold encouragement. The McPherson Twins stayed together as only brothers can cling, and it was only the stone wall defense of the team that warded off complete disaster. There were exciting periods throughout, and the concussion that followed the head-on collision between cover point McPherson and a Fenelon man, blew down the goal nets and stopped the watches of the timekeepers. Another painful incident was when "Tic" Thornton collapsed. A physician was not in attendance, and umpire Kenner slid out the back door to the nearest "vet," but the services of a doctor of any kind were not required. "Tic's" loss of vitality was due to the nervous strain throughout the second half more than the energy he put in the game. "Watty" Watson and Graham Ferguson, were the two "Colts" of the aggregation and were reat favourites with the young ladies. They play beautiful grand stand games and were continually tripping on the huge bouquets that were thrown at them from the benches. Robertson said nothing, but sawed, or rather chopped wood, but Jack Comstock, who is apologizing to the public for being in such company played a splendid game and made many hot and difficult stops. His consideration for the remaining six members of the "Culls" is shown by the offer he made of the ambulance to convey them to their respective homes. The boys gratefully declined the offer and slept in the rink sooner than be disturbed by being placed in any conveyance.

HOW IT WAS.

The most remarkable feature of the war dance was the fact that it required 10 minutes overtime to decide the winner. It was at this period that the excitement rose so high. There was a look of anguish on Cover Point McPherson's face, a look of sickness on the face of "Tick" Thornton and the enthusiasm can only be likened unto that which attended the return of the Jews from Babylonish captivity. Finally Beateau of the Fenelon team made a pretty rush up the ice and then he shot on the nets. Umpire Kenner's knuckles were heard to strike against the iron cross beam twenty feet above. Fenelon had scored, they had won the game and the championship of the western district of the Trent Valley League, whilst the Peterborough "Culls" consoled themselves in the thought that the next best thing to victory is a gallant defeat. Cover Point McPherson sat down on the ice and rested, and the Bank of Montreal staff fanned their two representatives with brooms and snow shovels, whilst Robertson climbed up over the beams in the dressing room.

THE FENELON TEAM.

The visitors are a fine looking lot of chaps. They are good skaters, heavy checkers, but are poor shooters. They have a yellow and black striped uniform, that makes them resemble a septette of convicts. They have won the Trent Valley championship for three years in succession, but they came very nearly having their colours lowered last night by the "Culls" of Peterborough. Hats off to the "Culls!" that mighty organization that nobody knew until last night, but that will live in the memory of all who were present for the unique style of hockey they displayed up last night.

The teams for the two matches were as follows:

Referee, A. W. McPherson.

Referee, James T. McCabe.

As this is the regular meeting night of Court Peterborough, a short business meeting will be held, after which refreshments will be served, and a programme of songs, readings and short addresses will be run off. Last Night's Dance.

Last night was the occasion of the regular fortnightly dance of the "Never Learn Club." The dance was held in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, a good attendance of members being present at the merry-making. A very pleasant time was spent by all present, and it is hoped that the next dance, which will take place on Tuesday, February 17th, will be as well attended and pleasant.

GENERALLY SPEAKING

THERE HAS BEEN A GOOD, or at least a great, deal of controversy in the Examiner recently regarding a new name for this town. While most persons seem to think that the present name is good enough, yet if a change is to be made and a fitting substitute is required, it has been furnished accidentally from a foreign source. The Examiner has received from Duluth, Wis., U.S.A., a letter, addressed as follows: — "Peterdoure." Now isn't that neat? The bringing in of "douro" at the end is a delicate recognition of the township where a large number of Sir Peter Robinson's immigrants settled. But it is a small matter what name the future city united with Ashburnham bears. The chief point is to live up to whatever name we bear and to make the city it represents, the best in its class in the Dominion. Have a city where all will pull together for the glory and advancement of the town.

ONE OF THE FIRST considerations is to keep up our reputation for hospitality, which seems at present to be in some peril. We "did ourselves proud" in entertaining the visiting Scotch curlers. But some of the delegates to the Y.M.C.A. Convention seem to be in danger of being left out in the cold. The local Y.M.C.A. management announced last night that there were about fifty delegates unprovided with homes.

WE GAVE the Scotchmen hearty hospitality. That was right, even perhaps to the extent of using $150 of the people's money for the purpose—we gave the town a good name and "a good name is," not only, "better than riches," but in the case of Peterborough, is likely to bring "riches," in some form or other to the town.

BUT WHEN we come to the comparative merits in regard to the future of the town, of curling and the Y.M.C.A., the balance seems to be largely in favour of the latter. Curling is a capital, healthy, square sport, free from the vice of gambling, which is sometimes associated with other sports. The most straight-laced can curl without losing moral caste. But without cant, Y.M.C.A. work has an important bearing upon the future of our citizenship.

IF BOYS GET the right "steer" in their youth — if they get the physical development, and sport, which every boy craves and should have—in a healthy moral atmosphere, and in wholesome moral surroundings — if they heed the lessons they learn, or, rather, absorb, they must make better citizens when they grow up. There is a business side to the matter. Employees in shops and factories are better for connection with the Y.M.C.A. They are protected from the temptations that beset youths in every town and, yielded to, make them unsatisfactory and unfaithful employees. Some corporations value membership so highly that they supply their staffs with season tickets. The influence of the Y.M.C.A. is for good, and should be so recognized by our citizens. It should be recognized that bodily improvement and material enjoyment are not the summum bonum — that life is not "all beer and skittles," but that we have a higher nature, whose claims to consideration have not only far-reaching influences, but involve important material benefits.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH enters upon the year's work in the right spirit. The bringing of Dr. Bryce, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, to set the pace of the local board, in the right direction for the year, is a wise action. There is abundant work for our Board of Health, and the work will be the ebtter done by adopting, upon expert advice, a definite programme to act upon. Nothing is more important than the public health. No one is better qualified by experience and general knowledge than Dr. Bryce to give the local Board an impetus in the right direction. The Provincial Secretary's Department is to be credited with a gratifying interest in the town's welfare by so promptly acceding to the Board's request in sending down Dr. Bryce to give valuable counsel.

THE TOWN COUNCIL is also to be congratulated in striking an energetic and enterprising pace. Among other things, the prominence given the annexation of Ashburnham and Peterborough, is noteworthy. Whatever objection may be urged to the proposition, it is unquestionable that city standing will give Peterborough what she wants, and which cannot be got while she remains a town. By an unwritten law of the red tape department of the Dominion Government, the boon of a city postal delivery, and of a correspondent of the Labour Gazette, are only accorded to cities. The result is that so-called cities, inferior in population and industrial importance, and in almost every other respect, to this town, have the conveniences mentioned, simply, perhaps, because they are cities by name, while Peterborough, a town in name, and a city in fact, is deprived of them.

The Other Half

Half the children in the world actually need Scott's Emulsion. The other half would be benefitted by it. A goodly portion of the latter half have already been helped by Scott's Emulsion. They have been made comfortable and well. They have been supplied with the element of fat that their bodies are constantly in need of. Scott's Emulsion has done even more for them; it has furnished nourishment which their ordinary food has not supplied.

The lack of proper nourishment in a child's food is responsible for its failure to thrive and grow as it should. So long as the important elements of nourishment are not contained in the child's food it will remain thin and lack the plumpness and glow of youth that marks the properly fed child.

What can be done for such children? Give them Scott's Emulsion. It is so palatable and acceptable that children like it. Cream of cod liver oil it could be called, for it resembles cream very closely. Moreover, being predigested, Scott's Emulsion enters the system quickly and with least tax upon the stomach. The delicate digestive organs of a backward child accept and retain Scott's Emulsion when other forms of nourishment are repulsive. It makes up the short-comings of a child's ordinary food and furnishes nourishment and fat in proper proportions and in the proper way.

So-called wines, cordials and extracts of cod liver oil should always be avoided. No matter what the claims may be, they do not contain the value of the whole oil, and hence are worthless in cases where a reliable cod liver oil preparation is necessary. Their sole purpose is to taste nice, and the use of alcohol and strong extracts makes them really harmful in many cases. Scott's Emulsion contains the whole oil carefully prepared, palatably presented, and is a safe and reliable preparation.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

A POINTED REFUSAL.

Venezuela Sends Ultimatum to the Allied Powers.

CANNOT ACCEPT THE TERMS

Situation Is Serious—Mr. Bowen Opposes the Principle of the Demands, and Says That to Recognize It Would Be Absolutely Offensive to Modern Civilization—Venezuela Pained.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Herbert W. Bowen, Venezuela's respresentative in the negotiations at Washington for a settlement of the claims against that country, has sent, through the British Ambassador here, what amounts practically to an ultimatum to the allied powers of Great Britain, Germany and Italy, regarding their insistence for preferential treatment in the settlement of their claims against Venezuela. This note, which the British Ambassador received last night, was cabled at once to London, copies of it being transmitted to the Italian and German embassies for transmission to Rome and Berlin.

It is in reply to the proposition submitted to a joint conference of the negotiators yesterday afternoon by the Ambassador, that the allied powers be allowed two-thirds of 30 per cent. of the customs receipts of the ports of La Guayra and Portobello, and that the other claimant nations, United States, France, Belgium, Denmark, Spain, Norway and Sweden, content themselves with the remainder, one-third of this percentage, that is, 10 per cent. of the receipts of these two ports.

In the note received by the British Ambassador from Mr. Bowen last night, the latter refuses point blank the proposition for a 20 and 10 per cent. division, on the ground that to recognize the principle it embodies would be absolutley offensive to modern civilization.

In view of the fact that the negotiators are agreed on all save the question of preferential treatment, the Ambassador is informed that Venezuela has decided to submit the question to The Hague Arbitration Tribunal. Acceptance of this proposition, Venezuela contends, carries with it a raising of the blockade, the general understanding being that the blockade would end when the negotiators at Washington had reached an agreement.

It is understood that in refusing this last proposition submitted by the British Ambassador, on behalf of the allies, Mr. Bowen takes the ground that he cannot accept in principle the contention that blockades and bombardments of force, and the consequent killing of helpless men, women and children entitles any power or alliance of powers to preferential treatment at the hands of a civilized nation.

Moreover, Venezuela, it is stated, regards the preferential demand of the powers as objectionable, because it would enable the continuance of the triple alliance of Great Britain, Germany and Italy for a period of six years or more, and in accepting it Venezuela would be encouraging and abetting the maintenance of hostile alliances against herself. The British Ambassador is informed in the note that Americans north and south want peace and not alliances. Venezuela has taken special exception to the action of the British Government in initiating this last proposition, by which Great Britain can hold fast to Germany and Italy in their alliance against Venezuela until the last cent of the claim is paid.

In suggesting that the question of preferential treatment be referred to The Hague, it is understood that Mr. Bowen does so in view of the fact that this question is the only one which remains in dispute. The allies are advised that Venezuela is desirous that all the negotiators shall stand by what has been already agreed on.

Toronto, Feb. 4.—The Clydesdale Horse Association held a crowded meeting here last night. The chair was taken by the president of the association, Lieut.-Col. David McCrae. The report of the secretary-treasurer was a very glowing one, showing a balance in hand of $1,051.10, in spite of increased expenditure in prizes, etc. Nearly 700 pedigrees had been recorded, and 278 more had never been as great in Canada as in the past 12 months, more having been imported than in any one year before. In England there was always a demand for heavy teams.

Vice-Presidents for the Provinces—O. Sorby, Guelph, Ontario; Robert Ness, Howick, Quebec; J. A. S. McMillan, Brandon, Man.; J. A. Turner, Calgary, Alta.; A. Mutch, Lumsden, Assa.

The balloting for directors resulted in the election of John Bright, George Gormley, John Vipond, T. Graham, Peter Christie, J. N. Gardhouse, Henry Boag.

BREEDERS OF HACKNEYS.

T. A. Graham of Claremont Elected President For 1903.

Toronto, Feb. 4.—The Canadian Hackney Horse Society held the eleventh annual meeting here yesterday, the president, T. A. Graham of Claremont, in the chair. The secretary-treasurer read the annual report, which showed a balance in hand of $800.04. Sixty-six pedigrees were recorded during the year, twenty more than the preceding one, showing that Hackneys are increasing in this country. The society has now over 400 pedigrees.

The society granted $50 to the Industrial Exhibition, and a like amount to the Spring Horse Show. Thirty dollars was voted to provide a cup for the Calgary Horse Show for Hackneys.

The Holstein Breeders.

The annual meeting of the Holstein-Friesian Association was held yesterday afternoon. The association is in an exceedingly flourishing condition, having a balance of $1,184.40 on hand. The total number of registrations for the year, according to the financial statement, was 883, which is 189 more than the previous year. There were 324 transfers and 26 new members were added to the roll.

The following officers were elected: President, Herman H. Bollert, Castler; 1st vice-president, James Rettie, Norwich; 2nd vice-president, Matt. Richardson, Caledonia; 3rd vice-president, R. S. Stevenson, Ancaster; 4th vice-president, G. A. Gilroy, Glen Buell; secretary, G. W. Clemons, St. George.

WILL GROW WHEAT.

On 200,000 Acres in the Canadian Northwest Territories.

London, Feb. 4.—The British-Canadian Wheat Raising Company's prospectus appears in yesterday's newspapers. The capital is a million dollars and property to the extent of two hundred thousand acres is to be acquired by Assiniboia, N. W. T. Three of the directors are Montrealers, three are from Winnipeg and one hails from Quebec. Two of them are ex-Ministers of the Dominion.

The Pall Mall Gazette yesterday afternoon said "the Company being registered in Ontario and not in England escapes the inconvenient provisions of the Companies Act of 1900 and certain disclosures which that inadequate but still useful measure requires."

Britishers Are Coming.

London, Feb. 4.—W. T. R. Preston, Canadian Emigration Agent here, says that Rev. Mr. Barr's scheme of sending an all-British colony to the Canadian Northwest is assuming astounding proportions and it is likely that two steamships instead of one will be required to convey the settlers to Canada.

Kamloops, B. C., Feb. 4— G. L. Bernier and W. Neave of Sydney, N. S. W., and Hamilton, New Zealand, respectively, are the advance guard of hundreds of Australians who are coming across the Pacific to seek new homes in British Columbia and the Northwest, says The Vancouver Ledger.

THE AMERICAN INVASION.

Thousands of Farmers From U.S. Prepare For a Change—Why They Are Moving Northward.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 3.—Charles Forbes, a farmer, from the vicinity of Langdon, N.D., is here, the advance guard of a large body of Americans, who will come to Canada in the spring. He had already invested in several farming sections for himself and others, and purposes to take up his permanent abode in this country.

"There will be thousands of Americans coming up here in the spring," he said. "Hundreds are coming from my district alone. I know this to be a fact, for many of them are neigbors of mine. The chief topic of conversation with the farmers is the coming immigration in the spring.

"The impression is general in the part of Dakota where I live that farmers can get from 10 to 15 cents more a bushel for wheat on the American side of the line than on the Canadian, but it has not prevented people from turning their eyes to Canada as a place to live in. They know they can get land in this country which is every bit as fertile as that in Dakota, at about one-quarter the price. It is safe to say that the exodus from Dakota into Canada this year will exceed the expectations of all Canadians."

NO MORE PAIN IN THE BACK

Chas. Gilchrist, of Port Hope, Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills

Ex-Fishery Overseer in Splendid Health at Seventy-Four—What he has to say of the Matter.

Port Hope, Ont., Feb. 2.—(Special)—Everybody in Port Hope knows Mr. Chas. Gilchrist, for fifteen years Chief of Police and afterwards Fishery Overseer of the Dominion Government. He is seventy-four years of age now and a healthy man. But he has had his share of suffering. For ten years he was afflicted with Diabetes and Kidney Disorder. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him.

Speaking of the case recently Mr. Gilchrist said:

"I have used Dodd's Kidney Pills for about five years, off and on. When I get a pain in the back and my urine is full of brickdust I take a couple of Dodd's Kidney Pills and I am all right. I generally keep them on hand, for there is no medicine like them.

"When I commenced to take Dodd's Kidney Pills I was in a fearful state. They have made me a new man. I have about one-quarter acre in a garden. I dug and planted it last spring. When I first took Dodd's Kidney Pills I could not have done it to save my life.

"I believe I would have been dead only for Dodd's Kidney Pills."

It is cures like this that are giving Dodd's Kidney Pills their popularity.

IMMIGRANTS WITH MEASLES.

Family of Seven Jews in Ottawa in a Bad Way.

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—A family of destitute Roumanian Jews, consisting of the father, mother and five children, reached the city on Friday evening, and were taken in by charitably-disposed Hebrews on McGee street. Yesterday morning the coroner, Dr. Baptie, was called upon to give a certificate of burial for the youngest child, who had died during the night. Dr. Baptie's investigation showed that the infant had succumbed to exposure, and the after effect of measles, for which the entire family had been quarantined at St. John, N.B., by the Dominion immigration authorities. Had the family been destined for the United States they would have been deported at the expense of the steamship company which brought them over from Europe, they being entirely without means of support. Under Canada's immigration system the only restriction imposed is the rejection of foreigners suffering from infectious diseases.

Had Nervous Prostration.

Mrs. S. W. West, Drayton, Ont., states: "I got terribly run down and finally became a victim of nervous prostration. I had no appetite, seemed to lose interest and ambition and could scarcely drag myself about. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I used three boxes with great benefit gaining eleven pounds. It made me strong and well and I had such an appetite that I wanted to be eating half the time."

THE BOAT IN THE ICE.

Steamer Stanley Has But Scanty Provisions For Its Crew.

St. John, N.B., Feb. 4.—Practically nothing is known here of the life of the men on the Government steamer Stanley. When last reported the steamer was in the ice nine miles off Charlottetown Harbor. More than three weeks have passed since she was nipped, and, as but a month's provisions is carried, some anxiety is beginning to be felt concerning them.

HEALTH OF PRIME MINISTER.

Globe's Ottawa Correspondent Comments on Alarmist Stories.

Toronto, Feb. 3.—The Globe has the following from Ottawa: A concocted scheme to represent Sir Wilfrid Laurier's health as desperate in the hope of making political capital seems to have been started by the Conservative press. The Ottawa Citizen yesterday morning published an extract purporting to be from The Montreal Sunday Sun, stating that the Prime Minister is in Montreal, and that his health is so bad that he will have to retire from politics. The same statement appears in leaded type in the Conservative paper, Le Journal of Montreal. There is not, however, a word of truth in it. The Prime Minister, while not in robust health, has no cause to complain, and he is in very high spirits. He walks up and down from his residence on Chapel and Theodore streets, which is a mile and a half away, and this he could not do if he were a very sick man. On Saturday, after a fatiguing day in his office, Sir Wilfrid walked the entire distance home. He stepped out jauntily and was in splendid spirits. A member of his Cabinet said yesterday morning: "I spent four hours with the Prime Minister yesterday, and I have rarely seen him in such excellent health and buoyant spirits."

Wastake, Thamesford, Ont., of the South African Constabulary. It is stated that many Canadians are now on their way home from South Africa.

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

FASHION FANCIES.

Ermine Stoles Fashionable — The Rage For Embroideries.

Ermine stoles are a great deal worn in Paris, but this fur is really only suitable for evening wear.

Squirrel will not last in the popular favor long, although the trying gray color is becoming to a few, and it certainly is much cheaper than chinchilla.

The rage for embroideries and incrustations of lace is greater than ever, and we shall do well, therefore, to use any we may have by us.

The amount a smart woman must spend on petticoats if she wishes to appear well dressed is enormous. The underskirt of today is a very important article of dress, being a mass of frills and furbelows, and it must be dainty and elegant. Although glace petticoats are made up cheaply and look tempting, their wearing properties are small when worn by those who walk much. The economically minded should pick up some remnants of satin or peau de soie, for although a petticoat requires many yards of silk, yet it is permissible to use two shades, one for the upper and the other for the frills. A soft silk lining adds greatly to the wearing qualities.

The dress skirt in the picture is of black silk elaborately tucked and trimmed with velvet.

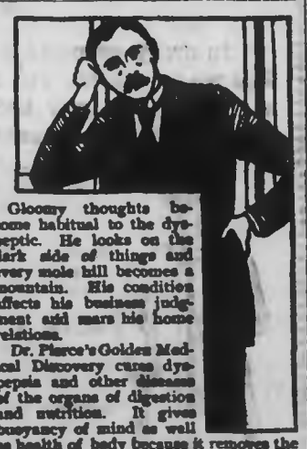
JUDIC CHOLLET.

Clay "Butter."

It is not generally known that in many parts of the world clay is eaten on bread as a substitute for butter. This is termed "stone butter" and is used in Germany. In the northern parts of Sweden earth is often baked in bread and is sold in the public markets on the Italian peninsula as well as on the island of Sardinia, Persia, Nubia and other tropical countries. This practice probably had its origin in the knowledge that all earths have some sort of flavor and take the place of salt, a necessary ingredient in all kinds of food.

Ambiguous.

"Dear Father—We are all well and happy. The baby has grown ever so much and has a great deal more sense than he used to have. Hoping the same of you, I remain your daughter, Mollie."



Gloomy thoughts become habitual to the dyspeptic. He looks on the dark side of things and every mole hill becomes a mountain. His condition affects his business judgment and mars his home relations.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It gives buoyancy of mind as well as health of body because it removes the physical cause of mental depression.

It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, and the body is strengthened by nutrition which is the only source of physical strength.

"I was afflicted with what the doctors called nervous indigestion. Took medicine from my family physician to no avail," writes Mr. Thos. G. Lowe, of Lower Richland Co., S. C. "At night would have cold or hot feet and hands, alternately. I was getting very nervous and suffered a great deal mentally, thinking that death would soon claim me. Always expected something unusual to take place; was irritable and impatient, and greatly reduced in flesh. I could scarcely eat any thing that would not produce a bad feeling in my stomach. After some hesitation, I decided to try a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pellets.' After taking several bottles of each, found I was improving. I continued for six months or more, off and on. I have to be careful yet, at times, of what I eat, in order that I may feel good and strong. I fully believe if any one suffering with indigestion or torpid liver or chronic cold would take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' and observe a few simple hygienic rules, they would soon be greatly benefited, and with a little perseverance would be entirely cured."

IS THERE ANYTHING MORE UNSIGHTLY THAN TO SEE A PERSON WITH THEIR FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES?

IS THERE ANYTHING MORE UNCOMFORTABLE AND PAINFUL THAN TO HAVE BOILS?

BAD BLOOD

Is the Cause of Boils and Pimples.

Bad Blood can be Cured by

Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mr. Wm. O'Malley, Madawaska, Ont., writes:—I used to be terribly bothered with boils and pimples, caused by bad blood and run-down system. I took two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters, and it made my skin nice and clear, and built up my constitution. Any person using it will never be bothered with skin diseases.

Hearts That are Diseased

will never be cured by the false, unnatural stimulation of liquor. First increase your vitality, build up the system, strengthen and purify the blood — then the heart will respond and grow strong.

Ferrozone is precisely what to take. It gives you an appetite and a digestion that will look after everything that is eaten. Ferrozone improves nutrition, makes rich vitalizing blood, and is positively the most powerful restorative and strengthener known to medical science; it improves the nerve tone, regulates the heart's action, makes the feeble strong and the sick well. Ferrozone will do you untold good, and costs only 50c., at Ormond & Walsh's.

New Brunswick Aluminum Company.

St. John, N. B., Feb. 3.—Edward Payson Brown of New York, James Robinson, a member of Parliament; J. McDavitt of New York, and other capitalists have incorporated the Aluminum Production Company, Limited, with a capital of $1,000,000, to manufacture aluminus and secure control of the Canadian trade in this metal. They will erect a reduction plant at Newcastle, N.B.

Municipal Wharves For Boston.

Boston, Feb. 3.—A bill has been introduced in the Legislature for the purchase of a large area of waterfront flats from the City of Boston by the State. This is part of a general plan to establish a system of wharves beyond the present so-called "Commonwealth Flats," to be owned and controlled, when completed, by the City of Boston.

Despaired of Being Cured.

Mrs. W. E. Jeffries, 44 Hicks avenue, Kingston, Ont., says: "I suffered agony with itching piles. In fact I don't believe that any person who has not had piles can realize what I endured. The first application of Dr. Chase's Ointment brought me relief, and it has since entirely cured me. I hope that this testimonial will be the means of bringing comfort to other sufferers by making known the great power of this ointment."

Toronto Centre of Meat Trade.

London, Feb. 3.—The High Commissioner's office is taking an active part in the movement to secure for the colonies a greater share of the South African army meat contract, and in representations to the War Office, a great point is made of the fact that Canada has direct steamship connection with South Africa, and that Canada's shipping port, Montreal, has the readiest possible railway communication with the great centre of the Canadian meat traffic, viz., Toronto. The Canadian Government represents that Canada is prepared to fulfil any contract for fresh or frozen beef, and good results are anticipated.

Change in the Italian Cabinet.

Rome, Feb. 4.—It is probable that Marquis Di Rudini will succeed Minister of Foreign Affairs Prinetti, who is suffering from a stroke of apoplexy.

New York, Feb. 4.—Market opened fair materially helped by rally in United States steel issues and more bullish tone of market. Brokers report some selling but it is mostly in the way of scattering profit-taking by traders except in R. I. which looks as though advantage taken by large operators to sell a block of stock. There is good buying of leather, Waba., Mop., steels and Erie. Market quiet but very good bullish undertone. Business suspended in Western States on account of storm.

There has been large buying of Sou. Ry. by interests supposed to be identical with San Francisco and Morgan. Is supposed to have had a representative on board of directors of this road. As matter of fact these properties have been quite largely bought during recent gas tand buying of Erie 2nds is attributed to same interests. We believe T. C. I destined for much higher prices judging from its present earnings and its assets.

M. & M.

Messrs. Haight & Freese have received the following:—

New York, Feb. 4.—We see no obstacle this morning to continued improvement in the stock market. The Venezuelan question seems to have settled into the rut on negotiations. Most other factors favor a moderate enhancement of values. A.C.P. continues very strong. There are bull points out on Smelters, Erie First, R. I and C. W. Much higher figures are predicted. Hold copper.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

Liverpool wheat opened quiet 1-8 higher; corn quiet, 1-8 lower.

The short side of sugar is popular but it will not prove profitable. Better buy some sugar on any recessions.

The outlook for business so far as the steel companies are concerned, could not possibly be better. There will be more activity in Atch., Pacifics and R. I. The proposed traffic agreement will stimulate trading in these that will lead to higher prices.

From Arthur Tomlinson, of Bristol, England, applying for a position as manual instructor.—Referred to the Committee on Appointments.

From R. Laidlaw, secretary of the Brockville Collegiate Institute, asking the co-operation of the board towards securing an amendment of legislation passed last session in connection with the High School Act, regarding county maintenance.—Received.

SCHOLARSHIP PRIZES.

Mr. Fessenden submitted a report from Mr. H. M. Wilkinson, Deputy Minister of Education, which named the successful competitors for the Nicholls Scholarship prizes at the last July examinations, as follows: Part I, Junior Leaving, Mary Roberts; Part I, Matriculation, H. Sawers; Part II, Junior Leaving, E. Eyres; Senior Leaving and Honour Matriculation, Florence Corkery.

NEW COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

Mr. Robert Fair chairman of the Property Committee, submitted the following report:

Gentlemen,—Early last autumn, by resolution of your Board, your Property Committee was authorized to make enquiries and ascertain the probable cost involved in the purchase of a site and the erection of a new building to be devoted to the purposes of the local Collegiate Institute.

Your committee made diligent enquiry, and collected a variety of information relative to the matter in hand. They communicated with Inspector Smith, of the Department, asking where such a building as would meet the needs of the town was located. Mr. Smith recommended the Jamieson avenue school, Toronto Junction, as an entirely suitable building, and one throughly modern in all respects. On January 13th, a sub-committee of your Property Committee went to Toronto and viewed this school, and these gentlemen have pleasure in handing you a report in reference to the matter. The facts are fully set out in the communication, and need not here be repeated. It is the opinion of your sub-committee that such a building would afford ample accommodation not only for immediate needs, but for the possible contingencies of future years.

As to a site. Your Committee is unable to give any definite information as there is some difference of opinion as to location. Several sites have been mentioned, all seemingly equally suitable, but unless your committee was authorized and empowered to accept offers, and be advised as to the quantity of land desired to be made use of the cost of suits must remain a matter of speculation.

Your Committee is of the opinion that a suitable building, one that will rank well with the other public buildings of the town, and at the same time afford suitable accommodation, will cost in the neighborhood of $30,000, exclusive of site.

Your Committee suggest that the matter be handed to their successors, to be further dealt with, fully satisfied that the needs of the town will not be lost sight of, and the best interests of the schools fully served.

The matter of improving the fences around the Institute and Central School and renovation of the grounds has been considered by your committee. Only one opinion exists and that is that the work should be done and done thoroughly. The fence requires considerable repair and the ground should be levelled.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A MODEL BUILDING.

In connection with the above matter the following report was submitted:

Gentlemen,—Your delegation appointed to view the Jamieson avenue Collegiate Institute, Toronto, Ont., beg leave to report that on January 13th inst., they did so. This school was built 10 years ago, and is acknowledged in Toronto, so far as we could ascertain, to be the best property of that kind in the city, though there are several other buildings of later date. The building is arranged for eight regular class rooms. Each has a seating capacity for 184 pupils. These rooms being on two flats of four rooms each. The basement is utilized for heating apparatus, lavatories, bicycle rooms, etc. The top flat contains a lecture, or assembly room, capable of seating all the pupils, where they are assembled once each day by the principal, which is a pleasing feature, and found to be a most useful function. There are also several rooms off the assembly room, found useful for occasional small classes in special studies. On each floor are two large cloak rooms, fitted up with lockers, and drip racks for umbrellas, etc. On the first floor of the main entrance is the principal's office and library. On the second floor are private study and waiting rooms for women and men teachers, respectively. The halls as specially pointed out in this school, on account of their excellent lighting and spaciousness, are said to be most attractive and helpful in airing the class rooms during recess and also giving plenty of room for the pupils to remain in during cold or wet weather at recess time. The floors and wood-work are all in hardwood, and thoroughly well constructed. The building is located on 1 1-2 acres of land, bounded on three sides by streets, this assuring plenty of good light. It is constructed of good ordinary red brick, with stone facing, and slate roof. The entire property cost the city about $55,000, the building proper about $40,000. We are of the opinion that allowing for future increase of attendance that a school of capacity of the above would be sufficient for all requirements. There are, of course, numerous minor changes and improvements that would arise in the construction of a new building that are not necessary to be pointed out in a report of this kind.

Yours truly,
V. EASTWOOD,
Chairman.

Mr. Eastwood moved, seconded by Mr. F. J. Jameson, that the matter of the further preliminary work in connection with the building of the proposed Collegiate Institute be handed to the Property Committee for 1903, with instructions to continue the work and with power to employ an architect to prepare plans and estimates of cost, and that the Committee be empowered to receive offers embracing options for sites, such offers to be submitted to the Board, and that the Committee report to the Board from time to time as to the information and facts so obtained.—Carried.

Mr. Robert Fair, Chairman of the Property Committee, asked what they had better do regarding the caretaker of the school, who had now failed to turn up at three different meetings of the Board. It may be that the caretaker was really too ill to attend to his duties this evening, he knew him to be in poor health. He had been giving excellent satisfaction otherwise.

Mr. McBain thought that the caretaker was neglecting his duties too much. After some little discussion the matter was left to the new Property Committee to deal with.

The Board then adjourned.

ENGINEER MAKES HIS REPORT

Of the Work Done During the Year.

STREET AND SEWER WORK.

The following is a continuation of Mr. Hay's report that was presented at the Council meeting Monday night:—

Bridges.

Of the fifteen bridges crossing the creek, seven are built of permanent materials, with the exception of the decks. Of the others, Brock street bridge is in bad condition.

Accidents at this bridge were so frequent that it was found necessary to lay an extra floor on top of the old one as a temporary measure of safety.

Smith street bridge (over the river) is showing signs of decay in many principal parts and the rebuilding of this bridge will have to be considered within the near future.

Of the bridges maintained jointly by Town and County it was found necessary to renew the entire deck of Otonabee bridge.

The following amounts are chargeable to bridges:—

Repairs to bridges.—general	$ 716 25
Replanking Brock street bridge	83 35
Redecking Otonabee bridge, Town's share	383 16
Otonabee bridge, old account	47 48
Pigeon Creek do do	516 41
Locks bridge do do	268 15
London street do do	214 13
	$1,709 01

Surface Drainage.

With a view to disposal of storm water in the central part of the town it is proposed to lay a system of 12 and 15 inch pipes on Hunter, Simcoe, Charlotte and Dalhousie streets from Water street to discharge into the creek. These pipes will intercept the gullytraps at present discharging into the main sewer and also have conditional catch-basins at suitable places and the object of this system is to relieve the main sewer and provide a quick and easy means of discharge.

Preliminary levels have been taken and plans will be prepared as soon as possible for this work.

Granolithic Walks.

During 1902 only two short sections of granolithic walk were constructed.

On West side of Walton street from Homewood Avenue to Weller street by Kennedy & Henry contractors at 15 cents per square foot. Length 467 feet 9 inches by 6 feet wide; total cost, $387.98.

On South side of Charlotte street from Custom House yard to Water street by P. Kennedy, contractor at 13 cents per square foot. Length 180 feet by 10 to 11 1-2 feet wide. Total cost, $242.62.

4 feet wide, 6,237 lineal feet.
5 feet wide, 12,296 lineal feet.
6 feet wide, 4,132 lineal feet.
8 feet wide, 2,004 lineal feet.
10 feet and over, 10,374 lineal feet.
Total, 35,043 feet or 7.39 miles.

A large proportion of wooden sidewalk will be required to be replaced during the coming season, most of which is in outlying parts of the town, and by the adoption of a cheaper method of building—known as sand finish—could be built for very little more than the cost of new wooden walks and good for twenty years.

The price of cement this year has been high, but with the prospect of many new cement factories, the price will probably be reduced very considerably during the coming season.

Wooden Sidewalks.

Owing to the large amount of old wooden sidewalks (much of which is laid for twenty years) and the high price of lumber, the cost for repairs to walks amounted to $597.61.

The following were rebuilt in new material;

Hunter street, South side at Otonabee bridge, 8 feet wide, 20 feet.

McDonel street, North, Bethune to Stewart street, 4 feet wide, 225 feet.

Sherbrooke street, South, All Saints' Church to Park street, 4 feet wide, 125 feet.

Market Square, West side, 8 feet wide, 156 feet.

King street, 10feet wide, 87 feet wide.

Lock street, East side, between Ware and Romaine, 4 feet wide, 72 feet.

Total number of square feet, 2,405.
Total cost, $601.09.

Other Sidewalks.

On the West side of Douro Road from Smith street to end of wooden sidewalk in Auburn village, a gravel walk was laid 1,225 feet long, 5 feet wide at a cost of $137.00 by contract.

On the West side of Reid street in front of R. C. Presbytery, a granolithic walk, 40 feet long by 5 feet wide, to which the town contributed $12, or four per cent of cost.

Operating of Stone Crusher, 1902.

The stone this year was purchased at the rate of $2.75 per cord and crushed and delivered on the street at $3.65 per cord, the cost of which was as follows.

527.83 cords crushed and delivered at $3.65 per cord	1,933 12
Yardman's wages	62 42
Repairs to machinery	102 51
Supplies	15 00
Total cost	$3,573 87

Cost per cord, $5.69; cost per yard, $1.23 6-10.

The output was as follows:—

1766 cubic yards couse grade at $1.85 per yard	$2,313 79
422 cubic yards medium grade, at $1.08 per yard	459 15
241 cubic yards screenings, at 75 cents per yard	175 93
2410 cubic yards.	$2,973 87

Owing to lack of apace the report will be concluded in to-morrow's issue.

Our 20th Year

This is Our New Year's Day—Our Business New Year.

The Golden Lion enters on its 20th Anniversary. When a policy succeeds, its authors are usually pleased. This is our state of mind to-day.

Gratitude to our friends and patrons, who have helped us to accomplish what we have, is uppermost in our minds. We appreciate the patronage of our friends, and take pleasure in saying so.

A store, like a strong character, attains success by doing well whatever it undertakes—never countenancing a policy that will in any way create distrust; never allowing misrepresentations to creep into its advertisements nor behind its counters.

THE STORY AND THE STORE ALWAYS CORRESPOND HERE.

It is through strict adherence to this straightforward policy, as well as to the high character of our merchandise, that we attribute the continual increase in the Golden Lion's business.

We are preparing for a busy New Year. A little more steam will be turned on. There is room for improvement. The store system that was perfect last year needs examining regularly as an engineer examines mechanism. An eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, so it is the price of success in retailing. All our energies during 1903 will be devoted to improving the store system in every direction that experience has shown possible.

Our Winter Goods are now down to a pretty small compass, but we will continue to crowd them down still lower. Then for Spring.

Last Night's Inaugural Meeting—the Standing Committees—New Members.

At the inaugural meeting of the Peterborough Board of Education which was held in the Board Room of the Collegiate Institute last night Mr. J. J. Hartley was elected chairman for the ensuing year.

There were present at the meeting Messrs. James Stevenson, F. J. Jameson, W. G. Ferguson, Wm. Pringle, J. J. Hartley, Dr. Burnham, V. Eastwood, H. P. Kennedy, W. H. Hill, J. J. McBain, L. M. Hays and Robert Fair.

Messrs. Wm. Pringle and John Crane, the two new members were introduced and took their seats.

The Secretary of the Board, Mr. W. G. Morrow, called for the election of a chairman.

The first ballot stood as follows: Ferguson, 6; Hill, 6; Hartley, 3; McBain, 1.

Mr. Ferguson said that he would not accept the office under any consideration, and asked the members to vote for someone else, at the same time thanking his friends for their good intentions.

Mr. Hill stated that he would like to see a change. He had held the position for two years and he felt that the honour should be passed around.

Mr. McBain announced also that he was not a candidate.

These gentlemen's names figured prominently in the five succeeding ballots, however, but finally Mr. Hartley was declared elected.

The announcement was received with much applause.

Mr. Hartley made a fitting reply to the honour conferred upon him. He had held various public offices in the past 20 years he said, and had been a member of the Board of Education for the past 10 years, but there was no office he felt more honoured in occupying than that to which he had just been elected. He felt that he was not capable of filling the position as perhaps it should be filled, but he felt also that with such an intelligent Board of Trustees as he was associated with, a chairman could not go very far astray. He hoped with the assistance of the members of the Board he would do what was in the best interest of the people they represented. He concluded a well worded little speech by thanking them most sincerely for the honour conferred upon him.

Mr. Jameson moved, seconded by Mr. Ferguson, that Messrs. Burnham, Kennedy, Eastwood and the mover be a committee to strike Standing Committees. This was carried and the Board adjourned for fifteen minutes in order to allow the Committee to make its report.

Dr. Burnham, chairman of the above Committee, reported the striking of the Standing Committees as follows:—

Appointments—The whole Board. Mr. McBain, chairman.

The Board then adjourned.

DR. BRYCE PAID VISIT TO TOWN

And Consulted With Board of Health Yesterday

AS TO CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

He Gave Some Valuable Information Upon Which the Board Will Act.

A special meeting of the Board of Health was held in the office of the Town Clerk yesterday afternoon, at 2 o'clock.

The object of the meeting was to ascertain from reliable authority what could be done to prevent the prevalence of contagious diseases in in Peterborough. For this purpose Dr. Bryce, Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, was asked down from Toronto, to give his opinion on the subject.

There were present at the meeting Messrs. R. Neill, chairman, W. Eyres, A. Parker, Chief Roszel, Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer, and Dr. Bryce.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mr. Armstrong, the secretary of the local Board of Health, and confirmed.

Mr. Neill, in opening the proceedings, said that the Board has asked Dr. Bryce down to set the Board on a new basis, so that contagious diseases could be more successfully fought.

Dr. Bryce, in the course of his remarks, suggesting questions, as well as voluntarily offerred, said that scarlet fever appeared to be the disease most necessary to fight. The householder who knows, and the physician who knows, that there is a case of scarlet fever in his house, must be compelled to report it to the Board within 24 hours. The householder and the physician are unfortunately unable always to be relied upon, therefore the next best thing to do is to look after the school. The headmaster ought to be made to report each day the absentees, and then the inspector can ascertain if the child is ill, and keep a strict eye on the child. He thought it would be best to divide the schools up among the physicians, who must visit each school every day till Easter. The hospitals ought to be made more use of. Absolute isolation must be insisted on; the family where the disease breaks out must be quarantined from 6 to 10 days. To allow children, who have never had scarlet fever, to remain in a house where scarlet fever prevails, is "practically manslaughter." Either take the father out, and turn the house into an hospital, or else, if the child is quite young, take the mother and child away to the hospital, and disinfect the house. Find out how many cases of scarlet fever there are, and see that the patients are kept in the same room from 5 to 7 weeks, and until the physicians go over every part of the affected persons to see that no second peeling was about to take place, the medical certificate was not to be allowed to be issued by that physician. As long as the physician does his duty in drawing up his certificate, at a time five weeks after the first knowledge of the disease, no other security need be obtained, but the Board must insist on a period of five weeks after the breaking out of the disease before the attending physician is allowed to issue a certificate to the person attacked by the disease. Every child who is absent from school on account of illness must have its throat examined by a physician, who, if he suspects the elements of scarlet fever there, must report to the Board within 24 hours.

Mr. Eyres asked if the child, when said to be in a state of convalescence, was infectious?

Dr. Bryce said that that was the most critically infectious time of the disease, and that until the child was quite recovered there was every reason to fear infection. It will be cheaper to send a child to the hospital, paying about $5 per week, than to keep the child at home and have to destroy $100 worth of property through fumigation after the disease had subsided.

Mr. Eyres said that with the inspection of the schools the parents would be able to send their children to school without fear of infection, and thus the schools would not close, and the children would not be running around the streets.

Chief Roszel asked if it was a necessary precaution to placard a house from which a child had been taken to the hospital with scarlet fever.

Dr. Bryce said that it was a necessary precaution for at least one week. Every physician must report to the Board of Health by a filled-in form.

Mr. Neill said that some of the schools use well water, into which well the sewage might run, and he thought that this was a great reason for the ravages of contagious diseases.

Dr. Bryce said that he would examine samples of water sent to him each week, and give his opinion as to whether those special wells should be closed. People ought not be said, to be allowed to run a drain of any description whatever into the lakes.

Mr. Neill said that the Board would send samples of well water to be analyzed each week, and would do exactly as they had been advised at the meeting, and if in difficulties would ask him to come down again and advise them further.

On motion it was resolved that each physician be provided with blank forms to be filled out and forwarded to the secretary of the Board of Health, in case of contagious disease, and also that the well water be tested.

Mr. True Corrects a Statement Made in Friday's Examiner.

In reference to the item that appeared in Tuesday's Examiner, wherein it was stated that Mrs. D. Hannah had been sentenced to three months in jail for bigamy at Deseronto, husband No. 1 has asked that a correction be made. The prisoner admitted she married a man named Trew while living in Peterborough, but she stated also that she could not live with him as he was an Assyrian. Mr. Trew denies that he is an Assyrian, and says that he is a "Cavan Blazer," having been born near Millbrook. In every other regard Mr. Trew says the despatch from Kingston is correct.

Miss Menard cured after doctors failed to help her.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me after doctors had failed, and I want other girls to know about it. During menstruation I suffered most intense pain low in the abdomen and in my limbs. At other times I had a heavy, depressed feeling which made my work seem twice as hard, and I grew pale and thin. The medicine the doctor gave me did not do me one bit of good, and I was thoroughly discouraged. The doctor wanted me to stop work, but, of course, I could not do that. I finally began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and felt better after taking the first bottle, and after taking six bottles I was entirely cured, and am now in perfect health, and I am so grateful for it."—Miss GEORGIE MENARD, 537 E. 152nd St., New York City.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

WARSAW.

(From our own Correspondent.)

A correspondent at Warsaw, has asked that the following be placed in the Weekly Examiner. It will perhaps eventually teach some persons that it is best not to infringe on the laws of this country:

We have recently received information regarding a party of tourists, consisting of surveyors, wood rangers, assistants, etc., who traversing the timebr limits of the 9th line, and vicinity, some time last week, as circumstantial evidence unmistakably indicates, had the audacity to break into W. Carveth's shanty, and take peaceable but illegal possession, and proceed to rampage the said property. As this has been a frequent occurrence of late, the practice has become quite customarily legalized, and for this reason only will the aforesaid infringement of the law regarding burglarious procedure, be tolerated, but should repetition of the same occur in the future, it is understood that severe measures will be taken and the execution of the law vigorously administered. Information as to who the said persons are will be gratefully received.

ENGINEER MAKES HIS REPORT

Of the Work Done During the Year.

STREET AND SEWER WORK.

The following is the conclusion of Mr. Hay's annual report which was presented at the last meeting of the Town Council:—

Plant and Machinery.

The cost for repairs and supplies for crusher and engine during the season amounted to $117.51. The principal cause for repairs being the frequent wearing out of jaw-plates and liners.

The steam roller was operated during the season both for general repairs to streets and road making. A new set grate bars was put in and 18 new street picks purchased. Repairs to roller $65.-91, supplies, $10.15, fuel, $76.06, Total, $152.12.

Remarks have been made that the roller should have been kept more constantly at work. It will be remembered that the summer of 1902 was one of the wettest on record. Many of the streets when saturated by long continued rains were quite impassible for the roller and yet it was operated 87 days during the season.

Of the 6 snow ploughs in use 2 are steel and much stronger and more serviceable than the old wooden ones. The steel ones have been in use for 4 winters and have cost nothing for repairs while the old wooden ones require overhauling every winter. New steel ones can be purchased for about $30.00 each.

The cost of repairs to ploughs was $9.88.

Of the 5 water carts owned by the town, the two oldest are a constant source of expense for repairs and should be replaced by new ones.

Repairs and supplies for water carts $55.35.

The grader and wagons were used throughout the season and required slight repairs. The tools and plant for building granolithic walks, purchased in 1899 are in fair condition. A dump cart to be used for weekly cleaning of George street, and for general use is very much required. At the beginning of the season an order was given for one, but has not as yet been supplied. It is very necessary that a proper building should be put up in a convenient place for storing waggons and machines. At present they are left exposed to the weather and to the public, with injurious effect. A building with accommodation for the roller would also save the expense of putting up and taking down the temporary shelter at present in use, and prevent exposure to the weather.

Street Watering.

The town for street watering is divided into four districts of about equal mileage of streets. Four watering carts are kept regularly in use and the fifth held in reserve to replace any of the others that may be disabled. In very dry and windy weather it is found impossible to keep the central district properly watered with one cart, for which reason it will be advisable to reduce the mileage of the district by enlarging the the out-lyin gones, or as an alternative to increase it and put on an additional water cart.

The total cost of street watering, including repairs and supplies was $1,023.85.

Miscellaneous.

The new street to be known as Quaker street was graded by the American Cereal Co. but has not yet been conveyed to the town. It is proposed to lay broken stone on and roll this street as soon as the town gets permission. A sidewalk will also be required on the West side.

The G.T.R. Co. has erected gates at Charlotte and Simcoe streets crossings. It is very desirable that the Canadian Pacific Railway be compelled to put a set of gates on the George street crossing.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Co. have laid two additional crossings over Hunter street for the American Cereal Co. making altogether three crossings at this point.

A large number of houses and other buildings have been erected during the season. These are generally medium-sized houses and terraces. Additions and improvements to existing buildings have also been extensive. Most of those however, have been erected outside the limits covered by the building by-law. This by-law has been well observed within the fire limits.

In the process of road-making on Aylmer street, the man-hole covers of sewers were covered in several instances in order to avoid leaving depressions where they were too low, these will have to be raised by additional brickwork.

In response to Mr. A. F. Choates' application for a ditch on East side of Bridgewater street, the council authorized the work to be done on condition that Mr. Choat removed the surplus earth. It was subsequently found that an open ditch in front of the property would be objectionable and dangerous to the traffic on the road, as it would require to be 3 feet deep, and require culverts at each to be three feet deep and require culverts at each entrance. It was therefor decided to lay 3 inch tile drain which was done, and serves the purpose of a drain, much better in all respects.

The estimate for the original plan was $21.00. The total cost as built was $48.00 as the whole outlay was paid for by Mr. Choate, he will expect a proportion assumed by the town.

The gravel walk built on west side of Douro road has been found to be a good substitute for a sidewalk. With the latter trimming up during the season, walks of this kind might be laid in many suburban places with good results and much cheaper than wooden ones.

The six ton roller was loaned to the Township of Smith for two days during August and to the Town of Stouffville later on by order of the council. It has not been returned yet from Stouffville.

The Electric pole lines in town are multiplying at such a rate that serious complications are likely to arise very soon. The subject even now warrants the serious consideration of the council. frequent applications for extensions have been made and authority granted. A few additional poles at a time seem a matter of little importance but in the aggregate amount to a large number. The competition for business between the different companies leads to duplicating pole lines on several streets, in some cases there being three lines on one street. It is advisable that each company having the use of the streets should be required to deposit a plan showing there complete system and the location and number of poles, and that applications be made in time to allow of proper consideration.

The name boards on street corners are in a delapitated condition. Many have disappeared altogether and should be replaced.

I have the honor to be
Your Obedient Servant,
T. A. S. HAY,
Town Engineer.

WESTWOOD.

(From our own Correspondent.)

The sincere sympathy of a wide circle of friends and neighbours is extended to the family of Mr. and Mrs. John Lobb, in the bereavement they have sustained in the death on Wednesday, the 28th ult., of their daughter, Laura May, in her fifth year; and also to Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Roach, who are now mourning the loss of their son, John James, a bright lad of nine years, who was called away on Sunday last, after an illness of only a few days, of scarlet fever. It is hoped that the sick ones left behind may be speedily restored to health again, although the condition of Mr. Roach's two children is thought to be almost hopeless.

The business meeting of the Westwood butter factory was held on Thursday, 29th ult, when a satisfactory showing was made for the seaon of 1902-3. The amount of milk delivered at the factory was 268,827 pounds, yielding 10,646.34 pounds of butter fat, and from this there was made 12,259 pounds of butter, which was sold for $2,591.26. The making at 3c per pound came to $367.77, thus leaving the sum of $2,223.49 to be divided among the patrons. All the officials were re-elected, Mr. Jno. Hope re-placing Mr. A. Cameron as vice-president, as Mr. Cameron is leaving the district.

The present state of the roads is a source of danger to travellers, especially in localities where the grading is too high to allow of teams to pass each other safely. Mr. Geo. At the annual meeting of the Westwood Presbyterian church the report of the session showed an addition of nine to the roll during the year, the present number now being 137. AN OTTAWA MASON AGAIN AT WORK.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets completely cure him of a serious attack of Kidney Trouble and Backache.

WM. ST. GEORGES.

Inhalation of fine dust, heavy lifts, exposure to chilling winds—these are some of the things which make masons generally subject to attacks of kidney trouble and backache.

Mr. Wm. St. Georges, whose home is 651 Cumberland Street, Ottawa, Ont., is a stonemason by trade, and was so unfortunate as to become a victim of kidney complaint. The history of his case he gives as follows, in a recent letter:

"Dear Dr. Pitcher:—Permit me to write and thank you for your Backache Kidney Tablets which have done me so much good.

"I suffered for two long years from weak back and kidney trouble. Last year I was completely used up so that I lost all courage, and had no hope of recovering. No one could do anything for me.

"During the first week of April last, I met with a friend of mine and he advised me to take your Kidney Tablets. I thought I would try one box, and after I had finished this I felt so much better that I continued the Tablets until I had used in all six boxes. Every box I took made me feel better and stronger till now I am perfectly cured.

"I am now as strong and healthy as ever I was in my life and can attend to my work, which is very heavy, as I am a stonemason. I feel confident from the benefit I received that anyone suffering from lame back or kidney trouble will not be disappointed if they take your Tablets.

Yours truly,
Wm. St. Georges."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are the most effectual remedy known to science for promptly relieving and permanently curing backache, lame or weak back, swelling of the feet and legs, scalding or irritation of the urine, sediment, brick dust deposits, neuralgia, rheumatism, specks floating before the eyes, pain in the head, torpid liver, kidney troubles of old people, bed-wetting of children, and all forms of kidney, bladder and urinary diseases. Price 50c. a bottle or 3 for $1.25, at all druggists or by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto.

CHANGE TOWARDS COLONIES.

Sentiment in Their Favor Grows in Old England.

London, Feb. 5.—Lord Onslow delivered an address at a British Empire League meeting in Edinburgh. He said that representatives of the colonies, who had been in this country, had recognized that the disposition of our national forces, as seemed best, could only be settled from the heart of the Empire, London, after consultation and consideration with representatives of the colonies. Lord Onslow referred to Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain in the very highest terms as the first statesman who had commanded the confidence of the Empire. He contrasted the opinion enunciated by Prof. Goldwin Smith and others that Great Britain would be better without the colonies with the opinion of to-day and traced the growth of the change in feeling to frequent interchange of ideas between the mother country and the colonies.

NEWFOUNDLAND LEGISLATURE.

The object of this visit will be to learn the present status and prospects of the Bond-Hay treaty, so that the Governor may familiarize himself with the course of action likely to be adopted respecting the future relations of Newfoundland and the United States.

London, Feb. 5.—The report received here Tuesday from Bayhead that the large vessel wrecked off Duraborg Reef was believed to be the French barque Van Stabel, which sailed from Glasgow January 17 for San Francisco, is confirmed. Thirty persons who were on board are thought to have been drowned.

Saw a Vessel Disappear.

San Francisco, Feb. 5.—The steamer Alameda, which arrived here yesterday from Honolulu, reports having seen during a storm on the night of Jan. 30, the distress signal of a square rigger. In less than ten minutes the square rigger had disappeared, and it is believed it must have been swallowed up in the sea. It is thought here that the disabled vessel may have been the Florence, an American vessel, now out sixty-five days from Tacoma to Honolulu.

A FATHER ARRESTED

Peculiar Death of an Infant at Collingwood.

IT WAS INSURED FOR $32.00

A. H. Clarke, the Father, Thought It Had Eaten Poisoned Cheese — The Mother Gave It Beer That Was Suspiciously Bitter and Which Made Her Deathly Sick—Other Dead Children Insured.

Collingwood, Jan. 5.—On suspicion of having murdered his infant son, A. H. Clarke was arrested in the courtroom last night. This was the result of the coroner's investigation, and the father is held, pending a further hearing. The little victim's life was insured for $32. This is the only motive suggested. The child died on Sunday, and the insurance has been paid.

The jury received the evidence of Dr. McPhaul and the mother of the child last night, and the Chief of Police was instructed to place Clarke under arrest.

Dr. McPhaul testified that, when he was called to the Clarke home, he found the child dead and the body cold. The froth on the lips of the corpse indicated poison, and the distorted features suggested the agony following death from strychnine. The father told Dr. McPhaul that he had placed some strychnine on cheese to poison rats, and he believed the boy had eaten it.

He also said that he had recently insured the child for $32 in the Metropolitan Insurance Company. The mother told the physician that she had given the little one a drink of beer from a glass from which she had drunk, and that the beverage was suspiciously bitter. She was made very ill, and the child died in convulsions shortly afterwards.

The coroner then made a post-mortem, and found the cheese in the organs of the child. The chemical examination has not been completed.

After these facts had been detailed before the coroner's jury last evening, Clarke was placed under arrest. He was in the courtroom, and, apparently, anticipated such a result, for A. A. Bond was at once employed to defend him.

The inquest will be continued on Monday, when Crown Attorney Cotter will be present.

The prisoner is a laboring man, in poor circumstances, though nothing of a criminal character has been charged against him in the past.

This case has attracted attention here to the number of children who are being insured by parents. One physician mentioned that he knew of three deaths of children in this section recently who were insured at the time.

The jury is expected to make a recommendation against this form of insurance before the investigation is completed. The indignation that has developed here against this practice, which, some think, is calculated to contribute to crime, is likely to be reflected in other localities, and result in a measure before the approaching Parliament, prohibiting the insurance of children. In some sections of the States this feature of insurance is no longer tolerated, and the prohibition is based upon the inducements it offers to neglect or murder infants.

Charged With Murder.

Halifax, Feb. 5.—Joseph Baxter, who was arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the death of Wesley Milney, whose body was found at the foot of a cliff at Advocate, was taken before Justice Atkinson yesterday for a preliminary examination. The evidence was purely circumstantial, but the magistrate committed him for trial.

PRETENDER IS CAPTURED.

Paris, Feb. 5.—A despatch from Tangier says a special courier from Fez has brought a renewed report that the pretender of the throne, Bu Hamara, has been captured.

A later despatch from Tangier says that while pursuing the pretender's forces the Sultan's cavalry was attacked by the Kista tribesmen, but the other troops of El Moabhi, the War Minister, came up in time to participate in the fighting, and the result was another victory for the Imperial army, with heavy losses on both sides. The remainder of Bu Hamara's followers are reported to have been captured.

AGAINST THE HAGUE.

Every Effort Being Made to Settle Venezuelan Dispute Without This Final Court of Reference.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Every effort is being made by the representatives of the allies here to secure an early settlement of the Venezuelan dispute without referring it to The Hague.

In this effort the Italian and British Ambassadors and the German Minister are receiving the cordial approval of the Government of the United States.

The British Ambassador and the German Minister have cabled their Governments that Mr. Bowen has expressed his willingness to give the allies preferential treatment for three months in order that they may emerge from the controversy without injury to their honor.

The allies have not yet answered these representations.

It is considered that the claimant nations will suffer far more than Venezuela if the Washington negotiators fail.

THEORIES ABOUT CATARRH.

Peculiar Ideas Regarding a Common Disease.

Mark Twain's cure for a cold in the head, was simple, but he claims very effective in his own case; his plan was, to eat nothing for twenty-four hours, or presumably until the trouble had disappeared.

Although not able to speak from personal experience as to the effectiveness of this treatment, it certainly has the merit of extreme economy, but it occurs to us that the application of it to a case of nasal catarrh might be attended with difficulties.

Catarrh, as everyone knows, is a chronic cold in the head, and Mr. Twain's treatment, if it should become a fad, would make of us a nation of fasters, an army emulating the example of the immortal Tanner, who achieved world wide fame by fasting forty days.

Catarrh is certainly becoming a national disease, and there is little doubt but that errors in diet, particularly over eating, is a very common cause.

Most people, however, are more interested in the cure of the trouble than in the trouble, and modern medical science has produced more effective and less heroic remedies than Mr. Twain's.

Hydrastin is a new remedy, very effective in some forms of Catarrh. Red Gum is another, which on account of its antiseptic properties, is very valuable, while many severe cases of Chronic Catarrh have been entirely cured by the sanguinaria or Extract of Blood Root alone.

Within a year an enterprising chemist has combined all of these remedies in tablet form, palatable and convenient, and the superiority of this tablet over other catarrh remedies is also apparent that all druggists now carry them in stock to supply the popular demand.

They are called Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and it is doubtful if any medicine has achieved a national popularity in so short a time as this.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are used by thousands of travelling men, because they can be carried in the pocket, and used at any time and in any quantity, being free from Cocaine, opiate or any poisonous drugs.

They clear the head and throat from the disgusting secretions of catarrh, very often in a few hours time.

For nasal Catarrh they are far superior to any wash, lotion or ointment, the use of which is often as inconvenient and annoying as the disease itself.

For coughs, colds, bronchial catarrh and catarrh of the stomach, these tablets give immediate relief and a permanent cure, where lotions, inhalers and douches make no impression whatever.

This preparation is a boon to catarrh sufferers, and any druggist will tell you that Stuart's Carrh Tablets is a remedy that has come to stay.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Miss Agnes Maud Fraser of Norwood and James A. Bradley of Calgary.

Maple Villa, the home of Mr. Thos. Fraser, one of Norwood's most prominent citizens, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, February 4th, the occasion being the marriage of his eldest daughter, Agnes Maud, to Mr. James A. Bradley, of Calgary, N.W.T., formerly of Peterborough.

The bride entered the drawingroom leaning on the arm of her father, to the strains of the song, "My Dearest Heart," by Sir Arthur Sullivan, sung by the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. D. A. Fraser, and took her place under a tastefully draped arch.

The bride was attired in her going-away gown of blue ladies' cloth, the waist being of Louisiana silk, trimmed with cream silk applique. The bride was attended by her niece, Miss O. Fraser, as ring bearer. After the ceremony the guests sat down to a dainty dejeuner, the tables being decorated with carnations and smilax.

The wedding presents were numerous, showing the esteem in which the young couple are held. The gift of the groom to the bride was a highly ornamental silver tea service. The happy couple left on the 5 o'clock train, remaining a few days at Peterborough, Toronto and Winnipeg, before taking up their abode at Calgary.

HOCKEY BOYS ENTERTAINED

By the Ladies of St. Peter's T. A. S.

A Very Enjoyable Time Last Night—Handsome Sum was Realized.

The reception tendered to the T. A. S. hockey team by the Ladies' Literary Committee of the T. A. S., was one of the most successful affairs ever held in the T. A. S. rooms.

The ladies certainly cannot, by words, be thanked enough by the boys for the way they were entertained last evening. The large hall was crowded to its utmost capacity at 8.30, by members and friends, all anxious to win the beautiful prizes, which were presented. The ladies' prize was a solid gold shamrock, set with pearls, given by Mr. O'Toole, and the gentleman's prize was a French briar pipe in a case, given by Mr. R. J. Begley. The successful lady was Miss Anna Heffernan. Three gentlemen were ties, Mr. George, Mr. W McAuliffe and Mr. O'Toole, Mr. McAuliffe finally winning out.

The guests all remained in their places and were served, by the Ladies' Literary Committee to a luncheon, which could not be excelled in quality or style.

A number of musical selections were rendered during the evening by the Misses Hurley, Begley and others, which added greatly to the pleasure of the present.

The hall was most beautifully decorated with the T. A. S. club colours, black and red, hockey sticks, skates and ribbons. Their lacrosse cups and horse shoe was in perfect view on a table, and were examined by all.

The tables were then stowed away and the floor waxed for those who wished to dance. When Professor Kane drew the bow across the strings the first time, many who had no intentions of dancing could not resist such beautiful runs as did he strike with Mr. Gilloly at the Piano. This was indulged in till midnight when everyone wended their way home, with hearts full of best wishes for the success of the T. A. S. hockey club, and wondering how the ladies could arrange such an affair in so short a time.

The Ladies' Literary Committee of the T. A. S. wish to extend many thanks to Mr. Thos Barrie and Mr. A. W. Cressman for goods for decoration in their hall, to the Peterborough Music Co. for for piano cover and Mr. Byrne for use of many articles, and they also extend to Mr. Thos. Turcotte many thanks for his work and to all the ladies who so generously donated cakes and sandwiches in such abundance, as no such supply was ever in sight at anything in the T. A. S. rooms before.

The ladies will clear over $60 for the Hockey Club. Good for them.—Com.

MEETING OF AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

A New Society has Been Organized.

STARTS WITH CLEAN SHEET.

Competent and Enthusiastic President and Board of Directors—Assured Success.

The adjourned meeting of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society, took place Wednesday in the Town Council Chamber. There were about thirty representatives present, Mr. F. H. Dobbin, president, in the chair.

Mr. F. H. Dobbin stated that the meeting had been called in order that a new board of directors might be elected, and other business transacted.

The obligations of the society, which amounted to $1400, were discussed at some length.

The president of the Peterborough Turf Club, Mr. J. M. Brooks, said that should the meeting care to elect them, he had asked several leading business men to go on the Board of Directors, and that the Turf Club would help the Society in every possible manner.

Mr. Hughes-Charles thought it would certainly be the best thing to do to start with a clean sheet, and not assume the heavy burden of the past. He further suggested that liberal prizes be given at the annual show, and that he himself was anxious to promote the success of the society if it were re-organized.

On motion of Mr. W. H. Robertson, seconded by Mr. R. Fair, it was resolved that a new society be organized, and that Messrs. Hughes-Charles, E. M. Elliott, F. H. Dobbin, W. J. Green and Alex. Elliott, be a committee to nominate and appoint the officers and Board of Directors for the ensuing year.

The committee presented their report, which was adopted, and the following officers were elected:

Hon. President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.

President—D. Hughes-Charles.

1st Vice-President—C. B. McAllister.

2nd Vice-President—E. M. Elliott.

Directors — H. P. Kennedy, Joseph Madill, (South Monaghan,) Alex. Elliott, Robert Fair, D. Maloney, (Douro) G. W. Fitzgerald, (Smith,) J. K. Galvin, (Ennismore,) and R. J. Munro.

The Secretary-Treasurer and the auditors will be appointed at the first meeting of the new Board.

The president and the Board of Directors are able and enthusiastic men, and the success of the new society is assured.

ST. ANDREW'S HELD ANNUAL MEETING.

Church Treasurer Shows a Surplus.

SOME INTERESTING REPORTS

The Matter of Increased Accomodation for Those Attending Church—Church Officers Elected.

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, was held in the school room last night, there being a large attendance of the members and adherents of the church present. The chair was occupied by the pastor, Rev. J. G. Potter, and the reports throughout were of a very interesting and encouraging nature.

Mr. John McClelland officiated as secretary of the meeting.

SESSION'S REPORT.

The report of the Session was submitted as follows:

The Session feels deeply grateful to God that His blessing has been so largebestowed upon the people during the year which has gone.

The four communion services were well attended, and all the departments of the church's work have been encouragingly sustained.

The givings for the missionary funds of the church have been in excess of previous years, yet for our membership, the amount should be much larger, and plans will be arranged so that every family will have the opportunity to give to this work. Of the amount contributed this year $200 is a special donation for the North West work.

The attendance at the regular church services have been very largely increased during the past year, which is always a most encouraging factor in church life.

We desire to express our deep sense of appreciation for the services rendered by the choir, under the direction of Mr. Davies. When we consider that their work is gratuitous and given willingly in the service of the church, they deserve all encouragement and help. The Session values very highly the excellent help rendered during the year by Miss Davies, and we only regret that we have been unable to supply her place. We would like to have some assurance of financial success in securing a leading soprano to assist in the service of song.

The membership at Dec. 31st, was 373. There were added to the church 53—20 by certificate, and 33 by profession. There were removed, 7 by death, and 17 by removal from town.

Twenty-three were baptized, 3 adults and 20 children.

The following were called away by death:

Celia Sanderson.
Mrs. Macdonald.
Mrs. A. Graham.
Mrs. Wm. Telford.
Mrs. Gillespie.
Miss Alice Weddell.
W. F. Gardiner.
Charlotte McColl.

We commend to the earnest consideration of our people the value and importance of the weekly prayer meeting as a necessity for the spiritual and temporal prosperity of the congregation, and as a strong moral and spiritual help to the ministry of the Word.

ALEX. CAMPBELL,
Clerk of Session.

YOUNG MEN'S GUILD.

The Young Men's Guild report was as follows:—

The following are the officers for 1903:

President—W. S. Campbell.
Vice-President—H. H. Edmison.
Recording Secretary—W. A. Richardson.
Corresponding Secretary — C. E. Anderson.
Treasurer — R. M. Glover.
Councillors—R. Elliott, L. Thornton, T. G. Anderson and J. M. Laing.

We take pleasure in submitting our fourth annual report in connection with the work of the Young Men's Guild of St. Andrew's church, Peterborough.

It is gratifying to notice the ever increasing interest evinced in the work of the Guild during the past year, although we much regret the loss of a number of Guildsmen by removal from town, still the increase in membership is very encouraging.

Regular monthly meetings have been held on the first Tuesday of each month with the exception of July and August, the programmes for which have taken, principally, the form of a debate, and in some instances we have been indebted to a few local gentlemen for interesting and helpful papers, which were much enjoyed and appreciated.

Our fourth annual excursion, around the lakes, was held on the 26th June, and was attended with greater success than any previously held.

Our fourth annual Scotch concert was held on the 28th November, in the Opera House, and was by far the most successful yet held under the auspices of the Guild.

Our total receipts for the year were $649.59, and the expenditure $559.53, leaving a balance on hand of $81.06. During the year a Finance Committee was appointed to supervise a system of regular contribution, in support of the church, with encouraging results.

The Guild again desires to record their grateful thanks to the pastor, and the members of the congregation, at large, for their sympathy and hearty co-operation in the work of the society, which support and sympathy we hope will not in any measure depreciate.

We extend a cordial invitation to any young man attending the church to be present at our meetings and we shall endeavour to make any such feel at home.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. A. RICHARDSON,
Recording Secretary.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The report of the Sunday School was submitted by the secretary, Mr. J. M. Laing, and showed that there were 280 on the roll. This number was made up as follows: 50 in Bible class, 130 in Senior classes, 34 in Junior Primary, 38 in Kindergarten Primary, 23 teachers and 5 officers. The greatest attendance was on the 16th and the 23rd February, when 226 were present, and the least was on the 27th July, 82 being present. The attendance this year has been larger than last, and when no prize for attendance or other standing had been offered, we feel that the interest of the scholars is still lively, and as it is the intention to offer prizes next year a very high standing may be expected, both in attendance and general proficiency.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY.

Mrs. J. Matherson, secretary-treasurer of the Ladies' Aid Society, submitted the report of the society, showing that the receipts for the year were $212.87, and the disbursements $212.37, leaving a balance on hand of 50c. They had expended considerable money in painting and calsomining the Sunday school hall.

W. F. M. S.

The report of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society was a very interesting epistle, and showed that this branch of the church work was in a healthy condition. The membership of the society is 52.

MISSION BAND.

Miss L. Allen, in submitting the report of the Mission Band of the church, said that in November a special Thanksgiving meeting was held which was well attended, the offering amounting to $12. The membership during the year was 54. The total amount raised was $41.13. In conclusion we extend a cordial invitation to all young ladies of the congregation to join our Band.

BOY'S GUILD.

The report of the Junior Boy's Guild presented by S. Laing, in reviewing the successful season the Guild had, said:—

One night in each month is occupied in a social way, another night is given to papers and debates while two nights are set apart for Endeavour study. They have a large number on the roll with a steadily increasing membership each meeting.

A field in the western part of the town has been leased form Mr. Hatton for a term of five years at the rate of $20.00 per year, part of which is raised by a small membership fee.

WILLING WORKERS.

The Willing Workers' Mission Band submitted an encouraging report as did also the Y.P.S.C.E., of St. Andrew's.

MANAGER'S REPORT.

There was very little discussion of the Managers' Report which was decidedly brief, in view of the fact that a surplus was shown, and it did not call for the criticism it may have aroused in former years.

The matter of increased accommodation for the congregation was discussed. It has become quite evident that the present edifice is not large enough to accommodate the congregations attending St. Andrew's, and the matter of how to overcome the difficulty was referred to the Board of Managers to look into and to report thereon at a latter date.

Mr. Andrew McFarlane, Wm. Thompson and others spoke of the prosperous condition of St. Andrew's.

Mr. Lloyd was appointed a manager in place of Mr. Adam Graham, removed from Peterborough, and Messrs. J. D. Tully and Wm. Thompson were also re-elected.

Rev. J. G. Potter was re-elected as a member of the Hospital Board.

Rev. Mr. Potter in speaking on the subject of the Hospital Management, stated that we had now one of the best managed hospitals in Canada.

Mr. Wm. Fowler was appointed on the Central Charity Board as a representative of St. Andrew's church.

During the evening refreshments were served by the ladies of the congregation.

PASTOR RESIGNS.

Rev. H. J. Hannah of Park Street Baptist Church is Resigning.

The congregation of the Park street Baptist church and the citizens of Peterborough will be sorry to hear of the resignation of Rev. J. H. Hannah, the pastor of that church.

Rev. Mr. Hannah leaves in six weeks, but his future plans have not as yet been definitely announced.

Mr Hannah has shown himself to be an able minister in the past and a devoted pastor of Park street church, and he is greatly esteemed by everyone with whom he came in contact.

Several small accounts were presented and referred to the Finance Committee, with instructions to pay when certified.

A resolution was passed giving the chairman and secretary the necessary power to borrow $4000 from the Bank of Toronto to pay the current expenses of the Board, until the taxes are collected for the year.

The Board then adjourned.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

Last night the Marks Bros., assisted by Miss May A. Bell-Marks, performed "Under Two Flags" with great success, it being far and above the best play put on the boards during their visit here. The whole cast acted admirably, of course, Miss Bell-Marks and Mr. W. L. Stewart, respectively taking the parts of "Cigarette" and "Bertie Cecil," were the chief characters in the drama, and as such did credit to their company. John C. Connolly in a dual role of Baroni, a money lender, and Col. Chanteroy; Will C. Willard as Rake, (Bertie's valet) and Miss Margie Steers as Lady Guinevere, are worthy of special mention for the admirable way in which they played their allotted parts. The audience experienced no waiting between the acts, in spite of a lapse of 12 years between acts one and two, there being an abundant supply of specialties the best of which were the illustrated songs sung by Miss Bell-Marks and the moving pictures worked by Mr. Will Hill. The Opera House was crowded and the audience was well pleased with the excellence of the play in general.

Kidney Trouble Quickly Cured

For Four Weeks, Mr. T. J. Coo, of Toronto, Was Confined to His Bed in a Paralyzed Condition, Unable to Move.

Drug Preparations Did Him No Good, But Powley's Liquified Ozone Soon Destroyed the Disease Germs.

The Second Dessert-Spoonful Gave Him Marked Relief---In Two Days He Was on His Feet and in Less Than a Week at Work at His Office.

After the miraculous cure Ozone performed on myself I feel it my duty to you and to suffering humanity to give you my testimonial regarding your most wonderful remedy.

I lay on my back for four weeks with a most acute attack of kidney trouble. I was so ill that I was unable to move in my bed. I was in a paralyzed condition in the region of the Lumbar Vertebra. I employed, whom I consider, one of Toronto's best physicians, but after four weeks' treatment I was little (if any) better.

While in this condition I read an advertisement about a cure of kidney trouble by Ozone, and decided to try a bottle. After the second dessert-spoonful I felt a marked relief. After using Ozone for two days I was able to stand on my feet for the first time in four and a half weeks and the fourth day I was strong enough to walk around. On the sixth day I came to my office and have been attending to my business ever since.

I feel that I cannot find words with which to express what Ozone has done for me, and I will be most pleased to meet any person or persons you may wish to send to me in regard to the above.

I have the honor to be,
Yours very truly,
(Signed) T. J. COO,
Mechanical Superintendent Creelman Bros.' Typewriters.

MR. T. J. COO.

Kidney Troubles Cannot Exist Where Ozone Is Used. Here Is More Home Proof.

Besides being a most prevalent trouble kidney disease is a most dangerous one. Hundreds of people are suffering from kidney disease to-day and do not know what ails them. They know they are in a languid, half-sick condition, but do not know the exact cause of it. Kidney trouble, besides being dangerous in itself, leads to many other complications, and if neglected the entire system soon becomes disarranged. The most perfect safeguard against kidney trouble and the most certain cure is Powley's Liquified Ozone. As in the case of Mr. Coo, it immediately destroys the germs causing the disease, with the natural result that a speedy and permanent cure is effected. Here are a few of the many Canadians who have been cured of kidney trouble by this great drugless preparation:

THE LIBERAL WINS

ANTI-ASIATIC MAN LOSES.

Ex-Lieutenant-Governor McInnes Loses His Deposit—Incomplete Returns Indicate That Mr. MacPherson, the Liberal Candidate, Will Have a Hundred Majority Over Mr. Foley—MacPherson's Pledges.

Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 5.—Chiefly through the intrusion of former Lieut.-Governor McInnes, who split the labor Conservative vote, Mr. Robert G. Macpherson, the Liberal candidate, held the seat for Burrard for the Liberal party in the bye-election yesterday, necessitated by the lamented death of Mr. George R. Maxwell. The majority from Vancouver City and four rural polling stations is 76, and this will probably be increased to 125 or 150 when all returns are in. The election in the city, which contains fully four-fifths of the total vote, was the closest that has ever been recorded, the whole secret of Mr. Foley's strong running being the intensity of feeling in this western Province as to the necessity of drastic measures for the prohibition of Asiatic immigration, which Mr. Foley made his one and only plank. Mr. Macpherson is a vigorous young man, and is pledged to do his utmost to advance Asiatic immigration restriction.

The returns are not yet complete.

Vancouver City and four rural districts give Macpherson a lead of 76, while McInnis' loss of his deposit is certain. The indications are that the Liberal majority will exceed one hundred when all the returns are in.

A. C. P. R. press despatch says:—Results of the British Columbia elections for Burrard are:—Macpherson, 1,738; Foley, 1,074; McInnes, 342. Atlin yet to hear from.

ADAM S. CASE'S CASE.

It Is Practically Concluded and Judgment Will Be Reserved.

Toronto, Feb. 5.—Before Mr. Justice Britton yesterday, Barrister A. Mills moved for a writ of mandamus to compel Magistrate Denison to impose a penalty of $400 and one year's imprisonment on Adam S. Case, convicted of personation during the referendum vote. Case and four others—Valentine Heffner, Vincent O'Neil, George Armstrong and Bernard Tyrell—were all convicted on similar charges and fined $50 each. The Temperance Society objected to the lightness of this sentence, their reading of the act being that the magistrate had no option but to enforce the penalty of a year's imprisonment. An appeal to the Attorney-General bringing no results, they took the initiative themselves, and yesterday's motion was the result. Mr. Mills is asking to have Judge Britton himself pronounce the sentence, a recent statute having had, Mr. Mills says, the effect of giving the judge this power. In default of this he asks for a mandamus to compel Magistrate Denison to do so.

The conviction of Case is the test by which the fate of the other four will be decided, it having been agreed to direct the argument to this one case alone.

The matter will be up again for a few minutes this morning, and judgment will be reserved.

BRITISH COLUMBIA CLAIMS.

Premier Prior and Attorney-General Eberts Press Sir Wilfrid.

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—E. G. Prior, Premier of British Columbia, and Attorney-General Eberts waited upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. James Sutherland, Hon. A. G. Blair and Hon. R. W. Scott yesterday and made application for better terms for British Columbia.

They argued that a larger subsidy should be given owing to the cost of constructing public works and railways in British Columbia as compared with the other provinces, and because of the fact that British Columbia pays more into the Federal exchequer in the form of excise and custom duties than do other parts of Canada.

HOW MANY WOMEN HAVE TO DO THIS FROM DAY TO DAY?

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS are a blessing to women in this condition. They cure Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Palpitation of the Heart, Faint and Dizzy Spells, Weakness, Listlessness, and all troubles peculiar to the female sex.

Mrs. James Taylor, Salisbury, N.B., in recommending them says: About eight months ago I was very badly run down, was troubled greatly with palpitation of the heart and would get so dizzy I would have to leave my work and sit down. I seemed to be getting worse all the time, until a friend advised me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I can truthfully say that they do all you claim for them, and I can recommend them to all run-down women.

NOVA SCOTIA MINES.

Removal of Soft Coal Duty Will Be Strongly Opposed.

Halifax, Feb. 5.—The Nova Scotia coal mine-owners and operators held a meeting yesterday, and at its close issued the following statement: "At a meeting of the coal owners and operators of Nova Scotia, today, the condition of the coal trade was informally discussed. As the rebate of the duty for one year on coal entering the United States was a temporary measure, intended solely for the relief of the situation in the country, the meeting unanimously decided that similar action of Canada would injuriously affect the Nova Scotia coal trade. It was strongly felt that the action of Congress was of a temporary character, and that the Canadian coal trade would not be materially benefited."

Had Nervous Prostration.

Mrs. S. W. West, Drayton, Ont., states: "I got terribly run down and finally became a victim of nervous prostration. I had no appetite, seemed to lose interest and ambition and could scarcely drag myself about. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I used three boxes with great benefit gaining eleven pounds. It made me strong and well and I had such an appetite that I wanted to be eating half the time."

Berlin, Feb. 4.—The German Government has decided to readmit the Jesuits, who since July, 1872, have been excluded from Germany.

Chancellor Von Buelow, in the Reichstag yesterday, said he would use his influence to instruct the Prussian members of the Bundesrath to support the repeal of the anti-Jesuit law, so far as to permit individual German and foreign Jesuits to reside in Germany, but not to allow the founding of Jesuit Chapters, which the Chancellor believed the confederated Governments would not accept.

The Chancellor's announcement caused a sensation.

HOW ENGLAND LOSES TRADE.

Liverpool Shipowners Condemn Laws—Favor Imperial Control.

Liverpool, Feb. 4.—The Shipowners' Association here yesterday adopted a report strongly condemning the antiquated shipping laws, which are said to be gradually forcing the carrying trade of the world into the hands of foreigners. The report demands Imperial control of the mercantile marine and the lighthouse service, instead of the present colonial regulation, and also holds that foreign vessels within the jurisdiction of the British courts should be held answerable for claims in which British subjects are interested.

will never be cured by the false, unnatural stimulation of liquor. First increase your vitality, build up the system, strengthen and purify the blood — then the heart will respond and grow strong.

Ferrozone is precisely what to take. It gives you an appetite and a digestion that will look after everything that is eaten. Ferrozone improves nutrition, makes rich vitalizing blood, and is positively the most powerful restorative and strengthener known to medical science; it improves the nerve tone, regulates the heart's action, makes the feeble strong and the sick well. Ferrozone will do you untold good, and costs only 50c., at Ormond & Walsh's.

It is not known how serious his injuries are, but his recovery is thought to be assured.

Do You Look on the Dark Side?

Are You Blue, Discouraged Irritable and Depressed?—It may be Your Nerves are Exhausted and You Need

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Irritability and mental depression, sometimes amounting to melancholy and despondency, are marked symptoms of nervous exhaustion.

In the beginning you feel languid and tired, find it impossible to concentrate your thoughts. The tasks of the day are put off till the morrow, little things worry you, you forget your blessings and look on the dark side of things.

At times there may be nervous headaches, spells of dizziness, indigestion, sleeplessness and general weakness of the body. You dread what the future may bring to you and feel the work and responsibilities of life more than you can bear.

Mrs. M. A. Sharp, 346 Dublin street, Peterborough, Ont., states:

"For some years I was troubled with indigestion which developed into nervous dyspepsia and besides suffering from nervousness, strange, dizzy spells would come over me. Hearing of the good results obtained from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I decided to try it. After a pretty thorough test of this medicine I can say that I never used anything that did me so much good. It seemed to be the very treatment that I needed and as a result of its use I am quite restored to health."

The wonderful medicinal power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been demonstrated in thousands of cases. Gradually and certainly it creates new nerve cells, builds up the system, and overcomes the weakness which gives rise to nervous ailments and feelings of depression and despondency. New hopes, new confidence, new vitality are instilled into the body and health and strength take the place of disease.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

WILL PRAY FOR SPRING.

Thirteen Fishing Vessels Frozen in an Ice Floe.

St. John's, Nfld., Feb. 4.—According to official advices, there is no hope of escape until spring for ten American and three colonial fishing vessels, with cargoes of herring, which are frozen in an ice floe in the Bay of Islands. The proposal to despatch a sealing schooner to cut them out has been abandoned because the whole of the Gulf of St. Lawrence is full of floe ice, which the schooners would be unable to work through, even if they were freed from the icefield in the bay.

THE GRANGERS.

Patrons of Industry Hold Their Annual Meeting—Free Rural Mail Delivery Advocated—Other Topics.

Toronto, Feb. 5—The Patrons of Husbandry, commonly known as the Grangers, are in annual convention here. Forty-five delegates are present, and they expect to finish their work to-day. The feature of yesterday's meeting was the speech delivered by Jabel Robinson, M.P., who, in characteristic manner, touched up topics of vital interest to the yeomen of Canada.

Mr. Robinson said that, while no new granges have been organized during the past year, no charters have been surrendered, and a number of granges have added materially to their membership. He believed the order could be greatly increased, for the Canadian farmer never seemed to value unity of effort so much as he does now.

The President then discussed at length the tariff, the preservation of Canada's coal fields for the use of the people, the transportation question, the quality of immigrants, the payment of a proper share of taxes by monopolists and millionaires, the rout of the lobby in Parliament and Legislatures, the cattle guards question, drainage beneath railways and free rural mail delivery. On this topic he said:

"Free rural mail delivery would be a great boon to the farmers. It might not be a success in some of the sparsely settled districts, but it should be tried in some of the older and thickly settled parts of our country. I know of nothing that would do as much to make farm life enjoyable and help to keep the young and old folks on the farm as a mail delivered once a day. Our farmers who do not already do so are all anxious to take a daily paper and keep in touch with the outside world. Unless they got a mail at least once a day, the farmer cannot properly attend to his business If the Postmaster-General, instead of going back to the old system of the weekly mail, as is talked of in some cases, will only stretch out his hand and reach the farmers every day, then will they have some reason to believe that the title of Sir William was not given in vain."

The various committees were struck, and will report this morning at 9.

In the afternoon a delegation of the Farmers' Association, comprised of Messrs. MacLeod, Wilson, Beam, Annis and Smith, were present, and asked the co-operation of the Patrons in sending a representative to Ottawa to demand the appointment of a Railway Commission. Messrs. Lyle, Goodfellow, Jabel Robinson, Henry, Gros and George Fisher spoke, and it was decided to send the representative. This Railway Commission has been promised, Mr. Robinson said, every session for twenty years.

Brampton Councillors Unseated.

Toronto, Feb. 5.—There will have to be a new election of the six councillors of Brampton. The court held yesterday that the town clearly violated the law by holding the nominations at ten o'clock instead of at noon, because all towns of less than five thousand must hold the nominations at noon, and only towns of greater population can pass the by-law Brampton did to hold them at ten. This is the judgment of the Master-in-Chambers.

British Settlers For Canada.

London, Feb. 5.—The Elder-Dempster Company wire from Liverpool to W. T. R. Preston, the Canadian Commissioner of Emigration, that the Rev. Mr. Barr's party of British settlers is assuming gigantic proportions. Remittances are received mostly by bankers and the rush of drafts is so great that they are obliged to double their clerical staff.

Labor Department Report.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 5.—The annual report of the Labor Department has made its appearance. It is for the fiscal year ending June 30th last, and shows that the department has had a busy year. The report gives an interesting summary of the years work.

Despaired of Being Cured.

Mrs. W. E. Jeffries, 44 Hicks avenue, Kingston, Ont., says: "I suffered agony with itching piles. In fact I don't believe that any person who has not had piles can realize what I endured. The first application of Dr. Chase's Ointment brought me relief, and it has since entirely cured me. I hope that this testimonial will be the means of bringing comfort to other sufferers by making known the great power of this ointment."

Swelling Her Income.

A good story is told of a man who one day told his wife that he would give her all the silver pieces she found in his purse or pockets which were coined the year she was born.

As a result the lady in due course of time had quite an amount of silver on hand—so much, in fact, that she went to the bank and deposited it in her name.

Then, speaking to the cashier, the lady said: "My husband tells me you are going to pay him some money to-day. Will you please pay him in this silver I have just deposited? I should be so much obliged to you if you would."

Of course the cashier quickly replied that he would be happy to please her.

As a result the lady has still more birthday money.—London Answers.

Recognized the Smell.

The sexton of an Episcopal church in Boston has many stories to tell of the remarks and comments made by visitors.

One Christmas when the church was beautifully decorated with cedars and firs an old lady walked up the aisle to the chancel and stood sniffing the air after every one else had left the church.

"Don't it smell solemn?" she said at last to the sexton as she turned away with evident reluctance. "I don't know as I ever realised just what the 'odor of sanctity' meant before today. We don't have any such trimmings in the church attend up in the country."

New York, Feb. 5.—Bull sentiment increasing under the very strong array of bullish conditions and some of the larger operators and pools have begun to take advantage of it. It is believed that before long outsiders will come in and we will have a broader and active market and higher prices. Wabash Road was granted right to enter Pittsburg, by council last night.

M. & M.

Late London cables report market much better on still easier money, and general confidence that the Venezuela matter will be settled now almost any day.

McDonald, Strong, Sturgis buying Erie. Norfolk is the next coaler to move.

O. & W., P. C. holding firm. Brokers report better buying coming in with business pretty well distributed throughout the list. Best buying in St. P., U. P., S. P., P. A., and Coalers. Nothing but bull talk.

Sales first hour, 200,000. There is a lot of bullish news out on Steel, in addition to report of earnings and successful profit sharing. Statement has been given out that it is shortly to acquire some valuable iron mines in the North West, owned by J. J. Hill.

M. & M.

Messrs. Haight & Freese have received the following:—

New York, Feb. 5th—There is nothing to prevent some further improvement in the stock market to-day, especially in those issues which have not enjoyed an aggressive advance, including Atchs., Chicago, G. W., Readings and Southern Pacific. We are bullish on Rock Island and would not be surprised to see Manhattan and Ill. C. work higher. There ought to be some irregularity today for the advance leaves room for reaction in some issues and therefore the taking of fair returns is good policy. The Venezuelan question continues to be ignored and the money situation remains favourable. London strong.

TOPICS.

New York, Feb. 5th.—The buying of both hard and soft coalers is good. It looks as if these properties will lead the market. There is a substantial short interest in sugar. Higher prices for sugar are inevitable, between this and dividend meeting on the 12th, action it is said will be taken on St. Paul rights. Big bull points emanating from excellent sources are current on St. Paul. Good buying of R. I. issues. Copper, steels and Eries are good to hold.

THE GAME IN BELLEVILLE.

Many Peterborough People Were at the Game—A Great Crowd Present.

The Belleville Intelligencer contains the following account of the Port Hope-Belleville game in that city:—

Belleville won last night's game and the group championship.

O-N-T-A-R-I-O,
When you meet Belleville down you go.

And that's no idle five o'clock tea joke, either. Belleville's crack hockey team beat Port Hope's fast aggregation in the rink last night in about the most viciously-contested match seen in many a long day. The visitors came down primed up with all sorts of confidence, engendered by their two victories over Peterborough, but they found a better team waiting for them, and the inevitable result followed.

Many visitors came to the city yesterday, Port Hope, Cobourg, Trenton and Peterborough sending their quotas. Front street in the afternoon was lined with be-ribboned crowds, who could talk of nothing but hockey. It was strange, but most of the visitors could see nothing in it but Port Hope—but they're wisor now.

The band was playing cheerfully, and as one looked around and saw the many strange faces he realized that the "white and taas" were not going to be without somebody to do a little shouting for them. A bunch from Peterborough caught the attention of the crowd upstairs, who playfully shouted a few remarks at them. C. Graham, one of Peterborough's players, was in the number, and there was a great roar of laughter as he turned aroud, dived into his inside pocket and brought out a bunch of Peterborough ribbons, which he waved with defiant merriment at the crowd.

What is puzzling a good many people who saw the match last night is,—How did that Port Hope team beat Peterborough so handily?

It certainly does appear that, on good ice, with all the rough tactics cut out, Belleville could easily double any score Port Hope could make.

And it all goes to show that, though a team may have a Toronto trainer and a Peterborough trainer, they can't win unless they have the goods to back it up.

However, the first series of games is over and Belleville won handsomely. Some of the boys have bruises to show, but the glory of twice beating teams like the Ports and the Petes will help to make them forget. With the plaudits of the crowd still ringing in their ears they can afford to let bygones be bygones. By the time next season comes round the old enmities will have been forgotten.

T. A. S. Playing Lakefield This Evening.

Keene and Norwood Play Here Monday Evening—Bankers' Match on Saturday Night.

HOCKEY.

A great amount of interest is being taken in the hockey match between the Imperial Bank team of Toronto and the Ontario Bank team of Peterborough, which is to take place at the Brock street rink on Saturday next.

The Imperial Bank team is a good one, and the home Bank team will have their work cut out to defeat them.

The game will start at 8.30 sharp and considering the gossip and enthusiasm displayed, especially by the ladies, a large and fashionable attendance is expected to cheer on the Ontario Bank to victory. As yet the Ontario Bank team has not been picked, but will be practically the same one as played and defeated the combined banks of town last week.

* * * *

Owing to Keene and Norwood being a tie for the eastern district of the Trent Valley League, the Secretary of the League, on the recommendation of the members of the Executive, has ordered that the existing tie be played off at Peterborough on Monday next.

The game will be played in the Brock street rink, and the puck placed at 8.30 sharp. The match is expected to arouse considerable interest, Norwood sending a special train to convey their admirers, while Keene will also bring a large number to witness the game between two such evenly matched teams. Keene and Norwood are old rivals and it is likely that some exciting incidents will take place.

* * * *

The T.A.S. team will go to Lakefield this evening. This will be the final match in district No. 2 in the Trent Valley League, and should Lakefield succeed in defeating the locals, the two teams will be tied. As is only natural Lakefield will strive to become the victors and not the vanquished. That team has a fast aggregation, and they are able to play the best of hockey. The T.A.S. are in the pink of condition and an exciting match is expected to ensue. As the seating capacity of the Lakefield rink is none too great a large number of friends will not accompany the Peterborough team, it being surmised that the Lakefield populace will make up the complement. Mr. Ernie Wasson, ex-goal keeper of the Peterborough team will officiate as referee.

WANT PEEL PARDONED.

It is time that the O.H.A. executive took some action to remove the ban placed some time ago upon Mr. Harry Peel, says the London Free Press, one of the finest and most gentlemanly players that London ever had the honour of playing on the ice. Unable to play in Ontario, it was more his love for the great game, than any special pecuniary reward that induced him to go to Pittsburg last year. The team with which he is now connected, the St. John's A. C., of this city, is now out of the championship running for the present year, and Mr. Peel's fine ability as a hockey player would not become a factor in the O. H.A. race until the 1904 season, even if he were reinstated at once.

Meanwhile it is hard on both the club and Mr. Peel that he cannot take part in the exhibition games that the Saints are to play this winter. It would be a graceful act and one that would be much appreciated by London lovers of the game, if the executive would at its earliest convenience remove the ban against his name, a stigma that is no longer deserved, inasmuch as Mr. Peel's amateur status is now undoubted, he having turned down repeated and tempting offers to go to Pittsburg, and to Houghton, Mich. Moreover his connection with the St. John's club is sufficient guarantee that he will live up to the purest ideals of amateur sport. It is up to the O.H.A. executive to temper justice with mercy in this case.

CURLING.

COMPLICATIONS IN PRIMARIES.

Secretary Jas. A. Macfadden of the Ontario Curling Association, has received a couple of protests in connection with the Ontario Tankard primary games.

The Orillia Club asks for another meeting with Collingwood in Group No. 4, on the ground that the umpire erred in making them play Barrie, after Barrie had defaulted to Bobcaygeon.

In Group No. 5, the Peterborough Granites and Thistles want the privilege of playing a game, the winner to meet Lindsay to decide the northern half of the group. They claim the ice was too soft last week when play was ordered, and Lindsay beat Beaverton, the only competitor.

SKATING.

At the Brock street Skating Rink to-night there will be a matched race for the championship of the County of Peterborough, between Oliver Dusty and Walter Jackson. Mr. W. Genno will give an unique exhibition of jumping on skates. There will be skating from 8 o'clock to 8.30 o'clock, at which time the race will commence and after the race and jumping exhibitions are finished, the spectators will be again allowed on the ice.

There was a large attendance at the annual meeting of the Orange County Lodge, held in the Orange Hall last Tuesday night, and a large amount of business was transacted.

Committees were formed to make arrangements to entertain members of the Grand Lodge of Ontario East which meets here in March.

The following officers were elected:

W. Northcutt.....D of C
Maxwell E. Weir.....Lecturer
W. J. Stewart.....Dept. do
D. H. Chamberlard.....do

The Master was installed by Past County Master J. A. McWilliams, and in turn installed the remaining officers.

After the installation Bro. J. B. McWilliams, County Master, on behalf of the County Lodge, presented Bro. Sidney B. Weir with the following address and a certificate of honorary life membership in the County Lodge. The address was as follows:

Sidney Weir, Esq.,
Secretary West Peterborough L.O.L.

Dear Sir,—On this occasion of your leaving our county, we, the officers and members of the West Peterborough County Loyal Orange Lodge desire to express our great regret at your departure and our high appreciation of your services to the Order in this County. As Master of L.O.L. No. 49, as District Master and as Secretary of the County Lodge you have rendered most faithful and efficient service for many years and we feel keenly the loss which our Lodge sustains in your in your removal. We take this opportunity of expressing both our regret and our heartiest wishes for your prosperity in all things in your new home and our confidence that you will there also render excellent service and win honor and advancement in the cause of our beloved Order.

We have much pleasure in now presenting you with a Certificate of Honorary Life Membership in this County Lodge which the Lodge has by unanimous vote been pleased to confer upon you.

Signed on behalf of the County Lodge of West Peterborough.

J. B. McWILLIAMS,
County Master.
W. H. G. ARMSTRONG,
County Secretary.

Bro. Weir made a suitable acknowledgment, thanking the members for the high honour just conferred.

It was at the unanimous request of the members of the lodge that Bro. J. B. McWilliams consented to accept the position of County Master this year. It was just thirty-two years ago that he was first elected County Master, and since then he has filled the position more than one-half the time, and he felt that he had had his share of the honour from the county. It is seldom, if ever, that any man can hold the position and esteem of any society for so many years and it must have been very gratifying to Bro. McWilliams, after such a long service, to be elected to the position without one dissenting voice.

THE 33RD PROVINCIAL Y.M.C.A. CONVENTION.

Mayor Roger, Peterborough, Elected 1st Vice-President.

MANY DELEGATES ARE IN ATTENDANCE.

The Provincial Committee's Report—Many Recommendations—Made—The Evening Session in St. Paul's was Largely Attended.

The thirty-third annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Association, of Ontario and Quebec, opened in the Murray street Baptist church here yesterday afternoon at 2 p.m. There was not a very large attendance at the opening hour, it increased, however, later on. The singing of Association hymns with which the proceedings began, was splendidly hearty, and was led by Mr. R. J. Koffend, Secretary of the Orillia Association, who, with Mr. H. M. Gilchrist, Secretary at Stratford, led the singing during the day sessions, and Mr. Archie Browde, former assistant secretary of the local Association acting as organist.

The chair was taken by Mr. Henry Yeigh, President of the Young Men's Christian Association. Devotional exercises consisted of singing and reading of a Scripture lesson by J. J. Garishore, of Toronto — Ephesians, chapter vi.—and prayer, led by Rev. W. J. Jolliffee, B.C.L., pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church.

The President in his opening remarks expressed the cause for gratitude the convention in a retrospect of the good Association work of the past year.

PREPARATION.

The business proper of the convention opened with an address by Rev. John McNichol, B.A., Toronto Bible Training School, on the subject of "Preparation." The reverend gentleman began his address by inviting the audience to quietly and unhurriedly consider their relation to Jesus Christ.—"Ye are not your own," "Ye are bought with a price"—"Ye are Christ's" expressed in the Apostles' words, our relation to the Master. We belonged to Christ, who demanded all our service; we belonged to Christ and all that we had, all that we did and thought. Our thoughts, our wills and our ambitions must be in accordance with Christ's will, our motives must always be to please Christ. All that we had—our time—if we had no other possessions belonged to Christ and His service and work. Our means great or small belonged also to Him, and even our business belonged to Him, and should not be divorced from our religious life. Our pleasures also belonged to Him. Christ had purchased us outright, we were His, and it was not fair to accept His salvation without recognizing His claims to our perfect and undivided service. If we accepted Christ as our Master the whole responsibility was transferred to Christ. He blotted out our evil past. He became responsible for our conflict with temptations, responsible for our characters which could only be noble and stable when moulded by Jesus Christ working upon our lives. He was also responsible for our future—if we went to Christ He would decide as to what our life work was to be, what work we had to do—our whole burden was rolled upon Him.

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION

The next business was the appointment of a Committee on Permanent Organization, by the chairman:—Mr. Robert Kilgour, Toronto; Mr. E. G. Struthers, Galt; Mr. T. W. Graham, University College, Toronto, with Mr. R. J. Risk, Secretary, pro. tem.

OPPORTUNITY.

Mr. J. W. Hopkins, of Woodstock, read a paper on "Opportunity among the young men of our local fields." Woodstock was taken as the basis of discussion. A census of the town was taken and the total number of youths, lads, young and old men was found to be a certain number—3,636. These divided into classes showed 29 per cent. of clerks were connected with Association work, of mechanics 6 per cent.; labourers 9 per cent., and students 4 per cent. On Jan. 18th the church attendance, between 5 and 10 years was, morning and evening respectively, 26 and 18 per cent.; from 10 to 16 years 21 and 22 per cent.; 16 to 40 years 20 and 32 per cent.; from 40 up, 26 and 28 per cent. A total of 1,856 out of 3,636, or 29 per cent. The attendance at the Sunday School was 685 out of 3,636, or 19 per cent., divided as follows:—5 to 10 years, 218, or 61 per cent.; 10 to 16, 287, or 55 per cent.; 16 to 40, 137, or 8 per cent.; 40 and up, 43, or 4 per cent.

Of the attendance at the midweek prayer meeting, only about 3 per cent. were present, and of the balance investigation showed that there were in aimless walking about the streets, theatres, billiard rooms, etc., —694 in streets, 720 in halls, 218 in theatres, 53 in clubs, public library 5. In regard to church membership — from 5 to 10 years of age, 18 per cent; from 10 to 16 years, 17 per cent.; from 16 years and up, 49 per cent.; or 1849 out of 3636 of the male population. Of the above number, 151 or 6 per cent of the young men were doing active church work, and of the older 179, or 16 per cent. The Y.M.C.A. record of one week was, attendance daily, 100; debating society, 55; Sunday Bible Class, 10; young men's meeting, 60; male chorus, 22; gymnasium class, 25. The speaker then went on to show what a broad field of opportunity presented in the average town, of which Woodstock was, he thought, a fair type. These opportunities applied to all departments of association work. The conclusion generally of the department dealt with showed that the Y.M.C.A., had as yet vague ideas of the work and opportunities for work that lay at its hands.

In answer to incidental questions in the discussion that followed, the lecturer stated that the church membership mentioned, referred only to Protestant churches. The taking of the census mentioned had stimulated association work locally. There were about 62 men engaged in taking the census. The discussion revealed the fact that it was not the question of cost that kept the boys out of the association, for they found money to play billiards, visit theatres, and see hockey matches, but because there was a failure in getting boys interested. The discussion turned upon the difficulty of presenting attractions that would appeal alike to, and secure the support of, the clerical and mechanical classes, and it was suggested that separate rooms be provided for the different classes. The problem was to reach indifferent and careless young men, and it was suggested that a special committee be appointed to consider the question of attracting this class. The opinion was expressed that there was necessity of studying and developing the social side of the work. There must be an effort to cater to different tastes, and there must be special and better equipment for the social work. There must be effort to get the men together, and with proper equipment the question of social affiliation would solve itself.

The singing of the hymn, "Work, for the Night is Coming," followed, and the manner of its rendering showed a great deal of excellent singing material in the delegates present.

INTELLIGENT INTEREST.

Mr. Percy H. Williams, of the West End Y.M.C.A., Toronto, spoke on the subject, "An Opportunity to Increase Intelligent Interest in the Local Associations." For over half a century, he said, the Y.M.C.A. had been devoted to the watchword, "Opportunity," yet it was sometimes charged, and quite oppositely too, that in many respects the real object had been lost sight of. Some secretaries were depending too much upon personal magnetism. There must be an intelligent, definite and permanent organization and an efficient working force for the advancement of the various departments of work. Education in the world-wide field and work carried on was urged instead of constant appeals on behalf of local work.

The paper "Association Men," was the same to Association work as a financial paper was to capitalists, and it was submitted that it was worth trying in association work to developing the local constituency. The subject had been talked over in other conventions, but lack of success was perhaps due to imperfect distribution, which should be principally among contributors to association work of certain sums. We should take every means to make use of our opportunities, and among these one of the best was the publication known as "Association Men," which costs 50 cents per year, or 4c per copy for special distribution.

Mr. C. M. Copeland said that the great need of association work was well educated, and well-informed secretaries, officials and directors.

After singing and prayer, the session closed.

EVENING SESSION.

Held in St. Paul's and Addressed by Messrs. Brace and Barkley.

The convention of the Young Men's Christian Association was held in the body of St. Paul's church last night at 7.30 o'clock, the seating capacity of the church being taxed to the utmost. The ceremonies were opened by the singing of one or two favourite hymns such as "Onward Christian Soldiers." A few verses from the Book of 2nd Prophets were then read by Rev. J. A. Wilson, assistant pastor of St. Paul's.

Mr. R. Kilgour read the report of of the Committee of Permanent Organization recommending the following gentlemen as officers:—

President—Mr. A. L. Breithaupt, Berlin.

First Vice-President — Mayor G. M. Roger, Peterborough.

Second Vice-President — Mr. J. Thompson, Quebec.

Third Vice-President—Mr. J. J. Copeland, Toronto.

Secretary—Mr. R. J. Risk, Owen Sound.

Assistants—Mr. W. H. Spence, Victoria College; H. A. Pearson, Y.M.C.A. Training School, Toronto.

The report was adopted.

Mr. A. Breithaupt, the newly elected president, in a few words said he thought the honour of being the President of the vast Association was too great a one for him, and that he hoped during his stay in office the Y.M.C.A. would do as good a work as it had done in the past.

Trooper A. J. Brace, who served throughout the South African campaign in the Second Canadian Mounted Rifles, was introduced to the audience, and gave an address on "Our Opportunity Among the Soldiers in South Africa." This is not the first time this hero of Hart's River has been to Peterborough, and those who have ever heard him lecture, will, it is assured, hope it will not be his last visit here. In his address Trooper Brace said that his contingent, the Second, contained some of the roughest characters of Canada—cowboy's and wild men of the West, generally. Here was an opportunity and a great opportunity which Mr. Brace fully grasped to persuade the men to turn from their evil ways. On the voyage to South Africa Trooper Brace and some of his companions organized a Y.M.C.A. and they used to gather on deck to sing hymns, thus attracting uncertain ones to join them. The night before the battle of Heart's River the Y.M.C.A., such as it was, collected together and held a service in which many joined and received salvation before being shot down on the day of that fatal battle. ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING AT BAILLIEBORO

In the Interests of the Sugar Beet Industry.

FARMERS SHOW INTEREST

In the Prospect of a Factory in Peterborough—Dr. Jeffs, T. B. Bradburn and Others Speak.

On Wednesday evening a meeting in the interest of the sugar beet industry was held in the C.O.F. Hall, at Baillieboro. Although the night was very unfavourable still the farmers in that vicinity showed their enthusiasm by turning out in large numbers, there being upwards of 50 or 60 representative farmers present.

Mr. J. W. Dawson was chairman of the evening, and the Peterborough Sugar Company was represented by Mr. T. E. Bradburn, the President; Dr. W. H. Jeffs, Agricultural Superintendent; T. M. Hunter and G. W. Bennett.

Mr. Dawson in opening the meeting referred to the interest he had taken in the question of producing sugar beets and from his sources of information had formed the opinion that the industry would greatly benefit the farmers in this district.

Mr. Bradburn gave an account of what steps the Company had taken to start a sugar factory in Peterborough. The factory would cost to purchase land, erect the building, railway sidings, barges, etc., and equip with modern machinery the sum of $565,000, and would have an annual outlay for beets alone of from $250,000 to $350,000, as well as an additional outlay for lime, coal, coke, barrels, labour, etc., of another $250,000 annually.

Mr Bradburn said that all initial arrangements had now been completed and just as soon as an assured acreage sufficient to keep the factory in operation during the first three years was secured the work of erecting the buildings and plant would commence.

The Company, Mr. Bradburn stated, would accept beets on board cars or barges at various convenient points along the railways and river or lakes, the Company to provide the cars and barges, the farmer to pay freightage of not more than 50 cents per ton by cars and 30 cents per ton by barges.

Mr. J. R. Lucas, a resident of Baillieboro, and one of the parties chosen to experiment for the Government two years ago, said he had been quite convinced by his experience that no other crop or industry would give such good returns to the farmer. Any factory in Peterborough was a good thing for the farmer as the extra consuming capacity brought in by such factories gave the farmer a better market. His experiment in growing beets at $4.00 per ton would have brought him $80.00 per acre as the Government test gave him 20 tons and this, Mr. Lucas said, was even lower than it might have been.

Mr. G. W. Bennett showed how the beets could be grown, cultivated and harvested with little more work than any other root crop especially if the farmer did not undertake too much—and the Company had undertaken to supply farm labourers through the Emigration Department. Blank forms of application were now in the agents of the Company and any one wanting help could procure the forms and make application for whatever kind of help they required. These labourers come from England, Ireland and Scotland and were either single men or men with families as might be required. This Mr. Bennett said was an industry as directly related to the farmer as the cheese making and dairying; it meant the production and manufacture of a staple article of commerce directly from the raw material produced off the farm in the vicinity of the factory, and not only would it open up a new source of profit in farming operations but would also stimulate trade and traffic in our own town and along the river and railways. Taken as a whole it was a good business proposition and if the farmers of this district failed to embrace this opportunity they would make a great mistake.

Dr. W. H. Jeffs was the next called upon. He went very fully into the advantage the beet sugar industry would be to the farmer. The growing of grain could not be done profitably by the Ontario farmer. Dairying and hog raising were now his principal sources of profit. He must seek for some industry that would go hand in hand with these industries. It was found in the cultivation of the sugar beet. This was an industry that went hand in hand with dairying. The cultivation of the sugar beet left the soil in a better condition after the crop was taken off than before it was put in. Then another feature of the business is that the pulp is a very valuable feed for cattle, hogs and sheep. It is just as good a feed as turnips and mangles, and is not pressed as some farmers imagine, but it is in strips as it comes from the pulper. The doctor then went into the comparative figures of growing ten acres of wheat and growing ten acres of sugar beets. These figures are taken from a practical farmer—for the wheat, a man from Victoria County, and for the beets a man in Bay County, Michigan:

Ten Acres of Wheat—Johnston Ellis.

Ploughing	$ 15 00

Total cost	$248 00
Beets delivered to factory received	$430 00
Cost	248 00
Profit 10 acres	$172 00
Profit one acre	17 20

The following figures were taken from the clerk's books of a Bay City factory, by Mr. Johnston Ellis, of Victoria County, who was sent over last year by Victoria County Council to study the industry from the farmer's standpoint:

Pay roll, $3,000 per week.
1,500 patrons average 4 acres a piece grew 6 000 beets, 14 tons to the acre gives 84,000 tons.
Price paid by the factory, $336,000.
Average $56.00 per acre
Average for each patron, $224.00.

Dr. Jeffs then went very fully into the manufacture of the granulated sugar from the sugar beet, tracing it in its various steps.

Mr. T. M. Hunter said that although he had a good wheat growing farm yet he found there was very little profit from growing grain. He had turned his attention to dairying, and although it had been profitable, yet he was going to go into the sugar beet business, and intended to plant 8 acres in the spring. He saw great results to the farmer, especially the dairy farmer, in procuring of cheap feed from the beet pulp.

The meeting altogether was very encouraging, and since the problem of shipping the beets had been assured by the company the farmers look quite favourably upon the proposition and nearly every one present signified their willingness to grow beets. It is expected that from 500 to 600 acres will be grown in South Monaghan the first year.

Mr. Bennett, Mr. Lucas and Mr. Hunter will call on the farmers and close contracts during the coming week.

Divisional Court.—Before Meredith, C. J., and Maclaren, J. A.:—Jones vs. Lakefield Cement Co.—Judgment (E. B. B.) on appeal by plaintiff from the judgment of Britton, J., at the trial at Toronto, dismissing the action which was brought to recover damages for the conversion of a certain derrick and derrick-masts, guy ropes, etc., taken by defendants from the plaintiff's quarries on Eagle Mount Island, in Stony Lake. The defendants took the goods to their works at Young's Point and kept them until after action. They justified by leave and license of plaintiff. Counsel for plaintiff contended, on the evidence, that the finding of the trial Judge was wrong. Held, that the court could not, with a proper regard to what is due to the findings of a Judge who has seen the witnesses, heard the evidence, and come to his conclusion on conflicting testimony, interfere with the result that has been reached. Appeal dismissed with costs. W. R. Smyth for plaintiff. G. H. Watson, K. C., for defendant.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION

The Result of the Pain and Irritation From Hemorrhoids.

Nervous Prostration is often the result of neglecting a case of hemorrhoids or piles; the pain and irritation attendant upon this disagreeable trouble inconveniences and annoys one, but it is possible to go to business and to do the ordinary day's work, so the trouble is neglected until the nerves become exhausted and the patient is a victim of nervous prostration.

Hemorrhoids cause a sensation of heat, tension and itching in a region where is located the most sensitive nerves of the human system and the continued irritation will eventually cause a collapse of the nerves. This would easily have been avoided if the patient had carefully treated the case of piles from their first appearance. No other trouble can be so quickly overcome if treated in an early stage; and even if the case is an old one, there is a remedy which will act with remarkable results if faithfully applied.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is in suppository form and can be conveniently applied to the afflicted parts, the soothing oils and medication reaching and healing the enlarged hemorrhoidal veins of the rectum and acting at once upon the inflamed tissues.

Every sufferer from this trouble should send at once to the Pyramid Drug Company, Marshall, Mich., for their book on Piles or Hemorrhoids, which will be sent free. The Pyramid Pile Cure is so well known and the hundreds cured by it have so advertised it that the little book is merely sent to give each patient a clearer view of his or her particular case and the proper treatment for it.

ALLIES' ULTIMATUM

Venezuelan Measure May Have to Go to The Hague.

"DOINGS" AT WASHINGTON.

President Roosevelt Asked to Assume the Task of Arbitrating the Preferential Claims of the Allies—The Hague Will Get the Case If He Refuses to Act as Arbitrator—A Critical Period.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Irritated by the note of Minister Bowen, the Venezuelan representatives, addressed to the British Ambassador Monday last, refusing to accept the allies proposal for a scheme of preferential payments by which Great Britain, Germany and Italy were to receive twenty per cent. and the remaining eight creditor nations ten per cent. of the customs receipts of La Guayra and Port Cabello, the allied powers have instructed their representatives here to submit the question of preferential treatment to President Roosevelt, and in the event that he declines to act as arbitrator, to take this and positively the entire Venezuelan controversy to The Hague for settlement, thereby breaking off negotiations with Mr. Bowen.

At 10 o'clock to-day at the British Embassy there will be a conference of the representatives here of the allies. In view of the fact that the London Government is now taking the lead in the negotiations the British Ambassador will preside at this conference. In the meantime he expects to have an interview with Secretary of State Hay, whom he will sound as to the probability of the President's acceptance of the allies' request. If it is found that President Roosevelt declines to enter into the negotiations the instructions of the allies are such as to permit steps to be taken to draw up a protocol with Mr. Bowen for reference to The Hague as suggested by him in his note of last Monday. The British Ambassador was the first of the representatives to receive instructions to this effect, and the matter was discussed at the noon-day conference between the three representatives of the allies.

No Policy of Adventure.

Berlin, Feb. 6.—Chancellor Von Buelow, reviewing the political situation in the Reichstag yesterday, said: "I showed sufficiently six years ago that I am far removed from a policy of adventure. The Samoa question was settled to general satisfaction. We came out of the Chinese action with undiminished power, in all honor and with a strengthened position in East Asia. In Venezuela we move on precisely the same lines with England and Italy, upon the path of thoughtful calmness. We only want to secure the lives, property and trade of our people there."

STREET CONTROL.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—The deputation of Mayors and others representing the Union of Canadian Municipalities, were received by the Minister of Justice yesterday afternoon, and given an opportunity to voice their views on proposed telephone legislation.

Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick, in reply, promised to give his opinions in writing. He, however, recognized as a first principle of municipal government, the right of a municipality to control the streets.

Mr. Lighthall, Secretary of the Association of Canadian Municipalities, has received a letter from Mr. Fitzpatrick in which he states that Government ownership of trunk telephone lines is one thing which the municipalities cannot expect.

TIE-UP IN MONTREAL.

1,300 Employes Strike and They Will Endeavor to Prevent Company Getting Out the Cars To-Day.

Montreal, Feb. 6.—If things had not changed radically between midnight and this morning Montreal will have to walk to business, for there is every appearance of a tie up. What was intended as an ultimatum, asking the Street Railway to recognize the Conductors' and Motormen's Union and to give the men more pay was presented yesterday to the management, who, up to midnight, had made no move. Manager Wanklyn declares that some of the men have approached him, and that all the agitation had been conducted by some employes. However, at twelve all the cars stopped, and the men attended a mass meeting at Bonsecours Market, where it was decided to endeavor to prevent the company from getting out the cars. There are 1,300 men employed.

A PRESSING INVITATION.

Native Chief, Aiding Mad Mullah Held on Gunboat.

Aden, Feb. 6. — Advices received here yesterday from Obbia, on the Somali coast of East Africa, say that the Italian Consul there on Jan. 20 invited Yusuf Ali, the Sultan of Obbia, and his eldest son on board the Italian gunboat, where they were detained. This, it is pointed out, removes one of the chief difficulties to the British arrangements for an advance against the Mad Mullah of Somaliland, who depended on the co-operation of the Sultan of Obbia for information and ammunition.

CHINA SITUATION SERIOUS.

Large Army Organized to Go Against the Foreigners.

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 6.—The steamer Empress of China brings further news of the crisis in Northern China. The writers say that the situation is most serious, and that in Kansu a large army is being organized to proceed against the foreigners, and only the exposure of this movement and the aid it is receiving at Pekin will open the eyes of the statesmen of Great Britain, America and Germany to the danger which threatens foreigners in China. All travelers are being searched and letters opened. Caravans of camels are bringing arms and ammunition and stores of food and grain to the rebel headquarters.

CANADA WHEAT IN GERMANY.

Could Not Be Proved That It Was Mixed With American.

Berlin, Feb. 6.—The customs controversy regarding American wheat, which, it was claimed, contained a mixture of Canadian wheat, has been settled by the refunding of the extra duty. The committee of Hamburg and Berlin grain experts who were called in by the customs authorities, reported that it was impossible to prove cases where Canadian wheat was mixed with American. It is believed by the German shippers that the recent agreement with the American exchanges that Canadian wheat certificates must be marked "Bonded" will remove all causes for disagreements in the future.

Had Nervous Prostration.

It made me strong and well and I had such an appetite that I wanted to be eating half the time."

IMPERIAL LIFE.

A Year of Unexceptional Prosperity and Achievements.

Toronto • • The Executive Officials of the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, report that the year just ended has been one of exceptional prosperity and achievements. It is a well known fact that the Imperial Life's past record has been unequalled in life assurance experience in Canada, but the most sanguine of its numerous policy-holders and active representatives throughout the Dominion will be surprised to learn of the following magnificent results:—Applications for assurances aggregated over $4,500,000; the policies actually issued exceeded the large amount of $4,000,000; cash income totalled over $500,000; the accumulated assets reached $1,650,000, while the entire policies of assurance in force exceed $13,500,000. It was also stated that the interest income from investments was again more than sufficient to pay all of the death claims of the year.

Lakefield Defeated T. A. S. Last Night.

Last Night's Curling—Lindsay Curlers Playing Port Hope To-day at Port Hope.

HOCKEY.

The result of the Trent Valley game in Lakefield last night between the T.A.S. and Lakefield came as a surprise to the supporters of the local seven, as it was the general opinion in town that the cold water boys would win out. The game, it is said, was one of the most interesting that has been played in Lakefield in many a day, and when time was up the home team was victorious by a score of 7 to 6. The Lakefield boys put up a good stiff game and naturally feel jubilent over the result of the match. The score at half time was 5—2 in favour of the home team. Mr. Ernie Wasson refereed the match and gave the best of satisfaction to both teams, which are now a tie for the championship of the central district of the Trent Valley League.

The Lindsay Post says concerning the Fenelon-Peterborough game here: "J. McCabe refereed, and according to what the Fenelon boys say, he gave them decidedly the worst of it."

• • • •

Hockey is a good game to watch, but unless those in the game give over the later tactics of deliberately punishing recognized good players, hockey is apt to suffer as severely in the eyes of the general public as lacrosse has from the same cause. Both are fast games to play, full of opportunities for the display of individual superiority, and both on that account appeal to the spectator. But lads with any respect for themselves will think seriously before going into hockey practice, if they know for certain that the highest honour paid to a good player is to have two or more heavyweights assigned to bruise and batter him until he is unable to hold up his end. This is what happened at the Stanley Cup games last year, and what is happening again this year. It may decide the immediate issue, but it is very bad indeed for hockey. — Montreal Herald.

THE SKATING CHAMPIONSHIP.

Oliver Dusty, Champion of This County.

Wonderful Exhibition of Jumping on Skates, by Mr. J. Genno—Numbers of Spectators.

At the Brock street rink last night, a matched race took place between Oliver Dusty and Walter Jackson, for the championship of the County of Peterborough.

The match was arranged in two heats of one mile each, the first was skated in 3 min., 40 sec., while the second heat took 3 min., 58 sec. All through the first heat Dusty kept ahead of his opponent, but in the second one, Jackson took the lead until the 9th lap, when Dusty, who had been skating closely behind him, overtook and past the winning post nearly half a lap in front of his opponent, thus winning the championship of the County of Peterborough.

Dusty seemed to be the favourite throughout and received continued applause from a very large number of people on his success.

Mr. J. Genno, gave a unique and wonderful exhibition of jumping on skates. The first jump was jumping forward over 5 barrels, then 6, and then 7, which is the world's record held by Neilson, but this, in spite of three attempts he was unable to cover, each time tripping on the last barrel. The next exhibition of skill was that of jumping backwards, which he did over two and three barrels, missing four barrels.

Although Mr. Genno had given a fine exhibition of jumping, the best part of the event had not as yet been given, for the next act was to consecutively jump 3, 4, and 5 barrels and next 6 hurdles on one foot, forward.

The two most wonderful feats of jumping on skates had not as yet been shown, for the climax arrived when lastly Mr. Genno jumped firstly 3 barrels, 1 box and 2 chairs, the true length of which can hardly be realized.

Throughout his performance Mr. Genno had received the enthusiastic applause of the wondering and astonished spectators.

OUR COUNTRY ROADS.

To the Editor of The Examiner :

Dear Sir,—In the original surveys the Surveyor General gave instructions to the Provincial Surveyors to lay out on the ground the lots, concessions and side lines according to a scheme fixed in his office, and wholly irrespective of the topograph of the country.. It thus happened that our roads that follow the side lines and concessions are straight lines uphill and down dale regardless of the nature of the ground. If our country was level prarie such roads while not picturesque would yet be ideal, as the shortest distance between two points but in no other respect. But the Legislature realized that the longest way around was often the shortest way home, and so the Municipal law provides for avoiding hills and swamps and enables the municipality to expropriate land for highways so as to get roads better than the straight lines afford in a hilly country, and one would suppose that the intelligence of the people would guide them in selecting road routes that would give the best grades. A road is like a chain, it is no better than its worst part, and if there are hills that will compel one to draw but half a load that road should be condemned. The farmer who draws fifty loads to town which could be drawn in twenty-five is paying very dear for the straight line. Straight roads are weary, that which curves and sweeps around the hillside is altogether pleasanter, and if the grades are better the winding road is a great saving of vehicle, harness, horse-flesh and time—for the trip saved is time which can be well used on the farm.

A bad road is a permanent loss. If th loss imposed by a bad road is capitalised it will represent a sum that would pay for improving that road ten times over. There is no more extravagant waste of money than the maintainance of a bad road. Every load that is drawn over it is tolled in tribute to the stupidity that maintains it. The railway Companies are easing grades, taking out sharp curves, improving the road-bed so as to enable the locomotive to draw two cars where but one was possible before. Surely the farmer who is using up his horse flesh, harness and vehicle on our hilly roads should take a lesson from the railway magnates.

To say that farmers don't realise the economic loss in maintaining hilly roads is to slander them—they do know but they lack the courage to abate evils that are transparent, but which have become venerable. Some day they will wake up and remedy the roads and then the result will be so satisfactory that they will wonder that so long they carried the stone on one side of their horse and the grain on the other—because their fathers did it that way—for that is just what they are doing in maintaining roads over the hill tops which were never intended for roads.

speaker produced a small Bible, which, after the captain of the small squadron had been taken away from him, he managed to extricate from amongst the pile of captured belongings of the men. The gallant trooper described at some length how the rear guard was cut off at that battle, and how for three days the valiant band of six men resisted from 60 to 100 of the enemy, they themselves having nothing to eat, and how at last after two had been killed, the four remaining ones were captured and stripped by the foe. In conclusion the speaker said that he was glad that he had been both a soldier of the King, and also a soldier of the King of Kings.

After the merited applause of Trooper Brace's address had died out, Rev. James Barkley, D. D., gave an address on "Our Opportunity, in view of God's promises and power." Rev. Mr. Barkley expressed a very high opinion of Trooper Brace's work, and remarked that his address would appear very dry when compared to the spirited one delivered by the Trooper Chaplain. Speaking of opportunity, Mr. Blakeley said that opportunity came to the energetic and awaiting, but not to the sluggard, who slept and let opportunity pass by without grasping it. The word "opportunity," when carefully thought out—when its full meaning was grasped—ought to thrill the whole world. There is an opportunity that comes to everyone, that is the opportunity of teaching the Gospel of Jesus Christ. It may not be to be a soldier, but it may be to be an ice man, or the coal man, or some such humble calling. The speaker said he sincerely believed God had made the English language for the purpose of spreading His Gospel. The English vocabulary comprised over 200,000 words, and the language was spoken by more than 100,000,000 people, all over the world. The vastness of evil is a very great opportunity for the ordinary every day human being to grasp—to strive to lessen the sin and wickedness of this world. Just as Wellington, Grant, Roberts, Kitchener, all got their opportunities—so had everybody an opportunity to go forward in the campaign of promoting the knowledge of the Bible and of the Gospel of Christ.

After a hymn had been sung, and Rev. Mr. Barkley had given the benediction, the conference broke up until 9 o'clock this morning.

THIS MORNING'S SESSION.

Committees Appointed—Topic Taken by Mr. H. S. Goodman, of New York

The second session of the convention opened in the Murray street Baptist church, with a large attendance of delegates, and a service of song, led by Mr. H. M. Gilchrist, of Stratford.

Preliminary to devotional exercises, which were conducted by Mr. S. M. Copeland, of Toronto, with prayer, by Mr. Farrell, of Ottawa, an interesting feature was introduced — a general exchange of introduction, each delegate rising and announcing his name, position, in the work, and residence.

Mr. Copeland announced that Rev. Robert A. Orr, of Pittsburg, who was to take the subject, "An Hour with the Word of God," had been called away by illness. In his absence Mr. Copeland himself took the subject, and for his text the 20th chapter of the Acts of the Apostles. The exposition of this Scripture was very minutely and exhaustively made. The deeper meaning of the passages was made plain and most useful lessons impressed.

Mr. A. L. Breithaupt, the newly-elected president, took the chair.

A telegraphic message of greeting was read from Rev. Dr. Johnson, of London, who was with the convention last year, but unable to be present this year.

The president announced the convention committees as follows:

On Provincial Committees' Report R. G. Struthers, Galt; Geo. Irving, McGill University; E. F. Cane, Picton, M. Glass, London; John Thompson, Quebec; J. E. Merritt, Montreal. Mr. C. M. Ober, International Secretary, N.Y., meets with this committee.

Credential Committee — W. J. Wilkie, Belleville; O. A. Jones, Lindsay; J. A. Lawrence, Kingston.

Business Committee. — Henry Yeigh, Brantford; J. W. Hopkins, Woodstock; E. T. Peel, Ottawa.

Committee on Resolutions. — R. B. Cochrane, Toronto University; J. E. Hess, Midland; D. M. Barton, Hamilton; W. S. Hopkins, Sherbrooke; T. J. Wilkie, District Secretary, meets with this committee.

Devotional Committee. — L. J. Thomas, Toronto; C. R. Sayer, London; P. Jameson, Hamilton, R. J. Farrell, Ottawa; J. T. Palmer, Lindsay; E. H. Lacy, St. Thomas, J. H. Crocker, Toronto, J. L. McPherson, meets with this committee.

ASSOCIATION WORK.

Mr. F. S. Goodman, of New York, took the topic, "Our opportunities in view of the religious conditions and needs of our young men."

The subject was dealt with on the basis of the following questions:

1. What is the Association's legitimate field of work?

2. To what extent are the Associations of Ontario and Quebec cultivating the field?

3. Why is it important to improve and enlarge the religious work at this time?

4. Who are responsible for the larger work?

He began by pointing out the prominence that was being given to religious discussion in Young Men's Christian Association work, which was essentially based upon religious consideration. The object of the discussion was to make the Association a greater spiritual force—the manifestation of the power of the Holy Spirit in young men's lives to better the life of the young man in all his faculties—spiritual, social, physical and intellectual. The religious work of the Association was, to the fabric of the organization, what the blood of the body was to the life of the man. The first field of Association work was the 12,000 members of the Association in Ontario and Quebec, of which about 45 per cent. were members of churches. The influence Association members exerted, as was elicited by questions to delegates, was that they influenced twice their number outside the Association, making that many in actual touch with the work. There were 215,000 boys and young men in the Association field. With 40,000 under Association influence, left 175,000 as the unworked field in the organized sphere of the Association's action. In Ontario and Quebec there were 7 railway and 28 city Associations, and of these 22 had Bible study classes, and out of a total membership of 12,800, there were 1814, or 14.2 per cent., who attended Bible classes. In the two provinces the total attendance at the Associations was 21,000 per week, of which 900, or 4.7 per cent., attended Bible classes. In the provincial city associations the weekly attendance was 10,460, of which the weekly attendance at Bible classes was 1200. The weekly attendance at all meetings during the year, was 9.5 per cent. of the total attendance. It had come to be recognized that the attractive influence of the Association was less important than that which enumerated from the Association in active work—which included work in the way of public meetings, in theatres, noon-day meetings in factories, work in lumber camps, open-air meetings, and meetings in jails and hospitals, and work in military camps. At this point Mr. Goodman spoke of the fruitful work of the Y.M.C.A. in South Africa and the Philippines—all had its origin in the volunteer camp work which had its beginning in Canada in 1870. It was important to improve our religious work, at the present time, because there was more temptation to going astray now than at any other period; because of the influence of the Anglo-Saxon element in the world at present, on account of the 175,000 of unreached men in the Association field, and on account of the decreasing number of men in attendance at churches; and, finally, because the work of the Associations is receiving unusual attention at the present time. We were in the midst of an awakening, in face of an urgent need.

Another point was that resources meant ability to do effective work—we had on this continent $30,000,000 invested in Y.M.C.A. work, and last year there had been given for the work $12,000,000. We had the organization, we had the membership, and we had a grand corps of secretaries—1,700—thoroughly well qualified for their work, and above all we had, humbly speaking, the favour of God.

As to the responsibility for the larger work, it rested upon secretaries, directors, committees, delegates to conventions, and, finally, the individual.

In regard to Bible study, Mr. Goodman pointed out that of the 1487 Bible classes in connection with Associations, 58 per cent. were in two cities, showing the large field outside for development. There was an increase in this direction.

The question why Bible study was fundamental and necessary, was variously answered. It was an element of strength. It was practically impossible to have a strong association without effective Bible study; because we were a Christian organization; because of our relation to the supreme needs of men. The hindrances to strong Bible class work in connection with Associations were the difficulties of securing good leaders and among the remedies were prayer and persistent search for able leaders. Lack of appreciation of the importance of the work on the part of secretaries, lack of appliances, suitable rooms, suitable aids, and suitable social atmosphere, were additional hindrances. Success depended, to the extent of 75 per cent., upon the personality and capability of the leader, 15 per cent. upon the appliances, and 10 per cent. on organization. The other characteristics of a strong Bible class consisted of good courses, good organization, and good social features, which should be sufficient to give life to meetings. The discovery of needs was another element. The responsibility rested upon this convention, upon the officials and upon the various elements of organization, and it was the duty of all Y.M.C.A. workers to bring men to the joy of contact with Christ.

The session closed with prayer by Rev. J. Bastow.

THE BOARD OF TRADE MEETING.

Trent Valley Canal is a Live Issue.

THE BEET SUGAR QUESTION.

Many Speakers Expressed Their Views Last Night—Immediate Action to Secure Completion of Trent Canal.

The first meeting of the Board of Trade since November last, was held last night in the Town Council Chamber. The president, Mr. D. W. Dumble, took the chair, and opened the meeting sharply at 8 o'clock.

Among those present were Messrs. T. E. Bradburn, H. T. Strickland, Thos Middleton, E. J. Toker, A. P. Poussette, J. W. Garvin, Dr. Jeffs, B. Shortly, Jas. Stevenson, John Carnegie, T. A. S. Hay, E. B. Edwards, R. B. Rogers, F. A. Kilbourn, Lakefield, H. Rush, G. W. Bennet, Thos. Hunter, W. Collins, W. H. Robertson, A. H. Stratton, W. H. Bradburn, W. H. Meldrum, and Dr. Gray.

The secretary read the minutes of the November meeting, which were on motion confirmed.

A telegram was read from Mr. J. Alex. Culverwell, regretting his inability to be present, and expressing the hope that the Board would memorialize the Dominion Goverament for the immediate completion of the Trent Valley Canal, and advising the Boards all along the route to do likewise.

Several other communications were read, urging immediate action, by the municipalities concerned to press upon the Government the completion of the canal without delay.

TRENT CANAL DISCUSSION.

President Dumble said that he had received another communication from the Trent Valley Waterway Association, urging this Board to take immediate steps to wait upon the Government and press for the completion of the remaining sections of the canal. He spoke at some length on the beneficial results that must ensue from the early completion of the canal, and pointing out the enormous trade that was gravitating by way of the Midland harbour. "The trade of the west," he said, "was beyond the present capacity of the railways, and if it could not be handled now, what was to be the condition of things a few years hence, when that trade grew to immense proportions!" He read the memorial published in the Examiner of last Saturday, from the Trent Valley Waterway Association to the Minister of Railways and Canals, which had been sent out to the municipal councils along the route of the canal, urging that a united effor be made to press for the completion of this great national work. He recommended the Board to adopt this memorial and give it every support.

Moved by Mr. Carnegie, seconded by Mr. T. E. Bradburn, "That this Board heartily endorses the memorial of the Trent Valley Waterway, and that the president and the secretary be requested to forward same for ratification by the town council." — Carried.

President Dumble drew the attention of the Board to the continued agitation regarding the Port Hope route. The folly of this scheme was so apparent that he could not understand why it was being urged, except for improper and unpatriotic motives. No engineer had ever proposed the Port Hope route. There were deep cuttings to be encountered that would render the route impracticable. Then the danger that would be encountered by five foot barges on Lake Ontario from storms in the open waters, was a most serious objection; whereas, the present route afforded ample protection in any weather, besides boats arriving at Trenton would find themselves forty miles nearer Montreal than they would by way of Port Hope.

Mr. Stevenson said there was a hundred feet cutting through a hill to get into Port Hope, and Mr. Baird had told him that the Port Hope route was utterly impossible. They could never bring vessels of the capacity across Lake Ontario. Our interests were to secure a good harbour.

Mr. Kilbourn said that he was deeply interested in the early completion of the canal, and never allowed an opportunity to pass where he could do any good. There were many reasons why the Port Hope route should not be chosen, and as far as he knew there was no intention whatever in Ottawa to give any serious thought to that route. From what he could learn there was a good prospect of putting the remaining uncompleted sections under contract without delay.

Mr. E. J. Toker also referred to the folly of trying to get the canal to go by way of Port Hope. The deep cuttings through the great hill into Lake Ontario was too great an undertaking. It was only causing delay to continue the consideration of this preposterous route, and it was desirable that the Government should give their decision on the matter at once.

Mr. Poussette recommended the appointment of a Committee to run an excursion to Ottawa when the House meets. He thought that in this way a large body of influential men would be got to go to Ottawa and urge upon the Government the prayer of the memorial.

The President said the members of the last delegation of a similar nature got too good a snubbing at Ottawa to make an excursion of the kind a success. He thought they would do better by sending down such men as Hon. Geo. A. Cox and Mr. Stewart to interview the Government.

Mr. Toker thought it was more important to bring the Ottawa men to Peterborough if it could be done, where they could see and be satisfied, as Hon. Mr. Tarte had been, who, he regretted, had left the Government, and the loss of his influence in this work was a misfortune. Every minister brought here had been impressed with the canal, and he hoped they might be able to induce Hon. Mr. Prefontaine to come.

SUGAR BEET FACTORY.

The President called upon Dr. Jeffs, one of the deputation who went to Berlin, to express his opinion regarding that visit. He hoped to have had a report from the Committee,

THE CEMENT INDUSTRY.

Is the Production of Cement Being Overdone?

Correspondent From Lakefield Gives Some Interesting Facts and Sounds a Note of Warning.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,— much discussion is now going on in the press on the subject of the threatened enormous overproduction of cement in Canada. We notice in a recent issue of The Times a reference of the opinion of Engineer Rush on the subject. A few facts relative to this will not, we trust, be without interest to your readers. In the year 1902 the consumption of cement in Canada reached its highest point, namely, 1,045,000 barrels. Of this 645,000 were made in Canada and 400,000 barrels imported. Prior to 1902 only three companies were engaged in this manufacture. In the year 1902 no less than five additional companies got under way. Several of them however did little more than get started and supplied only about 100,000 barrels. In the year 1903 we shall have all the old factories in operation and with largely increased outputs, and also the five new companies above mentioned. The output will then be for 1903, 1,600,000 barrels, that is to say over 600,000 barrels more than the total consumption of last year. In view of these facts you will perceive that the warnings contained in the Monetary Times and Mail and Empire as to the danger of overproduction were well timed and should be carefully heeded by the investing public. But when we tell you that in addition to the five new companies so started last year we have ten new companies now being floated in the country which are to have, according to the promoters, a combined capacity of 10,700 barrels per day equal to an annual capacity of about 3,000,000 barrels, the utter folly of putting money into more cement enterprizes will be apparent. Here is a list of the ten new companies with their promised output.

	Barrels per day
The Manitoba Portland Cement Co., of Winnipeg	1,000
The Western Canadian Portland Cement Co.	1,000
The St. Mary's Portland Cement Co.	1,000
The Colonial Portland Cement Co., Wiarton	1,000
The Raven Lake Portland Cement Co.	1,000
The Blue Lake Portland Cement Co., Brantford	600
The Superior Portland Cement Co.	600
The Kingston Portland Cement Co.	1,000
The Belleville Portland Cement Co.	2,000
The International Portland Cement Co., Hull	1,000
Making a daily product of	10,200

It is clear then that whatever money is made in Canada out of the cement industry hereafter will be made in promoting companies and not in operating them. It is said that gentlemen who two years ago floated the Durham Company cleaned up a half a million of dollars out of the floatation on a capital of 1,000,000. The same gentlemen are found promoting, in different parts of the country, several new companies on a scale still more ambitious than the Durham Company. For instance the Belleville Portland Cement Co. is to have a capital of two and a half millions of dollars and an output of two thousand barrels per day. Can they be putting any of their own money in them? If the flotation of the Durham company could yield the promoters a half a million of dollars the thought of what there must be in store for the floaters of the Belleville Co. with a capital of two and a half millions, fairly makes ones mouth water. These promoters far surpass Engineer Rush, as dispensers of satisfaction. They gravely assure us that cement can be made in this country and profitably exported to the United States, notwithstanding the fact that nearly all cement machinery comes from the United States and is subject to heavy charges for freight and duty and that the coal for burning the cement is all imported from the United States and costs here double what it costs there and that the actual cost of burning cement alone is more than they pretend they can make cement for.

But then, let the promoters take courage—a sucker is born every minute and the fools are not nearly all dead yet.

INFANT FEEDING.

The first years of our life are the most important in our existence. That is the time to build the foundation for sturdy manhood in the future. Infancy is, therefore, the most vital period for proper nourishing. A baby secures the best possible nourishment from a healthy mother, but unfortunately very few mothers can nurse their children. What, then, is the next best food?

Cow's milk should not be solely depended upon for it lacks a proper amount of what a child needs most—cell-building substance. Moreover, it is said by authorities on the subject, that the frequent handling such milk undergoes, from the cow to the time it is fed to a child, robs it of much of its original value. Its quality varies and its grades are numerous; the stomach of an infant is much too delicate to make up such defects in its food supply. Scott's Emulsion simplifies the food problem for children and counteracts these defects.

The artificial foods that are so largely used very rarely contain milk, hence they imperfectly nourish the child. Even a small amount of Scott's Emulsion, one-fourth to a half teaspoonful, in the child's bottle seems to be of special value in adding a very important element to the food. Its beneficial results are quickly seen.

Scott's Emulsion is based on this true food principle. It provides nourishment for a child in the easiest, quickest and most palatable form. No baby is too young, no stomach too delicate to receive and retain Scott's Emulsion. Even a few drops in a child's milk seems to provide considerable nourishment that cannot be otherwise secured except in a mother's milk.

If a mother whose milk is not furnishing a child with proper nourishment will herself use Scott's Emulsion it will greatly improve the quality of the milk. It benefits the mother as well as the child.

A child of any age will be benefitted by Scott's Emulsion. It furnishes the means to meet and overcome the strain of growing. Being prepared for easy digestion Scott's Emulsion does not tax the stomach or disturb the digestive organs of children.

Its great value as a child's food comes from the nourishment it gives, the ease with which it enters the system, the quickness with which it brings about a change for the better and the permanency of its benefits. The child who is not doing as well as it should needs Scott's Emulsion.

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

IT HITS THEM HARD

Protest Against Shipping Order-in-Council by Puget Sound.

CANADIANS ARE SUCCESSFUL

Dominion Vessels Now Getting the Bulk of the Yukon Business and American Vesselowners Do Not Like It—Canada Alert and Businesslike in Protecting Her Commerce in the West.

Vancouver, Feb. 6.—Once again the press of Puget Sound is shrieking in indignant protest against a Canadian Governmental move for the advancement of Canadian shipping interests, and the wire to Washington is kept hot with demands for Federal representations that will remove the disadvantage under which American bottoms have been placed in competition with Canadian shipping handling Canadian business.

The cause of all the alarm is the order in Council that Canadian goods from one Canadian port to another must be borne by Canadian bottoms, even passing through foreign waters.

It hits American shipping extremely hard, since the bulk of Canadian goods in transit to the Yukon has heretofore been carried by American vessels of the Seattle-Skaguay lines. Hereafter these will be excluded from Canadian trade, while the immense slow freight going into the Yukon via St. Michael and the lower river route will also be reserved for British shipping, of which there is ample supply at present.

This order in Council, orders for the enforcement of which are daily expressed by the local customs authorities, coming upon the heels of the agreement for determination of the Alaska boundary issue, seems to have impressed the neighboring States with the conclusion that Canada is alert and businesslike in endeavors to protect and develop her own national commerce.

CATTLE EMBARGO TO BE RAISED.

Animals May Soon Be Shipped Through Maine to St. John.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.—The likelihood is that the embargo on the shipment of cattle through Maine for exportation from St. John will shortly be raised.

The Imperial authorities have discovered that there is no foot and mouth disease in Maine, and are said to be willing that cattle from that state should go to Great Britain.

Hon. Sydney Fisher cabled to London and verified the fact, and then as a further precaution, wired to Dr. Salmon at Washington. In reply, Dr Salmon states that there is no foot and mouth disease in Maine. As a matter of fact, there is no outbreak in Maine, and there never has been, but Great Britain adopted a quarantine against the state, and Canada had to follow suit. It is now expected that at an early date measures will be taken to enable cattle shipments to go forward from St. John.

ASKING FOR $160,000

Sir William Van Horne Deposited It With Cuban Government.

Havana, Feb. 6.—The Cuban Railroad Company is preparing to take proceedings before the Supreme Court to recover $160,000, the amount of the tax levied by the Secretary of the Treasury upon the transference of the properties of the original Cuba Railroad Company. Sir William Van Horne deposited the money with the treasury in accordance with Spanish law, until the validity of the tax has been determined. The opinions of the leading lawyers are against the propriety and legality of levying the tax. The Secretary of the Treasury has no animosity toward the railroad, but claims that the law requires the collection of the tax.

CHAMBERLAIN BUMPED.

New Diplomacy He Has Used in South Africa Is Praised.

London, Feb. 6.—The Times, in an editorial article eulogizing Secretary Chamberlain's brilliant and unique work in South Africa, says:

"When the old diplomacy sniffs in a superior manner at the new the public won't forget to ask: When did a representative of the old school get himself bumped, jolted and broiled for days together in order to reach the bedrock of a problem and remove the misunderstandings obstructing a solution?"

TERRIBLY SCALDED.

Fifteen-Months' Old Flossie Hodges May Not Recover.

Holland Landing, Feb. 6.—Flossie Hodges, aged 15 months, youngest daughter of W. J. Hodges of this place, met with a very painful if not fatal accident last evening. The child was going around the house and upset a pail of boiling water, the contents going all over the child, scalding her terribly. Her recovery is doubtful, owing to her tender age.

RULERS OF THE WORLD.

Meat Eating Nations are the Leaders in Every Branch of Human Achievements.

The ruling nations of the world are meat eaters, and history records that they always have been.

Vegetarians and food cranks may explain this in any way they please, but the facts remain that the Americans, English, French, Russians and Germans, are meat eating nations, and they are also the most energetic and most progressive.

The principal food of the heroic Boer soldier, known as Biltong, is a sort of dried beef, affording a great deal of nourishment in a highly concentrated form.

The weak races of people are the rice eating Chinese, Hindoos and Siamese, regarded since the dawn of history as non-productive, superstitious, and inferior physically and mentally to the meat eating nations who dominate them.

The structure of the teeth plainly indicate that human beings should subsist upon a variety of food, meats, fruits and grains, and it is unhygienic to confine one's diet to any one of those classes to the exclusion of another.

Meat is the most concentrated and most easily digested of foods, but our manner of living is often so unnatural that the digestive organs refuse to properly digest, meat, eggs and similar nutritious and wholesome food, but it is not because such food is unwholesome, but the real reason that the stomach lacks from disease or weakness some necessary digestive element; hence arising indigestion, and later on chronic dyspepsia.

Nervous people should eat plenty of meat; convalescents should make meat the principal food; hard working people have to do so, and brain workers and office men not so much meat, but at least once a day, and to insure its perfect digestion one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets should be taken after each meal, because they supply the peptones, diastase and fruit acids, lacking in every case of stomach trouble.

Nervous dyspepsia, catarrh of the stomach, gas and acidity are only different names for indigestion, the failure to digest wholesome food, and the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cures them all because by affording perfect digestion the stomach has a chance to rest and recover its natural tone and vigour.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the real, household medicine; it is as safe and pleasant for the stomach ache of the baby as it is for the imperfect digestion of its grand sire.

They are not a cathartic but a digestive, and no pill habit can ever follow their use; the only habit that Stuart's Tablets induce is the habit of good digestion and consequently good health.

THE FOURTH ESTATE.

Annual Meeting of the Canadian Press Association Opens Auspiciously—Officers Elected—The Banquet.

Toronto, Feb. 6.—With the largest attendance in its history, the Canadian Press Association opened its forty-fifth annual convention in the Council Chamber of the Board of Trade yesterday morning. President Dan McGillicuddy was in the chair, and surrounding him were editors and publishers of the daily, weekly and monthly newspapers and periodicals of all parts of central Canada, and from as far east as Halifax The feature of the morning was the address of the president, which contained some interesting comments on the relation of journalists to publicmen, and rejoiced at recent evidences of independence in Canadian journalism.

It was decided to abandon the contemplated excursion to Great Britain this year, and several alternative projects were left with the Executive for consideration.

The Executive Committee's report dealt with the internal matters of the association, which are in a most flourishing condition, and the concluding clause of the report read:

Government Telegraph Lines.

"The Executive Committee would recommend that the Government of Canada reserve to the Postmaster-General the privilege of using the right of way and poles for public telephone and telegraph lines on all railways hereafter granted charters, or amendments or extensions of charters, so that the Postoffice may have a governmental telegraph service across Canada; the news service between the east and the west should be independent of corporate influence, and might be made so in this way."

The report of the Secretary-Treasurer stated that 218 certificates had been issued last year, with receipts of $460, compared with 211 certificates and receipts of $467 the previous year. After paying the necessary expenses for the year there was a balance on hand of $62.81.

The Officers.

President, Mr. H. J. Pettypiece, M.P.P., Free Press, Forest; first vice-president, John A. Cooper, Canadian Magazine, Toronto; second vice-president, A. McNee, Record, Windsor; secretary-treasurer, Joseph T. Clark, Star, Toronto; assistant secretary-treasurer, John R. Bone, Star, Toronto; auditors, L. G. Jackson, Era, Newmarket; G. E. Gibbard, Pharmaceutical Journal, Toronto.

Three members will constitute the Executive Committee, to be chosen from the following nominees: W. H. Ireland, Parry Sound; A. H. U. Colquhoun, Toronto; A. W. Rutledge, Markdale; D. Williams, Collingwood; J. Innes McIntosh, Guelph, A. E Bradwin, Blyth; W. E. Smallfield, Renfrew, M. A. James, Bowmanville.

The Banquet.

At the banquet Past President Dan McGillicuddy presided in an admirable manner over the post-prandial utterances. The toasts were The King, The Province, The People and The Press. Hon. Mr. Harcourt, Minister of Education, and Mr. J. P. Whitney, responded in eloquent speeches for The Province. Joseph Downey, M. P. P., and W. K. McNaught, Toronto, for The People, and the fourth estate was looked after by Rev. J. A. Macdonald of The Globe, G. T. Graham, M.P.P., T H. Preston, M.P.P., and Andrew Pattullo, M.P.P.

Bonilla Proclaims Himself President at Amapala.

TROUBLE IS NOW IMMINENT

Activity in United States Naval Yards, Presumably Caused by the Situation in Honduras—Vessels in Navy Yard to Be Completed With the Greatest Possible Despatch—Start Next Week.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The State Department has been advised that M. Sierra, the hold-over President of Honduras, has turned over the Presidency to a council of Ministers, and that Bonilla, who claims to have been elected to the Presidental office, has proclaimed himself President of Amapala.

Naval Yard Activity.

Mare Island Navy Yard, Cal., Feb. 5.—Rush orders have been received from Washington ordering all work now on vessels in the navy yard to be completed with the greatest possible despatch. In view of this order an extra force of men will be employed at once, and a night force was inaugurated last night to complete the repairs on the United States steamship Bennington, which is practically ready for service. Several other vessels can be made ready for sea within a short time. Large quantities of stores were shipped to San Francisco yesterday to be transferred to the Boston, New York and Ranger, now lying at anchor in the harbor. It is expected that the trouble brewing in Honduras is the only reason for the animation now being shown at the navy yards.

Off For Honduras.

San Francisco, Feb. 5.—The warships in commission in this harbor will be on their way to Amapala, a seaport on the Pacific coast of Honduras, early next week. The New York, Boston and Ranger are now in the bay ready to start on short notice. In view of the orders, Admiral Glass yesterday relieved Admiral Casey in the command of the Pacific fleet. It has been arranged that the flags of the Admirals should be changed Feb. 10, but the hurry orders to the fleet to get into southern waters prompted the change being made in the commanding officers in advance of the arranged time.

FOR A SINGLE TRIP

VAST QUANTITIES OF FOOD REQUIRED FOR AN ATLANTIC LINER.

Exceed in Size the Famous Ark That Stranded on Mount Ararat—Enormous Meat Supplies and Poultry That Would Make a Single Bird 10 Feet Long, 8 Feet Broad and 5 Feet High—Liquids.

The Book of Genesis does not record the tonnage of the huge vessel which finally stranded on Mount Ararat, after finishing the most wonderful voyage ever described in the annals of mankind. But it is quite safe to assume that the dimensions of the Ark, that old-time floating storehouse, are exceeded in size by the largest of steamships now crossing the Atlantic.

Not the least striking evidence of the size of these modern monsters of the deep is afforded by the vast quantities of food which must have been taken aboard for a single six-day trip across the Atlantic. For the 1,500 passengers and the several hundred men, constituting the crew, carloads of food and whole tanks of liquids are necessary.

On the "Kronprinz Wilhelm," of the North German Lloyd Line, which steamship has been taken for the purpose of instituting comparisons, some 19,800 pounds of fresh meat and 14,800 pounds of salt beef and mutton, in all 34,100 pounds of meat, are eaten during a single trip from New York to Bremen. This enormous quantity of meat if pictured in the form of a single joint of beef, would be somewhat less than 10 feet high, 10 feet long, and 5 feet wide. If placed in one end of a scale, it would require about 227 average men in the other end to tip the beam.

For a single voyage the "Kronprinz Wilhelm" uses 2,640 pounds of ham, 1,320 pounds of bacon, and 506 pounds of sausage—in all, 4,466 pounds. Since most of this is pork, it may well be pictured in the form of a ham. That single ham is equivalent in weight to 374 average hams. It is 7½ feet high, 3 feet in diameter and 2 feet thick.

The poultry eaten by the passengers of the steamer during a trip to Bremen or New York, weighs 4,840 pounds. These 4,840 pounds of poultry might be shown in the form of a turkey, dressed and ready for the oven. The bird would be a giant 10 feet long, 8 feet broad, and 5 feet high.

Sauerkraut, beans, peas, rice and fresh vegetables are consumed to the amount of 25,320 pounds. Packed for market, these preserved and fresh vegetables would be contained in 290 baskets of the usual form, which piled up make a very formidable truncated pyramid.

The quantity of eggs required is no less startling than the quantity of vegetables, for some 25,000 are needed to satisfy the wants of passengers and crew. Eggs are usually packed in cases, 30 dozen to the case. The Kronprinz Wilhelm, when she leaves New York or Bremen, must, therefore, take on board 69 of these cases.

The bakers of the ship find it necessary to use 33,000 pounds of flour during the trip. In other words, 169 barrels are stowed away somewhere in the hold of the big ship.

Besides the foods already enumerated, 1,980 pounds of fresh fish and 330 pounds of salted fish are eaten during the six-day voyage. The total of 2,310 pounds would be equivalent to a single bluefish 20 feet long, 5 feet in greatest diameter, and 1½ feet broad. Such a fish compares favorably in length, at least, with a good-sized whale.

The potatoes required far outweigh any other single article of food contained in the store-rooms, for their entire weight is 61,000 pounds. If it were possible to grow a single tuber of that weight, it would have a height of 14 feet and a diameter of 7 feet.

Of dried fruit, 2,640 pounds are eaten, and of fresh fruit 11,000 pounds, in all 37,400 pounds. If this fruit were all concentrated into a single pear, its height would be 7 feet, while the width at the thickest part 5 feet.

Whole lakes of liquid are drunk up by the thirsty passengers and crew. No less than 420 tons of fresh water are required which occupy 14,175 cubic feet and would fill a tank 25 feet in diameter and 30 feet high. The 1,716 gallons of milk used for drinking and baking would be contained in a can 6 feet 1 inch in diameter and 11½ feet high. Of wines, liquors and beer, gallons and gallons are consumed. Under the title of "beverages" the following items are to be found in the purser's account-book:

Champagne	850 bottles.
Claret	980 bottles.
Madeira, sherry, etc. ...	185 bottles
Rhine and Moselle wines	1,700 bottles
Rum and cordials	760 bottles.
Mineral water	5,250 bottles.
Beer in kegs	2,960 gallons.
Beer in bottles	600 bottles

Suppose these things to drink were contained in one claret bottle, some idea of the largeness of this bottle may be gained when it is considered that its height would be over 24 feet and its diameter over 6 feet.

In order to cool the wines and the beer, as well as to preserve the fresh meats, vegetables, eggs and fruit, 33 tons of ice are needed. That seems a small quantity, and, in truth, it is, But the Kronprinz Wilhelm has also refrigerating machines, which have cut down the quantity of ice which it is necessary to take on board. The 33 tons of ice actually consumed, however, would make a column 37 feet high.

Compared with these vast quantities of food, the live stock of Noah's Ark must pale into insignificance. It must not be forgotten, however, that in provisioning a liner an allowance is made for accidents, which may prolong a voyage over many days. For that reason not all, but only the major portion of, the food taken aboard is consumed.

A Strong Man

Is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from indigestion or some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man doesn't feel just right, when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous and irritable, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man needs to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, stimulates the liver, nourishes the nerves, and so gives health and strength to the whole body.

Mr. Thomas A. Swarts, of Sub. Station C, Columbus, Ohio, Box 295, writes: "I was taken very sick with severe headache, then cramps in the stomach and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble and my back got weak so I could scarcely get around. The more I doctored the worse I got until six years passed. I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I had given up to die. Then one of my neighbors said, 'Take my advice and take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and make a new man out of yourself.' The first bottle helped me and after I had taken eight bottles in about six weeks I was weighed and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds, and I am as stout and healthy to-day, I think, as I ever was."

New York, Feb. 6.—London press cable received says. — "Foreign office officials replying to inquiries to whether representatives of powers had reached areement with Mr. Borden, said that while it would be premature to make a statement, indications pointed to a speedy settlement unless something cropped up at the 11th hour. The government is already considering a method for raising blockade.

Liverpool wheat steady 1-4 up; corn 1-8 to 3-8 up; London wheat steady unchanged to 1-8 up; corn 1-4 lower; Paris wheat quiet, 15 centimes off; car lots wheat 38; corn 210; Oats 168.

We believe that we are going to have a very much broader market in wheat for some time to come and would advise the purchase of May wheat on all breaks for moderate profits.

M. & M.

Messrs. Haight & Freese have received the following:—

New York, Feb. 6th.—Poor bank statement is to be expected to-morrow but as call money is ruling somewhat below 2 p. c. no one cares whether it is good, bad or indifferent, the action of the high court of New Jersey deciding that the U. S. S. Corporation may carry out its plan of issuing five per cent second mortgage bonds to replace 200,000,000 dollars preferred stock has been no doubt deservedly well received in Wall street.

NEWS.

New York, Feb. 6th.—This Venezuelan mix up is uncertain, coy and hard to unravel. To Hague with it since Roosevelt will not become arbitrator. England is certainly not perturbed over the situation. Traders will probably hammer prices so that a general moderat reaction will be seen but it will be to average angels copper B. R. T. on dips of half to 1 point friends of Atch. com. aver that it will advance substantially. Recent buying has been of most excellent character.

Morgan factions were never as confident regarding the present and the future of stocks. The preferred is an absolutely safe seven per cent investment.

JOSEPH.

New York, Feb. 6th.—There has been a firmness in stock market. The U. S. S. decision furnishes a strong bull card, especially for the industrial list. In view of the fact that there will be an unfavourable Bank statement according to general opinion is it not likely that insiders will realise on the good news to-day. Take moderate profits. O. W. and S. T. P. are tipped for better prices.

THE BOARD OF TRADE MEETING.

but as they were not present and had not sent in any report, he would like to get all the information on the sugar beet question he could.

Dr. Jeffs, who was a delegate from the County Council to Berlin, gave some interesting details of his visit. He said he was glad of the opportunity to go to Berlin and learn all he could of this new industry. There was no doubt in his mind about the great importance of sugar beet growing and of the benefits both to the farmers and the whole community. In Berlin the people are well satisfied with their new industry. At first he could not account for the necessity of $600,000 for a sugar beet factory, but when he saw the buildings and the machinery required he was not surprised. The effect of the establishment of this industry in Berlin was to improve trade generally, and the farmers were better off. Farmers had been depending on raising cattle and dairying, but raising sugar beets was something that would give them a far better return for their money—say $40 to $48 an acre. Nearly all the sugar used in Canada, excepting what was made by four factories, was imported from Germany and Austria. Why not keep the money in our own country? If it pays to import sugar into Canada from a foreign country, it ought to pay better for Canada to grow her own. If a factory was established in Peterborough it would help the town very much, not only by the employment of extra labour but by the large amount of money that would be put into circulation. Dr. Jeffs said that any farmer who could grow mangolds and carrots could also grow sugar beets, without any extra expenditure. In Berlin farmers who had good crops of beets were increasing their acreage next year. One farmer was hauling his beets 15 miles into the town. The people of Berlin were enthusiastic, and assisted very much in getting the factory established there. Farmers and others got to work and secured the acreage required, and that was the way the factory was built in Berlin.

Mr. J. W. Garvin said he regretted the report of the Committee had not been presented to the Board. He related his experience of his visit to Berlin, and was more than surprised at the extent of the factory there. Since their return, the members of the Peterborough Company had been working strenuously to secure the acreage required, and he was glad to say that they had at present fifteen men at work interviewing the farmers with the object of inducing them to grow the beets.

Mr. Garvin then announced that the Company proposed to ask the Town Council to submit a bylaw to the people, asking the municipality to assist by the purchase of a block of $25,000 worth of stock and $25,000 worth of bonds at 5 per cent., to be a first mortgage against the plant. He read figures showing the benefits the investment would be to the town, and claimed that at the end of 20 years the town would be $31,500 ahead and still own its own stock.

Mr. T. Hunter, of North Monaghan, said he had been making speeches every day to the farmers, telling them of the advantages of the sugar beet crop and how to grow it. He gave some interesting information regarding the progress of beet growing, and how it started in Berlin. Farmers are beginning to realize that there was more profit in this crop than in growing wheat. There was nothing that a farmer grew that required so little capital. They were a simple crop to grow, and all the care they needed was to see that they were properly cultivated. The sugar beet would also build up the land and help to rid the country of weeds.

Mr. J. Middleton, of Smith, said the farmers were looking at the introduction of the sugar beet industry very much in the same way as they did the introduction of the cheese and dairy industries. The principal thing was to educate the farmers to grow the beets.

Mr. Poussette read answers to questions sent out by the Town Clerk to different places where sugar beet factories were established, such as Dresden, Berlin, Wiearton and Wallaceburg. In almost all cases the answers were highly encouraging and satisfactory.

The President said he did not think there was another town in Canada which was so favourably situated for carrying on the sugar beet industry. The cheapness of freighting the crop from so many water fronts round Peterborough was dilated upon. The entire shore of Rice Lake and other localities in the county tributary to the water rendered it easy and convenient to market the crops. He thought the figures given by Mr. Garvin should be presented to the Manufacturing Committee for examination, as he believed the investment was a good one for the town, and there was no risk going into it.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum thought the Committee should have reported re sugar beet question, as they could do nothing without the report.

Mr. R. B. Rogers spoke re Trent Valley Canal. He said that the lock at Lakefield should be completed by July next.

A motion to adjourn for one week to receive the Berlin Committee report, and that the Manufacturers Committee consider Mr. Garvin's figures was carried.

The matter of exhorbitant fire insurance rates was discussed, after which the meeting adjourned.

During Convention week we will give a special discount on everything in the store. Our stock of books is very complete, and the discount is open to everyone at the Salisbury Co's Store.

A TREATY IN DANGER

Alaskan Negotiations at a Critical Pass in the U. S.

MANY SENATORS OPPOSE.

President and Secretary May Have Practically Abandoned Hope of Arbitration —The Outlook Is Gloomy, as Senate Republican Leaders Diagnose the Case For the Treaty in That Body.

Washington, Feb. 6.—During the past few days President Roosevelt has held several conferences with prominent senators regarding the status of the Alaskan boundary treaty.

The President has been informed that the opponents of the treaty will not permit it to be ratified.

This information was conveyed by Republican leaders of the Senate, who told him that in their opinion it would be useless to press consideration of the treaty further at this session, as it was known that several Northwestern Senators will use their utmost power to defeat its ratification.

During one of these conferences Secretary Hay was called by the President, and the whole subject was considered thoroughly. It was indicated to them that the active opponents of the treaty maintained there was nothing in the boundary question to arbitrate, and therefore they would not consider its reference to a commission, as provided for in the treaty.

In view of the situation as presented by the Senate leaders, it is understood the President and Secretary Hay have practically abandoned hope of ratification. If it should not be ratified, the modus vivendi previously agreed upon by Great Britain and the United States will remain in force.

HILL OF TARA SOLD.

Unnamed Lady Purchases the Property For $18,500.

Dublin, Feb. 6.—The historic Hill of Tara was sold at auction yesterday and realized the sum of $18,500. The purchaser was a lady, whose name was not announced.

Seat of Irish Kings.

Until the sixth century Tara was the chief seat of the Irish Kings, and a pillar, six feet high, is still pointed out as the coronation stone. Then it was also the Druids' headquarters and the site of King Cormack's splendid court. The last important gathering on the Hill of Tara was in 1843, when a gigantic meeting was held there under the auspices of Daniel O'Connell, who urged the repeal of the union.

FISHING SHANTIES GO DOWN.

Fishermen Thought to Have Perished in Saginaw Bay.

Bay City, Mich., Feb. 6.—It is feared that forty fishermen went to their death in the storm which struck Saginaw Bay Tuesday night.

The men were living in shanties built on the ice. The storm burst without warning. It was accompanied by a blinding swirl of snow, and the waves crushed the ice upon which the fishermen's huts were standing into a grinding, crunching mass. Nothing has been seen of men or shanties since.

It is known that two were drowned, and little hope is expressed for the others.

HELP THE AGED.

To Make Their Days and Nights Restful —Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Will do it.

The old people — our fathers and mothers, our grandfathers and grandmothers — need our every care. They cared for us in our youth, it is our care to care for them now — to relieve them if we can of those ills and aches to which the aged are subject.

Their bodies have grown weary with the weight of many years. They cannot throw off those ailments to which the flesh of their fo so freely and easily as can younger people. They require help of many kinds; help with their work, help with their digestion. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets give the help required.

Mrs. Thos. Plowman, of New Lowell, Ont., is seventy years of age, and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets relieved her of the pains of Dyspepsia. Her husband, Alfred Plowman, writes: "My wife, Emma Plowman, is free from Dyspepsia, thanks to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. Anyone wishing to know about it, we will be pleased to answer with pleasure."

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are a natural cure. They digest the food almost without help from the stomach. One or two of them taken after each meal, is a safeguard against the headaches and other discomforts of Dyspepsia.

CLARKE CHARGED IN COURT.

A Warrant Charging Murder of His Child Read to Him.

Collingwood, Feb. 6. — Yesterday morning Alex. Clarke was brought before Magistrate Nettleton and a warrant charging murder of his child was read to him. A. A. Bond of Collingwood appeared for the prisoner.

No plea was entered, that will not be necessary until the coroner's jury makes its report, and Clarke is held. Now he occupies a cell in the jail. In court his bearing was that of a man resting under a burden of overwhelming grief, but otherwise he did not appear apprehensive.

The coroner's jury will make its report Monday afternoon, when Crown Attorney Cotter will be present to take up the case.

SPRING STALLION SHOW.

Continued in Toronto Thursday — All Horse Breeders Meet.

Toronto, Feb. 6.—Yesterday the attendance at the continuance of the Spring Stallion Show here was a record maker, and prizes were awarded in the classes for Clydesdales, over two years old, and four years old.

All Horse Breeders Meet.

The annual meeting of the Horse Breeders' Association was held in the evening, Dr. Andrew Smith in the chair. The report of the secretary-treasurer was adopted.

All the societies represented in this association have to report prosperity on every side, and the continued reading of the item "balance on hand" at the meetings this week has become almost monotonous.

The Horse Breeders' Association capped the climax by recording a surplus of $4,680.44.

A resolution was passed to impress on the Government the existence of certain facts relating to the scallywag invasion of culls from the United States in the Northwest and leaving it to the Government to act.

A grant of $2,000 to the Spring Stallion Show was passed. Dr. Andrew Smith was elected president of the association. $100 was granted for lectures at the spring show on horses.

A central building was decided upon and a committee was appointed to take up the matter at once.

The Spring Stallion Show is continued to-day.

None of these were called by the commission, 244 by the union miners, 155 by the non-union miners, and 158 by the operators. The stenographers took down approximately 5,200 type-written pages of testimony, or 2,300,000 words.

JUDGE CHALLENGED.

Mr. Lennox Repudiates Statement as to Election Costs.

Newmarket, Feb. 6.—Mr. T. Herbert Lennox of Aurora, was yesterday renominated as the Conservative candidate in the bye-election for the Legislature at a crowded and enthusiastic convention. No other name was mentioned and Mr. Lennox in accepting spoke for nearly an hour, making absolutely no reference to any subject except his relations with Mr. Davis. Towards the close of his speech he offered to resign from the contest if Mr. Davis and Judge Morgan would say publicly that the marginal note to the settlement of the protest, referring to costs, signed by Judge Morgan, was true.

GLORIED IN ANARCHY

Rubino on Trial Bitterly Assails Modern Society.

TO KILL KING EDWARD VII.

Thought Better of It, However, on Being Treated Hospitably by England—Rubino Tells His Story of the Tragedy —Witnesses Finished Tales of Attempt on King Leopold's Life.

Brussels, Feb. 7.—The trial of Gennaro Rubino, the Italian Anarchist, on the charge of attempting to assassinate King Leopold November 15 by firing three shots at His Majesty while the latter was returning from the cathedral here after attending a Te Deum in memory of the late Queen Henriette, was opened yesterday in the Assize Court. Large crowds gathered in the vicinity of the court, to which only the witnesses, lawyers and reporters were admitted. A detachment of police of considerable strength maintained order.

Rubino replied volubly to all interrogations, and when he uttered the word "anarchist" he raised his voice as though exulting in his connection therewith. The witness bitterly assailed modern society as the cause of all evil, declaring he only attempted to take the life of the King because the latter was the highest representative of society. Rubino added that he intended going to Italy for the purpose of making an attempt on the life of the Italian monarch, but he did not have sufficient funds. During the course of the prisoner's examination it developed that he left the Italian army because his officers persecuted him.

Rubino posed as a hero throughout his examination. He declared he gloried in his crime, and in the course of his denunciation of society exclaimed: "I am not the accused. It is you and the whole of your rotten society that keeps labor in slavery that stands accused before me and the Anarchist party, and we condemn you to death." The prosecution included in the indictment a letter from Rubino to a Socialist newspaper published in London, justifying the murder of Senor Canovas del Castillo, the Spanish Premier, who was assassinated at Santa Agueda, Spain, August 8, 1897, by an Italian Anarchist, and stating that he (Rubino) had contemplated killing King Edward on November 25.

Regarding his stay in England, Rubino said it was a hospitable country, and he decided not to make an attempt to kill King Edward, as that would bring trouble on his comrades. He spent the money which he received from the Italian Embassy for spying on Anarchists in purchasing a revolver, explaining that "Anarchists ought to always be armed, so as to be in readiness to kill the wild beasts of society." He had hoped to be able to kill King Leopold, Prince Albert and a few clergymen.

When the examination of the prisoner was concluded, the hearing of witnesses was commenced.

After hearing the witnesses and the counsel for the prosecution, Counsel Royer, the court adjourned.

ROBBED MANY GRAVES.

Two Shrouds Found in College Introduced at Trial of Robbers.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 7.—In the trial yesterday of Dr. J. C. Alexander in the grave robbery cases two shrouds found by the detectives in the Central College were introduced. A seamstress identified one as having been made for Mrs. Catherine Dohring, whose body was stolen from the German Catholic Cemetery.

Samuel Martin, a negro, was the first witness, and testified that he met Dr. Alexander at the latter's office in June, 1902. The doctor told him he wanted from seventeen to twenty subjects for dissection, and would pay $30 each. Martin said at this meeting Dr. Alexander told Cantrell, the leader of the gang, that he would watch the death returns at the Board of Health and notify him.

The first trip was in July, when with Cantrell and the others he went to the Anderson Cemetery and secured the body of Glendore Gates and handed it over to the Central College. The next day Alexander paid him $10. When the second body was secured, he said, Dr. Alexander told him it was not a good one, because it was mangled by the cars. He received only $5. Witness detailed the sale of several more bodies to the doctor.

On one occasion the gang went to a cemetery, but failed to get a body, because they were chased away.

The campaign was fought on the land question, Dr. Keightley supporting compulsory sale. The vacancy was caused by the appointment of William G. MacArtney, the retiring member for South Antrim, as Deputy Master of the Mint.

Judgment Reserved on Question of Remitting Their Fines.

Toronto, Feb. 7.—The case of the St. Thomas personators in the recent refereudum vote was up again at Osgoode Hall yesterday. John A. The matter, therefore, now will be referred to The Hague tribunal. This will result in the raising of the blockade.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH

Met and Discussed Dr. Bryce's Suggestion.

Drastic Measures Suggested by Dr. Bingham—Will Meet Again Next Wednesday.

A meeting of the Board of Health was held in the Town Clerk's office yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. There were present: Messrs. Robert Neill, chairman, A. Parker, Wm. Eyres, George Schneider, Chief Rossel and Drs. Bingham and Burnham.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

It was on motion resolved to obtain blank forms, for the purpose of being filled in by physicians in case of contagious disease. These forms have to be sent in to the Medical Health Officer, or the Secretary of the Board, within 24 hours of the knowledge of the disease.

The secretary, Mr. Armstrong, read a report from the engineer in regard to the flushing of the sewers.

On motion it was resolved to ask the Town Council to immediately flush the sewers.

Mr. R. Neill said that inspecting the schools each day would be a rather large order. He thought it would be best to find out the absentees, and let the Health Officers ascertain the cause of their absence.

Dr. Bingham said that instead of finding out the absentees it would be better to have a standing reward of ten dollars for anyone giving information which would lead to the conviction of a person who does not report a contagious disease case.

On motion of Dr. Burnham, it was resolved that the Inspector of the Public Schools, and the Principals of the Collegiate Institute and each Separate School, and the Mother Superior of the Convent, be required, until further notice, to furnish to the Secretary of the Board of Health each morning, a list of all pupils absent from school that day, the street and number of the house being given, and that the Sanitary Inspector be instructed to ascertain the cause of absence.

On motion of Mr. Eyres, it was resolved that it be left to the judgment of the Chief of Police to ascertain if the absentees are absent from any suspicious symptoms of disease.

Chief Rossel said that people disobeying the Health Laws, and going in and out of a house containing a case of contagion, should be severely punished.

Mr. Neill suggested that a handbill be issued concerning the violation of Health Laws.

On motion of Mr. Parker it was resolved that a handbill to the above effect be posted throughout the town.

Dr. Bingham suggested the banishment of all cats and dogs in the limits of the corporation, as they are a great source of infection in cases of infectious disease.

Chief Rossel suggested that a responsible person ought to be appointed to thoroughly disinfect a house from which a person having contagious disease had been removed to the hospital.

On motion it was resolved that the Medical Health Officer supervise the disinfection of the affected houses.

The Board adjourned until Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Meat Trade From Argentine.

London, Feb. 7.—Despite the admission of Argentine to the same footing as Canada regarding cattle importations, Smithfield dealers will not admit that meat prices here will be lowered. Last year the importation of chilled meat increased from £1,690,000 to £2,356,000. It is stated that Argentine exporters find it pays better to send chilled, frozen meat than live cattle.

Breathing Disease.

Infectious diseases are breathed into the system from those affected with disease or from bad smells; yet how many women breathe daily the offensive steam from common soaps made from rancid fats, and keep their hands for hours in such solutions, and the clothing from such soap suds is worn next the tender skin. No wonder disease and eczema are prevalent! Users of Sunlight Soap —Octagon Bar—know the difference between that and the pure, healthful smell from the vegetable oils and pure edible fats in Sunlight Soap. 20S

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone.

Help and happiness surely awaits you if you accept Mrs. Pinkham's advice. Disease makes women nervous, irritable, and easily annoyed by children and household duties; such women need the counsel and help of a woman who understands the peculiar troubles of her sex; that woman is Mrs. Pinkham, who with her famous medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, have restored more sick and discouraged women to health and happiness than any other one person. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free. Write today, do not wait.

Will not the volumes of letters from women who have been made strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound convince others of the virtues of this great medicine?

When a medicine has been successful in more than a million cases, is it justice to yourself to say, without trying it, "I do not believe it would help me?"

Surely you cannot wish to remain weak and sick and discouraged, exhausted with each day's work. If you have some derangement of the feminine organism try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It will surely help you.

Mrs. Emilie Seering, 174 St. Ann's Ave., New York City, writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—If women who are always blue and depressed and nervous would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound they would find it the medicine they need to bring them to a more cheerful frame of mind. I was terribly worried and downcast, and was thin and bloodless. My back ached all the time, no matter how hard I tried to forget it or change my position to ease it, and the pain at the base of my brain was so bad that I sometimes thought that I would grow crazy; I had the blues so much and was always so depressed I could not seem to shake them off; half of the time I did not seem to have the courage to do my work; everything seemed to go wrong with me, and I was always worrying and fearing the worst. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After the first few doses a load seemed lifted from my shoulders, I felt better in every way. The blues left me and my head stopped aching; before long my back was better too, and I looked younger and stronger I took six bottles in all, and it is with thankfulness that I acknowledge that my present good health is due to the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO WOMEN.

If there is anything in your case about which you would like special advice, write freely to Mrs. Pinkham. No man will see your letter. She can surely help you, for no person in America has such a wide experience in treating female ills as she has had. She has helped hundreds of thousands of women back to health. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free. You are very foolish if you do not accept her kind invitation.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letter and signature of above testimonial, which will prove its absolute genuineness.

TORONTO AND NIAGARA POWER.

When the City of Toronto, or those who speak for it, complains of the treatment the modest and long-suffering city receives at the hands of the Ontario Legislature or Government, it is safe to say that there has possibly been a failure to carry out some plan of aggrandisement, and possibly, at the expense of some other interest or interests. The treatment of the question of Toronto's application in regard to Niagara Falls power is a case in point. Some of the city papers are making a stand for the "rights" of the city and—strange association of ideas—the "rights of other Ontario municipalities."

No one objects to Toronto having its "rights" in regard to Niagara power if the acquisition of these rights are accompanied by proper conditions. Toronto's application last session for the right to instal a plant and sell power to other municipalities involved conditions which were regarded as placing the "other municipalities," for which so much solicitude is now shown, at the tender mercies of the City of Toronto, which if it were so disposed would be in a position to injure or even wipe out the industries of outside municipalities. It was felt that Toronto was practically applying for a monopoly, with sole power to fix prices for other municipalities.

It needs little consideration to see that, with such power granted, Toronto would be in a position to control the situation as far as the generation and distribution of power to municipalities was concerned; and it needs even less consideration to see that, power of this kind at the city's disposal, would furnish a temptation extremely difficult to resist.

One of the prime factors in determining the location of new industries is cheap motive power. Is it unreasonable to suppose that Toronto in possession of the practical monopoly it applied for last session, would fail to take advantage of the situation. Getting its power "at cost" and in a position to dictate the prices of power to municipalities, within reach of the central source of supply would constitute a temptation which it would be uncharitable to place before even so unselfish a city as Toronto.

Toronto would be in a position to immensely profit, and at the expense, not only of the municipalities more or less directly affected, but also at the expense of the other water and steam powers of the Province. Business concerns have little sentiment. They will seek location where the conditions are most favourable, and outside municipalities which have electrical power developed, would find their market greatly restricted if not ruined by the fact of Toronto being able to supply power at what one city journal calls "cost price," and in large quantities. This would be a serious handicap to outside municipalities," and suggests the somewhat difficult problem of harmonizing the claims of Toronto to its "rights" in the matter of Niagara power, with the equally equitable claims of "outside municipalities," to their "rights."

This is a matter which vitally concerns the town of Peterborough; for we might easily suffer if the city of Toronto were given the practical monopoly in the matter of power which she demanded a year ago, and still seems to insist upon obtaining. We have made a beginning of developing the water power on our river, and have just begun to experience the attractive influence of available power in deciding the location of industries. With Toronto placed in the possession of 125,000 electrical horse power, is it not possible, or even probable, that our own local powers would be injuriously affected. This imperilling of millions of capital invested in power development in Peterborough, and other municipalities, would be regarded, no doubt, with philosophic complacency by a city which would stand to reap industrial profit at the expense of others.

Toronto is a great, and growing, city, and a worthy capital of a great province, but these circumstances do not constitute any reason to demand exceptional favours, whose concession might imperil the interests of the province at large. It cannot be denied that the Government and the Legislature took, and will take, the correct position in protecting outside municipalities from the greed of Toronto. If the city comes to the Legislature, with a reasonable application, disassociated from conditions that would give unfair advantage over other municipalities, with no monopoly provisions, and with the consent of its ratepayers to make the expenditure necessary, such an application will no doubt be treated, as was its application of last year, upon its merits.

A MISTAKE.

Albert and not Alfred Bolton of Warsaw had an Accident.

In reference to an article which appeared in the Examiner some days ago, a correspondent writes that the report was not strictly in accordance with the facts. Mr. Albert Bolton, Warsaw, on the 31st of Dec. last, had a rather serious accident in which several of his bones were broken and his body bruised. Thanks to the care of Dr. O'Gorman and Miss Hattie Call, who gave him every attention, Mr. Bolton is now well on the high-road to recovery, and expects shortly to return to his home in Orville, where his many friends will welcome him.

MR. CARVETH WRITES.

Mr. Andrew P. Carveth of Dummer, writes to the Examiner in reference to the County Police Court item which appeared in last week's Examiner, and in which he was the accused party. Mr. Carveth states that while it is true he was charged with stealing wood from Mr. Richard Crowe; that while he may have been adjudged guilty of theft, that he felt himself justified in taking the property, which he was accused of taking, in order to even up an old score. The item referred to was only an opinion of the Judge as revealed by the evidence.

THEORIES ABOUT CATARRH.

Peculiar Ideas Regarding a Common Disease.

Mark Twain's cure for a cold in the head, was simple, but he claims very effective in his own case; his plan was to eat nothing for twenty-four hours, or presumably until the trouble had disappeared.

Although not able to speak from personal experience as to the effectiveness of this treatment, it certainly has the merit of extreme economy, but it occurs to us that the application of it to a case of nasal catarrh might be attended with difficulties.

Catarrh, as everyone knows, is a chronic cold in the head, and Mr. Twain's treatment, if it should become a fad, would make of us a nation of fasters, an army emulating the example of the immortal Tanner, who achieved world wide fame by fasting forty days.

Catarrh is certainly becoming a national disease, and there is little doubt but that errors in diet, particularly over eating, is a very common cause.

Most people, however, are more interested in the cure of the trouble than in the trouble, and modern medical science has produced more effective and less heroic remedies than Mr. Twain's.

Hydrastin is a new remedy, very effective in some forms of Catarrh. Red Gum is another, which on account of its antiseptic properties, is very valuable, while many severe cases of Chronic Catarrh have been entirely cured by the sanguinaria or Extract of Blood Root alone.

Within a year an enterprising chemist has combined all of these remedies in tablet form, palatable and convenient, and the superiority of this tablet over other catarrh remedies is also apparent that all druggists now carry them in stock to supply the popular demand.

They are called Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and it is doubtful if any medicine has achieved a national popularity in so short a time as this.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are used by thousands of travelling men, because they can be carried in the pocket, and used at any time and in any quantity, being free from Cocaine, opiate or any poisonous drugs.

They clear the head and throat from the disgusting secretions of catarrh, very often in a few hours time.

For nasal Catarrh they are far superior to any wash, lotion or ointment, the use of which is often as inconvenient and annoying as the disease itself.

For coughs, colds, bronchial catarrh and catarrh of the stomach, these tablets give immediate relief and a permanent cure, where lotions, inhalers and douches make no impression whatever.

This preparation is a boon to catarrh sufferers, and any druggist will tell you that Stuart's Carrh Tablets is a remedy that has come to stay.

Nervous Prostration

Mrs. Edwards was a mere skeleton of skin and bone, nervous, irritable and weak, had heart palpitation and suffered dreadful pains.

Brantford's best physicians failed to help her.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food built up flesh and weight, restored nerve force and made her strong and well.

An extraordinary case that is worthy of investigation.

MRS. EDWARDS

Mrs. R. W. Edwards, 38 Murray St., Brantford, Ont., describes her case as follows:—"For five years I have suffered more than words can tell from nervous headaches, nervous dyspepsia and exhaustion. The pains in my head would at times almost drive me crazy. I could not sleep nights, but would walk the floor in agony until I fell exhausted and unconscious, and my husband would have to carry me back to bed.

"Sometimes I could take no food for four days at a time, and experienced terrible gnawing sensations in the stomach, had bad taste in the mouth and coated tongue. I was pale, nervous, irritable, easily exhausted, was reduced to a mere skeleton of skin and bone, and my heart would palpitate as though it was about to stop beating. My greatest suffering was caused by the dreadful pains in my head, neck, and back, and all this was in spite of the best efforts of three leading doctors of this city.

"For the past nine months I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and for a considerable time I have not experienced a headache, or any of the symptoms mentioned above. From a mere skeleton this medicine has built me up in flesh and weight, and now I am strong and well, do my own housework, walk out for two hours without feeling tired, and am thoroughly restored to health. Is it any wonder that words fail to express my gratitude for this remarkable cure? You can use this testimonial for the benefit of other sufferers."

SUCCESSFUL STRIKE

Men Win the Montreal Street Car Battle in 24 Hours.

WITHOUT CARS FOR A DAY

Schedule of the Demands of the Men—What Company Expected—Opposing Forces Brought Face to Face—Then All Differences Were Settled—Get All the Increase They Asked.

Montreal, Feb. 7.—The conductors and motormen of the Montreal Street Railway went out on strike yesterday morning and the service was at a standstill. There are 1,500 men out and the strikers are naturally excited and elated over their success in bringing traffic to such a standstill. Not a car wheel was turning, nor in fact have the street railway company made any attempt to start cars. For the time being the officials are apparently acquiescent in the situation.

It looks as if it will have been a twenty-four hours' strike, for after hours of negotiations between the company and the men it was announced at midnight last night that the Montreal Street Railway had conceded the demands of the men, which are as follows:

Employes, under 5 years, per hour, 18c.

Employes, over five years, per hour 20c.

Increase in the number of employes.

Recognition of the union.

No dismissals without reason.

Reinstatement of employes dismissed this year without assigned cause.

Payment of salary when under suspension, if charges are unfounded.

This is indeed a surprise to the friends of the company, whose officials announced yesterday morning that they would fight the matter to the bitter end.

Early in the day correspondence was exchanged between the president of the company and the Mayor of the city.

It was then understood that the company had no intention of attempting to run the cars either on Saturday or Sunday, but that they would do so on Monday, backed up by an armed force of local troops, arrangements having already been made to call out the different city regiments.

It was added that 350 of the men had signified their willingness to run cars as soon as the company desired it, and the story was that an attempt to run half of the cars would be made. In the meantime Senator Forget and Manager Wanklyn, Mayor Cochrane and Ald. Lapointe and Ames met. When this meeting had been concluded the civic people stated that there was every possibility of the strike being declared off at midnight.

After this a meeting was called between the strikers and the company's officials, this being the first time that the opposing forces had been brought face to face. It was announced at a little before midnight that all the differences had been settled, except the question of recognizing the union, but half an hour later a statement was handed out to the effect that the company would not object to the union clauses.

This had the effect of sending delegations east and west to confer with the men, who had become scattered, and now the officials are awaiting their return.

In a word, the company gives an increase of 10 per cent., and practically recognizes the union.

QUARRELLED OVER WOMEN.

Two Colored Men Have an Altercation in Toronto, and I. W. Romaine Is Now in Custody.

Toronto, Feb. 7.—A shooting affray that will probably result in the death of Louis Goldsmith, colored, proprietor of the New Process Company, at 102 Victoria street, occurred about midnight. Isaac Walter Romaine, also colored, is under arrest at No. 2 Station, charged with shooting with intent. If Goldsmith dies, as it is expected he will, the charge will be changed to murder.

The trouble occurred at 102-104 Victoria street, where both parties live, and is just south of Richmond street. It was the result of a quarrel over women coming into the house. Goldsmith was removed to the Emergency Hospital in the police ambulance.

There were three bullet wounds. The most serious one, and from which fatal results will almost surely follow, is in the chest, and Dr. N. A. Powell, who, with four other doctors, took charge of the injured man, states that it is identical with the wound which caused the death of President McKinley. Another bullet imbedded itself higher up in his body and the third hit his left hand.

According to the story of Romaine, he did not fire the shots, but was merely defending himself from an attack made upon him by Goldsmith, who had the revolver, and in the struggle the cartridges were exploded in some way. The women left the house and have not yet been located.

$1,000,000 Profits First Year!

Do you realize that some 250 communications from large manufacturers all over the country have already been received, asking for figures for equipping their plants?

Do you realize that the profits on these plants alone would amount to the above estimate for the first year's profit?

These shares are now selling at 50c, but subscriptions are coming in so fast that a sharp advance in price will soon take place. The best informed predict that this stock will advance to several dollars a share in a few months.

Manufacturers in all Parts of the Country Thoroughly Aroused! All Enthusiastic Over New Process for Furnishing Power.

Plant of Landers, Frary & Clark, New Britain, Conn.

This firm, located at New Britain, Connecticut, is one of the oldest and largest cutlery manufacturers in America. Their big plant will be equipped with the new fuel. Figuring on the most conservative basis, this firm will certainly save by this new process as follows:

Present consumption of coal, about 5,000 tons a year, at $4.00 a ton, costs..... $20,000
By equipping with the new process the cost of fuel will be reduced to about.... 8,000

A direct saving of 60%, or..... $12,000

NOTE—Landers, Frary & Clark, or any other concern, will probably save more than this, as most of the tests of the new process show a saving of 60% and more in cost of fuel, to say nothing of about 33⅓% saving on labour.

POLICE COURT NEWS.

Mr. Thomas McGee Charged With Violation of the Health Laws.

At the police court to-day, Mr. Thos. McGee, of Parnell street, was charged before Police Magistrate Dumble, with violating the Health Laws. It was alleged that McGee's child was taken to the hospital with scarlet fever, that McGee had not confined himself to the house, as he should, have done, but had been mingling with the public, thereby endangering those with whom he came in contact.

In answer to the charge the accused said that he worked at the Electric Works, and did not know of the existence of the disease in his house until he had returned from work. He then had to milk his cows, and feed his pigs, and except for these necessities, he had confined himself to his limited domain. He said that after his child's removal to the hospital his wife had thoroughly disinfected the house with sulphur and carbolic acid.

The Magistrate discharged the accused, saying, however, that people could not be too careful, and the Chief of Police impressed upon Mr. McGill the fact that he must isolate himself while his house was placarded.

CRESSMAN'S STORE COMPLETELY GUTTED.

Fire Broke out at No. 385 George Street at 1.15 o'clock.

THE EMPLOYEES HAD A NARROW ESCAPE.

Mr. Cressman's Stock Valued at Between $30,000 and $40,000
Cause of Fire is Unknown—Fair & Co's Store Damaged.

At 1.15 o'clock this afternoon fire broke out in the cellar of Mr. A. W. Cressman's dry goods store, No. 385 and 387 George street. Intimation to this effect reached the fire station a few minutes later, and the brigade was soon at the burning building.

The actual conflagration began in the cellar of the southern store, No. 385, but whether it was from the furnace or the electric wires, cannot as yet be ascertained. On the arrival of the fire brigade dense black clouds were issuing from the windows on the second floor of store No. 385, while flames no less black, if not in so great a quantity, were oozing between the window sashes of store No. 387. The fire hose was immediately brought into service, and in a few minutes time three streams were playing on the store to the front, while a few minutes later two other streams were in service at the rear.

For three-quarters of an hour the five powerful streams continually threw their extinguishing contents upon Mr. Cressman's stores, but seemingly without much avail.

Mr. Robert Fair occupied the next store to Mr. Cressman, on the south side. On the first intimation of the fire next door, one of Mr. Fair's employees ran from his counter to shut the cellar door. No sooner had he providentially acted in this wise, when an explosion occurred, blowing down the ceiling just above his own particular counter. The situation in Mr. Fair's store was a critical one. The existence of the fire next door had only just become known, and the ceiling, plaster, rafters, paper and the like, covered the counter beneath the skylight, doing considerable damage, but luckily injuring no one.

Within an hour of the outbreak the fire seemed to have been got under control, and two streams were turned off, but the end was not to come so suddenly, for dense fumes broke out on the top flat, in the southern store, and in store No. 387 the flames were creeping slowly up the walls. The water from the fire hose was again turned on, and the flames finally subdued.

It is hard to estimate Mr. Cressman's loss, but it will certainly be heavy, as the contents of the cellar and the 1st, 2nd and 3rd floors were entirely consumed.

A conservative estimate places Mr. Cressman's loss at between thirty and forty thousand dollars. The building is owned by the Toronto Savings and Loan Company. The damage done to it is difficult to estimate at this stage, but it is most likely covered by insurance.

The fire spread with remarkable rapidity, the contents on the various floors seeming to be of a most inflamable nature, between the time it was first noticed and the time the employees of the second floor made their escape from meeting death in the flames was a matter of only a few minutes.

Fortunately at the present time only a few ladies were employed on the second floor. As it was, however, their means of escape was nearly cut off, and had not one of the gentlemen employees down stairs hustled up with the elevator, the conflagration might have had more terrible consequences. The employees, in fact, escaped without their headgear, and in some instances, coats. Hardly a particle of stock of any description was able to be saved.

Mr. Cressman has the sympathy of a host of friends in Peterborough in the loss he has sustained and in the interruption to business which such devastations as a fire, of course, causes. Mr. Cressman has conducted the dry goods business in Peterborough with much success for the past four or five year's, and recently enlarged his opportunities by adding a gentleman's furnishing department.

He was at present engaged in remodelling the second floors of his premises and was preparing for the spring trade.

The extent of damage to Mr. R. Fair & Co's premises is hard to estimate, but a considerable inconvenience will be caused to the firm by the conflagration. As will be noticed by an announcement elsewhere in this issue, his premises will be closed till further notice.

Mr. Fair's stock is undoubtedly very largely damaged by smoke, water and dust.

A New Dredge.

The Dominion Government is building a new dredge to be used in connection with the work of the Trent Valley Canal. The dredge is being heavy built under the supervision of Mr. Hickey, the well known boat builder. The work is in progress on the canal some little distance below the lift lock and the water will have to be let into the canal before the new dredge can be taken out. Some of the pine timbers that are being used in the dredge came from British Columbia and are 75 feet in length.

A Year of Unexceptional Prosperity and Achievements.

Toronto • • The Executive Officials of the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, report that the year just ended has been one of exceptional prosperity and achievements. It is a well known fact that the Imperial Life's past record has been unequalled in life assurance experience in Canada, but the most sanguine of its numerous policy-holders and active representatives throughout the Dominion will be surprised to learn of the following magnificent results:—Applications for assurances aggregated over $4,500,000; the policies actually issued exceeded the large amount of $4,000,000; cash income totalled over $500,000; the accumulated assets reached $1,650,000, while the entire policies of assurance in force exceed $13,500,000. It was also stated that the interest income from investments was again more than sufficient to pay all of the death claims of the year.

ORGANIZED A MEN'S CLUB.

Young Men of St. John's, Meet in Sunday School for That Purpose.

Last night a meeting of the young men of St. John's congregation was held in the school room of that church. The object of the meeting was to organize a Men's Club. The meeting was opened by some pianola selections by Mr. R. Soans, which was followed by a very interesting address from Mr. Miles on "Missionary Work in the North-West." After a few more selections on the pianola, the business was transacted and officers elected as follows:—

President—Mr. Gray.
Secretary-Treasurer—Jas. Bell.
Executive Committee—Messrs. T. Dawson, R. Gibbs and R. Soans.

The work for the ensuing year was then roughly moulded and cast, and once again Mr. Soan's valuable instrument came into requisition.

The evening was a unique and very enjoyable one and everyone present was delighted with the excellence of the programme.

Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION IN FULL PROGRESS.

Visitors Entertained at Tea in Y. M. C. A. Building.

VERY LARGE ATTENDANCE AT MEETINGS.

The German Boys' Choir Proved to be a Great Attraction—To-day's Proceedings Were Interesting.

At the afternoon session after devotional exercises, Rev. Dr. Harris, Toronto, gave an hour's interesting address on "An Hour with the Work of God." The speaker spoke of the relative study of the Word, that is the bearing of each book upon the other and as a whole. After dealing with the characteristics of the Evangelists, and their relations to their Master, each selected to set forth the various phases of the Lord's life, he began a most effective and illuminating exposition of the subject, and the speaker concluded by saying that the great word that should be writetn over the Gospel of St. Luke was "Sympathy," that over St. Mark's, "Service," and that over St. Matthew's, "Sympathy."

The convention then adjourned to permit of the meeting of the several conferrers upon different phases of the Y.M.C.A. work.

PROVINCIAL COMMITTEE.

The Report of This Committee was Very Interesting—Some Facts.

The following is the report of the Provincial Committee:

As we review the work of our Associations for the past year, we discover much to encourage and, at the same time, much to humble and to cause earnest thought and heart searching before God. But we must allow neither victory to unduly elate us or to cause us to relax our watchfulness or effort nor failure nor defeat to dishearten us or cause us to lose faith; rather we should study carefully the causes which have resulted in failure and intelligently seek and promptly apply a remedy.

It is gratifying to find that the London Association has entirely wiped out its indebtedness, while Toronto and Brantford have made large reductions, and there has also been a substantial decrease in the amount due on the Owen Sound building. This shows a decrease on the total amount of indebtedness on Association property of something over $365,000.00. We also note with pleasure the fact that already a foundation is in for the new railroad building at Point St. Charles, Montreal, and the completion of the structure will be begun as soon as weather permits. Stratford having received a liberal offer from the Grand Trunk Railway in canvassing for funds for a modern building. There is the prospect also of another railroad building during the coming year. Some other Associations have occupied new and superior quarters and still others have improved their old rooms, while others are beginning to seriously consider building. We are not able to report any new City or Railroad Associations during the year, Guelph effected temporary organization and secured a guarantee of sufficient financial support for three years, but was unable to find suitable rooms, and did not see it to be advisable to attempt a building.

Ingersoll, Wiarton and Carleton Place have disbanded or become inoperative, and have been dropped from the list. Your Committee have deemed it wise to change the classification of some of the organizations which have heretofore appeared in the list of Associations, but which, while during a goiod work, mostly along spiritual lines, are not attempting an all round work, and do not employ a general Secretary. By this arrangement Cobourg, Port Hope and Eglinton are transferred to the list of Sections.

The total membership of the City and Railroad Associations is 10,545, practically the same as last year, but there is a slight falling off (33) in number serving on Committees.

We regret to note that there has been a falling off in the number of Gospel Meetings held, and consequently in the total attendance, although the average attendance at those that were held shows an increase of 28 1-2 per cent. We find also in Bible Study that while there have been fewer sessions of Bible Classes held there has been a slight increase (about 1 per cent.) in the total attendance.

While this is not a satisfactory showing yet we are pleased to report that in not a few of our Associations not only is there an increase in attendance at meetings, but more important a deepening interest in spiritual things, a steady and growing work resulting in changed lives of increasing numbers of men.

Last May a Conference on the Religious Work Department conducted by F. S. Goodman, International Secretary, New York, was held at Brantford. In November a series of five local Conferences on the same department were conducted by Mr. Goodman, at Ottawa, Peterborough, Berlin, Galt and Brantford. These proved very helpful, and in each case strong policy for the conduct of this work was adopted. The time from the holding of these conferences to the end of the year was scarcely sufficient to show increase in the figures of this report, but we trust and believe that the consideration given to this work at this time and the further study to be given at the Convention will result in both a larger and stronger work being done. Some of our Associations, and among them the largest, do not report the number of professed conversions, although a larger number than usual have decided to lead Christian lives, but those who do report state that 30 per cent. of such conversions are known to have joined the church. This perhaps is not as large as it ought to be, but is encouraging.

We are pleased to learn that the number of Boards of Directors having weekly meetings for prayer has materially increased.

Last year there were 96 Educational Classes reported with a total enrolement of 1,338, an increase in the number enrolled of over 7 per cent.

Last year 17 Associations reported 3,720 different men using Physical Department. This year 22 Associations report 5,529 men, an increase of 31 3-4 pe cent. In this connection we are glad to note the success which has attended Bible Class Work especially for Gymnasium men; particularly in our larger Associations we believe this is a field which could be developed to good advantage.

18 Associations report 2,413 members in there Boys' Departments, with 210 boys serving on Committees, total attendance of 13,028 at religious meetings, 876 enrolled in Bible Classes. This shows a slight decrease in each of the above items. This should stimulate careful study that each Association may see wherein it is failing. It is only fair to state here that last year, 1901, there was a phenomenal increase in this department, and that the reaction has not been greater is the only wonder, further, that our Associations are, in most cases, working up to and beyond the limit to their capacity to accommodate the boys.

The District Work has made encouraging advance. We can now report eight sections with 419 members, and 55 men enrolled in Bible Classes, 26 Bible Study Clubs, enrolement 267, and 73 corresponding members. Last year we had six sections, 20 Bible Study Clubs, and 45 Corresponding Members.

In the Student Department the year just closed has been marked by steady advance in all the essential features of our work. The present membership is 1,789, out of a male student population of 4,200, an increase of 46 per cent. 643 are enrolled in Bible Study, an increase of 136 over last year. This, as will be seen, is almost 36 per cent. of the membership.

Following the desre expressed at the last Convention, the Foreign Work Committee sought to procure funds for outfit, passage and support of Mr. Fred. W. Anderson, who it was expected would go to India under the auspices of the International Committee.

There were two military camps held at Niagara during the past year, one in June and one in September. The Committee was represented at both of these and carried on a vigorous and successful work. The camp in June was for cavalry and artillery only, and contained not more than one thousand men. The withdrawal of many of these on account of the disturbance in connection with the Street Railway strike in Toronto seriously interferred with our work. In September the work was in charge of Mr. Wilkie, assisted by three secretaries and three clergymen, but these were not all there all the time, and provision should be made so that another year there may be a larger corps of workers.

Lord Dundonald, who was there for the first time, called twice at the tent, asked many questions, showed appreciation of the work we were doing and left a contribution towards its expenses. The other officers in connection with the camp also assisted in many ways to make the work pleasant and effective.

Your Committee also co-operated with the Canadian Associations at large, and especially with the Halifax Association in the work done among the men of the Fourth Contingent. Before they sailed an Association was organized with Trooper A. J. Bruce, President, and Corporal Bushfield, Secretary. In view of the good work done by the Association during the past thirty-three years among the Canadian Militia, and with our Contingents during the South African War, and the possibilities of this work as shown by what has been done in the United States Army and Navy, it is a question whether the time has not arrived for something definite to be undertaken among our regular soldiers.

The Publication Committee have issued the report of the last Convention and the quarterly organ of Men of Ideal Men, the advertising in which has very nearly paid the cost of publication.

In connection with the investigation of the possibilities of work among our Lumbermen and Miners, no progress has been made.

The work of the Finance Committee should have more than passing notice. Not only have they raised the largest budget ever estimated or secured by the committee, but have also paid the deficit which was carried over from last year and come to this Convention with a balance to our credit.

It gives us pleasure to announce that after several years' consideration and delay, a School of Instruction for Secretaries and Physical Directors was formally opened January 7th, with seven students enrolled.

The Committee is planning a series of Institutes, probably three in number, to be held in the Spring at which, under the leadership of specialists, the various departments of our work may be studied. Every Association should be represented by strong men.

The Committee recomends for your careful consideration and action:

That every Young Men's Christian Association should have a thoroughly organized religious work department.

That we aim at enlisting a number equal to a least 25 per cent. of our Active membership in the work of this department. (Number now reported 16 per cent.)

That we seek to enroll in Association Bible Classes, a number equal to at least 25 per cent. of our entire membership. (Number now reported 17 per cent.)

That we strongly commend the observance of Bible Study Rally Day in all of our Associations, on the last Sunday of September.

That we recommend the larger adoption of Bible Study Courses suggested by the International Committee, and that our students be encouraged to take the International Examinations in Bible Study.

That in the best interests of clean amateur sport we recommend that the Atheletic League of North America affiliate with the Canadian Amateur Athelelic Union, as it has already done in the case of the American Amateur Athelelic Union.

That the Associations at present doing no work for boys begin some definite form of religious work by the organization of Bible Class or Boys' Meeting, after conference with the Provincial Committee.

That an annual gathering of some central point of boys' department workers and senior boys be held to consider vital problems and principals of the work.

That at least $1,250 be raised in City and Railroad Associations, exclusive of Montreal, for the Foreign Work of the International Committee, for the purpose of supporting a man in India, preferably in Calcutta. That each Association subscribe for a sufficient number of Foreign Mail to give one to each contributor to this fund, and that distribution of these be personally made by members of the local Foreign Work Committee.

The discontinuance of the publication of Ideal Men in its present form and in lieu thereof the sending regularly of all contributions to the Provincial Work of sums of $5.00 and over, who are not already regular subscribers to it, a copy of Association Men, and to contributors of the Provincial Work of sums less than $5.00 quarterly a four to eight page summary of our work.

FIVE O'CLOCK TEA.

The Visitors Were Hospitably Entertained in the Y. M. C. A.

Last evening the delegates to the Y.M.C.A. convention, were sumptuously banquetted by the ladies of Peterborough, in the spacious Association Hall, on the second floor.

The banquet was in every respect immaculately served by the ladies, who nobly fulfilled their work of looking after the wants of the delegates.

After every one present had fully satisfied the inner man, leaving many of the good things untouched on the tables, Mr. W. Madill, the chairman, called those present to order, and, after a few words of welcome to the delegates, called on Mr. Breithaupt, the president of the Association, to speak on "The Relation of the Business Man to the Association."

Mr. Breithaupt thanked all concerned, and especially the ladies, for the magnificent and generous way in which they had been treated. Turning to his topic, the speaker said that the Association trained young men to lead good and useful lives, and such a man would be invaluable in any business office, and as soon as the business man grasps this, it will add greatly to his credit.

Mr. John Penman, Paris, was next called upon to respond. Mr. Penman said he fully appreciated the sumptuous repast, and that the convention was honoured in being invitted to this town.

He was glad to note that the ladies were to be relied upon to so great an extent, and he thought the Board of Directors should consist solely of the gentler sex.

Mr. Williamson, the secretary of the local Y.M.C.A., in a few well-chosen words, said he was glad to see such a large audience present, and that nothing had given him so great a pleasure as doing the little he had done towards the entertainment of the convention delegates.

The next gentleman called upon by the chairman, was Mr. W. L. Armitage, who said that Peterborough was proud of its fine association building, and also of its secretary, Mr. Williamson. He had in the past seen the benefits derived from the Y.M.C.A., and hoped that its future would be as prosperous as its past had been.

Mr. L. L. McPherson, delegate of the Students' Association, said he knew when a good square meal had been prepared, and that he had done full justice to the pains taken by the ladies in preparing so magnificent a banquet.

The chairman, (Mr. Madill) on behalf of the Peterborough ladies, thanked the speakers for the complimentary way in which they had spoken of their efforts.

After the singing of God Save the King, the gathering broke up to attend the evening session at St. Paul's church.

EVENING SESSION.

The German Boys' Choir Proved to be a Feature of the Proceedings.

The evening session of the Y. M. C. A. Convention was held in the body of St. Paul's Presbyterian church last night, a very large number of delegates and friends of the Association being present.

As was suitable to the vocation of the Convention, a few hymns and prayers were respectively sung and offered. An attraction to the Peterborough friends of the Y.M.C.A. was the choir of German boys from Berlin, who received hearty applause for their excellent singing, both in English and German.

Mr. Penman, of Paris, Ont., delivered an address on "What Have We Done in View of Our Opportunity." This speech was opened by a brief outline of the work of the Association. "The object," said Mr. Penman, "of the Association is to reach and enfold in the meshes of its net every young man in the Dominion. In every church there was a scarcety of men, and it was the duty of the Y.M.C.A. to train the young men in the ways of regularly attending the churches."

In conclusion he touched upon the Woman's Auxiliary, which had presented most hopeful and promising reports for the future. The night will soon come when no man can work, and let every one be assured that he has helped to forward God's work.

The German Boys' Choir next sang a beautiful German Song, which was of a most inspiring nature.

Mr. Frank Yeigh delivered an address on "Our Opportunity in View of the Young Men in the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec," in which he stated that Canada was essentially a young man's country, and there was in this country a very great opportunity of the spiritual elevation of the young male constituants. A country's success is not guaged by the amount of wheat or cattle she produces, but by the number and stamp of young, good, earnest and religiously devoted youths and men. Manhood starts at the age of 12 and from that time the associates with whom the boy is allowed to converse intimately, will decide his habits, good or bad, in the future.

The billiard, card and bar-rooms are all supported mainly by young men. The Y.M.C.A. ought to be more attractive in order that the bad and essentially undesirable places do not become the retreats of our young men. The extension of Christ's kingdom among young men must be the keynote of the Association during its entire lifetime.

Master Jacob Hentol, the chief voice of the visiting choir, rendered a solo in an excellent manner.

Mr. F. S. Goodman, of New York, said that opportunities were made by God and men had to make the most of them. Everywhere lay opportunities—the good people of the back streets of our modern towns wanted to seriously be both socially and spiritually elevated, and that to do this and everything else the great great need, and the need of Christ's co-operation.

The choir for the third time after their wearying journey from Berlin, gave another song which, as had the previous one, received the enthusiastic applause of the well-wishing and sincere friends in Peterborough of the Young Men's Christian Association.

After the benediction had been pronounced by the Rev. R. VanPirch, the session broke up.

THIS MORNING'S SESSION.

Mr. J. J. Gartshore Presented His Financial Statement—District Work.

The third day's session opened in the Murray street Baptist church at 9 a.m. There was a full attendance of delegates, about 200 being present.

After devotional services, the singing being led by Messrs. Young of London, and Gilchrist, of Stratford, "An Hour with the Bible" was conducted by Rev. Dr. Harris, who took for his subject the Gospel of St. John. He pointed out that in his opinion the only intelligent way of studying the Bible was to study it book by book. He made a most interesting analysis of the beauties of this Gospel. In the three divisions Christ is represented as Light, Life and Love. The Gospel of St. John was to be regarded as the spiritual gospel, and reveals the Sonship of Christ in its great aspects and reveals St. Luke's Gospel as the Gospel of the Son of God.

GOOD FINANCIAL SHOWING.

Mr. J. J. Gartshore, of Toronto, Treasurer, presented his statement showing that financially the Association had had a prosperous year, with all requirements adequately provided for and a small surplus. The receipts for the year amounted to $5,954.43, and the expenditure $5,924.48, leaving a credit balance of $29.95. The open collection at St. Paul's church last night amounted to $46.34, the subscriptions from new people amounted to $152.50 and renewals of old subscriptions amounted to $595.

During the morning most of the reports of the conferences held yesterday were presented, and substantially as follows:

DISTRICT WORK.

The conference report showed that E. T. Case, of Picton, read a paper on the work, which emphasized the place of the corresponding members in the Y.M.C.A., whose function was to bring men into the work from outlying districts to centres. The corresponding member should represent the Association creditably for he represents a body of men who are ambassadors for Christ. He must be familiar with his Bible, and above all he should be filled with the love of God for his fellow men. "Some Fundamentals in Organized Christian Work for Men," was the subject of T. J. Wilkes'. These were of a spiritual nature and purpose, unselfish motives, conversion, patience and perseverance. "The Summer Conference" also received attention and commendation. "Our Opportunity to Private Bible Study and Personal Work," showed that there was needed a full realization of the importance of the objects aimed at. In the Provincial fields there were 73 corresponding members in Ontario and Quebec and 27 Bible Study Clubs. Nearly 100 small towns being brought into touch with the work.

DIRECTORS' CONFERENCE.

The first topic was "The Director's Responsibility." He was responsible for knowledge of need, and for planning for need, for direction of officers, and for participation, and for their own sakes. An ideal director should be engaged in business, be a Christian man, and willing to give his time to the work, and should be familiar with all details of work, and capable of exercising oversight. Directors should represent their constituency, study their field and be a representative of the association in the community. These qualifications were elaborated in discussion during the conference.

BOYS' WORK.

In the Boys' Work Conference, minute reports were considered from a large number of associations. These reports brought out the necessity of keeping before boys the idea of an all-rounded manhood, and that every means be employed to keep the spiritual idea to the front. Every boy of 14 and under must have a definite place in the work. A paper was read by Mr. Jamieson of Hamilton, dealing with the religious aspect of the work. The question of personal purity was discussed, and the truth realized that the prevailing evil must be dealt with with a view of bringing about purity of life among boys. It was agreed that it was legitimate to use good books to stimulate interest. Mr. Dead of Montreal, read a paper referring to Boys' Camps. It was shown that camps should not be held, unless under proper leaders, and the central idea should be to win souls for Christ.

A paper by Mr. Archie Froude, of Peterborough, held that the Boys' Department was a source of supply to the association and their future strength.

PHYSICAL WORK.

The report of the Physical Committee stated that Bible Classes for men were most desirable, but that the difficulty was to secure capable leaders. Mr. Winters, of Montreal, a leader in the gymnasium, told of the organization of a successful gymnasium Bible class. The Hamilton Association had found a "Good Night" to be a good thing. In small towns where the secretary had to do all the work, it was considered advisable that Christian young men be urged to more co-operative work. It was found that sometimes non-Christian young men had unconsciously aided the work. The "best spiritual men" did not patronize the gymnasiums to any great extent, so that the man in charge did not have material to work with. It was the conclusion of the conference that the Boys' Work in the gymnasium should be carefully looked after.

PERMANENT COMMITTEES.

The Committee on the Provincial Committee's report, dealt with the admirable, conscientious and efficient work of the Provincial Committee, of the secretaries, Messrs. Copeland, Wilkie and McPherson being especially commended. The report records a budget of $6000, and with a surplus in the treasury.

The following recommendations were in substance made:

1st. Increase in secretarial force, in view of the growing demands of the work—another secretary to give his special attention to emergency work, and that the committee be authorized to expend at least $7500 in the next two years.

2nd. Work among regular soldiers was urged.

3rd. That the committee be requested to consider the organization of one or more committees on the plan of county work, including the employment of a county secretary.

4th. The continuation of the school of instruction in Toronto was recommended for another year, in view of the need, and the good work done. The summer school of training for physical directors was also endorsed.

5th That the committee be authorized to arrange for and conduct institutes for the consideration of the various departments of work.

6th. That the Associations be urged to take advantage of the training conference for committeemen in city and railway associations, and boys' work.

7th. The report commended to the convention the recommendations of the Provincial Committee in regard to religious work.

8th. It was recommended in the interests of clean amateur sport that the Athletic League of North America affiliate with the Canadian Amateur Union.

9th. Attention was called to the notice of motion regarding biennial conventions.

10th. The paragraph regarding the holding of a biennial convention was referred back to the committee for action.

11th. The committee adopted the following recommendations for membership in the Provincial Committee to fill the vacancies caused by expired terms:—John Penman, Paris; H. Yeigh, Brantford; H. C. Hurst, Belleville; A. L. Breithaupt, Berlin; A. L. Patterson and W. S. Leslie, Montreal; Wm. Garside, Frank Yeigh and F. M. Pratt, Toronto; G. M. Roger, Peterborough; Prof. Brebner, University College, Toronto; Prof. Torry, McGill University, Montreal.

12th. That the Association be urged to organize and arrange their evening class and other educational work before the summer vacation, to give time to advertise and work up the educational department for the early fall.

A PROSPEROUS YEAR.

The Trusts and Guarantee Company Limited Annual Meeting.

The shareholders of the Trusts and Guarantee Company, Limited, held their sixth annual meeting at the Company's offices, 14 King street west, Toronto, on January 28th last, with the president, Hon. J. R. Stratton, in the chair.

The directors' report of the year's business was of a very gratifying character, showing a decidedly successful year. After a dividend of 5 per cent. per annum had been paid to the shareholders, and all expenses had been met, the sum of $24,296.23 was placed to the credit of the Profit and Loss Account, making the total of this account $48,451.70. An evidence of the solidity of the company, and of the sterling business methods of its management, is the fact that during the year a large amount of voluntary payments were received from the holders of partially paid up stock. These payments amounted to $122,468.18, making the paid up capital of the Company, $629,-080.16. The report shows that every department of the Company's business is steadily increasing, and there is every indication of prosperity.

In his address to the shareholders, the President spoke very highly of the general efficiency of the officers and staff of the company.

Had Eczema Twenty Years

Leg Was Swollen Three Times Its Natural Size and Mortification Had Apparently Set In.

Itching Was Frightful, But Powley's Liquified Ozone Killed the Disease Germs and Eradicated Every Trace of the Disease.

To-day He is Sound and Well and Mr. Banks is Strong in the Belief That Ozone Saved His Life.

For twenty years I was troubled with eczema in my left leg. My leg was swollen three times its natural size and apparently mortification had set in. The skin had broken in several places and matter was oozing from the ulcers. The leg was black and rawish-red in parts right up to my hip and the itching was frightful.

My wife had been much benefitted by Ozone, so I decided to give it a trial. It was not long before I noticed an improvement in my blood. The humors began to disappear and soon my leg had resumed its natural healthy tone.

I believe that Ozone has saved my life, and I give this testimonial for the benefit of others. Ozone also cured me of bad kidney disorder and a most painful eye trouble.

J. B. BANKS,
787 Queen st. West, Toronto.

J. B. BANKS.

To Get Rid of Blood and Skin Disorders You Must Get at the Root of the Trouble.

You cannot cure blood and skin disorders by treating the symptoms. You must find the cause and remove it. Medical science has demonstrated that these disorders are due to disease germs. Powley's Liquified Ozone destroys these germs wherever located, and it is due to this fact alone that it is the grandest remedy for the treatment of disease that the world has ever known. If but one person or a dozen bore testimony to the fact that they have been cured it might be reasonable to think all were mistaken, or that they simply "happened" to get better, but when the number runs into the thousands, and all are alike in being most positive and enthusiastic, it becomes proof of the most convincing kind that Ozone will do all we claim for it—destroy disease germs wherever located.

The number of persons cured of blood and skin disorders by Powley's Liquified Ozone is far too great to attempt to publish them here. We give a few, however, to show that the good work is not confined to any particular part of the country:

John Smith, Catarequi, Ont., salt rheum.
Jas. Bardsley, 447 East King st., Toronto, blood disorder.
H. Lever, 19 St. Vincent st., Toronto, blood disorder.
J. W. Brown, 36 Alexander st., Toronto, skin disease.
Miss Crew, 248 Van Horn st., Toronto, blood poisoning from ivy.
Miss E. Pike Cooper, Cornwall, Ont., scrofula.
Rodger Pilson, Downsview P.O., eczema.
Herbert Cookman, Huntsville, Ont., running sore.
Mrs. Ellen Smith, 21 St. Andre street, Montreal, eczema.
P. Trempe, 391 Panet st., Montreal, painful boils.
Vincent O'Neil, 108 Mitchell ave., Toronto, eczema.
Mrs. Wm. Stevenson, 76 Laughton ave., Toronto Junction, Ont., skin disease.
Mrs. F. Beglethorpe, 73 Cobourg st., Ottawa, Ont., eczema.
C. Hagens, 94 Anderson st., Montreal, running sore.
W. Dorsey, 12 Sultan street, Toronto, eczema.
Dr. H. Mecklenburg, cor. Craig and Bleury sts., Montreal, eczema.
Mr. W. Knowlton's little son, 67 Brunswick ave., Toronto, eczema.

Powley's Liquified Ozone is sold by reliable druggists—never by fakirs or peddlers. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. Our free booklet on receipt of name and address.

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scratch and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

ON THE MAIN LINE.

A Change in the Plans of the Grand Trunk Pacific Affecting Winnipeg—Acquiring Other Lines.

Ottawa, Feb. 7.—C. M. Hays, General Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, and William Wainwright, assistant, had an interview with Sir Richard Cartwright yesterday morning. Subsequently Sir Thomas Shaughnessy called upon the Minister of Trade and Commerce.

Mr. Hays said he had nothing to give out for publication.

To Pass Through Winnipeg.

The promoters of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway line have made a change in their program, and in lieu of power to build a branch line to Winnipeg, ask authority for the main line to pass through or near that city, thence in a westerly or northwesterly direction through Manitoba and Assiniboia to a point in the vicinity of Prince Albert, in Saskatchewan.

G.T.R. Reaching Out.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—The Post yesterday says: Reports from apparently reliable sources are to the effect that the Grand Trunk road has made a bid for the control of the Wisconsin Central in connection with its transcontinental scheme.

Dividend of G.T.R.

London, Feb. 7.—The Grand Trunk dividend statement, issued yesterday, declares a full dividend of 4 per cent., guaranteed, and first and second preference; also 1 per cent. on third preference, leaving £4,000 carried forward. This about equals the market expectations. The net receipts were £837,000, and the surplus £320,000.

C.P.R. After Another Line.

Bangor, Me., Feb. 7.—Rumors are current here that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company has secured an option on the lease of the Somerset Railroad and is negotiating for the purchase of the Wiscasset, Waterville and Farmington narrow gauge, otherwise known as the Fiscasset and Quebec.

To Build Engines in Toronto.

Montreal, Feb. 7.—The first contract closed for the locomotive works in connection with the Canada Foundry Company has been arranged with the Canadian Pacific Railway. The order, as closed by Frederic Nicholls, with the management of the railway, was for as many engines as could be turned out of the works in a year. Mr. Nicholls stated that the new works would be in operation early in the coming summer.

THE ACRE DIFFICULTY.

Bolivia Rejected Brazil's Arbitration Offer and Said "Come On."

Rio Janeiro, Feb. 7.—The correspondence on the subject of Acre, published here, consisting of letters exchanged between the Brazilian Foreign Minister and the Brazilian Minister to Bolivia, indicates that an offer of arbitration was made by Brazil to Bolivia, but President Pando of the latter country declared that the only arbitration possible was the marching of troops to Acre. Brazil therefore determined to send a strong force of troops southward and occupy the disputed region, after first notifying Peru, which also claims a part of Acre.

A MISUNDERSTANDING.

Senator Lodge's Opinion of Passing Alaskan Boundary Treaty.

Washington, Feb. 7. — Senator Lodge, Massachusetts, member of the Foreign Relations Committee, had a conference with the President yesterday, during which they discussed the status of the Alaskan boundary treaty. The Senator informed the President that he does not regard the ratification of the treaty as a hopeless task. It is said to be the purpose of the friends of the measure to press its consideration in the Senate, because some of the opposition is based on misunderstanding.

BU HAMARA OFFERED FOR SALE.

Pretender in the Hands of Mercenary Tribesmen.

Paris, Feb. 7.—A despatch from Tangier says the Moorish pretender Bu Hamara is a prisoner in the hands of the Riata tribesmen, who have offered to sell him to the Sultan. El Menbhi, the Moorish Minister of War, is now negotiating with the Riata tribe, and it is believed that the pretender will be brought to Fez.

Three Beggars in a Boat.

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 7.—A combination of whiskey, rough water and poor seamanship in a stolen boat was responsible for the drowning of one man in the inlet yesterday afternoon and the narrow escape of his two companions. The man engulfed was named Williams. His two companions were C. H. Adams and Frederick Klee. The three men were professional beggars.

Killed at a Crossing.

Montreal, Feb. 7.—A retired butcher, named Joseph Giroux, was driving last evening with his two daughters where the Grand Trunk crosses at Water avenue, when they were run down by a train. The father sustained injuries which proved fatal shortly after.

Big Advance in Flour.

New York, Feb. 7.—Since the first of last October the cost of a barrel of flour has advanced more than 80 cents in New York.

Patti Signs a Contract.

London, Feb. 7. — Adelina Patti has finally signed a contract for sixty concerts in America, commencing Nov. 3 next.

Kruger Is All Right.

Paris, Feb. 7.—A despatch from Mentone says the reports that the health of Mr. Kruger is precarious are false.

The Oldest Resident Gone.

Kleinburg, Feb. 7.—Thomas White of this village, the oldest man in York County, is dead. He attained the remarkable age of 109 years. He was born in the County of Tyrone, Ireland, on May 20, 1794, and was the oldest of nine children. His parents settled near Maple in 1824 and his mother lived to the age of 101. His father died at the age of 98. He was a Reformer in politics and a ropemaker by trade.

CUTTING TEETH.

A Trying Time to Both Baby and Mother.

There is no time when baby requires more attention than during the teething period. At that time the little one is always cross and fretful, subject to stomach disorders and sometimes convulsions. Often mothers are absolutely worn out caring for baby, and the whole household is in a condition of anxiety. This condition can be easily remedied by the use of Baby's Own Tablets, which cool the sour little stomach, allay the inflammation of the gums and give the little one healthy, natural sleep. A mother's word can always be depended upon where the health of her little ones is concerned, and thousands of mothers praise this medicine. Mrs. R. L. McFarlane, Bristol, Que., says:—"In my estimation, Baby's Own Tablets have no equal as a medicine for children. They are invaluable at the teething period, and I would not be without them as they keep my baby healthy and happy."

The Tablets relieve all the minor ailments of little ones; are guaranteed to contain no opiate or poisonous "soothing stuff," and may be given with absolute safety to a new born babe. Sold at 25 cents a box by all druggists, or sent post paid, by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y.

Benedict Arnold in 1775.

The prestige of Arnold at the beginning of the Revolution is thus reflected in Professor Justin H. Smith's description in the Century of the heroic "battle with the wilderness" in the march to Quebec, under Arnold's command:

The name of the leader, too, excited enthusiasm. Dorothy Dudley and the rest of the ladies in Cambridge loved to gossip about a man whom they described as "daringly and desperately brave, sanguinely hopeful, of restless activity, intelligent and enterprising," gay and gallant, and the soldier lads told one another admiringly how he marched through the wicket gate at old Ticonderoga shoulder to shoulder with Ethan Allen, how he threatened to break into the magazine at New Haven unless the selectmen would hand over the keys within five minutes when his company heard the news of Lexington and wanted to set out for Cambridge and even how he used to astonish the other boys years before by mixing the great water wheel and going around with it through water and through sky.

AN ABSOLUTE REQUISITE.

A Good Wife, in Sympathy With Farm Life, Necessary to His Success in His Calling.

The Committee on Agriculture reported that, in many low-lying sections, last year, excessive wet did material damage, but, on the whole, the season was one of more than average profit. The scarcity of farm labor and domestic help is one of the serious drawbacks to the occupation of farming.

The Education Committee reported favoring that the amalgamation of small or weak school sections be given a trial, and further considered that it would be a decided advantage to have graded schools.

The Committee on the Good of the Order and Woman's Work had an interesting report, in which they stated that a farmer, if he wants to be a success in his calling, must have a good wife, and one who is thoroughly in sympathy with farm life.

The Horticultural Committee urged the farmers to protect the nest and young of birds which eat insects.

The election of officers resulted as follows. President, Jabel Robinson, M.P.; secretary, Fisher; overseer, H. Gros; treasurer, Falls; lecturer, Goodfellow; steward, Peel, and assistant steward, Bowman.

Had Nervous Prostration.

Mrs. S. W. West, Drayton, Ont., states: "I got terribly run down and finally became a victim of nervous prostration. I had no appetite, seemed to lose interest and ambition and could scarcely drag myself about. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I used three boxes with great benefit gaining eleven pounds. It made me strong and well and I had such an appetite that I wanted to be eating half the time."

Juvenile Logic.

Mother—To think that my little Ethel should have spoken so impatiently to papa today at dinner! She never hears me talk in that way to him.

Ethel (stoutly)—Well, but you choosed him, and I didn't.

A Monster Bird.

Freddie—Ma, the bat is the biggest bird that flies, ain't it?

Ma—By no means, Freddie.

Freddie—Well, anyway some of 'em must be mighty big, 'cause I heard father say he was out on one last night.

ALMOST A MIRACLE IN BOWMANVILLE.

Aged Resident Cured of Agonizing Kidney Trouble From Which he Suffered for Many Years.

Eighty-seven Years of Age not too Old for Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets to Effect a Complete Cure.

MR. DAVID HUMBER.

The case of David Humber of Bowmanville, Ont., must certainly bring home the conviction to every reader of this paper that Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are without doubt the most effectual remedy in the world for kidney ailments.

Mr. Humber is a man in his eighty-seventh year, and although somewhat crippled by an injury he received a number of years ago, is able to get around remarkably well and still retains the mental vigour of one of much younger years.

He is a member of the Methodist church, and has for twenty years been a resident of Bowmanville, and is known to all as an honourable, upright and conscientious man.

Mr. Humber's Own Statement.

When spoken to recently about his ailments he gladly gave the following statement of his case:—"I suffered for a great many years from my kidneys and bladder, latterly that trouble had become serious and I would have to walk the floor for hours in agony before I could make any water, and then it would only come a drop at a time. After it got started I would often have to get up many times during the night, and thus my rest was greatly disturbed.

The water I passed looked like blood, and I suffered great pain in the bladder. I tried all sorts of patent medicines and treatment from local doctors, but it did not seem to help me in the least. Some months ago I was recommended to try Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets, and from the very first I found them doing me good. I have taken in all several bottles and I consider the action of the remedy in my case, especially, to be remarkable, as I am in my eighty-seventh year and have been afflicted a long time.

Any one who wishes to know anything further about how Dr. Pitcher's Tablets have helped me, need only write me and I will be pleased to answer them. (Signed) DAVID HUMBER.

What Mrs. Humber Says.

Mrs. Humber, when spoken to, said that her husband had derived decided and wonderful benefit from Dr. Pitcher's Tablets. She said he used to pace the floor nights in great pain, on account of his kidney trouble, but now he could rest quietly all night.

A BOON TO AGED PEOPLE.

No other remedy has proven itself such a blessing to old people as Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets. They relieve all pain, distress and irritability of the bladder, cure frequent rising at night, and going often during the day. They strengthen the weak kidneys, bladder and urinary organs, take the severe pain out of the back and hips and practically give old folks a new lease of life.

The Tablets are 50 cents a bottle, or 3 for $1.25, at druggists, or by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

DAINTY EFFECTS.

Tassels and Embroideries Figure on Many Gowns.

A popular fancy dies hard, and the blouse still lives to defy its detractors. For winter wear it is made of white cloth or white nuns' veiling, and elaborate insertions of Irish lace vie with stripes of Russian embroidery for the privilege of trimming it.

gray sibeline costume in particular bore as its decoration straps of black velvet, hand embroidered in white silk in a small leaf design.

Tassels of every sort are a popular trimming. Pure black and pure white are of course favorites, but Persian tassels, combining all the colors of the rainbow, and tassels of cut amber pears and crystals are much worn and make a handsome effect on dressy gowns.

The pretty little coffee coat in the illustration is of pale pink brocade and accordion plaited chiffon. The undersleeves and main part of the body are of accordion plaited chiffon. The bolero and the sleeve uppers are made of brocade edged with mink.

Hearts That are Diseased

will never be cured by the false, unnatural stimulation of liquor. First increase your vitality, build up the system, strengthen and purify the blood — then the heart will respond and grow strong.

Ferrozone is precisely what to take. It gives you an appetite and a digestion that will look after everything that is eaten. Ferrozone improves nutrition, makes rich vitalizing blood, and is positively the most powerful restorative and strengthener known to medical science; it improves the nerve tone, regulates the heart's action, makes the feeble strong and the sick well. Ferrozone will do you untold good, and costs only 50c., at Ormond & Walsh's.

ENTIRELY JUSTIFIABLE

By Eva Williams Malone

Copyright, 1902, by the S. S. McClure Company

Brother Hankins was up before Justice Bradbury for assault and battery—Brother Hankins, who had always considered "going to court" as the next step toward a trip to the nether regions.

Yet it was perfectly evident from the proof that Brother Hankins was guilty of the charge brought against him—that he had assaulted Deacon Eli Smith. The deacon's manifold and manifest personal defacements proved the facts, and the oaths of various witnesses clinched the proof.

Brother Hankins' counsel sought to establish the plea that there were mitigating circumstances, and Brother Hankins was allowed to take the stand in his own behalf. He pulled his foretop in the way he had been taught was the proper thing when he wanted to "use manners" and said:

"Yo' sho' ain' no mo' s'prised to see me heah, jedge, den I is to be heah, but flesh an' blood is flesh an' blood, an' dey cain' stan' no mo' den dey kin."

"But you are a minister of the gospel, Uncle Hank, and as such don't you think it is very unbecoming for you to be getting into a common fight?"

"But lemme tell yo', jedge, dis heah ain' no common fight, an' of ary one ob my members had er been cotch in such a box an' heahs' er fit I'd or thawt he moot be a putty good chu'ch member, but he wa'n' no piece ob a man."

"How is that, Uncle Hank?" said the judge. "It seems a very plain case of assault and battery, and I don't see where the mitigating circumstances come in."

"Dat's bekase yo' hain' 'come acquainted wid dem suckumstances an' cain' jes' sackly segashertly how mitigatin' dey reely am, jedge. Yo' see, I was de pastor at Possum Holler, an' dere wa'n' nuffin but peace an' good will in my congergashun till de deacons 'gun at me to marry. My wife, yo' know, been dead sev'al mont's."

"Well, you didn't object to that, did you?" And the judge gave Uncle Hankins a knowing wink.

"Well, sah, I wa'n' jes' sackly sho' 'bout de mattah. I 'lowed I was putty comf'table wid my daughter Kyarline, so I said to de breddren of hit's all de same I'd jes' stay lak I was. But, no sah; dey 'low hit mout mek scannel, an' hit 'u'd be better fur de chu'ch ef I'd git me a partner f'um among de sisters; dat hit kinder keep de sisters in a stew when de pastor's a widow man."

"Too many of them with an eye on him, eh, Uncle Hank?" put in the judge.

"Well, I dunno 'bout dat, jedge," said Uncle Hank modestly, "but de breddren dey put de matter so strong dat I fin'ly concluded dat ef Zion cain' prosper under de preachin' ob a widow man dat widow man could put a stop to de trouble, an' so"—

"So you concluded to take a wife, did you?"

"Well, not jes' sackly dat strong, jedge. I thawt I'd sorter browse erroun' an' see how de lan' lay, an' ef my eye light on de proper pusson an' de proper pusson's eye light on me"—

"Why, the matter would be easy enough, of course. That's perfectly natural, Uncle Hank." The judge's court seemed for the time being to be transformed into the court of Cupid.

"Well, sah, I browse erroun' 'mongst de sisters sev'al mont's an' come to de conclusion dat Sist' 'Mericy Pendergrass jes' 'bout fill de bill, an' when I 'scuss de matter wid her she 'low she hain' no dejection; dat a minister's wife am a mos' lubly an' a mos' holy callin'. But Sist' 'Mericy say she hain' no regler 'bidin' place, bein' a lady what mos'ly hires out, so de weddin' 'u'd hatter be kinder privit, douten no kyarda, no poun' cake, no to-do ob no sawt.

"But dat sawter didn' suit me. I stole my fus' wife, hit bein' slave times, an' I jes' had a feelin' dat ef I gwine marry ergin I didn' want no sneakin' off in de dawk onbeknownst lak, so I tole Sist' 'Mericy dat es I was enterin' de holy state ob mattermony fur de good ob de chu'ch (not meanin' no slurs against de lady) I 'low de chu'ch ort to stand de spense, an' I 'nounce at my next 'p'intment dat dere 'u'd be perseedin's ob mos' onusual intrust at my daughter Kyarline's de next Tuesday night an' all dem dat was willin' to fetch a poun' er so ob welcome needs' stan' back fur no fudder invite.

"Dey cotch on, an' ebberwhah I went fur de nex' few days yo' could smell de poun' cakes an' de fowels. De deacons dey all seem mighty pleased an' 'low hit's de bes' t'ing could er happened to de chu'ch, meanin' dat I wa'n' gwine stay a widow man no longer. An' Sist' 'Mericy she was jes' es smilin' es a basket ob chips, an' I didn' no mo' distrus' 'er den I distrus' yo' bonnah on de bench. I made sho' she was straight goods, all wool an' a yard wide an' no spots.

"So I hustle erroun' an' scratch up de money fur de license, a-feelin' mo' settleder an' mo' contenteder den I is sence my fus' wife went to glory."

"Did the wedding come off on time, Uncle Hank?"

Uncle Hank wiped his brow reflectively and answered after some hesitation:

"Well, jedge, yo' mout say hit did, an' ergin yo' mout say hit didn', 'cordin' to de way yo' look at de matter. F'um dis heah cullud pusson's stan'p'int I'd say no, sah, de weddin' didn' come off 'cordin' to 'p'intment.

"My daughter Kyarline hab ebberthing ready, an' de way de pies an' cakes an' fowels wus brung in beat de band. De 'rangement wus dat Deacon Eli Smith, dat white eyed scounnel ober dere foranist yo' bounnah," and Uncle Hank glared at the brother mentioned—"he wus to fetch de bride an' de license to Kyarline's at early candlelightin', an' de weddin' 'u'd den perseed. Now, sah, jes' dar's whah de Judas Scariat come in."

"Didn't Deacon Smith bring the bride, Uncle Hank?" asked the judge, with interest.

"Didn' he brung de bride?" And Uncle Hank's eyes shot lurid flames at Deacon Smith over "forninst" the judge. "Didn' he brung de bride? Yes, sah, he brung de bride, all tiffied off to kill. But when he draw dat license on me what yo' t'ink dat son of"—

"Be careful, Uncle Hank," admonished the judge.

"What yo' t'ink dat white eyed hippercrit done? Why, sah, he had his own name put in de license to marry Miss 'Mericy Pendergrass 'stid ob mine, an' 'fo' I could git a grab on what was gwine on, I bein' teetotally flambusticated, he an' 'Mericy stood up befo' de preacher, an', sah, he had 'em married tight an' fas', an' me settin' dere, wid my mouf open, plumb struck dumb! An' dat ain' all, sah. When de surry-money wus ober, dat vilyun—yes, sah, I said hit, an' I stan' ready to pay de damage—dat vilyun come up to me an' say, he did:

"'Pears lak dere's a little mistake in de bridegroom, but es de bride said she puffer me, an' you wus gwine inter de matter fur de good ob de chu'ch, Brudder Hankins, dere needn' be no hahd feelin's. Hadn' we all better set down to supper?

"Yes, sah; dat's de proppersishun be mek me, standin' dere in my gal Kyarline's house, wid my bride a-hangin' on his arm! An', boss, es I said at de fus', I ain' nuffin but flesh an' blood ef I is a preacher. When he come at me dat erway an' hit flash ober me dat he done stole my bride an' now he's tryin' to steal my weddin' supper. de flesh got de bes' ob de sperrit, jedge, an' I let fly at dat nigger an'—you knew de res'." Uncle Hankins gave a satisfied glance at the court plastered, mutilated features of his treacherous rival and sat down amid something that sounded very like suppressed applause.

"After hearing the testimony the court is of opinion that this is a plain case of justifiable assault and that Parson Hankins only performed his simple duty in the premises. The prisoner is discharged. If Deacon Eli Smith does not come up promptly and settle the costs in this case, he can have the pleasure of spending his honeymoon in the workhouse."

WORN TO A SHADOW.

When there is a falling off in flesh in woman or man there is "something wrong." And that something wrong is generally a loss of nutrition due to disease of the stomach and the other organs of digestion and nutrition. Sometimes this loss of flesh is accompanied by variable appetite, but in many cases the appetite does not fail and there may be a constant desire to eat. Languor, nervousness, irritability, sleeplessness, are symptoms often associated with this loss of nutrition and falling off in flesh.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food so that lost flesh is regained and the physical health re-established.

"I had suffered from indigestion and only those who have suffered from it know what it really is," writes Mrs. M. J. Pogue, of 161 East Genesee St., Syracuse, N. Y. "I had had severe attacks of headache and dizziness, with cold hands and feet; everything I ate distressed me, bowels were constipated and I was generally very often sick and nervous. I cannot half express the bad feelings I had when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took nine bottles of the 'Discovery' and have taken several bottles of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I commenced feeling better with the first bottle and kept on improving. Now I am so greatly improved in health my friends often speak of it. I most heartily recommend these medicines to all suffering as I was."

The Marvellous Agent That Brings Happiness and Joy to Sad Homes.

Paine's Celery Compound

Fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters should all be interested in making home happy and joyous. Home cannot be a bright spot while some loved one is laid low by disease and suffering. Too often, the efforts of physicians are vain and fruitless, and the iron hand of death snatches away some loved one, and we are left to mourn.

To-day, thank Heaven, there is a strong and mighty helper that we can bring into our homes for the rescuing of our dear ones. It is Paine's Celery Compound, the precious prescription of one of the noblest physicians that ever lived. No living mortal can form an estimate of the blessings that Paine's Celery Compound has carried into the dwellings of our country. It has revived spent hopes, banished fears, brought smiles to the faces of sad ones, because it has saved lives at the eleventh hour. Thousands of bright, strong and thankful letters of testimony continually pour in, telling of perfect restoration to health after years of suffering. Miss J. Valliere, Dorchester street, Montreal, says:—

"I think it my duty to advise you of what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. I was terribly afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism. I tried a vast variety of medicines, but all proved failures; I also spent much money with doctors, but never got any relief. I took the advice of a friend, and used four bottles of Paine's Celery Compound, with the result that I am now perfectly cured. I think it is the best remedy in the world."

A Hat Tragedy.

Not long ago a lady was choosing a hat, with the usual uncertainty of mind as to the kind of hat she wanted or whether, indeed, she wanted a hat at all. After trying on nearly every model in the shop she pounced with glee on one she had overlooked. "Here's something pretty!" she said. "Why did you not show me this before?" Without waiting for an answer she appealed to her patient friend. "There's some style about this, isn't there? How do I look?"

The friend distinctly sniffed. "It makes you look a hundred, and it's very dowdy," she said.

The other tried the hat at another angle. "It is rather dowdy," she admitted at this juncture. "Perhaps I won't risk it after all."

A voice from behind her made its third attempt to gain a hearing. "If you've quite done with my hat," it said very bitterly, "I should rather like to put it on!"

The Western Reserve.

In the early days of the Hayes administration, when Mr. Evarts was secretary of state, the members of the cabinet were discussing matters in an informal way one morning when the president mentioned that he had made a few appointments without consulting his official family, the appointees being personal friends. All the places filled happened to fall within the state department. Secretary Evarts turned to John Sherman and said, with a twinkle in his eye, "I have often heard and read about the western reserve of Ohio, but I must confess that I have never seen any of it."

Sterilizing Butter.

In times of cholera, typhoid and other infectious diseases butter is a dangerous thing to eat. A medical man in Egypt gives this recipe for making it harmless: Sterilise the local article by standing it in a covered jar surrounded by boiling water, which should be allowed to simmer for two hours. The jar should then be put on ice and the butter beaten with an egg whisk until it becomes solid again.

ONE TRAIT OF AN OUTLAW

Always Willing to Stand by a Comrade in Trouble.

While Monrow was low minded, ignorant and brutal, he had one big quality that in some measure redeemed him in the eyes of the men who followed the rough life of the range. He would not desert a comrade in time of trouble, says the World's Work. Down in El Paso in the early part of his career before he had become bold enough to allow evidence of his misdeeds to become apparent he was ostensibly running a ranch and struggling along with the rest of the pioneer cattlemen. A man in his employ was caught driving off a bunch of cattle from a neighbor's herd. By some mischance the fellow fell into the hands of a newly elected sheriff and was not hanged. He was duly arraigned and held under bond of $3,000. Monrow was present at the time and offered to go on his bond. The justice would not accept Monrow.

"Nothing but cash goes in this here court," he said.

Monrow rode away. Five days later he appeared, deposited the cash bond for his friend, furnished him with a horse, and together they headed toward the south. Within an hour a band of cattlemen picked up the trail and followed it to Rio Grande. Monrow had stolen an entire herd, rushed it across to friends in Mexico and in that manner raised the security the court demanded for his friend. Of course, the man never returned for trial, and Monrow began open operations shortly afterward.

Messrs. Haight & Freese have received the following:—

New York, Feb. 7.—Speculative temper favours lower prices this morning An attempt may be made soon after the opening to bid up stocks fractionally however. The publication of the bank statement which is expected to be unfavourable will probably cause some short covering. Europe seems to be paying more attention to the war cloud looming up in the Balkans. We think it well for traders to be very cautious about making new commitments to-day. Some of the stocks ready to advance as soon as insiders deem it advisable are American car and foundry smelters, H. V. preferred and O. W. London heavy.

New York, Feb. 7.—To-day will see another stitch, the signing of the protocol that will raise the blockade and then to Hague for the final settlement. There is a fair sized short interest in the market. The adjustment of wage controversy on Southern roads means prosperity for both Co's. and men and K. T. and Mop. St. L. and South Western with Tex should go higher. The low-priced issues are safe to buy and hold. There is good buying of Union Pacific and Southern Pacific while R. I. looks promising—average steels and keep long of copper. The low-priced coppers of Montreal and Boston are cheap. Atch should be taken hold of.

New York, Feb. 7.—The stock market opened without great animation and ruled slightly lower in all departments except the Gould group. The greatest activity was in Wabash which sold higher on large transactions. There was no important fluctuations among the specialties and the tone of the market at ten minutes trading was much like the opening. Wx being in apparent demand and the rest of the market inclined to sag.

TRENT WATERWAY ASSOCI'N

Meeting Called in Council Chamber Next Monday.

A Meeting and a Matter That Should Create General Interest.

Public attention is called to the meeting of the Trent Valley Association, to be held in the Council Chamber, on Monday, at 1 o'clock p.m.

The necessity of prompt action cannot be too urgently insisted upon, for not only local interests, but national transportation interests demand the speedy as possible completion of the Trent Waterway. This is shown not only by the fact that Mr. F. W. Thompson, who has just returned from a trip to the Old Country, where he represented the Ogilvie Milling Company, and speaking of the means necessary to give effect to the better knowledge of Canada, and its resources, now obtaining in the Old Land. There must, he urged, be improvement of our internal transportation media. Besides the action now being taken by the United States for improving and enlarging its waterways, including the Erie Canal, shows that if Canada intends to keep the advantages she possesses at present, in having the shortest and best routes to the seaboard, she must be moving. If we make our internal water and other ways the beaten path of commerce it will be difficult for the United States, no matter what extensionns it makes, to divert traffic. There seems to be a general movement, especially in New York State, to improve canal communication. It therefore behooves us in Canada to be stirring.

In this connection, the meeting on Monday next, to take steps to urge on continued work on the Trent Waterway, takes on great importance. It should be remebered that though the meeting is one of the Association, the co-operation of all influential citizens will be welcomed. Governments are impressed by numbers, for large deputations are apt to be regarded as expressions of general public sentiment, while small and select deputations may be regarded as representing special and local interests.

PALE AND LISTLESS.

A Condition That Affects Very Many People.

The Appetite Fails—Strength Departs and the Sufferer Feels That Life is Really a Burden.

From the Topic, Petrolea, Ont:

It is impossible that a medicine can be so widely known and used as are Dr. Williams' Pink Pills without striking results frequently becoming known and the merits of this great remedy for the common ailments of man and womankind being published. Mrs. Thos. Kettle, of Petrolea, Ont., is a case in point. Mrs. Kettle is an old resident of this district and is well known. Chatting with a reporter of the Topic the other day the conversation drifted on the subject of medicines, when Mrs. Kettle spoke in the highest praise of Dr. Williams Pink Pills, which, she said, had cured her of a long illness. Our reporter, being naturally interested, made further enquiries, when Mrs. Kettle gave him the following particulars: "I am the mother of twelve children and in spite of the constant strain and worry the raising of so large a family entailed upon me, in addition to my housework, I was for many years blessed with splendid health. However, after the birth of my last child my strength seemed to fail me and I felt that my health was gradually going. I consulted a doctor and continued under his treatment for some months, but the only result that I could see was that I grew steadily worse. I could not name any particular ailment that I suffered from, but I was all "run down." My appetite failed me, my strength seemed all gone and I became pale and listless, scarcely able to drag myself around, and much of the time in bed. I became alarmed at my long continued ill health and as doctors' medicine had done me no good I determined to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I purchased a box and thought it did me some good, so I got six boxes more, and before I had finished taking the second I felt a lot better, and by the time I had finished the seven boxes I had perfectly regained my health, had gained weight and felt better than I had for some years. I consider the pills a splendid medicine, a real godsend to weak and ailing women, and have frequently recommended them to my friends and used them with my children, always with good results." Judging from Mrs. Kettle's healthy appearance to-day none would imagine she had ever known what a day's illness meant.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a positive cure for all diseases arising from impoverished blood, or a weak or shattered condition of the nervous system, such as epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, paralysis, rheumatism, sciatica, heart troubles, anaemia, etc. These pills are also a cure for the ailments that make the lives of so many women a constant misery. Sold by druggists or sent by mail, postpaid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Better Mail Service.

Mr. Jas. Bryans, interviewed Mr. John Lang, M.P., at Peterborough, on Saturday, in regard to the village of Havelock obtaining better mail service. What our merchants want is a service to Peterborough and Toronto on the afternoon express, and to Montreal and other eastern points on the noon express. Mr. Lang thought that it could be obtained from the Government, and the matter will be looked into without delay. — Havelock Standard.

EDUCATIONAL MOVEMENT.

Lecture to be Delivered Under the Auspices of Trades and Labour Council by J. Hampden Burnham.

All right thinking men should aid the workingmen in their present campaign of education. The labour movement has forged its way through many successes and many reverses to a higher plane than ever before. The coming lecture in the Opera House on Friday, Feb. 13th, ought to be largely attended by all those who have the good of the toiling masses at heart, as well as by those, who feel the necessity of finding some way to stop the conflict between capital and labour which has done so much damage in both England and America. The lecture will not be merely a defence of labour, but a careful and impartial examination of the whole field, as it is at present, of both capital and labour. These meetings are being held in all countries just now in connection with the workingmen's education movement. As it is the firm conviction of all moderate-minded men that education is the solution of the differences between capital and labour the general public will do well to encourage the workingmen by being present. It has been only too true heretofore that the well-to-do have failed to interest themselves in the movements of labour. A chance has now arisen in this conciliatory attitude of the workingmen, who are inviting rational discussing of the question and a sympathetic interest, for the public at large to show that they are in earnest in their desire to do the fair thing by both parties. If in the future which is now making for order becomes disorder and chaos it will be due to the apathy of the general public quite as much as to anything else. The workingmen invite both men and women to be present and every effort will be made to make the discussion of a great question both interesting and profitable.

J. T. O'CONNELL'S ENTERPRISE.

A Long-Established Real Estate Business Changed Hands.

Mr. John T. O'Connell, the enterprising real estate salesman, has recently purchased the real estate business of Mr. T. Hurley & Co., and the business will henceforth be conducted under the name of O'Connell & Co., at the same stand, No. 136 Hunter street, near the post office.

Mr. O'Connell has been in the employ of Mr. Hurley and Company for a number of years, and has wide experience in dealing with real estate, and by his business ability has won the confidence of the public.

With his present staff of salesmen, a newly equipped office, and good conveyances, Mr. O'Connell is in a position to meet the demands of the public, whose patronage he solicits

Having sold my real estate business to Mr. John T. O'Connell, who has been in my employ as salesman for nearly five years, I wish to return my most sincere thanks to my numerous friends, and the public generally, for the liberal patronage accorded me during the past nineteen years, and solicit for my successor a continuation of the same.

CURLING.

At the Charlotte street rink last night, the best of ice was obtainable for the following curling games, which turned out as follows:

G Cox	J D Collins
C N Brown	G Kerr
T F Matthews	R J Frost
D Davidson, sk...14	R. Neill, sk...13
T Mowat	H Thompson
G Giroux	H Hall
W J Thompson,	M Green
S Ray, sk.....14	G Hay, sk.....9
S Clegg	F Stenson
R Kerr	M Tooley
A G Ferguson	G Fitzgerald
C Rutherford, sk...9	A Blade, sk.....11

The finish between Mr. Davidson's and Mr. Neill's rinks was very close and exciting, the last end being a tie, another one was played and Davidson won out by only two.

BASEBALL.

A meeting of those interested in athletic pursuits, willl be held in the Council Chamber on Tuesday evening next at 7.30 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a baseball club for the coming summer, says the Havelock Standard. The young men, especially, should make it a point to attend, as the matter of forming a league will be taken up and discussed.

Errors of Diet.

An insurance man of my acquaintance ate hearty breakfasts, with meat and coffee, a hurried lunch at noon, but also with meat, and a heavy dinner at night. He took no exercise, always rode between house and office, became fat and bloated, and his blood became so overloaded that he readily succumbed to disease at forty-five. The wonder was that he lived so long. He was a type of the average well to do citizen. Like him, most of us eat too much, says a writer in Good Housekeeping. Diet should depend upon temperament and vocation. At hard work out of doors one requires more nutriment than at sedentary labor indoors. A gradual reduction in diet, even an occasional fast, will cure many ordinary ills. Add deep breathing, fresh air, body building exercises, plenty of sunshine, water inside and out, and it is astonishing how much better one feels.

Prices For Sermons.

Much has been said of the practice of buying and selling sermons, a practice, by the way, of no very special novelty. Just before Topiady was about to be ordained Osborne, the bookseller, the friend of Johnson, offered to supply him with a stock of original sound sermons for a trifle. "I would sooner buy secondhand clothes," was the tart reply. "Don't be offended," said Osborne. "I have sold many to a bishop." The price of sermons, as of all else, has varied with the times. In 1540 a bishop of Llandaff received from the churchwardens of St. Margaret's, Westminster, for a sermon on the annunciation a pike, price 2s. 4d.; a gallon of wine, eightpence, and boat hire—in all 3s. 4d. In the seventeenth century sermons seem to have been valued at about 5 shillings each.

ALLIES' PROTOCOLS.

When They Are Signed the Blockade Will Be Raised.

THE CONTENTS OF THE THREE

Minister Bowen Finds Great Britain's Ambassador the Only One Who Has His Protocol Ready—Says It Is Very Satisfactory to Him as Venezuela's Representative — To The Hague It Goes.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The representatives of the allies here are busily engaged in the preparation of the protocol which they are to sign with Mr. Bowen, Venezuela's representative, for the reference to The Hague of the question whether the blockading powers shall be entitled to preferential treatment in the settlement of their claims.

The blockade will be raised when the protocols are signed. The representatives are in constant communication with their Governments and are anxious, as far as possible to cover every detail which should be comprised in an instrument of this character. Mr. Bowen was in communication with the English and Italian Ambassadors and the German Minister yesterday. He saw Sir Michael Herbert at the latter's home, the Ambassador still having a disagreeable cold. From the instructions he has received, Ambassador Herbert has prepared the draft of a protocol, which he submitted to Minister Bowen. It was the first of the three protocols which have been prepared, and the manner in which it was drawn was very satisfactory to Venezuela's representative.

The British protocol provides for the reference of the contention of the allies for preferential treatment to The Hague for settlement; for the payment by Venezuela to Great Britain five thousand five hundred pounds cash and for the immediate raising of the blockade. The matter of the adjudication of claims and the collection of the claims and collection of 30 per cent. out of which they are to be paid, has been left for the second protocol.

Italy, it has been learned, wishes to have inserted in her protocol an article providing for a change in her treaty of amity with Venezuela, so as to include the "favored nation" clause, such as the other powers possess. Mr. Bowen claims he can do nothing more in the protocol than recommend it, as he considers the matter entirely irrelevant to the present controversy.

Regarding the German protocol little is known, except that it is along the general lines of the other two. It is understood that it will be more concise than the British. It will provide for an initial payment of the same amount as those of Italy and Great Britain. The last named country will receive its first payment in cash, Germany and Italy being content to receive thirty days after the signing of the protocols.

The fact developed yesterday that some of the unallied claimant powers are considering the matters of sharing the expense which Venezuela will be put to in carrying her cause to The Hague, since a decision would affect their claims.

Looks For Peace.

London, Feb. 9.—Lord George H. Hamilton, the Indian Secretary, spoke at Bradford Saturday night. He had previously attended the Cabinet meeting. In his speech he said he sincerely hoped that in the course of a very few hours the Venezuelan controversy would be concluded. Defending Great Britain's alliance with Germany, he said the German Government throughout had behaved with perfect propriety and tact.

COATS HALF PRICE

Perhaps it was a bold stroke of business that lead us to buy very nearly three times the Mantles that we ever did in any previous season. We knew them to be excellent value, they have proved themselves to be such. We haven't one for every ten we did have. Now it's time we should have none. We're going to have none. Prices have been so cut that we feel confident, even at this season, that there are more than enough people who will be glad to exchange their few dollars for the warmth of coat, the appearance of Coat and the serviceableness that these Coats contain. Excuse us, but least the men happen to read this ad, we want to say these are Women's Coats. (Send the "better half" along.)

$3.90
Were $8.00

Ladies' and Misses' Coats, in Blacks, Grays, Fawns and Reds, with storm and coat collars. Some silk or velvet trimmed—nearly all nicely lined. Every Coat this season's coat. Were $6.25, $7.50 and $8.25—now $3.90.

Were $10.00

Smart up-to-date Ladies' and Misses' Coats in the modish lengths —also fine long Friese and Cheviot Ulsters in Blacks, Grays, Fawns, Blues and Reds. Were $8.00, $9.00 and $10.00—now $5.00.

BETTER COATS and ULSTERS

Not many—probably half a dozen smart garments that have their prices cut in two. Garments just as fresh looking as at the start, but the profit and some of the cost gone

CHILDREN'S ULSTERS

Prices cut in two virtually. Long Ulsters, tidy effects, marked with hasty clearance prices—

NOTHING FOR DEPOSITORS.

Cyrus Anderson, President of Oakville Concern, Has Been Examined.

Oakville, Feb. 9.—The bank muddle was re-opened here Saturday by the examination of Cyrus Anderson, president of the wrecked concern.

The inquiry turned especially upon the transaction touching the general letter of debt given the Bank of Hamilton in 1894, which practically made all the personal and real property of Cyrus Anderson responsible to the Bank of Hamilton for money advanced to the Palmerston and Oakville institutions. The examination developed nothing that will afford a glimmer of hope for the depositors. Everything points to the validity of the transfers of assets to the Bank of Hamilton by the Andersons to secure it for advances.

The depositors have been forced to the conclusion that they will receive nothing from their accounts.

ELECTIONS PROTESTED.

Resignation of Hon. E. J Davis Received by Clerk.

Toronto, Feb. 9.—J. C. Monteith, the defeated Conservative candidate in North Perth has filed a petition, protesting the election of the Liberal candidate, John Brown, and has paid into court the statutory deposit of $1,000.

Notice of the filing of the protest of the bye-election in North Norfolk was received Saturday morning by the Registrar of the Court of Appeal at Osgoode Hall from the Local Registrar at Simcoe. The $1,000 deposit was paid into court.

The resignation of Hon. E. J. Davis as member for North York has been received by the Clerk of the Legislature. The elections in North York and in Centre Bruce will take place Feb. 26, two weeks from next Thursday.

Suspends His Audience.

Rome, Feb. 9.—The newspapers announce that in consequence of the cold weather, and in view of the number of pilgrimages that he will have to receive during February, the Pope decided to suspend his audience yesterday and to-day.

WHAT MIGHT HAPPEN

To Britain's Food Supply in the Event of War.

FAMINE PRICES FOR BREAD.

Various Reasons Advanced For This Opinion—Price of Wheat Can Be Raised Artificially by the United States—Corn Trade on Both Sides of the Water Would Expect to Make Big Profits.

London, Feb. 9.—The influential committee headed by the Duke of Sutherland, Lord Strathcona, Lord Charles Beresford, and a number of members of Parliament, admirals and other prominent men, which was formed Feb. 1, to agitate the question of the scarcity of Great Britain's food supply in time of war, issued a statement yesterday, in which the opinion is expressed that, in the event of Great Britain becoming involved in an European war, the country must be prepared to see bread at practically a famine price. Various reasons are given as the basis for this opinion. The chief reasons are that the greatest source of Great Britain's food supply is the United States, where the price of wheat can be raised artificially, and that the corn trade on both sides of the Atlantic would expect to make profits on a scale commensurate with the war risks.

MURDERED BY "JOE."

New York Dealer in Old Iron Killed by an Italian Employe.

New York, Feb. 9.—Louis Mandel, a dealer in old iron, was murdered yesterday in his office in East 23rd street, his skull being crushed by blows struck with a heavy iron bar. He was found unconscious a few minutes after the assault, and died in the hospital.

The murder is supposed to have been committed by an Italian known as "Joe," who was employed by Mandel, and was the last person seen with him, and who has since disappeared.

TAKE ADVANCED GROUND.

Farmers Resolute Respecting Free Rural Mail Delivery and Railways.

Woodstock, Feb. 9.—The farmers of Bright and Innerkip, at a recent meeting, passed a resolution requesting the Government to inaugurate a system of free rural mail delivery.

A memorial to the Government was passed recommending that no financial assistance be given the Grand Trunk or any other railway.

Charged With Sheep Stealing.

Simcoe, Feb. 9.—Jacob Brown and Charles Jones of Vittoria, after three sittings of police magistrate's court at Simcoe, were Friday sent up for trial at the next general sessions before a jury, on a charge of stealing ten sheep. It seems that Messrs. Brown and Jones lost ten sheep, and finding what they supposed were their animals in Windham, claimed them and drove them home. Daniel Burke claims the sheep as his, and the prosecution of Messrs. Brown and Jones was the result.

Barrie Postmaster Dead.

Barrie, Feb. 9.—James Edwards died here on Friday after an illness extending over a year and a half. The deceased was a native of Norfolk, Eng., and came to Canada in 1836. In 1867 he was appointed postmaster by Sir Alexander Campbell, Postmaster-General, and occupied that position until his death.

Blown to Pieces.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 9.—Walter McAlpine of this city was blown to pieces as a result of the explosion of dynamite at Extension mine, where he was employed as a lighter. He had a stick of dynamite in his hand when it exploded.

Pretender For Sale.

Madrid, Feb. 9.—A despatch from Tangier confirms the news that the pretender, Bu Hamara, is a prisoner of the Riata Branch of the Kabyle tribe, which is ready to deliver him to the Sultan for a ransom.

Edna Lyall Gravely Ill.

Great Britain's Secretary of War

Mr. William St. John Brodrick, British secretary of war, is the son and heir of Viscount Middleton. He is forty-six years old, for twenty-two of which he has had a seat in the House of Commons. He has been in the war office with but slight intervals since 1886.

CANADIANS IN SCOTLAND,

How They Were Entertained at Jedburg.

Capt. McClure of Montreal Made an Excellent Reply—"The Maple Leaf" was Sung.

The Gazette, of Jedburgh, Scotland, contains the following account of the banquet which was tendered the Rugby football team from Canada, when they visited Scotland. After referring to the opening proceedings, the Gazette says:

Mr. R. B. Balfour sang "A Pattern to the World," in which the references to the Dominion and the Colonies fitted the occasion admirably.

Sheriff Speirs, called upon to propose the toast of "The Canadian Team," expressed his thanks for the honor done him in asking him to propose what, if not the toast of the evening, was next to it. Their Canadian friends would understand what he referred to as the toast of the evening, for they were brimful of loyalty and patriotism. (Applause) The people of this country had to thank Canada for such—he did not know what they did not have to thank them for, they sent so many things over to these islands, altogether amounting to something like 40 millions worth. This country in return sent them two or three Governor-Generals—ons of them not only a Scotchman but a Roxburghshire man. (Applause.) They also sent them a curling team. Canada had sent to Scotland a football team, and that day they had shown them how to play football. (Applause.) He was quite certain they would agree that poor old Jedburgh—(laughter)—did its very best—(Applause.)—and he would like the Canadian team to especially remember that the Jed-Forest team was entirely manned from Jedbourg and district. (Hear, hear.) There was not a hireling amongst them. (Loud applause.) They all of them played for the honor and glory of the Borders; they played for the love of the game; and their ambition was, as he might express it, to be cock of the Borders, and, if they could, to get some of their men into the international team, as they had done before. (Applause.) As they played simply for the love of the game there was no betting and nothing of that sort. Betting was almost unknown among them, and that was why football in the South of Scotland was so popular. It was not the same in some other places where men were bought out of the clubs, for a particular team, and were merely hangers on and paid men. Here the players were all Jedburgh men with a small contingent from the rural district. (Hear, hear.) The Sheriff spoke of Canada's effective service in the South African War, and said he was sure that if they or any of the other Colonies were ever in difficulties the old mother country would not forget them. (Appause.) He proposed the health of the Canadian guests, and thanked them for their very excellent display of football. (Applause.)

The toast was followed by tears and musical honors.

"The Maple Leaf," the Canadian patriotic song, was sung by Mr. Ogilvie, Montreal.

Captain McClure, Montreal, thanked Sheriff Spiers for the very kind words he had spoken and the company for the enthusiastic way in which they had responded. Other engagements, he was sorry to say, had prevented him from joining the team on the Borders till that day when he had got to Jedburg about two o'clock. Of the part of the programme of the team that he had missed, he had heard nothing talked of but the kindness they had received; and of the part in which he had shared he could only say that it had been magnificent. (Hear, hear, and applause.) They would certainly carry back to Canada very pleasant memories of the Borders. He had been asked to make his remarks short, and that was a very easy and agreeable thing to do—(laughter)—but he would like to say something about the pleasant meeting with Jed-Forest. It was indeed very pleasant; there was no roughness in it, and Jed-Forest team were sportsmen in every way. (Applause.) It was one of the three most enjoyable games they had had—Ulster, North of Scotland, and Jed-Forest. (Applause.) Before sitting down, he wished to propose the toast of "The Jed-Forest Team," and he coupled it with the name of the captain, Mr. Mabon. (Applause.) He thanked Mr. Small and the Chairman for the interesting souvenirs that had been given to them and which they would have pleasure in taking with them to Canada. (Applause.)

Extravagant.

"There was a young man in Michigan," said a United States senator, "who was deeply enamored of a beautiful young lady in my town. He lived in Detroit and one day decided that the only thing for him to do was to propose. So he went to the telegraph office and sent this message:

"'Will you marry me? Twenty word answer paid for.'

"An hour later he received this reply:

"'You are extravagant. Why pay for nineteen words too many? No.'"

A Respect For Figures.

"What do you consider the most important branch of education?"

"Arithmetic," answered Mr. Cumrox. "Give a boy plenty of arithmetic. What blights the careers of so many young men is the failure to realize that you can't subtract a $5,000 expense account from a $1,000 income."

A QUICK ENDING.

Montreal Street Railway Settled on Reasonable Terms—Wages Increased—Terms of the Settlement.

Montreal, Feb. 9.—The Montreal Street Railway strike is now a thing of the past. Both sides were amenable to reason and an amicable adjustment was arrived at with business-like brevity. Although a severe snow storm raged all day, and made the service a little irregular, the first car left the Cote street shops at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. The start-out was greeted with cheers by the conductors and motormen who were standing near.

The following statement, signed by the president, shows that the company have conceded almost everything asked by the men:

(1) None shall be dismissed without full and equitable reason.

(2) The company will give an equitable hearing to any employe against whom a complaint has been made. An appeal may be made to the highest officer, be it the superintendent, the manager, or even the president.

(3) The company will maintain the same scale of wages as to sweepers, as they had in force on Feb. 8.

(4) The company will, on demand, show to a deputation of its employes the reports that shall have been made against recently dismissed employes.

(5) The company will grant a general increase of salary equivalent to 10 per cent., on the scale of wages in force on Feb. 8.

(6) The company shall recognize the right of their men to belong to any union or benefit association of their own that they may see fit. In case of any difference arising between the company and its employes the management will, at all times, be ready to discuss such grievance with the men in its employ and attendance upon any deputation to lay views of the men before the management will, in no wise, be prejudicial to the employes composing the same. The company cannot undertake to discuss among its employes nor to grant any difference of treatment to those who are members of such union and those who are not.

(7) All men discharged since Jan. 1, 1903, may have their cases considered by the directors, and, in case there is dissatisfaction with the verdict, their case may be on the demand of either party submitted to a Board of Arbitration, composed of one representative named by the men and one person by the company, and a third by the agreement between the two thus named, each party agreeing to be bound by the final verdict.

(8) If there are any other matters at issue the company is prepared to discuss the same with its employes as soon as the service is resumed.

(Signed) L. J. Forget.

It looks as if the men had gone heartily to work to carry out their share of the above agreement, and as the good faith of Senator Forget and Mr. Wanklyn cannot be doubted, Montreal's walking days are evidently over.

Seeking Arbitration.

Toronto, Feb. 9.—A mass meeting of street railway employes here last night was unanimous in expressing the view that the company had discharged McCarrol because he is a union man, that he must be reinstated or the case submitted to arbitration, and that the minor officials of the company must cease their efforts to disrupt the union. The Executive Committee reported their failure to persuade the company to put McCarrol back to work.

POWER COMPANY CHARTERED.

The rights of the new corporation are many, viz: To acquire and develop water powers and other powers for the production of electric, pneumatic, hydraulic or other power; to construct or acquire works and appliances for the production and transmission of power; to dispose of power acquired or produced by the company; to construct or acquire lines of telegraph or telephone or other means of communication; to aid by bonus or otherwise any industry using or agreeing to use power supplied by the company, and to acquire stock in any such industry; to sell or lease any of the assets or property of the company.

AN INSULTING ADDRESS.

Colin North an Indignant and Angry Retort by the Colonial Secretary to the Bloemfontein Boers.

London, Feb. 9.—South Africa is again fulfilling her traditions as a land of unrest. English complacency has been considerably shaken by the speech of the Chancellor of the Exchequer this week, in which he warned British taxpayers not to expect much relief in the coming budget and not to suppose that the expenditure of British public money on the conquered republics was ended.

The later stages of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's progress through South Africa furnished abundant indications that the Government at Pretoria and Bloemfontein by English crown officials can be carried out only by continued large disbursements over a period of time for which it is as yet impossible to see the limit.

The utterance of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain reported from Bloemfontein Saturday amount to a recognition of the fact that such is the situation which he has to face. After he heard grievance upon grievance, a demand for full redemption of military notes for commandeered property, full amnesty for all men who have borne arms against Great Britain during the war, the restoration of farms and the rebuilding of homesteads, he retorted angrily that if the Boers had determined already to tear up the terms of the treaty on which the peace rested, other terms would be substituted which would be harder.

This would be an enormous undertaking. It would mean the maintenance of a large armed force for an indefinite time to control a hostile country in addition to feeding nearly half the population on Government rations, or employing them on public works.

At Friday's conference at Bloemfontein with Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, Gen. Christian Dewet called his brother, Piet. Dewet, who is an Anglophile and was a national scout, a scoundrel, and a man whose conscience can never rest. Mr. Chamberlain protested against this language, and Gen. Christian Dewet abruptly left the conference. He said he would not stop until he had caused a rebellion, not an armed one, but one of agitation and discontent against the Government.

The deputation tendered an address to Secretary Chamberlain, which he refused to accept on the ground that it was insulting. Then members arose and detailed their grievances, demanding amnesty for all who took part in the war. Mr. Chamberlain in reply, said the terms of the Vereeniging Peace Conference had been carried out loyally by Great Britain.

Former Judge Hertzog, who was a prominent Boer commandant, repeatedly interrupted Mr. Chamberlain and denied his statements. Mr. Chamberlain finally said: "I am not here to be contradicted," and then dismissed the deputation.

INDIANS EARN MORE MONEY.

They Are Improving in Morality, Says Commissioner Laird.

The Indian population of the Dominion has increased 8,790 during the past year, owing largely to the bringing in of 7,518 Indians from beyond treaty limits. Births were 2,500, deaths 2,349. The aggregate sum earned in wages was $1,181,760, an increase of nearly $150,000.

As to their social development, the departmental blue book contains conflicting opinions. Mr. Jas. Gibbons, of the Edmonton agency, states that after 40 years' experience he has yet to meet a Christian Indian, or one who will not steal, lie and be immoral. In reply, Mr. Alex McGibbon, of Qu'Appelle, speaks of the Indians at Pelican Narrows, away north of Prince Albert, as men who could be trusted, and who, morning and evening, always had prayers in their little tent.

Mr. David Laird, Indian Commissioner for Manitoba and the Territories, considers that, on the whole, the Indians are improving in morality. Plurality of wives is found only in some of the western reserves. Although vigorous efforts have been made to suppress unlawful dancing, sun dance, had been held on the Blood reserve. The dance lasted three days only, although the gathering extended over about a month. Valuable haying time was wasted, but the illegal features of the dance were not at all prominent. A similar dance on the Pelgan reserve was devoid of objectionable features.

THE "WHY" OF IT.

Why does the body fail at times to get necessary nourishment from ordinary food?

Because the digestive organs are not strong enough to perform their proper functions.

Why should these organs be aided in their work?

Because the digestion of ordinary food is more than they can accomplish when they are in a weakened condition. It is necessary that some aid in the form of an easily assimilated nourishment be provided.

Why does the nourishment supplied in Scott's Emulsion feed the body when ordinary food does not?

Because being scientifically emulsified it is rendered much more easily digested and the whole system gathers nourishment with much less effort. There is less tax upon the whole digestive tract.

Why is the nourishment contained in Scott's Emulsion assured proper distribution?

Because the emulsion is easily and naturally taken up and utilized by the system.

Why is the good effect of Scott's Emulsion soon noticeable?

Because the ingredients represent the very form of nourishment needed. The stomach requires a change and rest from ordinary food and hence the good effects of the emulsion are quickly seen.

Why is Scott's Emulsion a food for the whole system?

Because every part of the emulsion—oil, hypophosphites and glycerine, is adapted to some special need of the body when a wasting condition exists.

Why is it necessary to nourish the whole body when only one part is affected?

Because the blood, nerves, bones and muscles must all be considered and provided for in restoring waste and establishing uniform health. Scott's Emulsion gives nourishment to all, collectively and individually.

PROMISES RE LAND GRANT.

Willing to Submit to Any Conditions For Controlling the Price and Sale of Lands Which the Government May Impose—Government Has Not Yet Disclosed the Matter—A Senate Appointment.

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—All sorts of speculations are being indulged in concerning the nature and the amount of the aid which the promoters of the Grand Trunk Pacific expect to receive from the Government in order to enable them to carry out their enterprise. The impression in well-informed circles in Montreal, that are supposed to be in touch with the Grand Trunk, is that assistance in both land and cash is likely to be asked for. This idea, it may be said, obtains some credence in Ottawa.

$7,000 Cash, 7,000 Land.

Just what quantity of land per mile or how large a subsidy in cash the supporters of the enterprise will endeavor to obtain is not definitely known outside the inner circle, but it is believed that the application will be for from 5,000 to 7,000 acres of land, and from $6,000 to $7,000 in cash per mile. With respect to the land grant, the friends of the Grand Trunk Pacific are ready with all sorts of assurances. They say they are perfectly willing to submit to any conditions for controlling the price and sale of the lands which the Government may impose. So far, however, the matter has not been submitted to the Government, nor has it come up for consideration or discussion. The likelihood is that the subject will not be approached for some time, until more pressing questions have been dealt with in preparation for the coming session of Parliament.

A Senate Appointment.

Mr. Joseph H. Legris, member for Maskinonge, has sent in his resignation, and his appointment to the upper House may be looked for shortly.

SULTAN MOVES FIRST.

Russia and Austria Have Determined to Insist on Administrative and Financial Reforms in Macedonia.

Paris, Feb. 9.—Official advices have been received here confirming the report that the Sultan of Turkey has ordered the immediate mobilization of 240,000 troops for a military demonstration in Macedonia. This step is regarded with apprehension by the French officials as being likely to involve complications between Turkey and Austria.

It is said that the Russian and Austrian Governments have agreed on a firm note to the Sultan, which will be presented within the next few days, insisting on administrative and financial reforms in Macedonia. Although France will not be a party to the note, she will approve of it. It is considered that the Sultan's mobilization of such a vast army is clearly an effort to forestall the presentation.

Austria Getting Ready.

Vienna, Feb. 9.—It is persistently asserted that Austria is preparing a partial mobilization of her military forces, in view of the possible events in the Balkans.

The court will return to London on Monday.

Reynolds newspaper publish an alarmist report of the King's health. It says he was seized with abdominal pains on Jan. 22. The paper's story is not borne out by the official facts.

1,000 LOSE THEIR LIVES.

Mighty Tidal Wave Swept the South Sea Islands — Death and Devastation Never Before Equalled.

San Francisco, Feb. 9.—The steamer Mariposa from Tahiti brings news of a terrible tidal wave and hurricane in the Society Islands, Jan. 13, resulting in the death of 1,000 or more natives.

Eighty islands were devastated.

Jan. 13 last a huge, tidal wave, accompanied by a terrific hurricane, attacked the Society Islands and the Pusmoto group with fearful force, causing death and devastation never before equalled in a land of dreaded storms. The storm raged several days, reaching its maximum strength between Jan. 14 and Jan. 16. From the meagre news received at Tahiti up to the time of sailing of the Mariposa it is estimated that 1,000 of the islanders lost their lives. It is feared that later advices will increase this number.

RULERS OF THE WORLD.

Meat Eating Nations are the Leaders in Every Branch of Human Achievements.

The ruling nations of the world are meat eaters, and history records that they always have been.

Vegetarians and food cranks may explain this in any way they please, but the facts remain that the Americans, English, French, Russians and Germans, are meat eating nations, and they are also the most energetic and most progressive.

The principal food of the heroic Boer soldier known as Biltong, is a sort of dried beef, affording a great deal of nourishment in a highly concentrated form.

The weak races of people are the rice eating Chinese, Hindoos and Siamese, regarded since the dawn of history as non-productive, superstitious, and inferior physically and mentally to the meat eating nations who dominate them.

The structure of the teeth plainly indicate that human beings should subsist upon a variety of food, meats, fruits and grains, and it is unhygienic to confine one's diet to any one of those classes to the exclusion of another.

Meat is the most concentrated and most easily digested of foods, but our manner of living is often so unnatural that the digestive organs refuse to properly digest, meat, eggs and similar nutritious and wholesome food, but it is not because such food is unwholesome, but the real reason that the stomach lacks from disease or weakness some necessary digestive element; hence arising indigestion, and later on chronic dyspepsia.

Nervous people should eat plenty of meat; convalescents should make meat the principal food; hard working people have to do so, and brain workers and office men not so much meat, but at least once a day, and to insure its perfect digestion one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets should be taken after each meal, because they supply the peptones, diastase and fruit acids, lacking in every case of stomach trouble.

Nervous dyspepsia, catarrh of the stomach, gas and accidity are only different names for indigestion, the failure to digest wholesome food, and the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cures them all because by affording perfect digestion the stomach has a chance to rest and recover its natural tone and vigour.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the real, household medicine; it is as safe and pleasant for the stomach ache of the baby as it is for the imperfect digestion of its grand sire.

They are not a cathartic but a digestive, and no pill habit can ever follow their use; the only habit that Stuart's Tablets induce is the habit of good digestion and consequently good health.

GOLDSMITH'S FIGHT FOR LIFE.

Victim of Friday Night's Shooting in No Immediate Danger.

Toronto, Feb. 9.—The great vitality and grit of Louis Goldsmith, the victim of Friday night's shooting, may yet save Walter Romaine from facing a charge of murder. On Saturday, the wounded man rallied pretty well from the shock, and has now only the danger of peritonitis to fear. He continued about the same on Sunday, and the doctors at the Emergency Hospital reported last night that he was "in no immediate danger." Goldsmith says himself that he will recover. Romaine appeared in Saturday's Police Court and was remanded until Friday.

New Tenders at Once.

Toronto, Feb. 9.—At a meeting of the Temiskaming & Northern Railway Co. on Saturday, Mr. Theodore C. Search, vice-president of the Consolidated Lake Superior Co., stated the position in regard to his company's contract for steel rails. He said that the blast furnaces of the Algoma Steel Company were incomplete. The blowing engines were not ready for delivery. The supply of Bessemer pig iron from the United States was exhausted. The commission decided to call for new tenders at once.

Mrs. W. E. Jeffries, 44 Hicks avenue, Kingston, Ont., says: "I suffered agony with itching piles. In fact I don't believe that any person who has not had piles can realise what I endured. The first application of Dr. Chase's Ointment brought me relief, and it has since entirely cured me. I hope that this testimonial will be the means of bringing comfort to other sufferers by making known the great power of this ointment."

THE BANKERS' HOCKEY MATCH

Imperial Bank of Toronto Defeated by the Local Ontario Bank Team.

Exciting Game and Enthusiastic Crowd at the Brock Street Rink on Saturday Night.

The hockey match in the Brock street rink on Saturday night between the Imperial Bank team of Toronto, and the Ontario Bank seven of Peterborough resulted in a victory for the local seven by a score of 6 to 4.

It was truly bankers' night at the rink. There were bank general managers, bank managers, bank clerks and bank messengers in attendance, although the attendance of ordinary spectators was somewhat small. However, those who are in the habit of attending matches and who were not present on Saturday night missed one of the best games of the season. It was fast, exciting and characterized by close checking throughout, though lacking in combination play. It was, needless to say, a gentlemanly played game throughout, and not a player was sent to the fence throughout the evening.

The make-up of the Ontario Bank team was somewhat varied. It contained Mr. A. A. Hollingshead, of the veterans; the two Armstrong boys of the Peterborough seniors; Bloomfield, of the Lakefield team, (who is now in Peterborough,) and Ferguson of the "Cubs," McFarlane, of the juniors, and Sawers, of the semi-ready variety. They are all a fine looking lot of chaps and looked natty indeed in their green sweaters with the monogram "O.B." in white letters thereon. The boys play well together and can certainly defeat any other aggregation in town.

The Imperial Bank team was somewhat heavier than the local men. They had on their team two of the Bank of Toronto team of the Queen City, Messrs. McKay and Wylie, the former a member of the famous Wellingtons. It will be seen then that the locals were up against a pretty speedy aggregation. Had it not been for the excellent work of Ogden in goal, Peterborough would have scored again and again, as the Armstrong boys kept raining hot shot in on the Toronto nets all evening.

In the first half the play was pretty evenly divided, and it was anybody's game. At half time the score stood Ontario, 5; Imperial, 4.

In the second half the play became lively, if not extremely exciting, and the spectators had occasion to applaud many good and effective plays.

The teams were as follows:

Imperials — Goal, Ogden, point, Lowmeborough; cover, P. Smith; forwards, MacKay, Young, Keele and Wylie.

Ontario — Goal, Sawers; point, Hollingshead; cover point, H. Armstrong; forwards, Roy Armstrong, Bloomfield, McFarlane, and Ferguson.

Referee, Jas. T. McCabe.

At the conclusion of the game the Imperials were banquetted at H. Long's by the local staff of the Ontario Bank. There were also present representatives from the other banks in town. Mr. John Crane proposed the toast of the "Imperials," which was responded to by a member of the visiting team, who expressed the pleasure the Toronto boys felt in meeting with the Ontario Bank team of town.

It is understood that the Dominion Bank team will visit Peterborough about the middle of next week.

Mr. Charles McGill, General Manager of the Ontario Bank, was an interested spectator at the hockey match between the Imperial Bank of Toronto and the local Ontario Bank team.

The Ontario Bank team should be given liberal patronage in their efforts to place a crack team on the ice. The Bank too is to be congratulated upon the success of their representatives in hockey circles. The next game will be awaited with much interest.

SATURDAY'S CONFLAGRATION

The Amount of Insurance That was Carried.

Mr. Cressman's Stock Estimated to be Worth $40,000—Damage to Buildings.

Saturday's fire proved to be more disastrous to the Cressman building, at 385 and 387 George street, than anticipated at the time of going to press on Saturday, while the store of Messrs. R. Fair & Co., is badly damaged by water and smoke.

Many theories are advanced as to how the fire originated. It is reasonable to suppose however the reason the fire made such headway was owing to the bales of cotton webs in the cellar. The loss by the fire to the two buildings ,and the stock of Messrs. A. W. Cressman and R. Fair & Co., is estimated at $60,000.

The estimated losses and insurance carried are as follows: A. W. Cressman, loss on stock, $40,000. Insurance through Davis, Thompson & Co., in London Mutual, Manchester and Royal, $6,000; Merchants, $3,000; Anglo-American, $3,000; National, $3,000; Hand-in-Hand, $5,1000; divided amongst the Ottawa, Economical Mutual, Merchants and Waterloo, total $35,000.

R. Fair & Co's loss is between $15,000 and $20,000. Insurance is divided amongst the Hand-in-Hand, London Mutual, Imperial, Equity, Waterloo Mutual, National of Ireland, Anglo-American and Hartford.

Damage to the Cressman building, which is owned by the Toronto Savings and Loan Co., will be about $6,000, covered by policies in the British American and Western.

Damage to R. Fair & Co's store, owned by the Bradburn estate, $1,000, fully insured.

The gentleman employee who hurried up with the elevator and rescued the lady employees on the second floor in a critical stage of the fire was Mr. Charles Bowles—a man who, when in personal danger can think of his helpless fellow employees—is a true hero in every sense of the word.

To-day Mr. Cressman was able to open his safe and take out papers of value, which the fire had not attacked.

ST. ANDREW'S YESTERDAY.

Evangelist Turk Officiating—Series of Evangelistic Services to be Given.

Messrs. Kerby and Turk, evangelists, are giving a series of services in town, and are also about to visit the different factories and places of labour in town.

Evangelist Turk officiated at the services in St. Andrew's church yesterday morning, taking his text from 5th Chapter Judges, verse 14th, it being—"Go in this thy might, and thou shalt save Israel from the hand of the Midianites. Have not I sent thee?"

In the course of his earnest and forceful address, the speaker mentioned that it was a great tendency of the day for people to forget God. When the spirituality has gone out of a man he loses his power, and it is prosperity that makes a man forget God.

Christ called His disciples from the ranks of the busy—the idle are not wanted.

In conclusion, the speaker mentioned that the children of Israel had never cried unto God but He heard them, as He would do nowadays.

Evangelists Turk and Kerby were in St. Paul's church last night.

Death of Mr. Alex. Drummond. Town—Funeral To-morrow.

The sad death of Mr. Alex. M. Drummond, aged 42, occurred yesterday at one o'clock at the residence of his mother, Mrs. Alex. Drummond, No. 750 George street, after ailing only since Friday last. Mr. Drummond is a son of the late Mr. Alex. Drummond, of Otonabee, and has lived in town for the last four years, the greater part of the time in connection with the Massey-Harris repair department on Simcoe street. The deceased was a member of St. Paul's church, was connected with the Young Men's Guild, and took a prominent part in Y.M.C.A. work. The funeral will take place on Tuesday at 1.30 o'clock to the Keene Cemetery.

BOGUS BILL.

Mr. Henders, of Peterborough has not Endorsed it.

Bills are out for a carnival to be held in Lindsay on Tuesday night they state that the carnival promises to be the best ever held in Lindsay, and as there will be many interesting events every person should turn out and make it a success. The following is an event which will be closely contested:—"Matched race, one mile, between Mr. Wes. Henders, of Peterborough and Mr. Henry O'Leary, of Lindsay, for $25 a side."

This is news to Mr. Henders of town, who was not aware of any race until he saw the bills.

Mr. Henders is a salesman for Mr. A. H. Stratton, and is, as a matter of fact, a speedy skater. He expresses great surprise, of course, that his name should have been used in this connection without his knowing it.

ENTERED INTO REST.

Death of Sarah Hannah Chasty, at the Age of 47 Years.

On Sunday evening, the 8th instant, the death occurred at the family residence, No. 35 Union street, of Sarah Hannah Chasty, relict of the late John Chasty, after an illness of comparatively short duration, although deceased had been ailing for some time past. She was a daughter of the late Isaac Snelgrove, of the village of Lakefield, and was born on the 17th August, 1855. In 1879 she was united in marriage to John Chasty, and lived in the township of Smith for a number of years, until her husband's death, about a year ago, when the family removed to Peterborough, where they have since resided. She was an earnest member of the Methodist church, with which she became identified at an early age. The deceased leaves behind her three young daughters, who have the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

The funeral takes place at one p.m. on Tuesday from the family residence to the Lakefield cemetery.

Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION HAS CONCLUDED.

Farewell Meeting in George Street Methodist Church.

LAST SATURDAY AFTERNOON'S SESSION.

The German Boys' Choir—The Committee on the Provincial Committee's Report, Reported—Some Addresses.

Saturday afternoon was the closing day business session of the convention. There was the usual large attendance of delegates, and there was a large attendance of citizens, including many ladies.

After song service and devotions Rev. Elmore Harris, D. D., was heard in "An Hour with the Word of God." He dealt with the Acts of the Apostles, the title of which was the evangelisation of the world, and the keynote was the power of the Holy Ghost. "Evangelization of the world" did not mean the conversion of the world—a matter which was in the hands of God. The church was responsible for bringing the Gospel within the reach of all men. The first twelve chapters of the Acts dealt with the evangelization of the Jews, according to our Lord's order. St. Peter, the apostle of the Jews, was the central figure. The rest of the Acts dealt with the evangelization of the Gentiles, with Paul, the Apostle of the Gentiles, as the central figure. First, we had thirteen chapters dealing with his apostleship at large; the rest dealt with his apostleship in bonds. The Acts dealt with four main features: the programme, the persons, the purpose and the power. When all the details of the establishment of the church were effected the Acts record the completion of the equipment in the descent of the Holy Ghost, on the day of Pentecost, which was to be regarded as the natal day of the church—the day when it was welded into a whole. The first miracle in connection with the church was the healing of the lame man at the Gate Beautiful. The community of goods recorded was confined to those who belonged to the church—giving was voluntary, not compulsory, the giving notion came from the Holy Spirit. The finances of the early church required for its administration, men of good report and full of the Holy Ghost. The persecutions begun by the death of Stephen scattered the early church, and new centres of Gospel radiation were formed, and the persecution by Saul resulted in his conversion, and the adding of the mightiest influence in the evangelization of the world. The greatest evangelists of history have been educated men, like St. Paul. In the 13th chapter we have St. Peter dropping out of sight in connection with evangelization. At this point began the work of Gentile evangelization, of which the feature was the missionary journeys of St. Paul. The programme of evangelization in the Acts of the Apostles, was a type of the evangelization that should obtain to-day. Evangelization should begin at home—at Jerusalem. The leaders of the early church were not scattered in the persecutions — the ordained leaders were left at home, and the work of evangelization was carried out by the scattered rank and file. The duty of evangelization was laid upon every Christian person, either in person or by proxy — by sending some representative in the field. The equipment of the Holy Spirit was necessary to successful Christian work — "it is not by might or by power, but by my Spirit." An educated man with the Holy Spirit was a far better agency than a man devoid of education.

The proceedings were varied by the entry of the surpliced boy choir of Berlin, which, under the leadership of Professor Boetke, organist and choirmaster of St. Peter's Lutheran church, Berlin, at the organ, sang with very fine effect, Newman's great hymn, "Lead, Kindly Light."

Mrs. Henry Yeigh, president of the Women's Auxiliary, made her report of the Women's Auxiliary, whose main points are embodied in the report printed in to-day's issue.

Mr. F. S. Goodman, New York, continued the consideration of the Religious Work Department. In answer to questions, he described the manner of conducting shop (factory) classes under Y.M.C.A. auspices. The field of Y.M.C.A. work in these provinces in religious work was the members of Associations, about 14,000, and those who came in contact with Y.M.C.A. work, and the next responsibility was towards 175,000 men in unorganized districts, and next towards 800,000 in unorganized towns, and lastly to 200,000 millions of young men who had not heard the name of Christ. Among the meetings the association could conduct with benefit to young men, were devotional, evangelistic meetings for men, Bible classes, shop meetings, open air meetings, social and Bible study meetings, boys' meetings. Questions developed the fact that special attention should be devoted to evangelistic work among boys, because between the ages of 12 and 18, when boys drift away from Sunday school, was the period when the Devil did did the most dangerous work. The great majority of Christians decided for Christ between the ages of 11 and 19 years of age. The characteristics of successful evangelism for for men were attractiveness, good singing, a speaker who had a manly message for men, and who had tact. The right kind of addresses by men who are respected, tactful leadership, thorough preparation. Things to be avoided — thinking that a big crowd is the main thing—that a small crowd is necessary—avoid speakers without a manly message—clap trap methods. It is necessary to modify plans to meet conditions. The final test of evangelistic meetings was their results in elevating the lives of men.

A beautiful selection by the Berlin Boys' Choir, which was very heartily applauded, broke the motony of the proceedings.

Mr. Goodman continued his subject by pointing out the need of Christian workers to develop themselves, and to influence others. There was need for special training for the work—well done by assigning this to some special act. At present there was special need of personal work. In regard to personal work, if only half of the membership of Associations spoke a word in season to an unChristian man, and only one-hundredth of these interviews were effective the result would be 28,000 conversions in a year. The hindrances to personal work were lack of sense of responsibility, diffidence and ignorance of men. The effective study of men was one of the best aids to good work, the greatest hindrance was a low spiritual life. Lastly we had obligations towards men in unorganised towns in our Provinces. As a result of the work of the Association in foreign fields 500 Associations hae been formed with large memberships — in Japan, Corea, China and India. Mr. Calhoun, of Montreal, said the contribution of his city to missions had doubled the interest of the local Association. The cost of a strong religious Y.M.C.A. was brains, it costs time, sacrifice, it costs money, it costs lives—the devotion of our lives. Earnest men were the successful men of the world.

A letter of greeting was received from the Maritime Provinces, and the session concluded.

The recommendation of the committee on the General Committee's report regarding biennial conventions referred back on Friday evening, was considered and biennial sessions resolved upon. The next Convention therefore will be held in 1905, at a place and time to be decided by the Executive of the Provincial Committee. The place of the Convention due in 1904 according to the previous order, will be supplied by a series of district meetings.

CLOSING EVENING MEETING

Was Held in St. Paul's Church.

The final session of the Convention was held in St. Paul's church, Mayor Roger in the chair, very large number of people being present. Devotional services preceded the actual ceremonies of the session.

The choir of German boys from Berlin opened the ceremonies with a selection. Mr. Spence, Secretary Students' Conference, read the report of that conference, which was a short concise paper on the meetings.

Mr. Williams gave a solo by special request.

Mr. Williams said that the men who took the leadership in the towns and cities were mainly college men.

The Inter-Collegiate Association had only been in existence during 25 years, but during that time had done excellent work. Taking a look at the spiritual side of the country, only one man in every twelve was a Christian, while in college one out of every two students was a professed follower of Christ. Mr. Williams then gave details, pointing out the great Christian movement which was was taking place amongst the students of the countries of the East and West. He thought that the Association did really Christian work, and that we ought to thank God for his help in the ultimate victory of the Association.

This effective and eloquent address was followed by a song from the German Boys' choir.

C. K. Ober stated that there were great opportunities among the young men of this country. In some towns the membership had outgrown the buildings, but other buildings could not always be secured. But if the money could be secured new buildings could be built which would be quite able to fulfill all their previous obligations.

Turning to the Boy's work, the speaker said that by taking an interest in this section of the work was an interest of vital importance — there were as many boys to be reached as young men, and they were more easy to train in the following of Christ's banner than were the young men and for this reason every Association ought to take an extraordinary interest in the training of the boys.

Mr. Ober went on to relate how the Y.M.C.A. buildings were in nearly every large city in the entire world, not excluding the Orient.

If the Associations are to succeed in the future we must enter into partnership with the spirit of God, and our aim will be reached. The speaker said that the opportunities were only calls from God to do the work for the belief in the eternal future and the kingdom of the King of Kings.

The choir again favoured the audience with another beautiful selection, sung in English.

After the benediction had been pronounced by Rev. C. L. Thompson, the session broke up.

SUNDAY'S SERIES OF MEETINGS

All the Churches Opened—Immense Aggregation Attend the "Farewell" Meeting.

Sunday was the apparent aftermath of the convention, but the real aftermath — the results hidden from human knowledge — is impossible of estimation. The convention throughout was regarded as the most successful and inspiring of the thirty-three held — in all respects. The hospitable reception by the citizens of Peterborough appealed strongly to the delegates and in its hearty and thoughtful character fully sustained the well-earned reputation of Peterborough for cordial hospitality in all departments—from the entertainment of a hockey team to the housing and entertaining of a church synod. One of the prominent apparent results of the convention was the inspiring effect it had upon Y.M.C.A. workers, and their sympathisers, and the deepening of interest in the community at large. This was excellently exemplified by the meetings on Sunday. There were in all nineteen special services conducted, and all were very largely attended, and taking 300 as the average attendance there were between five and six thousand persons brought under their beneficent influence.

It is impracticable to enter into details of the addresses at the several meetings, which were addressed principally by the visiting delegates.

At the men's meeting in the opera house there was a crowded gathering of between 800 and 1000 men, addressed by Mr. C. K. Ober, of New York. The address was masterly of its kind and its effect was regarded as of the most beneficial character, arousing the deepest interest, in the whole gathering, and special interest in the hearts of large numbers, an interest which it is hoped will bear fruit in the future.

At the Boys' Meeting in Association Hall, there were present about two hundred boys, and St. Andrew's church was crowded on Sunday afternoon, to listen to a most instructive and interesting address for women, delivered by Mrs. Distin, of Quebec.

Special interest however centred in the "Farewell" service held in the George street Methodist church on Sunday evening. The great auditorium was crowed in every part.

The meeting was a most impressive one. It was in charge of Provincial Secretary Copeland, of Toronto. A score of brief, bright speeches were delivered by the delegates present, in which their impressions of the Convention were expressed. These were necessarily diverse in their character, but generally concentric to the three main ideas—the wonderful openings in the work for young men, the responsibility of Christian workers towards those yet unreached by vital Christian influences and the world-wide opening for the extension of work for young men—in all the nations of the world. Mr. F. S. Goodman summed up the situation by stating that it resolved itself into the search of the other man—the man who is not yet saved.

Other speakers were Mr. F. S. Goodman, man, Mr. A. B. Williams, Mr. Wm. Madill, Rev. J. P. Wilson, Pastor Von Pirch, Berlin, and the effective General Secretary of the local Association, Mr. G. H. Williamson, to whom, by the way, no little credit is to be given for the arrangements that resulted in the smooth running of the machinery of the convention.

A delightful feature of the farewell meeting was the singing of the Berlin choir boys. In addition to other selections the following most appropriate hymn, "Farewell," composed especially for the occasion by Rev. R. Von Pirch, pastor of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Berlin, from which the choir boys came, was beautifully produced:—

"FAREWELL."

1. Christian brethren, God's dear servants,
Now we say: Good-bye!
Homewards must we turn our footsteps,
Quickly passed the time!

Chorus.

Farewell, farewell, fare all ye well,
Farewell, Farewell,
Farewell, farewell, fare all ye well,
Farewell, Farewell,
Till joyfully we meet again
At last in Heaven's blissful realm!
Fare all ye well, fare all ye well.

2. O what happy, hallowed meeting
Did we here enjoy;
Singing of the Saviour's mercy,
Praising God on High!

3. May the loving Saviour's mercy
Ever be your guide!
Lead them, Lord, in blissful pathways
And to Heaven's light.

(Composed by Rev. R. Von Pirch, for Convention.)

Resolutions were adopted thanking the people of the town for their open-handed hospitality in entertaining the delegates, and throwing open their homes and churches to the delegates; to the pastors and trustees of the churches, to those who had assisted in the singing, especially the Berlin choir boys, in reply to which Rev. Mr. Von Pirch made a very apt reply. The general feeling can be summed up in the remark that the feeling of the delegates generally was that the convention of 1903 was the most successful that had yet been held.

The actual closing features were very impressive, the delegates and the members of the Y.M.C.A. formed a circle about the auditorium and, with clasped hands, sang the hymn, "Blest be the Tie that Binds." Rev. J. P. Wilson, pastor of the church, pronounced the benediction, and thus ended the thirty-third Annual Y.M.C.A. Convention.

A CONVENTION BANQUET.

Mr. Harry Long Feasts the Officials.

Pressure of other matter has prevented previous reference to a very pleasant little luncheon given in connection with the Y.M.C.A. convention. At the mid-day hour on Friday Mr. John Penman, chairman of the Provincial Committee, entertained at luncheon at Long's Palm Parlours the members of the committee, the paid officials of the association, and the members of the directorate of the local Y.M.C.A. It is unnecessary to say that the luncheon itself was an example of the high-class catering Mr. Long presents, and in connection with the gathering the occasion was made the medium of a most profitable informal conference on association work as coming within the province of the Provincial Committee.

It will be of interest to add that Mr. Penman is addicted to banquet giving. He is the same gentleman who gave the notable banquet given in Paris on the occasion of celebrating the release of Joshua Sandford from the collapsed well, in which he was so long confined, and whose experience has become historical in connection with such calamities.

ARTISTIC PHOTOGRAPHY.

Reproduction of Mr. R. M Roy's Pictures.

"Aristo Eagle," a monthly published in the interests of progressive photography, reproduces periodically eight or ten photographs of especial merit, selected by actual visits to studios by its representatives. The book circulates by millions, and pictures are selected from millions of samples. Therefore, an artist to get his pictures reproduced must do very superior work. The average photographer is lucky therefore who gets two or three of his pictures reproduced in the publication mentioned. But the selection and reproduction of six out of eight pictures by one artist, as was done in the January number, is practical praise of the highest kind, for the pictures used for reproduction are selected by a committee of experts. This fortunate artist was Mr. R. M. Roy, of Peterborough. Six out of the eight pictures in the January number were reproductions of Mr. Roy's work, and one of the pictures printed was marked for prime excellence. With the whole of the United States and Canada to select from, it is a great tribute to the artistic excellence of Mr. Roy's work, that six of his pictures should be chosen.

MINISTER OF MILITIA.

Hon. Sir Frederick Borden, K.C.M.G., Enthusiastic in the Training of Canada's Citizen Soldiers.

The Hon. Sir Frederick Borden, K. C.M.G., Minister of Militia and Defence, who went to Toronto recently to attend the Anglo-Saxon Union's banquet, spent a busy day in touch with matters relating to his department of the Government in the Queen City. His appointment as Minister dates back to July, 1896. The work of developing and encouraging interest in the organization and training of Canada's citizen soldiers has been very enthusiastically conducted by Sir Frederick. Dr. Borden's zeal in his work, and particularly in connection with the despatch to South Africa of the Canadian contingents, was rewarded with an Imperial title at the time of the coronation. While developing Canada's means of defence the Minister has shown no spirit of hostility to our neighbours, as was unmistakably shown by his warm welcome at the recent banquet in New York, and again by the dinner in his honor by the Anglo-Saxon Union, and his speech during the evening. Sir Frederick Borden has held a seat in the Dominion House of Commons longer than most of the present members. He was elected to represent King's, N.S., in 1874, and held the seat until 1882, when he was defeated at the general elections. He was, however, returned again in 1887, 1891; at the defeat of the Conservative Government in 1896, and again in 1900. While a member of the Dominion Parliament Dr. Borden was in 1893 appointed on the Nova Scotia Provincial Board of Health, and was in 1895 elected vice-president of the Maritime Provinces Liberal Association. In October, 1893, having occupied the position of surgeon-major of the 68th King's County Battalion, Dr. Borden became honorary surgeon lieutenant-colonel of the regiment.

HE CAN SLEEP AND WORK NOW.

What Dodd's Kidney Pills did for Emilien Clouatre.

Cured Him of Pain in the Back and Headache, and Made Him Well and Strong Again.

Val Racine, Quebec, February 7th. (Special) — Among those in this neighbourhood, who openly proclaim the benefits they have received from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills is Emilien Clouatre. M. Clouatre was long a sufferer from that most trying of troubles, Pain in the Back, that adds to its inconvenience the disquieting knowledge that it is one of the surest symptoms of Kidney Disease.

Now M. Clouatre is well and strong, able to do a good day's work and enjoy a good night's sleep. Interviewed regarding the case, he says: "I am not able to do otherwise than praise Dodd's Kidney Pills, for I am cured. I work well. When I go to bed I get rest. Before I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills I got up feeling more fatigued than I did the night before. I had pain in the back, and headache, which bothered my rest. I took nine boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am cured. I praise them to all who speak to me about them."

Others suffering from the pains and aches resulting from Kidney Complaint have followed Mr. Clouatre's advice and used Dodd's Kidney Pills. They, too, are compelled to admit the truth of the oft repeated statement, "There is no form of Kidney Complaint that Dodd's Kidney Pills cannot cure."

Some Points About Menier.

M. Menier, the proprietor of Anticosti, is a genuine politician. He was a candidate in the last French elections for Meaux. After he had made a speech at one of the meetings an angry-looking workingman rose in the audience and propounded a series of questions to which he replied in a most satisfactory manner and received great applause. Someone had the curiosity to follow the workingman elector, and noticed that after he had gone a little way he got into M. Menier's carriage and drove off to another part of the town, where a little later the candidate for political distinction appeared and made another speech. After he had finished the formidable-looking workingman got up, pulled out a bit of crumpled paper, and read the same three questions as before, to which M. Menier gave the same "grateful and comforting" answers. This was rather a curious coincidence, and someone, looking over the inquisitor's shoulder, recognized the handwriting on the paper as M. Menier's own, and the inquisitor as M. Menier's gardener! Possibly M. Menier has learned this expedient during his experiences in the neighborhood of his Canadian resort.

A TRUE CANADIAN.

Give me the drifting snow, the strong north wind,
A path that cracks with the frost—
There's a warm hearth-stone and a log well timed
When the snow-capped hills are crossed;
There's a rollicking lad to climb my knees,
A bowl and a deep flagon,
So give me the snow the whistling breeze—
I'll be home when the night comes on.

Give me the barking wolves, the wildcat's cry,
And the dreary, ice-bound mead—
There's a welcome place where the hot coomes fry
When the dreary wastes recede;
There's a toddling toe, whose mirth foretells
A wife that knows not a frown,
So give me the snow, the jingling bells—
I'll be home when the night comes down.

Give me the swinging ax, the woodman's call,
The hunter's horn on the hill—
There's a hearty hand and a kiss for all
When the blows and blasts are still;
There's a rollicking lad to climb my knees,
A pipe and a heap of fun,
So give me the snow the whistling breeze—
I'll be home when the day is done.

MEDICINE HAT.

Editor Writes That All the Bad Weather Does Not Originate There.

Fred G. Forster, editor of The Medicine Hat News, has written a somewhat long letter to The Chicago Tribune, defending his town against the aspersion that all the bad weather comes from that place. He says: "Medicine Hat is a town of 2,500 people, delightfully situated in the valley of the South Saskatchewan River. We are 1,000 miles west of Lake Superior, 200 miles east of the Rockies, and 70 miles north of the Montana boundary between Canada and the United States. To be more exact, our latitude is 50 degrees 1 minute north, our longitude 110 degrees 37 minutes west, and our elevation above sea level, 2,161 feet. We are in the centre of that district of Western America which is swept by chinook winds. These winds are the bright influence of our 'Banana Belt' winters." Continuing, Mr. Forster remarks that: "There is a district around Medicine Hat about 200 miles in diameter where the winters are short and the temperatures moderate. The district comprises what is the stock grazing country of the Northwest—which district is attracting attention from stockmen from every stock state in the country to the south of us. The town is a growing, progressive place, a railroad centre, has coal mines, and is a great stock shipping point. The town enjoys the advantages of up to date commercial and business facilities. The town owns its waterworks plant and supplies citizens with good water at a moderate rate. The town owns its natural gas system and gives citizens gas for fuel and light at less than 20 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. The Canadian Pacific Railway has a yearly pay roll of $250,000, and this year the stock business brought into the ranches $800,000. We have five churches, two schools, two hospitals, three chartered banks, all lines of mercantile business represented, and are, in fact, a unique community. The citizens know how to enjoy life as they find it here, and life on the prairier and in the prairie towns has an enticing fascination. There is an unaccountable charm about the free, open Western life."

Poe's Smile of Genius.

His mouth was like Apollo's bow unbent and in the natural curve said sorrow, with imagination, but when wreathed into smiles by any cheering inflorescence of his soul, disclosing a set of ivory teeth as evenly set as the opal walls of Eden, was absolutely captivating and beautiful. So remarkably pleasing was this transition from sadness to sunshiny gladness of hilarity that I now seem to see him smiling before me, lighting up the dim vistas of my memory as the rain fraught lightning does the darkness of a summer night. But there was this peculiarity about his smile, which I do not remember ever to have seen in any other person—namely, that it did not appear to be the result of gladness of heart altogether or gladness mixed with sorrow, but a pleasing satire, a smiling review of all that had just been said by him, like the triumphant world renovating laughter of the weeping heavens, expressive of that beautiful Apollonian disdain which seemed to say, "What you 'see through a glass darkly' I behold through the couched eye of an illuminated seer." Not only did he look this, but he felt it—felt it with all his inmost soul. It was, in the truest acceptance of the term, a smile of genius. —"The Poe Chivers Papers" in Century.

Ragged Island.

Ragged Island, alias Crie Haven, on the coast of Maine, is certainly happy above most islands. It has neither mice nor magistrates, though its inhabitants number nearly fifty. The solitary doctor comes over when wanted from the mainland. There is not the solace of a church, but there is also not the distraction of a lawyer. There are a few cows and horses, but neither dogs nor cats, nor is insect life, if present at all, a nuisance even in the hottest season. The natives catch lobsters and eat all that they cannot sell.

Plants That Hate Each Other.

Fancy two plants being so unfriendly that the mere neighborhood of one is death to the other! Yet that is the case with two well known British plants. These are the thistle and the rape. If the field is infested with thistles, which come up year after year and ruin the crops, all you have to do is to sow it with rape. The thistle will be absolutely annihilated.

Then He Went.

"I used to like winter weather when I was a boy," said Mr. Staylatt, "but, I tell you, the older I get the more I hate to go out into the cold."

"Yes," said she, repressing a yawn, "and, gracious, you're getting older every minute, aren't you?"—Philadelphia Press.

DAINTY TOUCHES.

Handsome Creations Which Show the Latest Trimmings.

Evening dress of the moment is distinguished by an exceeding daintiness. The tiniest of ribbons, the smallest of fringes, traceries of sequins and tassels innumerable may be found decking frocks of chiffon and net, while ruffings of chiffon are essential to the best of any well made evening dress.

A handsome evening dress recently made was of white mousseline trimmed with stripes of black chantilly lace joined with bands of black velvet ribbon. Frillings of white mousseline decorated the decolletage and formed the twisted bows which did duty as sleeves.

IMPORTED GOWN.

Another more elaborate creation was entirely made of white lace striped with folds of gray and white chiffon, with medallions of white panne and applications of gray velvet edged with chenille. On the bodice was a decoration of yellow roses. Chenille fringes were pendent from the panne ornaments.

An odd and at the same time handsome gown is shown in the picture. It is of heavy ficelle lace over pale green crepe de chine. The full sleeves are of pale green chiffon.

Irritating Form of Itching Piles

A Source of Continual Worry and Annoyance—Sleep and Rest Impossible Until Relief and Cure Came With the Use of

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

All classes of people are subject to piles, but especially those who are exposed to dampness. Teamsters, farmers, railroad men and labourers suffer greatly from this distressing ailment.

While there are plenty of remedies recommended as a treatment for piles, Dr. Chase's Ointment is the only actual and guaranteed cure. It truly wonderful how the merit of this preparation has become known throughout this continent and Europe.

But when a person has endured the torture of piles, the itching, stinging sensation, the sleepless nights of misery, the annoyance during the day, when going about the daily work, he feels grateful for the relief and cure brought by Dr. Chase's Ointment, and does not forget to recommend it to his friends.

Mr. J. F. Miller, who is employed as cooper by the Kennedy & Davis Milling Co., Lindsay, Ont., states:—"I believe that Dr. Chase's Ointment is the best thing in the world for piles. I say this because it has positively and thoroughly cured me of itching, bleeding piles, and this after all other remedies I could procure had failed. I can recommend this ointment to anyone suffering from piles, knowing that it will certainly cure."

A BAD CASE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE CURED BY DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Kidney Troubles, no matter of what kind or what stage of the disease, can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of these wonderful pills. Mr. Joseph Leland, Alma, N.W.T., recommends them to all kidney trouble sufferers, when he says:—I was troubled with dull headaches, had frightful dreams, terrible pains in my legs and a frequent desire to urinate. Noticing DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS recommended for just such annoyances as mine, it occurred to me to give them a trial, so I procured a box of them, and was very much surprised at the effectual cure they made. I take a great deal of pleasure in recommending them to all kidney trouble sufferers.

Price 50c. per box, or 3 for $1.25; all dealers or The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

UP-TO-DATE MARKSMEN.

Why Tommy Atkins Is Not a Better Shot —Comparisons Which May Be Odious and Likewise Salutary.

It is not a difficult matter to discover why Tommy is not a better marksman. He is not trained properly, for our present system is at the very least a decade out of date. No European soldier is trained in the same fashion. Even the Germans, who do not shine as marksmen, are more up-to-date than ourselves. Only one army has really kept pace with the times and that is the Swiss, and let us consider for a moment the musketry training of a Swiss soldier. Long before he is out of his teens he is urged to make himself acquainted with a rifle, and competent instructors are appointed by the Government to train him in the handling of his weapon. He is supplied with ammunition at cost price, may fire as freely and as often as he chooses, and substantial cash prizes are put up for competition. There is a range at a distance of every three miles, and a number near all the towns. Thus when the youth enters the army the instructors have the best of material to work upon. The method of training in nowise resembles ours. The recruit begins by firing with a miniature rifle at a stationary target thirty feet away and three months later is given a service rifle, which in the meantime he has been taught how to handle. He still fires at a stationary target with given distances, and when proficient is sent to the moving targets to qualify. Here he remains, and never sees the stationary targets again, the running man and disappearing head being the marks at which he now fires. He gets no desultory practice as the British soldier does, but is required to shoot daily. Small wonder, then, that in open competition near Einsiedeln, last April, one marksman succeeded in striking the disappearing head seventeen consecutive times at a distance of 500 yards. Such a marksman would be more deadly on the battlefield than all our King's Prize winners put together.

Disappearing targets are likewise the main system of musketry instruction in the French, Swedish, and Austrian armies, and to a great extent in the German. In every case the recruit is thoroughly trained in the handling of his rifle, which is not always so here, a statement borne out by Lord Roberts' remarks. Like the Swiss soldier, he is then trained, first at a stationary target with given distances, then without distances, and lastly at moving objects. In every instance no soldier is accounted a marksman until he is proficient at moving targets; the competitions are modelled on these lines, and it is worthy of note that the countries named have within the past three years been rooting out the old targets, lock, stock, and barrel, except at the musketry training centres, where they are retained for the use of recruits. In Sweden moving targets have been introduced into the schools—every schoolboy can shoot in Sweden, by the way—and often these youthful marksmen can hold their own against the trained troops of the country.

Germany, with its fine military organization and its reputation as possessing the most perfectly trained forces the world has ever known, or probably ever will know, is, however, not rich in marksmen. Marksmanship is the only weak point in her military system. Outside the army the German has not the chance to learn how to shoot, and when he enlists he is required to put in several months straight off the reel at instruction in the handling of his weapon, without even firing a shot. If somewhat indifferent marksmen, the Germans, nevertheless, handle their rifles "cleaner" than any other soldier in Europe, and the good old manual which our authorities are discarding is the main feature of earlier instruction. After this the recruit is given a miniature rifle, such a one as T. A. would regard as a toy, and feel insulted were it offered to him to learn with, just the rifle in fact that a schoolboy uses to break up feline concerts on the conservatory roof at midnight. The bullet it fires is no larger than a pea, and the target, equally small, is set up at a distance of 15 paces, and fired at until the recruit can register a bull every time. Then and not till then is he ready for the service ranges. When there he is required to fire a certain number of shots once a week, no excessive number, be it said, and when he can run up a fixed score at each practice he is reckoned a fully trained marksman.—The Regiment.

Culinary Courtship.

Janet had molded the domestic affairs of a Boston family for so many years that the news of her intended marriage had much the effect of an earthquake. "Have you and David been engaged long?" ventured the mistress of the household.

"One week when next Sabbath comes," stated Janet briefly.

"And—and had you any thought of marrying before that?" asked her mistress.

"Times I had and times I had not," said the imperturbable Janet, "as any person will. But a month ago when I gave David a wee bit of the cake I'd been making and he said to me, 'Janet, have you the recipe firm in your mind, lass, so you could make it if Mrs. Mann's book would be far from your reach? I knew well the time was drawing short.

"And when," said Janet, closing her eyes at the recollection, "I said to him, 'David, lad, the recipe is copied in a little book of my own,' and I saw the glint in his eye I reckoned 'twould be within the month he'd ask me."—Youth's Companion.

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

CURES INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, BILIOUSNESS, SOUR, WEAK AND ALL STOMACH TROUBLES.

Mr. J. G. Clunis, Barney's River, N.S., tells of what this wonderful remedy has done for him:—It is with gratitude that I can testify to the wonderful curative powers of B.B.B. I was so badly troubled with indigestion that whatever I ate caused me so much torture that eating became a dread to me. I tried numerous physicians, but their medicines seemed to make me worse. I thought I would try B.B.B., so got a bottle, and after taking a few doses felt a lot better. By the time I had taken the last of two bottles I was as well as ever, and have had no return of the trouble since. I recommend your medicine to the highest degree. B.B.B. is for sale at all dealers.

SMART HATS.

The Fashionable Shapes Are All Large.

Such a thing as a small toque or turban is not obtainable. All the shapes are much larger this year.

Some of the picture hats are really enormous, but have beautiful curves, the best being copied from old prints. White felt, white beaver and white caracal hats are much worn in Paris. A bordering of dark green leaves on a white picture hat is very effective, especially if the wearer puts some green chiffon about her neck and keeps the rest white.

White is really a craze and is likely to continue so.

It is permissible to utilise one's summer dresses for indoor wear, and the clever woman makes many little changes in this manner. The veilings and crepe de chines can be given a heavier appearance by the addition of heavy guipure collars.

The jaunty sailor hat here shown is of champagne colored cloth, bordered along the brim with a wide band of reseda velvet. The hat has a soft crown, surrounded by a reseda velvet band finished on one side by a pearl and steel ornament, while on the opposite side clusters of reseda ostrich tips are arranged most picturesquely.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

His Knitting Work.

Aunt Alvira Fifer was what her neighbors called a "regular driver." Possessed of untiring energy and unfailing strength herself, she made little allowance for idleness on the part of any one, and she declared, says a contributor to Lippincott's Magazine, that she could "put up with a mean man easier than with a lazy one."

Aunt Alvira's husband, Uncle Ethan, was a small, wizened, weak looking man, whom Aunt Alvira declared to be "mighty wiry, if he did look so spindlin'."

One day a summer boarder who chanced to be staying at a farmhouse near the Fifer homestead wandered over to the little brown farmhouse and sat down for a chat with Aunt Alvira. The visitor took note of the enormous quantity of stove wood piled up in the back yard and overflowing from the great woodshed. The whole yard was strewn with it. The caller estimated that there were not less than twenty-five cords.

"What an enormous quantity of wood you have!" he said to Aunt Fifer.

"Yes, there is considerable," she replied. "I calculate on splittin' most of it in the fall."

"Who cut it?"

"Oh, Ethan did it as sort of knittin' work. I think it's a good thing for a man to have some kind of knittin' work to do when he's restin', and that wood pile has been Ethan's knittin' work."

In the Lover's Eye.

Would You Think It?

Would you think it possible that you could be disappointed in the face of a woman whose shapely shoulders, and beautiful hair suggest womanly perfection and beauty? Such disappointment comes not seldom when the face turned to you shows disfiguring blotches and blemishes. In general the cause of these eruptions is impure blood.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood, and removes the corrupt accumulations which cause disease. When the blood is cleansed, pimples, letter, salt-rheum, boils, sores, and other results of impure blood, are perfectly and permanently cured.

"For three years I suffered with that dreaded disease eczema," writes Mrs. J. Knapp, of Herman, Oregon. "I was told to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which I did, and after I had taken fourteen bottles I was permanently cured. It has been a year since I stopped taking your medicine and it has never appeared since. I think your medicine a wonderful cure and hope others suffering as I did, will take it and be relieved of their suffering."

"I will forever thank you for advising me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mrs. Jas. Murphy, of Pocahontas Co., Iowa. "It has cured me of chronic scrofula of twelve years' standing. I had doctored for the trouble until I was completely discouraged. I also had chronic diarrhea for twelve years. I am in good health now—better than I ever was in my life, owing to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took several bottles of the 'Discovery' before I stopped."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

PARIS PAWNSHOPS.

Why They Are Poor Places to Get Loans on Stolen Watches.

Of watches alone there are received here and at the twenty-two branch offices from a thousand to twelve hundred a day, about 350,000 in a year, the average loan on a watch being 30 or 40 francs. The official assured me that in this great number of watches scarcely one in a thousand has been stolen, the fact being that people who have come dishonestly by watches or other property fight shy of the mont de piete. The reason of this was presently made plain as we watched the formalities of record, and I realised how difficult it would be for any one to do business here under a concealed identity. Every client receiving a loan greater than 15 francs must produce some official document—an insurance policy, a citizen's voting card, a permit to carry arms or a rent receipt bearing his signature and throwing light upon his station in life. For loans under 15 francs the client is simply required to show an envelope through the mails to his address. All these facts, with various others, are duly inscribed upon huge record sheets, so that whoever deals with the mont de piete exposes himself to the scrutiny that must be ungrateful to folks of shady antecedents. Indeed, certain persons make this a grievance against the mont de piete and declare the Paris system an impertinent intrusion upon a client's privacy, which would seem a point badly taken if the client is an honest man.—Cleveland Moffett on Paris Pawnshops in Century.

Water Before Meals.

While the general opinion of those supposed to be authorities on this matter has been that the habit of drinking water at meals is a deleterious one, it is now stated, according to recent investigations, that a little water, if not too cold, is beneficial, as it assists in the digestion of food. A too copious supply of water dilutes the gastric juice, and if too cold it lowers the temperature of the stomach below normal, thus impairing digestion. If, however, water is taken in limited quantities, the peptones formed by the action of gastric juice on food will be washed aside, thereby facilitating absorption. By this means the undigested food is laid bare and is more susceptible to further action of the gastric juice. During the period of rest phlegm, being very tenacious, prevents the free flow of gastric juice for some time, hence delays digestion. A drink of water before meals is recommended because it loosens and washes away this deposit of mucus thereby permitting the gastric juice to attack the food as it enters the stomach.—Boston Transcript.

"Biography of a Snowflake."

Under this title Mr. Arthur H. Bell in Knowledge describes the life history of the aerial frost flowers of winter. In order to have a fair start in life a snowflake should be built up on a particle of dust. Then, if it has the good fortune to begin its career at the top of a cloud many miles above the earth and to pass through many atmospheric strata, differing in their temperature and the amount of moisture they contain, our snowflake is very likely to become a notable individual among its kind. In a stratum of warmer air the little flake catches moisture on its tiny spicules, and when it enters a colder stratum below the moisture is frozen, and so the flake grows. In a thawing air many flakes sometimes cohere, forming disks from an inch to two or three inches across.

New York, Feb. 8.—Bituminous miners wage scale settled on basis of advance of 10 p. c.

Saturday's Bank statement considered bad. Mop. car movement showing increase of 20 p.c. over last year. No truth in rumors of negotiations between P. A. and Wab. C. P. R. meeting to-day advance in dividend implorable. 72 roads for December average net increase 8.37 p.c. 39 roads for fourth week in Jan., average gross increase 17.03 p.c. Good demand for S. P. in loan crowd. New Jersey legal authorities say further investigation in Hodge U. S. steel case impossible.

DOW, JONES & CO.

Most encouraging feature in market situation over Sunday is final settlement of soft coal miners wage scale for the year. This entirely eliminates that threatened trouble. The Bank statement while much worse than expected is more unfavourable on its face than appears after carefully studying It turns out that while large portion of $20,000,000 increase in loans during week was result of shifting many loans from London and Paris to this city, on account of easier money rates here, the increase in capital stock of Western National Bank by its recent merger to $10,000,000 was also largely responsible. Loss in cash over six million was mostly due to payment of $3,500,000 to Government on account maturing, Central Pacific Ry. notes. There is no reason to suppose that there will be any disturbance whatever in money market. We look for a steady market.

M. & M.

Messrs. Haight & Freese have received the following:—

New York, Feb. 9.—It is a market of specialties. Mr. J. P. Morgan has been a buyer of steels lately. He says they are ridiculously cheap as investors and others will eventually find out. The Gould boys are simply making a market turn in the Wabashes to celebrate their Pittsburg victory. They will continue their spree a little longer. Sugar is boomed for a further advance. But conservatively. Insiders are confident that both Union Pacific and Southern Pacific will sell up appreciably. There is a good short interest in Southern Pacific. Keep long of coppers.

The settlement now arrived at with Bituminous means much.

New York, Feb. 9.—Bad statement is likely to produce some out of town selling this morning at the opening. Neither the Balkan nor Venezuelan situation furnishes unfavourable developments this morning. Decreases in Bank surpluses are usual in Feb. The settlement of the Bituminous wage trouble and the labour difficulty of Mop. with a better outlook in that respect so far as the Wabash is concerned operate for bullish ness Mop ought to work higher Rock Islands have been well supported. There is said to be a large short interest in Southern Pacific. The Gates party is bullish on Norfolk. Insiders are accumulating Chicago Great W. We are favourably inclined toward A. C. P., A. R. the preferred Erie and B. R. T. London irregular.

TOPICS.

New York, Feb. 7th.—The tone of today's market was decidedly strong. There was an excellent demand for the Wabash issues and the buying was persistent; the preferred showing a gain of three points at the close. Missouri Pacific was also very active. All the present market needs is a little more activity and the public will come in heavily, resulting in an extraordinary burst of bullish enthusiasm which will send prices sky-rocketing. An active bull campaign without doubt is in process of formation consequently we have no hesitancy in advising the public to enter the market now. Do not wait until the upward movement is in full swing and pay from 2 to 5 points higher for your favourites. Bank statements during February generally make a very poor showing, but it is a well-known fact that the market for a number of years past has generally worked to higher levels at this time of the year in spite of poor bank statement. We can well afford to ship gold to Europe as no fear may be felt on this score. Think the present time is propitious for making purchases. Bank return was somewhat poorer than anticipated and caused moderate reaction of which advantage should have been taken to make fresh commitments on the long side. The close was active and at the best prices of the day.

Chicago—The general news was bullish this morning and our market responded readily to the better feeling. Armour bought freely but believed to be selling through commission houses. Corn and Oats very strong, the latter selling at the highest point so far. May oats should sell at 40 cents.

THE LADIES' AUXILIARY CONVENTION.

How the Women Assist the Young Men's Association

SOME ENCOURAGING REPORTS

Officers Elected for the Ensuing Year—Finances in a Healthy Condition.

The eighth annual interprovincial convention of the Woman's Auxiliaries to the Young Men's Christian Association of Ontario and Quebec, opened in the local Y.M.C.A. on Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m., the President, Mrs. Yeigh, of Brantford, presiding; Mrs. Cousins was appointed Secretary, pro. tem., and Miss Kent was appointed to act as day Secretary.

After routine, the following Nominating Committee was appointed:—Mrs. Alexander, of Toronto; Mrs. Foy, of Kingston, and Mrs. Wood, of Toronto.

I need not pause to tell you what the work is—getting up socials, refurnishing rooms, raising money, helping in anyway and every way. Is there a spiritual side to such work? Yes — "and this ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone." What is our aim and object in banding ourselves together all over this and other lands in connection with the Young Men's Christian Association? There must be but one answer, to help our brothers. And just because it is my brother whom I am trying to help, there is a spiritual side to the work.

How can this be done? You may have read the Rev. Campbell Morgan's book entitled "A First Century Message to Twentieth Century Christians," in which he writes concerning the seven letters to the seven churches in Revelation, and there are two or three things mentioned in the letter to the Church at Ephesus, from which we might draw some useful lessons. "I know thy works, and thy toil and thy patience." I know thy works—this has reference to actual service being rendered; I know thy toil, this word lies deeper, having reference to the effort that produces work even at the cost of pain.

"I know they patience." This is a great bond, upon which the Master seemed to set much value. He spoke of it to the church at Ephesus, and again to this church at Thyatira. Mr. Morgan calls this the spirit of peace under pressure. Patience is the capacity for being still when all around is tempest-tossed; it is that peace of heart under pressure of life which is so fair and fragrant a thing to us, and ever seems to give the heart of the Lord satisfaction and joy.

"Thou hast not grown weary," showing a great reserve of strength, "but I have against thee that thou hast left thy first love." That is all—no other word. What is first love? You and I know when we were first called from darkness into light how easy work for Him was, and how all work centred in Him, as it should, for all zeal for the Master that is not the outcome of love to Him, is worthless. Activity in the Master's service will not make up for neglect of the Master. What relation has this to our work? Much, very much. All our work, our toil, our patience must have for its object, the up-lifting of our brother spiritually, or it is worthless. It is not our doing that lightens the world, it is our love, first for Christ, then for those around us. And just in proportion as we are filled with this love will our work be of value to Him. Do we go as workers to rearrange a parlour for young men or boys to occupy; do we plan for a social evening—do we work to raise money for that seemingly endless debt—do all with one end in view—the helping of some brother nearer to Christ. Yes, love them into the Kingdom. There may be no end of work done by a Ladies' Auxiliary—you may keep the rooms faultlessly clean, you may assist in numberless ways, but if it is only work, toil, patience, without love, it is labour in vain. But where love for Him is full, enduring toil continues; where faith in Him is strong works abide; where hope towards Him is perfect, patience is perpetual. "Faith, hope, love, these three, but the greatest of these is love."

THE FRIDAY SESSION.

Mrs. Gallagher Read a Very Interesting Paper—Discussion Followed.

The Friday afternoon session of the Convention of the Women's Auxiliary to the Y.M.C.A. opened at 2 o'clock with devotional exercises. There were over 50 delegates present, and a large representation of the local Auxiliary.

Miss Dickson, of Peterborough gave a Bible reading on the 10th chapter of John, in which was impressed the thought that Jesus Christ calls individually to a life of consecration.

A paper of great profit was that given by Mrs. Gallagher, upon "The Ideal Auxiliary," which was as follows:—

Friends and Fellow Workers.—For this practical age, one might almost apologize for presenting a subject quite so Utopian as "An Ideal Auxiliary"—I can only say that it was not of my choosing. There is a great danger in rushing to an extreme in this, and losing the many blessings that come to us through theories, visions, and ideals. One will never accomplish a great task without a theory. We will never become interested in that of which we have never had a clear vision, neither shall we reach to any great heights in our achievements without lofty ideals.

I wish you to bear in mind that the speaker is not posing as an ideal officer, or as representing an ideal auxiliary. I only introduce the subject to get the thought and discussion of this meeting. Your ideas are just as important as mine, and in many cases I am sure much more helpful, and it is just as desirable that yours be heard as mine.

Our object in meeting together is to exchange thoughts, to confer together, and with the knowledge thus gained be prepared to do more efficient work than in the past; and as representing the Auxiliaries of the Y.M.C.A., should possess lofty ideals of what we should be accomplishing for the Master in this most important branch of His service.

Perhaps in the past many of us thought we were fulfilling our whole duty in serving our own Auxiliary, and it may be because of this, that we lack, in a measure, that spirit of unity and sympathy with each other, that feeling that we are in partnership, which is so helpful, and which ought to characterize workers with the same end in view.

The very name itself suggests that the auxiliary should be a helper, and as it is an auxiliary to the Y.M.C.A., we are considering, we must first of all, inquire into the objects of that larger organization and seek to be a helper indeed, in all its branches—in its endeavour towards the salvation of young men and boys, physically, intellectually socially and spiritually. If we would have duty prove a pleasure and not an irksome task, it must be done for love's sake.

An "Ideal Auxiliary" should have ideal officers. The first duty of an auxiliary officer is to acquaint herself with the requirements of her office, and to perform them all to the best of her ability. First of all there should be a meeting called every month.

The ideal auxiliary will have its constitution and be run on business principles. We will consider the duties of an ideal officer of an Ideal auxiliary.

The President should be prompt in calling the auxiliary meeting to order at the hour appointed, and never exceed her time for closing. The devotional exercises devolving upon her should render care and thought necessary before coming to the meeting. The systematic conduct of the business of the auxiliary also depends upon the President. She should acquaint herself with all business coming before the meeting and the rules governing such business. While she cannot make a motion, she may, call attention to any particular business that should be brought before the society and ask for a motion. It is her duty to listen attentively to the subject under discussion, and be able to make an impartial statement of the case immediately before putting a motion to vote, and she may call upon the Recording Secretary for a re-reading of the motion.

The President should be thoroughly acquainted with the work of her auxiliary, observing when it needs building up, recommending what plans of work should be continued, enlarged or changed, and keep a careful oversight of the work of the other officers, and the whole society. By virtue of her office she is a member of all committees and orders the calls for special meetings.

The Vice-Presidents also should feel their responsibility, and always be prepared to preside in the absence of the President. They should keep in touch with all the duties of the President.

The office of the Recording Secretary is of much more importance than at first appears. The reading of the minutes is a journal as well as the official record of the auxiliary, and must contain all resolutions motions and amendments, and should be such a summary, that those not present shall have a definite idea of all the business transacted.

The Ideal Treasurer should regard her office in the light of its true importance. She has the care and trust of one of the most important motive powers of the auxiliary work. She has the cultivation of the giving spirit and power amongst the members and people.

The Ideal Auxiliary will render assistance at every point available, in furnishing of the rooms—making the association just as attractive and homelike as possible. Socially the auxiliary will furnish refreshments for occasional receptions to young men and boys, and will endeavor to cultivate by their presence, and by many friendly little ways, the social spirit and atmosphere about the association. There should also be kindly greetings not only to the young men who belong to the same class of society but to young men away from home, who are living with strangers.

As we all recognize that the most important part of the association work is its spiritual work, the Ideal Auxiliary will take the deepest interest in that department. They will, privately and publicly, commend the work of the association to the the young men of their acquaintance. They will assist the officers by constant and effectual prayer, and by wise remarks in public and wise council in private. The members of the Ideal Auxiliary will endeavor to win young men to Christ. In short, the relation of the Christian mother and Christian sister to the son and brother in the home, will form the best illustration for the relation of the Ideal Auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian Association.

And the Ideal Auxiliary will seek to take its part in the furtherance of the work in broader fields, but never allowing this to interfere with their loyalty and allegiance to the work of the home association realizing that they are but a small division of the army of the Lord whose object is one, whose leader is one, and whose triumphs and glories shall be shared by all, and shall eventually be brought by all, and cast as an humble offering at the feet of Him. Whose we are, and Whom we serve. Even the young man of Nazareth, who is beneath all, and back of all, and above all, was really the founder of the Y. M. C. A., which is his gift to the young men of this age in which we live.

May He give us grace and strength to realize our Ideal in this important service for Him.

An interesting discussion followed, the delegates taking part. Such needs as punctuality, a good secretary, high ideals of perfection, careful selection of hymns and frequent devotional services conduced to the desired result.

Mr. Dr. Rice emphasized the importance of brighter meetings, systematic working and prayer. Mrs. McCollum recommended that ladies take their children and pray before them. A good Devotional Committee was important.

The meeting greatly appreciated a solo by Miss Means.

Mrs. Distin, of Quebec, gave an excellent paper upon the religious aspect of the work in relation to the Auxiliary.

"Railroad Work" was the subject of an address by Mr. Colville, of Toronto. This was a work very important and one which demanded the sympathy of everyone. Its extent was 500,000 miles of railroad, and the great corporations were becoming much interested in the work of the Y.M.C.A. on behalf of the men who were often assailed by great temptations. The Y.M.C.A's gave lunch, rest, and homelike influences which were most effective in fitting the men for their responsible duties.

The ladies received with pleasure the invitation to the social and supper given by the ladies of the town in the Association Building.

On motion of Mrs. Upton, seconded by Mrs. McCollum, it was decided to continue the annual meetings as at present, brief, so that the ladies might enjoy the general meetings.

On motion of Mrs. Toy, seconded by Mrs. Upton, Mrs. Alexander was made an honourary member.

A vote of thanks was on motion tendered the President, Mrs. Yeigh, for the very efficient manner in which she had presided at the Convention. A vote of thanks was also tendered Mrs. Mallagh for her work during the year.

In accordance with the recommendation of the Nominating Committee the following officers were appointed:—

President — Mrs. Yeigh, Brantford.
Vice-President—Mrs. R. J. Kilgour, Toronto.
Secretary-Treasurer — Mrs. Marragh, Brantford.

The presidents of the local Auxiliaries and the above officers form the Executive. It generally meets in Toronto during September.

From the discussion which followed arose "The Harm of Cigarettes and Liquors," and that such should be taught in our day schools, and advising mothers' meetings.

Roll call and reports from Auxiliaries.

Closing. "The Lord watch between thee and me while we are absent one from the other."

THE LATE MARTIN LEONARD.

His Demise Occurred Early This Morning.

In the death of Mr. Martin Leonard, which occurred early this morning, the Township of Ennismore loses one of its most prominent and highly respected residents. Death was due to heart trouble, after an illness of only a week.

The late Mr. Leonard was 62 years of age, and has resided in Ennismore for many years, where he was prominent as a school trustee and as a member of the Township Council. He was a devout member of St. Martin's church, and was held in high esteem by the people of his neighbourhood. He married Miss Mary Sullivan, daughter of the late John Sullivan of Ennismore, who together with one son—Mr. P. J. Leonard, who resides on the homestead, and two daughters—Mrs. Bernard Flood, of Ennismore, and Miss Mary E., at home, remain to mourn his demise.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock to the Ennismore Cemetery.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. S. D. Hall is in Toronto to-day on business.

Mr. Kylie was in Peterborough today attending the funeral of the 10 year old daughter of his brother, Mr. John Kylie, a bright child, who died on Thursday of an attack of meningitis.—Lindsay Post.

The many friends in town will join in extending congratulations to Miss Florence Corkery upon obtaining the Nicholls scholarship prize for senior leaving and honour matriculation, at the recent midsummer examinations. It is the second time this young lady has had the honour of winning one of those scholarships.

VICTIMS OF GAMBLING.

A Pair Committed Suicide—Blew out his Brains.

The fearful tax of human lives exacted by the gambling demon almost daily is again startlingly illustrated by two newspaper clippings which appeared on the same day in a daily newspaper:

Nice, Jan. 16.—The body of Count Axel Cassman, an officer in the German army, stationed at Dresden, was cast ashore at San Remo yesterday, and those who are acquainted with the events of the past few days are of the opinion that the body of the Countess may also be watched for.

The Count and Countess Cassman have been among the most persistent gamblers at Monte Carlo. For about a week they met with the good fortune that seems to attend beginners. Then the luck turned, and they lost heavily.

After one exceedingly reckless sitting at roulette the Count and Countess did what so many others have done here—they disappeared.

It is believed that they both have committed suicide, rather than face ruin and disgrace.

Marseilles, Jan. 16.—Lucien Querac, 26 years of age, a member of a prominent Aix Province family, blew out his brains here to-day, after having gambled away his capital of 40,000 francs at Monte Carlo.—War Cry.

A PROTEST FROM BULGARIA

Government of Bulgaria Draws the Attention of the Powers to Turkey's Action—First Sign of the Predicted Storm in the Balkans—Russian and Austrian Proposals of Macedonian Reforms.

London, Feb. 10.—All the more prominent organs of the Russian press are manifesting a daily increasing Chauvinistic attitude towards Turkey in relation to the distracted situation of the Christian population of Macedonia and old Servia. The Bourse Gazette, which is known to be frequently inspired from high quarters, says that whether the other powers move or not, "it is the bounden, urgent and sacred duty of Russia to intervene between the bloody and bestial Turk and her kindred in the Balkan Peninsula, and that intervention will be incomplete and futile unless Turkish administration be once and for all expelled from the European provinces still remaining under Ottoman rule."

BULGARIA PROTESTS.

Sofia, Feb. 10.—Having received official information regarding Turkey's decision to mobilize two army corps at Adrianople and Monastir, the Bulgarian Government to-day addressed representations to the powers, invoking their good offices at Constantinople to procure the cessation of the Turkish military preparations.

To Keep Up the Status Quo.

Constantinople, Feb. 10.—The plan for the proposed reforms in Macedonia, which the Russian and Austrian Embassies will present to the Porte this week, is understood to contain no proposal of a political character, both Austria and Russia desiring the maintenance of the status quo.

NOT SETTLED YET.

Germany and Italy Still Demand Further Preferences.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Although Mr. Bowen and other negotiators are closely guarding the provisions of the several protocols, it was understood last night that the demands which are known to exist in the German and Italian agreements, as they are at present, drafted, and which Mr. Bowen cannot agree to, concern an increased payment by Venezuela prior to the handing down of The Hague's decision regarding the allies' contention for preferential consideration in the settlement of their claims. It is reported that Germany asks that she receive, in addition to the $27,000 cash that Mr. Bowen has agreed to pay, a certain percentage of the customs receipts, until the remainder of the $340,000 demanded in the original ultimatum addressed by Germany to President Castro last autumn is paid. Italy, it is believed, is insisting on a similar demand, though the amount asked for in her ultimatum was over $500,000.

Once a Rebel But Lived to Accept Title From Crown.

London, Feb. 10.—Sir Charles Gavan Duffy died yesterday at Nice, aged 86. Nearly sixty years ago he was a rebel Irishman, and was tried on a charge of treason and felony, but was not sentenced. Even when he arrived in Australia he announced himself as an Irish rebel to the backbone, but he lived to be Prime Minister of Victoria, and to accept a title from the Crown against which he had rebelled in his hot youth. The Daily Chronicle says he leaves a name of which Australia and the Empire are proud.

Munich, Bavaria, Feb. 10.—The father of the former Crown Princess Louise of Saxony, the Grand Duke Ferdinand IV. of the non-reigning house of Tuscany, is willing to become reconciled to her, it is said here, on the following conditions: Utter separation from Prof. Giron; the Grand Duke of Tuscany to fix her place of residence and select her enturage. It is regarded as certain that the former Princess will accept this ultimatum.

Schooner Full of Water.

Halifax, Feb. 15. — The Tern schooner Southern Cross, from St. John, with a general cargo for Parrsboro, Port Williams and other Nova Scotia ports, is full of water at Port Greville. The schooner fell off the bank, and at high tide yesterday morning she filled and sank. The cargo is insured in St. John, but there is no insurance on the hull.

The schooner Annie Blanche, deal-laden, from Quebec, for St. John, lost her sails in Sunday night's gale, and put into Parrsboro yesterday for repairs.

A Blacksmith Disappears.

Woodstock, Feb. 10.—The people of this section of West Zora around Goldspie postoffice had a sensation the other day in the disappearance of the blacksmith at the corner. He pursued his work until evening in the usual way and then quietly disappeared, and nothing has since been heard of him. He leaves a young wife and one child.

COATS HALF PRICE

Perhaps it was a bold stroke of business that lead us to buy very nearly three times the Mantles that we ever did in any previous season. We knew them to be excellent value, they have proved themselves to be such. We haven't one for every ten we did have. Now it's time we should have none. We're going to have none. Prices have been so cut that we feel confident, even at this season, that there are more than enough people who will be glad to exchange their few dollars for the warmth of coat, the appearance of Coat and the serviceableness that these Coats contain. Excuse us, but least the men happen to read this ad, we want to say these are Women's Coats. (Send the "better half" along.)

River Inundates Industrial District Above Glasgow.

AN ICE JAM AT CORNWALL.

Employees of the Stormont Cotton Mills Had to Beat a Hasty and Half-Clad Retreat—Lorneville, in Eastern Part of the Town, Suffered Most, Many Families Being Flooded Out of Their Houses.

Glasgow, Feb. 10. — The River Clyde burst its banks above Glasgow yesterday morning and inundated the industrial district of Rutherglen, where a dozen extensive works were flooded to the depth of several feet. The main road was ten feet under water, and many houses were rendered uninhabitable. Several residential districts south of Glasgow also were flooded. The damage done was very heavy. The rain swollen rivers have submerged miles of the country. Elsewhere in Scotland traffic on the railroads have been stopped, bridges have been swept away and houses have collapsed. Thus far no fatalities have been reported.

FLOODS AT CORNWALL.

Cornwall, Feb. 10.—Cornwall was visited by a small-sized flood yesterday afternoon, which, although not of so serious a nature as that of 1887, nevertheless did considerable damage, and forced several families to flee from their homes.

At 3 o'clock the ice began to shove and by 4.30 had risen to within 3 feet of overflowing the canal banks. The water came up so rapidly that some of the help in the Stormont Cotton Mill were compelled to get out without their clothing, and several were forced to make their exit through the cloth-room windows.

Five gas buoys belonging to the Government were carried away.

Lorneville, the eastern point of the town, suffered the most, several families being flooded out, and their property greatly damaged.

The lockmen at lock No. 17 were also forced to flee.

The steamer Princess Louise, which was in the dry-dock, was sunk.

At 5 o'clock the water began to recede, and the weather is moderating, which may have the effect of preventing a more serious flood.

HON. JOHN COSTIGAN AROUSED.

Bill in the Maine House to Lower a River the Cause.

Ottawa, Feb. 10.—Hon. John Costigan has brought to the attention of the Dominion Government a bill, which is now before the Maine House of Assembly, asking for permission for diverting the water of the Allogash River into the Penobscot. The Allogash is a branch of the St. John River. The lumbermen of New Brunswick are opposed to this bill, as it will lower the water in St. John River, and, therefore, interfere with their drives. Some of the Maine lumbermen have the same complaint against the proposal. Mr. Costigan saw the Premier, who asked for full particulars before forwarding a protest to Washington.

Car Shed Collapsed.

Ottawa, Feb. 10.—A car shed on Queen street belonging to the Ottawa Street Railway Company collapsed Sunday evening and some eight or ten cars were destroyed. The total damage is estimated at $1,200. The fall of the building is said to be due to a defect in construction.

To Recognize Purity.

Adulteration has grown to such a fine art, that it is almost impossible for a woman now-a-days to detect the false from the true; but a chemical analysis will always detect adulteration. Prof. W. Hodgson Ellis, Official Analyst to the Dominion Government, after a number of analyses, reports that "Sunlight Soap is a pure and well-made soap." Try Sunlight Soap—Octagon Bar—next wash day, and you will see that Prof. Ellis is right. No one should know better than he. 210

THE RURAL DEANERY MET

At Havelock, on Monday of Last Week.

Clergy Entertained at Luncheon by the Women's Auxiliary—Proceedings.

(Havelock Standard.)

The meeting in Havelock on Monday and Tuesday, of the clergy of the Rural Deanery of Northumberland, was a memorable event in the history of the Church of England here, and from the standpoint of the clergy was pronounced to be the best Deanery meeting held in years. The visitors were the guests of church families in the village during their stay, and the social intercourse involved in this arrangement was one of the most pleasant features of the meeting. The sessions for business and conference were held in St. John's parsonage, and the public services in the Church of St. John, the Evangelist. Papers were read by Rev. E. A Langfeldt, M. A., Rector of Ashburnham; Rev. A. J. Reid, M.A., Rector of Campbellford; Rev. E. R. James, Incumbent of Hastings; and Rev. W. L. Armitage, Rector of All Saints' Church, Peterborough, and were followed in each case by most helpful discussion.

Among the practical results of the meeting will probably be the organization of Church Sunday School conventions.

The opening service in St. John's on Monday evening was attended by a large congregation. In the chancel were eight priests, two deacons and [illegible] Rev. readers Messrs. F. S. Handfield, B.A., Farmworth; and H. F. Betteridge, Colborne.

The opening hymn was that beginning "When from the evening shadows fell." Evening Prayer was said by Rev. W. L. Armitage, the lessons being read by Rev. A. J. Reid, and Rev. J. McK. McLennan, Incumbent of Norwood. The Nunc Dimittis and Magnificat were by Simper in F, and Rev. E. A. Langfeldt preached an earnest and effective sermon from the text, "This one thing I do."

Tuesday was a busy day. It began with the Holy Communion at 8 a.m., with the Rev. Rural Dean Warren, Rector of Lakefield as celebrant, and the Rev. Wm. R. Tandy, M. A., incumbent of Belmont, as deacon. Choir and organists were in their places. The service was sung most reverently and heartily, and there were a large number of communicants.

At 9.45 a.m. Morning Prayer was said by the Rev. J. C. Davidson, M.A., Rector of Peterborough. The Rev. A. S. Dickinson, Incumbent of Warsaw, and the Rev. E. R. James read the lessons. Mr. Davidson took occasion to express the Deanery appreciation of the Havelock people's kindly hospitality, warm interest and large attendance at the services.

The clergy were entertained at luncheon by the Woman's Auxiliary, who were cordially thanked in a number of happy after dinner speeches. Among the guests at the lunch were Messrs. W. H. Webb, church warden, and R. A. Williams, Manager of the Sovereign Bank.

The final services at 4 p.m., when Evening Prayer was said by the Rev. C. M. Harris, Incumbent of Marmora, the Rev. A.J. Reid reading the lessons. At this service the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Dart was baptized by the Incumbent, the Rev. W. R. Tandy, and so the day which had been begun with one sacrament was ended with the other. It was the first baptism in the new font, which was thus dedicated to its sacred use.

The next Deanery meeting will be held in Christ church, aCmpbellford, in the month of aMy, and the programme already arranged for will include a Bible reading by Dr. Hoyles, K. C., of Toronto; a paper on Hort's Bampton Lectures by the Rev. W. Creswick, Incumbent, of Young's Point; and a paper on "Clerical Blemishes" by the Rev. J. McK. McLennan.

Saleslady's Backache.

There is many a young woman serving behind a counter who can hardly stand on her feet on account of the excruciating pain that catches her in the small of the back.

Must be cheerful and obliging, though the back be ready to break, the head almost bursting and the whole body racked and worn.

Constant standing affects the kidneys, disturbs their blood filtering functions, then the back aches, the head throbs and you feel unfit for work or pleasure.

It is wonderful in these cases how a few boxes of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets start the kidneys acting properly—they carry off the poisons from the blood, then the back ceases to pain, the head stops aching, and you feel yourself an altogether different woman.

SURPRISING BENEFIT.

Miss Lizzie Nix, whose address is 329 Adelaide Street West, Toronto, Ont., says: "When I commenced to use Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets I was tired of doctoring, for my troubles were severe and of several months' duration, and every previous treatment I took proved unavailing. I had a weak back and kidney trouble, and was nervous and run-down. At first I was skeptical about obtaining any benefit from Dr. Pitcher's Tablets. To say that I was surprised at the results that followed their use is putting it mildly. I was astonished, for from the first few doses I commenced to improve, and to-day finds me a well woman. Every trouble has disappeared, and with my general improvement in strength and weight I consider myself in sound health."

The show will be held in Ottawa, commencing Feb. 9th, and will continue until Feb. 13th. The annual meeting of the Poultry Association of Eastern Ontario will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 11th, at 7.30 p.m., in the office of Mr. F. A. Hodson, Imperial Building, Queen street, Ottawa.

The Eastern Ontario Live Stock and Poultry Show is held for the purpose of gathering together an exhibition of live stock and poultry, from which, by attention being given to the discussions of judges in the rings, and through the lectures which will be delivered during the show, many lessons may be learned by those in attendance. Specimens of the stock and poultry on exhibition will be used to illustrate the different types of animals referred to by the lecturers. The Winter Fair at Guelph, with the same object in view, has been very successful, but owing to the long distance and the expense in travelling to Guelph from the extreme eastern part of the province, it has been decided to hold this exhibition at Ottawa. Those residing in the eastern part of the province, who are interested in live stock or poultry, should not fail to take advantage of this opportunity to increase their knowledge along these lines. Whether this exhibition will be permanently conducted will depend upon the success of this the first exhibition, and each person who considers this a move in the right direction, and one that will be beneficial to the eastern part of the province should make every endeavour possible to secure its success. Be present yourself, and induce others to do likewise.

That it will be of value cannot be doubted. Any gathering together of people with a community of interest is bound to increase the knowledge of each individual through the interchange of ideas. In addition there will be practical lessons delivered on the subjects of cattle, sheep, swine, poultry. The speakers will be practical men of large experience who have made a special study of the subject on which they will lecture. The addresses will take the form of object lessons. Impressions received through the eye are easily received and not readily forgotten. The illustrations will be used to show the sort of animal best suited for a particular purpose, and the type of animal to avoid. Each person interested in any class of live stock or poultry will receive some practical information, which, if properly applied, will be of assistance in future work.

TELEPHONE FIGHT.

(Toronto Telegram.)

A little event at Locust Hill, near Toronto — the refusal by the C. P.R. to allow twenty of its patrons, who have formed an independent telephone syndicate, to connect their line with the station there—has started a big telephone fight which, in ring parlance, will be "pulled off" at the next session of Parliament.

The twenty storekeepers, farmers and millers of Markham, Pickering and Locust Hill district, having built and equipped for less than $40 each, their automatic telephone service, were anxious to connect with the Locust Hill station to communicate with the agent as to whether their goods had arrived, as to arrival of trains and generally to facilitate their business with the C.P.R. They wired President Shaughnessy for the privilege and received this reply from the president himself:

"Very sorry that we cannot comply with your request except with the consent of the Bell Telephone Company with whom we have a contract for privileges in our stations."

GOLDSMITH IS DEAD.

Walter Romaine Will Likely Be Tried For Murder—Dead Man Made a Statement Before Passing.

Toronto, Feb. 10.—Louis Goldsmith, the victim of the Victoria street shooting affair on Friday night, died in the Emergency Hospital yesterday afternoon. From the first, the doctors held out very little hope of his recovery, though the wounded man's great vitality might have prolonged life for several days. Coroner Johnston will open an inquest at 7.30 to-night at the hospital.

When Walter Romaine appears in court on Friday he will probably have to answer to a straight charge of murder. Between his story of the affair and that of Goldsmith there is a great difference. Goldsmith's ante-mortem statement, as made to Acting Crown Attorney Eyre, is to this effect:

That he had had some differences with Romaine, and that when he and his wife and Romaine returned together to their home on Victoria street on Friday night, Romaine renewed his offensive remarks concerning Mrs. Goldsmith. Goldsmith told him to "shut up," and then Romaine picked up the shears and ran at him. Goldsmith disarmed him and then Romaine reached to his hip pocket and pulled the revolver. He fired, and the first bullet grazed his forehead. Goldsmith grappled with him and then Romaine fired twice at close range into his body. Goldsmith, in his statement, made no mention of "the white woman," Mrs. Jackson, at all.

A DAILY NUISANCE.

A Simple Remedy Which Will Interest Catarrh Sufferers.

In its earlier stages catarrh is more of a nuisance than a menace to the general health, but sooner or later, the disease extends to the throat, bronchial tubes and even to the stomach and intestines.

Catarrh is essentially a disease of the mucous membrane, the local symtoms being a profuse discharge of mucus, stoppage of the nostrils, irritation in the throat, causing coughing, sneezing, frequent clearing of the throat and head, and gagging.

The usual treatment by local douches, snuffs, salves, etc., often gives temporary relief, but anything like a cure can only be obtained by a treatment which removes the catarrhal taint from the blood and the disappearance of the inflammation from the mucous surfaces.

A new remedy which meets these requirements, and which so far has been remarkably successful in curing catarrh is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

These Tablets act upon the blood and mucous membrane only. They can hardly be called a secret patent medicine, as they are composed of such valuable remedies as Blood root, Hydrastin, Red Gum and similar cleaning antiseptics, which cure by eliminating from the blood and mucous surfaces the catarrhal poison.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant-taking lozenges, taken internally, allowing them to dissolve slowly in the mouth. In this way they reach the throat, fauces and entire alimentary canal.

If desired they may also be dissolved in water and used as a douche, in addition to the internal use; but it is not at all necessary to use a douche, a few of them dissolved in the mouth daily will be sufficient. However, when there is much stoppage of the nose, a douche made from these Tablets will give immediate relief, but the regular daily use internally of the tablets will cure the whole catarrhal trouble without resorting to the inconvenience of a douche.

Dr. Bement says "that the internal treatment for catarrh is rapidly taking the place of the old plan of douching and local application and further says that probably the best and certainly the safest remedy at present on the market is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, as no secret is made of their composition and all the really efficient remedies for catarrh are contained in this tablet."

Druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at fifty cents for full sized packages. Ask your druggist and if he is honest he will tell you there is no safer, more palatable, more efficient and convenient remedy on the market.

Greenville Junction, Maine, Feb. 10.—The C.P.R. express, bound from Montreal to St. John, N. B., and drawn by two heavy engines, left the rails near this place yesterday morning.

The passengers, none of whom were injured, began at once the work of rescuing the engineer, Robert Beaton, and Fireman Orb, who were under the wreck. Both were terribly injured and may die.

I Will Cure You of

Rheumatism

Else No Money is Wanted.

Any honest person who suffers from Rheumatism is welcome to this offer.

I am a specialist in Rheumatism and have treated more cases than any other physician, I think. For sixteen years I made 2,000 experiments with different drugs, testing all known remedies while searching the world for something better. Nine years ago I found a costly chemical in Germany which, with my previous discoveries, gives me a certain cure.

I don't mean that it can turn bony joints into flesh again; but it can cure the disease at any stage, completely and forever. I have done it fully 100,000 times.

I know this so well that I will furnish my remedy on trial. Simply write me a postal for my book on Rheumatism, and I will mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure. Take it for a month at my risk. If it succeeds the cost is only $5.50. If it fails I will pay the druggist myself—and your mere word shall decide it.

I mean that exactly. If you say the results are not what I claim, I don't expect a penny from you.

I have no samples. Any mere sample that can affect chronic Rheumatism, must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs, and it is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. It has cured the oldest cases that I ever met. And in all my experience—in all my 2,000 tests—I never found another remedy that would cure one chronic case in ten.

Write me, and I will send you the order. Try my remedy for a month, as it can't harm you anyway. If it fails, it is free.

Address, Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

Two Second Cabin Passengers Charged With a French Murder.

New York, Feb. 10.—The immigration authorities last night detained as prisoners on the French Line steamer La Bretagne, two second-cabin passengers at the request of Coudert Bros., lawyers, acting for the French Minister of Foreign Affairs. They are Henry Thiboeuf, a Frenchman, and Marie Pietto, a young woman, who comes from Belgium. Their names appeared on the list of the ship as M. Mongodin and Mme. Jouanne.

The man is held on suspicion of murder and robbery of Mme. Tusseau on Dec. 1 last, and the woman is charged with having been his accomplice.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION

The Result of the Pain and Irritation From Hemorrhoids.

Nervous Prostration is often the result of neglecting a case of hemorrhoids or piles; the pain and irritation attendant upon this disagreeable trouble inconveniences and annoys one, but it is possible to go to business and to do the ordinary day's work, so the trouble is neglected until the nerves become exhausted and the patient is a victim of nervous prostration.

Hemorrhoids cause a sensation of heat, tension and itching in a region where is located the most sensitive nerves of the human system and the continued irritation will eventually cause a collapse of the nerves. This would easily have been avoided if the patient had carefully treated the case of piles from their first appearance. No other trouble can be so quickly overcome if treated in an early stage; and even if the case is an old one, there is a remedy which will act with remarkable results if faithfully applied.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is in suppository form and can be conveniently applied to the afflicted parts, the soothing oils and medication reaching and healing the enlarged hemorrhoidal veins of the rectum and acting at once upon the inflamed tissues.

Every sufferer from this trouble should send at once to the Pyramid Drug Company., Marshall, Mich., for their book on Piles or Hemorrhoids, which will be sent free. The Pyramid Pile Cure is so well known and the hundreds cured by it have so advertised it that the little book is merely sent to give each patient a clearer view of his or her particular case and the proper treatment for it.

CLARK AND HIS WIFE

Inquest Resumed in the Collingwood Poisoning Case.

BOTH GIVE THEIR EVIDENCE

Mrs. Clark's Testimony Who Took at Her Home at Her Was Taken Ill to Appeal—Clark Repeats His Former Story—Jurors Cross Examined by the County Crown Attorney—Thought It Bitter.

Collingwood, Feb. 10.—The adjourned inquest on the death of Jeanet Clark, the two-year-old child of Alex. Horton Clark, supposed to have been poisoned by strychnine, opened here yesterday before Coroner Stephen. County Crown Attorney was in charge for the crown, and A. A. Bond for Clark.

Mrs. Foulis, a neighbor, swore that she was a friend of the family. She was in the house after the child was buried. Mrs. Clark said the child was poisoned by a glass of beer, and she was rendered unconscious after drinking it. The child had three mouthfuls from the glass. She never knew Clark to be unkind to his wife and he appeared fond of the child.

Dr. Pearson: I am medical examiner for the Chosen Friends. I examined Mr. and Mrs. Clark on Sept. 19, both passed and were insured for $2,000 each. Again I examined, after Nov. 19, Mrs. Clark for a $500 policy in the Metropolitan Life. I examined the baby on June 23 last and found it in good health.

Cross-examined he said: Mrs. Clark appeared to be the one anxious for the insurance. He knew nothing peculiar about her. She was now enciente, which might affect her, but not mentally. She might be sick after overloading her stomach with oysters and porter. The child might die in convulsions while lying beside the parents without disturbing them.

Mrs. Thompson, sworn, said she knew the child. She had seen it since Jan. 1. She saw Mrs. Clark after its death on Saturday, between 11 and 12 o'clock. "They sent for me, and Mrs. Clark said me baby was dead." Mrs. Thompson repeated a similar story to that of Mrs. Foulis. The child had died from the effects of poison in a glass of beer. After Mrs. Clark and the baby had gone to bed both took sick, and the baby died shortly after, and the father laid it out on the foot of the bed. Mrs. Clark was sick all night from the effects of the poison she had received.

Dr. McFaul, recalled, stated that the symptoms pointed strongly towards strychnine poison. Strychnine was extremely bitter, one-sixteenth of a grain would cause the death of a child, and one-eighth had been known to kill an adult.

E. J. Bellman testified to having sold 10 grains of strychnine to Clark on Jan. 19.

J. E. Rowan, recording secretary of the Chosen Friends, testified to the payment of dues for insurance policy on Mrs. Clark.

Prisoner Clark's Own Story.

A. H. Clark, the suspected prisoner, was then called and told this story: "I am a stonemason, 30 years of age, and a native of Scotland. I came home between 10 and 11 on Friday night. I brought a bottle of porter with me. I brought it at the Central Hotel till then, getting the returns of the hockey match. Frank Foreman was with me all evening, and left me at my gate. The porter I bought at Cook's Hotel. My wife and child were up when I got home. I had oysters to eat and opened the porter. My wife brought in the glasses and was in the room all the time. It was a small bottle containing only one glass for each of us. She complained of it being bitter and I drank of hers. She then drank it and gave some to the child. My wife was not then taken ill, but after going to bed vomited a little, but did not complain of any pain.

"The child was lying between us, nothing was wrong with it then nor during the night that I was aware of. I did not waken till 10.30 the next morning. My wife was still asleep, the baby was dead lying between us.

"I bought some strychnine a few days before for rats. I put it on three pieces of cheese, each one-half inch thick and three inches square. I put the cheese on the shelf in the pantry and placed empty baskets before it to prevent the child getting it. The morning after her death all the baskets were down, and the cheese had disappeared. The child must have got the cheese after I went to bed while the mother was putting the victuals away. I can not say how long she was in the pantry, but long enough to eat the cheese. There was other cheese in the house.

"I came to Collingwood two years ago, worked in the shipyard, and latterly in the smelter. I earn $2.75 a day when working. I pay $3.20 a month for my insurance on my wife in the Chosen Friends $1.22 a month, and in the Metropolitan Insurance $2.15 a month. The child was insured for $200. I never had any quarrel with my wife and loved my child."

Mr. Clark was cross-examined at considerable length, but nothing new was elicited.

The County Crown Attorney, in order to show the jury the unlikelihood of a child eating cheese covered with strychnine powder had a solution of the one grain to 480 drops of water prepared and asked each member to taste it. They appeared to be convinced that it was too bitter for ordinary diet.

Mrs. Clark was too ill to appear.

Mrs. Clark's Evidence.

Mrs. Clark gave her evidence at her home, where her husband was brought and was charged with murdering his daughter. She said: On the night of Friday, January 23, her husband came home about 6 o'clock and they had supper, part of it being cheese. She had not been feeling well for several days. He then went out and returned again after 11 o'clock. Then they had a supper of oysters and beer. She told the same story as he did about the drinking of the beer. She then went to bed, she said, as she was feeling dizzy. She denied telling Mrs. Foulis there was poison in the beer or that she fell unconscious on the floor. She also contradicted several of the minor points in Mrs. Thompson's evidence. She complained that these women and Mrs. Redmond had nagged her and asked her so many questions that she did not know what she was saying, as she was weak and got mixed up. She denied saying that her husband had tried to force the child to take castor oil during the night. When questioned concerning the insurance on herself, she said she had it issued because she thought it her duty to do so. It had, however, been cancelled now, as she did not want any more trouble. She said that she had not vomited at all. She also testified to the love of her husband for the child. He was always kind and good and true. Mrs. Clark tried not to answer some of the questions, as she was afraid of becoming mixed up and prejudicing her husband's case. Her testimony, however, was ample and apparently straightforward.

The town analysts will be unable to send a report on the contents of the stomach for some days, so the inquest was adjourned for one week.

Contrast Favors Canada.

London, Feb. 10.—Signor Marconi, interviewed on his arrival here, contrasted the attitude of the British and Canadian Governments in regard to his wireless telegraph operations. The Canadian Government, he said, had given all the assistance needed to develop the system on the land. He said that great dissatisfaction existed in Canada at the obstacles placed in the way of establishing a commercial service by the British Dyspepsia Cured To Stay Cured.

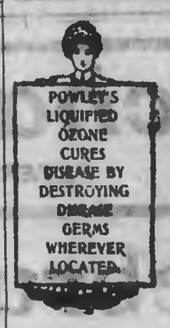
Mr. J. Gibbs, of Toronto, Suffered Intense Agony—Was So Bad That Food Would Not Remain on His Stomach Half an Hour.

Powley's Liquified Ozone Soon Improved His Condition—In a Short Time He Was Able to Eat Every Kind of Food.

To-day He is a Well Man—By Killing the Germs, Ozone Eradicated the Disease and He is Cured to Stay Cured.



I suffered the most intense agony from dyspepsia and found it impossible to get a cure from physicians or patent medicines. Anything I would eat would not digest and my stomach would become distended with the sour fermentation. Great gusts of belching would sometimes nearly choke me. I was so bad that food would not remain on my stomach half an hour, and I suffered intense pain and depression.

I started taking Ozone and it made a difference in a very short time. I was soon able to eat all kinds of food without any after distress. I have had no return of this stomach disorder, and to-day am a well man through Ozone. I visited Nova Scotia occasionally and found that my dyspepsia would leave me. When I returned to Toronto my trouble would come back as badly as ever. In the light of my recent experience I feel satisfied that my relief in Nova Scotia was due to the Ozone in the atmosphere.

Yours very truly.

CHARITY BOARD

Met Last Night—Officers Were Elected and Business Transacted.

There was a meeting of the Charity Board last night at 7.45 o'clock, in the office of the town clerk.

There were present, Messrs. Robt. Innes, chairman, Rev. Father McColl, J. J. McBain, W. Fowler, John Sawers and F. W. Miller.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed, after which the officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

Chairman—Mr. R. Innes.
Vice-chairman—Mr. J. J. McBain.
Treasurer—Mr. W. Yelland.
Secretary—Mr. S. R. Armstrong.

On motion it was resolved that Mr. W. Harrison having delivered some more wood on his contract made last year, and having been paid for it, be be released from the balance of his contract.

The Board then adjourned, and the next meeting will be held in the town clerk's office on Monday, Feb. 23rd, at 7.45 o'clock.

EMPLOYEES MET.

The Canadian General Employees' Benefit Association.

A meeting of the Employees' Mutual Benefit Association of the Canadian General Electric Company was held in the T.A.S. Rooms, on Friday evening of last week, there being a good attendance of members. The reports for the half year were received and showed the society to be in a healthy condition. The resignation of Mr. W. H. Christie as president, was received, and Mr. M. Mowry was elected to the position.

The treasurer's statement showed a balance on hand, and that 55 members had received benefits during the year. The amount paid out in benefits was $ 600.

A committee was appointed to revise the bylaws, and a general meeting of the employees will be held in the course of a month to receive their report.

RACING CIRCUIT

To be Formed With Adjacent Towns.

Mr. Arthur Rountree, secretary of the Peterborough Turf Club is in Belleville to-day making arrangements for the formation of a racing circuit to include Belleville, Picton, Kingston and Peterborough. It is altogether likely that the circuit will be formed and a large meet put on in Peterborough on July 1st.

By the formation of a racing circuit such as is proposed, the meets in the various town will be arranged so as not to conflict with each other, thereby making it possible for the best horses throughout the country to attend these meets conveniently. The advertising of the meets will be done on the combination principle, thereby lightening the expenditure in that regard.

BEFORE HIS HONOUR.

Frank Murphy Acquitted of the Charge of Robbery but Guilty of Assault.

Frank Murphy, who was last week charged before Police Magistrate Dumble with assaulting and robbing Wilbur Harris, and who was committed for trial, received a hearing before His Honour Judge Weller yesterday afternoon. The prisoner was acquitted of the charge of robbery, His Honour looking on the case as a drunken brawl, but he was found guilty on the charge of assault, but allowed to go on suspended sentence.

Mr. R. E. Wood, Crown Attorney, for prosecution; Mr. F. D. Kerr, for accused.

Longfellow's poem, "Hiawatha," is possibly not known as widely as it deserves to be, and probably the novel treatment of it in the entertainment this week will do much to popularize and explain it. The poem will be illustrated by picture, song and story. As "Hiawatha" will shortly be read in the schools this entertainment is calculated to give the scholars a pleasing introduction. A matinee for their benefit is to be held at 4.30 p.m.

NORWOOD DEFEATED KEENE.

A Great Game in Brock Street Rink.

THE SCORE WAS 4 TO 3.

The Boys From the Little Village Played a Splendid Game—Trent Valley League Flourishing.

The hockey match at the Brock street rink last night between Keene and Norwood resulted in a victory for the latter team by a score of 4 to 3, after ten minutes extra time had been played. It was truly a great game and not a few were surprised at the quality of hockey dished up, and the stock of the Trent Valley League has risen considerably above par as a result.

It was the game to decide the tie that existed between Keene and Norwood for the championship of the Eastern District of the Trent Valley League. As a result of last night's contest Norwood will enter the finals along with Fenelon Falls and the winners of the Lakefield-T. A. S. match to-morrow night.

KEENE DESERVES CREDIT.

Norwood won, but this is not saying that they are by any means in a better class than their opponents. As a matter of fact the boys from the picturesque little village surprised every person and they certainly won the sympathies of everyone in the rink outside of the Norwood people themselves, but even the Norwood people will admit that their opponents won the admiration of all by the persistent, plucky and clever fight they put up. Perhaps it was, that Keene being the smaller place, their team drew forth the good wishes of the general public in view of the circumstances under which they play the game in their own village, and the handicap they were placed at in being on a large sheet of ice. The Keene hockey team has not an up-to-date rink for a home of their own; they do not practice by the rays of electric light. They have a drill shed rink, not an unusual feature in connection with rinks in villages of Keene's size—they practice at night by the aid of coal oil lamps. Keene has not 1,000 of a village population to support and cheer them to victory. They have a population of about 200 souls, but with the hearty co-operation of the people of the neighbourhood they have been able for many years to support a hockey team and fight their way up in the Trent Valley League series each year. They are on the whole good skaters, have wonderful staying powers and never know when they are beaten.

AS TO NORWOOD.

The Norwood team and their supporters are naturally very jubilent over the result of last night's game. It was an enthusiastic crowd that came from the East Riding capital to cheer the boys to victory. There were men and women of all ages and sizes, and the red and white colours of the Norwood club were decidedly in evidence. The Norwood "bunch" sat pretty much together, and many of them went completely "up in the air" at the conclusion of the game. They certainly have a fast little team, and give their club splendid support. Of course Norwood has every chance as far as rink accommodation is concerned, as it is generally conceded that the rink of that place is as large as any in the O. H. A.

A GRAND SIGHT.

The scene at the rink last night resembled to a very large extent the occasion of the Belleville and Port Hope games here. There was a splendid crowd, made up of people from Peterborough, Norwood, Keene, Havelock, Hastings, and the concession lines between Keene and—dear only knows where. There was plenty of excitement, too. The Norwood people and the Keene people chaffed each other semi-good naturedly, while the disinterested spectators enjoyed the proceedings. The game did not commence until nine o'clock, and every person was becoming impatient. This was due to the lateness of the arrival of the Keene team, and when the two teams glided out on the sheet of ice they were applauded by their respective supporters. There was very little difference in the height of the two teams, but if there was any advantage in this respect Keene had it. Mr. James T. McCabe officiated, and his decisions were such as to meet with the hearty approval of both teams. Mr. McCabe was very strict, and for the slightest infraction of the rules, players were requested to become spectators.

THE LINE UP.

The teams lined up as follows:

Norwood — Goal, Fife; point, C. Pearce; cover, Nichol; forwards, Kempt, Miller, Rathwell and R. Pearce.

Keene — Goal, McIntyre; point, Dickson; cover, McCarthy; forwards, Welsh, V. McCarthy, H. Quinn, Laing.

Umpires, H. R. H. Kenner and H. Morgan; Timekeeper, F. A. Clarke.

A STIFF FIGHT.

From the face off it was quite evident that a battle royal was to be waged. The boys fought most stubbornly, and it was about five minutes before half time was up that Norwood scored. In the shooting after play was resumed, Keene scored and the people from the little village raised their faces heavenward and shouted in a most deafening manner. Then Norwood scored again and Keene again evened. This made the score a tie—2-2—, and the excitement went up 60 per cent. Once more Norwood scored, soon to be followed by a clever shot by one of the Keene forwards, which lodged in the net. Both sides worked most desperately to score before time was up, but neither team succeeded.

Referee McCabe then gave the boys a short rest, and they went at it again. They were to play five minutes from each end. In the first five minutes neither team scored, but in the second five minutes Norwood managed to pass McIntyre. This was only a few minutes before time was again up, and the Keene boys worked with greater determination. Twice they scored off-side, which was annoying to their friends, and finally the referee's whistle blew, and the Norwood enthusiasts swarmed the ice and heaped showers of congratulations upon their team.

NOTES.

Mike Kennedy, of Keene was certainly the most excited man in the rink.

The Keene team had followers from Westwood and other neighbouring villages.

McIntyre played a great game in goal but Dickson at point was the star of the team.

The T.A.S. boys very kindly allowed the Norwood boys the use of their rooms after the game. The same privilege was extended to the Keene boys.

The Keene men took their defeat like true sportsmen. They say that they are not ashamed of their team and they are certainly speaking the truth.

Many people wonder why Referee McCabe allowed a goal for Keene when it was scored after the bell had rung. This was owing to the fact that a Norwood man who had been ruled off came on again and coming down the ice, offside, checked the Keene man who was shooting. Referee McCabe was perfectly right in this decision.

SUCCESSFUL EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Held in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

MESSRS. KERBY AND TURK.

Eloquent Addresses—Meetings Promise to be Largely Attended.

Last evening's meeting in St. Paul's church was the opening week night meeting in connection with the union evangelistic services now commencing. There was a large attendance, all the churches being represented, and the meeting was a most successful one.

In addition to the two evangelists, Revs. Kerby and Turk, the following pastors were present:—Revs. J. Bastow, J. P. Wilson, W. J. Jolliffe, J. H. Hannah, C. L. Thompson, Dr. Torrance and J. A. Wilson. Rev. J. G. Potter was out of town and so could not be present. The spirit of unity was most marked, and augurs well for the success of the services. St. Paul's Young Men's Guild had charge of the ushering, etc. At subsequent meetings there will be representatives from the various Guilds on the ushering staff. Mr. Mulligan, of George street church led the union choir in the service of praise, while Mr. Wildgust, of St. Paul's presided at the organ.

Devotional singing commenced the evening's meeting. The congregation was most attentive and the service was heartily joined in by all present. Evangelist Kerby gave an explanatory reading from the Bible, which was followed by a sacred duet, in which the two evangelists took part.

REV. MR. TURK.

Mr. Turk said that the meeting in the Opera House convinced him that a revival was at hand and that the spiritual side of the community of Peterborough was at last rousing up. The evangelist took his text from 4th chap. 2nd Cor., 6th verse:—"For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ."

In this work of saving the world, God had united Himself with man—there is just as much a difference between a man who is a Christian and who is not one, as there is between a live and a dead man.

The need of the 20th century is to fully realize God. We can think of God walking with and talking to the old prophets, but we cannot realize Him walking with and guiding us—but he is doing so.

He said that his brother and himself had never been so well received as they had been in Peterborough. There was an evangelistic revival in this town, and it was through the grace of God and of God alone.

The evangelists were not the directors of the service—it was God on the spiritual, and the pastors of the different churches were the directors on the human side.

He said that they were not here to try and displace the congregations from their different churches, but that they were here to try and help the pastors in showing the people the way to the kingdom of the King of Kings. There was no greater head of the power of God than to-day as can appear in such unexpected places and forms.

In the course of his eloquent address, Mr. Turk thought the great fault was that the children—the coming generation—did not know enough of God. They were not taught at home, which was a vital mistake.

Nothing was so forcible as the Word of God; read the Bible, the promises of God. Sermons of personal experience are not nearly as forcible as the Holy Bible.

To follow God and do His will we must read His Word

The service was concluded by a second beautiful duet from the evangelists.

REV. MR. KERBY.

For a real revival of Christianity this evangelist said there were four conditions—Firstly, Get right with God, and keep with Him; secondly, keep peace with your neighbour, no matter to what church he belongs; thirdly, get with the Spirit of the Holy Ghost; and, lastly, pray for God's blessing on the work, no matter when, and before whom you are. Pray for your neighbour or fellow worker with whom you have had a quarrel.

After prayers from different pastors, Rev. Dr. Torrance, pastor of St. Paul's, dismissed the congregation with the benediction.

The singing of the two evangelists enraptured the audience. Their voices blend together most beautifully.

The meetings all this week are to be held in St. Paul's church at 7.45 each evening. Pentecostal Hymns No. 2, is the book used in the service of song. It may be purchased from the ushers at the doors.

The evangelists will visit the large factories at 12.40 (noon) during the week. This feature of their work has met with great success in the various towns and cities where the evangelists have laboured, and strong men have listened with rapt attention to the sweet songs and earnest words of these two earnest men.

New Additions—Present Studio is in the Usual Active Working Order.

Mr. H. M. Roy, the widely known artistic photographer, of Hunter street, is thoroughly remodelling his studio in the latest and most up-to-date style. Although extensive alterations are in progress the studio itself is not being touched, the carpenters are at additional rooms, and the operations do not in the slightest way interfere with Mr. Roy's work in the present studio. Mr. Fred Roy is travelling through the principle studios of the United States in order to get the latest ideas for the new studio. Throughout the furnishings will be quite new. There will be a suite of complete dressing and toilet rooms. A great special feature of the rooms will be the quantity of "cosy corners" and the like, and it is assumed that with these palatial apartments Mr. Roy's fame and popularity will be greater than ever. His new quarters will be chiefly on the 2nd floor where the business apartments will be situated.

BURNED BY MOLTEN METAL.

A Moulder Slipped Friday While Carrying a Ladle Full.

(Lindsay Post.)

Mr. Robert Nesbitt, a moulder in the employ of the Sylvester Manufacturing Company, was the victim of a painful accident on Friday afternoon last. He was carrying a ladle full of molten iron, when he slipped and fell. The iron splashed over his left arm and leg, burning them badly. He was taken home and Dr. White summoned. Mr. Nesbitt is doing as well as can be expected, but it will be a couple of weeks before he is able to resume his duties.

AN EFFICIENT GENERAL SECRETARY.

While simple discharge of duty does not involve special merit, yet specially effective, and, in some respects supererogatory service is deserving of special recognition. We have just had held here what is, by general consent, acknowledged to be the best Y.M.C.A. Convention ever held in Canada under Provincial auspices. The large number of delegates left the town feeling and expressing themselves to this effect. Whilst the public features of the Convention in their successful character reflect credit, mainly on those associated with this department, yet for the general management and attention to the many details, for the smooth running of the machinery, to the efficient local General Secretary, Mr. G. H. Williamson, especial credit is due, and so far as the Examiner is concerned, is frankly given. No one not actually associated with the work has any idea of the multiplicity of details and of the necessity of harmonising arrangements which, if left to themselves, or chance, would be conflicting in order to insure the smooth running of the machinery of a large convention, especially where the responsibility for the entertainment of delegates is left to the local organization. Providing temporary homes for over 250 delegates is no small task. Yet so admirably was this part of the arrangements made, that on arrival in town all the individual delegates had to do was to take possession of the homes assigned to them, and the delegates, collectively, found everything in regard to the business meetings arranged in the same excellent manner. A new departure that involved an all-night work was the compilation of a list, published in the local papers, of the delegates, and the names and street numbers of their hosts—an arrangement which served the place of a personal introduction. In all regards Mr. Williamson seemed to think of and arrange everything in a systematic and admirable manner. Of course the other officials of the local Association, and the Board of Directors, ably co-operated, but the bulk of the actual work, the hard thinking, the responsibility, rested upon Mr. Williamson, and that he acquitted himself in the most satisfactory manner is heartily recognized; and, humanly speaking, the success of the convention, so far as individual effort is concerned, resulted most largely from the excellent work of the local General Secretary. No doubt the same energy and industry applied to the management of the Peterborough Association, accounts for the high opinion the visiting delegates expressed of the good work and good administration of the Peterborough Y.M.C.A.

DIED IN SEATTLE.

Another Daughter of Mr. W. C. McKee Passes Away.

The following from the Victoria, B. C., Advertiser refers to the severe affliction that has come upon a former Peterborough family. Mr. W. C. McKee is a brother of Messrs. Robert and Thomas MsKee, town, and Mrs. McKee is a sister of Messrs. William Thomas and and James Montgomery, also of town. The Advertiser says:—

Mrs. W. C. McKee, a former resident of this City, but now of Seattle, arrived here by the Maiolander yesterday. His mission was a sad onem he having accompanied the remains of his eldest daughter, Miss Mabel McKee, who passed away at her home on 22nd Avenue and East Union Street, Seattle, last Wednesday night. Tuberculosis was the cause of death, the deceased having been a sufferer from this disease for some time. She was but 21 years of age, and, during her residence in this City, was beloved by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from Messrs. Center & Hanna's parlors, and was largely attended by friends and relatives of the family. The services, both at the parlors and at the graveside, were conducted by the Rev. W. J. Hindley.

The greatest sympathy is felt for Mr. McKee, who, since taking up his residence in the Queen City of the Sound, has brought back no less than three of his children for interment in the family plot in the City Cemetery, and but one child now remains.

The pall-bearers at the funeral were Messrs. A. P. Garvey, H. Godfrey, J. McConaghy and H. M. McCagne. Amongst those who sent flowers were the following: Mr. and Mrs. McKee, Misses Behrens, Mrs. A. Garvey and family, Mr. and Mrs. Giguene, Mr. and Mrs. J. McConaghy, Mrs. and Misses Armstrong, Nellie London, Miss Griffiths, Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Husher, Mrs. Veitch, Messrs. Charles and George Perry and many others.

THE WOMEN'S AUXILIARY.

The Concluding Report of Convention.

Some Suggestions and Criticisms for General Secretaries.

The following suggestions and criticisms from the general secretaries of Ontario and Quebec re Auxiliary Work, were received with approval:

1. Simple form of organization. Auxiliary should hold the same relationship to the Association as any other committee and carry out this work under the direction of the Board, the same as other committees.

2. A more complete organization with a better knowledge of women's work amongst women.

3. The Auxiliary ought to be truly representative in its membership; that is members ought to be sought from every social class in the community.

4. A representative membership ought to be sought and every church ought to have fair representation in the Auxiliary membership. The first thing is a larger idea of the magnitude of the work.

5. Business meetings sometimes lack in attractiveness and practical value. The meetings are too long and the business not done with expedition. Do not let any "cut and dried" schemes get into the auxiliary—let every phase of the work have every consideration from every member. Would also suggest a little more special music and something of a social tea. Think it would be wise to have an address every second month from some Association man, (the officials excepted), on some phase of the work which would be new to the field.

6. Auxiliary means a good deal more than raising money for current expenses or furnishing the building or providing refreshments for socials. The Auxiliary members should be personal workers and should endeavor by heart to Heart talks with the young men to find out their real relationship to Christ. I believe a woman truly interested in our work will be glad to make her home a reception place for any young man either for tea or the spending of an evening.

7. Prayer should be the foundation stone upon which to build the ideal auxiliary.

8. The policy laid down by the Association should also be the policy for the Auxiliary. The latter is not an independent force but rather merely an adjunct to the carrying out of the work.

9. My judgment is that the individual Auxiliary should conduct house prayer meetings in various neighborhoods in the City and out of this work would grow the honest desire for personal work amongst young men.

11. The earnest Auxiliary member will realize that her house is as much a part of her service as her attendance at the meeting and will be glad to throw it open for the young men who are strangers in the town.

12. Every Auxiliary should send to the regular monthly Board meeting a written report for the month just as the regular Association committees do.

13. The Auxiliary in my judgment has no rightful place in an Association when it seeks to raise money by bazaars, high teas and such similar schemes.

14. The development of our committee work is one of our services. The work is largely carried on by the President.

16. Our Auxiliary to my knowledge has never met for the specific purpose of "prayer." Every regular meeting is of course opened with prayer but there is always a hurry to get to "the business."

16. The Secretary should be present at every Auxiliary meeting not to push himself in any way but rather as the guiding star and also to keep in active touch with all proposed work of the Auxiliary.

17. Every Auxiliary should subscribe for a sufficient number of "Association Men" so that every committee member would be regularly receiving a copy and thus be kept in touch with the larger work—this would increase the seeming lack of knowledge about the work.

18. The "business side" of an Auxiliary seems to be the main feature—how to raise the greatest amount of money without giving offence. I would suggest more prayer and a more definite study of "Bible methods for raising finances."

19. One of our difficulties of Auxiliary work is the lack of our members to make themselves really acquainted with the Association membership. Let me suggest that the Auxiliary open their houses to many of these young men either for tea or to spend an evening. Then the hostess is bound to know more of her guest.

20. The danger of our Auxiliary is "cliques"—that is a certain social class drawing themselves together and apart from the general membership.

21. One Secretary says "God bless the ladies," but I think they would be more greatly blessed if they could in any way arrange to buy the Association "a stereopticon." Lack of knowledge of our work is the great weakness and by means of a stereopticon and enlarged view could be given the general membership. Our ladies are a noble band.

22. The development of latent spiritual talents in its membership should be the aim of every Auxiliary member. There should be no social distinctions but rather "a common work for our common Lord."

MARKS BROS. FINE ENTERTAINMENT

It was a popular wonder that one small head could carry all that Goldsmith's village school master knew, and it is an equal wonder to the people of Peterborough that Marks Bros. can give such an excellent dramatic entertainment for the popular prices. No "show" ever comes to this town with half as good a bill at twice the money. The well balanced company played "Among the Brigands last night to a good house. The play was well staged and well acted in all respects. The specialties were excellent, there being several unique "turns" and some capital dancing. They are clean and like the general tenor of the performance free from coarseness and objectionable features. Marks Bros. put on a show worth seeing at double the money. To-night the play is "In Old New York Town."—Wednesday matinee at 4, "The Three Musketeers."

THE ASSOUAN DAM.

Sir Benjamin Baker Describes the Masonry and the Sluices in Detail—Storage for 1,000,000,000 Tons of Water.

Sir Benjamin Baker thus describes his work in The London Magazine:

"Assouan dam is not a solid wall, but is pierced with sluice openings of sufficient area for the flood discharge of the river, which may amount to 15,000 tons of water per second.

"The masonry of the dam is of local granite, set in British Portland cement mortar. The interior is of rubble set by hand, with about 40 per cent. of the bulk in cement mortar, four of sand to one of cement. All the face-work is of coursed rock-faced ashlar, except the sluice linings, which are finely dressed. This was steam-crane and Italian masons' work. There was a great pressure at times to get a section completed before the inevitable rise of the Nile, and as much as 9,600 tons of masonry were executed per day, chiefly at one point in the dam. A triple line of railway and numerous trucks and locomotives were provided to convey the materials from quarries and stores to every part of the work. The maximum number of men employed was 11,000, of whom 1,000 were European masons and other skilled men.

"Mr. Wilfrod Stokes, chief engineer and managing director of Messrs. Ransomes & Rapier, was responsible for the detailed designing and manufacture of the sluices and lock-gates; 140 of the sluices are 23 feet high by 6 feet 6 inches wide, and 40 of them are half that height; 130 of the sluices are on the Stoney principle with rollers, and the remainder move on sliding surfaces. The larger of the Stoney sluices weigh 14 tons, and are capable of being moved by hand under a head of water producing a pressure of 450 tons against the sluice.

"There are five lock-gates, 32 feet wide and varying in height up to 60 feet. They are of an entirely different type of ordinary folding lock-gates, being hung from the top on rollers, and moving like a sliding coach-house door. This arrangement was adopted for safety, as a thousand million tons of water are stored up above the lock-gates, and each of the two upper gates is made strong enough to hold up the water, assuming the four other gates were destroyed. When the river is rising the sluices will all be open, and the red water will pass freely through, without depositing the fertilizing silt. After the flood, when the water has become clear, and the discharge of the Nile has fallen to about 2,000 tons per second, the gates without rollers will be closed, and then some of those with rollers; so that, between December and March, the reservoir will be gradually filled. The re-opening of the sluices will take place between May and July, according to the state of the Nile and the requirements of the crops.

"Between December and May, when the reservoir is full, the island of Philae will in places be slightly flooded. As the temples are founded partly on loose silt and sand, the saturation of the hitherto dry soil would cause settlements, and no doubt injury to the ruins. To obviate this risk, all the important parts, including the well known Kiosk or 'Pharaoh's Bed,' have been either carried on steel girders or underpinned down to rock, or, failing that, to the present saturation level. It need hardly be said that having regard to the shattered condition of the columns and entablatures, the friability of the stone, and the running sand foundation, the process of underpinning was an exceptionally difficult and dangerous task."

HE CAN SLEEP AND WORK NOW.

What Dodd's Kidney Pills did for Emilien Clouatre.

Cured Him of Pain in the Back and Headache, and Made Him Well and Strong Again.

Val Racine, Quebec, February 7th. (Special.) — Among those in this neighbourhood, who openly proclaim the benefits they have received from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills is Emilien Clouatre. M. Clouatre was long a sufferer from that most trying of troubles, Pain in the Back, that adds to its inconvenience the disquieting knowledge that it is one of the surest symptoms of Kidney Disease.

Now M. Clouatre is well and strong, able to do a good day's work and enjoy a good night's sleep. Interviewed regarding the case, he says: "I am not able to do otherwise than praise Dodd's Kidney Pills, for I am cured. I work well. When I go to bed I get rest. Before I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills I got up feeling more fatigued than I did the night before. I had pain in the back, and headache, which bothered my rest. I took nine boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am cured. I praise them to all who speak to me about them."

Others suffering from the pains and aches resulting from Kidney Complaint have followed Mr. Clouatre's advice and used Dodd's Kidney Pills. They, too, are compelled to admit the truth of the oft repeated statement, "There is no form of Kidney Complaint that Dodd's Kidney Pills cannot cure."

KING EDWARD'S NEW ROYAL TRAIN A MARVEL OF BEAUTY.

The Two Cars Recently Finished for the King and Queen by the London and Northwestern Railway Have Greatly Pleased Their Majesties—Latest Ideas in Construction, Fitting, Decoration and Furnishing Have Been Here Carried Out.

King Edward of England will hereafter travel by rail in his own private car in luxurious fashion. Two cars have just been finished for the use of the King and Queen by the London and Northwestern Railway which have greatly pleased Their Majesties.

The royal carriages embody the latest ideas in construction, fitting, decoration and furnishing. There are two saloons, one for the King and one for the Queen. The latter also contains accommodations for the Princess Victoria.

The exteriors of the cars are enamelled in white and chocolate picked out in gold. The interior arrangements are as perfect as they are elaborate.

The King's smoking room is a cozy apartment in mahogany, with fine inlays of rosewood and satinwood. His day compartment is in the colonial style in white enamel. The furniture is in satinwood inlaid with ivory. This room is also treated in green, but of a lighter tone. Electric heaters are introduced. His bed and dressing rooms are also in white enamel, with silver plated fittings, the upholstery generally being of a soft green shade.

In its general arrangement the Queen's saloon is similar to that of the King, with the addition that accommodation is provided for Princess Victoria. All the Queen's rooms are in white enamel, and the predominating color is blue. Her bedroom is draped in soft pink. Adjoining this is her dressing room.

At the end of each saloon is the attendants' apartment, which is fitted with a seat that can be turned into a bed for night traveling and also with electrical appliances for cooking.

There are two balconies to each saloon, which are fitted with windows so that they can be used as observation cars. These balcony ends are heated by steam, and the two saloons are gangwayed together so as to enable any one to pass from one end of the royal train to the other.

To show the completeness and modernness of the appointments it may be mentioned that the King's saloon is fitted with electric cigar lighters, and each compartment is provided with portable table lamps

He is an industrious worker, and his business experience has undoubtedly been of great assistance to him in his present office.

George I. and the Stage.

George I. was a lover of the stage and, as his predecessors had done, caused his "servants" to play before him at court. In 1718 his majesty ordered the great hall of Hampton Court to be converted for the time into a theater. There, under the direction of Steele, "whose political services had been poorly recompensed by granting him some theatrical privileges," seven performances were given. Among the plays were "Hamlet," "Sir Courtly Nice," "The Constant Couple," "Love For Money," "Volpone" and "Rule a Wife and Have a Wife." Among the players were Colley Cibber, Pinkethman, Johnson, Thermond, Booth, Mills, Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Younger.

In former times the fee paid by the sovereign to his servants for a play acted at Whitehall had been £20. For these plays at Hampton Court, King George, besides paying the actors their ordinary day's wage and traveling expenses, gave £350 and added £200 for the managers. The players were required to act at any time upon receiving a day's notice.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The feminine organism requires an enormous quantity of blood, not only to sustain the network of nerves which are found in the womanly system, but also to make good the periodical loss which so weakens the body.

Consequently it happens that just as soon as the blood gets weak and watery, or is deficient in quantity, the nervous system suffers, and in women the effects are most severely felt in the form of irregularities and weaknesses of the feminine system.

At the beginning of womanhood, at childbirth, during the nursing periods, and at the change of life, calls are made for an extra supply of blood and as a result nervous disorders are exceedingly common at these times, and the health and happiness of the remainder of life may depend on the care of the system.

Because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food actually forms new blood and creates new nerve force, it is the most effective preparation ever used by women to build up the system, and restore vigour and strength to the body.

Mrs. R. J. Huffman, 268 Reid street, Peterborough, Ont., and whose husband is employed at the Canadian General Electric Company, states:

"For over a year I suffered from nervous headaches and feelings of weakness and dizziness would come over me. My nervous system seemed weak and exhausted, and hearing of the success of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I began using it. I am now pleased to state that the headaches do no bother me any more and my system is entirely built up and restored.

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Micht's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

TWO KINDS OF A HERO

By Edward Brederick

Copyright, 1902, by the S. S. McClure Company

"You'd scarce expect one of his inches"— was the colonel's comment. But the gallant old soldier was ashamed of his words. "By Gad'ge! It was one of the bravest deeds ever seen on the plains," he affirmed, "and we'll greet him properly with a band and a parade and a ball—the ball of the season. You must see to that, Jeanne."

The colonel's daughter lifted sparkling eyes from the newspaper. "It was glorious," she breathed, "glorious!" She bent over the paper, her cheeks glowing. Over and over she had read the account of Lieutenant Weisoll's gallant charge on the Indian stronghold at Checauba gulch. All the west rang with praises for the lieutenant.

Jeanne McDermont had lived her twenty years a hero worshiper. She loved the colonel not so much because he was her father as because he was her hero. And even the colonel could point to no better day's work than this of little Lieutenant Weisoll's.

"Papa!" she called with a rather timid voice.

The colonel after a moment spoke an encouraging "Well, Jeanne?"

"I"— she began, "I—Lieutenant Weisoll—I mean, told you. He asked me—to—well, he asked me. It was just before he left, and I was so sorry for it all. I told him 'No.'"

"And now you'd change your mind, you hero hunter, you!" Her hand was pressed over his lips.

The colonel sat and smoked. Like his girl, he was a hero worshiper. Suddenly he remembered something and, after a moment's frowning, spoke:

"Why, Jeanne, there's a little gossip down in town. A broken down violin player, a fellow degraded by drink, came two weeks ago looking for Lieutenant Weisoll. When sober, they say he's a quiet, gentlemanly man, sad and thoughtful; but he's seldom sober. He plays in the saloons and—everywhere. When drunk, he has given out that Lieutenant Weisoll is his brother and has told a story that may be true.

"They were, this story runs, a poverty stricken family, these Weisolls, when John, the elder brother, and Harvey were growing up. From his boyhood John, skillful with the bow, was their chief support. It was through his friendship with a congressman that Harvey secured his appointment for West Point. The younger brother was given every chance to work his way up. John played at the smaller theaters and at summer resorts and at beer gardens. His weakness for drink was fought and overcome by his hopes and pride in his brother and the need of untiring work. Well, Harvey was graduated and came west. But now his brother is a hopeless and disgraceful drunkard. That's the tale."

"What does it matter what his brother is? He is a hero!" broke in Miss McDermont.

"Yes, I know," said the colonel; "but, they say what broke down this musician brother's will and—heart, they say, was something a bit snobbishness, considering the circumstances—on Harvey's part. The cadet was ashamed of the player, they say. Of course it is all gossip and a drunken player's tattle. Perhaps I shouldn't have told you."

"Yes," answered the girl softly; "it does no harm. I won't believe a meanness of the man who took Checauba. That attack couldn't have been made by a—a—a puppy."

* * * * * * *

It was the evening of Lieutenant Weisoll's homecoming day. The young warrior had been driven through the streets behind the regiment's band, through ranks of cheering townspeople. Now, in the cool of the evening, he was walking home with Jeanne McDermont from the parade ground.

He smiled up at the tall girl and walked as he always did—eyes noticeably straight ahead. Lieutenant Weisoll never turned aside. The right of way he took, like many short men of pompous mien, as a matter of course. Harvey was not quite pompous, not even tonight when he felt his pride and happiness complete. He knew that he had won more than glory.

He talked gayly of the romance in this frontier town and of how dreary it had seemed at first. "How I wanted an exchange!" he cried, then softly, "And now I want a life tenure."

She flushed and smiled. "Well, the old dust certainly has a wonderful, roseate glow." Behind them walked the colonel, silent and thoughtful, and several ladies and officers.

In the main street before the little frame hotel a crowd of town idlers and soldiers were gathered. The strains of violin music came from the center of the group, and there was a hush over the square. For once Lieutenant Weisoll turned aside and crossed the street to avoid the men. Miss McDermont's eyes were intent upon them, but suddenly she glanced up at her companion with something of anxiety and doubt.

Some one on the outskirts of the crowd caught sight of the lieutenant and set up a cheer. There was instant confusion, and the crowd began to break. Jeanne looked and saw a bent little figure standing by the hotel steps. He moved forward now and, assisted by a stout soldier, began to cross the street. He was weak, and she could see his trembling. The violin was hugged closely to his shabby gray coat. His head was uncovered and bald on top, and a shock of yellow curls fell about his ears and over his forehead. The girl's gaze was held by the large, hungry blue eyes—eyes fixed on Lieutenant Weisoll. She saw the man by her side start in surprise. The musician walked steadily and alone now, and as he came nearer to them he raised the violin and drew from it some hauntingly sad notes from "Robin Adair." Harvey touched her arm and quickened his step, but the man was close to him, and now he stretched out both hands with bow and violin in them and called in low tones:

"Harvey, Harvey, my brother! I knew you would win out, and I never minded waiting, and when they told me all about it here I wasn't surprised. I only said, 'The day I've been living on for is near,' and"—

The lieutenant had been detained by the girl's hand upon his arm. He made an impatient gesture, as if to force her on. The musician, seeing, cried out:

"Why, Harvey, I'm John, John—your brother John!" His voice rose to a frightened shriek.

"Come!" snapped Weisoll to Jeanne. "Come, come!"

She whispered in pained amazement, "But your brother, John; your brother—your brother!"

He felt the pain in her voice. His face was crimson. The colonel and the ladies and the officers were close upon them. The man with the violin, weak and dazed, but not drunk now, stood before them, his hands outstretched.

"I never saw this fellow before, Jeanne." The lieutenant spoke loudly. "I have no brother. This is merely a drunken joke. I"—

His voice had risen to a shrill pitch. His face had gone from crimson to white, and she knew that he was lying. She saw the eyes of the fallen and denied brother fill with tears. He turned away.

Jeanne turned on the lieutenant. "You coward!" she cried in ringing tones. "You coward!"

He shrank back before her scorn. She turned to the brother and, putting out both her hands, clasped his hand that held the bow.

"I'm glad to know you, John Weisoll," she said brokenly. "I'm proud to know you, John Weisoll."

Fortune Telling

does not take into consideration the one essential to woman's happiness—womanly health. There is many a woman whose future seems absolutely unclouded who is marked by her own condition for future disappointment and distress.

The woman who neglects her health is neglecting the very foundation of all good fortune. For without health love loses its lustre and gold is but dross.

Womanly health may be retained or regained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, drives the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have taken six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Miss M. Fyfe, of Orillia, Simcoe Co., Ontario, "and two bottles of the 'Pleasant Pellets' as you advised for congestion of uterus, ovaries, and weakness, and can safely say that your medicine has been the means of restoring me to good health again, which I had not had for over three years, until taking your medicine. I thank you very much for your kind and prompt attention to my letter asking advice."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets clear the complexion and sweeten the breath.

Look For the Beautiful.

There are superb personalities that go through life extracting sunshine from what to others seems but darkness, seeing charm in apparent ugliness, discerning grace and exquisite proportion where the unloving see but forbidding angles and distortion and glimpsing the image of divinity where less beautiful souls see but a lost and degraded human being.

Yet it is the heritage possible to all who will take the trouble to begin early in life to cultivate the finer qualities of the soul, the eye and the heart.

It is said that the most disgusting object, if put under a magnifying glass of sufficient power, would reveal beauties undreamed of. So even in the most unlovely environment, in the most cruel conditions, there is something of the beautiful and the hopeful when viewed through the glass of a trained and disciplined mind.

A beautiful character will make poetry out of the prosiest life, bring sunshine into the darkest home and develop beauty and grace amid the ugliest surroundings.

It is not circumstances so much as the attitude and quality of the mind that give happiness, contentment and divinity of service.—Success.

Flour Mills 100 Years Old.

That wheat was grown in Alaska by the Russians a century ago is proven by the discovery of two old flour mills, built by the subjects of the Czar. One of these has been discovered on Wool Island, in Southeastern Alaska, and the other in the interior.

Under all circumstances make the best of your surroundings.

SLAVES OF FURNITURE.

The Result of Women Being Afraid of Beetles and Mice.

If man is the slave of a dog, woman is the slave of furniture. If women only knew how much more graceful—and the only way is to appeal to their vanity—they would be reclining on the floor, they would never sit up on chairs or round a table. That this is fundamentally true is proved by the fact that they are never so happy as at a picnic, where there are no chairs and tables. I really believe that the craze for putting everything on something above the floor—by which I mean tables, sideboards, etc.—grew from the custom of sleeping in ugly, cumbersome and dirt collecting beds instead of on the floor. Of course the reason why women do not sleep on the floor is because they are afraid of beetles and mice and other harmless things. Women, therefore, having invented the bed, invented the table to stand by it, and thus spread the habit of putting everything above the level of the floor.

Woman's original sin of being afraid of black beetles and mice costs man more than all the royalty, armies, navies, pension lists, prisons, poverty, schooling, national debts and wars of Europe.

I am sure I am not putting it too high when I say that the average cost of furniture per house is $1,000, and if the world would only agree not to cumber its rooms with beds and tables, sideboards, cabinets and chairs our ground rents would be about half what they are, and the overcrowding of our cities would come down proportionately.—"Domestic Blunders of Women."

20 Years of Itching Piles.

Mr. Alex. McLaughlin, of Bowmanville, Ont., writes, that for twenty years he suffered terribly from itching piles and was told to use Dr. Chase's Ointment. He continued this treatment until entirely cured, and as he has never had any return of his old trouble he considers his cure permanent and remarkable on account of the length of time he suffered.

The Conductor's Honest Bakeoff.

A conductor of a Sixth avenue car, during a lull in the ringing of fares, stood passing coins from one hand to the other, turning up the date of each coin as he did so. "There are more ways of making money than by 'knocking down' fares," he remarked, noting the inquiring look on a passenger's face. "Any greenhorn can pocket a dozen nickels in collecting 120 fares in a car built for forty-eight passengers, but a man has got to know something to spot a coin that has a premium value. It's surprising how many more or less rare coins pass current without falling into the hands of some one who knows their value. This was suggested to me one day, and I took to studying the catalogue of dealers in rare coins and memorizing the dates of those that are worth more than the prices stamped on them. Since then I have picked out of the money I have taken in fares several hundred coins with a premium value ranging from a few cents to $5 and have redeemed them with my own money and sold them to dealers in coins."

Cards Disclose the Man.

"I wish I had not played bridge with Mr. X.," said a girl recently. "I thought him so nice before, and now my liking for him has quite gone. He was so keen about trifles, insisted upon every forfeit, questioned the score and seemed so annoyed when he lost, and yet the stakes were very small, and he was only out a few dollars; so, of course, it was not the money. It must have been the disposition of the man coming out under provocation, and the test did not show him up to advantage. Now, Mr. Z., the other man at the table, was so good natured and such a gentleman in his play that I quite like him, although I never thought him attractive before."

All games of competition may be said to assay certain characteristics, but the most crucial test seems to be card playing, and bridge is responsible for many a coolness resulting from self betrayal at the green table.

GRAIN.

Chicago.—Northwest receipts; cars, Minn., 396; Duluth, 150; Total, 564. Last week 384. Last year 215.

Liverpool.—Close, wheat, 1-4 lower and corn 1-8 lower to 3-8 higher.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Wheat opened steady but trade not large no feature. July in fair demand and a little firmer. Lot much offering. Sentiment bullish on the big export business yesterday. Cables about unchanged a small decline in local contract stocks. Oats are a trifle easier for May, fair demand for July. Little liquidation in nearer options. Trade light so far and no feature to the market.

There is a better undertone to wheat now offerings have about ceased and there is a fair scattered buying. Brad streets wheat east of Rockies dec 400,000, Europe and afloat inc. 1,200,000. World's net inc. 1,600,000. Corn, inc. 2,3,9,0,0. Oats, inc. 911,000. Primary receipts wheat 163,370. Last year, 512,300. Corn, 574,300. Last year 702,000. Clearances wheat, 232,530. flour 30,161. Corn, 388,469. Oats, 14,540. Wheat and flour 300,256 for 2 days 853,256.

C.P.R. declared regular semi-annual dividend 2 p.c. on preferred and 2 1-2 on common, payable April 1st. Northwest special meeting to-day to increase capital. P.O. annual meeting to-day.—best report ever issued expected.

Steel directors take action on bond plan to-day. Mop. in 1902 showed earning capacity of about 10 p.c. 42 roads fourth week Jan. gross inc. 16.40 p.c. 32 roads Dec. show average net inc. 7.92 p.c. Some demand for S. P. in lean crowd. Soft Coal Roads will probably advance coal freight rates April 1st. C.O. will renew expiring coal contracts at more favourable rates. Threatened labour trouble on Manhattan not serious. London settlement begins to-day. Banks gained from Sub-Treasury since Friday $1,615,000.

DOW, JONES & CO.

We look for a continued good market in stocks and believe speculation will now go into the low priced specialties. There was some good buying in Texas, G. W., Wis., Can., S. P., Mop. also showed good inside buying and is regarded as attractive at present prices. R. I. pr considered another relatively cheap stock. We regard outlook as favourable to higher prices and still favour purchases on all recessions.

M. & M.

Messrs. Haight & Freeds have received the following:—

New York, Feb. 10.—All authorities agree that a big bullish market will be seen this spring and summer, but temporarily they advise caution to the degree of utter conservatism. Withal the speculation is broadening and there is at present many a nimble sixpence to be picked up on the long side. Missouri Kans and Tex, Norfolk Tex Mex Can P.O. SO Pac Union Pac and Atch are among the cheap and good stocks that are slated for sharp advances.

Hold Copper and steels the Venezuelan episode is long drawn out but as a trouble breeder it is dying of decay. St. Paul, Sugar, So. Ry. are good to buy.

JOSEPH.

New York, Feb. 10.—A market of specialties. The market is broadening and displays a fair absorbing power. The short interest has been considerably reduced. We look for some improvement to-day, the turn in Venezuelan affairs may cause some realizing. A bull card is to be found in the Aldrich Currency Bill. We do not think it wise to ignore fair returns. We are bullish on Rock Island, So. Pac., Norfolk Mop., A. R. and C.N.P. There are tips put to buy St. Paul, Sugar and Copper. London firm.

TOPICS.

Stock Exchange closes Thursday, Lincoln's Birth-day.

New York, Feb. 8.—The market today reflected the improved sentiment prevailing. Commission houses report more orders received over Sunday than in some weeks. The Gould issues were prominent and in the trading Wabash stocks and Missouri Pacific scored good advances on heavy transactions. Some realizing in the former but appears to have tremendous power of absorption. The movement in these stocks has apparently only started. United States steel held strong with no signs of liquidation or profit-taking. Erie holds well. We feel rather friendly towards this issue also Texas Pacific in the low priced shares. The former is intrinsically worth much more than it is selling for at present. Amal. Copper continues to advance in anticipation of a merger with some of the important Lake Superior properties. The second week in February starts off with a rush as a usual thing this month is generally a dull one. Think stocks bought around present prices will show handsome profits as everything points to much higher prices throughout the list shortly.

Chicago.—Considerable profit-taking was noticeable around 80 cents to-day. The action of the market plainly indicates that some one wants a lot of wheat at the present prices, which puzzles the trade somewhat. It may go to its former high level if not higher, as the present manipulators could easily raise it to 80 cents. Think would get out of long May contract and purchase July. Corn, high enough for the present. The same applies to Oats although the latter could be lifted higher on short covering. Closing prices, wheat, May, 79 1-4; Corn, May, 45 5-8; Pork, May, 16 92 1-2; Lard, May, 9.47 1-2.

CORDOVA.

Hockey Match had to be Postponed—The Rathbun Co's Camp.

The hockey match scheduled for last Friday evening between Marmora and Cordova clubs had to be postponed owing to unfavourable weather. An endeavour will be made to pull it off on Wednesday evening, Feb. 4th, and the boys are hoping the weather clerk will be kind to them.

A number of Cordovalites have been visitors to the Rathbun Co's camp during past few weeks. The camp is some two miles northwest of the village and between seventy and eighty men are employed under the charge of foreman James Seeney with Mr. Charles Kirke as pay and supply clerk, and an immense amount of cordwood is being gotten out for shipment.

Another object of interest in the same neighborhood is the survey for the extension of the B. and N. Ry. northward which is being done under the superintendence of Surveyor Wilkins, of Norwood.

Messrs. Dale, of Belleville, and Dalton and Dellery, of Toronto, are again in town, the former on a business trip, and the two latter engaged on electrical improvements at the Belmont Gold Mine.

Mr. L. S. Holland, of Nova Scotia, is now on the staff of the Belmont Gold Mine as surveyor.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. R. Cole died very suddenly on Sunday, Jan. 25th. The parents with the child were proceeding from Cordova to Campbellford. On starting the babe appeared to be in its usual health, but had breathed its last before reaching Campbellford. Interment took place at Rockdale cemetery on Tuesday afternoon the funeral service being conducted by Rev. A. E. Camp at the Cordova Presbyterian Church.

ARTILLERY SUBALTERNS.

A Suggestion to be Considered by the Militia Department.

The militia authorities will doubtless consider with care the suggestion that artillery subalterns, under certain conditions, should be advanced to the rank of captain. An officer in command of a section of artillery occupies a post of great responsibility, alike in the value of the articles entrusted to his care in time of peace and in the tactical value of his unit on the field of battle. A capable officer in charge of two guns certainly discharges duties as important as those of an officer commanding a company of infantry. At the same time it would hardly be just to make every newly-joined subaltern a captain offhand. The suggestion might be hazarded that the establishment of a battery might be increased by one or more subalterns who would succeed to captaincies and the command of sections after some experience, and after passing tests which would ensure their being capable of commanding a battery. A judicious degree of independence might be given to the sections, and the scheme so developed that on short notice each battery could be developed to a brigade-division, each of the three sections becoming a full battery of four or six guns, and having in its command an officer competent to administer and fight a battery. Such an arrangement would be a stroke of organization which might prove most useful.—Toronto News.

Last Night's Curling Cup Competition for No. 2 District Played.

CURLING.

At the Charlotte street rink last night the No. 2 District Cup Competition was played off and Keene declared the winner.

The district was composed of Lakefield, Keene, Campbellford and Norwood, but Campbellford, for some reason defaulted.

Keene defeated Lakefield in the afternoon.

Norwood and Keene were matched against each other at hockey last night; the curlers from those two places played for one hour before the hockey match and on the completion of that event, betook themselves off to their stones and concluded the competition.

The rinks played as follows:

Afternoon.

Keene.	Lakefield.
S Fife	M Craig

M Kennaelly	J W. Bowden
R J McCamus, sk...20	R J Strickland, sk.17

Keene thus won the cup of the Ontario Curling Association for this district, but as this is the third time that trophy has passed into the hands of its present winners, they will no longer be eligible for the district competition, but will, in the future, have to try and uphold their honour in the Tankard match.

HOCKEY.

As the time draws nearer the interest in the T.A.S.-Lakefield match grows. This is the only district in the league, the championship of which has not been decided, and both teams are making a desperate effort to get into the finals. The T. A. S. club is running a special train to Lindsay, leaving the Grand Trunk station at 7 o'clock. A number of the Lakefield team were down last night and expressed confidence as to the result of the game, and the T.A.S. boys are in the pink of condition. The match will be one of the most exciting of the season and a large number of spectators is expected to turn out to witness it.

EVIDENTLY MISINFORMED.

The Fenelon Falls Gazette referring to the game which took place here last Tuesday night praises Peterborough's new rink, it says:—The rink cost $4,000, but that this amount ought soon to be made up in view of the fact that the receipts during the first week amounted to $1,200. The Gazette is a trifle optionistic. As a matter of fact Peterborough's rink cost $12,000, over three times the price it is alleged to have been by our northern journal.

Concerning the game the Gazette says further,—"The pleasure of the game was, we are told, greatly marred by the dirty play of a member of the Peterborough team who was evidently trying to hurt and disable a couple of the opponents from the Falls."

Fair-minded people will be somewhat surprised at the erroneous report contained in the Gazette. The Fenelon team which have made no such complaint as far as is known, and as the best of feeling exists here towards the team from the Cataract Town, it is not at all likely that any attempt would be made in the line above quoted, or in fact towards any team on the part of the Peterborough hockeyists.

Y. M. C. A. GYMNASTICS.

A full attendance of the senior gymnasium class of the Y.M.C.A. is asked for to-night at 8 o'clock sharp. Preparations will be made from now on for the Gymnastic Assault-at-Arms, which will be given at the close of the season. In view of this, all senior members are requested to attend to-night, and all the following class nights.

BRADSHAW IS CHIEF.

British-Columbia Paper on Mrs. John Browne's Brother.

The Rossland Miner, in a recent edition quotes the following concerning a brother of Mrs. John Browne, 525 George street, Peterborough:—

George Bradshaw will be Rossland's next chief of police. This was decided upon last night at the first meeting of the new police commissioners. Bradshaw will assume control of the force as chief on Sunday next, the first day of the incoming month.

The new chief of police requires no introduction to the citizens of Rossland. He joined the force several years ago after serving in Ontario as constable and jailer at various points. For the first year or two of his connection with the Rossland police he did patrolman's duty. In January, 1897, he was appointed sergeant, and early this month he was placed in charge of the force as acting-chief on the withdrawal of John S. Ingram. Now he is permanently appointed, and the post of sergeant is to be abolished. Chief Bradshaw has a clean sheet on the police force, and has been a trusty lieutenant to the various heads of the department under whom he has served. From time to time he has distinguished himself in detective work.

Presbytery of Toronto, Pass a Strong Resolution.

Mail and Empire.—At the close of the induction proceedings in Victoria Presbyterian church at Toronto Junction on Tuesday night, the members of the Toronto Presbytery met and passed the following resolution: "The presbytery reasserts its sense of the importance of a proper observance of the Lord's Day, and of being in sympathy with every effort to maintain the day in its integrity. The presbytery expresses its regret that Rev. Mr. Kerr and his party of Scotch curlers saw fit to give their sanction to the views and practices of those who seek to impair the sanctity and hallowed influence of that Divine institution."

VERDICT IS MURDER

Coroner's Jury Says Romaine Shot Louis Goldsmith.

WIDOW IS CHIEF WITNESS.

Details of the Victoria Street Affray Told Under Oath in Toronto on Tuesday—Mrs. Goldsmith Related Very Consecutive Story of the Altercation —Medical and Other Testimony Given.

Toronto, Feb. 11.—"We find that Louis Goldsmith came to his death from bullet wounds inflicted by Isaac Walter Romaine, and that the said Romaine did unlawfully kill and murder said Goldsmith."

Such is the substance of the verdict returned last night by the coroner's jury at the inquest on the body of Louis Goldsmith, who died on Monday afternoon from bullet wounds received on Friday night at his home on Victoria street.

Coroner Johnston conducted the inquiry in the Police Court.

Dr. J. B. Chisholm, house surgeon at the Emergency Hospital, was the first witness. Mr. Robinette tried to get him to admit that Goldsmith, when he made his ante-mortem statement, was not in the fear of death, but the witness would not do so.

Dr. Bingham, who held a post-mortem on the remains, testified as to the nature of the wounds. The evident direction of the bullets was down, back, and to the left.

Mr. Robinette: Fired from close quarters?

Witness: No.

Dr. R. Kyles said that, on Saturday, Goldsmith expressed a wish to die.

Dr. D. A. Powell said that, from the powder marks around the wound on the hand, the revolver must have been not less than three nor more than ten inches distant.

Mrs. Goldsmith gave her evidence clearly. After returning home with her husband and Romaine at 11 o'clock, Mrs. Jackson called, and was admitted by Romaine. Then Romaine and her husband went into the other room, and had whispered conversation. She heard Goldsmith say, "I wish you'd let me alone; I have enough to worry me now." Romaine said something, and Goldsmith called him a —— liar. Then there was a noise of scuffling. She ran in, and saw the pair wrestling on a cot, Goldsmith on top, and holding the scissors in his hand, resting on the cot, the point away from Romaine. She took the shears from him. Then she tried to get between the two men to separate them. She saw Romaine reach for his hip pocket, and heard him say, "If you don't let go, I'll pull the trigger." Goldsmith jumped up, and was standing ten feet away, when Romaine fired. She was between the two then. She screamed, and asked her husband if he was hurt, and he said no, and ran back into their bed-room, breaking the lamp, supposedly, that he might hide in the darkness. He had also evidently tried to hide behind the bed. Romaine followed him up. She called to him: "Oh, Mr. Romaine, let me talk to you!" He replied, "I won't stand any talk; I'll shoot you to get at your husband." Then someone tapped at the window, and Romaine ran and locked the door. She unlocked it, while she heard two men grappling together in the darkness. Then she heard two shots, and ran, screaming for help, out into the street.

Continuing, Mrs. Goldsmith said Romaine had been drinking that night. Romaine carried his revolver, or, if not, kept it in his trunk, and never under his pillow. One night he was cleaning it, and she saw at that time he had four bullets. He said he carried a revolver because he was afraid of a man on Victoria street, who carried a razor. Romaine had been running after this man's wife, she thought. After the shooting, Goldsmith ran into the street, knocking her down. Both men were pretty angry, when fighting. Romaine used the expression, "I have bullets enough here to kill the bunch," before he began firing. When the first shot was fired, her husband would be probably ten feet away.

Mrs John Jackson corroborated Mrs. Goldsmith's evidence up to the firing of the first shot, when she ran out of the house and over to Yonge street. Romaine had said, "Give your wife the shears, and I'll call it square. Louie, let me up, or I'll pull the trigger," and "I have bullets enough to kill the bunch."

John Jackson, her husband, arrived in time to see the two men wrestling near the doorway. Goldsmith was on top of Romaine, who was leaning over a low partition. He parted the two men, and Goldsmith then had the revolver, and snapped it two or three times after Romaine.

Charles Carey saw Goldsmith jerk something out of Romaine's hands in the struggle that looked like the revolver.

P. C. Nelson, who arrested Romaine, said that, when he took the prisoner back to the house, Goldsmith had said, "That man shot me." Romaine had said, "Why wouldn't I shoot him, when he had the shears at me?"

Sergt. Watson of No. 2 Division and Charles Lindsay gave evidence as to the revolver exhibited.

The jury were out about half an hour.

Romaine will appear in this morning's Police Court.

COATS HALF PRICE

Perhaps it was a bold stroke of business that lead us to buy very nearly three times the Mantles that we ever did in any previous season. We knew them to be excellent value, they have proved themselves to be such. We haven't one for every ten we did have. Now it's time we should have none. We're going to have none. Prices have been so cut that we feel confident, even at this season, that there are more than enough people who will be glad to exchange their few dollars for the warmth of coat, the appearance of Coat and the serviceableness that these Coats contain. Excuse us, but least the men happen to read this ad, we want to say these are Women's Coats. (Send the "better half" along.)

SENSELESS CRUELTY

Bullying the Young Officers in Guard's Regiment.

FLOGGED FOR PETTY FAULTS

Astounding Revelations Made by Rear-Admiral Basil Cochrane Concerning Practices in the Grenadier Guards—Barbarous System of Punishment of Young Subalterns — The Subject in Parliament.

London, Feb. 11. — Rear Admiral Basil Cochrane, retired, in a letter published by The London Times yesterday makes astounding revelations regarding the "barbarous system" prevailing among the Guards Regiment for the punishment of subalterns who are found guilty of social or military offences. According to Admiral Cochrane the colonel of one battalion has been in the habit of handing over offending officers to the senior subalterns. The latter summons a court-martial at which the attendance of all the subalterns is exacted, and the sentence is almost invariably flogging. This is administered on the bare back, after the removal of all the clothing, and from six to forty blows with a cane are given with such severity that the lower number is sufficient to draw blood. All the officers present, even the most intimate friends of the victim, are compelled to administer their share of the blows.

The admiral cites the instance of a young officer who fainted after receiving forty strokes, and refers also to the case of his own nephew, who is not named, but who clearly is Captain Loveson-Gower. For an unintentional military fault he was tried and flogged. Subsequently, according to Admiral Cochrane, his nephew was punished with great severity by Major-General Oliphant (formerly commander of the Grenadier Guards), for a petty fault, and, who, in consequence of continued ill-treatment, resigned his commission last week. When Lord Roberts, the commander-in-chief was informed of these occurrences through relatives he severely reprimanded Col. Ricardo, commander of the Grenadier Guards, and placed Lieut.-Col. Kinloch of the same regiment on half pay.

The whole subject, which has caused a very great sensation, will be fully aired in Parliament.

THE BRITISH PROTOCOL.

Mr. Bowen For Venezuela Has Formally Accepted the Document—German and Italian Conventions Being Revised.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Great Britain's protocol has been formally accepted by Mr. Bowen for Venezuela. The German and Italian conventions are still undergoing revision, but assurances are given in authoritative quarters that they eventually will be made to conform in all essential respects to that of the British Ambassador.

Owing to the illness of the British Ambassador, Mr. Bowen called at the Embassy yesterday, and personally signified his approval of the agreement to the Ambassador. He then presented his formal note of acceptance, and it has been cabled to the London Foreign Office.

It appears that the insertion in the German protocol of the provision for advance payment of the original $340,000 demanded of President Castro in the German ultimatum, was the result of a misunderstanding on the part of the German Foreign Office of certain steps in the negotiations here. Through the activity of the German minister, this point is being cleared up.

SOCIALIST V. ANARCHISTS.

Latter Are Trying to Stir Up a General Strike in Spain.

Barcelona, Feb. 11.—In spite of the opposition of the Socialists, Anarchists continue their efforts to provoke a general strike. The authorities, however, have taken all the precautions necessary to the maintenance of public order.

Deputations of Anarchists have waited upon the proprietors of newspapers and asked them to suspend publication. All such demands have been refused. The mill hands and a majority of the Socialists are opposed to a strike at the present time.

Forged Morgan's Signature.

London, Feb. 11.—According to The Daily Chronicle, two bills for over $55,000 each, purporting to have been given by J. Pierpont Morgan in payment for purchases of pictures and bric-a-brac, which were sent to New York for collection, have just been returned with an intimation that the signatures were forged.

TWO APPOINTMENTS.

Thomas Hodgins, K.C., Judge of Admiralty and Peter Ball, Commercial Agent at Birmingham.

Peter Ball of Toronto has been appointed Commercial Agent for Canada in Birmingham.

Thomas Hodgins, K.C., was appointed Master-in-Ordinary of the Supreme Court of Ontario in 1883 and judicial referee under the drainage laws in 1896. He is the author of some legal works, has collected reports of Canadian election cases, is the author of several brochures on international affairs, particularly the Alaskan boundary dispute, and British diplomacy in dealing with Canadian-United States boundary at other points. He is a graduate of the University of Toronto, and for many years sat in the Senate of that institution.

The Admiralty division of the Exchequer Court of Canada was organized in 1891, the position of judge having been occupied by the late Judge McDougall since its establishment.

Peter Ball, the newly-appointed Commercial Agent at Birmingham, is very well known in business circles in this province, having been a commercial traveler for a number of years. He is at present representative for the Western Union Commercial Code

"I suffered for over five years with ovarian troubles, causing an unpleasant discharge, a great weakness, and at times a faintness would come over me which no amount of medicine, diet, or exercise seemed to correct. Your Vegetable Compound found the weak spot, however, within a few weeks—and saved me from an operation—all my troubles had disappeared, and I found myself once more healthy and well. THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

An Interesting Article by Mr. R. B. Rogers.

He Describes the Lift Lock and Other Important Portions of the Route.

(By R. B. Rogers, C. E.,)

The term "Trent Canal" is applied to a projected waterway for barges through central Ontario, to connect Georgian Bay, on Lake Huron, with Lake Ontario, at Trenton, the head of the Bay of Quinte. The distance between these two lakes by the proposed route is about 200 miles. Where canalling is necessary the prism has a width of 50 feet on the bottom, with side slopes of 2 to 1 in earth, and 1-4 to 1 in rock.

The locks are 134 feet in length by 33 feet in width. The depth of water at present over the sills is six feet, but all the works are being constructed so that a draught of 8 feet can be obtained at very little extra expense. The capacity of barges drawing 8 feet will be about 800 tons. The water supply is obtained from an immense system of lakes to the north, most of which have regulating dams at their outlets. It is a misnomer to call it a canal as out of the whole distance of 200 miles not more than 15 or 20 miles will be actual canal—in the remaining part the beautiful lake and in opening up this route—in fact the Imperial Government actually voted a sufficient sum to complete the route as far as Balsam Lake, but immediately after they had done so the McKenzie rebellion broke out, and the money thus voted was appropriated to quell the rebellion.

Every advantage was taken of the natural features of the river, and the land lying along the route, in order to reach a navigable channel, either by canalizing the river or making flooded reaches. The river with its high rocky banks, from its entrance into the Bay of Quinte at Trenton as far as Frankford it was proposed to canalize by a system of dams and locks, of which there will be seven, by which a beautiful, wide and deep navigable channel will be obtained. The route then passes through the river for about four miles to Chisholms Rapids locks. This lock is of masonry, and was built about seventy years ago, but is still in good condition. The route still passes through the river to a point known as Hoard's Creek. From Frankford to Hoard's is at present navigable. From this point it is proposed to strike across the country for a distance of ten miles to Crow Bay. A greater part of this section will be flooded reaches. From the entrance into Crow Bay the route crosses Crow Bay to the river below Healey's Falls. It is proposed to canalize part of this river as far as the Falls, and to surmount the Falls with an hydraulic lift for a height of 53 feet. This brings us into a navigable stretch of about 54 miles, at the north end of which is the town of Peterborough. This stretch included fourteen miles of river navigation as far as Hastings, where there is a masonry lock and dam built by the Imperial Government. The route still follows the river for about six miles, and then about twelve miles through the beautiful Rice Lake, and then about twenty-two miles of as fine river navigation as can be found in any part of Canada, to the town of Peterborough, where there is another masonry lock which was built by the Imperial Government. From this point the route stretches across the country to Nassau, on the Otonabee River, a distance of about four miles. The difference in level between the two points is 78 feet, which is overcome by means of an hydraulic lock, of 65 feet, and an ordinary lock of 13 feet. About two-thirds of this section is a dredged prism from Nassau to Lakefield, a distance of about 5 1-2 miles, the river is canalized by means of two locks and dams. The section from Peterborough to Lakefield is all completed with the exception of the steel superstructure of the hydraulic lock, which is, however under construction, and it is expected will be completed about the middle of the coming summer.

From Lakefield the route passes through a succession of beautiful lakes to the entrance of the canal at Balsam Lake, a distance of about 65 miles. The lakes passed through are Katchewanooka, Clear, Stony, Lovesick, Deer, Buckhorn, Pigeon, Sturgeon, Cameron and Balsam. The the difference in level between Lakefield and Balsam Lake is 35 feet, which is overcome by nine locks, which are generally placed between the different lakes. From Balsam Lake the route strikes across the country for about five miles on a level stretch, when it drops 50 feet into the valley of the Talbot river by means of an hydraulic lock. From this point the route follows the valley of the Talbot river—which is raised some 21 feet—to about the boundary between the townships of Eldon and Thorah. At this point a succession of five locks are met with, which brings us to the level of Lake Simcoe, at a point about three miles north of Beaverton. The sections between Balsam Lake and Lake Simcoe are under contract and will be completed next year. The route then passes through Lake Simcoe and Lake Couchiching, which are of course navigable, and it will either pass across the country to Matchedash Bay on Georgian Bay, a distance of 13 miles, or follow the River Severn to its entrance into Georgian Bay.

TRAGIC SEA STORIES.

Wreck of the Madiana—West Ashore off Bermuda—Total Wreck, But All Saved.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Feb. 11.—The Quebec Steamship Company's steamer, Madiana, Capt. Fraser, which sailed from New York last Saturday with a party of excursionists for a special cruise around the Carribean Islands, went ashore on the reefs off this island at 3 o'clock yesterday morning.

The passengers, over 100 in number, had a thrilling experience. The ship is a total loss, but all on board were rescued and brought safely to land after a perilous trip in lifeboats from the wreck to a tug standing a mile off. The mails and the passenger baggage were also saved.

According to statements made by those on board, the Madiana was threading her way in the night through the narrow channel between the coral reefs which lead to Hamilton harbor, when she struck a reef one and a half miles northeast of North Rock.

No explicit explanation is yet forthcoming as to how the vessel went on the rocks, and the only information obtainable from the officers is that the light which indicates the channel for some reason could not be seen.

WATCHFUL SANK ARTHUR.

Crew of the Arthur of Cardiff Killed in Their Bunks.

London, Feb. 11.—The steamer Watchful of Liverpool yesterday sank the steamer Arthur of Cardiff in a collision off Barry. Most of the crew of the Arthur were asleep at the time, but eight were saved. Five others were lost. It is thought they were killed in their bunks.

Macpherson's Majority.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 11.—Voting took place in Atlin on Monday, but owing to wire trouble returns were not received until yesterday afternoon. They are as follows: Foley, 115, Macpherson, 76; McInnes, 1. This reduced Macpherson's majority, according to official returns, to 97, though several returns from northern coast points are yet to be received. It is thought his majority will be about 200, as compared with 600 odd obtained by Maxwell in the general election.

Consumption is Like a Plant.

No matter how much corn falls on a bare rock, it wont grow there. Neither will consumption germs grow in perfectly healthy lungs. But if the lungs become weak and inflamed they are good soil for consumption germs, and if these enter they may take root and grow.

There is no medicine that will directly weed them out. The thing to do is to make the lungs so healthy that the germs will have to stop growing because there is nothing for them to thrive on.

The lungs must be nourished with plenty of good blood, kept pure by breathing pure air. There must be more sleep; less work and worry. Perhaps some medicine. The doctor will know.

The most important thing is nourishment. When the body is weakened by consumption, the digestive powers cannot obtain from ordinary food enough of the elements needed to make good blood. The lack is best supplied by the use of Scott's Emulsion. It is extremely rich in the substances which make good blood, and it also helps the digestion to obtain nourishment from ordinary food.

Scott's Emulsion is a food-medicine; not a stimulant; not a mere "extract" or so-called "wine" of cod liver oil. It contains the whole oil perfectly emulsified, which is the only way of preserving its valuable properties. These are united with hypophosphites of lime and soda into a combination which rapidly builds healty tissue throughout the whole body, and particularly in the lungs.

Thousands Get Well

Without Risking a Penny

They write for my book—and I send it.
I supply them my help on trial.
They take it a month at my risk.

I'll do that for You

Simply send me this coupon, or write me a postal, stating the book you need.

Then I will mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. You may take it a month on trial. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I will pay the druggist myself. And your mere word shall decide it.

That is the offer which hundreds of thousands have accepted, and 39 out of 40 have paid for the medicine gladly, because they were cured.

There is scarcely a neighborhood in America without its men and women whom my Restorative made well.

On Jan. 11, 1903, I published in all the Chicago papers the names and addresses of one thousand people in that city alone, whom my Restorative had cured in just the past six months.

Do you believe that any other remedy ever cured one thousand chronic cases in one city in one-half year?

Won't you test the remedy which did that, when I promise to pay the whole cost if it fails?

This is How I do It:

I have spent a lifetime in learning how to strengthen inside nerves. I have learned how to bring back the only power that operates the vital organs.

I don't doctor the weak organ itself. I might as well doctor a weak engine to make it strong. I give the organ more power—more nerve power. I give it the strength to do its duty.

My Restorative does that always, and there is nothing more than medicine can do. Unless there is a cause like cancer, my Restorative will cure. And conditions that it can't cure are beyond the reach of medicine.

When you are cured you will keep my Restorative in the house for little troubles, and to prevent these serious troubles hereafter.

A FIENDISH CRIME.

Woman Shot and Cut Up Her Husband and Her Daughter Testified to Details of the Horrible Murder.

Monticello, N. Y., Feb. 11.—The hearing in the Taylor murder case was begun yesterday in the Court House. Mrs. Kate Taylor is charged with having murdered her husband, Lafayette Taylor, at their farm house near Centreville Station, Sullivan County, the night of Jan. 27.

A 14-year-old daughter, Ida May Delay, by Mrs. Taylor's first husband, was the only witness of the crime. She testified that her stepfather came home drunk, and that she retired while he and her mother were quarrelling. A short time after she heard a shot, and, running into the kitchen, saw Taylor lying on the floor, and saw her mother shoot him again. Mrs. Taylor then seized an ax and cut off his head and right arm, both of which she placed in the stove. The remainder of the body was cut in four pieces and put in a sack in the pantry, and during the two succeeding days parts of the body were burned, until it was all consumed. The clothing was placed in a washtub and later burned.

The daughter is attractive and intelligent looking, but Mrs. Taylor not so much so. During her daughter's recital of the story she showed no signs of nervousness. The hearing was adjourned until Wednesday.

HE CAN SLEEP AND WORK NOW.

What Dodd's Kidney Pills did for Emilien Clouatre.

Cured Him of Pain in the Back and Headache, and Made Him Well and Strong Again.

Val Racine, Quebec, February 7th. (Special.) — Among those in this neighbourhood, who openly proclaim the benefits they have received from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills is Emilien Clouatre. M. Clouatre was long a sufferer from that most trying of troubles, Pain in the Back, that adds to its inconvenience the disquieting knowledge that it is one of the surest symptoms of Kidney Disease.

Now M. Clouatre is well and strong, able to do a good day's work and enjoy a good night's sleep. Interviewed regarding the case, he says: "I am not able to do otherwise than praise Dodd's Kidney Pills, for I am cured. I work well. When I go to bed I get rest. Before I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills I got up feeling more fatigued than I did the night before. I had pain in the back, and headache, which bothered my rest. I took nine boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and am cured. I praise them to all who speak to me about them."

Others suffering from the pains and aches resulting from Kidney Complaint have followed Mr. Clouatre's advice and used Dodd's Kidney Pills. They, too, are compelled to admit the truth of the oft repeated statement, "There is no form of Kidney Complaint that Dodd's Kidney Pills cannot cure."

She leaves eighteen grandchildren, and sixteen of her great grandchildren are living in Toronto. Amongst her sons who survive is President Loudon of Toronto University.

PRIVATE INTERVIEW

Canadian Manufacturers Wait on the Government.

QUESTIONS OF THE TARIFF.

Asked Premier and Ministers Whether Any Tariff Changes Would Be Made at Coming Session, and If So, Their Nature — Manufacturers Will Have to Wait For Budget For Answer.

Ottawa, Feb. 11.—Messrs. Robert Munro, Montreal; Frederic Nicholls and R. J. Young, Toronto, representing the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, waited upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. W. S. Fielding and Hon. Wm. Paterson yesterday morning.

The interview was private at the wish of the delegation, who asked that the matter should be treated as confidential. It is said, however, that the manufacturers wished to ascertain whether any tariff changes would be made at the coming session of Parliament, and, if so, what character they would assume. The manufacturers would then be in a position to formulate demands for readjustment in accordance with their wishes.

Of course it was wholly out of the question for the Government to comply with the request, and the manufacturers will have to wait for the desired information until the budget is brought down.

The deputation discussed in a general way the necessity of protection, and to the statements a patient hearing was accorded. It is not known whether the manufacturers will now submit any applications for tariff changes to the Government.

The difficulty seems to be that the manufacturers as a whole cannot find a basis for common action. What is one manufacturer's finished product is another man's raw material, and when consideration of the tariff is entered upon in detail differences of opinion develop, which tend to prevent unity of purpose. Moreover, a number of the manufacturers are said to hold the view that the tariff as at present framed is well adapted to the needs of the country.

Brusque Mr. Nicholls.

Mr. Nicholls, when asked to state what representations the deputation would make to the Government, brusquely said: "Etiquette debars us from making any statement for publication. Get your information from the Premier. If he chooses to speak, he can do so. It is a private matter with us."

"But, surely the tariff is not a private matter?" queried the reporter.

"Can't say anything," repeated Mr. Nicholls. "It is a matter of etiquette."

Another member of the deputation, when spoken to, said: "The interview is a confidential one, but I may say we are not making any special demands. We have come down to discuss with the Government quietly and privately the question of protection. The matter is not ripe for publication yet, but when it is, we shall take the public into our confidence."

Fear of the Future.

Most people who dread the future are victims of some terrible disease. Mrs. W. Francis, 202 Colborne street, Kingston, was in a bad state from kidney disease. She had severe pains in her back and legs, was gradually losing flesh, and had a dread of the future. A friend recommended Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and the result was a complete cure. There is no medicine so reliable, none so certain to produce a thorough cure. One pill a dose. 25 cents a box.

DESPERATE MEASURES.

Strikers Will Continue the Fight With the Use of Firearms.

Cadiz, Spain, Feb. 11.—The strike, which began here recently as the result of general dissatisfaction with the existing conditions, is rapidly spreading. Rioters yesterday forced the proprietors of all the stores to close their establishments, and meetings were held, at which the speakers pledged themselves to continue the fight, even with the use of firearms, if necessary.

DEATH FOR ASSASSINS.

The Murderer of the Armenian Patriarch Will Die.

Constantinople, Feb. 11. — Agop Hatchikian, the drug clerk who, on January 19, shot the Armenian Patriarch, Ormanian, while the latter was celebrating Mass in the Kumkapu Cathedral on the occasion of the Armenian Christmas, has been sentenced to death after a trial behind closed doors.

A similar sentence was passed on his friend, Baghos Kaprelian, supposed to be the instigator of the assassination, who, however, has escaped from the country.

Two other men were sentenced to life imprisonment at penal servitude.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT.

Gennaro Rubino Sentenced For Trying to Shoot the King.

Brussels, Feb. 11.—Gennaro Rubino, the Italian Anarchist, who has been on trial here since Feb. 6, charged with attempting to assassinate King Leopold Nov. 15 by firing three shots at His Majesty, while the latter was returning from the Cathedral after attending a Te Deum in the memory of the late Queen Henrietta, was found guilty yesterday and was sentenced to imprisonment for life at penal servitude.

Kidnapped on Canadian Soil.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 11.—Unable to extradite Alex. W. Waters (alias W. Wilson), who is wanted at Manila on the charge of embezzling $8,000 belonging to the Coast Guard and Transportation Department, and who was arrested at Montreal some days ago, United States Special Agents D. R. Dwyer and C. E. Herron kidnapped him on board the Oriental Liner Athenian, which sailed from here last night.

Worked Rather Fine Game.

Ottawa, Feb. 11.—The authorities are on the track of an individual who is working a rather "slim" game upon the relatives of Canadian soldiers who died in South Africa. By the aid of a blue book, he locates the "next of kin," and, for a consideration of one-third of the policy, promises to secure payment from the insurance company with which the deceased insured his life.

Died at Age of 104.

Philadelphia, Feb. 11.—Lewis Butler, colored, aged 104 years, died at his home in this city yesterday of general debility. He was born in York, Pa. A brother living in York is 105 years of age, and a sister in this city is 102 years old.

How Losses Are Provided For.

London, Feb. 11.—The Bullionist says that it is apparently certain that the Grand Trunk Railway will apply to the Dominion Parliament for a subsidy and a guarantee on first mortgage bonds. The same journal says the pecuniary results to the shareholders on account of the late accidents on the road in Canada will not amount to £50,000. It points out that this loss is being provided for out of the earnings of the last half-year.

C.P.R. Earnings.

Montreal, Feb. 11.—The C. P. R. earnings for the traffic week ending February 7 were $705,000; same week last year, $551,000.

NIAGARA POWER.

Brantford Will Require Rate It and Ask Other Municipalities to Co-Operate With It.

Brantford, Feb. 11.—The question of the development of electrical power at Niagara and the transmission of it to Brantford at reasonable rates called for discussion at the meeting of the City Council on Monday evening and of the meeting of the Board of Trade last evening. The matter was brought to their attention by a letter from T. H. Preston, M.P.P.

The City Council passed a resolution that the letter should be referred to a special committee, consisting of Mayor Halloran, Ald. Turnbull, Whitham, Harley, Wade and Brewster, and that a meeting of representatives of the municipalities of Brantford, Galt, Berlin and other Western Ontario towns interested in the transmission of Niagara power be held at an early date, with a view to deciding on a course of action in order to protect the interests of said municipalities.

At the meeting of the Board of Trade a committee was appointed to represent the board on the special committee appointed by the City Council.

FOR HEARTSEASE.

Girl Who Labored Night and Day Dashed Out Her Brains.

New York, Feb. 11.—Continuous strain from overwork caused Annie Ginzig, a young tie and waist maker, to jump from the third floor of No. 338 Fifth street, where she lived with her parents, to the yard yesterday. She was instantly killed, her brains being dashed out.

According to Mrs. Ginzig, the girl, after working all day in a tie and waist establishment in Grand street, would bring work home and sew until late in the night. The family was supported by her and her brother, the father not doing any work.

In spite of the long hours and hard work of the girl she earned only from $8 to $10 a week.

READY FOR WAR.

Russia Appears to Fear Trouble in the Balkans.

London, Feb. 11.—It is announced in a despatch to a news agency from St. Petersburg that all the officers of the Russian army reserves have been notified, to hold themselves in readiness to rejoin their regiment in 24 hours, in the event of mobilization orders being issued. The measure, it is added, appears to be connected with fears of trouble in the Balkans.

RULERS OF THE WORLD.

Meat Eating Nations are the Leaders in Every Branch of Human Achievements.

The ruling nations of the world are meat eaters, and history records that they always have been.

Vegetarians and food cranks may explain this in any way they please, but the facts remain that the Americans, English, French, Russians and Germans, are meat eating nations, and they are also the most energetic and most progressive.

The principal food of the heroic Boer soldier known as Biltong, is a sort of dried beef, affording a great deal of nourishment in a highly concentrated form.

The weak races of people are the rice eating Chinese, Hindoos and Siamese, regarded since the dawn of history as non-productive, superstitious, and inferior physically and mentally to the meat eating nations who dominate them.

The structure of the teeth plainly indicate that human beings should subsist upon a variety of food, meats, fruits and grains, and it is unhygienic to confine one's diet to any one of those classes to the exclusion of another.

Meat is the most concentrated and most easily digested of foods, but our manner of living is often so unnatural that the digestive organs refuse to properly digest, meat, eggs and similar nutritious and wholesome food, but it is not because such food is unwholesome, but the real reason that the stomach lacks from disease or weakness some necessary digestive element; hence arising indigestion, and later on chronic dyspepsia.

Nervous people should eat plenty of meat; convalescents should make meat the principal food; hard working people have to do so, and brain workers and office men not so much meat, but at least once a day, and to insure its perfect digestion one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets should be taken after each meal, because they supply the peptones, diastase and fruit acids, lacking in every case of stomach trouble.

Nervous dyspepsia, catarrh of the stomach, gas and acidity are only different names for indigestion, the failure to digest wholesome food, and the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cures them all because by affording perfect digestion the stomach has a chance to rest and recover its natural tone and vigour.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the real, household medicine; it is as safe and pleasant for the stomach ache of the baby as it is for the imperfect digestion of its grand sire.

They are not a cathartic but a digestive, and no pill habit can ever follow their use: the only habit that Stuart's Tablets induce is the habit of good digestion and consequently good health.

Royalty Come to London.

London, Feb. 10.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra returned to London from Windsor yesterday. They drove in an open carriage to Buckingham Palace, where Their Majesties will remain for the state opening of Parliament, Feb. 17.

20 Years of Itching Piles.

Mr. Alex. McLaughlin, of Bowmanville, Ont., writes, that for twenty years he suffered terribly from itching piles and was told to use Dr. Chase's Ointment. He continued this treatment until entirely cured, and as he has never had any return of his old trouble he considers his cure permanent and remarkable on account of the length of time he suffered.

Great Awakening in Toronto.

For the past month the Crawford street Methodist church, Toronto, has been the scene of a glorious revival, conducted by Evangelist Kennedy, of town, and Mr. J. M. Whyte, the Gospel. From night to night crowds thronged to hear them, and great success crowned their efforts, more than one hundred and fifty persons being converted to Christ. Mr. Kennedy was in town on Saturday on his way to Deseronto, where he opens a four weeks' campaign. His friends here are always glad to hear of his success in his chosen field of labour.

Sousa's "El Capitan."

When "El Capitan" will be presented in Peterborough on Monday, Feb. 16th, the public will have the opportunity of witnessing one of the most gorgeously staged productions ever given on the local opera house stage. The scenery is one of the effective features of Sousa's tuneful opera, "El Capitan." In order that the whole grand scenic effect may be put on here, Mr. Bradburn has carpenters now at work stripping the stage completely of everything possible, and removing permanent fixtures on and about the stage, under the instructions of Mr. Grau, the scenic artist, who inspected the opera house yesterday. In this connection it may be stated that Mr. Bradburn intends to close down the opera house altogether after the 16th of March.

THE STAGE

Of the Local Opera House Being Enlarged.

Carpenters will commence to-morrow morning to make extensive alterations to the stage of the Bradburn Opera House in order to accommodate the Grau Opera Company in the presentation of their opera "El Capitan." Mr. Bradburn is determined that the successful production of El Capitan will not be hampered by the stage accommodation if he can in any way avoid it. The present stage fixtures will be torn away and much additional room afforded.

The Opera "El Capitan" for whose proper staging and presentation these changes are being made, has scored a great hit in Toronto. The Opera, the Globe says, is full of life and abounds in splendid singing and delightful chorus work by unusually comely girls. Their fancy marching in the third act and their final evolution round the intertwined British and American flags were greatly admired and applauded.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Another Meeting was Held This Morning.

Dr. Bingham Wants an Increase in Salary on Account of Extra Work.

A meeting of the Board of Health was held this morning in the Town Clerk's office. There were present Mr. Robert Neill, chairman, and Messrs. A. Parker, W. Eyres, Mayor Roger, Chief Reazel, Sanitary Inspector, and Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer, Dr. Burnham and Dr. McNulty.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

Dr. Bingham said that he had disinfected four houses yesterday, and produced the apparatus which he had used. In view of these extra duties Dr. Bingham presented an application in which he asked for an increase of salary of $100, as these extra duties took up all his time.

On motion of Mr. Parker, seconded by Mr. Eyres, it was resolved that Dr. Bingham's application would be considered.

The secretary, Mr. S. R. Armstrong, read a communication from Dr. Bryce of the Provincial Health Board, relating to the samples of water sent up to him for analization. He suggested that a map of the town be sent with each sample, and the place where the water was taken from marked on the map.

On motion it was resolved that this be done.

Chief Reazel related to the Board how, according to instructions, he had hired a horse and rig and a boy to drive, and had visited the homes where children were reported to be absent from school, but he said he had not seen half the number of the absentees from school.

Mr. R. Neill thought it would be a good thing to continue visiting for a few days, and then as the ground would be fairly covered, stringency could be decidedly lessened.

Mayor Roger said that he thought it would save both the Chief and the teachers a great deal of trouble by examining the absentees only once a week.

The chairman thought that it would not be sufficient to report the absentees only once a week — he suggested that they should report on Mondays and Fridays for the next three or four weeks.

Mr. R. Neill said that the Medical Health Officer should accompany the Chief of Police on his inspection tours.

Mr. Eyres thought that in the teacher's report that official ought to mention any person whom he thought had contagious disease.

On motion of Mayor Roger seconded by Dr. Burnham, it was resolved that on Friday the teachers of the different schools should report the absentees for that day.

Dr. Bingham said that in Dr. Bryce's analysation report of the well water of the Lake street school, he had condemned it, and as yet the well had not been closed.

On motion of Mayor Roger, seconded by Mr. Parker, it was resolved that the secretary be requested to communicate with the Separate School Board, and request them to close the well.

The Board then adjourned. The next meeting will take place on Monday next.

CONVENOR'S THANKS.

For the Hearty Co-operation of Ladies.

Mrs. William Hamilton, convenor of the Social Committee of the Y.M.C.A., wishes to express her hearty thanks to the members of the Ladies Auxiliary, and the ladies of the town, for their co-operation in sending in supplies, and for assistance in connection with the convention banquet held last week, which was voted by the delegates as being the best of its kind yet held. While many names might be mentioned, yet those of Mesdames F. Masoq, J. Jeffries and W. Madill deserve a special place.

One might add that the success of the whole affair reflects great credit on Mrs. Hamilton, upon whom a large share of the responsibility fell.

Evangelists Kerby and Turk in St. Paul's

Successful Meeting Last Night—Large Congregation—To-night's Meeting.

Messrs. Kerby and Turk, the evangelists are drawing large congregations. The union evangelical meeting at St. Paul's last night was very largely attended and the service throughout was very impressive.

The pastors of the different churches were again present to lend their help and encouragement to Revs. Turk and Kerby in their noble work.

After fifteen minutes of song service the meeting proper commenced. Rev. Mr. Turk read the Scripture lesson from Acts 17,—"Paul at Athens," and commented thereon. The Athenians were not the only people who had idols. We to-day, who worship business, pleasure, etc., are, just as truly as the Athenians, worshipping idols.

After a duet by the evangelists, Rev. J. P. Wilson, of George street church, chairman of the Evangelistic Committee, made the announcements, and impressed upon the people the need of liberality in their offerings owing to the great expense in connection with the meetings.

Last night's sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Kerby. His subject was "The Anointing at Bethany," and after vividly picturing the scene, he dwelt upon the following practical points in connection with the incident:—

1. Those who profess to love Jesus Christ are under obligation to profess that love. There are many church members who show forth no sign of their Christianity. The milkman, the washer-woman, the wife, the children, see in them nothing to distinguish them from the world. There needs to be a revival among our professing Christians.

2. The spirit that characterized the woman's act. It is the motive that gives moral quality to the act performed. The publican's prayer was more acceptable to God than that of the self-righteous Pharisee; the widow's mite, was more precious in God's sight than the abundance of those whose love was wanting and whose motives were not pure.

3. The timeliness of the act. If we love our friends the time to say so is when they are alive to appreciate it, and not after they are still and cold in death. A ton of coal in life is worth more than a basket of most precious flowers after death. Pastors and teachers and others need sympathy. If you love, say so.

4. The extraordinary character of the act. So we ought to do extraordinary things for Christ. Some people say that Presbyterians do not believe in revivals, but some of the most extraordinary revivals in history have been in Scotland, and in the Presbyterian church, when hundreds have been swept into the Kingdom.

5. The spontaneous and impulsive character of the act. There must be room in the church for spontaneity. The men in the church and state who have been great leaders have been men of impulse — John Knox, Martin Luther, Paul, etc.

In conclusion the speaker asked his hearers plainly if they had done what they could, first, in studying God's word; second, in using their talent; third, in using their influence.

After the singing by the evangelists of another beautiful selection, "He is not willing that any should perish," a most impressive service was brought to a close.

The meetings during the week are being held in St. Paul's Presbyterian church and commence at 7.45 o'clock each evening. Hymn books may be purchased from the ushers at the doors.

Noonday meetings are being held at the different factories this week. Yesterday the evangelists were at the General Electric Works, and to-day at the Wm. Hamilton works.

On Thursday a mass meeting for boys will be held in the Y.M.C.A. at 4 p.m.

YOUNG LADY HONOURED.

Miss Lizzie O'Brien Handsomely Remembered by Alexandria High School.

Miss Lizzie O'Brien, sister of Mr. M. O'Brien, Inspector of Separate Schools, is now in town. She was a member of the Staff of the High School at Alexandria, Glengarry County, but was compelled to resign owing to ill-health. Peterborough citizens who know Miss O'Brien will not be surprised that she was parted with, with the greatest reluctance not only by the High School Board, which holds her position for her till after the mid-summer holidays, but also by the pupils and staff of the school and the citizens generally.

On Friday night of last week, according to the "Glengarrian," a farewell reception was tendered to Miss O'Brien. She was presented with a most appreciative address and her popularity was further attested by the presentation to her of a beautiful walnut dressing case, an elegant rose jar and a 12-volume edition of Shakspere, splendidly bound, and other valuable books and tokens. Miss O'Brien is, as well as her numerous friends in Peterborough has just reason to be, proud of the hearty recognition accorded to her high qualities as a teacher as well as to her personal qualities which command so much respect.

OYSTER SUPPER

And Entertainment at All Saints' Sunday School Last Night

A very successful entertainment and oyster supper was held last night in All Saint's Sunday School, the Rev. Mr. Armitage, Rector of All Saint's, in the chair. The entertainment was arranged under the auspices of the ladies of the congregation.

Miss Ida Malholland gave a piano selection, "The Gipsey's Revel," which was delicately executed.

Mr. Joe Halpany, who is well known to Peterborough audiences, rendered a humourous song, which was heartily encored, in answer to which he sang "Sunday Afternoon." His songs and humourous sketches were pleasing features of the programme.

Miss McCrea, eloquently recited a few small pieces, while Miss White received enthusiastic applause to a vocal solo.

Mr. Walter Hooper recited "Mother's Foot," and a few like pieces.

Little Miss Haskill, Miss Mary Rush and Miss Geraldine Hooper contributed to the evening's enjoyment to a considerable degree.

Accompaniments were furnished during the evening by Mrs. Glanville, Mrs. Halpany and Miss Lily Rush.

The oyster supper was no less of a success, and was well served; graphophone selections adding greatly to its appreciation. The whole evening was one of success, and the Girls' Guild is to be congratulated on the success of their entertainment.

ENTERPRISING ORILLIA.

The Board of Trade has Issued a Neat Little Card.

The Secretary of the Orillia Board of Trade has issued a neat little card which is being sent out to the business men of the Province, setting out the advantages the town offers to manufacturers. It says:—

The municipality owns and operates the waterworks, lighting, and power plants, by means of electricity developed at a water power on the Severn River.

The rates for water, power and light are very low, that for power being only $16 a horse power per annum, for a twenty-four hour service, which is believed to be the lowest schedule rate on the American continent.

Has an active Board of Trade, whose Secretary will gladly answer all enquiries.

Peterborough Curlers Defeated in Bobcaygeon.

Local Curling News—T. A. S. to Play in Lindsay To-night—"Special" Leaves at 7 p. m.

CURLING.

The curling teams returned from Bobcaygeon in very dejected spirits, after consecutive defeats from Lindsay and Bobcaygeon rinks, played at the latter place. At first it looked as if the Peterborough enthusiasts were to be severely defeated. In one game that between C. N. Brown and W. McIntyre, the score at one stage of the game was 12 to 1 in favour of Bobcaygeon. The Peterborough team then scored 17 before their opponents succeeded in scoring further, but it is regrettable to say that the game finished a tie.

The following were the skips of the rinks:

Peterborough.	Bobcaygeon.
C. N. Brown, sk.19	W. McIntyre, sk.19
W. G. Ferguson, sk...16	A. Davis, sk.23
W. G. Morrow, sk.16	W. J. Read, sk.14
Peterborough.	Lindsay.
C. N. Brown, sk.11	Widdis, sk.14
W. G. Ferguson, sk.10	Needler, sk...9
W. G. Morrow, sk.9	W. F. Gage, sk.12

The visiting teams were banqueted and taken for a sleigh drive to see Mr. Boyd's herd of buffaloes.

While the Peterboroughs were enjoying themselves at the festive board in Bobcaygeon, the following games were being played in the Charlotte street rink:

H. Morphet,	F. Stinson,
W. Smith,	J. Gibson,
G. Kerr,	R. Kerr,
G. E. Whiten, sk...16	J. Jeffries, sk.15
G. A. Cox,	J. McIntyre,

Secretary James A. Macfadden of the Ontario Curling Association announced yesterday that the final games for the Ontario Tankard and the Governor-General's Prize, which were to be held to-morrow, had been indefinitely postponed because of soft ice.

The protests in groups Nos. 4 and 5 were settled yesterday by the committee. Both were dismissed. Orillia wanted another chance because they had to play Barrie after that club had defaulted. The umpire reported that he had not been informed of Barrie's default. The committee ruled that Peterborough Granites and Thistles put themselves out of the competition in their group by not obeying the call of the umpire. This leaves the group winners and runners-up as follows:

	Winner.	Runner-up.
Group 1	Parkdale	Caledonian
Group 2	Dundas	Hamilton Asylum
Group 3	Paris	Galt Granite
Group 4	Collingwood	Orillia
Group 5	Lindsay	Oshawa
Group 6	Thamesville	Sarnia
Group 7	Southampton	Stratford
Group 8	Brampton	Fergus.

HOCKEY.

The T.A.S. will play Lakefield to-night in Lindsay. This bids fair to be a most exciting match, as both teams are fairly equally matched, and, needless to say, are in the pink of condition.

Word was received from Lindsay this morning, intimating that the ice there was in good condition and quite able to withstand the heavy weights made by the fifteen pairs of curlers.

Mr. Ernie Wasson, who has made for himself a great reputation as a just and strict referee, will officiate as such. In view of the expectancy of a large number of spectators, a special train will leave the Grand Trunk station at 7 o'clock sharp, which will leave plenty of time for hockey enthusiasts to be in time for the game, which starts at 8.30 o'clock.

* * * *

Owing to the probability of being away two or more days, for the Markham Tournament, it is just probable that the Peterborough team may not be able to take in this event. In this case home and home games will be arranged with Port Hope for a valuable trophy put up by the two clubs. The people of the respective towns, we think, would like this arrangement, as it would give them an opportunity to see just as fast and as important hockey as in the league.

RUGBY.

Rugby football had a narrow escape from extermination in Missouri. A member of the House of Representatives introduced a bill to put the game in the same class as horse-stealing. The measure was defeated but by a fearfully narrow majority. The reversal of six votes would have carried it through. It was lost, 70 to 60. The football people are smiling, but weakly. What will the next try mean?

HALF A GENTURY AGO.

The Beginning of the Cobourg and Peterborough Railway.

The Keen Interest the Project Excited Fifty Years Ago.

The Globe re-publishes from its columns of 1853, February 5th, the following from the "Cobourg Examiner":

Feb. 5th, 1853.

COBOURG AND PETERBOROUGH RY.

The ground will be broken on Monday next. It is proposed to celebrate the commencement of so important a work, after the usual fashion, by making a grand ceremony and parade. We might expect that our town would show on the occasion a degree of joy and excitement unbounded and uncontrollable, but we believe that the firm determination of our townsmen to carry out this great work at any risk, and at any cost, knowing, as they do, the immensity of the project compared with their means, will rather control their spirits within the bonds of moderation. We may may say that our whole dependence is upon Zimmerman & Co., the contractors, and from their well known ability we have the utmost confidence that their contract will be performed in due time.—Cobourg Examiner.

The 14th Regiment of Kingston Having Trouble

In Raising an Eight Company Regiment—Will Peterborough Succeed?

(Kingston Whig.)

Some officers of the 14th Regiment are not overly pleased with the recent order of the militia, placing the regiment on an eight company basis. They argue that it was difficult enough filling ranks of six companies, and they cannot see where the men are to come from to make up the other two companies. Another difficult matter to overcome is to keep up the supply of officers, of which there is a constant shortage; two more have left the city within the last few days, and so far there are not any applicants forthcoming to replace them.

Speaking of filling up the ranks of eight companies, one officer considers it next to impossible. He points out that besides the 14th Regiment, Kingston supplies men for the 47th Regiment, the 4th Hussars, the 5th Field Battery, the Army Medical Corps and the Army Service Corps. There is an active demand for eligible men, but the supply is limited. As regards officers, he thinks these will not be so difficult to obtain, because dress reform is cutting down the cost of equipment and placing commissions within the reach of those of moderate means, who can spare the time to qualify. At present there are a number of vacancies in the commissioned ranks of the regiment and applications from desirable persons will be gladly entertained.

The position the 14th Regiment of Kingston finds itself in may interest the officers and men of the local regiment. If Kingston, a city larger by several thousand, than Peterborough, cannot raise an eight company Regiment, how can the local officers succeed in this regard? The result of the experiment in Peterborough will be awaited with interest.

Intestinal Indigestion

Cannot be reached by stomach medicines or digestants because the

LIVER AND KIDNEYS ARE DERANGED

and the bowels are constipated. MR. BERNHARDT'S case is a good example of what thousands are suffering.

By far the most important part of digestion takes place in the intestines, as has been repeatedly shown in cases where the stomach has been removed and the patient has lived and digested food without the aid of the stomach.

MR. BERNHARDT

It frequently happens that people who continually dose the stomach for indigestion and use pepsin and various kinds of digestive tablets and powders can obtain no relief from such treatment, because the real trouble is in the intestines, the liver and the kidneys.

There is fullness and pains after meals, coated tongue, headache, loss of appetite, pains in the limbs and in the back and shoulders, flatulency and constipation, frequently alternating with diarrhoea.

There has yet to be a remedy discovered that is so prompt and thorough in curing intestinal indigestion as DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS, and as this is the most common and severe form of indigestion it can well be claimed that DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS are the most successful treatment extant for indigestion and dyspepsia.

Mr. Hubert Bernhardt, George Street, Galt, Ont., states:—"I was troubled for years with kidney and liver derangements and stomach disorders, and suffered a great deal from pains in the back. My digestion was very poor, gas would form on my stomach, and I would often feel great distress after meals. Ordinary medicines did not seem to suit my case at all, but I found that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were both prompt and thorough in their action. They have entirely cured me of my old troubles, my digestion is excellent and I do not know what it is to have a pain in my back now. I can heartily recommend these pills as a splendid medicine for kidney and liver troubles and indigestion."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

It is not unusual for persons who have long been suffering from chronic indigestion, biliousness and constipation to be thoroughly cured by DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS, which have by far the largest sale of any similar remedy. You may be skeptical, as others have been before you, but a single trial of DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS will convince you of their unusual medicinal value. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box. At all dealers, or EDMANSON, BATES & CO., Toronto.

AERONAUT GLAISHER.

Famous Veteran Balloonist Has Passed Away in London—Some of His Best Work Recalled.

London, Feb. 10.—James Glaisher, the meteorologist and aeronaut, is dead.

Mr. Glaisher was one of the oldest aeronauts, as more than forty years ago his daring exploits in the air gave him a public character. He had had few equals in intrepidity or zeal for utilizing the balloon for scientific observations.

In 1862 he achieved great fame by a series of ascents. He and Mr. Coxwell endeavored to ascertain how high it was possible to rise in a balloon, which had a capacity of 93,000 cubic feet of gas. They wished to register the decrease of temperature and the distribution of moisture throughout the atmosphere. On the first occasion they attained a height of 26,177 feet, or nearly five miles, at which the temperature was 16 degrees.

On Sept. 5, in an ascent at Wolverhampton, the air voyagers were nearly frozen to death, the temperature at five miles being 2 degrees Fahrenheit. Mr. Glaisher became unconscious after registering observations up to a height of 36,000 feet. Mr. Coxwell, who was also his partner in this ascent, contrived to pull the valve string with his teeth and to cause the balloon to descend, the adventurers gradually regaining full consciousness as they neared the earth.

was called to the Bar, and for three years practiced law at Kentville, N. In December of the same year he was called to the Bar of Ontario. He was created a Queen's Counsel in 1893.

Care of Fine China.

It is one thing to have valuable china and glass and quite another matter to keep it. The choice old china which has descended from a past generation will never be duplicated in the next. Mothers of other days had more time. They did not live in an electric age, but stayed at home and cared for their eggshell china themselves. Much can be done by proper care, however, even in this thoughtless age. Some persons have the tape in their butler's pantry padded, that their china may escape being chipped.

With glass the extremes of heat and cold are to be avoided. A dish will break of itself if taken from a cold closet into a heated dining room. Cut glass always should be washed in tepid water, with the best soap, and a stiff brush will be found useful. Shot never should be used to clean decanters or carafes, as it is sure to scratch the glass. Potato peelings if put in the bottles will cleanse them thoroughly if they are washed with tepid water the morning after the peelings have been put in. Some of the finest china collections are owned and collected by men.

500 NEW SPECIMENS.

Handsome Gift Made to the Chemical Department of the University of Toronto—A Fine Set of Pure Chemicals.

Through the kindness of friends interested in the chemical manufactures of Great Britain, Prof. Lang of Toronto University has been able to secure a very fine set of specimens of pure chemicals, which are now housed in the chemical laboratory and in daily use for lecture illustration. The specimens include samples of pure salts and metals, of the raw materials used in the most important chemical industries and of the products obtained from them. Messrs. Tyrer & Co., London, give a very fine collection of compounds of mercury, tin, bismuth, phosphorous, copper, zinc and aluminium, along with specimens of the pure metals themselves. Large crystals of the alums and of the native bauxites from which they are made are supplied by the Manchester Alum Works, now the only makers of alum in Great Britain, while Sir James King, Bart., of Campsie, gives two large crystals of yellow and red prussiate of potash, each standing about a foot high. From Mr. George Beilby of the Oakbank Oil Company come specimens of the bituminous shales used first by the late Dr. James Young for the production of naphtha, lighting and lubricating mineral oils and solid paraffin waxes. This collection is particularly interesting as, beginning with the shales themselves, there are to be seen the crude and refined oils of gradually increasing density, the vaselines and waxes, and finally the resulting spent shale. Dr. Ludwig Mond, F.R.S., to whose munificence the capital of the Empire is indebted for the Cavendish Laboratory, sends specimens of soda crystals and other alkali products from the famous Brunner-Mond Works, and the United Alkali Company adds to this collection by the gift of their own alkali and bleaching products with specimens of "black-ash," "Weldon's Mud" and of the materials used at the various stages in the production of soda and of bleaching powder.

"Wickets" of Lead.

The Glasgow Lead and Color Works provide a series of mineral pigments and several "wickets" of lead before and after their conversion into white lead. To Lord Overtoun the laboratory is indebted for a complete series of compounds of chromium, including a magnificent rose or crystal of bichromate of potash, in height about a foot and proportionately broad. This crystal was specially grown for Prof. Lang, and has taken about a year to reach its present size. Messrs. John Broadfoot & Sons send a selection of brass and gun-metal alloys, showing fractures, with the breaking strains and analyses attached. Natural dyewoods and extracts are provided by the British Dyewood and Chemical Company, and an exhaustive collection of coal-tar colors, manufactured at the Elberfeld Works, are, through the kindness of Mr. M. J. Taylor of Toronto, the gift of the Dominion Dyewood and Chemical Company.

Messrs. Allan of the Allan Line very kindly transported these numerous consignments free of charge from England, and their carriage to Toronto was undertaken by the Grand Trunk Railway without further cost. In all, the specimens number well over five hundred and form in themselves a chemical museum of great educational value.

Nothing For Depositors.

JUST A COLD SETTLED IN THE KIDNEYS,

IT WAS CURED BY

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Kind of This Wonderful Cure. It May Do You or Your Friends Some Good to Know About It.

Miss Agnes Cruikman, Upper Smithfield, N.S., writes:—About 18 months ago I caught cold. It settled in my kidneys, and finally turned into Dropsy. My face, limbs, and feet were very much bloated, and if I pressed my finger on them it would make a white impression that would last fully a minute before the flesh regained its natural color. I was advised to try DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, and before I had used half a box I could notice an improvement, and the one box completely cured me. I have never been troubled with it since, thanks to DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

UNE VILLE INFECTE.

ANCIENT AND PICTURESQUE FEZ—ALSO FANATICAL AND DIRTY.

Last Refuge of That True Islamism Which Revels in Bloodshed and Filth—Has, However, Many Natural Advantages and Contains Many Splendid Specimens of Ancient Arab Art.

The City of Fez, where the young Sultan Mulai Abdul Aziz (who will go down to posterity as the first of his race who attempted to reform his benighted country) is now shut up and besieged by rebels, is known to the Moors as Fas, meaning a "hoe." It is, says The Daily Graphic, one of the most ancient and picturesque of all Eastern cities, and also one of the dirtiest and most fanatical, well meriting the appellation given it by a recent French visitor, of "une ville infecte." With many advantages bestowed upon it by nature; set in groves of orange, lemon, pomegranate; traversed from end to end by hundreds of rills of running water, the very sound of which is almost a sacred thing to the Moors; containing splendid specimens of ancient Arab art, reminding the traveler constantly of the glories of the Alhambra; surrounded by massive battlemented mediaeval walls, originally of immense strength; within easy distance of Mediterranean and Atlantic—with all these extraordinary advantages it is one of the hotbeds of the world for filth and fanaticism, one of the last refuges of that true Islamism which revels in both.

Its most celebrated poet once sang of it:—

O Fas! every beauty is united in thee; with what blessings and wealth are not they inhabitants endowed! Is it thy freshness, which I inhale, or is it the health of my soul? Are thy waters of white honey or silver? Who could paint those streams of thine which unite under the earth and bear their waters to the market places and on the streets?

Alas! the "freshness" inhaled in Fez, whatever it may have been in the days of Abou-el-Fadhl ben el Nahouy, who thus extols it, is, nowadays, laden with fever; the honeyed waters bear along typhoid; the soil, saturated by the uncared-for watercourses, exhales pestilence. And thus a place which, in the hands of a civilized race, might be a paradise, is, in the hands of its bigoted and retrogade possessors, a sink, an Augean stable, to be cleaned only by the broom of some European power.

Idrees II. was the founder of Fez, in the 192nd year after the Hegira, which corresponds to the year 808 of the Christian era. The site was found for him by his Vizier, the abundance of water having decided in its favor. There were sixty springs on the site, and luxuriant vegetation. The Sultan himself, it is said, turned the first sod of the new city with a hoe (fas), saying: "Here do I plant my fas," and so the city came by its name. This was the Old Fez (Fas el Bali), and it was divided into two regions, the Andalus Bank of the river, and the Karueen Bank. The dwellers on the Andalus bank were those who had been turned out of Spain by one of the early caliphs; the Karueen folk were of Eastern origin, and they were generally fighting one with the other. In 1204 the walls were built, and in 1274 the new town, Fas Jadeed, was erected. Soon afterwards the mosques and palaces were built, and since that time there has been little or no change in the aspect of the town. Fez, is, therefore, practically a thirteenth century Oriental city, just as it was at the time of the last Crusades, and it gives to the stranger who sees it for the first time an indescribable impression of picturesque and warlike grandeur, with its battlemented walls and gates, and its three outlying forts, which, however, were only built in 1590. In many ways, says Mr. Meakin, who knows Morocco probably better than any other living European, Fez may be favorably compared with even such famous cities as Shiraz or Baghdad, and in spite of the glories of Constantinople and Cairo, Damascus and Jerusalem, he thinks none of them excels Fez in interest or artistic effect.

The mosque and tomb of the Founder are among the most sacred in all Africa; the very streets approaching it are so holy that Jews, Christians, and four-footed beasts are not allowed in them; within the bars which mark off the sacred ground may often be seen the refugees, who find there an inviolable sanctuary. The actual tomb and its surroundings are the finest in Morocco; the walls are hung with gold-braided hangings, the ceiling is exquisitely carved and painted, and from it hang some astonishing chandeliers. The art of the Alhambra is here rivalled, and possibly even excelled. So great is the sanctity of the spot, however, that only two or three Europeans have ever been known to enter it. It would mean Islam or death for an infidel were he found in any mosque in Morocco, but here, at the tomb of Idrees, in Fez, probably the option of Islam would be withdrawn. Almost as famous is the mosque of the Karueen, founded in A.D. 859, and, like Idrees', containing many notable works of ancient art. It is the largest mosque in all Africa, and there have been nearly thirty thousand worshipers in it at the Friday prayers. From the tower of this mosque, for five hours preceding dawn, ten muezzins successively and incessantly chant for half an hour the praises of God. It now contains only a remnant of a once world-famed library.

Sketch of Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, C.E., C.M.G., Canada's General Manager of Railways an Englishman.

Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, C. E., C.M.G., Canada's chief engineer of railways, is a man of great ability, who was closely identified with the early construction of railways in Canada. Born in Colchester, Essex, England, on December 14, 1831, he came to Canada at the age of nineteen, and was engaged upon the engineering staff of the Hamilton & Toronto Railway until its completion in 1856. For the next four years he was in private practice in Toronto, after which he was employed in connection with the restoration of works upon the Northern Railway. From 1863 to 1867 he was in the service of the Nova Scotia Government, and in 1868 had charge of the surveys over part of the route of the Intercolonial Railway. The following year he was in charge of the Eastern Extension Railway as superintending engineer, and in 1873 was appointed to a similar position for the entire length of the Intercolonial Railway. In 1880 he was promoted to be Chief Engineer and General Manager of Government railways, and in 1892 was further promoted by being appointed Deputy Minister and Chief Engineer of Railways and Canals.

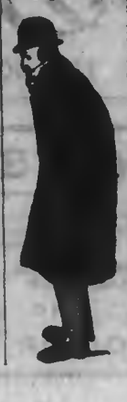
Sir A. L. Douglas, K.C.B.

Vice-Admiral Sir Archibald Lucius Douglas, K.C.B., a native of Quebec, is Commander-in-Chief of the North American and West Indian stations, a part of whose command is now in Venezuelan waters. Sir Archibald was born in 1842, and after completing his education at the Quebec High School, joined the Boscawen, the then flag-ship of the squadron of which he is now the head, at Venezuela, where he is likely to become much more prominent if the present difficulties increase. Sir Archibald became Lieutenant in 1861, Commander in 1872, Captain in 1880, and Vice-Admiral in 1901. He served with the Naval Brigade up the Congo and in Gambia in 1860; was Director of the Japanese Imperial Naval College from 1873 to 1875; Commander-in-Chief of the East Indies 1898-99; was Lord of the Admiralty from 1899 till 1902, and Vice-President of the Ordnance Committee, 1896-98. Sir Archibald was A.D.C. to Queen Victoria from 1893 till 1895.

It is courting danger to stand under icy eaves. Not a few have learned this to their cost. Every winter injury and even death are reported as the result of this carelessness. But there is a far more popular way of courting danger. Every man or woman who neglects a cough is inviting sickness, and many a fatal sickness has its beginning in a slight cough.

The timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure the cough. Even when the cough is obstinate and there is hemorrhage with emaciation and weakness, "Golden Medical Discovery" always helps and almost always cures.

"I was troubled with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs and left me with a miserable cough," writes Mr. Joseph D. Evans, of 318 Mineola Street, Rome, New York. "I used two bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' after which my cough disappeared entirely. I cannot recommend your medicine too highly."



Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood, and lungs. Substitution means a little more profit to the dealer but a loss to you.

BERT E. COLLYER'S TALE.

Strange Story of an Ancient and Vanished Race by Dawson City Editor.

Mr. Bert E. Collyer, of Dawson City, the editor and proprietor of The Yukon, was in Toronto during the first week of 1903's January, on a holiday trip, which will embrace Florida, the West Indies, and the Holy Land. He states that not only is the gold-producing area being constantly enlarged, but that coal of commercial utility is being mined. At present in Dawson steam heat generated by Yukon coal is being distributed in pipes by a company just as is gas in the City of Toronto. He also alleges that the remains of a prehistoric civilization have also been discovered in the Yukon. It must have been of a very high order, for coins have been unearthed at a depth of over two hundred feet, which indicate great skill and workmanship. These coins have been examined by numismatic experts, who have been utterly unable to decipher the hieroglyphics stamped on them. They have been able to decide, however, that the coins were struck in dies, as our coins of to-day are, and that whoever made them must have been highly skilled workmen, with tools that would indicate an advanced state of civilization. The coins are made of an alloy of gold and bronze. Besides this a coffer dam has been dug up from a great depth almost intact, so that it is evident that the present miners are not the pioneers of the district, but that its gold resources were known and worked in prehistoric ages.

Agreed to Disagree.

Dandy and Laddie, collie dogs, were brothers and much attached to each other. They were owned by brothers, too, farmers in New Hampshire. Laddie's master lived at the old homestead, says a contributor to the Unique Monthly, Dandy's master conducted the next farm, and the two men pastured their stock in common.

Each dog visited the other frequently, till one day while Laddie, Dandy's guest, was gnawing a bone, a pet kitten belonging to Dandy's family came too near, and Laddie snapped at her. In an instant Dandy flew at his throat, and they were only separated after a severe fight.

Neither dog ever crossed the boundary line between the two farms after that.

Laddie drove his flock of sheep daily down the lane till he reached the dividing wall, where Dandy solemnly took charge and drove them to pasture. At night Dandy brought back the sheep, and Laddie would be waiting for his share of the flock every time.

Never once did they take the slightest notice of each other or cross the line after the fight.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, Feb. 11.—Berlin bank rate reduced to 3 1-4 p.c. Reduction in bank of England rate expected to-morrow North American meeting to-day, dividend expected. Last hearing of Northern Securities Minnesota case Monday next. Nickle plate annual report will show nothing earned on common. Six roads first week Feb. average gross increase 14.09 p.c., 21 roads for Dec., net inc. 7.97 p.c. U.P. earnings past calendar year show 10 p.c. on common. England agrees to Venezuelan terms but Germany still pdurate some demand for U P., Atch. and Wabash preferred in loan crowd. Hocking Valley reorganization plan expected shortly. Banks lost to sub-treasury since Friday $443,000

DOW, JONES & CO.

London, 2 p.m.—Arms. heavy generally, below parity, home markets quiet. We look for some irregularity to-day on fact that gold may be shipped to Europe. There will be considerable evening up to-day by traders on account of holiday to-morrow. We do not believe any material weakness however can develop with the economic conditions generally so favourable and on any slump of a point or two we would rebuy any of good stocks. It is rumoured $1,500,0000 been engaged for support but we cannot confirm this. We may be mistaken but we do not believe any gold will be shipped this week.

New York, Feb. 11.—Earnings C. P. R. first week Feb 70,000 increase $140,0. Principal bull gossip on Gould stocks which has helped advance Texas, Wa. and Mop. last three days has been on information from inside that Goulds are pushing plans for greater Mop. system which provides for new holdings company for them, and not wait for Northern Pacific case decision. With market conditions favourable they expect to see these stocks sell much higher, especially Mop.

Demand for May wheat very light. Would not be surprised if we had a break.

Liverpool opening wheat and corn unchanged. Car lots wheat 19; corn 208; Oats 112; Liverpool 1.30 p.m., wheat unchanged corn 1-8 to 1-8 higher.

Chicago.—Wheat dull and no special features. Gifford did a little selling Frank Dunn best buyer; corn trade small. Corn strong and outside businessingressing. Some long stuff pressing on market at 46 by smaller commission house. Oats are dull but steady advancing corn market will help oats.

M. & M.

New York, Feb. 11.—Cotton: Liverpool cotton, close, irregular, 3 down from last night's.

Stocks: Steel market very steady with few stocks for sale. Baster Bros. buying Wabash. Talk of gold shipments started selling. The market taking offerings very well. Demand sterling 4.86 1-2. Paris exchange on London, 25 francs 16 centimes.

M. & M.

New York, Feb. 10.—The action of to-day's market plainly indicates strong bullish sentiment prevailing. The market during the morning hours being strong and bouyant with some profit-taking during the noon-day session. It was to be noticed that on the reaction the market relapsed into dullness showing conclusively that insiders have no intention of parting with their holdings around present levels. The bond market is beginning to broaden, heavy bond purchases generally construed as a forerunner of a bull campaign in the stocks market. The market is still a professional one with the public not as yet coming into the market in volume. Would suggest to our friends and customers to hold the better class of stocks and buy more on every slight reaction. Speculation in the industrial continues to indicate coming improvements. The copper situation is decidedly firm. Amal. copper our favourite showed pronounced strength. The close was steady at slightly lower prices.

Chicago—Wheat fluctuated within a narrow range to-day. The break of yesterday has apparently shaken out the weaker holders. The break of yesterday and to-day has put the market in a very strong position and the upward tendency will doubtless be resumedd shortly. Would favour July option in purchases. Corn held firm. Oats rather narrow market apparently awaiting further developments.

Closing prices—Wheat, May, 73 1-4 a 3-8; Corn, May, 45 3-4; Oats, May, 37 5-8; Pork, May, 16.80; Lard, May, 9.47 1-2.

AS TO CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

Defeated Attempt to Legislate Against It

In New Hampshire Court—What the Concord Daily Monitor Says.

The Examiner has been requested to publish the following:—

An attempt to legislate against Christian Science in New Hampshire has met with an ignominious defeat. This great victory was won by Mrs. Eddy's friends who are not Scientists. No legal counsel was engaged to manage the case. Not one of Mrs. Eddy's representatives visited the hall of legislation. Her friends outside of the church gladly enlisted in her behalf.

The following is from the Concord, N. H., Daily Monitor:

"An act in relation to the practice of Christian Science. Inexpedient to legislate.

"Mr. Abbott of Manchester said that a requested hearing on this bill had been denied by the committee on judiciary and he moved that the bill be recommitted.

"Mr. Nason, of Dover, said the committee felt justified in refusing to waste time over this bill, which he read. The committe does not feel that constitutional rights of belief should be denied to Christian Scientists or any one else.

"Mr. Abbott said the bill was intended to protect children and others. The hearing denied is simply a matter of courtesy, which the ridicule of the bill certainly is not.

"Mr. Buckley, of Lancaster, said it would do no good to recommit the bill. The time of the committee is fully taken up and should not be wasted. He said that personally he was opposed to Christian Science, but was also opposed to such an insult to a large body of good people as this bill contemplates. To recommit it will be to provoke a long and costly battle.

"Mr. Cavanaugh, of Manchester, thought no member should be denied the privilege and courtesy of a committee hearing.

"Mr. Abbott's motion prevailed and and the bill was recommitted on a viva voce vote.

"Mr. Ahern of Concord called for a division and took the floor.

"He said he was not a Christian Scientist and did not believe in that form of worship. But he was convinced that this bill had had sufficient consideration and that no good would come from recommitment.

"The division resulted: Yes, 76, no, 194, and the motion was lost.

"The resolution of the committee that it was inexpedient to legislate was adopted on a viva voce vote."

A NEWSPAPER'S VIEWS.

The Concord Patriot said:

"Some days ago Representative Abbott, of Manchester, introduced a bill in the New Hampshire Legislature, the purpose of which was to prohibit the healing of physical ailments by Christian Scientists. The bill imposed a penalty of $50 for the first offence; $100 for the second offence, and if the party further persevered in violating the law he was to be sent to jail.

"By the action of the House the bill was referred to the judiciary committee, and yesterday, by a vote of 11 to 1, the committee refused to report the measure.

"It is needless to say that the believers in Christian Science are very much pleased with the result. They are proud to know that the members of the Legislature declined to offer this insult and do this great injustice to the people of this State, who have an abiding faith in the tenets and doctrines of Christian Science.

"The Patriot feels free to say, that in its views, it represents the intelligence and integrity of Concord, when it commends the Legislature for refusing to even recognize so unjust and discriminating a bill.

"The founder of Christian Science, Rev. Mary Baker G. Eddy, makes her home in Concord; she has done and is doing much for Concord, in everything looking to the upbuilding of the city and its interests; she has been willing to contribute in every way that good citizenship can demand or expect.

"The people of Concord who believe with her, are not proselyting; they are not urging others to accept the things that they believe and practice; their mission clearly is to do what good they can for their fellowmen; they are all good citizens, peace-loving and law-abiding.

"If there is a healer among them, he is not advertising nor proclaiming his powers of combating sickness; he is not urging others to accept him as their physician; he goes when he is called, and only when he is called, and surely American men and American Women are endowed with sufficient appreciation and intelligence to be permitted to select such physical healers as their judgment or desires may advise or suggest.

"Like bills with similar intent, have been introduced in other legislative bodies, in other states at other times, but with the great majority of they the purpose was more or less concealed. This cannot be said of the measure proposed by Mr. Abbott; in this, there was neither concealment nor deception. The bill was directed against Christian Science, and the practice of Christian Science healing, and the judiciary committee, in the minds of an overwhelming majority of the good people of New Hampshire, did what was fair and right, when it refused to permit even the consideration of a bill so manifestly unjust.

"This paper is not advocating the cause nor proclaiming the virtues of Christian Science, any more than of any other religion. It bespeaks for all at the hands of our lawmakers, liberal and just treatment; the constitution of the United States, and the constitution of every State of the Union, recognizes the right of the individual to worship God after the dictates of his heart and conscience, and any effort on the part of religious bigots to interfere with their clearly defined right is palpably wrong; wrong in theory, wrong in law, and wrong in fact.

"If the believers in the Roman Catholic Church were being discriminated against, or a proposition looking to discrimination were proposed in the Legislature, we would say, 'Don't do it.' If such a bill were directed against Congregationalists, Methodists, Baptists, Unitarians, Adventists, Wesleyans, or Episcopalians we would say, 'Don't do it,' and when the members of the Legislature should refuse to recognise such arbitrary measures, we with thousands would say, as we now say, 'Thank you.'"

Hearts That are Diseased.

Will never be cured by the false, unnatural stimulation of liquor. First increase your vitality, build up the system, strengthen and purify the blood—then the heart will respond and grow strong.

Ferrozone is precisely what to take, it gives you an appetite and a digestion that will look after everything that is eaten. Ferrozone improves nutrition, makes rich, vitalizing blood and is positively the most powerful restorative and strengthener known to science; it improves the nerve tone, regulates the heart's action, makes the feeble strong and the sick well. Ferrozone will do you untold good, and costs only 50 cents at all druggists, or Ormsond and Walsh's drug store.

A RESOLUTION

Of Condolence Passed by the Members of the Orange Order.

At the last regular meeting of L. O. L. No. 30, the following letter of condolence was ordered to be forwarded to Bro. Joseph Jones on the death of his mother:

To W. Brother Joseph Jones, Peterborough, Ontario:

Dear Sir and Brother,—The members of Diamond L.O.L. No. 30, desire to express our sympathy and condolence with you in the irreparable loss you have sustained in the death of your loving mother, who has passed peacefully away, we believe, to reap her golden reward in that better land where there shall be no more sickness, neither shall there be any more sorrow or death. This thought should, therefore, be a source of comfort to you in this your day of tribulation, and at the time when the human sympathies of friends fail to support, we would gladly point you to "the Friend that sticketh closer than a brother"—to Him who has trod affliction's path, and Who alone is able to give grace that will enable you to say as one of old, "Thy will be done."

To the other members of the family we would also convey our sympathies, and fervently pray that the vacancy caused by death shall be filled by the love of Christ, the fairest among ten thousand, and they altogether lovely.

May the God of comfort be very near you at this time, and may He long spare you to labour in His cause, "which is more needful" for us and all who dwell in the empire wherein the truth has given us a liberty of great price, even that of an open Bible and a pure preached Gospel.

Signed on behalf of the Lodge.

ROBERT McGILL,
Worshipful Master.
W. H. G. ARMSTRONG,
Recording Secretary.

ONLY A SLIGHT COLD.

Yet it May Lead to Consumption and an Early Grave.

If your blood is poor or watery, a touch of cold or influenza will settle in your lungs, and the slight cough of to-day may turn to the racking consumptive's cough of to-morrow.

Weak lungs are caused by weak blood; weak blood is an open invitation for consumption to lay upon you the hand of death.

Stop that cough by enriching your blood and strengthening your lungs with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make new, rich, red blood. They add resisting power to the lungs. They have saved hundreds from a consumptive's grave. Here is a positive proof that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure where other medicines fail. Miss Katie Henry, Charlottetown, P.E.I., says:—"Some months ago I got caught in a rain storm, and the wetting was followed by a cold. At first I paid but little attention to it, but as the cold clung to me and finally developed into a hacking cough, I became alarmed and consulted a doctor, who gave me a bottle of medicine. Unfortunately, it did not help me, and I began to grow pale, lost in weight and my appetite completely left me. I was now regularly under the care of the doctor, who told me my lungs were affected, and that I was threatened with consumption. The doctor's treatment did not seem to benefit me in the least. I steadily grew weaker, and finally was compelled to remain in bed. At this time a friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and even brought me three boxes before I finally consented to take them. I have reason now to bless my friend's persistence, because I felt better before all the pills were gone, and I gladly continued the treatment, and was soon able to be out of bed and take a walk each day. I am now in the best of health, and weigh ten pounds more than I did before I took sick. I feel that I owe my life to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and hope my experience will benefit some other sufferer."

All diseases which come from poor blood or weak nerves can be driven from the system by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which may be had from any dealer in medicine, or will be sent post paid at 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Remember that substitutes and medicines said to be "just as good" do not cure.

BOWEN HAS REFUSED

To Yield Preferential Treatment to Germany.

MINISTERS' STRONG STAND.

The Venezuelan Dispute — Mr. Bowen Charges That Germany Has Broken Former Agreement—Renunciation of Germany's Action by Britain and Italy and Regret Therefor —A Settlement Nearer.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Germany has ignored her previous agreement made with Mr. Bowen by Count A. Von Quadt-Wykradt, her Charge d'Affaires, and has insisted on a cash payment of $340,000 or a lien on the customs receipts of one of the Venezuelan ports until this amount is paid. This information was communicated to Mr. Bowen last night by Baron Speck Von Sternberg, the German Minister.

Mr. Bowen immediately informed the German Minister that he refused to yield the receipts of any port prior to The Hague's decision, saying that would be preferential treatment. As to the cash payment of $340,000 demanded, Mr. Bowen left that matter to the German Minister to determine, saying to him that if Germany can afford to make a public confession that it does not stand by agreements signed by its duly accredited diplomats, he (Mr. Bowen) is willing that they shall receive on the day the protocol is signed, the total amount asked in the original ultimatum. The response has been cabled to the German Foreign Office.

Will Stand by Agreement.

Great Britain and Italy have renounced any responsibility for the action of Germany, and expressed their regret. Through their representatives they have informed Mr. Bowen that they will stand by all agreements they have made with him, and will not be influenced by the action of Germany.

It is stated that the action of Germany in asking for $340,000 instead of contenting herself with five thousand five hundred pounds is due to a misunderstanding of certain steps in the negotiations, which had been passed on by Count Quadt before the arrival of Baron Von Sternberg. Mr. Bowen holds that Germany is bound by the act of its representative.

It is expected that an answer will arrive here to-day from Germany to the final representations made and upon the receipt of the answer the signing of the protocols will probably occur. As soon as they are signed orders will be despatched to the blockading ships for their immediate withdrawal from Venezuelan waters.

Wants Her Gunboat Back.

New York, Feb. 12.—Senor Myers, the Venezuelan Consul, has presented to the Dutch Government officials a demand for the immediate seizure of the gunboat Restaurador, now flying the German flag, and the return of the vessel to Venezuela, says the correspondent of The Herald at Willemstad, Curacoa.

The Consul contends that, as the captured ship belonged to the Venezuelan navy, and she could not enter Dutch waters, under international law. He has also protested against Germany using Curacoa as a base of supplies and a coaling station.

FIRE BARS MINERS IN.

Eleven Men Caught in Mine—One Rescued Unconscious.

Duluth, Minn., Feb. 12.—A special from Eveleth, on the Mesabe Iron Ranfie, says: Eleven miners are imprisoned by a fire which broke out yesterday in No. 3 shaft of the Spruce Mine, owned by the United States Steel Corporation. The blaze started in an oil house in the second level, and shanties and timber in that part of the mine were soon burning fiercely.

The fire was subdued after two hours. Rescuers entered the shaft at once, and brought up one man unconscious. The ten others imprisoned are believed to be in the same condition, but have not yet been found. The rescued workman will recover.

THE ALASKA TREATY

The United States Senate Approves of the Agreement.

A NINETY MINUTE SESSION.

Senator Teller's Remark—Boundary So Well Determined That It Is Not Really in Dispute—No Delay in Taking Action and No Decided Opposition to the Treaty Developed.

Washington, Feb. 12.—In an executive session, which lasted only an hour and a half, yesterday, the Senate, in addition to confirming a large number of nominations, ratified the Alaskan boundary treaty, and came near taking similar action in the commercial treaty with Greece. This latter was reported by Senator Cullom of the Committee on Foreign Relations.

There was no delay in securing action on the Alaskan treaty, and very little opposition to it was manifested. Senator Teller said that he considered the Alaskan boundary so well determined as to make it not a matter of dispute. Therefore, while he would not delay it, he would not vote for it. The ayes and noes were not called, but there were several voices heard in the negative when an informal expression was called for. The ayes were so much more numerous, however, that the decision of the chair to the effect that ratification had prevailed was not challenged.

GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT.

A. W. Campbell Returns From Tour of the Province.

Toronto, Feb. 12.—A. W. Campbell, Deputy Minister of Public Works, returned yesterday from a good-roads tour. At Barrie, he addressed a meeting of municipal councillors, representing the neighboring towns, townships and counties. It was decided to construct a system of leading roads, about 350 miles in extent, at an expense of $300,000. Of this sum, $150,000 is to be raised immediately, the Government giving one-third. At King, an effort is being made to raise money by modern methods, and to abolish statute labor.

A meeting will take place at Brantford next week, at which the Board of Trade, supported by the City Council of Brantford will endeavor to frame a system of leading roads, and to abolish certain toll roads.

Meetings to advance the leading roads movement will be held as follows: In Huron County, at Seaforth, on March 3; in Essex County, at Essex, on March 18. A date has not yet been set for a similar conference of councillors of Northumberland and Durham Counties, to be held at Durham.

THE MADIANA WRECK.

Quebec Steamship Co. Does Not Expect to Save Cargo.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Feb. 12.—Captain Fraser, together with the second officer and the native pilot of the wrecked steamer Madiana, remained by the ship all Tuesday night in a whaleboat. The vessel was pounding heavily when the tugs left her Tuesday afternoon, with all the passengers, crew, mails and baggage, and it is feared her bottom is destroyed. The agents do not anticipate saving much of the cargo.

The Quebec Steamship Company has offered to give the passengers tickets to New York, and refund the money paid for the West Indian trip, on condition that they sign an agreement not to make any claims for damages.

Quail West on Rocks.

New York, Feb. 12.—The British torpedo-boat destroyer Quail went ashore a week ago near Point Barina, says a Herald despatch from Port of Spain Trinidad. Her propellers were smashed, and she narrowly escaped being wrecked, owing to the heavy sea swells. She had been towed to that port.

San Francisco, Feb. 12.—The Salvador Commercial Company, composed of a number of capitalists of Oakland, Cal., has a claim for $600,000 against the Government of Salvador, and the money will fall due next month about the time the Pacific squadron under Admiral Glass will arrive in the vicinity of the Central American republic. The matter was directed to the attention of Secretary of State Hay, who appointed a commission to investigate. The commission awarded the Americans $600,000.

RAILWAY TAXATION.

(Toronto News.)

The remarkable mass of facts and figures which Mr. H. J. Pettypiece, M.P.P., presents in the current issue of the Canadian Magazine should be studied with care. It places in an exceedingly clear light the generous aid that Canada has given to railways, and the great wealth which they represent; the substantial taxation exacted from railways in other countries; and the extraordinarily low taxation imposed upon the railways by Canada.

The people of Canada have given to private railway companies aid to the extent of nearly $400,000,000. The account stands somewhat as follows:—

Cash subsidies and bonuses	$225,000,000
Loans and subscriptions...	27,000,000
Land (say $2 per acre).....	104,000,000
Lines already built	35,000,000
	$391,000,000

Or at the rate of $23,000 per mile.

The cash subsidies came from three sources:—

Dominion Government ...	$174,000,000
Provincial Governments ...	35,000,000
Municipalities	16,000,000

Mr. Pettypiece's calculation is that the railways receive from the people of Canada $10,000,000 a year.

The total railway wealth of Canada represents a capital of rather over a billion dollars. The Grand Trunk Railway operates in Ontario 2,600 miles, which Mr. Pettypiece estimates to represent a capital of $240,000,000. The net income per mile of Canadian railways is $1,212 a mile, or $32 a mile more than the net income of the railways of the United States.

Mr. Pettypiece sets forth in detail the extent to which railways are taxed in other English-speaking countries, and he dwells especially upon the United States. In Great Britain in 1901 the railway taxation amounted to $21,000,000. The mileage is rather greater than in Canada; the British railways annually pay $950 per mile in taxes. This class of taxation is increasing rapidly; in the decade ending in 1901 it went up 69 per cent.

In the United States, railway taxation is considerable, and is levied on varying principles. Some of Mr. Pettypiece's figures are interesting:

Year.	Street Ry. Earnings.	Taxes Collected.	Percentage.
1888 ...	$315,000,000	$25,000,000	8.06
1897 ...	369,000,000	43,000,000	11.67
1900 ...	525,000,000	48,000,000	9.17

The average rate of taxation per mile in 1900 was $255. The rates varied greatly, from $1,400 a mile in Massachusetts, nearly $1,000 a mile in Connecticut, and $840 a mile in Rhode Island, to $72 a mile in South Dakota, $87 a mile in North Carolina, and $10 a mile in the Indian Territory. Four general plans of taxation are described by Mr. Pettypiece:

1. The Connecticut plan: the levy is 1 per cent. of the total capital stock, including funded and floating debt. This tax provides 40 per cent. of the revenue of the state.

2. The Wisconsin plan: the levy is from 2 1-2 to 4 per cent. of the gross earnings. It works out to $238 per mile.

3. The Indiana plan: by it all railway property is assessed at full value, by a State Board of Tax Commissioners, and the average municipal rate of taxation is then levied. The tax in this state amounts to $400 per mile.

4. The New York plan: the rate is levied on dividends or capital, according to circumstances, and purely interior state business is taxed. The taxation amounts to $560 per mile.

Of these, Mr. Pettypiece regards the Indiana plan as the most equitable.

Next comes the taxation in Canada. The Dominion imposes no taxation at all. The province of Ontario taxes railways $5 a mile, realizing $13,000; and Manitoba gets $25,000, her tax being on gross earnings. In Ontario municipalities can assess railway lands. The Grand Trunk pays a total taxation of $50 per mile, or a total of $134,000. The assessment is very low. The 2,600 miles of Grand Trunk roadway, which represent $240,000,000 of capital, are assessed at $6,500,000, or 2 3-4 per cent. of the capital. As compared with other forms of wealth, the comparison is as follows:

	Farm wealth of Ontario.	Grand Trunk Property In Ontario.
Capital	$1,000,000,000	$240,000,000
Assessment	450,000,000	6,500,000
Taxes paid	4,600,000	134,000
Assessment per 1000	450	27.50
Rate per per $1000 -	4.62	50c

Other railways get off even more lightly than the Grand Trunk. The taxes paid by the Canadian Pacific amount to less than $20 per mile.

Comparisons with American taxation yield some curious results. Mr. Pettypiece follows the fortunes of the Grand Trunk from state to state, with results which we may tabulate:

	Miles.	Taxes paid	Rate per mile.
Ontario	2,600	$134,000	$ 50
Illinois, Indiana, and Mich	335	185,000	550
Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine	172	49,000	285

A comparison as to the Canadian Pacific works out thus:

	Miles.	Taxes paid	Rate per mile.
Canada	7,300	$112,000	$ 18
Michigan, Wis., and Minn ...	1,300	240,000	180

Mr. Pettypiece quotes many other examples of the inequality; sometimes they are picturesque. He also points out that the American states which tax our railways heavily get better rates than Ontario can secure.

KINMOUNT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Another sad death has occurred in our village. Mr. Robert Stephenson died on Monday morning of peritonitis, after a few days' illness. He was highly respected, and leaves a wife and six children to mourn his loss. Much sympathy will be felt for them. He was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters.

We had a call from Mr. R. J. McLaughlin, barrister, of Lindsay, on Tuesday.

A society has been formed here for mutual improvement. A debate was held the other night as to whether a country life or a city life was the most preferable. Country life was considered the best—round Kinmount anyway.

We have also a boxing school established here. I do not know if it is a benefit to Kinmount or not.

YOUNG'S POINT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

We are pleased to learn there is no sickness here at present.

The Provincial Government is erecting two new gates here at the locks. Mr. J. Robinson is superintending the work.

With regret, we chronicle the death of Miss Mary Bullock, who died last Friday. Deceased was about sixty years old, and a sister of Messrs. Peter and Jermiah Bullock.

Fear of the Future.

Most people who dread the future are victims of some terrible disease. Mrs. W. Francis, 202 Colborne street, Kingston, was in a bad state from kidney disease. She had severe pains in her back and legs, was gradually losing flesh, and had a dread of the future. A friend recommended Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and the result was a complete cure. There is no medicine so reliable, none so certain to produce a thorough cure. One pill a dose. 25 cents a box.

GALWAY.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Our corner has been neglected of late. Your correspondent, I think, must have emigrated, so I will try and fill his place.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Collins have both been ill, but we are glad to hear that they are improving.

We are glad to see Mr. Herb Cluston amongst us again.

Winter is a busy time with us, as we have so much timber and bark to draw out that the winter is too short for the most of us. If we only had a weather prophet to tell us how long we could depend on the snow it would be fine.

The Lambert Bros. have commenced to draw the Gilmour bark. They have a big contract, but expect to have 25 teams on in a few days.

Mr. David Curtain, one of the Gilmour foreman, is away hiring teams.

We have a great many long hauls here that could be saved if we had a railway through Galway. It would shorten our drawing and open up our township. Your correspondent thinks if he could only get a big bonus from the Government he could build it himself.

A DAILY NUISANCE.

A Simple Remedy Which Will Interest Catarrh Sufferers.

In its earlier stages catarrh is more of a nuisance than a menace to the general health, but sooner or later, the disease extends to the throat, bronchial tubes and even to the stomach and intestines.

Catarrh is essentially a disease of the mucous membrane, the local symptoms being a profuse discharge of mucus, stoppage of the nostrils, irritation in the throat, causing coughing, sneezing, frequent clearing of the throat and head, and gagging.

The usual treatment by local douches, snuffs, salves, etc., often gives temporary relief, but anything like a cure can only be obtained by a treatment which removes the catarrhal taint from the blood and the disappearance of the inflammation from the mucous surfaces.

A new remedy which meets these requirements, and which so far has been remarkably successful in curing catarrh is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

These Tablets act upon the blood and mucous membrane only. They can hardly be called a secret patent medicine, as they are composed of such valuable remedies as Blood root, Hydrastin, Red Gum and similar cleaning antiseptics, which cure by eliminating from the blood and mucous surfaces the catarrhal poison.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant-taking lozenges, taken internally, allowing them to dissolve slowly in the mouth. In this way they reach the throat, fauces and entire alimentary canal.

If desired they may also be dissolved in water and used as a douche, in addition to the internal use; but it is not at all necessary to use a douche, a few of them dissolved in the mouth daily will be sufficient. However, when there is much stoppage of the nose, a douche made from these Tablets will give immediate relief, but the regular daily use internally of the tablets will cure the whole catarrhal trouble without resorting to the inconvenience of a douche.

Dr. Bement says "that the internal treatment for catarrh is rapidly taking the place of the old plan of douching and local application and further says that probably the best and certainly the safest remedy at present on the market is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, as no secret is made of their composition and all the really efficient remedies for catarrh are contained in this tablet."

Druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at fifty cents for full sized packages. Ask your druggist and if he is honest he will tell you there is no safer, more palatable, more efficient and convenient remedy on the market.

C.P.R. LAND TAXATION.

Mr. Justice Richards Enters a Formal Order and the Matter May Come Before the Supreme Court in May.

Winnipeg, Feb. 12.—The first step has been taken at the instance of the Dominion Government to determine the liability of the C.P.R. to taxation on their land grant. Messrs. Howell, Mathers & Howell, by direction of the Dominion Government, have filed three statements of claims against the C.P.R. The statements are filed on behalf of the municipalities of North Cypress, Argyle and the school district of Springdale, N. W.T.

The question to be argued differs slightly in each of the three cases, but the main question is the same, the plaintiffs alleging that the lands are liable to taxation and the C.P. R. contending that they are not.

At the sitting of the court, Mr. Howell, K.C., stated to Mr. Justice Richards that statements of defence had been put in on behalf of the C. P.R., and certain maps and orders in Council had been admitted, so that there would be no evidence to be heard, and he accordingly moved for a formal judgment, so that the matter could be brought before the full court this present term, and if possible carried to the Supreme Court at Ottawa at the May sittings.

His Lordship thereupon entered a formal order, and subsequently before the full court it was decided that the matter should be heard this term.

AN EDITOR SPEAKS.

Had Dyspepsia for Years and Could Find no Relief—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Cured Him.

It is not often that newspaper editors can be induced to give testimonials to the merits of any article. As a rule they hide their identity behind the editorial "we" and confine their comment to the tariff and other issues generally supposed to occupy the whole of the public's attention.

Consequently when an editor comes out with a voluntary testimonial to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets it is only reasonable to infer that the good Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets did him, was too marked to be allowed to pass unnoticed.

Alphonse Caron, editor of L'Echo, published at Montmagny, Quebec, has voluntarily come forward with this statement:—

"I suffered for many years from Dyspepsia. I spent many dollars for all kinds of medicines without getting any relief. Happening to notice an advertisement of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets I concluded to try them. I bought one box and the change for the better was so marked that I continued using them and now I am completely cured.

"Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are an excellent remedy for Dyspepsia. They are as recommended."

THE BILL PROMISED

Mr. Blair Will Reintroduce One for Railway Commission.

MINISTERS HEAR ARGUMENTS

Deputation of Manufacturers, Farmers, Fruit Growers and Live Stock Shippers Present Their Views to the Government—Discrimination and Excessive Charges For Freight-Carrying.

Ottawa, Feb. 12.—A large deputation representing the Farmers' Association, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association, the Dominion Grange, the Toronto Board of Trade, and the Dominion Live Stock Association, waited on the Government yesterday, and presented their views on several matters of considerable importance. A comprehensive memorandum, dealing with the discrimination in freight rates of Canadian railways, and calling for the appointment of a Railway Commission to investigate, was read; a free rural mail delivery was asked for, and strong opposition to the granting of subsidies was shown. The deputation was composed of the following: J. Lockie Wilson, L. E. Annis and W. L. Smith, secretary, on behalf of the Farmers' Association; Robert Munro, J. O. Thorn and R. J. Younge, secretary of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association; D. J. McKinnon, W. H. Bunting, H. W. Dawson and D. D. Wilson of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association; W. F. W Fisher of the Dominion Grange, Hugh Blain and J. D. Allan of the Toronto Board of Trade, and Ald. Dunn of the Dominion Live Stock Association.

The Ministers present were Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. Wm. Paterson, Hon. A. G. Blair and Hon. W. S. Fielding.

General Principles.

The request for a systematic readjustment of the railway freight rates now charged in this country is based upon these general statements:

1. Rates on short hauls within Canadian territory are so high as to be, in many cases, practically prohibitory.

2. Rates on long hauls, also, within Canadian territory do not, in many cases, bear fair proportion either to the cost or value of the service rendered.

3. Rates on local Canadian traffic are, in many cases, much higher than rates under similar conditions on local traffic in the United States.

4. On traffic originating in the United States, and carried over Canadian lines to the seaboard, the rates are, in numerous instances, not only relatively, but actually, lower than the rate imposed on Canadian products carried over the same lines, but for a shorter distance.

Prof. McLean's Report.

First, as to the charges on short hauls within Canadian territory. Prof. J. S. McLean, in a report to your Government, a year ago, pointed out that the rate on salt from Wingham to Fordwich, a distance of 17 miles, in less than carload lots, was nine cents, while merchants could haul the same by team for five cents.

A quantity of cheese-box hooping was hauled by team from Harriston to Fordwich, a distance of eight miles, for $7.50, while the cost of hauling by rail would have been $12.

Farmers living from 20 to 25 miles from Napanee say they can team their produce to the town cheaper than they can have it sent by rail. Merchants in Waterford, when they buy their goods from Brantford wholesale houses, haul their purchases from the wholesale warehouses to the retail stores, a distance of 18 miles, and say they save money by doing so, although there is a direct railway connection between the two points.

It was by giving an unfairly low rate to the Standard Oil Company that the building up of the great combination was rendered possible. Competitors, denied the same privilege, were driven out of business. By the adoption of similar means today, our Canadian railways can make or break a locality or individual. A reduction in rates should be as much under the control of the Government, or a body representing the Government, as a raise in rates. Provision should be made, too, for the prevention of granting secret rebates to favorite shippers. The action of the United States Senate in passing an act imposing a penalty of $20,000 for an offence of this kind is entirely commendable.

Dividends on Non-Existent Capital.

The root of the whole evil is that we are being asked to pay freight rates which will earn dividends on capital which no longer has any existence in fact. One line of railway in this country is capitalized at about $100,000 per mile; on the average the capitalization is $60,000. There is good authority for the statement that all the lines and equipment could be duplicated at $40,000 per mile. Rates should be fixed on a basis that will earn dividends on the actual cost of reproduction. In fact, in strict justice, the contribution made by the people in cash or lands, amounting to some $15,000 per mile, might well be deducted from this. But, in any event, the rates charged should not be more than sufficient to pay dividends on the actual outlay necessary to duplicate the present service.

A Railway Commission.

How are the grievances complained of to be redressed? We believe that can best be accomplished by the appointment of a railway commission, charged with the sole duty of hearing complaints, making all necessary enquiries and taking means to prevent a continuance of unequal and excessive charges. Such a commission should be composed of men of first-class ability and the highest standing, and that they should be clothed with full authority to fix just and equitable rates. We are further of opinion that from a decision by this tribunal there should be but one appeal, to a single court, and that on questions of law only.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Reply.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that Mr. Blair would reintroduce this session his bill for the appointment of a railway commission. He was pleased that the measure had apparently proved so satisfactory, because so little criticism of it was heard.

The suggestions as to the composition of the commission and those of other members of the deputation as to the powers to be vested in the commission would receive consideration.

G. T. R. TRANS-PACIFIC.

Protest Against Granting any Subsidy in Land or Money.

The Farmers' Association presented a memorandum protesting against the granting of assistance, in any form whatever, by the Dominion Government either to the Pacific extension of the Grand Trunk or any other railway, believing that sufficient, and more than sufficient, assistance has already been given to railway building in this country. There has been granted in cash or land to private railway companies by the Dominion, provincial and municipal governments at least $250,000,000. Interest on this sum at 4 per cent. would amount to $10,000,000 per annum, or within $8,500,000 of the total expenditure of the Dominion for all purposes in the year of Confederation. In view of the enormous expenditure already incurred for assisting railway building, aside from any other consideration, the time has now come to call a halt. Even if public assistance were necessary to a further development of railway enterprise, the interests of the general public would still demand a cessation from the practice, at least for a time. But public assistance is no longer an essential to this end. Railway building in this country is not a speculation to-day; it is an ordinary building enterprise. The Province of Manitoba last year is reported to have produced 50,000,000 bushels of wheat. The expectation is that the whole Northwest will next year produce 100,000,000 bushels. Something like 30,000 American settlers are said to have gone into the Northwest last year. Three times that number is expected during the coming season. This being so, it does seem to this delegation that a railway through that country should be a paying enterprise from the start, and that there is, therefore, no justification for continuing for the future the subsidy-giving policy of the past. What was the wild territory of Oklahoma twelve years ago has to-day a population of over half a million. It has about 1,200 miles of railway, built without one dollar of subsidy or land grant, and on which taxation at the rate of $152.56 per mile is annually imposed. When Oklahoma can secure a sufficient railway service without bonus, and with taxation, surely the better territory of the Canadian West can obtain all the railway facilities needed, at least without a bonus.

RURAL MAILS.

Deputation Asks For Their Delivery Free as In Cities.

Sir William Mulock was waited upon by a deputation of farmers, who asked for the establishment of a rural mail delivery. It was urged that free mail delivery in rural sections is not an experiment. Its practicability and beneficial results have been clearly demonstrated in the United States (under conditions similar to those prevailing in this country). When free mail delivery was first proposed in the United States by the Grange, speaking for the farmers of that country, there was almost unanimous opposition to the proposal from all other classes in the community. Despite the opposition, the new system was given a trail. As a result of that trial, inside of four years from the adoption of the system, free mail delivery has been extended over 1,000,000 square miles of territory, and was serving 21,000,000 people. In the United States, according to the report of the Postmaster-General of that country, the service does not seem to be entirely self-sustaining. A good deal of the cost, so far as public revenues are concerned, has, however, been offset by the reduction in the number of postoffices, and the wiping out of old-fashioned mail routes. Another partial offset has been the increased revenue of the Postal Department, as a result of the change, the increased revenue being, apparently, about 8 per cent.

Sir William's Reply.

Sir William Mulock promised that he would give the subject his best consideration.

Binder Twine Deputation.

A deputation representing the binder twine manufacturers of Canada saw the Ministers of Finance, Customs and Justice and Hon. Clifford Sifton, Minister of the Interior. The delegates were Anderson Black, president of the Richelieu Cordage Co., St. John's, Que.; R. R. Hall of the Canadian Cordage Co., Peterboro; W. W. Converse and W. H. Dey of the Consumers' Cordage Co., Montreal. They ask for a duty, in view of discrimination in favor of the United States in regard to raw material.

AN ACCIDENT AT KINMOUNT.

A Son of the Rev. Mr. Yorston Injured While Sleigh Riding.

(Lindsay Post.)

A very serious accident happened in Kinmount on Saturday afternoon which may have fatal results. The eight year old son of the Rev. J. Yorston, Baptist minister, together with some companions, was enjoying himself coasting on a large hill near that village. In descending the hill Yorston's sleigh went out of its regular course with the result that he collided with a large stump at the foot. He was thrown against the stump with great force, and when picked up was unconscious. The unfortunate lad is so badly bruised, cut and injured internally that his recovery is very doubtful. Drs. White, of Kinmount, and Graham, of Fenelon Falls, are in attendance.

THE EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Rev. Mr. Turk Made an Interesting Address

At St. Paul's Presbyterian Church Last Night—Ministers Present.

Owing to the disagreeable evening ing the attendance at the evangelistic service at St. Paul's church last night was not as large as usual, but the meeting was a most impressive one. The following ministers occupied seats on the platform,—Revs. J. P. Wilson, J. Bastow, Dr. Torrance, W. J. Jolliffe, C. L. Thompson, J. H. Hannah and J. A. Wilson.

After the usual song service of fifteen minutes, Rev. C. L. Thompson led in the opening prayer.

A few minutes were then spent in the repeating of promises that had proved helpful. It was an inspiring sight as one after another in quick succession rose to their feet and repeated verses of Scripture which had proved themselves precious to their individual cases.

The duet, "I'm a Pilgrim, I'm a Stranger," by Revs. Turk and Kerby, was listened to with close attention.

The singing of these men is certainly an impressive feature of the services. Last evening's sermon was preached by Evangelist Turk, who chose for his subject, "The Ministry of Reconciliation," based on ii.Cor., 5;18.

He said that every congregation might be devided into two sections, the reconciled and the unreconciled. The word reconciliation means a bringing together of those who have been estranged. It is a peace word, and yet it has a darker side. Reconciliation is beautiful, but it is a sad thing that there has been the need of reconciliation. There has been a real estrangement between God and man. The carnal mind is at enmity with God; man is not only under the wrath of God, but is also out of harmony with himself. The word of God shows us that it was because of sin that such took place. God has been seeking to reconcile man—trying to deal with him on the principle of trust. The reconciliation is effected in Jesus Christ. "When we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly." "Who His own self bear our sins in His own body on the tree." Oh! the mystery of Calvary! Christ died that we might not die.

The preacher closed with an earnest appeal to his hearers to be reconciled to God, and Mr. Kerby led in prayer.

The two evangelists then sang another selection together entitled, "Redeemed by Love," and Mr. Kerby followed with a few brief but earnest remarks. He said there were three things presented to us in the Epistle to the Romans:

1. We are all sinners. We have rebelled against God, and sin has left its mark upon us.

2. No man can regain righteousness by any power or force of his own. Man cannot save himself from the consequences of his sin.

The demands of the law have been fulfilled in Jesus Christ. In Him man can be reconciled to God, and experience peace with Him.

After again appealing to the people to submit the heart and the life to Christ a very impressive meeting was brought to a close.

The Trent Valley Executive to Meet.

Jewellers and Druggists Played a Tie Last Night—Curling Notes.

The defeat of the Lakefield hockey club by the T.A.S. team of Peterborough last night, settles the question as to what three teams will battle for the possession of the Stratton Cup, and the championship of the Trent Valley League. Norwood, T. A. S., and Fenelon Falls are the winners of the Eastern, Central and Western Districts of the Trent Valley League respectively. The finish promises to be very interesting. Norwood and Fenelon Falls have for the past two years been the two competing clubs in the finals, the latter club winning out on both occasions. This year the clubs were arranged in districts in such a manner as to leave three clubs in the finals, so that it remains for the executive to decided whether home and home games shall be played amongst the three teams or whether one of these teams shall be given a bye. By the former arrangement there is a possibility of there being a tie after the schedule has been played, as games and not goals count when there are more than two teams in the district. Of course there is also a possibility of a tie arising when goals count between two teams, but there is less likelihood of this than under the other arrangement. It might be mentioned, too, that the arrangement of three teams in the finals is a guarantee to each of such teams that they will have two home games. Under the other arrangement some one team would have only one home game.

Fenelon Falls has asked for a bye, claiming that they are entitled to it on account of the geographical situation and in view of the fact that they are the present champions. The matter will be fully considered at tomorrow night's meeting of the Executive of the League, and it may be taken for granted that the course that will be adopted will be in the best interests of the League.

* * * *

Of course, the success of the T.A.S. team last night over there plucky little opponents was a matter of much rejoicing amongst Peterborough people. The T.A.S. team is a new organisation and their success in athletic circles will undoubtedly tend to make them more enthusiastic in the general welfare of their Society, whose principles are worthy of hearty commendation. Not only should the T.A.S. boys receive the good wishes of the people of their own Society, but of townspeople generally. This, we think they are receiving, and the matches in the final round will most likely draw as large crowds as have been seen in the Brock street rink this winter. It behooves the members of the team to continue in their practices, follow up a good course of training and victory is sure to follow.

HOCKEY.

A meeting of the Trent Valley Hockey League Executive will be held in the Oriental Hotel to-morrow evening at nine o'clock. The meeting is called for the purpose of arranging the schedule for the final round and for the appointing of referees for the concluding games.

* * * *

The Peterborough hockey team will leave to-morrow for Markham to take part in the annual hockey tournament at that place. Mr. J. H. Booth will referee the remaining games which are scheduled as follows:

To-night—Old Orchards vs. Markham, and Waverleys vs. Commercials.

Friday night. — St. George's will likely play Port Perry, and Peterborough the Old Orchards or Markham.

The finals will not be reached until Monday.

* * * *

A very exciting not to say amusing, hockey match was played between the jewellers and the druggists of the town at the Brock street rink last night. A great source of amusement to those who had gathered to witness the event was the remarkable facility with which the components of both teams made figures on the ice. Of the distinguished players might be mentioned, R. Hall for the jewellers, and Tobey for the pharmacists. At half time the score was one all, and after time expired the game ended a draw, each team having scored two goals. The following are the names of the players:

Druggists — Goal, Fowler, point, Bathgate; cover point, Barker; forwards, Payne, Davidson, Tobey, and Kemp.

Mr. F. Clarke officiated as referee during the game.

The Belleville Intelligencer says: A team of lady hockeyists in Peterborough wrote to a young lady of this city asking for home and home games. But there's nothing do— Bellsville has no bevy of pretty girls chasing the puck this year. Peterborough challenge declined. The girls liked the game, but after the horrid way the Kingston papers talked about them last year they decided to let hockey alone for the future.

CURLING.

The ice at the Charlotte street curling rink was in a rather sticky condition. The following game was played:

E. H. D. Hall,	A. T. Kerr,
M. Green.	G. H. Giroux,
R. J. Frost,	T. Brightman,
W. G. Morrow, sk.9	C. N. Brown, sk.13

LACROSSE.

In other places lacrosse is already being talked up. The annual meeting of the C.L.A. will be held on Good Friday, and it is none too early for the boys to commence planning for the coming season. By all accounts Belleville will have an intermediate lacrosse team fully as good as their O.H.A. team, and its up to everybody to help the boys along.—Belleville Intelligencer.

POSSIBILITIES OF THE GREAT CANADIAN WEST.

A Sure and Abundant Source of Wealth —Wheat Raising to Rival the Gold Mines of the Empire.

We advise our readers to notice the subscription offer, which will be made in this paper in a few days, of the British-Canadian Wheat Raising Company, which has been organized for the purpose of raising wheat in a wholesale way, on ten thousand acres of the best farm land in Assiniboia, North-West Territories. This land is the property of the Company, who propose to raise wheat at the lowest possible cost by employing the most modern steam machinery, etc.

The success of this company is assured. It will be noticed that its Directors are composed of some of our leading citizens, some of whom are connected with the leading railroads, and the Canadian Government; some are members of the bar and some merchants. The affairs of the Company are in the strongest hands, and backed by financial interests that will enable the Company to broaden out from year to year.

The shares of the British-Canadian Wheat Raising Company present an opportunity to the investor that cannot be equaled by any other commercial enterprise in the British Empire. The agricultural year just closed with a record of the greatest wheat crop in proportion to acreage ever grown on unfertilized soil. The conditions of the region are such as to make practically certain a uniform yield. As Canadian hard wheat is of the best quality produced in the world, it commands the best markets and highest returns. A good deal of capital has already been invested both in land enterprises and in the actual industry itself. Companies like the British-Canadian Wheat Raising Company, Limited, are preparing to operate farms comprising thousands of acres.

Only a limited amount of the Company's Treasury shares will be offered to the public at the present time at their par value of $5.00 each. These shares will undoubtedly command a high premium in a very short time, on account of the great earning capacity of the company, which expects to start out by paying dividends of fifteen per cent. annually, and leave a large surplus in the treasury. These shares will be listed on the various exchanges in due course and, owing to the small amount in the hands of the public should be traded in at a great advance over the subscription price.

This investment will recommend itself to every person who desires an absolute assured income, together with an advancing value over the price they paid for the subscription shares. The profits to be made are practically assured, as the market for the company's wheat product is the same as for gold—it is unlimited. There will be a constant appreciation of the company's lands, and a constantly increasing amount of product for the market, and unlike gold mining, or similar enterprises, the resources are inexhaustible.

It is the policy of the directors to increase the acreage of the British-Canadian Wheat Raising Company from year to year, so that ultimately it will be the largest Wheat Raising Company in the World. This company will be the largest in the British Empire, and is now only second to the famous Dalrymple Farm, located in North Dakota, U.S.

The property of this company is located almost alongside the tracks of the Canadian Pacific Railway, where the company proposes to have its own elevator to deposit their grain, and secure the highest market prices from time to time. On account of the large product this company will have yearly, it will receive every assistance and facility from the various Canadian rail roads, for the transportation of its grain to the seaboard.

Prospectus, with coloured maps, giving full particulars of the company may be had free on application, by addressing the Trusts and Guarantee Company, Limited, 14 King street, West, Toronto, Ont.

THE T. A. S. DEFEATED LAKEFIELD

For Championship of the Central District

OF TRENT VALLEY LEAGUE.

The Score was 5 to 2—Game Played in Lindsay on Ice Covered With Water.

The tie in district No. 2 of the Trent Valley Hockey League between St. Peter's T.A.S. and Lakefield was played off in Lindsay last night, and the total abstinence septette succeeded in turning down the Lakefielders by a score of 5—2.

Both teams ran special trains to the Scugog town, the boys from the northern village having a following of about one hundred, while about two hundred T.A.S. rooters accompanied their team on a special train, which left the G. T. R. station at seven o'clock.

When the crowd reached the rink, they found the ice literally covered with a sheet of water, and the rink managers, in order to drain it off, bored the ice to the boards, and left dangerous looking holes for the skaters to dodge.

The crowd in attendance at the game was a large one. It was made up of followers of both teams, delegations from Omemee, Fenelon Falls and Bobcaygeon, as well as a good number of the citizens of Lindsay, who were about equally divided in their support of the two teams. The ice, of course, was in no condition for good hockey, but the crowd was anxious to see the struggle between the teams and the rink rang with shouts until Referee Ernie Wasson appeared on the ice. Just here it might be mentioned that Ernie filled that position in an eminently satisfatory manner, and both teams expressed themselves as highly satisfied with his work. It was at one time thought that he would have to officiate in that position in a canoe, as the ice looked so threatening, but the rumour that he wore a life preserver during the game, borrowed from the steamer Esturion, is without foundation.

The game was not what could be classed as a brilliant exhibition of hockey on account of the wretched condition of the ice, but it was a remarkably fast and exciting one, nevertheless, and the excitement from start to finish, was always at the top notch. There was at times some splendid dashes by both teams down the rink, and had the ice been in better condition the game would have been as fast as the best on them.

The T.A.S. team started the game with a rush on the Lakefield nets, and after some sharp work, intermingled with tumbles and falls and slides they notched their first game in about two minutes. The puck was again faced and in the same number of minutes the T.A.S. boys scored again. Lakefield then woke up to the fact that it was up to them to do business if they wanted to look in, and after a mix-up in front of the T.A.S. nets, the puck was batted through, and the Lakefield rooters yelled themselves hoarse. Before half time the villagers scored again, and the first half ended a tie.

In the second half the T.A.S. boys went in to do or die, and had decidedly everything their own way to the finish. A few minutes after face-off they notched a goal and broke the tie, and added two more to their pile before time was called, winning the game by a score of 5—2.

The T.A.S. showed splendid condition, and their playing was entirely satisfactory to their supporters. F. McCoy in goal had his eye on everything that came his way, and played his position with credit. Billy Meagher and Billy Crowley at point and cover point were as reliable as ever, while the forwards, Geo. Lynch, W. George, Fred McGrath and W. Parnell, shone out brilliantly, but they could not get down to their fine work on the soft ice.

The Lakefield septette is a plucky aggregation and the fight they put up last evening was a creditable one indeed. The Ridpath brothers and Blomfield are the shinning stars on the team, and did some excellent work. The same might be said of the other members of the team. They made things look decidedly interesting for their opponents at certain periods during the first half, but it must be conceded that the T. A. S. team is the faster aggregation.

At the conclusion of the game the excitement was intense and Lindsay rang with shouts until the train pulled out.

The Fenelon Falls contingent made themselves heard and were willing to book small fortunes that their team would win the League again this year.

Among the interested spectators at the game were Rev. Dr. O'Brien, Ven Archdeacon Casey and Rev. F. J. O'Sullivan, of Lindsay, and Rev. Father Phelan, Young's Point.

The line-up of the teams was as follows:—

GIVEN A CABINET OF SILVER.

St. Andrew's Congregation to Their Departing Minister.

(Lindsay Post.)

The congregation of St. Andrew's church gave a farewell social last evening in the schoolroom to their pastor, Rev. J. W. Macmillan, prior to his departure for Winnipeg. Mr. J. R. McNeillie occupied the chair. A short musical programme was given by Misses Laidlaw and Gross, and Messrs. Hamilton and Tremeer, and short speeches were made by Rev. Mr. Sinclair, of Sonya, and Messrs. Jackson, Donald, Begg, McDougal, Paton and Low, representing different departments of the church work. All expressed deep regret at the removal of Mr. Macmillan, but wished him the best of blessings in his new field of labour. Mr. R. Ross in a few well-chosen words presented Mr. Macmillan with a beautiful cabinet of silver, which Mr. Macmillan suitably acknowledged, also expressing his appreciation of all the kindness he had received since coming to Lindsay.

Of the late Bem. Rose Hunter, who died November 20th, 1902.

Dearest Brother, thou hast left us,
And thy loss we deeply feel,
But 'tis God that hast bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal.

Peaceful be thy silent slumber,
Peaceful in the grave so low,
Thou no more will pain our number,
Thou no more our songs shalt know.

Yes, no more his smile will greet us,
And no more his loving words
For the Savour gently whispered,
Come to me, oh, come to me.

Yes, that home is sad and lonely
For the one we loved so well;
Yes, that chair it still is vacant,
And which never can be filled.

Yes, at midnight he was taken,
To the land beyond the day,
Safe upon the heavenly shore,
Done with pain for ever more.

Yes, dear Jesus thou didst call him
To that bright and happy land,
To be free from all his sufferings,
And be present with the Lord.

Yes, dear brother, we hope to meet thee
When the day of life is fled,
Then in Heaven with joy to greet thee
Where no farewell tear is shed.

SOME GREAT PEOPLE

"MEN AND WOMEN I HAVE MET," BY THE HON. J. W. LONGLEY.

Attorney-General of Nova Scotia Gives Some Interesting Personal Sketches of Prominent People to a Canadian Club Audience in Toronto—The King, Joseph Chamberlain, Marie Corelli, Joseph Howe and Others.

There is probably no characteristic of human nature more general or more highly developed than that which reaches out after knowledge of Great People or Great Places. The world worships a hero. The man who climbs to pre-eminent prominence by the ladder of politics, of literature or of war, the place which comes before the public as the scene of some great achievement is the man or place upon whom or upon which all eyes are cast. Such is the power of personality. Through their words or works the personality of an author or statesman so impresses itself upon the public that he becomes, as it were, one of the personal friends of the individual. Thus the address of the Hon. J. W. Longley recently on "Men and Women I Have Met" to two hundred members of the Canadian Club in Toronto interests everyone who reads or thinks, containing as it did interesting sketches of the King, Joseph Chamberlain, Marie Corelli, Grover Cleveland, William McKinley, Joseph Howe and others about whom all have heard. A politician, lawyer and litterateur Mr. Longley is well-known in Ontario, a couple of his claims to undying fame being the authorship of a work on "Love," and the authorship of what any waiting politician would call a sublime but stern truism, being the statement that "Too long in office is not good for one party."

An Intellectual Centre.

The test of a politician as well as the gracefulness of a litterateur and the shrewdness of a lawyer were combined in Mr. Longley's opening sentences, in which he expressed his pleasure at having an opportunity of holding communion with so many of the leading men of "this intellectual centre (Toronto)," by which of course he would have them know that they were not the least important men he had met. This sentiment he afterwards made clearer by assuring them that if he did not mention their names individually among his list of distinguished men it was because of his respect for their modesty and because of no lack of appreciation of their merits. This sentiment was popular, and Mr. Longley was already regarded as a man of large and quick discretion.

A Crisis at a Dull Time.

Launching into his theme, Mr. Longley took his hearers in thought and imagination back over a little journey of his in 1895, when for the first time he visited the British House of Commons, which stands in sublime grandeur on the banks of the Thames. Sketching little incidents illustrative of the difficulty of securing admission to the charmed and solemn precincts thereof, he told of the session then in progress—dull, monotonous, routine. It was in the precarious days of the Rosebery Government, which struggled along on a majority of eighteen or so—a majority which Mr. Longley seemed to scorn as paltry. However, at this particular time they went into committee of supply on the war estimates, and Mr. St. John Brodrick moved a reduction of £100 in the Minister's salary, the point being of course want of confidence. Sir William Harcourt was out in the smoking room, remarking in his own English way that "it was awfully dull and monotonous to have a day without a crisis," when the division bell rang, and Mr. Harcourt's crisis arrived in the shape of a defeat for the Government which he led by 132 to 127. And Mr. Longley thought it was worthy of comment that a crisis involving a change of Government, with its consequences so far-reaching, should have been accomplished under circumstances so dull and monotonous.

Strongest and Ablest Man.

Mr. Longley admitted he was not greatly impressed by British oratory and then went on to unbosom his great admiration for his friend Joe. Chamberlain, whom he described as being "by all means and by every test the strongest and ablest man in public life." He then enunciated the principle that rarely is the strongest man selected for leadership. A colorless, steady, won't-set-the-world-on-fire sort of man was generally the choice and just here it might be mentioned that Mr. Longley is not leader of his party in Nova Scotia. In his humble opinion, however, Joe Chamberlain, while not Prime Minister had exerted more influence in shaping the policy of the Empire than any other six men. A man who never slumbered or slept, possessed of colossal nervous energy, his department overshadowed all others, and he had a complete grasp of everything which pertains to any matter in connection with any part of the Empire. Such was Joseph Chamberlain.

Meeting the King.

Intending, of course, no reflection, Mr. Longley spoke of the King, the then Prince of Wales, next. This was in pursuance of his trip and not in righteous regard for the laws of precedence. It was at a big banquet in London, and in addition to Mr. Longley there were many distinguished men present. These included Lord Herschell, Sir Richard Webster, Sir Frank Lockwood, the only man who could make an afternoon speech, Lord Chas. Russell, Cardinal Vaughan, Lord Roberts. In paying his humble compliments to the Prince, Mr. Longley declared that never in his life had he met a man who so untiringly and so faithfully laid himself out to be urbane and agreeable to all than the Prince of Wales. He had a joke for each and a greeting for all and Mr. Longley was of opinion that while the duties of the office were circumscribed in looking around the great nations of the world it would be difficult to find one better equipped with grace and efficiency, tact and judiciousness for the high position of King than he who now rules this great Empire.

Kings of Literature.

While a politician and a lawyer, as has already been pointed out, Mr. Longley aspires after other books than blue books, however instructive, or works of law, however luminous and edifying. He even goes so far as to place literature of the broader kind higher in the scale of importance, and he went on to tell of the mighty minds he met at a five o'clock tea given by Mrs. Louise Chandler Moulton, of Boston, in London. This talented lady, it was pointed out, was one of the exceptions to the rule that authorship and poverty go sweetly and serenely hand-in-hand, but lest he should lead any aspiring writers astray the speaker hastened to explain that she married a man with money. Hence she could flourish five o'clock teas, and at one of these Mr. Longley met Israel Zangwill, who wrote a book with its scene in Nova Scotia, but who had never been in Nova Scotia, and showed no desire to compare notes with one who had; Mrs. Frances Hodgson, she of the soft, dreamy eyes, who wrote "Little Lord Fauntleroy;" Mrs. Alexander, novelist and woman of earnestness; Jerome K. Jerome, one of the funniest little creatures imaginable, always bubbling with humor, and the curves of whose mouth seemed to suggest the scenes and situations of his books; Mrs. Custer, the most interesting author of "Boots and Saddles." Later he met Mr. Grant Allen, who resented the insult of being classed with Canadians. Last, but not least, he met and spent an evening with Marie Corelli.

Marie Corelli's Mission.

And thereby hangs a tale. Mr. Longley likes Marie with the passionate fondness of a chivalrous man, and in telling about his visit to her home he launched out into a eulogy of her ladyship and her works. It was his opinion that few writers of the present day possess the genius and the power of the same much-maligned Marie, and he loved her for the enemies she had made. She was an earnest woman, seeking to do something worth while, and she was sneered at and abused because she does not conform to the tame, worldly and materialistic spirit of the age. "Looking abroad at the present time," declared the speaker, "she thinks as I think, that the twentieth century is opening up the most absolutely materialistic age the world has ever seen, with a hideous disregard for anything higher than elevators, electric roads steamboats or stocks." Even the churches were tainted, and you could turn a crank and run off half the worships of the present times, the devout souls being worrying over Dominion Steel stocks all the while. It was because Marie had sought to draw attention from these things and raise men to a higher level that she had got herself disliked, and yet he predicted her triumph would come and her name and fame would live long after the narrow wretches who criticized her were silent and forgotten.

Even at Washington.

Mr. Longley does not pose as a humorist, and yet he sprung a little joke when he said, "there were men worth meeting, even at Washington."

He told this story of the late President McKinley's urbanity, who, although William McKinley, a man of great charm of manner, was at that time just introducing the famous McKinley Bill.

"I want to tell you how much I appreciate your friendship and your kindness to me. At the same time I must say I have nothing but contempt for your bill." This is what Mr. Longley said in parting.

"My dear sir, it is such opinions from such men as you which gives me faith in my bill." This is what Mr. McKinley most graciously said in reply.

Thomas B. Reed was described as the strongest intellectual man of his age.

A Great Canadian.

Mr. Longley did not wish to trespass on the dangerous ground of expressing opinions about great Canadians, and besides he hadn't time, but he tarried long enough to tell of the qualities which made Nova Scotia's own Joseph Howe one of the most unique and wonderful characters of Canadian life, a greater than Macdonald, Blake, Cartier or Mackenzie, and so endeared him to his own people that when he died tens of thousands cried as though at the loss of a friend. While others were playing the political game he was planning great plans. Hence he won.

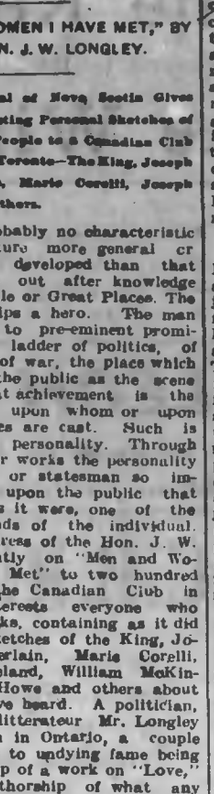
Dr. Hamilton's Pills stimulate the Liver.

Is 100 Years Old.

Saturday, Dec. 27, 1903, being the 100th birthday of Mrs. Walter Watkins of Forestville, her relatives and friends met at her home to commemorate that event with a surprise party. In all, there were 101 persons present. Of these there were 11 over 60, 6 over 70, and Mrs. Griffin over 80 years of age, all of whom live within a few miles of one another. They assembled to honor the sole surviving pioneer of the Township of Charlotteville, who was born Dec. 27, 1802, at the village of Catshill, near a creek of the same name, but known to the inhabitants of that time as North River, in the State of New York. Jane Frayer came to Canada with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Frayer, one brother and one sister, and arrived at the Long Point settlement in November, 1807. She married Walter Watkins in 1826, and has lived in the neighborhood and almost in sight of her father's farm all her life time.



She Can't Enjoy The Baby

Unless she is a healthy mother. No woman can. If the baby has drained her vitality; if its care is a tax; if, in short, the baby is a burden instead of a blessing, how can she enjoy it? She loves it, but she cannot feed it. She yearns for it, but has not the strength to fondle it.

There is nothing more beautiful in the world than a healthy mother and her healthy child. The madonna is the highest reach of human art. In the serene strength which art gives to the typical mother and child there is distinct denial of suffering and weakness as a necessity of motherhood. But how few women are there to whom motherhood is naturally an abiding joy. In how many cases a woman dates her loss of health from the birth of her child! To all such suffering women Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription comes as a veritable god-send. It prepares the mother for her hour of trial, tranquilizes her nerves, encourages her appetite, and brings her restful sleep. It makes the baby's advent practically painless, and gives the mother abundant strength to nurse and nourish her child.

Every claim made for "Favorite Prescription" is supported by the testimonials of wives and mothers, thousands in number, and covering in their several experiences the whole range of womanly suffering. In a great number of cases after the utter failure of all doctors and medicines, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, tried as a last resort, has effected a perfect and permanent cure.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All womanly confidences held under the seal of strict professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription" and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

Between Life and Death.

"I think Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' the best medicines in the world," writes Mrs. Amelia Dougherty, of Kerrigan, Wayne Co., Mo. "My baby was born last summer. After baby came I became ill, had the best physician that could be got, and he diagnosed my case as uterine trouble tending to dropsy. Medicine seemed to do me no good; I lingered between life and death for quite a while, every day growing weaker, and I could not walk across the room. My friends were looking for my death every minute. A friend wrote and told me about Dr. R. V. Pierce, and I at once wrote to him for medical advice. He replied immediately, giving me full instructions as to what to do. I at once followed his advice, and when I had taken his medicine about a week I felt a good deal stronger. When I had taken it about one month I felt as strong as I do to-day. I took four bottles of each kind and two vials of 'Pleasant Pellets.' Many thanks for the medicine. It has cured me permanently."

Gained 40 Pounds.

"I am very glad to let other poor sufferers know what Dr. Pierce's medicines have done for me," writes Mrs. Edwin H. Gardner, of Beechwood, Norfolk Co., Mass., Box 70. "You know I wrote to you last summer. I read what your medicine had done for other people, so thought I would try it, and I found that it was a blessing to me and my family. I began in June and took six bottles of your medicine, and three vials of 'Pellets.' I took your medicine a year when I had a ten pound girl. I had the easiest time I ever had with any of my three children. I have been very well since I took your medicine. I took three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' three of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and three vials of 'Pellets.' I had no appetite and could not eat much without it distressing me before I took your 'Favorite Prescription' and I only weighed 125 pounds. Now I weigh 172 pounds."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets commend themselves as a family laxative. They are easy to take, effective in results, and their use does not beget the pill habit.

Nerve Disorders of Women

Accompanied by Neuralgia, Irritability, Sleeplessness and Depressed Spirits,

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The feminine organism requires an enormous quantity of blood, not only to sustain the network of nerves which are found in the womanly system, but also to make good the periodical loss which so weakens the body.

Consequently it happens that just as soon as the blood gets weak and watery, or is deficient in quantity, the nervous system suffers, and in women the effects are most severely felt in the form of irregularities and weaknesses of the feminine system.

At the beginning of womanhood, at childbirth, during the nursing periods, and at the change of life, calls are made for an extra supply of blood and as a result nervous disorders are exceedingly common at these times, and the health and happiness of the remainder of life may depend on the care of the system.

Because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food actually forms new blood and creates new nerve force, it is the most effective preparation ever used by women to build up the system, and restore vigour and strength to the body.

Mrs. R. J. Huffman, 268 Reid street, Peterborough, Ont., and whose husband is employed at the Canadian General Electric Company, states:

"For over a year I suffered from nervous headaches and feelings of weakness and dizziness would come over me. My nervous system seemed weak and exhausted, and hearing of the success of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I began using it. I am now pleased to state that the headaches do no bother me any more and my system is entirely built up and restored."

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

BRITISH SUPERSTITIONS.

Odd Passion Which Controls Humble Folks' Doings—Midnight Mas Its Due Influences on the Impressionable.

At the approach of midnight on Hallow E'en the girls in the moorland districts used to go into the gardens to gather sage leaves, one leaf at each stroke of the clock. Then they said, they would see the face of their future husbands. A common proverb, too, was, "Where the sage thrives the mistress is master." Sage is chopped still, in some parts, and put in the milk cheeses in layers, but only for Christmas use. Parsley is supposed to have some special virtue. It goes, they say, seven times to the devil before coming up. In Anjou, thick collars of green parsley are tied round cats whose kittens have been taken from them, to prevent milk fever. Marsh marigolds—kingcups—used to be hung on either side the outer door to keep out evil spirits, but it was unlucky to take these flowers indoors. Hawthorn blossom was not supposed to bring death to a house, as is said in the southern counties, but to bring fevers. There might be reason in this, in the hermetically sealed rooms of the past. By and by, the best way to make an almond-flavored essence for sweets is to cram hawthorn blossoms into wide-necked bottles, fill up with spirits, and cork tightly.

The Elder for Witches.

Burning the wood of the elder will bring all manner of evil to the house; in old-fashioned cottage gardens it was planted to keep away the influences of witch or wizard. Willow wood is used in some trades, but it is unlucky to make whipstocks of it. In the Carpathians I have seen it much used for making ornamental cigar holders. Cabbages, the Staffordshire folks say, will never get hearts if planted when the moon is on the wane. Strangely enough, at our Antipodes, the Maoris hold firmly that the sweet potato will never thrive unless planted when the moon is on the increase. Also the tubers must be laid north and south. If the eggs of a swallow are taken into a cowhouse the cows will give milk streaked with blood. I have a friend in New Zealand whose favorite cow did this because he fondled a little dog in her presence just at milking time, a strange evidence of her jealousy.

A Corpse of Bees.

One of the sisters who had care of the bees in the convent garden at Stone told Mr. Wells Bladen of that town that on the death of their lady foundress in 1868 the bees found their way into the church where she lay in state, and when the sister, who was very fond of her bees, went there she saw a beautiful sight. They had swarmed in a circle round the coffin, about a foot and a half above it—some forming a corona round the head. "Oh, I forgot to tell the bees; they will go!" she cried. And indeed they all went; she never saw them again. A most comical superstition is that if you are boiling black puddings—a local dainty—if you prick them and think of the greatest idiot you know, it will keep them from bursting; another odd one, that if you comb your hair out of doors and the birds get any of the stray hairs and put them in their nests, you will suffer from headache.

A Bad Bake Day.

In Staffordshire it is unlucky to bake bread on a Friday; if you are obliged to do it, you must mark the dough with a cross, or the witches will prevent its rising. In the New Forest, on the contrary, bread baked on a Friday is said to keep good for seven years, and also to cure certain complaints. In a Surrey shepherd's cottage I have seen numbers of little loaves hanging from the rafters in the best room, which I was told had been baked on successive Good Fridays. The shepherd told me he had brought the custom from Hampshire, and none of his neighbors knew the virtue of these loaves.

A quaint Christmas song of the Midlands runs:

The first day of Christmas
My true love sent me
Three French hens,
Two turtle doves,
Part of the June pear tree

I am inclined to think that June pear must originally have been juniper.—Pall Mall Gazette.

A Kiss Tax.

The ancient town of Hungerford, in England, is the scene of a curious fete each year on the first Tuesday after Easter. Under a primeval and time honored arrangement the authorities exact a toll from every male and female inhabitant within certain boundaries, the masculine tax being one penny and the female levy a sound kiss. Two burly beadles, carrying massive wands of office, proceed from house to house levying these quaint taxes, and it is recognized on the day in question any youth may with impunity embrace any maiden whom he encounters.

The result is that a veritable carnival of osculation takes place yearly in Hungerford, and it attracts various visitors to the quaint little town, many of whom participate, though not entitled to do so, in the delights of the day.

Jersey Lily's Turn at Criticism.

Mrs. Langtry was discussing the other day the recent marriage of the octogenarian Marquis of Donegal with a young Canadian girl. She said it reminded her of an incident in the life of her father. Her father was a clergyman, and there came to him to be married one day a man of 70 and a girl of 18. The minister whispered, when this ill-assorted couple came and stood before him:

"The font is at the other end of the church."

"What do we want with the font? We are here to be married," said the old man.

"Oh, I beg your pardon," the clergyman rejoined. "I thought you had brought this young girl here to be christened."

I Advise Suffering Women Strongly, to Take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This advice comes from a woman who had suffered all the miseries women can suffer from disease, and had been perfectly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This great medicine for women establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

Read Mrs. Kempson's letter and, if you are sick, follow her advice.

"Although it has been quite a time since I wrote you," says Mrs. Fred Kempson, of Cambria, Hillsdale Co., Mich., box 57, "still your name is a blessing in our house, and I think it my duty to let you know that I am still enjoying good health, thanks to you and your 'Favorite Prescription.' When I think how I was five years ago, and then see how I am now, I say, God bless Dr. Pierce's works, and may he live long to help poor suffering women. I have never had any return of my weakness and am well and hearty. Can do all my own work without any pain. You saved me from the grave when all others failed. I advise suffering women strongly, to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as I know it will cure in all cases, if indeed there is a cure."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are an excellent laxative, suited to the use of delicate women.

OUR MINING EXPERT.

Canada's Superintendent of Mines Is a Native of Silesia—His Quick Work in Establishing Assay Office.

Dr. Haanel, Canadian Superintendent of Mines, was born in the City of Breslau, Silesia, on May 24, 1841. He was educated in the Gymnasium in that city, and received the degree of A.M. from Ohio University in 1868, and that of Ph.D. from Breslau University in 1873. From 1866 to 1867 Dr. Haanel was professor of science at Adrian College, Michigan, and from 1868 to 1972 professor of natural science at Albion College, in the same State. In 1875 he was appointed professor of natural science at Victoria University, a position which he retained until 1889. His stay at Victoria was advantageous both to the students and to the institution itself. It is worthy of note Faraday Hall, the first science hall that he established during this time founded in Canada. While at Victoria he was Dean of the Faculty of Science. In 1889 Dr. Haanel went to Syracuse University, and the erection of a hall of physics there was largely due to his efforts. In June, 1901, Dr. Haanel was appointed Superintendent of Mines for Canada. One of his first duties was the establishment and equipment of an assay office at Vancouver, which was accomplished by him in the phenomenal space of 3½ weeks. The assay office is perhaps one of the best equipped places of the kind on the American continent. Few persons, however, know the efforts that were required to obtain the appliances in the United States within the limited time allowed. Dr. Haanel is a man of fine intellect and genial manners. He is thoroughly conversant with the latest developments and discoveries in modern science.

The Badger as a Fireman.

A badger which had made its home among the granite cliffs dealt with the fire god with sagacity and skill, says Nature. A friend, while painting a sea piece, discovered a badger's lair and thought to play the animal a practical joke. Gathering together a bundle of grass and weeds, he placed it inside the mouth of the hole and, igniting it with a match, waited for the ignominious flight of the astonished householder. But Master Badger was a resourceful animal and not disposed to be made a butt of practical jokers. He came up from the depths of his hole as soon as the penetrating smoke told him that there was a fire on the premises and deliberately scratched earth on the burning grass with his strong claws until all danger was past. No human being could have grasped the situation more quickly or displayed greater skill in dealing with an unfamiliar event.

The Bud of a Tree.

Among the curious things discovered by the students of plant life is the fact that a bud taken from one tree and grafted on another carries the age of the original tree with it. It has always been believed that the bud so transferred began a wholly new life, but this new theory—it may, after all, be more theory than fact as yet—shows the matter in an entirely different light.

For example, if a bud be taken from a tree that is twenty-five years old with a natural life of fifty years and grafted on another tree it will not live as long as its parent tree is entitled to live, the full fifty years, but only for the period of life then left to the tree, twenty-five years.

Reason for His Nickname.

"I hope they don't give my little boy any naughty nicknames in school?" "Yes, ma, they call me Corns." "How dreadful! And why do they call you that?" "'Cause I'm always at the foot of the class."

MORE ABOUT ELI HYMAN.

One Chance That Greed Missed to Save Some of Its Money.

The writer met him on the street some time after the failure of the Farmers' Loan and Savings Company, and, on enquiring how things were going with him financially, he exclaimed passionately: "Oh! I hev bin robbed, robbed; first it was the Financial Loan wot went busted and done me up, and now the Farmers' Loan peoples haf got on to me and dey're making me pay up on the uncalled stock." "But," I said, "I thought you were going to make some sort of a compromise with the liquidators?" "No," he replied, "dey would not make no gompromise mit me, dey put in dem dam bailiffs and seized onto everting I haf, and I am near dead."

It appears that he could have made at one time a good compromise with the Farmers' Loan people, but, while he was trying to squirm out of his debt altogether, the liquidators of the company got to know about his wealth and circumstances, and rightly made him pay up in full. This and other losses drove him to the "walking sandwich" mode of employment and rags and bottles business again. The miserable old man lived in a shed, denied himself almost the bare necessities of life, and died in the hospital, through the charity of the city, worth about $100,000, but declaring his poverty to the last breath. The ruling passion strong in death.—A. M. C. in Monetary Times.

People With Bad Breath.

Generally suffer from catarrh and should use Catarrhozone Inhaler four times daily, and be cured. The pleasant scented Catarrhozone vapour spread through every air passage of the breathing organs, and reaches the very root of the disease at once. It kills the germs, purifies and cleanses the mucous surfaces and eradicates every vestige of catarrh in a short time.

Pure, sweet breath, free from headache, sneezing and discharge are quickly deprived from the use of Catarrhozone Inhaler. Complete outfit, guaranteed to cure, costs $1. Trial size 25c. Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Population of Ireland.

According to the report of the Registrar-General for Ireland the marriages registered in that country in 1901 numbered 22,564, the births 100,976, and the deaths 79,119. The marriage rate (5.08 per 1,000 of the estimated population) shows an increase of 0.31 as compared with that for the preceding year, and is 0.22 above the average rate for the ten years 1891-1900; the birthrate (22.7 per 1,000) is the same as that for the preceding year, but 0.4 under the average rate for the ten years 1891-1900; while the death rate (17.8 per 1,000) is 1.8 below the rate for the preceding year, and 0.5 below the average rate for the ten years 1891-1900. The recorded natural increase of population, or excess of births over deaths, was 21,857. The loss by emigration amounted to 39,613. There would thus appear to have been a decrease of 17,756 in the population during the year, but against this decrease there is a set-off in immigration of which no official record has been obtained. The estimated population in the middle of the year was 4,445,630.

Decline in the British Birth Rate.

According to figures recently published in London, France is not the only country in which the birth rate is below the normal. The statistics also show a marked decline in the English birth rate. London shows a decrease since 1881 from 27.4 to 20.6 per 100 of married women under the age of 45 years. The decline is most noticeable in the fashionable quarters of the capital, while the slum areas, such as Stepney, Shadwell and Bethal Green, are almost stationary. Outside of London the decline amounts to 25.8 against 3.03 in 1890.—Medical Record.

A Quick Witted Waiter.

During mosquito season a party of diners seated themselves at table in an outdoor restaurant, and a man of the party took the bill of fare and began to study it. A mosquito lighted upon it and instantly lost its life by a quick blow from the man, its little carcass remaining on the bill. Pointing to it, the man said to the waiter:

"Do you serve those on toast?" And the waiter promptly replied:

"They're on the bill, sir!"

THE WALL STREET MARKET

New York, Feb. 11.—The conditions are generally good; the recent advance of approximately one cent per pound in cotton has not been widely appreciated. The gain means $56,000,000 wealth for the south west. Holders of M. and Kt. should maintain their position. It will be well to take on some Rock Island. The buying is excellent. There is a fairly large short interest in Southern Pac. and Union Pac. Both should be bought on any further recession.

Buyers of to-day will get the dividend on B. & O. since the stock will be quoted ex-div. at opening on Friday. London hears that the Venezuelan affair has now been practically closed. Leather shares are a purchase. Take A.C.P. on dips.

JOSEPH.

New York, Feb. 11.—We expect to see some irregularity in the stock market to-day, chiefly owing to the holiday to-morrow. There will probably be an evening up of contracts.

The reaction of yesterday may be attributed to professional selling largely Floor traders attempted a small raid based upon the rumors of gold engaged for export, but these reports proved false. Money continues to be easy.

Outside interest has increased slightly and if manipulations detect any signs of a more pronounced public absorption it may rest assured that the upward movement will gradually continue.

Buy after reactions and for turns.

Bull points continue to be circulated on Southern Railway.

TOPICS.

New York, Feb. 11.—Some reaction issued after the rapid advance since Saturday, but the big men seem to have started a bull campaign and I do not believe the reactions will amount to very much. The public began to nibble a little yesterday but the situation that any amount of outside buying would render it that much easier for outsiderss to put up the market. The public must be allowed to make a little money first in order to give them encouragement to come in. And if the big men want to get rid of their great load of stocks at all this spring is the time they have got to do it. Probably outsiders will be shy of coming in after the great scoring they got last fall, but previous experience has proven that the lambs can never withstand 2 or 3 months activity and rising prices. At any rate insiders calculate to do a lot of unloading this spring at prices much above the level now prevailing.

About all the advice I can give is to buy on the reactions of a point or two and buy a little more on scale down but do not overload. Though conditions are bullish this is not a "snap thing"

Market.—Barring disaster the trend is upward, but a runaway market is not at all likely at present. Stocks ought to be a buy to-day on weakness. I hope to have something real good in a few days.

RIDGLEY.

New York, Feb. 11.—The early part of to-day's session indicated some profit-taking but the declines were of small consequence. There is hardly any question but what prices are bound for higher levels, and on the declines the offerings are very light with little or no pressure to sell. Erie issues were in good demand as was also Amal. Copper. Speculation in Canadian Pacific is a little slow at present; the report just issued shows good increases but the conservative element in the company favour continuing present dividend. Among the railroads this is one of the best to purchase as with a little patience those who have the courage will be well rewarded. We are confident of higher prices for the following: Missouri Pac. Southern Pac., Texas Pac. and the better class of industrials. American Car Foundry shows steady accumulation as does American Smelters. The time appears ripe for picking up some bargains as indications point toward an accumulation of stocks by the strong interests who are well able to keep in touch with the financial and the commercial situation. To sum up the situation the market refuses to go down on bad news such as poor bank statement etc. as another one is due Saturday, consequently the market is bound to go up as it never remains stationery for any length of time. Would purchase the standard issues. The buying of Mexican Central is excellent, looks as if it were going higher. At close market was trifle irregular.

Chicago.—Wheat was weak to-day partly due to lower cables and decrease in export demand. Should export demand increase prices will advance. We prefer July option for purchase. Closing prices, wheat, May, 78 1-4; Corn, May, 45 3-8; Oats, May, 37 1-2 a 5-8; Pork, May, 18.90; Lard, May, 9.45.

Despaired of Being Cured.

Mrs. W. E. Jeffries, 44 Hicks avenue, Kingston, Ont., says: "I suffered agony with itching piles. In fact I don't believe that any person who has not had piles can realise what I endured. The first application of Dr. Chase's Ointment brought me relief, and it has since entirely cured me. I hope that this testimonial will be the means of bringing comfort to other sufferers by making known the great power of this ointment."

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

An Interesting Article by Mr. R. B. Rogers.

He Describes the Lift Lock and Other Important Portions of the Route.

The following is a continuation of Mr. R. B. Rogers' interesting article on the Trent Waterway:

STRUCTURES.

All the structures recently constructed are built of concrete. No more suitable material for the construction of locks and dams could be wished for. The locks are of the ordinary type, with the exception of the hydraulic locks. The valves for filling and emptying the locks are placed in the gates. The apparatus for opening and closing the gates consists of a stiff steel beam fastened to the top of the gate. To either end of this beam is fastened the ends of a wire cable, which passes around the corrugated drum of a capstan, which is let into a void below the coping of the lock. Tile drains encased in stone are placed below the floor, and at different levels at the back of the lock walls, in order to relieve the floors and walls of any hydraulic pressure that might arise. The hollow quoins are lined with cast iron in order to make a smooth surface against which the gates may work. The gates are of the solid timber pattern. Owing to the great amount of lockage to be overcome hydraulic locks are introduced in order to save time. The smaller streams are carried below the prism of the canal where necessary by means of pipe culverts, and the larger streams by concrete culverts. Where at all possible the highways and railways are carried across the canal on high level bridges, which it is proposed in future to construct wholly of cement. The head room allowed below the bridge to the surface of the water is 25 feet. Where it is not convenient to use high level bridges the highways, etc., are carried across the canal on steel swing bridges—the abutments and piers of which are of concrete. The first dams constructed were of timber with a wall or "cut off" of concrete on the upper side. Stop log openings are left in the dam in order to be able to regulate the spring freshets, which sometimes rise to ten times the ordinary flow. A timber slide is left in each dam for the passage of sawlogs and timber. All dams at the present time are built wholly of concrete.

HYDRAULIC LOCK.

A short description of the hydraulic lock at Peterborough may be interesting. There are two water-tight steel boxes or chambers, 33 feet in width by 140 feet in length, with 8 feet of water in the clear, and closed at the ends by means of gates hung on the lower edge. Similar gates also close the ends of the reaches. These chambers are carried by means of heavy trusses supported on top of two rams, 7 feet 6 inches in diameter, which work in two steel water-tight presses, one under each chamber. The presses are connected with each other by a pipe 12 inches in diameter, in the centre of which a valve is placed for the purpose of regulating the motion of the chambers. For the purpose of making up for the small quantity of water lost in the working of the main presses an accumulator is installed in one of the side towers. This accumulator has a ram 20 inches in diameter, with a stroke of 30 feet 6 inches, working at a pressure slightly greater than that of the main presses. Its pressure is also used to operate the gates, capstans and small pumps. The junction between the ends of the movable superstructure and the ends of the reaches is made water-tight by means of a continuous rubber hose placed on the outer sides of the ends and bottom of the gate of the reach. This hose is inflated with compressed air from a Taylor air compressor installed in the main wall.

The mode of operating the lock is as follows: Supposing both chambers are at a standstill, one up and the other down. Both gates towards the reach open ready for the vessel to enter. When the chambers are thus, the bottom of the upper chamber will be about ten inches lower than the bottom of the canal above, and has, say, 8 feet 10 inches of water on the sill. The bottom of the lower chamber will be just level with the bottom of the canal below, and will have eight feet of water on the sill. Thus the upper chamber has ten inches more water in it than the lower chamber, and consequently is so much heavier than the lower one (approximately 100 tons). The valve in the connecting pipe between the two presses is closed. When it is desired to operate the lock gates at the end of each chamber, and the gates at the ends of the reaches are closed, the air is allowed to escape from the air hose—making the water-tight seal between the lock and the end of the reach—and the operator, who stands in his cabin on the top of the central tower, opens the valve in the connecting pipe between the presses. The upper chamber then commences to descend and the lower chamber to ascend till both chambers reach their new positions, the upper chamber being now level with the lower reach, and the former lower chamber being opposite the upper reach. The operator now closes the main valve in the connecting pipe, and inflates the air hose forming the water-tight seal at the end of the lock. When the chambers are in their new positions, the surface of the water in the lower chamber is ten inches above the surface of the water in the reach below, and the surface of the water in the upper chamber 10 inches below the surface of the water in the reach above. Communication between the water in the chambers and the reaches is now made by opening the valves in the gates nearest the reaches, and the water in each chamber is allowed to find its own level. The gates are then opened. When this is done the chambers are then in the condition they were on starting. Vessels are hauled in and out of the chambers by means of hydraulic capstans. The time allowed to lock and pass one or two vessels in and out of the lock will be from 12 to 15 minutes. The time required to raise or lower the lock chambers will be about three minutes. On the upstream side of the lock a guard gate will be placed which will be operated by hydraulic power, and will be closed when a vessel enters the lock. The substructure of the hydraulic lock is built of concrete. The natural surface of the limestone is at such an elevation that very little expense is necessary for the finishing of the floors at the lower reach level. The main retaining wall, 125 feet long by 40 feet thick, rests upon the limestone formation. Its height will be about 83 feet. The sides are carried up plumb for their whole height, the bearing pressure upon the rock being only about 6 tons per square foot. The steel superstructure is being built by the Dominion Bridge Company of Montreal.

STRINGENT RESTRICTIONS ARE REQUIRED

Regulations by Provincial Board of Health.

REGARDING SCARLET FEVER

Health of Province Fairly Good, but Scarlet Fever Epidemic Necessitated Prompt and Vigorous Measures by Authorities.

The seriousness of the smallpox and scarlet fever epidemics and the effectual check afforded by vaccination against the former were the outstanding features revealed at the quarterly meeting of the Provincial Board of Health, which opened in the office of the Secretary, Dr. P. H. Bryce, yesterday, in Toronto. Dr. Vaux, the Chairman, presided, the other members present being Dr. Oldright and Dr. Cassidy, Toronto; Dr. Kitchen, St. George; Dr. McCollough, Owen Sound, and Dr. Douglas, Cobourg. The absolute necessity of prompt and energetic measures to check the spread of scarlet fever was recognised by every member of the board, and at the afternoon session stringent resolutions were adopted providing for isolation and disinfection in scarlet fever cases, similar to those which have proved efficacious with respect to smallpox and diphtheria.

In his quarterly report Dr. Bryce said the public health had remained fairly good as regards contagious diseases, with the exception of scarlet fever and smallpox. Both had existed in a more severe type than we had had for some time. Of smallpox the statistics showed there had been 2,500 cases in the Province during 1902, resulting in ten deaths. Of scarlet fever there were 3,119 cases and 268 deaths.

More Virulent Outbreak.

The scarlet fever had been more virulent than for years past. In Toronto during the last six months of the year there had been 701 cases and 83 deaths. The death rate had been 9 per cent. in the cities generally and 12.6 per cent. in Toronto, while in January, 1903, there had been 106 cases and 21 deaths in Toronto, a much higher percentage.

Deaths Last Year.

The Chairman, Dr. Vaux, in his report said the work for the year had shown no great sensations from the standpoint of the public health. The total deaths from all causes were 25,208, or an average of a little over 12S per thousand. The deaths from tuberculosis were 2,164, a decrease of 122; diphtheria, 444, a decrease of 63; typhoid, 363; whooping cough, 144, an increase of 32. Favourable comment was made on the results of the lumber camp regulations and on the improved methods of sanitation in suburban houses. Dealing with the disease of tuberculosis, the old adage, "prevention is better than cure," has, he said, increasingly proved to be true. Almost at the moment that positive assurances are given that tuberculosis is curable reports come to us from eminent authorities that some apparent cures are only temporary, and that a large proportion of those who fondly hoped that they had conquered their foe have been doomed to disappointment by a return of their malady. While this may be true, in his experience personal hygiene and the hygiene of dwellings, shops, schools and factories will be found to exercise a far greater influence on the reduction of morality from tuberculosis than will result from segregation in sanitaria.

Scarlet Fever Regulations.

The entire afternoon session was taken up in the discussion upon the regulations for control of cases of scarlet fever, the various phases of the subject being thoroughly threshed out. The new regulations, as adopted are comprehensive in their scope, and their enforcement will, it is anticipated, be effective in checking and controlling a serious menace to the public health of the Province. Many of the provisions with respect to the reporting and isolation in hospitals especially provided for the purpose of cases of scarlet fever, with the precautionary measures regarding quarantine of persons who have been exposed, and disinfection of clothing, etc., are similar to those which have proved so efficacious in the treatment of smallpox and diphtheria. In fatal cases the funeral must be private, and specific instructions for the guidance and protection of the undertaker and his assistants are included. The maximum period of incubation of the disease is fixed at one week, and it is also provided that every person ill with scarlet fever and the surroundings of such persons shall be considered infective until the process of desquamation has been completed and all infective discharges have ceased, and in no case shall the period of infection be considered to have ceased in less than six weeks from the commencement of the illness.

Another clause provides that when the disease occurs in a school the Medical Health Officer shall direct that an examination of all exposed persons, whether in the classroom or absentees in the home shall be made daily by physicians until the period of incubation is past.

CIVIC SALARIES.

A New Arrangement Introduced in Belleville.

Belleville, Feb. 12.—The City Council at their sitting last night rearranged the civic offices and fixed salaries as follows:—City Clerk, $700 per year; City Solicitor, $400; City Treasurer, $700, with $200 additional for waterworks; City Surveyor, $700, and $300 as manager of the waterworks; engineer of the fire department, $450; assistant Chief, $200; Medical Health Officer, $100. A reduction of about $1,000 per year is thus made. The Council will grant $400 per year to the Public Library, on condition that the board guarantee that no debts be left at the end of the year. Ald. Marsh and Sulman were appointed to the board.

A memorial from the Peterborough Council for the prosecution of work on the Trent Valley Canal has been endorsed by the Mayor, who will attend a meeting in that behalf at Peterborough next Monday.

FATAL IMITATION.

Laurier, Man., Children Used Lye For Preparation of a Meal.

Winnipeg, Feb. 12. — A very sad triple tragedy is reported from Laurier, Man., on the Dauphin branch, resulting in the death of three members of a French family by the name of Mousette. The mother of the children went to wash at a neighbor's and left the little ones at home to shift for themselves. It appears that Mrs. Mousette was in the habit of using lye in preparing beans for the table, and the little ones undertook to follow her example in getting the food ready for dinner on the day in question. The trouble was that they did not limit the quantity of lye they placed upon the beans and when they partook of them death resulted shortly after by paralysis of their throats.

A MAYORAL GATHERING.

Meeting on Tuesday Next to Discuss Niagara Power Question.

Brantford, Feb. 12.—A meeting of manufacturers and others interested in the question of the transmission of electric power from Niagara Falls to towns and cities in Western Ontario will be held in Berlin on Tuesday next. The Mayors of the different municipalities are being invited to attend.

At the meeting a report will be read from a committee appointed to decide upon the best course of procedure to secure proper legislation to enable municipalities to use Niagara power.

END OF THE SCOURGE.

Galt Had 81 Smallpox Cases, But Nearly All Are Convalescent.

Galt, Feb. 12. — Notwithstanding some rumors to the contrary, the smallpox epidemic in this town and neighborhood is at an end, and the disease otherwise is completely under control. There were in all 81 cases, affecting 21 families scattered through the town, several of the cases being in single families. Most of the patients who have been under treatment have been either discharged as cured or convalescent, the number in the Isolation Hospital being, as far as can be learned, sixteen. It is understood that all the patients are progressing favorably, and no fatalities are expected.

To Start a Revolt.

Vienna, Feb. 12.—Considerable interest has been aroused here by a despatch from Sofia that Boris Saraffoff, the famous Macedonian leader and former president of the Macedonian committee, has already gone to Macedonia to start a revolt. Saraffoff has the reputation of being a capable and desperate leader, having unequalled knowledge of the mountain passes.

Bulgaria Getting Ready.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 12.—The Government is contemplating calling out two army divisions, Sofia and Philippopolis furnishing one each. The concentration of Turkish troops on the Bulgarian frontier is given as the reason for this partial mobilization.

A "Tip" For the Waiter.

"Everything all right, sir?" asked the waiter.

The patron nodded, but still the waiter hovered near.

"Steak cooked to suit you, sir?" he asked again presently.

Again the patron nodded.

"Potatoes the way you like 'em, sir?"

"Yes."

Another period of silence.

"I hope the service is satisfactory, sir."

"Are you bidding for a tip?" demanded the patron.

"Well, sir, of course we get tips sometimes, and I've got to go to the kitchen for another party, so"—

"So you'd like a tip now, to be sure of it? Well, I'll give you one."

"Yes, sir."

"Here is the tip: I have a large, strident voice that I am capable of using. If anything is wrong, I'll let out a roar you can hear in the kitchen. If you don't hear it, you can know I am dining in peace and comfort, for it's no fun to have to pass verbal judgment on every mouthful I eat."

"But the tip?"

"That's the tip, and a mighty good one it is too."

The Origin of Johnnycake.

No doubt many others besides the writer may have wondered how johnnycake came to be thus named. When a child, I settled it for myself by imagining John Smith, whom Pocahontas saved, had something to do with it. The cake being made of Indian meal, became thus associated in my mind with the historical name. A writer in the Housekeeper says:

In tracing the term we find ourselves at a time antedating by many years steam cars and hotels on wheels, in an age when mankind depended entirely upon his four footed companions for transportation and had only saddlebags in which to carry his luggage. Taverns were few and far apart, and a lunch was always acceptable. Cornmeal, forming so large a part of the dietary in those days, held a chief place in making up the lunch. Wet with water and a little salt added, it was baked in a shape that stored away in the saddlebags nicely and was called journey cake. This is the origin of our modern, unconventional johnnycake.

STRIKE AT FERNIE.

Mining Operations at Crow's Nest Completely Suspended.

TWO CONFLICTING STORIES.

One Special to Victoria Gives a List of Strikers' Grievances, and Another Says Miners Refuse to State Their Case —General Manager Tonkin Says He Will Not Recognize Union —Can Fight Eight Months.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 13.—A special despatch from Fernie announces that the coal miners of the Crow's Nest mines are on strike.

The men went out at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning in all three collieries, viz.: in Michel, Morrissey and Coal Creek, of which Fernie is the centre. All these men belong to the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company.

Strikers' Grievances.

The strike has been threatened for some time, and the grievances of the men are set forth as follows:

First—Cutting of prices at Morrissey at 40 cents per ton.

Second—Use of "McGinty's" at Morrissey.

Third—Employment of Chinese at Michel.

Fourth—Scarcity of timber in mines.

Fifth—Non-recognition of the District Miners' Union.

The strike had been feared for some time.

"McGinty's."

The use of "McGinty's" had caused a great deal of protest. These are posts fixed at the top of inclines round which a cable is drawn for drawing up cars. It is contended that they involve great danger to the men, hence this inclusion in the list of grievances.

The District Miners' Union was organized to prevent the company operating one or two mines while the men of the third were on strike. This measure was taken by the men for their protection, hence the fifth complaint that Crow's Nest Coal Company will not recognize the association.

About 2,000 men are involved.

Miners Refuse to State Their Case.

Another special from Fernie says:—Mining operations are tied up. The present crisis has been pending for some time. The district union, embracing representatives from the local unions, had been in consultation with Mr. J. Baker, British Columbia representative of the Western Federation of Miners, last week, but it is thought that he did not sanction the strike. The miners are very secretive, and refuse to tell their grievances, on the ground that they intend to wait until General Manager Tonkin approaches them. They demand that the company recognize the union, and that Mr. Tonkin refuses to do. The grievances are said to chiefly concern Morrissey, where the men are paid only 40 cents a ton, while here they get 60 cents.

Suffering Already.

The company cannot supply local coal orders, and an intense cold snap is already beginning to cause suffering.

Mr. Tonkin says the company will not give in, and that he is prepared to close the mines for eight months. The Slav element, which is strong, for a long time refused to favor the strike.

Business men are in a peculiar position. They cannot learn the men's grievances, and yet if they do not agree with them they are censured. The men cannot stand a long strike without outside aid, and many are not recovered from the effects of the last strike.

Mr. Tonkin has arrived at Fernie, but refused to confer with the men collectively. He offers to deal with them individually.

PRESIDENT BAER SPEAKS.

His Argument Before the Strike Commission Against Unionism.

Philadelphia, Feb. 13. — President Baer argued before the coal strike commission yesterday against unionism. He said: In general, no one denies the right of man to organize for any lawful purpose, but the right to organize, and the power of the organization when organized must still be governed and controlled by the general law of the land under which our individual and property rights are protected. We concede to organized labor the same rights that we claim for organized capital. Each must keep within the law. There cannot be one law for citizens, and corporations, and another for labor organizations.

The lawlessness in the coal regions was the direct result of mistaken theories as to the rights of the mine workers. It will not do to say that the leaders have not encouraged violence and crime. It is true, no doubt, that they did not advise it. They may at times have counselled against it, and expressed regrets for it; nevertheless, they are legally and morally responsible for the situation they created, and from which this violence and crime necessarily resulted. The leaders intended to enforce their demands by the threatened destruction of the mines. They well know that if the pumping ceased the mines would be destroyed. They thought the operators would yield rather than see the ruin of the mines. The public is now suffering for want of an adequate supply of fuel. Think what the result would have been had the efforts of the union to drown out all our collieries had been successful.

He declared the miners have created a monster monopoly.

3,500 Miners Join the Union.

South McAlester, I. T., Feb. 13.—Thirty-five hundred coal miners in the hitherto non-union coal mines of the McAlester district have joined the United Mine Workers' of America, and the local miners have made formal demand on the coal operators that they sign the union scale on or before Saturday, Feb. 14.

Montreal Strike Breakers.

Lynn, Mass., Feb. 13.—Stitchers of the Knights of Labor at Harney Bros.' shoe factory struck yesterday afternoon. Warrants have been procured by an immigration agent for thirteen men, formerly employed in the Nicholson factory, charging them with being here in violation of the contract labor law. They were strike breakers, alleged to be from Montreal.

Want More Money.

Kingston, Feb. 13.—Kingston & Pembroke Railway employes have asked General Manager Spencer to place them on the same basis as to wages as is paid to C.P.R. employes.

Farmer's Eye Jabbed Out.

Napoleon, Ohio, Feb. 13.—Stephen S. Mitchell, a farmer residing just south of here, lost an eye yesterday by being jabbed with a corn stalk. He was loading corn fodder and was struck in the right eye by the butt of a stalk which caused total blindness.

CENTRE BRUCE.

Dr. J. M. Stewart the Unanimous Choice of the Liberals—Convention at Glammis—A Strong Public Campaign.

Glammis, Feb. 13.—In this little hamlet in the heart of the prosperous Scotch settlement of Bruce County a splendid meeting was held yesterday, at which Dr. J. M. Stewart of Chesley was again unanimously chosen as Liberal candidate for Centre Bruce in the approaching bye-election. Glammis does not cut much figure in the great outside world, and its Town Hall, suspended under the roof of a church shed, is not pretentious, but it is central, and its visitors yesterday were a body of solid farmers and villagers who would do credit to any country. The cocaskin coat, that thermometer of prosperity, was abundantly in evidence, and an occasional conversation in Gaelic showed the nationality of the population. It is barely fifty years since the first settlers entered this section, and some of the sturdy pioneers were present yesterday to cheer the cause of good government, but the only evidence left of the comparative youth of the country is a remnant of the logging industry, which had to be renounced for the meeting of the day.

A Successful Convention.

The convention was a great success, upwards of two hundred men being present, representing all parts of the riding. Besides the candidate, speeches were delivered by Mr. A. G. Mackay, M.P.P., Owen Sound, who made a capital impression; Mr. John Tolmie, M.P., Mr. Andrew Malcolm, ex-M.P., and Mr. C. J. Mickle. The Liberals have already planned an exhaustive series of meetings, covering every school section in the riding. They will be assisted by Premier Ross, who will address a couple of meetings; Hon. John Dryden, Hon. J. R. Stratton, Mr. Andrew Pattullo, M.P.P., and others.

Conservative Nomination

Pembroke, Feb. 13.—A large gathering of Conservatives of North Renfrew assembled here yesterday for the purpose of selecting a candidate to contest the riding in the interest of the party. Edward A. Dunlop, of the firm of Dunlop & Co., hardware merchants of Pembroke, was the unanimous choice of the convention.

THE FIRST TO BEGIN.

Legislature of Manitoba Opened With a Speech of Little Importance—To Open an Agricultural College.

Winnipeg, Feb. 13.—The fourth and last session of the present term of the Manitoba Legislature was opened here yesterday, there being a large number present. The speech from the throne referred to a number of important matters.

The session promises to be a most interesting and probably an exciting one.

The speech from the throne contains the announcement that the Government has decided to recommend the establishment of an Agricultural College and extended reference is made to the question of school lands.

It says the Government intends to press upon the Dominion Government the necessity of obtaining the absolute transference for administration by this province of all its unsold school lands. It regrets that the Federal Government refuses to rectify the retroactive legislation in reduction of interest to 5 per cent. upon the unpaid purchase money procured under six per cent. A claim for this loss has been presented to the Federal authorities.

Many other matters are referred to, but no reference is made to railway matters, which are sure to engross considerable attention of the House.

A company will apply through Hon. T. M. Daly for a charter to girdiron Manitoba with railways. He declines to say whether it is the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Attorney C. E. Hamilton of St. Paul, who is applying for a series of railway charters, reported to be for the Northern Pacific, attended the opening of the Legislature.

Was No Undue Influence.

Milton, Feb. 13.—The investigation into the charge that undue influence was brought to bear to secure the appointment of postmaster for Milton for Mr. Robert Stewart was concluded before Judge Gorham yesterday. Everybody concerned denied having used or having been influenced by corrupt means, and Judge Gorham said he would make his report to the Postmaster-General.

Killed by a Train.

Brockville, Feb. 13.—A train on the R., W. & O. Railway, while running between Morristown and Briar Hill Wednesday, ran over and killed Ira Wright, who was walking along the track. The remains were brought to his home in Lyn yesterday. He was 20 years of age.

THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT AS A DRUMMER.

In looking over an old volume of Chambers's Journal, published twenty-six years ago, we came across the following interesting anecdote of the Duke of Connaught — an anecdote which exemplifies once more the kindness of heart of the late Queen. It was in an article on "Drummers and Fifers." The writer described in the first instance, how a bright little lad whose father had been killed at Inkermann, and whose mother had several small children, was allowed to enlist in the regiment, and who, though small in stature, was so clean and smart in appearance that he soon became a favourite with all, from the colonel downwards. "It happened at this time," he continued, "that the young Prince Arthur had begun to evince a taste for military life, and, by the Queen's command, the drum major of this battalion, which was stationed at Windsor, attended regularly at the castle to teach His Royal Highness the drum. Her Majesty and the Prince Consort were often present on these occasions, and one day when the young prince asked his tutor if there were any drummers in the Guards as small as himself (the Prince,) the drum-major informed his Royal pupil of the facts relating to the little soldier boy mentioned above. With her usual kindliness of heart the Queen directed that the little fellow should be brought to the Castle on the following day. Accordingly the mother saw the worthy non-commissioned officer and his tiny subordinate—the latter being as prim as brushing and pipe-clay could make him, with his fife under his arm and his forage cap set jauntily on the side of his head—trudging up the Castle hill to the Royal residence. On reaching the Royal nursery they had not long to wait before Her Majesty and the young Prince made their appearance.

"The drum-major and his little charge at once sprang to attention, and brought their hands to the salute, while Prince Arthur, with a cry of delight, hastened forward and began to ask his brother drummer a thousand and one questions. The 'pet of the regiment,' was naturally shy in such august company, but he became reassured when the Queen, taking him kindly by the hand, addressed a few motherly remarks to him. Then the Royal drummer slung his drum, and, calling upon the young Guardsman to 'play up,' the latter responded to the invitation with 'God Save the Queen,' the Prince joining in lustily the while upon his well-battered sheepskin. Her Majesty was greatly pleased with this simple compliment, and on the conclusion of the audience, she not only provided her novel guest with a good luncheon, but gave him a five pound note for his mother. Prince Arthur continued his studies on the drum for several months afterwards, and when they were concluded the drum-major received from the drum-major received from the hands of the Queen a handsome gold watch and chain, bearing an inscription, with a portrait of the Prince dressed as a drummer, with his drum slung round his neck."

ONE MAN'S SELF-CONTROL.

Had His Arm Taken Off and Still Could Smile.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 13.—James Guest, boiler maker from North Bay, while in the act of jumping between two freight cars in the C.P.R. yards at Fort William Wednesday night, slipped and had his left arm just below the elbow run over by a car. The arm was not completely severed, and Guest, holding the hanging arm up with the other hand, walked from the yard into the Queen's Hotel, asked for a drink of water and then told the men present that he had his arm cut off. Dr. Birdsall was summoned and had the man removed to the Cottage Hospital, where Dr. Hamilton, the C.P.R. surgeon, amputated the arm. The doctors say that they never saw a man who had so much nerve, for after the operation Guest jumped up and walked up stairs to his room.

PANAMA TREATY DEFECTIVE.

Senator Morgan Thinks It Should Be Made Over.

Washington, Feb. 13.—After the confirmation of a number of nominations and the refusal to re-open the Alaskan boundary question, the Senate, in executive session yesterday began consideration of the Panama Canal treaty, between the United States and the Republic of Columbia. Senator Morgan immediately took the floor to urge that the treaty be amended in many respects, and to oppose it unless amended. He contended the convention is loosely drawn, and said that, in order to properly safeguard the interests of the United States, it should be practically made over.

BIG WAR IN SIGHT.

Honduras and Other Central American Republics Involved—Peace Said to Reign in Salvador.

Panama, Colombia, Feb. 13.— According to advices the whole of Central America may be involved in war, as the political conditions are most critical. The civil war in Honduras continues and Guatemala is aiding the adherents of Bonilla, the elected president of Honduras, who is unable to assume office owing to the opposition of Gen. Sierra, the President of the Republic, whose term has expired. Nicaragua and Salvador are understood to be co-operating against Guatemala and to be furnishing the enemies of the Guatemalean Government with arms and ammunition. About 3,000 Salvadorean troops are reported to be near the frontier of Guatemala.

All Is Peaceful in Salvador.

Washington, Feb. 13. — The State Department has been advised by United States Minister Merry, that the President of Salvador has informed him that complete tranquility prevails in Salvador, and that the rumored declaration of war is false.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION

The Result of the Pain and Irritation From Hemorrhoids.

Nervous Prostration is often the result of neglecting a case of hemorrhoids or piles; the pain and irritation attendant upon this disagreeable trouble inconveniences and annoys one, but it is possible to go to business and to do the ordinary day's work, so the trouble is neglected until the nerves become exhausted and the patient is a victim of nervous prostration.

Hemorrhoids cause a sensation of heat, tension and itching in a region where is located the most sensitive nerves of the human system and the continued irritation will eventually cause a collapse of the nerves. This would easily have been avoided if the patient had carefully treated the case of piles from their first appearance. No other trouble can be so quickly overcome if treated in an early stage; and even if the case is an old one, there is a remedy which will act with remarkable results if faithfully applied.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is in suppository form and can be conveniently applied to the afflicted parts, the soothing oils and medication reaching and healing the enlarged hemorrhoidal veins of the rectum and acting at once upon the inflamed tissues.

Every sufferer from this trouble should send at once to the Pyramid Drug Company., Marshall, Mich., for their book on Piles or Hemorrhoids, which will be sent free. The Pyramid Pile Cure is so well known and the hundreds cured by it have so advertised it that the little book is merely sent to give each patient a clearer view of his or her particular case and the propar treatment for it.

A WARNING TO WOMEN.

The unexpected has finally happened. A Salt Lake City dispatch tells how Miss Priscilla Leyter, dislocated her jaw during a debate on the propriety of the action of Mrs. Mary Coulter, the lone woman member of the legislature, in voting for Apostle Reed Smoot in the republican senatorial caucus. Mrs. Coulter is president of the Utah Federation of Women's Clubs. Miss Leyter was engaged in vigourously defending Mrs. Coulter. In the midst of her eloquent peroration something snapped. Miss Leyter's flow of eloquence stopped. Her jaw refused to work. Upon examination it was discovered that the bone had jumped out of place. A doctor was summoned and then some of the other club women got a chance to talk.

BONE FOOD

The bones of a baby are soft—so very soft that at first they can scarcely be called bones. They grow hard in time, but the period of their growth is a critical one. Loose joints, bow-legs, enlarged head and hip disease are evidances of rickets. If not checked they lead to deformities of a permanent character. This is the natural result of improper bone nourishment during the period of bone development.

The child needs mineral substance to harden the bones and this is plentifully supplied in the hypophosphites of lime and soda contained in Scott's Emulsion. The cod liver oil provides the element of fat needed to reinforce the child's ordinary food.

Thus Scott's Emulsion offers in a perfect combination the very principles of proper bone and flesh nourishment most needed by a young child. The action of the Emulsion is so mild that the most delicate stomach will accept and retain it. This makes Scott's Emulsion of particular value to weak children and very young babies who are in absolute need of a mild yet effective food-medicine.

Pale-faced children show they are not getting what they ought to get from their food. They need Scott's Emulsion to enrich their blood and give them strength to start on the right road to a healthy growth.

If a child is thin, backward in growth, or slow in development it will be found that Scott's Emulsion will quickly help it. There is nothing better for babies and growing children than Scott's Emulsion.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

Shipbuilders Deputation.

Yesterday morning a deputation of shipbuilders, composed of Mr. John Long, Collingwood; W. F. P. Polson, Toronto, and others, accompanied by Mr. Leighton McCarthy, M.P., waited upon Sir William Mulock. They urged that greater encouragement be extended to the construction of dry docks in Canada, pointing out that there should be no shipbuilding industry in Canada without suitable dry docks.

They also pointed out that the Canadian shipbuilding industry on the upper lakes was seriously handicapped because of the free admission of British-built ships, under the marine shipping act of England, whilst many of the materials used for the construction of the ships in Canada were dutiable. Inasmuch as the Canadian Parliament has no control over the Imperial act which entitles English vessels to free admission into Canadian waters, the deputation urged that the unusual conditions between Canadian and English shipbuilders should be removed by Canadian shipbuilders being granted a bounty about equal to the duty they paid in their raw material.

Later in the day the same deputation had a further interview on the same subject with Hon. W. S. Fielding and Hon. Wm. Paterson. The Ministers promised to give the subject careful consideration.

Pulpmen's Deputation.

The pulp manufacturers are here in force to ask the Government to impose an export duty on pulpwood. The delegation consists of E. B. Eddy, Hull; F. D. Buck,, Sherbrooke; Walter Ray, Quebec; W. Gilbert, Quebec; A. J. Morrell, Danville; W. D. Woodruff, St. Catharines; D. M. Patton, Chatham, N.B.; William Miller, Montreal; A. Caron, Quebec, and John Forman, Montreal. They saw the Prime Minister at noon yesterday and laid their views before him at length. Sir Wilfrid gave a promise of consideration.

AROUND THE CORRIDORS.

Hon. John Dryden has arrived in the city to attend the Fat Stock Show. He delivered an address yesterday afternoon on "Selection of a Beef Sire."

Sir Richard Cartwright will receive a delegation from Montreal on Saturday who will urge the reappointment of the officials to fix the flour standards.

Capt. Taylor, secretary of the recent Irish land conference, was in the city yesterday, and was shown around by Mr. D'Arcy Scott. The distinguished visitor paid his respects to the Governor-General, and afterwards interviewed Sir Wilfrid Laurier. In the course of conversation Sir Wilfrid said that he considered the final settlement of the Irish land question on the lines of the recent land conference would be a boon to Ireland, England, Canada and the whole Empire.

Want More Protection.

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—The binder twine manufacturers who waited on the Government asked that a duty be imposed of 12½ per cent. This, they say, would enable them to compete with the Americans, who buy their raw material very much cheaper.

Favoring a Protective Duty.

FUTURE OF IRELAND.

Lord Lieutenant of Ireland the Earl of Dudley Speaks in Hopeful Strain—More Agitators Released.

Dublin, Feb 13.—The Earl of Dudley, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, at the annual dinner of the Royal College of Surgeons here, made a very optimistic speech during which he declared that the prospects for the future of Ireland were very encouraging.

Agitation has been largely abandoned, and he hoped earnestly that those who were responsible for the government of Ireland never again will be compelled to enforce the exceptional treatment which they had been obliged to impose early in 1902.

He believed the recent land conference will prove an epoch in Irish history, the mainspring thereof being toleration, moderation and co-operation, and with these principles there is nothing Ireland cannot accomplish.

AGITATORS RELEASED.

Nationalist Members of Parliament Let Out of Jail—Others Free.

Dublin, Feb. 13.—John O'Donnell, the Nationalist member of Parliament for Southern Mayo, was released from jail last night. He was sentenced under the Crimes Act to three months' imprisonment for intimidation and inciting to boycotting.

Dennis Johnson, one of the organizers of the United Irish League, was also liberated yesterday.

Member For Galway Is Free.

Dublin, Feb. 13.—William Duffy, Nationalist member of Parliament for South Galway, and three others, who were imprisoned under the Coercion Act, were released yesterday afternoon from Galway jail.

RULERS OF THE WORLD.

Meat Eating Nations are the Leaders in Every Branch of Human Achievements.

The ruling nations of the world are meat eaters, and history records that they always have been.

Vegetarians and food cranks may explain this in any way they please, but the facts remain that the Americans, English, French, Russians and Germans, are meat eating nations, and they are also the most energetic and most progressive.

The principal food of the heroic Boer soldier known as Biltong, is a sort of dried beef, affording a great deal of nourishment in a highly concentrated form.

The weak races of people are the rice eating Chinese, Hindoos and Siamese, regarded since the dawn of history as non-productive, superstitious, and inferior physically and mentally to the meat eating nations who dominate them.

The structure of the teeth plainly indicate that human beings should subsist upon a variety of food, meats, fruits and grains, and it is unhygienic to confine one's diet to any one of those classes to the exclusion of any other.

Meat is the most concentrated and most easily digested of foods, but our manner of living is often so unnatural that the digestive organs refuse to properly digest, meat, eggs and similar nutritious and wholesome food, but it is not because such food is unwholesome, but the real reason that the stomach lacks from disease or weakness some necessary digestive element; hence arising indigestion, and later on chronic dyspepsia.

Nervous people should eat plenty of meat; convalescents should make meat the principal food; hard working people have to do so, and brain workers and office men not so much meat, but at least once a day, and to insure its perfect digestion one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets should be taken after each meal, because they supply the peptones, diastase and fruit acids, lacking in every case of stomach trouble.

Nervous dyspepsia, catarrh of the stomach, gas and acidity are only different names for indigestion, the failure to digest wholesome food, and the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cures them all because by affording perfect digestion the stomach has a chance to rest and recover its natural tone and vigour.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the real, household medicine; it is as safe and pleasant for the stomach ache of the baby as it is for the imperfect digestion of its grand sire.

They are not a cathartic but a digestive, and no pill habit can ever follow their use; the only habit that Stuart's Tablets induce is the habit of good digestion and consequently good health.

To-night will be young peoples' night in connection with the evangelistic services being held this week in St. Paul's church. Students and young people are especially urged not to miss this meeting; and yet it will be of general interest to all, and everybody is cordially invited. THE EVANGELISTS.

Another Very Large Meeting in St. Paul's Church.

A large audience again greeted Evangelists Kerby and Turk, at St. Paul's church last night, and as the evangelists sang their sweet hymns together, and spoke clearly and pointedly to the people, regarding the higher things, impressions were made which are beyond the reach of man to estimate. The duet, "I have a Friend," was beautifully rendered and could hardly fail to lead some poor Christless soul to long for the friendship of that Friend, whom the evangelists upheld before the people.

Rev. Mr. Kerby's sermon was based on Col. i, 18, "That in all things He might have the preeminence," and Matthew xvii, 8, "Jesus only." The sermon was a brief practical discourse, showing forth some of the things that obscure Christ and drive Him out of the heart and life.

Mr. Kerby made a strong plea that the Lord Christ be given the preeminence in our lives.

A few earnest words from Rev. Mr. Turk brought the meeting to a close.

People are surprised at the simplicity of these evangelists' methods. Many who have been accustomed to the old time revivals with all their emotional excitement have been disappointed. But Revs. Turk and Kerby have been pastors themselves and they know how to build. They believe in laying firm the foundation principles rather than trusting to the fever of feeling. They have in this way won the confidence of all classes of people, and lasting results are looked for from their work here.

AT THE FACTORIES.

The Evangelists Have Addressed Noon-day Meetings.

Through the courtesy of the managers of the larger factories of Peterborough, services have been held for the employees at 12.40, noon hour. The Wm. Hamilton Company's, the Peter Hamilton Company's and the Cereal Works, have all been visited this week. The evangelists have won the men's hearts by their sweet singing and their helpful speaking. Revs. Turk and Kerby go as men among men, and the men appreciate it.

HOCKEY.

Will Cavanagh and Gordon Lee will leave on the evening train. The Peterborough team is drawn to play against St. George's of Toronto.

• • • •

The Peterborough Ladies' Hockey team will play the Alexandra's of Toronto, next Tuesday night at the Brock street rink. Last year the local ladies' seven defeated all the teams in the district and were as a matter of course, considered very good players. The coming match is the first of the season, and judging from the results of the last year's games, large numbers of spectators are expected to witness this game, which it is to be hoped will end in favour of the Peterborough team. As yet the names of the players have not been made public to the outside world. This fact in itself is really astonishing, for never before have the gentler sex been credited with keeping a secret—but the reason may be that the team as yet has not been chosen.

Mr. Glover took charge of the tickets at the rink in place of Mr. Clarry, secretary of the T.A.S., who was unable to attend." The Post is slightly in error. Mr. Clarry has not the honour of being secretary of the T.A.S., but is Secretary-Treasurer of the Trent Valley Hockey League.

There will be a meeting of the Executive of the Trent Valley League to-night in the Oriental Hotel at 9 o'clock.

WHAT THE POST SAYS.

The Lindsay Post speaking of the game there on Wednesday night Says:—"The ice was very soft, and to make matters worse there were a few bare spots. However, considering this disadvantage, the game was a splendid exhibition, and was much enjoyed. Each side had a large band of supporters, and when pretty work was displayed by either team the cheering was tremendous. The Lakefield boys are a much lighter aggregation than their opponents, which was a serious handicap to them, as weight counted in last night's game. They displayed better combination than Peterborough, but the latter were faster skaters and when Lynch or Pearnell got the puck Lakefield's goal was in danger."

CURLING.

There was no curling last night as the ice was too soft.

"THE ARTIFICIAL MAN."

What a Bracebridge Paper Says of Rev. Mr. Kerby's Address.

This is what a Bracebridge paper says of Rev. Mr. Kerby's address, 'The Artificial Man": — "Sunday afternoon the mass meeting for men in the Town Hall broke all records of Christian work in Bracebridge. Never before had so many men crowded the building. The address of Mr. Kerby on the 'Artificial Man' was one of the most eloquent and helpful that the men of Bracebridge have ever been privileged to hear. Never did men listen to anything with more eagerness and interest than did this audience to that magnificent address. The speaker on rising immediately captured the attention and held it closely unto the end. His manly appeals for manly men cannot fail to produce in the lives of those who listened a higher type of manhood. 'The Holy City' arranged by the evangelists themselves, was rendered in duet form, and never since that song was written has it been given with better effect than on this occasion." Mr. Kerby will deliver this address in the Opera House at 4 o'clock, Sunday afternoon.

BINDER TWINE.

A Deputation Asked the Government to Impose a Duty.

Representatives of the eleven Canadian binder twine and cordage factories waited upon the Ministers of customs and Finance at Ottawa yesterday morning and asked for the imposition of a duty upon binder twine. Now that the control of the Philippines has passed into the hands of the United States, the American manufacturers are able to control the supply of raw material and obtain their Manila fibre at three-eighths of a cent per pound less than their Canadian competitors, consequently the former are able to undersell the latter in the Canadian market. The Canadian manufacturers are therefore looking to the restoration of the duty to afford them relief from ruinous competition. The deputation consisted of Anderson Black of the Richelieu Cordage Company, St. John's Que.; R. R. Ball, Canadian Cordage Company, Peterborough; W. W. Converse and M. H. Hay of the Consumers' Cordage Company, Montreal.

OJIBWAY INDIANS

Acting Hiawatha, Illustrated on Canvas Last Night.

A most enjoyable evening was spent last night in St. John's school room, it being the occasion of the production of "Hiawatha," for the first time in Peterborough.

Coloured photographs were depicted on the screen by the aid of a magic lantern. These pictures were photographs of the Ojibway Indians, their ancient mythical costumes of the past, while acting in reality Longfellow's Hiawatha.

Mr. C. W. Hartman related how, on its recital, the poem had firmly impressed itself upon the minds of the Indians, who on their part, were quite willing to act it, not in a theatre, but in the open air, miles away from civilization, from white man, and from the unromantic modes of modern life.

The poem from beginning to end, was beautifully illustrated, photographs showing Hiawatha growing up into manhood, then his capabilities as a sportsman, his subsequent wooing and winning of Minnehaha, his journey and return, bidding his people to lead better lives, for the Great Spirit had bid him tell them so. The illustrated poem was a great success and the audience, if not as large as was expected, fully appreciated the refined quality of the entertainment. Before the commencement of the lantern display Madam Alice Waltz beautifully sang some songs, among which was the Holy City. Of course for such a singer as Madame Waltz the auditorium was not very suitable but the audience were greatly pleased with her beautiful voice. During the illustration of the poem Madame Waltz sang songs in both the English and Ojibway languages. The entertainment was concluded by the singing of "God Save the King."

The programme had the merit, somewhat rare in this town, of being unique, which feature was gratefully appreciated by the local concert goers.

COUNTY POLICE COURT

Two Cases Tried at Havelock Yesterday.

A session of the County Police Court was held yesterday at Havelock, and the following cases were brought up before County Police Magistrate Edmison:—

Inspector Crowe laid a complaint against James Moloney for selling liquor without a license.

The County Police Magistrate deemed the evidence insufficient and dismissed the case.

Nathan Hebble charged George A. Parcels with a breach of the game law. A number of witnesses were heard and it transpired that Parcels had cut open four muskrat houses, and had placed traps in them. Two of the witnesses were unable to appear, as they had been summoned on too short a notice and the case was enlarged for a week, in order that the remaining evidence might thus be heard.

MORE PAY

For Soldiers When They Turn out to Drill.

It is rumoured that a bill for increasing the pay of soldiers in the permanent force as well as the per diem allowance to militiamen when they turn out at camps of instruction was likely to be introduced at the coming session of Parliament. Sir Frederick Borden, when spoken to, says an Ottawa correspondent, would not give any information, stating that announcements in regard to such matters ought to be reserved for Parliament. The private soldier in the permanent corps at present receives 40 cents a day, in addition to quarters, rations and free kit, and exclusive of good conduct pay. If any increase is made it will probably amount to ten or fifteen cents per diem.

LOADED.

Referring to an advertisement of Mr. T. Hurley in last evening's Examiner, stating that he will shortly be at liberty more than ever to sell Real Estate, I hereby wish to notify the public that having purchased the Real Estate business from T. Hurley, at a handsome sum, Mr. T. Hurley has signed a legal agreement with me, whereby he will not, and cannot sell Real Estate within a radius of twenty-five miles of the Town of Peterborough, and all commissions arising from sales or exchanges he may make are to be paid to the order of John T. O'Connell & Co., as per agreement dated the 14th day of January, 1903.

BEET SUGAR INDUSTRIES DISCUSSED

At a Meeting of the Board of Trade.

MANY SPEECHES WERE MADE

Will Town Take Stock in Company?—Joint Meeting of Board of Trade and Town Council to be Arranged.

An important meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the Town Council Chamber last night when the report of the beet sugar deputation to Berlin was received and the matter of whether it would be advisable to recommend to the town the taking of $25,000 worth of stock in the new beet sugar factory now being promoted was discussed. There were present, — Mr. D. W. Dumble, President; Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers, J. W. Garvin, Dr. Jeffs, T. A. S. Hay, G. W. Fitzgerald, E. M. Elliott, W. G. Morrow, John Carnegie, T. E. Bradburn, D. Hughes-Charles, G. W. Bennett, E. J. Toker, T. Q. Quartermaine, A. Poussette, G. M. Roger and F. H. Dobbin.

The chairman explained the object of the meeting, viz., to receive the report of the sugar beet deputation to Berlin, some month ago. He called upon Mr. John Carnegie to read the report which was a concise review of the growth of the beet sugar industry in Berlin, as was published in full some time ago in the town papers. The report recommended very strongly the adoption of active measures towards procuring the erection of a factory here. The adoption of the report was moved by Mr. Carnegie, seconded by Mr. Hughes-Charles.

Mr. Carnegie in addition expressed the belief that the farmers of this county would be making a great mistake if they did not take advantage of the opportunity now afforded them. They were the ones that would suffer the least should the scheme not materialize. He instanced the introduction of the dairy industry some time ago as being an uphill fight, but it was now a flourishing branch of the farming occupation.

Mr. Garvin also spoke on the matter showing the increased interest that was being taken in the county of Peterborough in the matter of beet sugar. He intimated that there were about 3,000 acres already under contract.

ANOTHER REPORT.

The Manufacturers' Committee, to whom was submitted the report of the delegation to Berlin to inspect the sugar beet industry reported as follows:

To the President end Members of the Board of Trade, Peterborough, Ont.

Gentlemen,—Your Manufacturer's Committee, to whom were submitted the report of the delegation to Berlin to inspect the Sugar Beet industry, the figures pertaining to the proposal by the town of $25,000 worth of stock in the Peterborough Sugar Co. and also $P325,000 worth of the Company's bonds, bearing 5 p.c. interest, beg leave to state that they have considered the whole matter carefully and ascertained the following facts:

1. The Peterborough Sugar Co., Ltd., has been incorporated by Letters Patent under the great seal of the Province of Ontario, its object being to manufacture Beet Sugar, and for that purpose to erect a factory at or near the Town of Peterborough; and its provisional directors are Messrs. T. E. Bradburn, James Kendry, M. P., J. W. Garvin, Thos. Hunter and Arthur Stevenson.

2. The authorized capital of the Company is $350,000.

3. The Company has arranged with a Construction Co. to erect and equip a factory with a daily capacity of 550 tons, at a cost of $565,000., site included, of which amount about $165,000 of stock, $275,000 of the Company's bonds, bearing 5 p.c. interest, and $125,000 in cash will be accepted in payment.

4. It is intended to locate the factory by or near the banks of the Otonabee at the south of the town; and the Construction Company has contracted to erect a main building, 228 feet by 80 feet and five stories high, with walls of solid concrete, in which the extracting and refining machinery shall be placed; a warehouse with two floors, 190 feet by 65 feet; a machine shop 55 feet by 25 feet; a laboratory 66 feet by 60 feet; and beet sheds which will contain 6,000 tons. The factory will be a large and handsome structure, equipped with a complete French plant of most improved design and guaranteed to give the best results.

5. Recent tests in growing beets have proven that the soil in Peterborough and adjoining counties is especially adapted to such an industry; in fact is unsurpassed on the continent.

6. Five years ago Michigan State secured its first sugar factory; to-day there are seventeen in operation in that State, and several others being erected. This indicates that the industry has proved satisfactory there, not only to the farmers but to the capitalists as well.

7. Sugar is a staple food and must be had. Canada has been sending millions of dollars yearly to Germany, France and other countries for sugar which apparently can be manufactured at home advantageously. Canada has at present four sugar factories in operation. It would take about 25 others to supply the home demand.

8. Apart from the soil Peterborough has exceptional facilities for a sugar factory,—railroads radiating in every direction, upon which beets can be brought in within a radius of 50 miles, at 4c cents a ton. The Trent Valley Canal System with its winding river and numerous lakes, upon which beets can be carried to the factory for 50 cents a ton; illimitable quantities near at hand of the most suitable limestone, etc.

9. Such a factory with its immense quantities of pulp for cattle feeding purposes, and its liquid by-products would doubtless lead to the establishmenthere at an early date of a condensed milk factory, and of chemical works.

10. The Peterborough Company has now between 15 and 20 prominent farmers and others canvassing daily for acreage, and the probabilities are that before the first of May there will be at least 4,000 acres contracted for, which, at 14 tons to the acre on an average, would keep the factory running for 100 days of 24 hours each,—the usual period of the best managed factories.

11. The report of the special delegation sent to Berlin is regarded as favourable to the establishment here of such an industry.

12. We have examined Mr. Garvin's figures as presented to the Board of Trade last Thursday evening and find them approximately correct. The 20 year debentures would probably need to be issued at 4 p.c. instead of 3 3-4 p.c. which would require $1,000 annually, and the yearly amount needed for a sinking fund at 3 p.c. instead of 3 1-3 p.c. would be slightly more than $900. To purchase $25,000 worth of the Company's bonds,—a first mortgage against the plant,—20 years debentures would need to be issued at say 4 p.c., which would require $1,000 a year. As the Company's bonds bear 5 p.c. interest the town would receive $1,250 per annum from this source, or $250 annually more than the 4 p.c. payable on the $25,000 of debentures.

If the stock yielded a dividend per annum of 10 p.c. only, which we understand is a low estimate, the town would net $500 annually from this source.

Allowing for the 15 extra received in interest on bonds, even a 7 p.c. dividend per annum on the stock would yield the town a small profit.

In view of the above facts your committee is of the opinion that the risk to the town in purchasing said stock and bonds would be slight, and the probable gain to the wealth and importance of the community great.

February 10th, 1903.

Mr. Garvin said that in order to keep the management of the concern in Peterborough it is necessary that there should be $185,000 worth of stock held in this vicinity. This is a good deal of money to raise here and as the town is vitally interested in the matter, the company felt that they should take a portion of the stock. Mr. Garvin held that there was very little risk, if any, in the matter. He went into figures to show that the town would be yielding a profit each year on the amount it had invested. He thought that the report should have pointed out the advantage Peterborough had over Berlin in regard to water supply. It was their desire to sell the stock right in and around Peterborough and not all over the Dominion as has been done in the case of the organizing of a certain other concern in Peterborough.

MR. DUMBLE.

The President of the Board, Mr. D. W. Dumble, asked Mr. John Carnegie to take the chair while he spoke on the matter.

Mr. Dumble introduced his remarks by saying that 90 per cent. of the profit of the beet sugar industry goes to the producer of the beet. These beets have not been grown in Canada so that the money we pay for sugar for the most part goes out of this country; it goes to keep up the farmers of Germany and not our own, and to support the factories of Germany and not the factories of Canada. The money that should be spent in this country is also going to support ships that are perhaps owned by Germans. Now then, is it wise for Canada to pay out so much money for the support of foreign labour and capital when we are well able to spend it for the benefit of

THE LORDS AT WORK.

Amusing Customs in the Upper House of the English Parliament.

Commoners and edeucationists who watch the debates in the Upper House are amused by the easy-going methods of the peers and the smaller importance they set on their dignity than is the fashion in the other House.

The Lord Chancellor, as president, takes part in debate as freely as anyone else. He simply steps aside from the woolsack and becomes a debater, returns to his seat, and resumes his functions as president. In committee he sits with the Government, wearing wig and gown, and leads in the discussion, along with the Duke of Devonshire.

In the Commons the Speaker calls on the orator if two or more members rise. The Lords rule themselves. One gives way to another; or, if that code of courtesy fail, the House settles the precedence, and may divide upon it. The other night the Bishop of Hereford rose to speak; his neighbor and right reverend brother pulled him back on to the bench; the Bishop of Hereford thereupon restrained the reverend prelate in turn with a gentle hand, and allowed Lord Tweedmouth to catch the ear of the House.

The woolsack is no more sacred than the cross benches. Peers sit upon it and chat to the Lord Chancellor or to each other, and occasionally the small figure of Lord Salisbury is half hidden by Conservative and Liberal members, who use his official seat as a pleasant lounge halfway between their benches and the door. In committee members sit beside the chairman at the table. Lord Rosebery prefers the seat on the chairman's left when he is about to speak. In the House of Commons no member would dream of encroaching in such a manner on the Speaker or the Chairman of committees. The Lords also permit messengers to pass freely up and down the floor, which would be a breach of privilege in the Commons.

The side of the House on which a peer sits is no sure indication of his views. Unionists still sit opposite the Government along with the Liberals. Lord Halifax, the leader of the High Churchmen, whose views on the Education Bill are the antithesis of Lord Spencer's, sits behind the Liberal leader. So does Lord Camperdown, and from that place he takes the liberty of lecturing and criticising the "Red Earl."

A singular survival is the fashion of the tellers who carry little wands as they count the members voting. They stand inside the House and touch each peer or bishop on the shoulder with the cane as he enters from the lobby, and so count the strength of their side.

From the open galleries peeresses look down on the House, but it is doubtful if they hear much. The Lords are not very clear speakers, and many of them are not audible in the public and press galleries.—London Mail.

AN EDITOR SPEAKS.

Had Dyspepsia for Years and Could Find no Relief—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Cured Him.

It is not often that newspaper editors can be induced to give testimonials to the merits of any article. As a rule they hide their identity behind the editorial "we" and confine their comment to the tariff and other issues generally supposed to occupy the whole of the public's attention.

Consequently when an editor comes out with a voluntary testimonial to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets it is only reasonable to infer that the good Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets did him, was too marked to be allowed to pass unnoticed.

Alphonse Caron, editor of L'Echo, published at Montmagny, Quebec, has voluntarily come forward with this statement:—

"I suffered for many years from Dyspepsia. I spent many dollars for all kinds of medicines without getting any relief. Happening to notice an advertisement of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets I concluded to try them. I bought one box and the change for the better was so marked that I continued using them and now I am completely cured.

"Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are an excellent remedy for Dyspepsia. They are as recommended."

On Dufferin Terrace.

On warm evenings one sees crowds of people in holiday attire wending their way to Dufferin Terrace, Quebec City, and every electric car has a sign in front announcing in bold type, "Concert sur la Terrasse ce soir," which means that on the terrace the famous military band from the barracks will play, and that one must go early to avoid the rush and get a good seat.

A Parisian touch is given to the scene by the rows of tables outside the chateau on the terrace, where parties of friends, gayly chattering French, sipping from a demi-tasse, listening to the music and watching the promenaders, reach the zenith of their enjoyment, for all the world like their first cousins who enjoy the same pleasures in the cafes of the Quartir Latin or along the grand boulevards of the French capital.

Sober, sedate English people, jaunty, convivial Americans, French girls wearing all the colors of the rainbow, an occasional leathery-skinned Indian, and "Tommy Atkins," in his gay scarlet coat, saucy cap and lightly twirling a stick (making eyes at every pretty girl he meets), constitute the throng of which one speaks when saying that "all Quebec is out on the terrace to hear the music this evening."

It's a cosmopolitan crowd, and a merry one, too; all are good-humored, and the music (to which, it must be confessed, distance lends enchantment) evidently meets with their approval, as an occasional exclamation of "Magnifique!" "Charmant!" or "C'est belle musique, la, n'est ce pas?" is heard in passing.

Since I am beautiful, adored.

They praise my cheeks, my lips, my eyes,
With Love's most exquisite flatteries,
Covet my hands that they may kiss
And to their ardent bosoms press.

My feet upon the nursery stair
Makes them a music rich and rare;
My skirt that rustles as I come
For every rapture strikes them dumb.

What jealousies of word and glance!
The light of my poor countenance
Lights up their world that else were drear,
"But you are lovely, mother dear!"

I go not to my grave, but I
Know Beauty's full supremacy;
Like Cleopatra's self, I prove
The very heights and depths of Love.

So to be loved, so to be wooed,
Oh! more than mortal woman should!
What if she fail or fall behind!
Lord make me worthy, keep them blind.

THE ETHICS OF LAW.

Lawyers the Best Abused and Most Trusted of Men.

The third of the public lecture course of McMaster University, Toronto, on "The Ethics of Law" proved most entertaining and instructive, many of those present coming away with a very different opinion of some phases of the profession of law and its practice to that which they had before the lecture. Mr. D. E. Thomson, K.C., described lawyers as at once the best abused and the most generally trusted members of the community. He analyzed the business of the ordinary law firm, of which not more than 2 per cent. is criminal, and of the balance not more than 10 per cent. ever comes to trial in the courts, while in four-fifths of the cases which do reach the courts there are no appeals entered. The nature of his business and experience made the lawyer conservative in regard to changes in the law, and, commenting upon what is sometimes termed the slavish adherence to precedent in the law. Mr. Thomson insisted nothing could be more revolutionary and dangerous than departure from this practice. In this connection he laid down three cardinal principles for guidance:—(1) That law is better than justice; (2) that it is more necessary the law should be certain than that it should be right, and (3) that equity administered according to the Judge's personal idea of right and wrong would result in a cross between lottery and despotism. Mr. Thompson illustrated the numerous points he made by amusing anecdotes and entertaining reminiscences, which made the subject of "law" anything but dull.

DEPUTY MINISTER OF INTERIOR.

Something of the Work Being Done by Hon. J. A. Smart.

Hon. James Allan Smart before becoming Deputy Minister of the Interior resided sixteen years in Manitoba. The son of James Smart, Sheriff of Leeds and Grenville, he was born in the town of Brockville on June 6, 1858, and received his education at the local schools and at Woodstock College. Subsequently he went into business on his own account as a hardware merchant, but in 1880 he proceeded to Manitoba, where he soon made a name for himself in municipal and Provincial politics. He was an Alderman of Brandon City in 1882-83, and Mayor in 1885-86, and again in 1895-96. He was appointed a member of the western district of the Judicial Board in 1886, and a Municipal Commissioner in 1888, remaining in the last named office till 1893. From 1886 to 1892, Mr. Smart represented Brandon in the Legislature as a Liberal, and in the Legislature as a Liberal, and held office in the Greenway Government, first as Minister of Public Works, and afterwards as Provincial Secretary. On the 1st of April, 1897, he was appointed Deputy Minister of the Interior at Ottawa, and later on Deputy Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs. The latter office he relinquished some weeks since. A year ago Mr. Smart paid a visit to England and Europe, and reorganized the Canadian emigration agencies. He has great capacity for work, sound judgment, a thorough knowledge of business affairs, and an eminently practical disposition.

The Endless Round.

"Gracious, look at the speed of that automobile ambulance. I should think it would be dangerous." "It is rather. You see, they are hurrying to arrive and pick up the victims run down by another automobile ambulance that passed along here a few minutes ago." "See, they've run down several people on their own hook, but they don't stop." "No; another auto-ambulance will be along soon to care for them, and after it's all over an ordinary horse vehicle will have to come trotting along and take care of all the victims of the three ambulances."

All Right Anyway.

Miss Thin—Don't you think my new dress is just exquisite?

Fannie—Oh, lovely! I think that dressmaker of yours could make a clothes prop look graceful.

DR. BEAUMONT

A Canadian's Appreciative Article on a Great Pioneer Physician.

A recent number of The Canada Lancet contains an article by Prof. Wm Osler on Dr. Wm. Beaumont, the pioneer American physiologist. It will be remembered that Dr. Beaumont saved the life of Alexis St. Martin, a French-Canadian trapper who suffered a terrible gunshot wound, breaking the wall of the stomach and lacerating his side in an almost hopeless way. Dr Beaumont was able to heal the wound, and the notableness of the case was that, after St. Martin had grown quite well, there remained a peep-hole through which the processes of digestion could be observed, and Dr. Beaumont did observe them in a patient, truth-seeking way that excites the admiration of physicians to this day. His observations, indeed, formed our only sure knowledge of the operations of that important organ during a half-century of the last age.

Talking About Canada.

"When I first came to the Senate," said Senator Cullom to those lunching at the same table in the Senate restaurant the other day, "I had great ideas about a greater United States. My eyes were not turned southward, where everybody seems to be looking nowadays, but northward; I was just as sure as sure that before this time we should have gobbled up Canada. I did not think that we were going up there, and make a conquest of the country, but I could not see any chance of its getting away from us. Why, when I was elected the second time, and went out to Illinois to make my bow to the Legislature, my little speech was filled with the annexation of Canada. Since that time, I have watched Canada slipping farther and farther away from us, until now it takes a brave man even to suggest that some day the Stars and Stripes may float beyond our northern boundary. I have often wondered if any of the members of that Legislature remember my speech. If they do, they must think that I am a mighty bad prophet."

"Yes," said Senator Burrows, who had listened as befitted a man so much Mr. Cullom's junior, "you could not pry Canada away from Great Britain now with a jimmy."—Chicago News.

Nerve Disorders of Women
Accompanied by Neuralgia, Irritability, Sleeplessness and Depressed Spirits,
Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The feminine organism requires an enormous quantity of blood, not only to sustain the network of nerves which are found in the womanly system, but also to make good the periodical loss which so weakens the body.

Consequently it happens that just as soon as the blood gets weak and watery, or is deficient in quantity, the nervous system suffers, and in women the effects are most severely felt in the form of irregularities and weaknesses of the feminine system. At the beginning of womanhood, at childbirth, during the nursing periods, and at the change of life, calls are made for an extra supply of blood and as a result nervous disorders are exceedingly common at these times, and the health and happiness of the remainder of life may depend on the care of the system.

Because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food actually forms new blood and creates new nerve force, it is the most effective preparation ever used by women to build up the system, and restore vigour and strength to the body.

Mrs. R. J. Huffman, 268 Reid street, Peterborough, Ont., and whose husband is employed at the Canadian General Electric Company, states:

"For over a year I suffered from nervous headaches and feelings of weakness and dizziness would come over me. My nervous system seemed weak and exhausted, and hearing of the success of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I began using it. I am now pleased to state that the headaches do no bother me any more and my system is entirely built up and restored."

My parents got numerous medicines for me but they did me no good. I saw Burdock Blood Bitters advertised and remembering counsel to try, "just a bottle." I did so, and to my surprise before I finished the bottle, I found relief. I took all told 3 bottles, and have had no return of the trouble.

CONSTIPATION.
Miss Hattie Burgess, Merigomish, N.S., says:—I was troubled with constipation for a year and tried different medicines, but they did me no good. I then took Burdock Blood Bitters and it cured me so that I have not been troubled since.

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to scrub and beg when a life policy would prevent it? TRAGEDY OF GRAND PRE.

A Visit to the Scene of Longfellow's Poem —The Abstract as Opposed to the Concrete Acadians.

A visitor to the homes of the great men and women who have been, done and suffered in their several spheres generally finds that the supervening inhabitants know nothing of the earlier occupants, and are comfortably innocent of the fact that the ground about them is historic. But the heroine of the Acadian expulsion has not been consigned to local oblivion. Everyone in and about the neighborhood can point to the well from which she lifted water, to the willow trees beneath which she milked the favorite heifer, to the place where Basil's forge stood; to the site of the church, of the home of Father Felician, and of everything woven into the poem. The chief of a threshing-machine staff showed me her footprints near the well. I tried my boots in them, writes S. T. Wood in The Globe. Evangeline must have been a very large woman.

Effect of the Expulsion.

Grand Pre has never really recovered from the effects of the expulsion. It consists of a small station, which the operator looks up between trains. The Flying Bluenose ignores it, but it is honored by calls from three expresses each way, daily except Sunday. It has, or is, a hotel from which a man drives down to meet the trains, and there are several houses which may be included in it, as it is not incorporated, and the bounds are consequently elastic. Wolfville, three miles along the line, has appropriated Evangeline and all the traditions of Grand Pre, and the inquiring visitor is advised, if he wants to go to Grand Pre, to go to Wolfville. There is a town there with hotels, an academy, a manual training school and a young ladies' seminary. There are liverymen there who drive you to Grand Pre, to Blomidon Head, the mouth of the Gaspereau, Minas Basin, the dykes and all the points of interest. This advice was so persistent and universal that I got off at Grand Pre.

Evangeline's Well.

The station agent smiled and pointed to a red pump in an adjacent field when asked about Evangeline's well. The pump looks sadly modern and utilitarian. But for the benefit of those who prefer truth in such matters, it is known that the well was dug, for convenience, by reopening a caved-in well that had served the Acadian village of Grand Pre. The willows, too, are there, eight massive trunks, gnarled, twisted and almost falling apart with age, though the tops are still vigorous. They mark the margin where the long arm from the Basin of Minas once spread over the brown polished mud flats at high tide. But the basin does not reach within two miles of them now, for the dykes built by the Acadians and maintained by the present owners have reclaimed and still preserve a broad expanse of about 2,500 acres, through which the winding grooves of the tidal streams are aimlessly threaded, their sloping sides, once of sea-washed mud, now covered with a modern crop of oats and hay. The stile at the fence surrounding the denuded village site is worn with the feet of pilgrims, and the pump has been saved from demolition only by an inconvenient barricade. The willow at the end of the row, the very tree under which Evangeline sat, is scarcely more than half the size of the others, its stunted deterioration being due to the constant breaking off of twigs and small branches by visiting tourists. Such is human reverence for an imaginary fragment of our common humanity, into whose breast the genius of a poet has breathed the breath of life.

Explained and Justified.

Longfellow has made it incumbent on us to explain and justify the expulsion of the Acadians. If it had been only Acadians in the abstract who had been expelled the affair would have been forgotten long ago. Nobody has any sympathy with the Acadians in the abstract, because nobody has ever met them or associated with them in that form. Expelling the Acadians would scarcely awaken a passing comment, but expelling two Acadians is a serious matter and must be justified. Longfellow has shown us two Acadians, real, living people like ourselves, people who were not abstractions, people with life, hope, affection, love and constancy.

How it is Done.

It is only as we regard our fellow-mortals as abstractions that we can kill, scatter, injure or speak evil of them. So long as we regard them as human beings like ourselves, only not quite so good, with affections and sympathies, with feelings, with friends and relatives, with hopes and aspirations, with joys and sorrows, we cannot do any of these things. The soldier kills the enemy because the enemy is an abstraction. But he will share the contents of his water-bottle with the same enemy wounded on the field, because that enemy has ceased to be an abstraction and has become a man. The man to whom workingmen are an abstraction, can lock them out, starve them into submission, break up their homes or hire Pinkertons to shoot them down. He can do all these things to the workingman, but could not do any of them to this workingman or that workingman who might be to him a human being, with all the feelings and sentiments that move our common humanity.

A Hopeful View.

We could expel the Acadians again, the abstract Acadians, but we would take abundant care that an exception was made in the case of Evangeline and Gabriel. For of that crowd of sensitive, pulsating life hurried to the ships these two stand out as the only human beings. The expulsion of the Acadians has been justified by Mr. Parkman, and many a tender and troubled conscience will bless him for the soothing peace he has brought. The expulsion was all right. It was just the thing. But that refers only to Acadians in the abstract. So long as our language is spoken Evangeline and Gabriel will be like the ghost of Banquo at the feast.

THE MAN IN ARMOR

Was no match for the microbe. Giants he might slay but this microscopic organism defied him, and in many a campaign more men were destroyed by camp diseases than by the enemy's sword.

The one way to arm against microbic disease is to keep the blood pure. Impure blood both breeds and feeds disease.

The signs of impure blood are easy to read. Pimples, boils and eruptions generally proclaim the blood to be impure. Scrofulous sores and swellings, salt-rheum, eczema, etc., are other signs of a corrupt condition of the blood.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood and cures diseases caused by the blood's impurity. It cures scrofulous sores, boils, pimples, eczema and other defiling and disfiguring diseases.

"It gives me great pleasure to express my faith in the virtue of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mr. Rudiel Floro, of Graytown, Ottawa Co., Ohio. "I suffered everything for two years with hemorrhoids on my face, which baffled the skill of some of the most noted physicians. Was at once advised to go to the hospital; was doctored there for three months without success. Came home discouraged. Then began to doctor with a 'chemist.' He also failed to help me. Then I began Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, with no faith whatever in it. Did it only to please my wife; but I am happy to tell you that after taking five bottles I am entirely cured."

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

HUMANE HUNTERS.

Story That Shows That a Gunner Does Not Always Want to Kill.

The hunter had long been following the trail of a deer. From certain signs which his practised eye noted along the way he knew that his long tramp through the snow in the forest was coming to an end.

He had followed the single trail for nearly four hours, starting with a glimpse of the deer as she sprang unexpectedly from a covert at the side of the old log road. The great leaps of the deer were easily detected and the hunter set out in pursuit fully believing that in time he could tire the animal out and shoot her.

The chase was a hot one, first along the margin of a little stream over which the snowladen branches were bent until they swept the water, then through a marsh and on up the side of a mountain.

As the man followed, first at a slow trot and then walking ad struggling with the brush and stumps, his hopes rose higher and higher, for he noted that the leaps of the deer were growing shorter and shorter, and finally that the doe was walking, either tired out or confident that she had distanced the danger she had scented when she had stopped to nibble the tender bark of a bush.

The toes of the deer were no longer spread as they are when the animal is running. Up and over the mountain the hunter continued with increasing confidence.

The ground was strange to him, he had never hunted in that region before, and he watched with particular care the direction in which he was traveling from the sun and he studied the lay of the ground and noted the time it required to cover it from the starting point. The mountain seemed to run at right angles with the trail of the deer, and the particular features of the locality were fixed in his memory as a precaution against getting lost.

The doe worked along the side of this new watershed and entered a bowl in the slope of the mountains. When the hunter came up the deer was there in full view, and he raised his gun to shoot.

Suddenly he heard a plaintive cry; there was an answer, and a movement at the deer's side arrested his attention. He saw a young deer, apparently a fawn of the spring before, bound into the opening.

The doe turned to caress it and then sank to the ground, for she was plainly exhausted. The young deer did not appear to notice the doe's fatigue and played about her with every evidence of delight.

The hunter did not shoot. The gun was quietly lowered and set upon the ground, and the man watched with increasing interest the playful antics of the little one.

For some time the hunter waited, hoping to see a buck, and then he started to go away. He looked all about to discover the trail over which he had approached the glen and by which he proposed to return.

Across the ridge he saw through the leafless trees the form of another hunter, and he hesitated as he speculated over the appearance of the other. Then he whistled low and softly.

"Did you see?" he asked, after he had attracted the other's attention, and he pointed in the direction of the two deer.

"Yes," was the response. "I discovered the doe and was about to shoot when I saw the little one. Then I watched it play for an hour or more."

The first hunter found the end of his long trail through the forest and began to retrace his steps, and the other walked away among the trees.

This is a true story. Hunters are not always inhuman.

THE SKYLARK.

Bird of the wilderness,
Blithesome and cumberless,
Sweet be thy matin o'er moorland and lea!
Emblem of happiness,
Blest is thy dwelling place—
O, to abide in the desert with thee!
Wild is thy lay and loud
Far in the downy cloud,
Love gives it energy, love gave it birth!
Where, on thy dewy wing,
Where art thou journeying?
Thy lay is in heaven, thy love is on earth.

O'er fell and fountain sheen,
O'er moor and mountain green,
O'er the red streamer that heralds the day,
Over the cloudlet dim
Over the rainbow's rim,
Musical cherub, soar, singing, away!
Then when the gloaming comes,
Low in the heather blooms,
Sweet will thy welcome and bed of love be!
Emblem of happiness,
Blest be thy dwelling place—
O, to abide in the desert with thee!

—James Hogg.

Grounds For Divorce.

A Salem (Mass.) man who sought a divorce proved, according to a Boston paper, that his wife tore the sign from his store, put into his tea something that made him vomit, threw his clothes downstairs, filled his shoes with cold water, put swill in his overcoat pocket, threw water over him as he went downstairs, put pepper in his bed, made him sleep in an attic, wouldn't do his washing, wouldn't mend his clothes, made him darn his socks and sew buttons on his shirts, spat on his toast when he was getting his breakfast, rocked in a squeaky chair for hours at a time to annoy him, put grease on his Sunday clothes, wouldn't let him have a fire on the coldest evenings so that he often had to go to bed at 7 p. m. to keep warm, and finally "she rubbed a butcher knife over his neck and threatened to blow out his brains."

The Worm Turned.

He loved her devotedly. He was also bowlegged. Both facts gave him pain at times.

He passed it by with a rueful smile when she merrily said that his affliction gave him such an arch look and that, after all, he was a pretty good sort when you got on to his curves. He bore it patiently when she referred to his walk as parenthetical progress. But he rebelled and broke the engagement when she called her pet dog through the wicket formed by his legs.

"I may not be so over ornamental," said he, "but I emphatically object to being made useful so unseasonably early in the game!"

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, Feb. 13. — There seems to be little change in market situation and outlook this a.m. The unfavourable conditions referred to on Wednesday and letter of that day suggested a slightly irregular market with somewhat lower prices temporarily at least. The economic fundamental conditions have not changed and these may result in much higher prices later but for the present speculative interests are not very active. Market feels this lack of outside demand and adverse influence and lack of any substantial short interest and unfavourable impression of probability that gold exports will be made next week and that bank statement will be unfavourable.

M. & M.

Liverpool, wheat 1-8 to 3-8 lower; corn unchanged.

M. & M.

Unless better demand for wheat abroad would not be surprised to see it sell lower.

M. & M.

There was a large supply of long May wheat which broke the market a cent a bushel. Valentine sold 100,000 July wheat and bought 100,000 May wheat. Liverpool close yesterday, wheat 3-8 c lower; corn unchanged from Wednesday. Car lots, wheat 30; corn 395; oats 260.

The outlook is for a rather dull market; look for a lower opening, but not much further decline.

Bank of England rate unchanged. Stocks in London heavy with a declining tendency of 1-2 to 3-4 below parity.

Erie will authorize 50,000,000 bonds issuing 10,000,000 immediately. M. O. P. will show average net increase 8.03. Serious effort to adjust back dividend on leather pref. reported to be in progress. Banks lost to sub-treasury since Friday $382,000. Best reason to believe Aldrich bill will be promptly passed. The smelters earnings in the past three months larger than in any corresponding period in companies history; 12 industrials declined .62.

DOW, JONES & CO.

While our market closed yesterday the market for our stocks at London was dull and about 1-8 to 1-2 lower. Private cables reported tone heavy mostly on scattered selling from this side. Bank of England rate of discount remains unchanged at 4 per cent. Increase in Erie capital to an authorization of forty millions additional with $10,000,000 to come right away for improvements has not been well received.

our own labour and our own manufacturers? A country that can supply its own wants is richer by a great deal than the country that has to send abroad for its wants. We should employ in our own country the labour required to cultivate our own beets and the labour to manufacture those beets into the finished product. The conditions for the manufacture of sugar here were as favourable as they were in Michigan, and I think it will be wise for our agriculturists to consider the matter of creating such an industry. It may seem difficult at first, as was the case with the cheese industry, which has developed so wonderfully during the past few years. He thought that the Board of Trade could assist a great deal in educating the farmers and the public up to the possibilities of this growing industry. Is Peterborough a suitable place, and is the present an opportune time to start a factory? Mr. Dumble thought that it was. Then shall we endorse the project to encourage this industry by the spending of the people's money? The president went on to show that by encouraging the agricultural industries about Peterborough, the town would be benefitted accordingly — by this means we would advance all the financial interests of the town. It has been stated that the farmers do their share when they produce the beets, but it must be remembered that they are the persons who receive the greater profit. His own opinion was that bonuses are not a good thing for any town, but if the figures of the Manufacturers' Committee are correct, it might be an inducement for the town to take the $25,000 worth of stock, with first mortgage on the bonds. The company, he understood, was not asking for a loan of money, but offer as security for the stock taken in the concern, something which appears on the face of it, to be profitable. Mr. Dumble's own opinion was that it would pay. Holding mortage bonds they will be placed on the ground floor along with the contractors. He was pleased to know that there would be local control, which, with our good Canadian laws, he thought would be a guarantee of capable management. There was nothing on the face of the proposition that did not seem fair, so that the question for the Board to consider was as to whether they could take the responsibility of recommending to the Council to subscribe for stock in the Company to the extent of $25,000. He warned the members not to do anything rash, and to do only what was commercially right.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn pointed out to the meeting that although the factory would be running for only 100 days in the year, it ran three shifts a day, seven days in the week, which was equivalent to ordinary time the year round. In regard to the working capital of the Company, they expected that after selling the required amount of stocks and bonds that they would have a working capital of $80,000.

Mr. Garvin in speaking again on the subject, said that Berlin was a town very similar to Peterborough. However, in order to obtain their factory they had given a cash bonus of $25,000.

Mr. A. P. Poussette stated that there would be in the treasury $85,000, in stock and bonds, when the factory starts in operation, but there was a very quick turn over of the product, therefore it is evident that there can afford to be less working capital in the sugar business than in any other business.

The Berlin factory, Mr. Garvin said, was of 600 tons capacity and cost $600,000. The Peterborough factory would be about 550 ton capacity, but would be erected in such a manner that its capacity could easily be doubled. Berlin got a free site, the Peterborough Company expects to have to pay for its site.

Mr. Hughes-Charles said he admired very much the way the president had treated the subject. He was of the opinion that the more we manufacture for ourselves the better. The Government can of course assist the manufacturer a great deal in the matter of duty. He thought that the more working capital has the better it is for the stock holders. He did not believe in a quick turn over as the best prices could not be obtained. The only question as to the safety of the investment on the part of the town is to see that the plant is up to what it should be in proportion to the price. He was convinced that the growing of beets was a coming industry.

Mr. Dumble asked if the town would have a director on the board, and was assured that they would.

Mayor Roger said that he was not present to make any remarks, but would give the matter due consideration. He was present to receive information.

Mr. E. M. Elliott thought that the establishment of the industry would be a profitable investment. He had been talking to various farmers on the matter, and the prospects of seeing sugar manufactured in Peterborough was indeed good. In five years more there would be no wheat marketed here at all. They would then have only the cheese, butter and poultry industries, and would have to take up some other profitable line of industry, which would undoubtedly be the sugar beet industry.

The matter was brought to a close by a motion of Mr. Hughes-Charles to the effect that the secretary communicate with the town couuncil with a view of securing a joint meeting of the Board of Trade and the Town Council to discuss the matter.

The motion carried.

Mr. E. J. Toker introduced a notice of motion favouring the adoption of the pledge of the Canadian Preference League.

The Board then adjourned.

LOCAL LEGAL.

An Appeal That was Heard at Osgoode Hall on Wednesday.

In the Divisional Court at Osgoode Hall, the following case was heard before Chief Justice Falconbridge, and Justices Street and Britton:

Webb vs. Canadian General Electric Co. — W. R. Riddell, K. C., for plaintiff moved to set aside nonsuit entered by Meredith, J., in an action tried with a jury, brought under the workman's compensation for injuries act, R.S.O., ch. 160, sec. 3, sub-sections 2, 3, and 5, for injuries sustained by the plaintiff while in the employ of the defendant. Negligence was charged against one Patterson, the general manager of the company, and also against one Rowan, the foreman, to whose orders the plaintiff was bound to conform. A tramway runs east and west through the works of the defendants. Shortly before the accident the plaintiff had been called to the track to put in a bond timber, and to do this he had to work underneath the track. Fearing the approach of a car the plaintiff spoke to one Smith, his immediate foreman, who ordered the door to be closed. The plaintiff was working with his back towards the door, and without any warning being given him the doors were opened, and a car coming out passed over the plaintiff's arms, causing him serious injury. The trial judge ruled that there was no negligence on the part of defendants, and if there was the plaintiff was guilty of contributory negligence. R. M. Dennistoun, of Peterborough, opposed the appeal. Judgment was reserved.

Fear of the Future.

Most people who dread the future are victims of some terrible disease. Mrs. W. Francis, 202 Colborne street, Kingston, was in a bad state from kidney disease. She had severe pains in her back and legs, was gradually losing flesh, and had a dread of the future. A friend recommended Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and the result was a complete cure. There is no medicine so reliable, none so certain to produce a thorough cure. One pill a dose. 25 cents a box.

SIR ROBERT HART'S SUCCESSOR.

Reports That England Consents to an International Board.

London, Feb. 14.—The Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post says it is stated in the best informed circles there that the undertaking given by China to Great Britain in 1898, that the successor of Sir Robert Hart, Director of the Imperial Maritime Customs, would be British while British trade predominated in China is no longer operative.

There are indications, the correspondent adds, that the Marquis of Lansdowne, British Foreign Minister, will consent to Sir Robert being succeeded by an international board.

This would mean the ascendency of other European powers.

Premier Balfour Discusses the Venezuelan Question.

RELATIONS WITH POWERS.

Co-operation Among Them and the Use of That Principle Between Them Necessary for the Peace of Europe and the Civilization of the World —Balkan Situation is Causing Anxiety.

Liverpool, Feb. 14.—Premier Balfour, in the course of a speech at a luncheon, given by the Conservative Club here yesterday, declared the British Government had no choice but to take action against Venezuela. The Ministers had shown no undue haste, no greed for money and no inhumanity. The United States Government had been taken into the confidence of His Majesty's Government at every stage of the proceedings. The Monroe Doctrine had no enemies in this country. It would be a great gain to civilization if the United States should more actively concern itself with arrangements to prevent the constantly recurring difficulties between the European powers and the South American Governments by getting the latter to observe the principles of international courtesy.

Continuing, the Premier said there was no ground for Lord Rosebery's criticism with respect to British relations with either the United States or Germany. Some arrangement with the latter for joint operations was the most reasonable step possible for enforcing their several claims. Mr. Balfour ridiculed the suggestion that the alliance with Germany over Venezuela was settled at the time of Emperor William's visit to King Edward at Sandringham. He declared that the whole story was a mare's nest. International animosities, said the Premier, were a great source of international weakness. Great Britain was supposed to be greatly disliked on the continent, but no country was stronger for disliking Great Britain or showing animosity, nor would Great Britain be strengthened by harboring animosity. If the peace of Europe were to be preserved, and the cause of civilization go forward without fatal shocks, it must be the increasing use of cooperation between the European powers. The Balkan States are now giving anxiety, and the question can only be solved by common action upon the part of the great civilized powers. European concert is clumsy, he said, but it is better than isolated action.

Mr. Balfour implored all those who had any command over the source of public opinion to refrain from indulging in the easy task of embittering the relations between nations, and creating jealousies, so easily formed and so difficult to allay.

Referring to Lord Rosebery's proposal that Gen. Lord Kitchener should be invited to leave his command in India and became War Minister, Mr. Balfour characterized it as the wildest which had ever emanated from a man who had held and who doubtless was destined to again hold great administrative posts. All politicians could understand that Lord Rosebery's sole plan was to attain efficiency, but his suggestion was both opposed to the British constitution and absolutely impracticable. Lord Kitchener was a great soldier, but he had not been trained for the work of a Cabinet Minister, who was required to defend the proposals of his Government in Parliament.

Speaking at a reception here last evening, Mr. Balfour announced that he had received a communication from Foreign Secretary Lansdowne saying all the difficulties regarding the Venezuelan question had been removed, and that no hitch whatever need delay the final settlement any time.

POISON IN SCHOOL COFFEE.

Plot to Be Rid of Teachers and Others Discovered.

Salt Lake, Utah, Feb. 14.—A special from Ogden says:— As a result of the investigation brought about by the recent attempt of certain inmates of the State Reform School at Ogden to burn the buildings, the authorities have unearthed a conspiracy among some of the girl inmates to poison the teachers and others in authority at the school. It is known that at least two girls are concerned and that poison enough to kill a thousand people was found in their possession. The girls, it is said, got hold of a quantity of bichloride of mercury tablets recently purchased by the school authorities for disinfecting purposes. The conspirators, it is alleged, planned to put this in the coffee at breakfast.

North Ontario, March 10.

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—The writ was issued yesterday for the bye-election in North Ontario. George Fraser Bruce of Beaverton will be the returning officer. The bye-election in Maskinonge to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Legris' elevation to the Senate will also be held on the same date, March 10.

The Correct Quotation.

If you must quote, do quote correctly. Is the pen mightier than the sword? Thousands say or print: "The pen is mightier than the sword." It may be true, but if it is meant for a quotation it is not fairly give. The original lines in the play are:

"Beneath the rule of men entirely great,
The pen is mightier than the sword."

This error has been corrected over and over again. But those who misquote seldom read what they are pretending to quote, but quote from a man who quoted from another man who—and so on. In many books will be found long lists of these prevalent misquotations.

A TENDER OF SEATS

Government Offered Boer Generals Their Opportunity.

THEY DECLINE TO ACCEPT.

The Manner in Which the Executive Was Formed Does Not Meet With Their Approval—Cordiality Lacking in the Welcome to Colonial Secretary Chamberlain—Boycott at Cape Colony.

Pretoria, Feb. 14.—It is announced that the Government offered seats in the Executive Council to Generals Botha, Delarey and Smuts. The Boer generals unanimously refused to accept, giving as their reason the manner in which the Council was formed, which in their opinion, was not in the best interests of the country.

CORDIALITY LACKING.

Dutchmen in Cape Colony Cool to Mr. Chamberlain, Who Warns Them Against Lack of Co-operation.

Cape Town, Feb. 14.—Mr. Chamberlain arrived at Graaf-Reinet, in a Dutch district, yesterday. The welcome extended to the Colonial Secretary was anything but cordial.

The Dutchmen held sullenly aloof from the receptions and functions. Many of them openly paraded Boer badges.

The members of the British colony called on Mr. Chamberlain and complained of boycotting at the hands of the Dutch, and the general system of oppression and intimidation which was also extended to the natives, because of the assistance which they rendered to the British during the war.

Mr. Chamberlain made a long speech, in which he rebuked the Dutchmen in strong terms for their attitude, and frankly warned them that it was inconsistent with the enjoyment of the privileges of British administration.

BREEDERS OF AYRSHIRES.

Hon. William Owens Replaces F. W. Hodson as President.

Montreal, Feb. 14.—The annual meeting of the Canadian Ayrshire Breeders' Association took place here yesterday, a good attendance from all the provinces being present. Among the resolutions adopted were a vote of $50 towards the prize list of the Maritime Provinces Winter Fair.

That the balance of the money from the other provinces paid in by this association to be donated to the Guelph and Ottawa Winter Shows.

That Winnipeg and Calgary receive a grant of $25 for the best Ayrshire animals composed of a bull one shire animals composed of a bull one-year-old and over, and a female over two years old.

The meeting likewise adopted a resolution endorsing the project of a Dominion exhibition in Toronto.

The following gentlemen were then recommended as judges at the different exhibitions: Toronto, W. W. Ballantyne and A. Cain; Ottawa, Central, Thomas Bradshaw; London, J. Borden; Quebec, Thomas Drysdale.

Hon. William Owens replaces F. W. Hodson as president, this being the only change in the executive.

Alaska Boundary Treaty.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The President yesterday transmitted to the House a copy of the treaty entered into between the United States and Great Britain, relative to the Alaskan boundary line, together with a draft of a bill appropriating $100,000 to carry out the provisions of the treaty.

MR. COWAN'S DENIAL.

Did Not Say Sir Wilfrid Called Mr. Tarte a Traitor.

Windsor, Feb. 14.—"The statements attributed to me regarding the breach between Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. J. I. Tarte, formerly Minister of Public Works, are entirely false," said M. K. Cowan, M.P., who was quoted by a Toronto newspaper as saying that the Premier accused the former Minister of Public Works of treachery.

"There may be some differences in politics between the two men," continued Mr. Cowan, "but it is certain that they are still warm friends. If the Premier felt sore over the former Minister's action, it is certain that he has not gone about telling of it. I have been assured that Mr. Tarte does not place any reliance in the story."

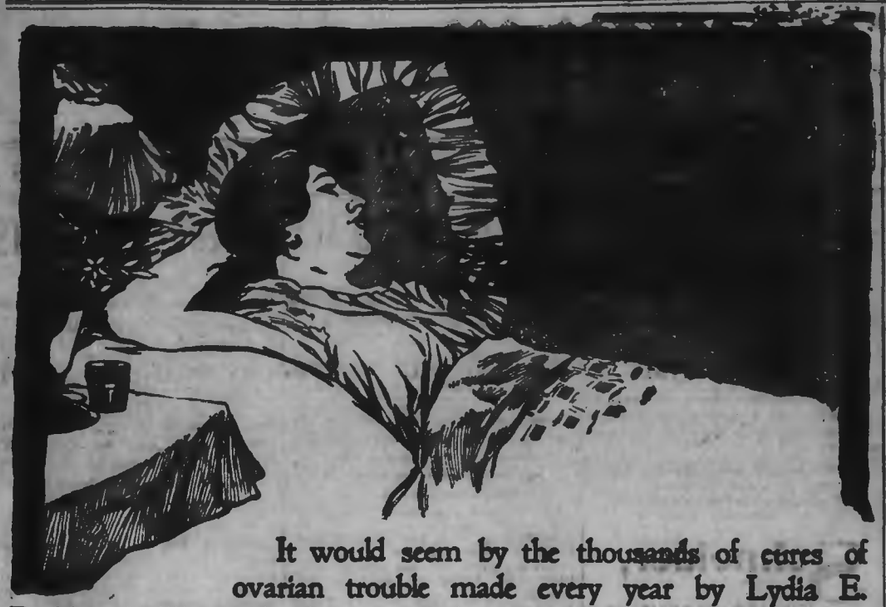
Well Made.

Pure flour and pure yeast do not necessarily mean good bread. It may be spoiled in the making. Just so: material is not everything. Prof. W. Hodgson Ellis, Official Analyst to the Dominion Government, after a number of analyses, reports that "Sunlight Soap is a pure and well-made soap." "Well made" means more than you think. Try Sunlight Soap—Octagon Bar—next wash day, and you will enjoy the benefits of a "well-made" soap, and will see that Prof. Ellis is right. No one should know better than he. 21t



It would seem by the thousands of cures of ovarian trouble made every year by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that the above statement is true.

When a physician tells a woman suffering with ovarian or womb trouble that an operation is necessary, it of course frightens her.

The very thought of the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart.

And our hospitals are full of women who are there for ovarian and womb operations!

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but such cases are much rarer than is generally supposed, because a great many women have been cured by Mrs. Pinkham's medicine after the doctors had said the operation must be performed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been very successful in curing ovarian troubles. In fact, up to the point where the knife must be used to secure instant relief, this medicine is certain to help.

Ovarian troubles are easily developed from womb troubles, and womb troubles are so very common that ovaritis is steadily on the increase among women. It is, nevertheless, a most serious trouble, and to recommend wrong treatment for it is a crime for which there cannot be too deep a penalty.

It is, therefore, with full consciousness of the seriousness of the disease, and the steady failure of other medicine to cure it, that we present for ovarian and womb trouble Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as the most certain to help of any medicine in the world to-day. Any person who could read the letters in Mrs. Pinkham's files at her office in Lynn, Mass., would be convinced of the efficiency of Mrs. Pinkham's Compound.

The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who have escaped the operating table by the use of this medicine. Let any woman suffering from these troubles, or anything which may develop into them, write and get Mrs. Pinkham's advice. If you are beyond the reach of the medicine, you will be frankly told so, but, if not, you will be fully, and carefully, and kindly advised.

Three letters as proof taken from hundreds received during the current year.

August 29th, 1901.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Some time ago I wrote you how I suffered. The doctor called my trouble congestion of the womb; also stated that my womb was turned so that I could never have any more children, and that the only cure was an operation. I was so sore and swollen across me that it hurt me to walk. At time of menstruation I suffered terribly. A friend advised me to write to you, and after receiving your reply to my letter, I gave up doctoring with the doctor, and followed your advice, for which I cannot thank you enough.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved to be just the medicine I needed, and saved me from a terrible surgical operation. After a time I gave birth to a nice boy. He has always been healthy and is the joy and sunshine of our home. I know had it not been for your medicine I never would have had my little boy. May God bless you in the good you are doing for suffering women." MRS. GEORGE HOLLAND,
54 Grove Ave., East Providence, R.I.

Mrs. M. G. Merritt, Payson, Arizona, writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I thought I would write to you as I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I had been sick for twelve years. I suffered a great deal with my ovaries and kidneys, had a discharge with a bad odor. Would bloat up after eating, felt tired all the time. The doctor said an operation was necessary.

"I commenced taking your medicine last April and it has cured me. I have gained in weight, and feel better than I have for years."

Mrs. F. O. Veghte, Roselle, N.J., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to thank you for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which cured me, after I had suffered for years with ovarian troubles. The pain in my back was agonizing, and I had leucorrhœa very badly. I doctored until I thought there was no hope for me, and although it was strongly against my principles to take anything not prescribed by a doctor, finally I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It did me so much good that I continued its use, and I am now entirely free from pain and disease, and escaped a dreadful surgical operation. Anyone who knows the agony caused by ovarian troubles, will understand how thankful I am for the great change in me, for which I am eternally grateful to you. For years I have nursed women in confinement cases, and I know how terribly women suffer from female disorders, and in all my experience I have never known of anything else that would really help those who are afflicted. I believe your Vegetable Compound will cure the very worst case of female weakness."

By a $5000.00 forfeit the above letters are guaranteed to be genuine.

ENGLISHMEN TREAT LITTLE.

Liquor Traffic Does its Evil Work Without Treating System.

PEOPLE DRINK AT HOME.

Local Men Who Have Lived in England Talk About its Drinking Customs.

(Lindsay Watchman-Warder.)

In view of the prominence of the temperance agitation and of the prevailing opinion that the treating system is responsible for most of the evils of the liquor traffic in Canada, the following statements about treating in England may be of interest. It will be noticed that they bear out the statement made editorially in these columns recently that without the treating system, England suffers from the worst results of strong drink.

Mr. Warren Worsley—When I lived in England it was a good deal commoner thing for men to go in and drink alone, than it is here; but there was a good deal of treating done. After a week's work the men were often paid at the public houses, and whilepwaiting for their employer to come they would sit around a table and drink beer that each in turn bought by the quart and served out to his fellows. The hotelmen often set up the drinks and when the the men got their pay a good deal of it was sometimes spent before the public house was left. Still a great deal of the drinking is done by each man buying his own liquor. We used to get half a pint of ale for a penny if we drank it at the bar or three cents if we sat down in a room.

Mr. Thos. McConnell — There is plenty of treating in England but the drinking customs there are different from ours. They have rooms in connection with the hotel, nicely furnished and having pianos and other musical instruments. People gather in there and listen or take part in the programme. Plenty of liquor is served and men buy for each other or drink separately as they like. A great deal of liquor is carried home and drunk. I have seen 200 people with all sorts of vessels waiting outside of a public house for a chance to go in and get their supply to take home.

Mr. Lewis Dyer—Men do not go about in big groups and treat each other in England as they do here. If you meet a friend you may ask him to drink and he will return the compliment but that ends it. Men frequently go in together to drink and each buys his own drink. When I first came to Canada I went into a hotel at Port Perry to have a glass of beer. In the bar was a man I knew. I asked him to drink with me. There were four or five strangers there and they stepped up and ordered something at the same time. I noticed them saying to me "Here is your health" and I said "Thank you"; but when I went to pay for my friend's and my own drink the bartender took pay for the others as well. I asked him how that was. He said, "Oh, its the custom in Canada." I told him it was a contest I didn't like, for I had never been used to it. But men drink in England till they get very drunk sitting each buys his own liquor.

Mr. Geo. Milne—England is a big place and of course there are all sorts of drinking customs among different classes of people, but the treating system is not at all general there. Men treat each other occasionally, it is true, but it is not at all expected that the person treated shall turn right about and buy another drink. It is a very proper thing to drink alone there, or to drink with your friends, and pay for your own liquor. The worst results of drink are to be found in England. People who do not treat carry liquor to their homes—spend all their money for it—and drink for days at a time. A great deal of gin is used. We have no idea here of the condition to which multitudes in the cities of England are reduced by drink.

Mr. Geo. Taylor—There is plenty of treating in England, but it is a very common thing for men to drink alone. People are far more exclusive than here. You might be riding in a railway compartment with only one other passenger; he would drink from his flask and never think of asking you to join him. Standing at a bar you might ask a man standing beside you to join you and he would often say "Pardon me, I don't know you." Then commonly, two friends, either two gentlemen or a lady and gentleman, go in to drink and when one offers to pay for both the other replies: "No, I'm on my own." That is a very common expression. There is no treating system there, to which you are required by etiquette to conform, as there is here.

EXCRUCIATING LUMBAGO PERMANENTLY CURED.

A severe case which proves the power of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets to cure so that you stay cured.

There are very few people in Havelock, Ont., or vicinity, who do not know Mr. William Reynolds, the popular C. P. R. brakesman, whose picture appears here.

About two years ago he was laid up with a severe attack of lumbago, which caused him excruciating pain, so that to stoop over or turn in bed was agony.

He heard of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets being a splendid remedy for such complaints as his. He took the Tablets and they cured him. Since then Mr. Reynolds has had no return of his old trouble, and has recommended Dr. Pitcher's Tablets to many men on the road, such as firemen, engineers, conductors and fellow-brakesmen, all of whom, from the nature of their occupation, are liable to bad backs and kidney trouble, and, in every instance, the Tablets have proved effectual.

STATEMENT MAY 31st, 1900.

This is what Mr. William Reynolds had to say about Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets on May 31st, 1900, just after he was cured:

"I had lumbago so bad when I got Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets from A. C. Denike, the druggist, that I could hardly move. It was most painful to turn in bed. There was a dull nagging aching in the small of my back continually, and to stoop or assume an upright position after sitting was extremely painful. This was not the only time I suffered that way; my case was becoming chronic, and the remedies that formerly gave me relief did not help me now in the least. I found, though, that as soon as I started taking Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, they helped me at once. They have removed the whole trouble. I have neither pain nor lameness now. I cannot say too much for them, and I heartily recommend them."

(Signed) WM. REYNOLDS.

STATEMENT MARCH 29th, 1902.

When our representative called on Mr. Reynolds, recently, he did not hesitate to speak in the highest terms of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and the permanent cure they had made in his case. Said he: "I have never had any return of that lumbago and kidney trouble which attacked me so severely in the spring of 1900. Dr. Pitcher's Kidney Tablets made a complete and thorough cure then, and I have never been bothered since."

ENDORSATION OF A. C. DENIKE, DRUGGIST.

Mr. A. C. Denike, Phm. B., the well-known druggist and optician of Havelock, who sold Mr. Reynolds the Tablets, writes:

"I am acquainted with Mr. Wm. Reynolds, brakesman on the C. P. R., and know that about two years ago he suffered greatly from lumbago and kidney trouble. He purchased Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets from me, and claims that they were the means of curing him, and I believe this to be the case. I understand from him that since Dr. Pitcher's Tablets cured him he has had no return of the trouble."

(Signed) A. C. DENIKE.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50c. a bottle or 3 for $1.25, at all druggists or by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY.

Something That has Reference to the School of Forestry.

At an adjourned special meeting of hte Council of Queen's University, at Kingston, signalized by the presence of the new Principal, the Rev. Dr. Gordon, matters of importance taken up included arrangements for the installation of the Principal, which will probably take place in October next, and will be of a character befitting the national as well as the collegiate importance of the event. The following minute adopted by the Council, and having reference to the new School of Forestry, will be found particularly interesting:

"Queen's University Council, at an adjourned special meeting to receive the new principal on his appointment, after a full review of the progress made in recent years, and a careful consideration of the present position of the University, places on record the following minute:

The affiliation with the University of the School of Mining and Agriculture, including a Department of Forestry, is a matter of much satisfaction as it is in complete harmony with the designs and public purposes of this seat of learning.

The Council desires to give expression to its high satisfaction that the affiliated School of Mining, Agriculture and Forestry, through the liberality of the Ontario Government, is now provided with ample accommodation in the new buildings recently erected upon the campus.

By joint action for the last ten years, the subjects of the School of Mining and those of allied subjects in the University have been carried on as the faculty of Practical Science. The Department of Agriculture has made gratifying progress; the Department of Forestry has, as a preliminary of other arrangements, made a beginning by a course of lectures during this and a preceding session. In one of the new buildings now completed this department will be fully provided for and the course of study will appear in the calendar for next session.

It is a matter of much satisfaction to the University Council that the Government of Ontario has undertaken to furnish adequate means to carry on the work of these three departments of Mining, Agriculture and Forestry."

WESTERN AGRICULTURE.

Value of Products Raised Last Year Estimated at $50,000,000.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 14.—The report of the Department of Agriculture, which was laid down on the table of the Legislature by Hon. Mr. Roblin, points out that the province has had two seasons of unusual prosperity, and that the community of farmers is the rugged pillar around which every commercial enterprise twines. The foundations of this pillar rest upon 25,000,000 acres of rich arsable land. The value of agricultural products raised during the year is estimated at over $50,000,000.

"This is a remarkable production for 41,000 farmers," says the report.

Another feature is that lands throughout the province, as in the territory, have largely increased in value during the last two or three years.

Costigan's Resolution.

Ottawa, Feb. 14. — Capt. Shaw-Taylor had an interview with Mr. John Costigan yesterday morning in regard to the resolution which the latter announced some time ago he would introduce at the coming session of Parliament upon the question of Home Rule. As a result of the interview the resolution will be framed, so as to favor a settlement of the land question upon the lines laid down by the Irish conference and at the same time strongly declare for Home Rule.

Patient 200 Years Old.

Vienna, Feb. 14.—Volksblatt yesterday vouches for the fact that there is at present a patient in a hospital at Tomsk, Siberia, who is 200 years of age. His age, the paper says, is authenticated by his birth certificate and other documents, among which is a passport issued to him in 1763, in which his age is given as 60.

Both May Marry Again.

Dresden, Saxony, Feb. 13.—The decree of divorce granted to Crown Prince Frederick Wednesday permits both parties to marry again. The Crown Prince applied merely for a separation of bed and board, but the former Crown Princess asked for an absolute divorce, which the judges decided they could not refuse under the new civil code.

A LIFE IN PERIL.

Story of a Girl Saved by a Newspaper Article.

She Suffered from Headaches, Dizziness and Night Sweats—Her Friends Feared She was Going into Consumption.

From L'Avenir, St. Jerome, Que.

Among the thousands of young girls who bless Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for safely carrying them through that most perilous period of their lives when they step from girlhood into the broader realm of womanhood, there is none more enthusiastic than Miss Gabrielle Thomas, a young lady known to most of the residents of St. Jerome, Que., and greatly esteemed by all her acquaintances. To a reporter of L'Avenir du Nord, Miss Thomas said:—"From the time I was fourteen until I was eighteen years of age my health was very bad. I was very weak; had no appetite and could do no work. At night I perspired greatly and frequently slept but little. I suffered from headaches, dizziness and could scarcely move about without becoming breathless, and I finally reached a stage when my friends feared I was going into consumption. I was under the care of doctors, but their treatment did not help me. I then tried several advertised medicines, but with the same poor results and I had come to think I could not get better. One day I read in a newspaper the statement of a young girl whose symptoms were almost identical with my own, who was cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I then decided to try this medicine and have reason to bless the day I did so. I had only used the pills a few weeks when I began to get better, and in a couple of months every symptom of my trouble had disappeared and I was as strong and healthy as any girl of my age. I have since always enjoyed the best of health and I shall be glad indeed if my experience proves helpful to some other suffering girl."

The happiness of health for both men and women lies in the timely use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which act as a nerve tonic and supply new blood to enfeebled systems. They have cured many thousands of cases of anaemia, "decline," consumption, pains in the back, neuralgia depression of spirits, heart palpitation, indigestion, rheumatism, sciatica, St. Vitus' dance and partial paralysis. But substitutes should be avoided if you value your health; see that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" is on every box. Sold by all dealers or sent post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

This Way Will Cure

Else I'll Pay Your Bill Myself.

I will cure you—as I have half a million others—and take all the risk myself.

I will furnish you the utmost that medicine can do; and unless it succeeds it shall be absolutely free.

Simply send me this coupon or write me a postal, stating which book you need. I will then mail you an order—good at any drug store—for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. You may take it a month on trial. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I will pay your druggist myself, and your mere word shall decide it.

You see this offer everywhere, all the time; and thousands every week are accepting it. And you must realize that I am curing those thousands, else the offer would ruin me.

You who are hesitating are wronging yourselves. You can have health for the asking. And I know from a vast experience that most of you must get my help to get well.

The reason is that my Restorative strengthens the inside nerves. It is the result of a lifetime's study in learning how to bring back this power that operates all vital organs. It gives the weak organ power to do its duty, and power is all that weakness needs.

The remedies that merely doctor the organs cannot bring results that last. Many of you know that from long and discouraging experience. The results from my Restorative are permanent. It reaches the cause that must be cured, whether the trouble is little or severe. The facts in my book will convince you that I am right.

PROTOCOLS SIGNED.

Venezuelan Dispute Will Now Go to The Hague For Arbitration—Blockade Is to Be Immediately Raised.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Herbert W. Bowen, Venezuela's representative in the Venezuela peace negotiations at Washington last night signed with each of the allies representatives here a protocol providing for the immediate raising of the Venezuelan blockade, and for the reference of the question of preferential treatment of the claims of the allies against Venezuela to The Hague Arbitration Tribunal. The final formalities occurred at the English Embassy. At 11.30 o'clock last night Herbert Dering, First Secretary of the British Embassy, announced to the Associated Press that the British protocol had just been signed, and that the signature of the Italian and German prototols would follow in the order named.

The British protocol was in English, the Italian in Italian and German, and the German in German and English. Mr. Bowen signed duplicate for Venezuela, Sir Michael Herbert for great Britain, Signor Mayor Des Planches for Italy and Baron Speck Von Sternburg for Germany. Immediately on the signing of the last protocol the cables were despatched to London, Berlin and Rome announcing the fact. It is expected that commanders of the blockading fleet within the next 24 hours will receive their orders to withdraw their vessels at once.

CHARGES AGAINST PREMIER.

Combes Cabinet and Its Relation to the Humberts.

Paris, Feb. 14.—An exciting incident occurred in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday, when Maurice Binder, Nationalist, sought to interpellate Minister of Justice Valle on the Humbert affair. The Deputy declared that suspicion had long been directed against the Combes Cabinet.

A scene of great disorder followed this statement, members of the Left protesting and demanding the removal of M. Binder. Premier Combes sought to gain recognition, but as M. Binder continued to shout at the top of his voice, MM. Combes and Valle and the other Ministers retired from the House, the Left party applauding and the Right party hissing.

M. Binder was then censured by the Chamber. When he attempted to resume his speech the President, M. Bourgeois, suspended the sitting. The Deputy continued his defiant speech after the session was resumed, but he was finally silenced by the President's threat to cause his removal from the Chamber.

M. Valle made a brief rejoiner, to the effect that his accusers were defenders of the Humberts, and an interpellation on the subject was postponed until after the budget had been passed.

Hearts That are Diseased.

Will never be cured by the false, unnatural stimulation of liquor. First increase your vitality, build up the system, strengthen and purify the blood—then the heart will respond and grow strong.

Ferrozone is precisely what to take, it gives you an appetite and a digestion that will look after everything that is eaten. Ferrozone improves nutrition, makes rich, vitalizing blood and is positively the most powerful restorative and strengthener known to science; it improves the nerve tone, regulates the heart's action, makes the feeble strong and the sick well. Ferrozone will do you untold good, and costs only 50 cents at all druggists, or Ormond and Walsh's drug store.

DARROW FOR MINERS.

Coal Strike Commission Now to Meet in Secret.

Philadelphia, Feb. 14.—The Anthracite Coal Strike Commission, after being in public session for more than three months, closed its open hearings yesterday with an all-day argument by Clarence S. Darrow, in behalf of the miners. It will meet in secret in Washington next Thursday and begin the consideration of its award. The announcement is expected at the end of this month. If an increase in wages is determined upon, it will date from the first of last November.

A DAILY NUISANCE.

A Simple Remedy Which Will Interest Catarrh Sufferers.

In its earlier stages catarrh is more of a nuisance than a menace to the general health, but sooner or later, the disease extends to the throat, bronchial tubes and even to the stomach and intestines.

Catarrh is essentially a disease of the mucous membrane, the local symptoms being a profuse discharge of mucus, stoppage of the nostrils, irritation in the throat, causing coughing, sneezing, frequent clearing of the throat and head, and gagging.

The usual treatment by local douches, snuffs, salves, etc., often gives temporary relief, but anything like a cure can only be obtained by a treatment which removes the catarrhal taint from the blood and the disappearance of the inflammation from the mucous surfaces.

A new remedy which meets these requirements, and which so far has been remarkably successful in curing catarrh is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

These Tablets act upon the blood and mucous membrane only. They can hardly be called a secret patent medicine, as they are composed of such valuable remedies as Blood root, Hydrastin, Red Gum and similar cleaning antiseptics, which cure by eliminating from the blood and mucous surfaces the catarrhal poison.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant-taking lozenges, taken internally, allowing them to dissolve slowly in the mouth. In this way they reach the throat, fauces and entire alimentary canal.

If desired they may also be dissolved in water and used as a douche, in addition to the internal use; but it is not at all necessary to use a douche, a few of them dissolved in the mouth daily will be sufficient. However, when there is much stoppage of the nose, a douche made from these Tablets will give immediate relief, but the regular daily use internally of the tablets will cure the whole catarrhal trouble without resorting to the inconvenience of a douche.

Dr. Bement says "that the internal treatment for catarrh is rapidly taking the place of the old plan of douching and local application and further says that probably the best and certainly the safest remedy at present on the market is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, as no secret is made of their composition and all the really efficient remedies for catarrh are contained in this tablet."

Druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at fifty cents for full sized packages. Ask your druggist and if he is honest he will tell you there is no safer, more palatable, more efficient and convenient remedy on the market.

Only a meagre account of the tragedy has reached his friends in Toronto, but it appears that Johnston, with a party of five others, went out bear hunting in the neighborhood of Utterson, in Muskoka district. He became separated from the rest, and while moving about in the bushes was mistaken by one or more of them for a bear, and fatally shot. Mr. Johnston was a native of the County of Mellim, Ireland. Wee Dainty Miss Wise

A Hamilton Little One Who Was Afflicted With Eczema For Over Two Years.

Every Known Remedy Was Tried But Without Success Until One Happy Day Her Mother Tried Powley's Liquified Ozone.

The Disease Germs Were Soon Destroyed, and After Taking Four Bottles Little Miss Wise Was Entirely Cured and in Perfect Health.

LITTLE MISS WISE.

Hamilton, January 16, 1903.

THE OZONE CO., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Gentlemen,—It is with heartfelt gratitude I write you of the wonderful cure your remedy (Powley's Liquified Ozone) has effected in my little daughter's case.

My daughter had been afflicted with eczema for over two years, and we had tried all the different remedies known for eczema—various patent medicines and also doctors' prescriptions, but nothing that we tried did her good.

We finally tried your Powley's Liquified Ozone and we are happy to tell you that after using four bottles our little one is entirely cured and is in perfect health, as you can see by her picture we are sending you.

You are at liberty to publish this in any papers you wish and to use my daughter's picture to confirm my statements. We thank you for your wonderful remedy and attribute our little daughter's recovery to Ozone alone, as no other remedies did her any good.

We have recommended Ozone to others, who have used it and been wonderfully benefitted by it.

(Signed) MRS. H. J. WISE,
Corner Barton street and Smith avenue.

Many Eczema Cases Cured by the Infallible Ozone.

Eczema is recognized as being one of the most stubborn diseases that medical men have to contend with. No halfway measures are possible with it. It must be rooted out entirely. Powley's Liquified Ozone does this by destroying the germs that cause it. Not in simply one case has its efficacy been proven, but in hundreds, until to-day it stands unrivalled as a remedy for this painful malady. The following are brief extracts from the testimonials of a few of the many who have been cured:

RODGER PILSON,

Downsview P.O., Ont., says: "For eight years I suffered with eczema and spent hundreds of dollars in medicines, but could get nothing to help me until a friend advised me to try Powley's Liquified Ozone. I did so and before I had entirely used three large bottles I was completely cured."

WALTER KNOWLTON,

87 Brunswick avenue, Toronto, says: "When our little boy was two years old a rash broke out on his face. The following Fall it became worse and we were much alarmed, as we feared the child would be disfigured for life. The doctor said he could do nothing. A neighbor advised Powley's Liquified Ozone. I had no faith in it, but eventually decided to do so. At first he grew worse, then better, and the disease seemed gradually to dry up. In a short while he was in perfect health, with a skin as soft and smooth as velvet."

W. DORSEY,

23 Sultan street, Toronto, says: "I had a very severe attack of eczema in my left leg. It became very angry and sore, and seemed to eat right into the flesh. This gave me such great pain that I was nearly out of my mind. Different friends advised me to try Powley's Liquified Ozone. I bought three bottles and by the time I had taken them every trace of the disease was gone."

MRS. F. SCULTHORPE,

72 Cobourg street, Ottawa, says: "I was terribly afflicted with eczema, which broke out on nearly every part of the body. The irritation was almost unbearable and my life was a misery. I commenced to use Powley's Liquified Ozone and after using nine fifty cent bottles there is no trace of the disease left."

DR. MECKLENBURG,

corner Craig and Bleury streets, Montreal, says: "For over twelve years I was a great sufferer from eczema. My hands and limbs were so bad that blood would ooze out of my skin, and I had a very bad sore on my right leg at the knee. In was so painful I was unable to walk and at times my hands were so bad I could not attend to my practice and I was compelled to wear silk rubber gloves. I was treated by leading specialists on skin disease, but got no relief. With hope almost gone I finally decided to try Powley's Liquified Ozone. I noticed an improvement almost immediately and continued until I had used eleven bottles, when I was completely cured. My skin is as clean and smooth as a baby's."

WARNING In buying be sure to get Powley's Liquified Ozone. As a safeguard to your own good health it will pay you to exercise this precaution. Powley's Liquified Ozone is sold only by reliable dealers and is never peddled. Price, 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle.

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay rents in the per cent. in rent is to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your home? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

Last Night's Meeting in St. Paul's Church Largely Attended.

Last night's meeting in connection with the evangelistic services in St. Paul's church, was Students' and Young Peoples' service, and notwithstanding the many counter-attractions, the attendance was perhaps the best of the week.

The singing of the evangelists, Turk and Kerby, still continues to be an attractive feature of the meetings. The power of song and the gift of preaching are equally prominent with these men, and the one seems as effective as the other in deepening impressions and capturing the hearts of all who listen to them.

The ministers of the various churches of the town were present as usual, and Revs. E. A. Langfeldt, M.A., and J. G. Potter, B.A., led in the opening prayers.

Rev. Mr. Turk preached the special sermon to young people, his subject being "Foundation Building," St. Matt. vii, 24-27. The speaker drew a vivid word picture of the two kinds of builders, contrasting the foundations of the house built upon the sand with that of the house built upon the rock. Using the material to illustrate the spiritual he emphasised the importance of character building. "Character," he said, "is more important than pyramids, or cathedrals, or citadels." In forcible and eloquent language the speaker urged upon his hearers to build upon the Rock, Christ Jesus. "Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ." The sermon left a profound impression upon the hundreds who were present, an impression that was deepened by the duet which followed, "Jesus Wants to Pardon You."

Rev. Mr. Kerby closed the service with a few words of exhortation, and Rev. C. L. Thompson pronounced the benediction.

YOUNG MEN'S GUILDS

Meet in Charlotte St. Sunday School—Interesting Debate.

A meeting of the Young Men's Guilds of the town was held in the Charlotte street Sunday school last night. A large number of young men were present. An excellent programme was arranged, a prelude to which were some well-rendered pianola selections by Mr. R. Soanes. The chairman, Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., next gave an address. Devotional exercises, consisting of a Scripture reading and a prayer by Rev. Mr. Jolliffe, were the next of interest. The young men, who know good singing when they heard it, heartily applauded Mr. Joe Legg.

A debate as to whether labour unions should be incorporated or not, then ensued, but had the speakers heard Mr. Burnham's lecture in the opera house, on "The Workingman in Ancient and Modern Times," there would have been no negative speeches made. The address appears in another column in this issue.

The speakers on the affirmative side were Mr. R. F. McWilliams and Mr. C. R. Brown, and for the negative, Mr. H. H. Edmison and Mr. Kelly. Mr. R. M. Dennistoun and Mr. S. R. Armstrong fulfilled the duties of judges.

After some deliberation the judges decided in favour of the incorporation of the unions. During the intermission, Mr. Soane's pianola selections again charmed the ears of all present.

The very enjoyable evening was brought to a close by votes of thanks to all contributors to the programme.

A committee was appointed to ascertain when the "Forestry" lecture was to be given.

He referred to the great success of the league so far this winter, and instanced the fact that there had been 25 matches played in the first round without the slightest trouble in the form of a protest or the like.

The Secretary-Treasurer announced that there was on hand the sum of $101.00.

Upon motion of Mr. Crowley, seconded by Mr. Anderson, the Secretary-Treasurer was voted an honorarium of $50.00 for his efforts in behalf of the League.

The matter of arranging the schedule was then proceeded with and after several arrangements were suggested, the following schedule was adopted:—

Tuesday, Feb. 17—T.A.S. at Fenelon Falls.

Thursday, Feb. 19—Fenelon Falls at Norwood.

Monday, Feb. 23—Norwood at T.A.S.

Friday, Feb. 27—T.A.S. at Norwood.

Monday, March 2nd—Fenelon Falls at T.A.S.

Wednesday, March 4th — Norwood at Fenelon Falls.

There will positively be no postponement of the above matches.

It was agreed that should the schedule end in a tie between Norwood and Fenelon Falls a sudden death game will be played in Peterborough. If T.A.S. and Norwood are a tie, the game will be played in Lindsay. If T.A.S. and Fenelon are a tie the game will be played in Lindsay. In the event of a tie between the three teams in the final round, Fenelon will have a bye, and Norwood and T.A.S. will play a sudden death game.

Dr. Walters of Lindsay will referee the games between T.A.S. and Fenelon Falls; Mr. Ernie Wasson, of Peterborough, the games between Norwood and Fenelon, and R. M. Glover, Peterborough, the games between T.A.S. and Norwood.

The committee ratified the issue by the Secretary-Treasurer some time ago of a permit to John Sherry, now of Varsity to play with the Norwood Club, and Alvin Gould, of Pharmacy, to play with the Fenelon Falls team. Mr. George Ingram, of Fenelon, was also granted a permit to play it having been shown that he was a resident of Fenelon Falls by Nov. 1st., but had neglected to register within the specified time.

TO FIX THE LAW

To Shut out all Transient Traders—Deputation of Merchants Wait Upon the City Property Committee.

(Kingston Whig.)

A regular meeting of the city property committee was held in the city engineer's office, Wednesday afternoon, there being present Chairman McCammon, Aldermen Tait, Behan, Mallan, Hoag, City Engineer Kirkpatrick, City Commissioner Gordon and City Solicitor McIntyre.

A deputation of the Kingston Retail Merchants' Association was present with reference to a request for the strengthening of the bylaw governing the transient traders' license fee.

Ex-Mayor Wright presented the views of the deputation. The merchants, he said, wanted to be protected from incursions by outside merchants who came into the city and conducted slaughter sales to the detriment of the trade of the local merchants. If the law did not fully protect the merchants the association would like to have it strengthened and so improved as to fully protect those who contributed to the taxes of the city.

City Solicitor McIntyre replied that the bylaw in question was founded upon the provisions of the municipal act; it exhausted all the possibilities of that act, and the municipality could not go one step further. Mr. McIntyre maintained that a local auctioneer could receive a consignment of goods from an outside merchant, could rent any building that would suit his purpose, and auction off such goods, without being charged with being a transient trader. He cited a case in point, tried in the courts, to substantiate his statement. A man not on the assessment roll, who came here, rented premises and carried on an auction sale, could be charged as a transient trader and would be liable to come within the provisions of the bylaw, which compelled the payment of a transient traders' license fee.

DO NOT COME LATE.

A Splendid Suggestion Regarding Monday Night's Attraction.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—The music lovers of Peterborough fondly hope to enjoy a treat on Monday evening next at the presentation of the opera El Capitan. As one of them I desire to say that by coming late a few thoughtless people may mar our pleasure—others still more considerate (our lady friends) may obstruct the stage view by wearing abnormally large and high hats and refusing to remove them while in the opera house. In England theatre going people will not tamely submit to this sort of thing, and but recently in one of the leading London music halls a pronounced demonstration occurred against it, ending in a small sized riot. When sitting impervious to one's surroundings entranced with beautiful melody it is harrowing to be rudely aroused by the dragoon tramp, tramp, of a late male arrival or the horrid vulgar rattle and rustle of a belayed female. In justice to my own sex I beg to say men (when alone) usually arrive in good time and always remove their head-dress. Their sisters and their cousins and their aunts delay them and remark inconsequently "our seats are reserved, why hurry"; no thought either for players or play-goers. It is now an established rule in all leading American theatres that people arriving after an Act has commenced must wait until that Act is ended and the curtain rung down before taking their seats. Let this be the rule on Monday evening and let no self asserting individual transgress it.

Yours etc.,

MUSIC.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

T. G. Gillespie, Recorder, Peterborough Lodge, A.O.U.W., No. 135,—

Dear Sir, — I wish to convey through you to the Master Workman of your Lodge, Mr. J. J. Turner, to the members and to the order, my cordial thanks for the prompt payment of the endowment of $2000 held by my husband, the late T. M. D. Croly. The receipt of a cheque for the amount of the endowment, within a month of its becoming due, is a circumstance not only very gratifying to the beneficiaries, but one furnishing evidence of the prompt and honourable methods of the A.O.U.W., and of the value of membership in so excellent an order.

Yours very gratefully,

PETERBOROUGH MARKETS.

There was an exceptionally large market this morning, but the prices were much the same as on Wednesday last. Chickens last Wednesday were 40 to 60c. per pair, but a much higher price was asked to-day. The grain market continues to remain the same and no change is expected in that line. As low a price of $3.00 was asked for soft wood, but this morning the lowest asked was $4.50 and the highest was $5.25. With the exception of these the market was very much the same as last Wednesday.

MR. BURNHAM'S FINE ADDRESS LAST EVENING.

Progressive Evolution of the Workingman.

AN INTERESTING LECTURE.

Combines Combatted—Unions Eulogized—Other Speeches.

A very interesting lecture was delivered at the Opera House by Mr. Hampden Burnham, the subject being "The Workingman in Ancient, and Modern Times, and the Labour Movement in America."

There were present on the platform, Mr. C. P. Murty, chairman, ex-President of the Trades and Labour Council; and Messrs. J. Hickey, vice-president of the Trades and Labour Council; F. F. Garden, secretary of that notable group, and the Rev. Mr. Davidson and Rev. Father McColl.

Mr. Murty introduced the lecturer to the audience, which, if not as large as was expected, was of an appreciative and attentive nature.

Mr. Burnham gave a vivid illustration of the life and modes of living of the ancient Saxon community, which existed purely on their own individual physical exertions.

In those ancient times the man was not nearly so well treated as he is to-day—if a man owed a sum of money, not within his reach to pay, he was imprisoned, and also became the slave of the man to whom he owed the money. These men were the ancestors of the workingman of to-day.

In 1347 broke out the plague—the notable and terrible Black Death, which, day by day; week by week; year by year, attacked and killed off one-third of the population of England. This plague attacked the wealthy and those best in health, rather than the serfs. On this account labour consequently became scarcer and was more necessary. At this period the serfs wished to become free and not remain slaves, and for this purpose the Statute of Labourers, which said mainly that no workman should receive higher wages than before. Of course the serfs would not stand this and one and all throughout the country they rebelled under Wat. Tyler, which ended temporarily by the defeat of the insurgents, but they got all their demands and they were more determined than ever that there would be no more bondsmen.

After this occurred the best period known to the working man—there was plenty of food, work and good wages, and best of all good things, they had freedom.

This period was disturbed by the villainies of King Henry VIII, both towards man and womankind.

Rents at this time were about 24 shillings a year, but the workingman had practically no work, and almost absolutely no money.

In 1776 steam was put to commercial use by Watt, and the spinning jenny invented, thus working people were out of work. Any one could work the machines, and female labour was employed for a miserable weekly pittance, while the father of the family had to stay at home and rock the cradle. Laws were made forbidding combinations. No men could meet together to discuss any situation; if they did they were certain to be put in prison.

In 1800 the first union was formed. Little by little it grew until there was a great national union of tradesmen.

In 1889 was formed the Knights of Labour, and every class of workingmen clubbed together in a society for their own personal social elevation, and in 1871 the laws against such combines were absolutely abolished.

The workingman without work starves. Unless there are unions the employers can pay each individual man just what he agrees to.

Temperance is taken up and promoted by all the unions and organizations, and men must not spend their last cent in drinking and guzzling, while their wives and children were starving at home.

If machinery gets into the hands of the Government and individual freedom is abolished, then the workingman will be as badly off as he was in ancient times.

In conclusion Mr. Burnham turned to labour methods and disputes in Canada. In 1901 occurred a very large strike in Quebec, which was turned over to the Catholic Bishop to settle. This reverend gentleman said that in his opinion unions were necessary.

Turning to the Carnegie library offer, he said that it was not Carnegie was was giving the library, but the poor, hard worked man who had been ground down. Carnegie's workmen were giving the library at their own cost.

The companies who pensioned off their retired employees, are the companies to be worked for. Companies such as the C.P.R. would find the best workmen in the whole country. He hoped the Canadian workingmen would become great and honourable because they were a consolidated people.

A vote of thanks was moved to Mr. Burnham for his interesting address.

Rev. J. C. Davidson said he fully appreciated all the remarks of Mr. Burnham. He thought that as the employers had conceded to the unions, so ought the workingmen to concede to the Employers' Union.

Rev. Father McColl spoke a few words in appreciation of the interesting address given by Mr. Burnham.

A CANADIAN INVESTMENT.

We beg to call the attention of our readers to the subscription offer, published elsewhere in this issue, of the British-Canadian Wheat Raising Company. It will be observed that the Company consists of some of the leading men in Canada, and that the financial standing and earning capacity of the Company are something seldom seen in an issue of shares. This Company's future is absolutely assured, and it is predicted by men who know that these shares will undoubtedly command a high premium in a very short time. It is the intention of the Company to have the shares listed on the various exchanges shortly after the subscription for the same is closed.

Inasmuch as only a limited amount of these shares will be offered to the public, it is confidently expected that they will be largely oversubscribed, but we are given to understand by the Treasurer that those subscribing first will be given the preference.

An Offer to Business Men.

With every telephone order we receive at the Peterborough Bookstore for office supplies—such as writing paper, ink, pens, mucilage, typewriter ribbon, typewriter paper, or other office stationery—we will send 500 good business envelopes for 25 cents. If they're not worth double the money send them back. We make this offer to encourage the more general use of our telephone. Ring up No. 285, A. H. Stratton & Co.

GENERALLY SPEAKING

THIS IS St. Valentine's Day — the season when geese mate, and youngsters send more or less lasadaisical love letters. The serious and gentler import of the day has vanished, and the custom has grown more of a burlesque, principally devoted to the sending of "comic" missives—not a very reprehensible practice unless the missives are malicious, as they often are. The valentine sent to wound and humiliate is a vehicle of criminal malevolence.

THE BELLEVILLE city council have done an act of questionable wisdom, in adopting what seems to be a very parsimonious scale of salaries for it city officials, and all to effect a saving of only $1,000 a year.

• • •

IT IS A QUESTION whether the saving will not be more apparent than real, and whether ineffective service may not result in loss of good money amounting to far more than $1,000 a year. As a rule, a service or an article is worth what is paid for it. A cheap suit at $7, is worth $7, and a good Scotch or Canadian tweed suit, costing $20, is, as a rule, worth $20. A civic official who is supposed to do $1,000 worth of work for $500, is not likely to earn more than $500. Good service deserves good pay, in either civic, commercial, financial or other spheres. There is a temptation to a civic official, resting under a sense of doing for less money the same work that similar officials do, and get, elsewhere, to gauge his services to his remuneration, or else speedily begin to button-hole aldermen for an increase of salary.

• • •

MR. J. B. LAING, Provincial Auditor, has expressed his surprise that municipal treasurers remain as true as they do to their trust, in view of the temptations of miserably small salaries, and the frequent inefficiency that comes from such small salaries. Mr. Laing holds that these officials should be protected from the greed of municipal councils.

• • •

IF POOR BELLEVILLE'S cheeseparing experiment succeeds, one of the objections to Peterborough's incorporation as a city, will be removed. It is urged that if we become a city our expenses will be increased—we shall have to do things on a larger scale. But if we can get a city clerk at $700 a year and other civic officers in proportion, we shall make money by becoming a city; but we would have to be a "one-horse" city, and there would be very little money in that, after being the best town in the Dominion.

• • •

THE REPORT of the Manufacturers' Committee of the Board of Trade, presented at the meeting on Thursday night, might have been a less formidable document, if the object was to establish the feasibility of the possible and profitable manufacture of sugar from beets, with Peterborough as the centre. These have been proved long ago, and the argument to this effect in the report was simply painting the lily. It is admitted that Peterborough is perhaps the best situated centre for a sugar factory in the province, with an unsurpassed beet-growing district tributary, by the best of transportation facilities. All this is conceded. There is no reasonable doubt that a best root sugar factory, well managed, would be a very important addition to our industries, and a new mine of profit to our farmers.

BUT A WELL-MANAGED and sufficiently capitalized factory, is one of two or three things that the town must be assured of before it consents to invest $25,000 in a beet sugar factory. Another thing to be decided is whether it is wise for the town to enter into commercial or speculative enterprises. Many will think it time to do that when we have a few little urgent jobs off our hands—when we have our water system in full running order; when we have settled the lighting problem; when we have our public sanitation upon sound enough basis to ensure sound health to our citizens; when we have dealt with the street railway situation, and when we have several other little "chores" looked after.

BY ALL MEANS let there be a joint meeting of the Board of Trade and the Council, but let them both, as representatives of the town's interests, look at the matter from a purely business point of view. If they approach the matter with the judicial and cautious spirit that marked the speech of the President on Monday night, it seems probable that nothing rash will be done—only what is "commercially right."

• • •

EVERYBODY will be pleased if we can have a good, well equipped and well managed beet sugar factory established in Peterborough, one of the best—if not the best—points in Ontario in all respects for a such an industry.

• • •

IT IS PREFERABLE, of course, though not essential, that all the stock should be subscribed in Peterborough. "Another concern," is running full time and capacity under good business management, and would do so even if some of its stock were subscribed in China or Manilla.

• • •

ONTARIO COUNTY has got ahead of Peterborough. On Thursday a House of Refuge with accommodation for 75 inmates was formally opened in Whitby. It is pretty certain that our haphazard and desultory way of dispensing charity is costing more than the housing our poor in a properly equipped House of Refuge, and we are still earning the reproach of herding indigent misfortune with criminals and vagabonds.

• • •

THE OTTAWA correspondent of the Globe has shifted our boasted hydraulic lift lock from Peterborough to Lakefield. This is cruel, when we have become so proud of it, boasted about it, had it photographed and engraved on our stationery as the apple of Peterborough's eye. When a Globe correspondent places our lift lock at Lakefield he can't very well laugh at a Cockney addressing a letter to "Winnipeg, Ontario."

• • •

ONE OF THE LADY delegates in connection with the Y.M.C.A. Women's Auxiliary, in a paper read, condemned the use of bazaars, etc., as a means of raising money for religious work. While the religious aspect of the question is not the Examiner's business, yet from a commercial point of view bazaars are not fair play to merchants. This can frankly be said now because there is no church bazaar, recent or in prospect, that can invidiously take it to heart. Bazaars are direct competition with our merchants and at a time of year which is considered their harvest. Besides, merchants are solicited for free contributions of material, which are made-up and placed on sale to crowd out their own legitimate wares. That's a good deal like a bird giving a feather to wing the shaft that shoots him. "Render unto Caesar, etc."

IT IS STATED that some of the hotel-keepers of the town are not living up to the requirements of the law in regard to Saturday night and Sunday selling of liquor. Inspector Cochrane informs the Examiner that it is his intention to make it a serious matter for those who persist in disregarding the law, and it is more than probable that two or three persons will be sorry that they do so.

Do you know that next Saturday is Valentine Day? The old custom of sending valentines to your best girl is coming in again. At Sailsbury's you can find an assortment of valentines good enough for anyone.

SUCCESSFUL BALL

Held in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe Street.

The ball given in the Foresters Hall, Simcoe street, on Thursday evening, by the Bartenders' Union, proved very successful, and the committee who had charge of the affair, Messrs. Bert. Kennedy, Dan Foley and John Jays, deserve much credit for the manner in which the arrangements were carried out. Mr. Archie Moore acted as Master of Ceremonies and Cawthorne's orchestra furnished the music.

I noticed by last night's Examiner that Mr. John T. O'Connell is very much annoyed by my ad., under heading "Unloaded." Every word of that ad. is correct and legal, and Mr. O'Connell's statement that I will not and cannot sell Real Estate within twenty-five miles of town, is not true, and when he could not understand a legal document himself he should have consulted his solicitor before exposing his lack of knowledge. I have a legal right to sell Real Estate anywhere and further if sold within twenty-five miles of his office, I have a legal right to insist upon him paying me for doing so. This may appear strange, but nevertheless it is true, and he is in honour bound to apologise for making such a false statement.

Vertigo or Dizziness

Accompanied by sick, nervous headache, irritability, nervous exhaustion, stomach troubles and sleeplessness is the forerunner of

PARALYSIS, EPILEPSY AND INSANITY

No ailments are so horrible to contemplate and none cause such misery as those which end in Mental and Physical Helplessness.

Suddenly the victim of vertigo is thrown to the ground as though struck with a blow, and though not unconscious he is unable to help himself. He may have been warned by confusion of vision and thoughts and by the sight of objects apparently moving around him, by sparks before the eyes or a rising and falling motion like the swell of the ocean; he may have been subject to indigestion, liver disorders, constipation, pain or oppression after meals, nausea, heartburn, belching of wind, nervousness, headache and sleeplessness, but the first stroke of vertigo or dizziness may come on him unexpectedly at his work or on the street.

As the sufferer from vertigo or dizzy spells comes to realize that his trouble is likely to end in paralysis, locomotor ataxia, epilepsy, insanity or some dreadful form of helplessness he becomes morose, irritable, suspicious and melancholy and it is only with patient and persistent treatment that he is restored.

As the direct cause of vertigo and the accompanying symptoms is an exhausted and depleted condition of the brain and nerve cells, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is by far the most satisfactory treatment that can possibly be obtained. This statement is endorsed by scores and hundreds of people who have been cured by this great food cure.

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

Not only restores to the brain and nerves full control of the body and its various organs but also builds up flesh and tissue and instils new vigor and vitality into every nerve and every muscle. By weighing yourself while using it you can prove this beyond dispute. It creates new, rich blood and nerve cells and is bound to do you good. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. C. P. R. LANDS.

Question of Taxing Them Now Before the King's Bench of Manitoba—Judges in the Case.

Winnipeg, Feb. 14.—One of the most important cases which have ever come before the courts of this province has been commenced and will be carried on until it reached the Privy Council in England, the court of last resort for the British Empire and her colonies. The taxation of C.P.R. lands has been for years a burning question in numerous municipalities throughout the province. At present the lands owned by the C.P.R. are free. If they were made to bear their proportion of the taxes, those paid by the farmers would be lessened. The Dominion Government has taken hold of the matter and given instructions that a decision should be obtained on the point from the courts. The judges who are sitting to hear the argument are Chief Justice Killam, Mr. Justice Dubuc and Mr. Justice Richards. The counsel engaged are: Mr. H. M. Howell, K. C., and Mr. Mathers for the plaintiffs, retained by the Dominion Government. Mr. Ewart, K. C., Mr. Stewart Tupper, K.C., and Mr. F. H. Phippen for the C.P.R.

CANADA'S REVENUES.

Over $36,000,000 Collected From the People in Seven Months—The Dominion Expenditures Decreasing.

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—Canada's revenue for the seven months ending Jan. 31 reached the total of $36,447,132, being $9,762,726 in excess of the ordinary expenditure, and $4,513,973 more than ordinary and capital expenditure combined. Our financial position is better by nearly six millions than it was at the end of January, 1902, there having been an increase of $2,901,646 in the receipts for the past seven months, and a reduction in the capital expenditure of $2,268,598. As against this the ordinary expenditure has only been augmented by $412,000. The increases in the national receipts consist of the following:—Customs, $2,467,506; excise, $859,489; postoffice, $528,622; public works, $489,216; miscellaneous, $256,814.

Fear of the Future.

Most people who dread the future are victims of some terrible disease. Mrs. W. Francis, 302 Colborne street, Kingston, was in a bad state from kidney disease. LITERATURE'S EARNINGS.

Some Moralizing Incidentby the Semi-mon of the Estate of the Late Bret Harte—New View.

The announcement comes from England that Bret Harte's personal estate is valued at $1,800. Apropos of this, several of our contemporaries have wagged their heads mornfully and have moralized in a sapient manner upon the ingratitude of the public, which is supposed to give such scant rewards to the makers of good literature, says The Commercial Advertiser. One commentator says that if an author produces only literature of the very highest kind, he is certain to die in a state of poverty. Now, putting aside the question as to whether Mr. Harte's productions during the last 15 years of his life represented a high type of literature or whether they were not really pot-boilers, it is perfectly certain that this pessimistic view is utterly unjustified. The amount of money that a man leaves at his death is by no means indicative of the amount of money he earned while living. It merely affords a clue to the manner in which he has managed his financial affairs.

What the Records Show.

The records of literary history will show, as a general principle, that in this as in every other sphere of effort the best work is certain to receive the highest compensation. And this is true not merely in our own time, but it has been true for the past century and a half. If Goldsmith, who was notoriously a prodigal, died poor, Pope, who was an excellent man of business, died rich. Sir Walter Scott died poor; but, nevertheless, his pen had earned for him a princely fortune, which he lost through his carelessness in business matters. Dickens began life as a bottle-washer in a blacking establishment, and at his death he left at least a quarter of a million dollars, all earned by his writings and his public readings. Thackeray also left a competence, and it might have been even more had he not been so averse to lecturing. Bulwer-Lytton began life with an encumbered estate and the most meagre income, yet his novels enriched him and he died a wealthy man. Trollope's earnings from his pen alone and apart from his official salary in the Government service amounted to some $400,000, as he has himself recorded. Poetry is not supposed to be so lucrative, yet Byron received great sums of money for what he wrote; while Tennyson, who was an excellent manager, accumulated a sufficient fortune to maintain the dignity of a peerage.

Even in the United States.

In our own country the facts all point in the same direction. Irving acquired a competence by his literary labors; Cooper died a wealthy man, and even such unworldly writers as Hawthorne and Longfellow and Lowell lived very comfortably as the result of their devotion to literature. Of course, Poe is the stock example of a neglected genius; yet, as a matter of fact, the sordid poverty in which he often lived and in which at last he died was due entirely to his own habits and peculiarities, which made it quite impossible for his friends to set him on his feet. Again and again he occupied positions which would have assured him a comfortable living had he cared to keep them, but he practically threw them all away through a sort of perversity of temperament.

Hence, if now and then a popular writer dies and leaves a very small estate behind him, it does not prove that the public has been ungrateful, but it suggests rather that the writer has been incapable of profiting by the favor that has been shown him. Many bankers have died poor after possessing millions, but no one would argue from this fact that banking is an unremunerative occupation. The truth is that literature stands upon precisely the same basis as do the other professions, and the only moral to be drawn from the case of Mr. Harte is the very old one that it is far easier to acquire money than it is to save it.

Revival of Alexandra Curl.

It is noticeable at parties that a new or rather a revival of an old and pretty fashion in hair-dressing is spreading rapidly. This is the Alexandra curl, which in earlier portraits of the Queen, when she was the Princess of Wales, is seen gracefully falling over the shoulders. It was introduced immediately after her marriage by the Princess. It was copied by all the ladies of the court and remained popular until its Royal originator changed her coiffure.

The Alexandra ringlet was suggested again in a painting by Ellis Roberts of the Countess of Chesterfield, which, after appearing in the "Book of Beauty," was adopted in conjunction with the early Victorian robes at the coronation of King Edward, notably by the Countess of Warwick, the Countess of Dudley, the Countess of Essex, the Countess of Mar and Kellie.

The fashion, which for once has the novelty of originating in England and not in Paris, seems likely to last out the season.

The Mule in London.

About the middle of last summer, says Tit Bits, the frequenters of the Strand were somewhat amused to see on more than one occasion, a weird-looking carriage, not altogether unlike a hansom cab that had been bereft of its coachman's seat, proceeding down the thoroughfare, drawn by a couple of superb mules. The mule, heretofore, has not in this country been regarded seriously as a substitute for the carriage-horse, but the said equipage, the property of the celebrated actress, Mme. Rejane, may add considerably to its popularity.

It should be mentioned that little or no economy is effected by the substitution of mules for horses, as can be gathered from the fact that the glossy pair in question, presented to Mme. Rejane by the King of Portugal, have been valued at £400.

Blood Disorders

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. They are in need of stimulation, strengthening or doctoring. One medicine will do all three, the finest and most imitated blood medicine there is

CROSS BABIES.

How to Make Them Bright, Good Natured and Well.

A crying baby is an unwell baby. The little chap is not cross for the fun of it. He cries because that is the only way he has of expressing the fact that he is either in pain or discomfort. Most of the little troubles are due to some disorder of the stomach or bowels, and if Baby's Own Tablets are given, both the trouble and the resulting crossness will disappear. You can take a mother's word for it, and Mrs. John T. Setherland, of Blissfield, N. B., says: "I think Baby's Own Tablets the best medicine in the world for the little ones. My baby was very cross and used to keep me awake half the night before I got the Tablets. Now she sleeps soundly, is good natured, and is growing splendidly." You can give these Tablets with perfect safety to a new-born babe. They are guaranteedt o contain no opiate or poisonous sleepy stuff, and are a sure cure for all the minor ailments from which the little ones suffer. Sold by medicine dealers, or sent postpaid, at 25 cents a box, by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

Problem of Immunity.

Prof. J. J. McKenzie of the University of Toronto lectured at the Canadian Institute on Saturday night on "Recent theories in regard to the causes of immunity to infectious disease." He sketched the history of our knowledge of immunity and said Ehrlich's observations have shown that the conditions which determine the death of a microbe introduced into the blood depend upon the presence of two substances, the first of which is specific and acts only upon the specific microbe, the other of which is common to the blood of most animals. The practical endeavor of bacteriologists has been not only to increase the amount of specific substances which has proved fairly easy but also to increase the amount of the non-specific substance which so far has proved difficult. These observations have shown also that the question of immunity is of much broader bearing than the mere question of prevention or cure of infectious disease, because it is evident from the results so far obtained that it has a bearing upon the whole question of the nutrition of the animal body.

A SURE DELIVERER WHEN SICKNESS AND DISEASE THREATEN LIFE.

Paine's Celery Compound

Saves The Life of a Montreal Lady.

Stomach difficulties and distresses are varied in character and demand prompt attention. In the majority of cases the troubles originate from a morbid condition of the nerves of stomach. If you suffer from dyspepsia, indigestion, inflammation of the stomach or gastric derangements, the use of Paine's Celery Compound will assuredly banish your tormenting enemies. Paine's Celery Compound quickly tones and strengthens the stomach and its particular nerves, so that your food will enrich the blood and make solid flesh, bone and muscle. Mrs. Lefebvre, Iberville street, Montreal, cured at the eleventh hour by Paine's Celery Compound, says:—

"For five years I suffered from dyspepsia, dizziness, stomach weakness and constipation to such an extent that physicians failed to relieve my terrible sufferings. The reality loomed up before me that I was dying. One day I heard of Paine's Celery Compound, and I resolved to buy six bottles. After using the compound I am strong, appetite good, constipation banished, and I am perfectly cured. I would specially recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all women, as it is a grand health restorer."

KITCHENER IN PARIS.

Hero of Khartoum and South Africa Went Through Silently.

A day or two after Lord Kitchener passed through Paris on his way to assume command of the forces in India, M. A. P. had the following: "What does Paris think of Kitchener, who went, as he arrived, quietly in the night, with no one but a representative countryman or two to see him off, and no gallery save the railway employes? Well, it cannot conceal a certain admiration for this manly, soldierly figure, which has plunged for a brief moment in Parisian life, and held on its way again towards duty and work—more work.

But Paris accounts him a strange general, because he is never represented sword in hand urging on the British forces, but always in the background as the organizer of victory. This quiet, unsensational man, says the Paris correspondent of an evening journal, who conquers the Soudan by mathematics, and with the regularity of movement of a piece of clockwork—what a contrast to the French conception of the military man! Supposing Kitchener, one says to-day, instead of entering England in 1871, had remained in the French army, he would be neither lord nor general—colonel at the most. That, indeed, is one of the points that must strike the French mind in dealing with English public men—the splendor of their reward for real achievement. Even those most wedded to the present regime, under which France exists, admit that one of its defects is to pull men down to the dead-level. When one distinguishes himself for his country, he is got to be too much honored lest the jealousies of meaner men be aroused. Lord Kitchener has gained this tribute from one Frenchman, his attitude at Fashoda was most correct."

When You Think

Of the periodic pain which many women experience with every month it makes the gentleness and kindness always associated with womanhood seem to be almost a miracle. While in general no woman rebels against what she regards as a natural necessity there is no woman who would not gladly be free from this recurring period of pain.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well, and gives them freedom from disease. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Write without fear and without fee to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. T. Dolan, of Madrid, Perkins Co., Nebr., writes: "I was cured of painful periods by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and his Compound Extract of Smart-Weed. I think Dr. Pierce's medicines the best in the world."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

A DUTCHMAN'S REVERIE

A Canadian's Powerful Verses Acknowledged by Foreign Royalty.

Rev. H. T. Miller of Beamsville is the author of the following powerful verses. He sent a copy of them to the Queen of Holland, and received a few days ago this acknowledgment:

"Castle the Loo, 8 December, 1902.

The private secretary to Her Majesty the Queen of the Netherlands is commanded to transmit to the Rev. H. T. Miller Her Majesty's thanks for his poem entitled 'A Dutchman's Reverie.' (Signed) Avander Staal, Private Secretary to H. M. the Queen of the Netherlands."

With sand and sun, with mist and moon,
And shifting time and tide,
I stand on the sea-wall's briny beat,
With my Master by my side.

He to the seal from Zuyder Zee,
From Zealand's dune and drift,
The briny breath with choking death,
Comes burdened with many a swift.

Hail to the seal I stand for the free,
By my side is the Lord of the deep,
Though carnage and crack, with shackle and rack,
Make thousands of saints to weep.

Strong is the sea, with its terrible glee,
Flooding the fields and fold,
The roar of the dyke when the Lord shall strike,
Like His arm upheaved of old.

Deep unto the deep, ah, Rachel must weep,
At the call for her children to die,
But my strong sea-wall re-echoes the call,
For life out of death is nigh.

From generous sea, with succor so free,
Multiplied mercies shall come,
A town in tears, with silent cheers,
Divine intervention shall own.

The stout sea-walls, when duty calls,
The Dutchman's land shall feel
And the hordes of Rome shall meet their doom,
Bring praise to the beautiful sea.

With sand and sun, with mist and moon,
And shifting time and tide,
I stand on the sea-wall's briny beat,
With my Master by my side.

A Matter for Regret.

It is a pity, says M. A. P., that Mr. Labouchere does not give his reminiscences; no man of our time has met so many interesting people. He was once a friend, a crony even, of Prince Bismarck. It was in the far-off days when the clumsy instrument of government called the German Confederation used to meet at Frantfort. Bismarck, as everybody knows, was the representative of Prussia at that Confederation; and it was then that he saw the hopelessness of the unwieldy body; and that he made up his mind that if Germany were ever to be unified, the exclusion of Austria from the Confederation was the first thing to be accomplished. Bismarck was a roystering youth in those days, full of deviltment, and able to perform feats of Gargantuan eating and drinking which would undo men of less gigantic stature and less robust digestion. He would stop up all night drinking beer and discussing politics and smoking big cigars with anybody who was willing to listen to him. And what wondrous talks those all-night sittings of his must have evolved! Labby was ready then—as he is even now—to stop up all night with Bismarck or with anybody else; with this qualification, that Labby did not then, any more than he does now, destroy his health by eating much or drinking much. Which perhaps accounts for the fact that he has buried more friends and intimates than any man in Europe; and that though he is over seventy, he is hale, hearty, clear-headed and ready for battle with all comers.

Paint Versus Rust.

The preservation of iron and metal from corrosion is a question of very great importance. Thousands of tons of paint are thus annually consumed in England alone in the attempt to preserve the metal of bridges and other structures from decay by corrosion. Without paint they would rapidly waste away under the destructive action of the atmosphere. Many other methods besides painting have been adopted in the attempt to protect iron from corrosion, but paint at present holds the premier place. Unfortunately, however, there is not a paint made, or used, that is a perfect preservative compound for protecting iron from corrosion.—Engineering.

INVASION OF CANADA.

An Interesting Paper Read Before the Colonial Institute.

In his paper, "The Canadian West and Northwest," which was read recently at the meeting of the Royal Colonial Institute, London, Mr. W. Albert Hickman said he did not believe that the American invasion involved the slightest danger to British interests. He had the pleasure of going north in the Saskatchewan country with a special train containing 166 American capitalists to buy Canadian land. The train was placarded "Special Train of the Saskatchewan Valley Land Company," which company bought no less than one million acres of land. He had studied the invading army carefully and it impressed him that the majority of them appreciated British institutions, and became good Canadian citizens with great rapidity. He looked upon this investment of many millions of American money in Canadian lands as but the forging of one more chain in the already existing informal alliance—the Anglo-American confederation. Figures led him to the inference that in 15 years the United States would not be exporting one bushel of wheat. All would be required for home consumption, and her wheat lands would all be under cultivation. The United Kingdom might then look to getting her wheat supply from the Canadian plains—and much of her supply of meat and dairy produce also. Some of them who were in that room would eat bread made from flour of wheat grown in the valley of the Peace River as sure as day was day. Last year the Hudson Bay Company sent a $10,000 roller flour mill into Fort Vermillion on the Peace River, and for all he knew some of them might have eaten bread from there already.

Big Rush of Settlers.

Returns received by the Crown Lands Department show that 1,346 farms were located in the Temiskaming region last year, equal to 215,360 acres, or nearly ten townships. This is estimated to represent the arrival of about 8,000 persons, and does not include the veterans, of whom several hundred have recently taken land up there. Altogether between 500 and 700 veterans have already located, the next most popular sections being Rainy River and Thunder Bay districts.

The following despatches have been received by E. M. Poussett & Co.:—

New York, Feb. 14.—Venezuelan protocol signed by the allies and by Mr. Bowen. House passed Elkins rebate bill 241 to 6. Final argument for anthracite miners made before coal strike commission. Arbitrators will meet in Washington next week to consider their award. Erie bonds considered speculatively attractive. Probable U.S. steel will convert $00,000,000 pr but will not issue remaining $0,000,000 bonds. Showing for smelters fiscal year ending April 30th will compare favourably with previous years in spite of the decline in silver. Currency movement this week indicates banks gained $1,750,000.

DOW, JONES & CO.

The final disposition of Venezuelan matter is not likely to have much, if any, influence on market to-day. More attention is being paid to condition of foreign exchange market with prospect of some gold being shipped next week and the tightening conditions of money at London upsetting calculations as to the immediate future of money market and foreign necessities. There is a probability of a moderately unfavourable bank statement to-day.

M. & M.

New York, Feb. 14.—To-day's market was of a reactionary character under profit-taking sales assisted by short selling. The pools were inclined to let the market rest for a day or two. What business there was transacted was of a professional character. An unwieldy short interest is accumulating and is being encouraged by the insiders. Union Pacific has a large short interest and could be easily moved up and Missouri Pacific is in about the same positions. Amal. Copper was one of the finest stocks on the list and we would advise you not to go short of. Volume of trading was confined to room traders, although good buying was in evidence on the decline by commission houses based upon the continuance of favourable conditions for a gradual rise. Mexican Central is one of the stocks that should not be overlooked. Important developments are pending in regard to this issue which will be very beneficial. Can make no mistake by entering the market on such reactions as occurred today as a bull campaign of large magnitude is in process of formation. The Venezuelan situation has practically ceased to be a market factor and so far as pending trust legislation is concerned little need be feared from this source. Market rallied shortly after the noonday session on short coming. American Smelting and refining holds its advance well. Market at close was steady at decline with firm undertone. We advise the buying of Amal. Copper and also &Ontarion and Western, both of which are good.

Chicago.—Considerable wheat was unloaded on market to-day resulting in a further decline of a point to 77 1-2. Armour sold considerable, will disposing of a million bushels. Looks as if market would drag for some days unless we get reports of bad weather in which case a sharp rally would ensue. Corn and Oats worked lower in sympathy with wheat. On any further weakness from present prices would purchase a little of both, May option.

Peterborough and Port Perry Play a Tie at Markham.

Trent Valley Team go to Fenelon Falls on Tuesday—Wail From Lakefield.

HOCKEY.

AT MARKHAM.

At the Market tournament yesterday, Markahm defeated St. George's 5 to 4, and winning a place in the finals. The second game brought out Port Perry and Peterborough. When time was up the score was 4—all. Five minutes each way was ordered to be played, and Port Perry scored in four minutes when the electric lights went out at mid-night. The referee's decision was an unfinished game, and the dispute will be settled by Mr. Buchanan.

THE BANKERS.

The Ontario Bank hockey team has announced another game. The Bank of Commerce seven of Toronto, will come to Peterborough on Wednesday evening next for a friendly exhibition match. The Commerce team is a strong one and the Ontario Bank team will have its work cut out to win.

THE FIRST GAME.

The first game in the finals of the Trent Valley League series will be played in Fenelon Falls on Tuesday night of next week. The fun has only now commenced. The final games promises to be keenly contested and the fight for the championship will be a grand one. The Fenelon Falls team has never been defeated on their own ice, but the T.A.S. men will make a bold effort to accomplish this right on the start. The boys are in splendid condition and are receiving warm encouragement from their friends. They have arranged for a special train to Fenelon Falls, leaving here at 7 p.m., and returning at the conclusion of the match. Every hockey enthusiast should take in this event. A very reasonable rate has been secured. Let the whole town go to Fenelon!

LYNCH ALL THE WAY.

Mr. W. T. Junkin, of Fenelon Falls, President of the Trent Valley hockey league, was in town last night, attending the executive meeting. Mr. Junkin is a great hockey enthusiast and thinks that his club will win out again this year. He says the reason they did not send the cup down to be engraved last year, was because they thought that they would wait until they had won it three times in succession, and become permanent owners thereof of it. Regarding referees, Mr. Junkin thinks that Geo. Lynch is one of the best in the Trent Valley League. He says that at the Lindsay-Fenelon game, at which Mr. Lynch officiated, he gave splendid satisfaction.

NO LADIES' GAME.

The ladies of the town have postponed their game with the Alexandras of Toronto, until Tuesday, Feb. 24th.

ARE VERY WRATHY.

The Lakefield News in reporting the two recent matches between T. A.S. and Lakefield, heaps all kinds of abuse upon the Peterborough team. Here is a sample of it. Concerning the game in Lakefield the News says: "Judging from what is seen of the playing of the T.A.S. they understand very little of the game of hockey. They seem to content themselves with doing all the rough and dirty work they can, and strive to excel in shinny. Crowley and McGrath were the worst offenders in this respect, and were repeatedly hissed by the crowd. In regard to the playing of the Lakefield team we can only say that one of the T.A.S. players stated that Lakefield put up the cleanest game of hockey he ever saw."

Then in reporting the game in Lindsay, the News continues its insults by saying:—

"The game was a very rough one, and it is to be regretted that the T.A.S. team played the same kind of a game that they had done in Lakefield. Crowley was put on the fence four times, and was deservedly hissed by the spectators for trying to put "Col." Ridgath out of the game by kicking him with his skate. T.A.S. relied solely on their rough play and weight to win the game, and it carried them through. On good ice and with a strict referee we are confident that our boys can outplay the T.A.S. team at every point, and defeat them easily.

"A spectator of both games made the remark that the T.A.S. should adopt some other title than that of the Total Abstinence Society. If they abstain from drink they certainly don't abstain from dirty playing. Straightforward dealing is just as much of a moral necessity for a man as abstention from liquor."

The only reply the Examiner desires to make to the above paragraphs is that they are far from being true. Referee Wanson in a conversation with the Examiner after the both matches expressed no such opinion. To put it politely, the News is very unkind in its treatment towards the T.A.S. boys.

The following teams of the William Hamilton Manufacturing Co., representing the Pattern Makers and the Office Hands, clash at the Brock street rink this evening at ten o'clock Pattern Makers, F. Browne, J. Rowe, H. Sanderson, M. Brand, J. Sharpe, F. Dawson and P. McFadden. Office —Pegleg Doris, Pea Cracker Potvin, Piggy Doris, Extension Cameron, Greaser Clegg, Bloomer VanEvery, Grouchy Lang.

CURLING.

LAST NIGHT'S CURLING.

Thanks to the sudden change in temperature the ice at the Charlotte street rink was in excellent condition, in consequence of which a larger number than the night before, of players turned out, but only the game between Skip Blade and Skip Morrow was a scheduled one. The scratch games and their scores were as follows:—

Blade, sk.....9	Morrow, sk.....8
Ray, sk.....12	Neill, sk.....16
Waddell, sk...13	Jeffries, sk...15

Since the bonspiel and the departure of the Scotch curling team very little enthusiasm has been displayed by the members of the Association. It merely points out the fact that the members, during that auspicious event came to the rink more for the sight at a score of men in "tams" and knee breeches, rather than their love for the game of the Anglo-Saxons.

It would add greatly to the pleasure of all, if a sufficient number would turn out to put into play all the available rinks.

CURE OF DEAFNESS OF 15 YEAR'S DURATION.

In the December "Supplement" to the "Journal for the Deaf," is related a remarkable cure of a Canadian lady, Miss A. E. B., of Beresford, Brandon, Manitoba, who had been deaf for 15 years. This is also a striking illustration of the successful treatment of ear ailments by the Drouet Method of local application, of which the Editor has collected, during 1902, no less than 383 cases. In the particular case under notice the patient has given the Editor full permission to furnish her address to anyone desiring to communicate with her privately, and to obtain this it is only necessary to write to the Secretary, Drouet Institute, 10, Marble Arch, London, England. The Secretary will also supply free the latest issue of "The Journal for the Deaf," containing a full description of the Drouet Method, with instances of numerous cures, and a Patient's Report, by means of which anyone can receive advice for applying the treatment at home.

PROPERTY OF THE COMPANY.

This Company has secured 10,000 acres of the choicest wheat lands in Assiniboia, Canada, having paid to the owners in addition to cash, 60,000 shares of its Capital Stock, for which the owners are completely equipping the property with all the necessary buildings, steam plows, steam threshers, drills, wagons, tools, fences, and everything necessary to operate the said 10,000 acres. In addition, the Company is to pay to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the other vendors of the said lands $50,000 in yearly installments of $10,000 each, being the balance of the purchase money.

These lands are capable of producing, at a fair estimate, 30 bushels to the acre of the best wheat produced in the world, or a total capacity of 300,000 bushels per year. Owing to the rich, prolific nature of the Northwestern Canadian soil, this product can be duplicated each year indefinitely. The Company's property will always be equipped with all the latest improved steam plows, drills, threshers, and necessary machinery to produce wheat at the lowest cost. It is the intention of the Company to have its own elevator, of a capacity sufficient to store its entire production, thus enabling them to take advantage of the highest market prices from time to time. The market for wheat is the same as for gold—it is unlimited.

The Company also has an option on 10,000 additional acres of the same character of wheat land as the 10,000 acres above mentioned, the property being located seven miles from the Canadian Pacific Railway, where large elevators are ready to receive the product.

This is an investment that will enhance in value as time goes by, not only from the large production of wheat, but the increased value of the Company's lands from year to year.

APPROXIMATE EARNINGS OF THE COMPANY

Are Estimated as Follows:

The average yield of wheat in Western Canada varies but little under all conditions. In some years the average has been over thirty-five bushels per acre. Many individual cases report as high as forty-five and even fifty-five bushels to the acre. But, taking the lowest average, there is no industry that will produce better profits. Owing to the modern steam machinery and economical methods employed in cropping, harvesting, threshing and marketing, as well as the especial case with which in the prairie country of Western Canada, wheat is produced, there is always a splendid profit. The cost of raising an acre of wheat, being placed by farmers and experts at about $5.00 per acre, there have been cases in the past few years where as much as $35.00 has been realized, less the cost of $5.00, leaving a net profit of $30.00 per acre.

A safe and conservative estimate of the Company's earnings, taken much below the above figures, is herewith given:

APPROXIMATE YEARLY STATEMENT.

10,000 ACRES AT 30 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE—300,000 BUSHELS, WORTH ON THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY, 60c. PER BUSHEL $180,000

Cost of Steam Plowing	10,000 acres at $1.00 per acre,		$10,000
" Harrowing	"	.20 "	2,000
" Cultivating	"	.40 "	4,000
" Seed for	"	.60 "	6,000
" Drilling	"	.22 "	2,200
" Binding	"	.33 "	3,300
" Threshing	"	1.25 "	12,500
" Incidentals, wear and tear on machinery, etc.		.20 "	2,000
Salary of General Manager, per year			3,000
Clerks, office expenses, per year			5,000
			$50,000
Annual Deferred Payments on Land			10,000
To pay Dividends of 15 per cent. per annum			82,500
Estimated Surplus, after payment of Dividends			37,500
			$180,000

ESTIMATED NET PROFITS PER YEAR.

It will be seen that, after paying the expenses of raising wheat on 10,000 acres, amounting to $50,000 each year, and paying $10,000 per year to the Canadian Pacific Railway (for 5 years) as yearly payments on the property, it is estimated there will still remain a profit of $120,000 per year, or over 20 per cent. per annum on the stock issued.

TREASURY ASSETS.

The Company now have, after paying the 60,000 shares to the owners for the lands, improvements and equipment, 140,000 shares still in the Treasury, the same being set aside as a Treasury Fund. 50,000 of these shares are now being offered for subscription in Canada and England, and are to be sold for the purpose of taking up the option, and acquiring the 10,000 acres of new wheat territory, and the equipment of the same, together with working capital.

By acquiring the additional 10,000 acres, making 20,000 in all to be owned and operated by the Company, the profits will be more than doubled, or over 40 per cent. on the 110,000 shares of stock issued.

The balance of 90,000 shares will be held as an asset of the Company, which can be sold when required for extending the operations of the Company.

DIVIDENDS.

Dividends of, say, 15 percent. per year, it is estimated, can be paid semi-annually, December 1st and June 1st of each year. Outside of the amount paid in dividends, the surplus earnings will be accumulated, and will either be divided among the shareholders as extra dividends, or used to purchase new wheat territory; or be otherwise employed as may be hereafter determined.

WESTERN CANADA

is fast becoming the Eldorado of Great Britain. Its wheat lands will create more wealth than all the gold and diamond mines of the Empire. The failure of a crop is unknown. (See the report of Hon. Clifford Sifton, Minister of the Interior, Canada, extracts of which are published in the prospectus of this Company.) The wheat of Western Canada is well known to be extremely Hard No. 1, the best quality grown in the world; the yield also being considerably more per acre than in the United States. The sub-soil throughout the intense heat of summer is kept moist by the slow melting of the deep winter frosts, the moisture ascending to the surface and moistening the roots of the grain, thus stimulating growth and producing a bountiful crop.

DEMAND FOR WHEAT.

The demand for wheat from England alone is over 160,000,000 bushels per year, and from other European countries about 250,000,000 bushels, most of which is obtained from the United States, but of a poorer quality than can and will be furnished by Canada. The Canadian Pacific Railway runs within easy hauling distance of the property and is doing everything in its power to increase wheat raising.

A RELIABLE INVESTMENT.

This Company has an advantage over other industrial enterprises through the fact that while the Company's earnings from its wheat products will be constantly growing, and advancing the price of the Company's shares, the land of the Company is continually enhancing in value, creating a double source of values.

There is no business in the commercial world so profitable as raising wheat, and the investment is as safe as first-class Railroad Bonds, for the reason that the land and improvements of the Company are always a security for its shares, besides its ability to raise immensely profitable crops. The possibilities of this Company are unlimited, as the surplus earnings can be devoted to the acquisition of additional wheat lands, thereby increasing the earning capacity of the Company, and lowering the average cost of production.

Owing to the intrinsic value of the property of this Company, and its estimated vast earning power, a rapid advance in the price of these shares will doubtless take place, and we confidently expect that this issue of 50,000 shares will be largely over-subscribed.

SUBSCRIPTION TERMS.

The full amount of $5.00 per share must accompany the order. The right is reserved to allot a smaller number of shares than the amount subscribed for, in which event the balance of the money will be returned with the shares allotted.

Application will be made for a settlement of these shares on the London, Montreal and Toronto Stock Exchanges in due course.

EVANGELISTS KERBY & TURK

At the Opera House Yesterday Afternoon.

An Eloquent and Convincing Address by Mr. Kerby.

Evangelists Kerby and Turk held a special meeting for men in the Opera House yesterday afternoon, an orchestra being in attendance, and several prominent ecclesiastical and other well known men were on the platform with the officiating divines.

Every seat in the House was taken, and men in numbers stood up in the aisles and sat down on the stairs of the boxes, listening in wonder, amazement and admiration, at the wonderful voices and the unsurpassable and convincing oratory and arguments of these two men, who have, during the week which is passed, done so much for the salvation of many souls in this town.

Evangelist Turk gave an explanatory reading from the Bible, after which he and his brother together sang "The Holy City," and it is safe to say that this sacred song, if ever sung as a duet has never been rendered with more gentle or tender pathos or more subtlety of nuance.

Evangelist Kerby gave an address on "The Artificial Man" and took his text from St. Luke 12; 15th verse.

The speaker said that the world contained three species of mankind—the artificial, the real and the ideal; the first is what a large majority are, the second what a few human creatures are, and the third group is what we all ought to be.

In order, the eloquent speaker gave a few words of explanation of the three different groups into which he classes mankind.

The man who only has an earthly interest, is the man who cares for his clothes and personal appearance alone, but, although clothes do have an incidental worth, it is the company a man keeps that describes his character. The man who keeps the spots off his clothes, but who does not look to the spots on his character is the artificial man. It is better to be a man with grimy clothes and a spotless character than to be a man dressed in the latest style, but with a black character.

Then turning to the real man, Mr. Kerby said that good clothes are not to be despised, for personal appearance goes a long way, and may be the means of a man being able to do a good work—but the real man is the man who does not wear clothes for "show," who does not desire money to board up, but who earns his money and spends it on what is necessary in a proper manner.

This is the kind of man whose example is to be followed; this is the real man.

Then the ideal man—this is what we all ought to be, but what none of us are, he is a perfection of the real man, and he is the man who will obtain ever-lasting salvation.

Mr. Turk then sang a beautiful song entitled "My Mother's Bible," after which he, in a few simple manly words exhorted the men to pray to the Christ who died that we might be forgiven.

The pastor of St. Paul's church, Rev. Dr. Torrance, D.D., gave a short prayer, and after a few well known hymns had been sung the meeting broke up.

During each evening of the week services will be held at the George street church at 7.45 o'clock and like yesterday's a special meeting for men will be held in the Opera House next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—My attention has been drawn to the following extract, taken from your report of my remarks at the Thursday night Board of Trade meeting:—"It was their desire" (that of the Peterborough Sugar Company,) "to sell the stock right in and around Peterborough, and not all over the Dominion as has been done in the case of a certain other concern in Peterborough." This has been understood as an adverse reflection made by me upon a local industry recently established. I have no recollection of using such words and the President of the Board of Trade, the Editor and reporter of the Review and others assert that I did not. What I meant to convey was this:—"The Construction Company, organized in the United States, would receive $166,000 worth of stock in part payment; the Peterborough Sugar Company had $135,000 worth to sell. It was important that all or nearly all of the latter should be purchased, in Peterborough and vicinity in order to keep the control at home." I could have no possible object in making an ungenerous reference to another Peterborough Company, to whom I had strongly urged the community to grant a bonus, and of whose stock a considerable portion had been purchased by friends of mine after consultation with me.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for space, I remain,

Yours truly,
J. W. GARVIN.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Endorsed by Rev. J. C. Davidson, of St. John's.

Preaching at St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, last night, on the subject of Conversion, Rev. J. C. Davidson, the Rector of St. John's expressed his sympathy with the evangelistic services now being held in town. He said every life transformed from indifference and sin to any degree o goodness and holiness, was a matter for thankfulness to all Christian people.

THE C.P.R. LAND TAX

From What Date Should the Tax Exemption Run.

THE CLAIMS OF THE COMPANY

Province of Manitoba Bound by the Terms of the Canadian Pacific Railway Contract, Say Judges—Two Questions Remained to Be Argued—Subsidy Was Earned Before Land Was Available.

Winnipeg, Feb. 16.—At the opening of full court Saturday to resume argument on the C.P.R. land tax question Chief Justice Killam indicated that all the Judges were of opinion that the Province of Manitoba was bound by the terms of the C.P.R. contract, so far as the territory which was theirs, that is at the time of the contract, within the bounds of the Northwest Territories, and which was afterwards added to the Province of Manitoba.

This intimation rendered any argument unnecessary, both in the North Cypress and the Argyle cases, as to whether the exemption provided for in the C.P.R. contract had ceased to exist at the transfer of the territory to Manitoba. It left for argument two questions merely: From what date the exemption from taxation runs, (a) whether from the date of the contract, or (b) from the time the lands were earned, or (c) from the date of the respective patents from the Crown.

Mr. Ewart, K.C., addressed the court, devoting the whole morning to the first of these two points. He read from the statement of the case to show that at the time of the making of the contract the territory lying west of the 102nd degree of longitude (about 200 miles west of Winnipeg) was almost completely uninhabited, and only by its general characteristics was its value known to the people of Canada or to the company. It had not at that time been surveyed or in any way mapped out into townships, municipal or other boundaries, except that some portions of it had been divided into blocks of sixteen townships each. Afterwards, from year to year, the Government caused portions of the belt to be surveyed and set off into townships and sections, but a good deal of it was not surveyed until 1891. It was therefore, quite impossible that title should pass to the C.P.R. at the time of the contract, or at the time when the lands in the belt was earned, which was as early as 1882.

Mr. Tupper, K.C., followed upon the same line. He urged that by the contract the railway was free from taxation by a municipal corporation.

The court adjourned until Wednesday next.

POLICEMAN KILLED ON DUTY.

Murderer Had Already Shot a Woman to Death.

Lebanon, Pa., Feb. 16.—Mrs. Ira Barker, aged 22, was shot dead on the street Saturday night, in full view of scores of persons, and in resisting arrest the murderer killed a policeman before he was landed in jail. She was standing on a street corner with her husband and several friends, when a man who, at the time, was recognized, stepped up to her and shot her in the head. The assassin escaped. The husband suspected David Shand, aged 25 years, who was convicted, but was out on bail, pending application for a new trial for robbing Mrs. Barker's stepfather of $350. She was the principal witness against him. The police at once instituted a search, and at midnight Shand was located. He resisted arrest, and during a desperate struggle with the policemen he killed Cyrus Schaffer, one of their number. He was finally landed in jail without further trouble.

AS TO NEW ONTARIO.

Its Wealth has Only Recently Been Discovered.

Its Universe Area Estimated at 140,000 Square Miles—Climate Good.

The Monetary Times has the following interesting article, as the first of a series upon "New Ontario:"

So much interest is being taken by many of our readers in the northern part of the province, commonly called "New Ontario," that it may be well to present a concise description of its main features. In reality comprising the larger part of the whole province, yet it may be said to have been only discovered within the last two or three years. The old pioneers who hewed their way through the country in which are now situated Toronto, Hamilton, London, and scores of other prosperous towns, found, as they went northward, that the land became more thickly wooded, more rocky and barren-looking; with the result that they desisted from their labours, and settled down in the conviction that the best part of the country was already their's. This view was only partially correct. It was true that many portions of this great new region appeared somewhat forbidding for agricultural purposes. But against this they were wonderfully rich in minerals and forest woods, while immense areas existed where the land was as fertile as in any part of the continent.

All this, however, took time to learn. Indeed, it was not until 1900 that any organized effort on a large scale was made to discover the exact truth. In that year the Provincial Government sent out several exploration parties, which traversed the country from the Quebec boundary in the east to the Manitoba boundary in the west, and northward from southern, or "Old" Ontario, to the Hudson Bay. The result of these recent discoveries are showing themselves to-day. Prospectors are honeycombing the ground, mines are being located or opened up, railways built, sawmills erected in every direction, and hundreds and thousands of settlers are taking up land, where they find they can grow just as good crops as was ever the case in the districts from which they came originally.

One of the first things hard to realise about New Ontario, is its immense area, this being estimated at over 140,000 square miles, or say, 90,000,000 acres. Some of this is still practically unknown, but there are other sections which are rapidly partaking of the aspect of an old-settled country. Pioneer life has its difficulties wherever it may be undertaken, and New Ontario has its own virtues and its own drawbacks. There are many farmers to whom the wide expanse of prairie to be found in Manitoba and the Northwest, with its cheap preparation of land for crops, is the ne plus ultra. Others, again, are irresistibly attracted to a land of hill and dale, of mountain and valley, with quick-gushing rivers and luxuriant tree-growth. For such as these New Ontario is the place to go. When the intending settler is with little or no means, the advantage possessed by the latter is increased, for until such time as he and his family can make enough to maintain themselves on the land he can make money in lumbering, the expensive item of clearing his land thus being converted into a source of income. Besides this, there are several thriving towns and mining camps which offer a good market at home for all that the neighbouring farmer can produce.

We will now endeavour to give a brief description of the districts into which this huge new country has been divided, beginning with that on the extreme west of the province, known as the Rainy River Valley, a name which, by the way, has nothing to do with the geological formation. Here lies a tract of wonderfully rich land, containing 1,200,000 acres, more or less, in one block. It is traversed by the Canadian Northern Railway, which connects it with Port Arthur on the East, and Winnipeg, Man., and Pembina, N. D., on the West. Steamers also ply through the Lake of the Woods and up the Rainy River from Rat Portage. Adjacent to the valley is an extremely rich mining district, gold and silver being the chief products. The soil, as we have said, is very fertile, varying from clay to sandy loam, which is easily worked. Its general surface is fairly level, sloping gradually down towards the river. Small swamps are occasionally met with, but these are dry enough to be worked in summer. Small creeks abound, rendering drainage by means of surface ditches, an easy operation. Much of the timber is commercially valuable. Pine is abundant, scattered among such other trees as poplar, tamarac, balsam, spruce, cedar, birch, with oak, elm, ash and soft maple in small numbers. The climate is good. Indeed, it may be said to resemble that of the Lake Ontario region, excepting that the winter is slightly colder, but considerably drier and more even. Usually enough snow falls and keeps on the ground to afford good sleighing from December to March, with but few intervals of soft weather. The summers are distinguished by their cool nights and heavy dews. The chief town is Rat Portage at the northern extremity of Lake of the Woods.

BROKE THROUGH THE ICE.

Narrow Escape of a Fenelon Falls Citizen on Sturgeon Lake.

Mr. F. McDougall had a narrow escape from drowning on Friday last. He had been spending the day in Lindsay, and having missed the train drove home with a couple of friends. They took the lake as the shortest cut and also to escape the drifted roads. When opposite the site of Green's old mill the ice seemed thin and Mr. McDougall and one of the others got out to lighten the cutter. The third party was to take the cutter back, and turned, passing the thin spot safely. In anxiously watching that his friend was safe Mr. McDougall stopped on some very thin ice, which gave way beneath him. He was sinking into deep water when his companion pulled him out. As matters turned out he escaped with a wetting, but it was a close call. It was almost miraculous that the cutter with its three occupants did not break through the ice, in which case there might have been an accident similar to the very sad one which occurred between Peterborough and Bobcaygeon some years ago.—Star.

GOOD NEWS FROM NEW ONTARIO.

W. J. Dixon Cured of Rheumatism by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

He Could Hardly Walk or Sleep, but is now Strong and Hearty Once More.

Barwick, P.O., Rainy River, Feb. 16 — (Special.) — The hardships endured by the settlers of a new country so often brings on Rheumatism that any well authenticated cure is eagerly discussed and carefully investigated in this neighbourhood. For this reason the recent cure of Wm. John Dixon has created a sensation. He was a familiar figure, limping around with his stick, and his cure was so speedy and complete that it is little wonder that people are looking on Dodd's Kidney Pills as something to swear by.

"I had an attack of typhoid fever," Mr. Dixon says in telling his story, and after I got over it and started to work, rheumatism set in. I had pains in my back and in my right hip so bad that I had to use a stick to walk, and I had no comfort in sleeping. I could no more than dress myself for nearly two months, and for three or four months I could not lace my right shoe or put my right leg on my left knee.

A brother of mine advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and after taking three boxes I began to walk around and do my work and lace up my shoes.

Six boxes cured me completely."

A FINE POINT

Concerning the Recent Elections in Brampton.

The election of Brampton town council, which was protested because they held their nominations at 10 o'clock in the morning, instead of at noon, has been voided by the courts and a new trial ordered. Now the town has appealed, contending that the statute doesn't compel, but merely directs towns of less than 5,000 population, to hold their nominations at noon, and being merely directory the town had the right to pass the bylaw it did changing the hour.

On Friday Chief Justice Meredith gave judgment sustaining the appeal, and practically declaring the election valid.

300 NATIVES KILLED.

British Expedition Thoroughly Successful in Northern Nigeria.

London, Feb. 16.—A telegram has been received from Brig.-Gen. Sir F. D. Lugard, the High Commissioner of Northern Nigeria, announcing that the British expedition against the native rebels had been successful. Kano was occupied on February 8, and the natives who opposed the British had 300 men killed. The Emir, with 1,000 horsemen, fled northward towards Sokoto. The British had two officers wounded.

Seminole Still Ice-Bound.

St. John's, Nfld., Feb. 16.—The United States revenue cutter Seminole, which is on her way to the Bay of Islands to cut out a number of ice-bound American fishing schooners, is still unable to enter the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and the conditions are most unpromising.

"IS MAN IMMORTAL?"

An Interesting and Instructive Catechism

Taken From Bible Students' Library of Oakland, Cal.—To be Continued.

The Examiner has been asked to publish the following catechism from the Bible Students' Library, on the subject, "Is Man Immortal?"

1. Is it reasonable to suppose that God created man an immortal being, and yet has never informed us of the fact?

2. Is it reasonable to suppose that, if man naturally possessed immortality, God would require us to seek for it, as he does in Rom. 2:7?

3. Is it reasonable to suppose that, if men were naturally immortal, God's word would so plainly assure us that God "only hath immortality"? 1 Tim. 6:16.

4. Is it not far more reasonable to believe that immortality is the gift of God through Jesus Christ our Lord, as stated in Rom. 6:23?

5. Is it reasonable to suppose that words, when found in the Bible, must have a meaning attached to them which no man in his senses would ever think of attaching to them in any other book? For instance, the words life and death, when found in the Bible, must (as theologians tell us) mean happiness and misery; but, if found in any other book in the world, they would simply mean "existence" and "cessation of existence."

6. Is it reasonable to suppose that in all the vast multitude of passages in which Christ promised life, eternal life, to his followers, he did not literally mean what he said? This he could not if all men have immortal life by nature. In that case the wicked will live through eternity as well as the righteous.

7. Is it reasonable to suppose, in all the vast multitude of passages in which death is threatened as the punishment of the sinner, that loss of happiness is all that is meant? An unhappy is as truly alive as the most happy being in existence.

8. Is it reasonable to suppose that Infinite Wisdom would invariably use language that was only calculated to mislead mankind, or which none but doctors of divinity could unravel?

9. Is it not more reasonable to suppose that he would give his creatures such a revelation as plain, common-sense people could easily understand?

10. Is it reasonable to suppose that men go to Heaven or Hell immediately at death, and then hundreds or thousands of years afterwards are taken out to be judged, to determine which fate they deserve? Should we deem it right to send a man to the State Prison for ten years, and then bring him out for trial to see if he deserved such a punishment?

11. Is it reasonable that such prominence should be given in scripture to the doctrine of the

if the soul is as capable of happiness or misery without the body as with it?

12. Is it reasonable to talk about a "death that never dies," when there is not a word in Scripture to sanction such a contradictory phrase? Would it not be equally reasonable to speak of the reward of the righteous as a "life that never lives"?

13. Is it reasonable to use so constantly, both in sermons and prayers, such terms as "immortal souls," "never-dying souls," "deathless spirits," and similar expressions, when there is not from Genesis to Revelation one single passage to warrant the use of such language?

14. Is it reasonable to say that eternal death and eternal torment are synonymous expressions (as theologians tell us)? for how then can it be said, in Rev. 21:4, "there shall be no more death"?

15. Is it reasonable to believe that a hell of fiery torment and ceaseless misery is to exist forever, when God says (Rev. 21:5), "Behold I make all things new"?

16. Is it reasonable to believe in the eternal torment of the wicked, when more than two hundred pages of Scripture plainly affirm that they shall "die," be "consumed," "devoured," "destroyed," "burnt up," "be as though they had not been," etc.?

17. Is it reasonable to believe that the righteous in their glorified state can be indifferent to, and unaffected by, the endless sufferings of countless millions of their fellow beings; among whom would probably be found parents, children, husbands, wives, etc.?

18. Is it reasonable to believe that God is such a vindictive being that his justice cannot be satisfied with the death of the offender, but that he must be constantly pouring floods of fiery wrath upon the wretched being through the ever-rolling cycles of eternity?

19. Finally, "1. The apostle Paul is the only writer in the whole Bible who makes use of the word immortal or immortality.

"2. He never applies it to sinners.

"3. He never applies it to either righteous or wicked in this world.

"4. He never applies it to men's souls at all, either before or after death.

"5. He speaks of it as an attribute of the King Eternal. 1 Tim. 1:17.

"6. He declares that he is the only possessor of it. 1 Tim. 6:17.

"7. He presents it as an object which men are to seek after by patient continuance in well-doing. Rom. 2:7.

"8. He speaks of it as revealed or brought to light (not in heathen philosophy, but) in the gospel of the Son of God. 2 Tim. 1:10.

"9. He defines the period when it shall be "put on" by the saints of God, and fixes it at the resurrection, when Christ, who is our life, shall appear. 1 Cor. 15:23, 54; Col. 3:4.

"10. Therefore he never taught the immortality of the soul as it is now taught, and hence, when he declared that sinners should be destroyed, or perish, or die, or be burned, or devoured by fire, he did so without any "mental reservations," or "theological definitions." In other words, he said what he meant, and meant what he said." —Pauline Theology.

I might multiply questions of this kind, but I forbear.

Men of reason and common sense, give your serious attention of these points. Read your Bibles again. Read carefully,—read prayerfully. See whether these things are true or not. Dare to think for yourselves. Do not trust to commentaries. Do not build your faith on bodies of divinity. Go to the FOUNTAIN-HEAD OF TRUTH.

"The words of the Lord are pure words." "The law of the Lord is perfect." This cannot be said of the writings or opinions of any man or number of men, however wise and holy they may be. To err is human. God and his truth are alone infallible. Show yourself true Protestants, and cast away the "traditions of men." You have the Bible. The wisest and holiest of the "Fathers" had no more. Your ministers have nothing else to guide them—at least they ought not to have. "The Bible and the Bible alone, is the Religion of Protestants." Go then, to your Bibles, and see whether the God-dishonoring doctrines to which I have directed your attention are found there or not. Excuse me if I tell you that, however full of these doctrines human books and human sermons may be, God's book does not contain them.

Rather believe that man is mortal and condemned to die, but Christ is come that men may have life, and that they may have it more abundantly. John 10:10.

"The wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." Rom. 6:23.

ILLNESS OF SIR OLIVER MOWAT.

Lieutenant-Governor Fell Down Stairs Five Weeks Ago.

Toronto, Feb. 16.—Much regret is expressed on the present condition of Sir Oliver Mowat's health. Sir Oliver sustained a nasty fall five weeks ago, the result of which was a severe cut on the forehead and a general shaking up. For one in his eighty-third year, this is a serious matter, and His Honor has been confined to his bed almost ever since.

Inquiry at Government House yesterday elicited the fact that the patient was suffering severe pains in the side, the result of the wrench, but apart from this he is in his usual state of health

20 Years of Itching Piles.

Mr. Alex. McLaughlin, of Bowmanville, Ont., writes, that for twenty years he suffered terribly from itching piles and was told to use Dr. Chase's Ointment. He continued this treatment until entirely cured, and as he has never had any return of his old trouble he considers his cure permanent and remarkable on account of the length of time he suffered.

Those Pale Girls

How many pale girls there are! Girls who have the will, but not the power to bring out their vitality. Doctors call it anaemia, which means poor blood. They are thin, delicate and nervous. Their digestion is usually poor, the appetite not all that it should be and they do not even get all the nourishment that is in the food that they do eat. They linger between strength and weakness with no certainty as to what change a day will bring forth.

Scott's Emulsion is for all such girls. The hypophosphites combined with the cod liver oil will tone up the system, give the blood new life, improve the appetite and help digestion. Above all it gives nourishment.

Girls are more liable to anaemia than boys; this is because the blood of women contains fewer red corpuscles, more water and less albumen and salts than the blood of men. Scott's Emulsion seems to be the very thing to discount these differences. It helps all pale, thin girls when nothing else will.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

C. P. R. STEAMSHIP LINE.

Not a Single Ship Has Yet Been Purchased by Company.

London, Feb. 16.—Commenting on the rumor, which was revived Saturday, that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company had purchased all the Canadian steamships of the Elder-Dempster Line, The St. James' Gazette yesterday says:

"We are in a position to state that the report is unfounded."

The report goes on to say that there has never been any question of purchasing the ships of the Elder-Dempster Line. Some time ago the Canadian Pacific Railway Company sanctioned the establishment of a line of freight steamships between Canada and Europe with the object of carrying its own traffic, instead of, as hitherto, turning it over to other steamship lines. The Canadian Pacific Company's steamship superintendent of piers, who is now in London, is working with Mr. Baker, the company's European representative. They are engaged in negotiations for the purchase of sixteen vessels of 10,000 tons dead weight each

The St. James' Gazette says it is authorized to state that not a single ship has yet been purchased. Negotiations are proceeding with a number of companies, including the Elder-Dempster Line, but no decision on the subject is expected for a week. There is no intention of buying up the Elder-Dempster Line, and the negotiations only involve one or two of their steamships.

DISGRACE TO WAR OFFICE.

Reply to Request for Aid to an Insane Soldier.

London, Feb. 16.—A Reservist of the Royal Welsh Fusiliers, wounded in the head at the relief of Ladysmith, has since became insane, and has been placed in Denbigh Asylum by the St. Asaph guardians as a pauper lunatic.

The guardians, not wishing to deprive the man's wife of the pension of a 1s a day, asked the War Office to increase the pension in order that the ratepayers might not be out of pocket. The War Office replied that the guardians could recoup themselves from what the wife received. This the guardians refused to do, and characterized the attitude of the War Office as a disgrace and a scandal.

VENEZUELA IS FREE

Blockade Was Officially Raised on Saturday Afternoon.

POPULACE WILD WITH JOY.

British Cruiser Left La Guayra Harbor For Trinidad After One of Her Officers Had Announced the Fact on Shore—The Government Then Began Active Measures to Crush Out the Revolution.

La Guayra, Feb. 16.—The blockade has been officially raised. The commander of the British cruiser Tribune, the only warship here, sent an officer ashore yesterday morning with the announcement that the Tribune would leave yesterday afternoon for Trinidad. The populace is wild with joy.

Rebels Get No Respite.

Caracas, Feb. 16.—Since early Saturday morning Venezuelans have been awaiting impatiently the official intimation that the blockade had been raised. Yesterday morning, however, the British man-of-war Tribune was still at La Guayra enforcing the blockade and preventing fishermen from leaving the harbor. The Government was puzzled until, at 11 o'clock, the news reached Caracas that the captain of the Tribune had notified the authorities at La Guayra that the blockade was raised. At 3 o'clock yesterday the Tribune left for Trinidad. The news received from all Venezuelan ports, except Goro and Higuerote, is that the foreign warships sailed away yesterday. The Government immediately on receiving the news that the blockade had been raised, sent troops in all directions to crush the revolution without giving the rebels a moment's respite.

Glad It Is All Over.

Willemstad, Curacao, Feb. 16.—There is great rejoicing among all classes here at the end of the Venezuelan blockade. Many sailing vessels are lying in this port with cargoes for Venezuelan ports; they will leave to-day. A number of steamers are loading for the same destination. A great amount of coffee is awaiting transportation from Venezuela to the United States. No one is apparently more glad at the raising of the blockade than those on board the blockading squadrons.

Andrew Carnegie's Offer.

Washington, Feb. 16.—It was learned last night that had Venezuela been unable to meet the demand of Germany for the payment of $360,000 Andrew Carnegie stood ready to supply this sum in cash to relieve Venezuela of any embarrassment and maintain peace. A direct offer of a loan of $360,000 to Venezuela, to be paid over to Minister Bowen, was made by Mr. Carnegie, but was not accepted, because Venezuela was able to meet the demand of Germany in a satisfactory manner.

JEWISH SCHOOL RIGHTS.

Justice Davidson Rules That Paul Pinsler's Son Cannot Have Scholarship Because Father is Not a Protestant.

Montreal, Feb. 16.—It appears that certain disabilities still remain to the Hebrews, as regards the school laws of this province. Mr. Justice Davidson has just dismissed the petition of Paul Pinsler, who, as tutor to his son, Jacob, applied for a mandamus to compel the Protestant School Commissioners to grant to his son a commissioner's scholarship at the High School. The boy attended Dufferin School for the prescribed term, and came out first in the examinations. The court ruled, however, that as the father was not a Protestant, and not a school taxpayer on property owned by him, the boy was not entitled to the privilege. In delivering the judgment, His Lordship reviewed the different aspects of the case, and the whole school legislation of the province.

The petitioner is a British subject, and has been for years a tenant resident of Montreal. He is not an owner of real estate. His son, Jacob, became a pupil of the Dufferin School in September, 1895, and so continued through the intervening scholastic years to June, 1901, when in the class examinations of the sixth and final grade he won first prize. This standing would have entitled him to a commissioner's scholarship, which carries with it free tuition throughout the High School course. Had his father been a Protestant, even if a tenant, he would have been granted the scholarship without question. The grant from the public funds, in aid of the Public Schools in this city, is divided between the two boards, according to the relative proportions of the Roman Catholic and Protestant populations in the said city, according to the then last census.

There are now over 10,000 Jews in this city, and besides, no doubt, many property-owning taxpayers, who are neither Protestants nor Roman Catholics. The petition was dismissed with costs.

THE STRICKEN CATTLE.

Foot and Mouth Disease Still Prevalent in Vermont.

Washington, Feb. 16. — Another outbreak of the foot and mouth disease near Chester, Vt., was reported yesterday. A herd in that locality was found infected some time ago, but it was thought the disease had been entirely stamped out. Dr. D. E. Salmon, the chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, who will go to Boston Monday to investigate the recurrence of the outbreak, said yesterday that he did not think there was danger of great increase in the number of cases, but the situation was rather uncertain.

Toronto, Feb. 16. — The firemen who had become members of a labor union have bowed to the wishes of Chief Thompson, backed up by the majority of the City Council, and have agreed to disband their organization.

MEETING OF UNEMPLOYED.

Let Other Measures Go Until Bread Famine Is Relieved.

London, Feb. 16.—A much-advertised mass meeting of the unemployed passed off quietly at Trafalgar Square Saturday afternoon. About 2,000 unemployed were there, but the assemblage was entirely dwarfed by the aggregation of police and spectators. Resolutions were adopted, demanding work and declaring that the proposed investigation into the national food supply in time of war shall not be undertaken until the Government relieves the famine now existing in time of peace.

FROZEN TO DEATH.

Engineer Vance Overcome by Cold While Making For Camp.

Winnipeg, Feb. 16.—Engineer Vance of Canadian Pacific survey was frozen to death during Friday night at Lizard Lake, forty miles from Battleford, N.W.T., where he was engaged in making preliminary surveys for the line to Edmonton. He had sent his driver ahead to strike camp, and was to follow on snow shoes, but was overcome by the cold.

Fear of the Future.

Most people who dread the future are victims of some terrible disease. Mrs. W. Francis, 202 Colborne street, Kingston, was in a bad state from kidney disease. She had severe pains in her back and legs, was gradually losing flesh, and had a dread of the future. A friend recommended Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and the result was a complete cure. There is no medicine so reliable, none so certain to produce a thorough cure. One pill a dose. 25 cents a box.

Another Gunning Fatality.

Glen's Falls, N.Y., Feb. 16.— William O'Keefe, a 12-year-old son of John O'Keefe, a farmer living near Luzerne, was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of a shotgun while hunting yesterday. The lad was alone, an elder brother having left the gun with him for a few minutes.

WHY?

Why hunt in vain for cheap houses to rent when it is easier to buy? Why pay seven to ten per cent. in rent to be turned out, when five to six would pay interest on investment and own your house? Why look for farms to rent when we have lots of them for sale? Why run your own risk of fire when you should be insured? Why run all risks without protection when you should have an accident policy? Why trouble your friends when you can get a guarantee policy? Why leave your wife and family to earn and beg when a life policy would prevent it? Why not call at Lindsay & Might's Real Estate and Insurance Office for any of these?

Sale of the Bradley Stock.

Gentlemen, put on your thinking cap! If there has been a sale of more than special interest to men during the past ten years in Peterough it is the sale of the Bradley stock now in progress at No. 353 George street. Quality is everything in gentlemen's attire, and the quality of the suitings and furnishings offered by the yard at this sale is undoubted. The stock has been purchased at 50 cents on the dollar which certainly permits of undersselling and phenomenal bargaining. Tweed, worsted and serge suitings, trouserings and overcoatings, are selling at less than cost of manufacture. The price of gentlemen's furnishings—shirts, collars, underwear, gloves, etc., is even less. Its to be a quick sale, and gentlemen are advised to act promptly, if they wish to share in these rare savings. Its not the price alone that appeals to you, but the high grade character of the cloths and furnishings offered at this sale. def

PRACTICE SHOULD BE STOPPED

People Who go Late to the Opera.

What a Toronto Paper Says—Entertainments That are Disturbed.

(Mail and Empire.)

Late comers at the Criterion Theatre were made the object of an unpleasant demonstration the other evening. The gallery had been removed, and the "gods" were obliged to descend to the "pit." Unused to being disturbed by their neighbours walking in during the performance, and indignant at the eclipse of the stage which resulted, they showed their resentment in a boisterous manner. Toronto people would probably approve of any action which would rid them of the annoyance so violently objected to in London. They were long suffering and hopeful; they have been long-suffering and despairing; they are long-suffering and calloused. They are quite resigned now to the advent of the late-comer and his family about the middle of the first act. They stand up with dogged endurance and offer their feet and hats as a sacrifice. The disturber and his train stumble in over them, rattle their seats for a few minutes, and proceed to settle themselves, allowing the people behind to catch maddening glimpses of actors every few minutes. Finally the invaders are entrenched and the curtain goes down. A dumb fury may seize the man who has reached his seat in time, and who has not grown accustomed to having his enjoyment spoiled; but most people will content themselves with wondering at the strange fatality which impels latecomers to inevitably purchase seats in the middle of a row. The offenders are almost always of the better class, who dine at the fashionable and dyspeptic hour of 7.30, and arrive at the theatre about nine o'clock. An entertainment which does not appeal to them is usually free from the annoyance under discussion, so that it is the chief musical and theatrical events of the year which are spoiled by the thoughtlessness or selfishness of the man who comes late. The general public can have little to do with remedying matters except to support any manager who endeavours to apply a cure. The actors themselves might well make strenuous objections to the marring of their work, for the matter touches them closely. The owners of theatres or their managers could stop the nuisance in short order, if they chose to do so. They might make it a rule that no one be permitted to take his seat while the curtain is up. Latecomers could be quarantined in a corral at the back of the house, and at the conclusion of an act permitted to occupy their places. The adoption of this plan would be warmly welcomed by the great mass of theatre-goers. A business instinct which is exemplified in forbidding a patron to carry a wet umbrella to his seat and charges him 10c. for leaving it in the cloak-room is hardly encouraging. At the same time, there does not appear to be any other reason why the nuisance should not be ended.

CRESSMAN'S FIRE SALE.

DIED AT ST. JOSEPH'S.

The 9 Year old Daughter of Mr. Daniel Coughlin.

Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. Daniel Coughlin in the loss he has sustained through death of his bright little daughter Miss Mary Madona, which occurred at St. Joseph's Hospital, Ashburnham on Sunday morning. Death was due to scarlet fever from which the deceased had suffered since Wednesday night last. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon.

OBITUARY.

The Late Mrs. W. H. Smith, of Ashburnham

The death occurred on Saturday night in Ashburnham of Mrs. W. H. Smith, after an illness of four or five days. The deceased was a native of Northumberland, being a daughter of the late John Webb. She was 46 years of age and besides a husband she leaves to mourn her loss a family of six children. The deceased was a member of the Christian Alliance body.

The funeral will take place from the family residence on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and proceed to Little Lake Cemetery.

HAS PASSED AWAY.

Sad Death of Gus F. Sullivan, Last Night at the Commercial House.

The sad death of Mr. Gus F. Sullivan, son of John Sullivan of the Township of Douro, occurred last night at 9 o'clock in the Commercial House.

Mr. Sullivan was born in the Township of Douro, where he resided until fifteen years ago. Being in poor health he left for Denver, Col., and ultimately arrived at Salt Lake City, Utah. Here he regained his health for some time, but last spring he suffered from pneumonia and finding himself in a sinking condition gave up all hope of his former health, and last June came to town, where he has been engaged in an insurance office.

The deceased has been seriously ailing for the last four weeks and leaves four sisters and three brothers. Of the sisters, Mrs. O'Shea, of town, and Mrs. Leban, of Rochester, were with their brother during his last moments, the others are Miss P. Sullivan, and Mrs. Ed. McKiever, of Fall City, Nebraska. Of the three brothers two are at the homestead, while the third is in Mount Pleasant, Mich.

Deceased was well known, cultured and popular and it is assured that the community at large extend their sympathy to the mother, sisters and brothers of this highly respected gentleman.

The funeral which will be private, will take place to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

DOES IT PAY?

What Mr. George Stevens did by Advertising.

"Does advertising pay?" is a question that is often asked. Mr. George Stevens, the Ash King of Peterborough, is of the opinion that it does. Mr. Stevens basis his belief upon the the great expansion of his business of recent years, and the receipt of many letters of enquiry from far away points. Here is an extract from a letter Mr. Stevens received from Buffalo on Saturday:—

"You have been firing your photograph, circulars and calendars at us time after time and I think you succeeded in selling us a carload of—. We are now ready to receive your lowest quotations for one and probably four carloads."

THINK IT OVER.

Something You can see in any Restaurant or Cafe.

A physician puts the query: Have you never noticed in any large restaurant at lunch or dinner time the large number of hearty, vigorous old men at the tables; men whose ages run from 60 to 80 years; many of them bald, and all perhaps gray, but none of them feeble or senile:

Perhaps the spectacle is so common as to have escaped your observation or comment, but nevertheless it is an object lesson which means something.

If you will notice what these hearty old fellows are eating you will observe that they are not munching bran crackers nor gingerly picking their way through a menu card of new fangled foods; on the contrary they seem to prefer a juicy roast of beef, a properly turned loin of mutton, and even the deadly broiled lobster is not altogether ignored.

The point of all this is that a vigorous old age depends upon good digestion and plenty of wholesome food and not upon dieting and an endeavour to live upon bran crackers.

There is a certain class of food cranks who seem to believe that meat coffee, and many other good things are rank poisons, but these cadaverous, sickly looking individuals are a walking condemnation of their own theories.

The matter in a nutshell is that if the stomach secretes the natural digestive juices in sufficient quantity any wholesome food will be promptly digested; if the stomach does not do so, and certain foods cause distress one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal will remove all difficulty because they supply just what every weak stomach lacks, pepsin, hydro-chloric acid, diastase and nux.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do not act upon the bowels and in fact are not strictly a medicine, as they act almost entirely upon the food eaten, digesting it thoroughly and thus gives a much needed rest and giving an appetite for the next meal.

Of people who travel nine out of ten use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets knowing them to be perfectly safe to use at any time and also having found out by experience that they are a safeguard against indigestion in any form, and eating as they have to, at all hours and all kinds of food, the travelling public for years have pinned their faith to Stuart'd Tablets.

All druggists sell them at 50 cents for full sized packages and any druggist from Maine to California, if his opinion were asked, will say that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the most popular and successful remedy for any stomach trouble.

A HEROIC DEED.

Young Lad Saves His Friend's Life While Skating on the Lake.

A citizen of the town writes as follows in praise of the heroic action of a young lad:

While a number of boys were enjoying a pleasant afternoon's sport on the Lake on Saturday, a young lad by the name of Walter Harris, son of Mr. Edward Harris, had a narrow escape from death by drowning. He and another lad were in advance of their companions, when Harris, to avoid getting into a hole in the ice, skated out to a thin spot, evidently where some one had been cutting ice. The water being frozen slightly the lad thought it safe to skate over, but he went through. Percy Johnston, his companion, who was only a few feet behind, as soon as he saw Harris disappear through the hole, threw himself flat on the ice, at the risk of losing his own life, and bravely helped his companion to regain his footing once more. The act was done in the space of a few seconds, but young Harris went under water twice before Percy succeeded in rescuing him from his perilous position, as no doubt the cold water would soon have rendered him powerless to save himself. After getting him out young Wise and Johnston took him to the former's house, Mrs. Wise kindly attending to the lad's comfort. Young Percy Johnston is the eldest son of Mr. Joseph Johnston, of this place, and the parents are to be heartily congratulated on possessing such a brave and heroic son. Percy is a general favourite with all his young friends, and it is to be hoped that someone may reward this youthful hero on the courage displayed in the time of need.

QUITE the VOGUE

Two-Third Wall Decorations and Crown Effects.

THIS method of adorning the walls is becoming quite the vogue. A very striking effect is obtained by using a two-tone stripe or plain ingrain paper upon the lower two-thirds, while a floral design decorates the upper one third of the wall. A plate rail, finished to imitate any wood, is placed between to serve as a shelf or divider. From this, pictures and hanging ornaments are suspended.

We have an excellent variety of Wall Papers, suitable for two third combinations to select from.

Wall Paper Ends and Border Remnants

Before we close our stock-reducing sale we have many chances for those who are on the look-out for bargains in Wall Paper and Border. Those who wish to take advantage of fine days to do some Wall Papering will find lots of snaps worth coming for.

A search warrant for the purpose of searching the premises of James Stalbost, of Amstruther, was issued, and the undesirable operation took place on February 9th.

The following articles were confiscated: One new manure hook, one hay fork, one axe and helves, one hand hay rake and five rope cow ties, which were alleged to have been stolen from the premises of William Willson, of Amstruther, on January 18th last.

Two men, William and John Shouldice have been arrested, and brought to town on Saturday by County Constable Cochrane, and are alleged to have stolen the articles. The accused have been remanded.

TO CHANGE HANDS.

McQuay's Confectionery Store Undergoing an Evolution.

Town people will be perhaps surprised to hear that McQuay's confectionery store, next to the Peterborough Bookstore, is about to change hands, the successor being Mr. E. W. Gardiner. At present Mr. Gardiner is in person supervising the running of the store which will eventually change hands on March 1st next.

The confectionery in itself, has always been the best to be procured in town, but the new genial proprietor makes a specialty of oysters, in all the different styles of cooking.

In addition to this lunches may be procured at all hours of the day, and light refreshments, together with hot tea and coffee can be had in a few minutes after being ordered. Mr. Gardiner has set himself out to make his new business a complete success, and the public may be assured that if they are unable to get suited at this new and aristocratic store they will not get their requirements fulfilled anywhere else in town.

IN CAMPBELLFORD.

The Campbellford hockey club last week gave an entertainment which proved to be a great success. The artists were Miss Edna Sutherland, reader; Miss Murreille Patton, contralto, and Mr. Frank C. Smith, violinist. Mr. W. C. Boddy, manager of the Standard Bank and patron of the club, occupied the chair, and in his opening remarks spoke very pleasingly and encouragingly about the club. He also informed the audience of the great pleasure it was to himself and the club to see so large a patronage, and hoped the citizens would become more enthusiastic than ever in the future.

THE MARKHAM TOURNAMENT.

Mr. W. A. Buchanan, secretary of the O.H.A., announced on Saturday that as arbitrator of the difficulty arising over the Peterborough-Port Perry game at the Markham tournament, he had decided that these teams must play six minutes Saturday night. These teams played a tie, 3 to 3, on Friday night, and they went on to play it off in two five minute periods. At the end of four minutes Port Perry scored, when the lights of the rink were extinguished, it being midnight.

A Markham despatch says: Friday night's game between Peterborough and Port Perry, which was interrupted by the lights going out, was not played off to-night as Peterough refused to abide by the decision that the six minutes left to play should be played off to-night. Port Perry then met Markham and defeated them by 6 goals to 3. The final will be played on Monday night, when the Toronto Commercials meet the Port Perry club.

CURLING.

MEETING OF CURLERS.

The secretary requests a full meeting of the curling association for Tuesday night at the Charlotte street rink, at eight o'clock. It is very important that there be a full attendance, as arrangements are to be made concerning the points games and the distribution of medals and cups.

An important feature of the meeting will be an endeavour to arrange an Eastern League between Toronto and Kingston, and as this item in particular is to be arranged a large number of members are urgently requested to attend.

The probabilities are that a curling association will be formed in this district next winter, independent of the Ontario Curling Association. The Bobcaygeon Independent, in reporting the visit of the Peterborough curlers to that village says: "After the game, the visitors were entertained at the Rockland, when the oysters were disposed of. Mr. Maurice Welsh, president, was chairman, and a very nice impromptu programme, consisting of songs and speeches, were delivered by nearly every one present, and the visitors proved themselves as capable in this direction as in curling. The suggestion from some of the Peterborough curlers that the clubs of the Midland district form an association, and have annual matches for a district tankard, the same as in Western Ontario, met with much favour, and it is quite likely that this matter will be taken up next year. Others of the visitors expressed their admiration of Bobcaygeon and dwelt on the sincere good fellowship which has always existed between the two clubs. The meeting broke up at an early hour after one of the most enjoyable evenings in the history of the Bobcaygeon curling club.

LACROSSE.

One of the proposed amendments to be introduced at the C.L.A. convention will be to increase the fees of referees. The amendment will propose that the fees be, senior games, $15; for intermediate games, $10; for junior games, $5. All in addition to five cents per mile railway fare one way. The fee at present is $5 for each game, and 5 cents a mile. This barely pays the referee's expenses, and it is impossible to get good men to act in all cases.
